CERTIFICATE OF THE COMMISSIONER.

I, WILLIAM L. MARTIN, the Commissioner appointed under the provisions of an act of the General Assembly of Alabama approved February 18, 1895, entitled "An act to provide for the revision, codification, digesting and promulgation of the statutes of this state, both civil and criminal," and, under the provisions of an act of the General Assembly of Alabama approved February 17, 1897, entitled "An act to provide for the publication and distribution of the Code of Alabama," charged with the duty of supervising the publication of the Code of Alabama adopted by an act of the General Assembly of Alabama approved February 16, 1897, entitled "An act to adopt a code of laws for the State of Alabama," do hereby certify that I have compared the Code, as printed, with the original manuscript as adopted by the General Assembly, and that the Code, as printed, is the same as adopted by the General Assembly.

WILLIAM L. MARTIN,
Commissioner.

EXPLANATORY.

This codification of statutes—so much as comes from the original manuscript now on file in the office of the secretary of state—was prepared under the provisions of an act approved February 18, 1895, entitled "An act to provide for the revision, codification, digesting and promulgation of the statutes of this state, both civil and criminal" (Pamphlet Acts 1894–95, pp. 1001–1004). The arrangement, except as hereinafter explained, is in pursuance of the provisions of that act. The act approved February 16, 1897, adopting the Code (page 1, post), and the act approved February 17, 1897, providing for its publication and distribution (pages 1–5, post), show what further statutes were directed to be incorporated into the Code as published. The amendments made by the joint committee of the two houses appointed to examine the Code were, by that committee, actually written into the manuscript; while the amendments made to the chapter on "Taxation" by the joint committee appointed to revise the revenue system were, as recited in the adopting act, shown by their report to the two houses and spread upon the journals. The publication act, in section three, among other directions to the Commissioner, said: "He shall substitute for any section, as shown on the manuscript, the same section as amended by any act passed at the present session of the general assembly as fully and completely as though such sections had been originally written into the manuscript, with marginal notes showing the date of such amendment and the page of the pamphlet acts where found. He shall also incorporate all other acts of a general and public nature passed at the present session of the general assembly, and which affect or repeal sections of the Code as adopted, and shall omit all repealed sections. The Commissioner must give to each new section a number, prefix thereto an appropriate head-line, and, if it shall be deemed necessary, he may renumber the sections as shown by the manuscript, and in that event must change all cross-references accordingly." These provisions devolved on the Commissioner the duty of adjusting the Code, as published, to the legislation of the session, a labor attended with some difficulty. It was, of course, found necessary to renumber the sections and to change the cross-references accordingly, the new numbers beginning with section 405 of the Code as published.

The act of February 18, 1895, clearly made it the duty of the Commissioner to codify—not compile—the statutes; to supply apparent legislative omission so as to perfect and harmonize the subject in hand. This duty the Commissioner endeavored to perform as well as time would permit, though with great caution; and with rare exceptions, his suggested changes met the sanction of the joint committee and the general assembly. But of legislative acts passed at the session at which the Code was adopted, the Commissioner was without authority to do more than print them in the body of the Code, at what was supposed to be their appropriate places. In some instances this was found impracticable, and the statutes were printed in foot-notes. In other instances the Commissioner thought best to retain the original statute and print the new matter in a foot-note, leaving to the courts the duty of determining the extent of the repeal—notably the act relating to the admission of attorneys to practice law.

The marginal references show the origin of statutes since the Code of 1886, including those of the last session.

The parenthetical numbers, which are brought forward in obedience to the requirement of section six of the act of February 18, 1895, show the number which the section bore in the Codes of 1886, 1876, 1867, and 1852, in the order here set forth, a ( ) indicating that the section was not contained in an intermediate Code. It must be observed, however, that the Code of 1852 contained no criminal statutes, and that a fifth parenthetical number in the Criminal Code has reference to the Penal Code of 1866; also, that the lettered parenthetical numbers contained in the Code of 1867, were intended, as explained by the Commissioner, to refer to new sections, hence no notice has been taken of them.

The absence of both marginal reference and parenthetical number indicates that the section was supplied by the Commissioner and adopted with the Code.

The Commissioner did not deem himself instructed or authorized to write into the original manuscript any changes therein wrought by the amendments of the revenue committee or by legislative acts. The original manuscript remains as adopted by the general assembly, the changes above referred to being actually incorporated in the printed Code only. Therefore the matter of the published text, when not found in the original manuscript, will be found in the acts or amendments above referred to. So much of the manuscript as is omitted from the publication is, in the judgment of the Commissioner, repealed by legislative action at the last session.

The Code as adopted contained 5613 sections (two being lettered), while the Code as printed contains 5632. From section 405, where the renumbering began, to the end, the identity of sections must be ascertained by parenthetical numbers, marginal references or subject-matter.

The appendix printed at the end of the second volume is in compliance with section three of the publication act. The annotations to the constitution of 1875 and to the Civil Code are of the decisions of the supreme court from Minor to 112 Alabama, while those to the Criminal Code are from Minor to 113 Alabama.

The acts of the last session known as the "tax commission law" and the "coal-oil inspection law" were not thought to be embraced in the directions to the Commissioner above quoted, and, therefore, are not incorporated in the Code.

ACTS ADOPTING AND PROVIDING FOR PUBLICATION OF CODE.

AN ACT to adopt a Code of laws for the State of Alabama.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Alabama, That the work prepared by William L. Martin under the provisions of an act approved February 18th, 1895, entitled "An act to provide for the revision, codification, digesting and promulgation of the statutes of this state, both civil and criminal" is, as the same has been corrected, amended and reported by the joint committee of the two houses of the general assembly to examine the Code,* and as amended by the joint committee of the two houses appointed to revise the revenue system and laws of the state as shown by their report as the same appears of record in the journals of the senate and house of representatives and signed by W. Brewer, Hiram Hawkins, D. J. Meador, J. J. Mitchell, and R. B. Barnes, as said joint committee, adopted and enacted as the Code of Alabama, and shall regulate completely so far as a statute may, the subject to which it relates and shall go into force and be operative on such day after its publication as the governor may by proclamation designate.

SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, That no act passed at the present session of the general assembly shall be repealed or affected in any manner by the adoption of this Code, except that all acts passed prior to the 20th day of January, 1897, directly amending sections of the Code of 1886, and which have been, by the joint committee, incorporated in the Code, are repealed.

Approved February 16th, 1897.

AN ACT to provide for the publication and distribution of the Code of Alabama.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Alabama, That the governor shall secure to the state the copyright of the Code of Alabama adopted at this session of the general assembly.

SEC. 2. The commissioner who codified and revised the statutes of the state is required to supervise the publication of the Code. He shall read all proof, correct all manifest errors, compare the copy with the original manuscript, and see that the Code as printed corresponds accurately with the original as adopted.

SEC. 3. The commissioner shall, in arranging the Code, have the certificate hereinafter provided for, and the act adopting the Code, and this act, printed in the first volume, next after the title page; then the Constitution of the United States and the amendments thereto, with citations under each section to the decisions of the supreme court of the United States construing the section; then the Constitution of Alabama, 1875, with citations under each section to the decisions of the supreme court of Alabama, construing that section, or a section of a previous Constitution of Alabama substantially the same, with brief and concise statements of the questions decided, so far as such statements may be practicable; then sections 905 and 906 of the Revised Statutes of the United States relating to the authentication of public records and judicial proceedings; then the table of contents of the Civil Code; then the Civil Code, from section one to forty-two hundred and ninety-eight, both included, as shown on the manuscript; then the rules of court and practice; then the index to the first volume, including therein the index to the Constitution of Alabama, 1875. The second volume shall contain the certificate hereinafter provided for, the Declaration of Independence, the Articles of Confederation, the Constitution of the United States and the amendments thereto; the ordinance of 1787; the act of Congress of April 7, 1798, for the government of the Mississippi Territory, and the act of May 10, 1800, supplementary thereto; the articles of cession and agreement entered into by the United States and the State of Georgia, April 24th, 1802; the act of March 27th, 1804, and the act of May 14th, 1812, enlarging the boundaries of the Mississippi Territory; the act of March 3d, 1817, establishing the Alabama Territory, and the act of April 20th, 1818, amendatory thereof; the act of March 2d, 1819, for the admission of Alabama into the Union, and the resolution of December 14th, 1819, declaring the admission of Alabama into the Union; the acts of Congress known as the reconstruction acts; the several acts of Congress of March 2d, 1827, July 4th, 1836, August 16th, 1842, January 27th, 1847, and August 11th, 1848, as found on pages 50 to 52, inclusive, of the Code of Alabama, 1876; the several constitutions of the State of Alabama which have been heretofore in force, with the amendments thereto, and the Constitution now in force, with the date of their going into effect; then the table of contents of the Criminal Code; then the Criminal Code, then the index to the Criminal Code; then the comparative table of sections contained in both the Civil and Criminal Codes, showing the number which each section brought from the Code of 1886 bears in this Code, showing also the sections of the former Code which are omitted from this Code. He shall substitute for any section, as shown on the manuscript, the same section as amended by any act passed at the present session of the general assembly, as fully and completely as though such sections had been originally written into the manuscript, with marginal notes showing the date of such amendment and the page of the pamphlet acts where found. He shall also incorporate all other acts of a general and public nature passed at the present session of the general assembly, and which affect or repeal sections of the Code as adopted, and shall omit all repealed sections. The commissioner must give to each new section a number, prefix thereto an appropriate head-line; and if it shall be deemed necessary he may renumber the sections as shown by the manuscript, and in that event he must change all cross references accordingly.

SEC. 4. The commissioner must insert after each section and before the next section, annotations giving full citations to the decisions of the supreme court construing or mentioning such section, or the act on which it is based, and, as far as practicable, a brief and concise statement of the question decided by the cases cited.

SEC. 5. That seven thousand copies of the Code shall be printed and bound for the use of the State. The paper and binding thereof must be of the best material and workmanship. The pages shall be the same size as the pages of the Code of 1886, and the same number of ems and type for the text, numbers of sections, head-lines of sections, annotations, citations and marginal references as in that Code; but the table of contents and the subjects of chapters shall be in such type as the commissioner may direct or approve. The Code shall be bound in two volumes, in law-sheep of the best quality and in the best style of workmanship.

SEC. 6. When the printing of the Code is completed and the same has been by the commissioner compared with the original manuscript as herein required, he must certify that the same has been compared with the original manuscript as adopted by the general assembly, and that the Code as printed is the same as adopted, which certificate must be printed in each copy of each volume of the Code; and the Code thus printed and published must be received as the law in all courts and in all proceedings before any board, body or officer in this state, subject to correction by the original manuscript, which shall be suitably bound and labeled and kept on file in the office of the secretary of state.

SEC. 7. Within thirty days after the adjournment of the present session of the general assembly the governor shall fix a maximum price for printing and binding the Code, not to exceed four dollars a copy for the two volumes, and thereupon the secretary of state must advertise for bids to print and bind the Code in accordance with this act, such advertisement to be inserted in two daily newspapers published in the state. Each bid must be in a sealed envelope addressed to the secretary of state, and indorsed, "Bid for printing and binding the Code of Alabama," and must be accompanied by a bond in not less than thirty thousand dollars, with resident sureties to be approved by the governor if the bid should be accepted, conditioned to faithfully perform the contract; and on the first day of April, 1897, or within ten days thereafter, all bids must be, by the secretary of state, opened in the presence of the governor, state auditor and state treasurer, and the contract must thereupon, with the approval of the governor, auditor and treasurer, be awarded to the lowest bidder. But no bid in excess of the maximum price, or which is not accompanied by the bond herein required, must be considered. The governor may, when the entire text of the Code has been delivered to the printers, pay the contractor such part of the agreed price as may be deemed just, not to exceed one-third of the whole sum to be paid for the entire work, and may make such further payments, as the work progresses, as he may deem just; but not more than two-thirds of such agreed price must be paid until the contract has been fully performed on the part of the contractor, all such payments to be made on the certificate of the governor and warrant drawn by the auditor.

SEC. 8. The original manuscript must be retained in the office of the secretary of state and a copy only sent to the printer. The commissioner shall furnish the copy of all matter to be included in the Code, for which he shall receive seven cents per hundred words, not including the prefatory matter, the original of which may be sent to the printer; the amount of such copying and the price thereof at the rate herein prescribed shall be ascertained by the secretary of state and certified to the auditor when the work is done, whereupon the same must be paid.

SEC. 9. The commissioner for performing all the services required of him by this act other than the preceding section shall receive six thousand dollars, one-half when the work is all delivered to the binders, the other half when the seven thousand copies are delivered to the secretary of state, to be paid on warrants drawn by the auditor.

SEC. 10. Upon the delivery of the seven thousand copies of the Code to the secretary of state, the governor must issue his proclamation announcing the fact and designating a day, not less than thirty days thereafter, on which the Code shall go into effect and become operative. The secretary of state must cause a printed copy of such proclamation to be securely pasted inside the left back of each copy of the Civil Code which he may distribute or sell; but a failure on the part of the secretary of state to comply with this direction shall in no way affect the validity of the proclamation.

SEC. 11. The secretary of state must retain for the use of the executive officers and the two houses of the general assembly, three hundred copies of the Code, and must transmit to the librarian of congress, for the purpose of copyright, two copies; to the department of state of the United States, two copies; to the executive of each state and territory, two copies; to the governor, secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer, attorney-general, superintendent of education, commissioner of agriculture, examiner of public accounts, state health officer, adjutant-general, president or other head of the convict bureau, president of the railroad commission, clerk of the supreme court, reporter of the supreme court, secretary of the senate, clerk of the house of representatives, and to each member of the general assembly, one copy each; to the president of the University of Alabama for the use of the law department three copies, to the librarian of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, of the Alabama Institute for the Deaf, and the Alabama-Bryce Insane Hospital, for the use of their respective institutions, one copy each; to each judge of any court of record in this state, not including county commissioners, one copy; to each chancellor, solicitor, United States district attorney, and United States district judge in this state, one copy; to the librarian of the supreme court for the use of library, ten copies; to the department of justice of the United States, one copy; to the United States circuit court of appeals for the fifth circuit, one copy; to the judge of probate for each county, one copy each for such judge, the clerk of the circuit court, the clerk of the city court or other inferior court of record, if there be such in the county, the sheriff, the register in chancery, the tax assessor, the tax-collector, the county treasurer, the county superintendent, and each justice of the peace and each notary public and ex officio justice of the peace.

SEC. 12. The copies distributed under this act to any officer shall belong to the office and not to the individual; and any officer, or in case of his death, the executor or administrator of such officer, failing to deliver such copy on demand to his successor, must, on conviction, be fined not less than twenty-five dollars; and such copy may be recovered in the name of the state, without bond or affidavit, as in a suit for the recovery of chattels in specie; and justices of the peace have jurisdiction of any cause arising under this section.

SEC. 13. For the purpose of making a correct distribution of the Code to the county and precinct officers entitled to the same, the secretary of state shall deliver to each judge of probate such number of copies as by the written requisition of the judge of probate may be shown that his county is entitled to receive. Such requisition must give the name and office of each officer for whom the requisition is made, and the judge of probate must take from each officer to whom a copy is delivered, a receipt, which receipt he must file in the office of the secretary of state; and he shall be responsible on his official bond for all copies delivered to him, and for which he has not filed the receipt of the officer entitled thereto, at double the selling price, as fixed by this act, to be recovered in the name of the state and paid into the treasury.

SEC. 14. All the rest of the copies of the Code after the distribution herein provided for, the secretary of state shall retain and may sell at four dollars per copy of two volumes, but shall not sell to any one individual, corporation or firm, more than ten copies.

SEC. 15. If, for any cause, the contract to print and bind the Code shall not be awarded at the time herein mentioned, it may be done at any subsequent time, in the manner hereinbefore provided; and in the event it shall become necessary to advertise more than once for bids, the governor may again fix the maximum price as hereinbefore provided.

SEC. 16. If the accepted bid be that of a foreign corporation it shall designate an agent and known place of business in this State as required by law of foreign corporations doing business in this State, but shall not be required to pay any fee or license. If the accepted bid be that of a non-resident of this state such person must file an instrument in writing designating an agent residing in this state on whom service of process issuing against such person in any action arising out of the contract, may be made; and suits on the bond of the contractor may be brought in Montgomery county.

SEC. 17. When the contract has been awarded the bid, bond and contract, together with the declaration provided for in the preceding section, if there be such, must be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state.

SEC. 18. If the commissioner shall die, resign or refuse to act, the governor shall appoint another in his stead.

SEC. 19. The cost and expenses incident to giving notice for bids and making distribution of the Code as herein provided must be paid out of the treasury on the certificate of the secretary of state and warrant of the auditor.

Approved February 17th, 1897.

CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES—1787.*

(Went into operation Wednesday, March 4, 1789.—Owings v. Speed, 5 Wheaton, 420.)

WE, THE PEOPLE of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this CONSTITUTION for the United States of America.

United States, 156 U. S., 237.

ARTICLE I.

SECTION 1. All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a congress of the United States, which shall consist of a senate and house of representatives.

Hayburn's case (notes), 2 Dall., 409; Sinking Fund Cases, 99 U. S., 700.

SECTION 2. [1]The house of representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several states, and the electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislature.

[2]No person shall be a representative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-five years, and been seven years a citizen of the United

*In May, 1785, a committee of Congress made a report recommending an alteration in the Articles of Confederation, but no action was taken on it, and it was left to the state legislatures to proceed in the matter. In January, 1786, the legislature of Virginia passed a resolution providing for the appointment of five commissioners, who, or any three of them, should meet such commissioners as might be appointed in the other states of the Union, at a time and place to be agreed upon, to take into consideration the trade of the United States; to consider how far a uniform system in their commercial regulations may be necessary to their common interest and their permanent harmony; and to report to the several states such an act, relative to this great object, as, when ratified by them, will enable the United States in Congress effectually to provide for the same. The Virginia commissioners, after some correspondence, fixed the first Monday in September as the time, and the city of Annapolis as the place for the meeting, but only four other states were represented, viz.: Delaware, New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania; the commissioners appointed by Massachusetts, New Hampshire, North Carolina, and Rhode Island failed to attend. Under the circumstances of so partial a representation, the commissioners present agreed upon a report (drawn by Mr. Hamilton, of New York) expressing their unanimous conviction that it might essentially tend to advance the interests of the Union if the states by which they were respectively delegated would concur, and use their endeavors to procure the concurrence of the other states, in the appointment of commissioners to meet at Philadelphia on the second Monday of May following, to take into consideration the situation of the United States; to devise such further provisions as should appear to them necessary to render the Constitution of the federal government adequate to the exigencies of the Union; and to report such an act for that purpose to the United States in Congress assembled as, when agreed to by them and afterwards confirmed by the legislatures of every state, would effectually provide for the same.

Congress, on the 21st of February, 1787, adopted a resolution in favor of a convention, and the legislatures of those states which had not already done so (with the exception of Rhode Island) promptly appointed delegates. On the 25th of May, seven states having convened, George Washington, of Virginia, was unanimously elected president, and the consideration of the proposed constitution was commenced. On the 17th of September, 1787, the Constitution as engrossed and agreed upon was signed by all the members present, except Mr. Gerry, of Massachusetts, and Messrs. Mason and Randolph, of Virginia. The president of the convention transmitted it to Congress, with a resolution stating how the proposed federal government should be put in operation, and an explanatory letter. Congress, on the 28th of September, 1787, directed the Constitution so framed, with the resolutions and letter concerning the same, to "be transmitted to the several legislatures in order to be submitted to a convention of delegates chosen in each State by the people thereof, in conformity to the resolves of the convention."

On the 4th of March, 1789, the day which had been fixed for commencing the operations of government under the new Constitution, it had been ratified by the conventions chosen in each state to consider it, as follows: Delaware, December 7, 1787; Pennsylvania, December 12, 1787; New Jersey, December 18, 1787; Georgia, January 2, 1788; Connecticut, January 9, 1788; Massachusetts, February 6, 1788; Maryland, April 28 1788; South Carolina, May 23, 1788; New Hampshire, June 21, 1788; Virginia, June 26, 1788; and New York, July 26, 1788.

The president informed Congress, on the 28th of January, 1790, that North Carolina had ratified the Constitution November 21, 1789; and he informed Congress on the 1st of June, 1790, that Rhode Island had ratified the Constitution May 29, 1789. Vermont, in convention, ratified the Constitution January 10, 1791, and was, by an act of Congress approved February 18, 1791, "received and admitted into this Union as a new and entire member of the United States."

States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that state in which he shall be chosen.

3*[Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several states which may be included within this Union, according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons.] The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand, but each state shall have at least one representative and until such enumeration shall be made, the state of New Hampshire shall be entitled to choose three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode-Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five, New York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five, and Georgia three.

4When vacancies happen in the representation from any state, the executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

5The house of representatives shall choose their speaker and other officers; and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

SECTION 3. 1The senate of the United States shall be composed of two senators from each state, chosen by the legislature thereof, for six years; and each senator shall have one vote.

2Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes. The seats of the senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year, of the second class at the expiration of the fourth year, and of the third class at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year; and if vacancies happen by resignation, or otherwise, during the recess of the legislature of any state, the executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.

3No person shall be a senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years, and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that state for which he shall be chosen.

4The vice-president of the United States shall be president of the senate, but shall have no vote, unless they be equally divided.

5The senate shall choose their other officers, and also a president pro tempore, in the absence of the vice-president, or when he shall exercise the office of president of the United States.

6The senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the president of the United States is tried, the chief justice shall preside: and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

[7]Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States: but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment, according to law.

SECTION 4. [1]The times, places, and manner of holding elections for senators and representatives, shall be prescribed in each state by the legislature thereof; but the congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing senators.

Ex parte Siebold, 100 U. S., 371; Ex parte Clarke, 100 U. S., 399; Ex parte Yarborough, 110 U. S., 651.

[2]The congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

SECTION 5. [1]Each house shall be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner, and under such penalties as each house may provide.

United States v. Ballin, 144 U. S., 1.

[2]Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member.

Anderson v. Dunn, 6 Wh., 204; Kilbourn v. Thompson, 103 U. S., 168.

[3]Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such parts as may in their judgment require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the members of either house on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

Field v. Clark, 143 U. S. 649.

[4]Neither house, during the session of congress, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be sitting.

SECTION 6. [1]The senators and representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law, and paid out of the treasury of the United States. They shall in all cases, except treason, felony and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house, they shall not be questioned in any other place.

Cox v. M'Clenachan, 3 Dall., 478.

[2]No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States, shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office.

SECTION 7. [1]All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the house of representatives; but the senate may propose or concur with amendments as on other bills.

[2]Every bill which shall have passed the house of representatives and the senate, shall, before it become a law, be presented to the president of the United States; if he approve he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his objections to that house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such reconsideration two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of that house, it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the president within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the congress by their adjournment prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

Matthews v. Zane, 7 Wh., 164; Gardner v. Collector, 6 Wall., 499.

[3]Every order, resolution, or vote to which the concurrence of the senate and house of representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment) shall be presented to the president of the United States; and before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two-thirds of the senate and house of representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

SECTION 8. The congress shall have power:—[1]To lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts and excises, to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States; but all duties, imposts and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States;

ARTICLE II.

SECTION 1. [1]The executive power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his office during the term of four years, and, together with the vice-president, chosen for the same term, be elected, as follows:

[2]Each state shall appoint, in such manner as the legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors, equal to the whole number of senators and representatives to which the state may be entitled in the congress: but no senator or representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States, shall be appointed an elector.

Chisholm v. Georgia, 2 Dall., 419; Leitensdorfer v. Webb, 20 How., 176; Ex parte Siebold, 100 U. S., 271; McPherson v. Blacker, 146 U. S., 1.

["The electors shall meet in their respective states, and vote by ballot for two persons, of whom one at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves. And they shall make a list of all the persons voted for, and of the number of votes for each; which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the president of the senate. The president of the senate shall, in the presence of the senate and house of representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes shall be the president, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such majority, and have an equal number of votes, then the house of representatives shall immediately choose by ballot one of them for president; and if no person have a majority, then from the five highest on the list the said house shall in like manner choose the president. But in choosing the president, the votes shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states, and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. In every case, after the choice of the president, the person having the greatest number of votes of the electors shall be the vice-president. But if there should remain two or more who have equal votes, the senate shall choose from them by ballot the vice-president."]

This clause has been superseded by the twelfth amendment.

[3]The congress may determine the time of choosing the electors, and the day on which they shall give their votes; which day shall be the same throughout the United States.

[4]No person except a natural-born citizen, or a citizen of the United States, at the time of the adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the office of president; neither shall any person be eligible to that office who shall not have attained to the age of thirty-five years, and been fourteen years a resident within the United States.

English v. The Trustees of the Sailors' Snug Harbor, 3 Pet., 99.

[5]In case of the removal of the president from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the vice-president, and the congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation or inability, both of the president and vice-president, declaring what officer shall then act as president, and such officer shall act accordingly, until the disability be removed, or a president shall be elected.

[6]The president shall, at stated times, receive for his services, a compensation, which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that period any other emolument from the United States, or any of them.

[7]Before he enter on the execution of his office, he shall take the following oath or affirmation:—"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of president of the United States, and will to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

Mississippi v. Johnson, 4 Wall., 475.

SECTION 2. [1]The president shall be commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States, and of the militia of the several states, when called into the actual service of the United States; he may require the opinion, in writing, of the principal officer in each of the executive departments, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices, and he shall have power to grant reprieves and pardons for offenses against the United States, except in cases of impeachment.

[3]The president shall have power to fill up all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session.

The United States v. Kirkpatrick et al., 9 Wh., 720.

SECTION 3. He shall from time to time give to the congress information of the state of the Union, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may, on extraordinary occasions, convene both houses, or either of them, and in case of disagreement between them, with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper; he shall receive ambassadors and other public ministers; he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and shall commission all the officers of the United States.

SECTION 4. The president, vice-president and all civil officers of the United States, shall be removed from office on impeachment for, and conviction of, treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The judicial power of the United States, shall be vested in one supreme court, and in such inferior courts as the congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The judges, both of the supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior, and shall, at stated times, receive for their services, a compensation, which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

SECTION 4. The United States shall guarantee to every state in this Union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion; and on application of the legislature, or of the executive (when the legislature cannot be convened) against domestic violence.

Luther v. Borden, 7 How., 1; Texas v. White, 7 Wall., 700.

ARTICLE V.

The congress, whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this Constitution, or, on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the several states, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which, in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of this Constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the congress; Provided that no amendment which may be made prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any manner affect the first and fourth clauses in the ninth section of the first article; and that no state, without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the senate.

ARTICLE VI.

[1]All debts contracted and engagements entered into, before the adoption of this Constitution, shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution, as under the Confederation.

[2]This Constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof; and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land; and the judges in every state shall be bound thereby, any thing in the Constitution or laws of any state to the contrary notwithstanding.

[ARTICLE III.]

No soldier shall, in time of peace be quartered in any house, without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

Eilenberger v. District Court, 134 U. S., 31.

[ARTICLE IV.]

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and

*The first ten amendments to the Constitution of the United States were proposed to the legislatures of the several States by the First Congress, on the 25th of September 1789, the preamble reciting: "The Conventions of a number of States having at the time of their adopting the Constitution expressed a desire, in order to prevent misconstruction or abuse of its powers, that proper declaratory and restrictive clauses should be added: And as extending the ground of public confidence in the government will best insure the beneficent ends of its creation—" (1 U. S. Stat. at Large, p. 97). They were ratified by the following States, and the notifications of ratification by the governors thereof were successively communicated by the President to Congress: New Jersey, November 20, 1789; Maryland, December 19, 1789; North Carolina, December 22, 1789; South Carolina, January 19, 1790; New Hampshire, January 25, 1790; Delaware, January 28, 1790; Pennsylvania, March 10, 1790; New York, March 27, 1790; Rhode Island, June 15, 1790; Vermont, November 3, 1791, and Virginia, December 15, 1791. There is no evidence on the journals of Congress that the legislatures of Connecticut, Georgia, and Massachusetts ratified them.

no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

ARTICLE XII.†

The electors shall meet in their respective states, and vote by ballot for president and vice-president, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as president, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as vice-president, and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as

*The eleventh amendment of the Constitution of the United States was proposed to the legislatures of the several States by the Third Congress, on the 5th September, 1794; and was declared in a message from the President to Congress, dated the 8th of January, 1798, to have been ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the States.

†The twelfth amendment to the Constitution of the United States was proposed to the legislatures of the several States by the Eighth Congress, on the 12th of December, 1803, in lieu of the original third paragraph of the first section of the second article; and was declared in a proclamation of the Secretary of State, dated the 25th of September, 1804, to have been ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the States.

president, and of all persons voted for as vice-president, and of the number of votes for each, which lists they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the president of the senate;—The president of the senate shall, in presence of the senate and house of representatives, open all the certificates and the votes shall then be counted;—The person having the greatest number of votes for president, shall be the president, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers not exceeding three on the list of those voted for as president, the house of representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the president. But in choosing the president, the votes shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states, and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. And if the house of representatives shall not choose a president whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the vice-president shall act as president, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the president. The person having the greatest number of votes as vice-president, shall be the vice-president, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the senate shall choose the vice-president; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of president shall be eligible to that of vice-president of the United States.

ARTICLE XIII.*

SECTION. 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

SECTION 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

SECTION 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several states according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of per-amendment to the Constitution of the United States, duly proposed by two-thirds of each House of the Thirty-ninth Congress: Therefore Resolved, That said fourteenth article is hereby declared to be a part of the Constitution of the United States, and it shall be duly promulgated as such by the Secretary of State." The Secretary of State accordingly issued a proclamation, dated the 28th of July, 1868, declaring that the proposed fourteenth amendment had been ratified, in the manner hereafter mentioned, by the legislatures of thirty of the thirty-six States, viz: Connecticut, June 30, 1866; New Hampshire, July 7, 1866; Tennessee, July 19, 1866; New Jersey, September 11, 1866 (and the legislature of the same State passed a resolution in April, 1868, to withdraw its consent to it;) Oregon, September 19, 1866; Vermont, November 9, 1866; Georgia rejected it November 13, 1866, and ratified it July 21, 1868; North Carolina rejected it December 4, 1866, and ratified it July 4, 1868; South Carolina rejected it December 20, 1866, and ratified it July 9, 1868; New York ratified it January 10, 1867; Ohio ratified it January 11, 1867, (and the legislature of the same State passed a resolution in January, 1868, to withdraw its consent to it;) Illinois ratified it January 15, 1867; West Virginia, January 16, 1867; Kansas, January 18, 1867; Maine, January 19, 1867; Nevada, January 22, 1867; Missouri January 26, 1867; Indiana, January 29, 1867; Minnesota, February 1, 1867; Rhode Island, February 7, 1867; Wisconsin, February 13, 1867; Pennsylvania, February 13, 1867; Michigan, February 15, 1867; Massachusetts, March 20, 1867; Nebraska, June 15, 1867; Iowa, April 3, 1868; Arkansas, April 6, 1868; Florida, June 9, 1868; Louisiana, July 9, 1868; and Alabama, July 13, 1868. Georgia again ratified the amendment February 2, 1870. Texas rejected it November 1, 1866, and ratified it February 18, 1870. Virginia rejected it January 19, 1867, and ratified October 8, 1869. The amendment was rejected by Kentucky January 10, 1867; by Delaware February 8, 1867; by Maryland March 23, 1867; and was not afterward ratified by either State.

sons in each state, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for president and vice-president of the United States, representatives in congress, the executive and judicial officers of a state, or the members of the legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such state, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion, or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such state.

SECTION 3. No person shall be a senator or representative in congress, or elector of president and vice-president, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any state, who, having previously taken an oath, as a member of congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any state legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any state, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But congress may by a vote of two-thirds of each house, remove such disability.

SECTION 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.

Keith v. Clark, 97 U. S., 454.

CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF ALABAMA.

PREAMBLE.

WE, THE PEOPLE of the State of Alabama, in order to establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure to ourselves and to our posterity life, liberty, and property; profoundly grateful to Almighty God for this inestimable right, and invoking His favor and guidance, do ordain and establish the following Constitution and form of government for the State of Alabama.

ARTICLE I.

DECLARATION OF RIGHTS.

That the great, general, and essential principles of liberty and free government may be recognized and established, we declare:—

Effect and office of the declaration of rights.—Ex parte Dorsey, 7 Port. 293.

§1. That all men are equally free and independent; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

A guarantee to each citizen of all the rights and privileges enjoyed or possessed by any other citizen.—Ex parte Dorsey, 7 Port. 293. Free egress from, or transit through the State may be regulated but not prevented.—Joseph v. Randolph, 71 Ala. 499.

§2. That all persons resident in this State, born in the United States, or naturalized, or who shall have legally declared their intention to become citizens of the United States, are hereby declared citizens of the State of Alabama, possessing equal civil and political rights.

Effect is to place all persons, natural and artificial, on a basis of equality in the courts.—S. & N. R. Co. v. Morris, 65 Ala. 193; Smith v. L. & N. R. Co., 75 Ala. 449; L. & N. R. Co. v. Baldwin, 85 Ala. 619; Brown v. A. G. S. R. Co., 87 Ala. 370; Randolph v. B. & P. Supply Co., 106 Ala. 501. See also citations to Art. I., Sec. 14; Art. XIV., Sec. 12. There can be no discriminative advantage bestowed by law between the parties to the same suit.—S. & N. R. Co. v. Morris, 65 Ala. 193; Randolph v. B. & P. Supply Co., 106 Ala. 501. The statute against miscegenation is not a denial of equal civil and political rights to the races.—Ford v. State, 53 Ala. 150; Green v. State, 58 Ala. 190 (overruling Burns v. State, 48 Ala. 195); Hoover v. State, 59 Ala. 57; Pace v. State, 69 Ala. 231 (affirmed 106 U. S. 583).

§3. That all political power is inherent in the people, and all free governments are founded on their authority, and instituted for their benefit; and that therefore they have, at all times, an inalienable and indefeasible right to change their form of government, in such manner as they may deem expedient.

The elective franchise is a privilege rather than a right.—Washington v. State, 75 Ala. 582.

§4. That no religion shall be established by law; that no preference shall be given by law to any religious sect, society, denomination, or mode of worship; that no one shall be compelled by law to attend any place of worship, nor to pay any tithes, taxes, or other rate, for building or repairing any place of worship, or for maintaining any minister or ministry; that no religious test shall be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under this State; and that the civil rights, privileges and capacities of any citizen shall not be in any manner affected by his religious principles.

A Jew has no constitutional right to work on Sunday.—Frolickstein v. Mayor, 40 Ala. 725.

§5. That any citizen may speak, write and publish his sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of that liberty.

§6. That the people shall be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and possessions, from unreasonable seizures or searches; and that no warrant shall issue to search any place, or to seize any person or thing, without probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation.

Extent of authority to search the person of a prisoner.—Ex parte Hurn, 92 Ala. 102; Cunningham v. Baker, 104 Ala. 160. Forbids the issuance of a warrant without probable cause and then on oath or affirmation; arrest may be made without warrant.—Williams v. State, 44 Ala. 41; Johnson v. State, 82 Ala. 29; Cunningham v. Baker, 104 Ala. 160.

§7. That in all criminal prosecutions the accused has a right to be heard by himself and counsel, or either; to demand the nature and cause of the accusation; to have a copy thereof; to be confronted by the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor; and, in all prosecutions by indictment, a speedy public trial by an impartial jury of the county or district in which the offense was committed; and that he shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself, nor be deprived of his life, liberty, or property, but by due process of law.

Right of accused to be heard by himself and counsel, or either. A guaranty of the right to be present whenever any action is taken by the prosecution, except a continuance when the accused fails to appear, and the like orders, lying in the discretion of the court.—Ex parte Bryan, 44 Ala. 402; Slocovitch v. State, 46 Ala. 227; and when the verdict is rendered.—State v. Hughes, 2 Ala. 102. Applies to "Mayor's Court."—Withers v. State, 36 Ala. 252. But not to contempt proceedings.—Ex parte Hamilton, 51 Ala. 66. Does not authorize the accused to make a statement of facts outside of the evidence.—State v. McCall, 4 Ala. 643. The court may limit argument of counsel.—Yeldell v. State, 100 Ala. 26; Peagler v. State, 110 Ala. 11. To demand the nature and cause of the accusation; to have a copy thereof. Copy is waived if not applied for.—Driskill v. State, 45 Ala. 21; Miller v. State, 45 Ala. 24. Copy from a certified transcript, after change of venue, sufficient.—Bramlett v. State, 31 Ala. 376. Sufficiency of Code forms of indictment.—Noles v. State, 24 Ala. 672; Burdine v. State, 25 Ala. 60; Thompson v. State, Ib. 41; Elam v. State, 25 Ala. 53; Sherrod v. State, Ib. 78; Salomon v. State, 27 Ala. 26; Molett v. State, 33 Ala. 408; Aiken v. State, 35 Ala. 399; Schwartz v. State, 37 Ala. 460; Frank v. State, 40 Ala. 12; Miller v. State, 45 Ala. 24; Wesley v. State, 52 Ala. 182; Bradford v. State, 54 Ala. 230; Sandy v. State, 60 Ala. 58; Spigener v. State, 62 Ala. 583; Smith v. State, 63 Ala. 55; McCullough v. State, Ib. 75; Haley v. State, Ib. 89; Tatum v. State, Ib. 147; Phillips v. State, 68 Ala. 469; Billingslea v. State, 68 Ala. 486; Williams v. State, 68 Ala. 551; Ellerson v. State, 69 Ala. 1; Pace v. State, 69 Ala. 231, 106 U. S. 583; Peterson v. State, 74 Ala. 34; Johnson v. State, 75 Ala. 7; Sands v. State, 91 Ala. 14; Rosson v. State, 92 Ala. 76; Freiburg v. State, 94 Ala. 91; Reeves v. State, 95 Ala. 31; Walker v. State, 96 Ala. 53; Lang v. State, 97 Ala. 41; Watt v. State, Ib. 72; Thompson v. State, 99 Ala. 173; Smith v. State, 103 Ala. 57. To be confronted by the witnesses against him. Applies only to courts where facts are inquired into; not to the supreme court.—Phleming v. State, Minor, 42. Applies to impeachments.—State v. Buckley, 54 Ala. 599. Showing of what an absent witness for the State would testify to is inadmissible, without the consent of the defendant; right may be waived.—Rosenbaum v. State, 33 Ala. 354; Wills v. State, 73 Ala. 362. Where a witness, examined in a former proceeding between the parties, dies, becomes insane, or leaves the State, his former testimony may be proven. Long v. Davis, 18 Ala. 801; Marler v. State, 67 Ala. 55; Lowe v. State, 86 Ala. 47; South v. State, 86 Ala. 617; Pruitt v. State, 92 Ala. 41; Thompson v. State, 106 Ala. 67. Dying declarations are excepted.—Green v. State, 66 Ala. 40. In all prosecutions by indictment, a speedy public trial, etc. What is a speedy trial.—Ex parte The State, 76 Ala. 482. Jury must consist of twelve men.—Collins v. State, 88 Ala. 212. But may be waived in misdemeanor cases.—Connelly v. State, 60 Ala. 89. Must be impartial; opinions as to guilt or innocence of accused.—

Bales v. State, 63 Ala. 30; Jackson v. State, 77 Ala. 18; Dean v. State, 89 Ala. 46; Hamill v. State, 90 Ala. 577. Defendant cannot be put on trial under an indictment where the only provision for a jury is that one may be secured on giving bond and appealing.—Collins v. State, 88 Ala. 212; Reeves v. State, 96 Ala. 33. Does not apply to contempt cases, impeachment, nor unless the prosecution is by indictment.—Tims v. State, 26 Ala. 165; Ex parte Hamilton, 51 Ala. 66; State v. Buckley, 54 Ala. 599. A law giving jurisdiction to either county of an offense committed within a quarter of a mile of the border line, does not violate.—Hill v. State, 43 Ala. 335; Grogan v. State, 44 Ala. 9; Jackson v. State, 90 Ala. 590. Accused shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself. Accused cannot be compelled to say or do anything that may tend to criminate him, and his refusal cannot be proven as a circumstance against him.—Kelly v. State, 72 Ala., 244; Cooper v. State, 86 Ala. 610. Nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, but by due process of law. What is due process.—Ex parte Candee, 48 Ala. 386; Zeigler v. S. & N. R. Co., 58 Ala. 594. Record must show due process in a criminal case.—Hood v. State, 44 Ala. 81. Persons affected must have due notice of judicial proceedings.—Wilburn v. McCalley, 63 Ala 436; Mead v. Larkin, 66 Ala. 87; Betancourt v. Eberlin, 71 Ala., 461. Not contravened by law prohibiting the sale of intoxicants within limited district.—Dorman v. State, 34 Ala. 216; Barnes v. State, 49 Ala. 342. Nor the taking of private property for public use; but legislature cannot convert a private into a public use.—Sadler v. State, 39 Ala. 247. Nor removing administration from the county of the decedent's residence.—Wright v. Ware, 50 Ala. 549. Nor establishing stock districts and pounds.—Dillard v. Webb, 55 Ala. 468. Nor special private statute for the disposal of property of deceased by administrator.—Chappell v. Williamson, 49 Ala. 153; Todd v. Flournoy, 56 Ala. 99; Watson v. Oates, 58 Ala. 647; Tindal v. Drake, 60 Ala. 170; Bruce v. Bradshaw, 69 Ala. 360; Mumford v. Pearce, 70 Ala. 452; (since the adoption of the Constitution. Quaere. Art. IV., Sec. 23). Nor prohibiting the sale or removal of cotton in the seed at certain times, and in particular localities.—Davis v. State, 68 Ala., 58; Mangan v. State, 76 Ala. 60. Nor exempting the State from making affidavit and giving bond in attachment.—Ex parte Macdonald, 76 Ala. 603. Nor requiring examination and license of locomotive engineers.—McDonald v. State, 81 Ala. 279. Contravened by law authorizing toll-gate to be thrown open if road out of repair.—Powell v. Sammons, 31 Ala. 552. Making tax deed conclusive, instead of prima facie evidence.—Stoudenmire v. Brown, 48 Ala. 699; s. c., 57 Ala. 481; Davis v. Minge, 56 Ala. 121; Calhoun v. Fletcher, 63 Ala. 574; Lassiter v. Lee, 68 Ala. 287. Requiring deposit of money before prosecution or defense of suit by or against purchaser at tax sale.—Stoudenmire v. Brown, 48 Ala. 699; Whitworth v. Anderson, 54 Ala. 33; Lassiter v. Lee, 68 Ala. 287. Taxing an attorney's fee as costs against railroad in certain cases.—S. & N. R. Co. v. Morris, 65 Ala. 193. Giving filer of mechanic's lien a lien also for an attorney's fee.—Randolph v. B. & P. Sup. Co., 106 Ala. 501. Imposing absolute liability on railroad for cattle killed by it under certain conditions.—Zeigler v. S. & N. R. Co., 58 Ala. 594; B. M. R. Co. v. Baldwin, 85 Ala. 619. Declaring conveyances already executed void because not acknowledged according to a then prescribed form.—Ala. L. I. & T. Co. v. Boykin, 38 Ala. 510.

§8. That no person shall be accused, or arrested, or detained, except in cases ascertained by law, and according to the forms which the same has prescribed; and no person shall be punished, but by virtue of a law established and promulgated prior to the offense, and legally applied.

Law directing nol. pros., and another indictment, when it is seen there will be a variance, is constitutional.—State v. Kreps, 8 Ala. 951. Law must be promulgated prior to the offense.—Aaron v. State, 39 Ala. 684; Eliza v. State, 39 Ala. 693. Unauthorized discharge of the jury after rendering a void verdict is not a legal application of the law, and is an acquittal.—Grogan v. State, 44 Ala. 9; Bell v. State, 48 Ala. 684; Jackson v. State, 102 Ala. 76; Hayes v. State, 107 Ala. 1.

§9. That no person shall, for any indictable offense, be proceeded against criminally by information, except in cases arising in the militia and volunteer forces when in actual service, or, by leave of the court, for misfeasance, misdemeanor, extortion and oppression in office, otherwise than is provided in this Constitution. Provided, that in cases of petit larceny, assault, assault and battery, affray, unlawful assemblies, vagrancy, and other misdemeanors, the general assembly may, by law, dispense with a grand jury, and authorize such prosecutions and proceedings before justices of the peace, or such other inferior courts as may be by law established.

A guaranty of the right to demand an indictment in all but the excepted cases.—State v. Middleton, 5 Port. 484; Noles v. State, 24 Ala. 672; Thompson v. State, 25 Ala. 41. No restraint on the mode of drawing and summoning grand jurors.—Williams v. State, 61 Ala. 33. Trial in excepted cases may be had before justices and without a jury.—Connelly v. State, 60 Ala. 89; Ex parte Brown, 63 Ala. 187. And in these cases the complaint need not conclude "against the peace, etc."—Thomas v. State, 107 Ala. 61; Simpson v. State, 111 Ala. 6. Law giving punitive damages in a civil action does not violate.—R. & D. R. Co. v. Freeman, 97 Ala. 289.

§10. That no person shall, for the same offense, be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb.

When jeopardy begins.—Grogan v. State, 44 Ala. 1. A single crime cannot be subdivided into two or more offenses.—Ben v. State, 22 Ala. 9; Moore v. State, 71 Ala. 307; Hurst v. State, 86 Ala. 604. A person has not been in jeopardy: When judgment was arrested on account of a defective indictment, or indictment quashed.—State v. Phil, 1 Stew. 31; Weston v. State, 63 Ala. 155. Nor when informal verdict set aside, or case is reversed, and new trial granted.—State v. Slack, 6 Ala. 676; State v. Hughes, 2 Ala. 102; Cobia v. State, 16 Ala. 781; Turner v. State, 40 Ala. 21; Waller v. State, 40 Ala. 325; Jeffries v. State, 40 Ala. 381; Kendall v. State, 65 Ala. 492; Morisette v. State, 77 Ala. 71. Nor when a part of the sentence under a former conviction has been served.—Jeffries v. State, 40 Ala. 381. Nor when a judge withdraws from the bench.—State v. Abram, 4 Ala. 272. Or becomes sick and unable to proceed with the trial.—Nugent v. State, 4 S. & P. 72. Nor where nol. pros. is entered on account of a variance.—State v. Kreps, 8 Ala. 951. Nor where former prosecution was based on a void warrant.—Johnson v. State, 82 Ala. 29. Nor where a juror becomes sick and unable to proceed, or in any case of pressing necessity.—Hawes v. State, 88 Ala. 37; Powell v. State, 19 Ala. 577. A person has been in jeopardy: When tried for an offense which includes the one he is being prosecuted for.—Sanders v. State, 55 Ala. 42. When there has been an unauthorized discharge of the jury.—Ned v. State, 7 Port. 187; Law v. State, 4 Ala. 173; Powell v. State, 19 Ala. 577; McCauley v. State, 26 Ala. 135; Ex parte Vincent, 43 Ala. 402; (in conflict, State, ex rel. Battle, 7 Ala. 259; Barrett v. State, 35 Ala. 406, as to when discharge is authorized); Grogan v. State, 44 Ala. 9; Bell v. State, 48 Ala. 684; Cook v. State, 60 Ala. 39; Foster v. State, 88 Ala. 182; Jackson v. State, 102 Ala. 76; Hayes v. State, 107 Ala. 1. For the protection of the accused, and may be waived.—Ned v. State, 7 Port. 187; McCauley v. State, 26 Ala. 135; Barrett v. State, 35 Ala. 406; Hughes v. State, Ib. 135; Turner v. State, 40 Ala. 21; Jeffries v. State, Ib. 381; Kendall v. State, 65 Ala. 492; Morisette v. State, 77 Ala. 71. Being convicted or acquitted of aiding one prisoner to escape, a person cannot be again indicted for aiding another for the same act.—Hurst v. State, 86 Ala. 604.

§11. That no person shall be debarred from prosecuting or defending, before any tribunal in this State, by himself or counsel, any civil cause to which he is a party.

Applies to "Mayor's Court."—Withers v. State, 36 Ala. 252. Need not employ an attorney, but party may appear in person.—May v. Williams, 17 Ala. 23. No court can exclude an attorney until after he is suspended.—Withers v. State, 36 Ala. 252. Taxing an attorney's fee as costs against railroad operates to debar.—S. & N. R. Co. v. Morris, 65 Ala. 193. And so, the requirement that any one prosecuting or defending against purchaser at tax sale shall deposit money before being allowed to do so.—Stoudenmire v. Brown, 48 Ala. 699; Whitworth v. Anderson, 54 Ala. 33; Lassiter v. Lee, 68 Ala. 287. But the imposition of the "library tax" does not.—Swann v. Kidd, 79 Ala. 431.

Jury must consist of twelve men.—Collins v. State, 88 Ala. 212; M & C. R. Co. v. B. S. & T. R. Co., 96 Ala. 571. Does not extend the right to cases unknown to the common law, or to the statute law at the time of the adoption of the Constitution.—Boring v. Williams, 17 Ala. 510; Tims v. State, 26 Ala. 165; Thomas v. Bibb, 44 Ala. 721; Taliaferro v. Lee, 97 Ala. 92. Does not apply to impeachments.—State v. Buckley, 54 Ala. 599. Nor to proceeding to compel the delivery of property to successor in office.—Chambers v. Stringer, 62 Ala. 596. Nor to bill of discovery by creditor.—M. & F. Ry. Co. v. McKenzie, 85 Ala. 546 (s. c., 96 Ala. 465); S. Ry. & C. Co. v. McKenzie, 96 Ala. 465; Norman v. Goetter, 96 Ala. 468; N. Y. Condensed Milk Co. v. Cook, 100 Ala. 580; Cook v. Schmidt, 100 Ala. 582. Nor to proceedings, under the statute, to try the right to a public office.—Taliaferro v. Lee, 97 Ala. 92 (declaring State v. Burnett, 2 Ala. 140, dictum). But see Wammack v. Holloway, 2 Ala. 31. But legislature may, as matter of grace, give a jury trial.—Taliaferro v. Lee, 97 Ala. 92. Law authorizing a toll-gate to be thrown open if the road is out of repair is a denial of trial by jury.—Powell v. Sammons, 31 Ala. 552. Includes the right to have the deliberations of the jury continued until a legal reason for discharge occurs.—McCauley v. State, 26 Ala. 135. Waiver of jury.—Saunders v. State, 55 Ala. 42; Connelly v. State, 60 Ala. 89.

§13. That in prosecutions for the publication of papers investigating the official conduct of officers or men in public capacity, or when the matter published is proper for public information, the truth thereof may be given in evidence; and that in all indictments for libel, the jury shall have the right to determine the law and the facts, under the direction of the court.

§14. That all courts shall be open, and that every person, for any injury done him in his lands, goods, person, or reputation, shall have a remedy by due process of law; and right and justice shall be administered without sale, denial, or delay.

Justice cannot be sold or denied by the exaction of a pecuniary consideration for its enjoyment from one, when it is freely given to another.—S. & N. R. Co. v. Morris, 65 Ala. 193; Smith v. L. & N. R. Co., 75 Ala. 449; L. & N. R. Co. v. Baldwin, 85 Ala. 619; Brown v. A. G. S. R. Co., 87 Ala. 370; Randolph v. B. & P. Sup. Co., 106 Ala. 501. "Stay law" does not violate.—Ex parte Pollard, 40 Ala. 77. Nor "library tax."—Swann v. Kidd, 79 Ala. 431. Nor law providing that contracts shall only be awarded when a board of revenue and their clerk are in private.—State v. Rogers, 107 Ala. 444. But law requiring deposit of money by party prosecuting or defending suit against purchaser of land at tax sale violates this section.—Stoudenmire v. Brown, 48 Ala. 699; Whitworth v. Anderson, 54 Ala. 33; Lassiter v. Lee, 68 Ala. 287. Taxing an attorney's fee against railroads in certain cases is not "due process."—S. & N. R. Co. v. Morris, 65 Ala. 193. And giving justice of the peace extraordinary jurisdiction in actions for damages against railroad is discrimination and unconstitutional.—Brown v. A. G. S. R. Co., 87 Ala. 370. And a law giving the lienor filing a mechanic's lien a lien also for an attorney's fee.—Randolph v. B. & P. Sup. Co., 106 Ala. 501.

§15. That the State of Alabama shall never be made defendant in any court of law or equity.

State cannot be sued by cross-bill asking affirmative relief.—Holmes v. State, 100 Ala. 90. Suit against the warden of the penitentiary on a contract made by him in his official capacity, is a suit against the State.—Comer v. Bankhead, 70 Ala. 493.

§16. That excessive fines shall not be imposed, nor cruel or unusual punishments be inflicted.

§17. That all persons shall, before conviction, be bailable by sufficient sureties, except for capital offenses when the proof is evident, or the presumption great; and that excessive bail shall not, in any case, be required.

Designed to place the right to bail beyond legislative or judicial power; does not restrain legislature from authorizing bail in the excepted cases.—Ex parte Croom, 19 Ala. 561. To justify refusal of bail the offense must be capital, the proof evident or presumption great; this cannot be if a well-founded doubt exists.—Ex parte Simonton, 9 Port. 390; Ex parte McCrary, 22 Ala. 65; Ex parte Banks, 28 Ala. 89; Ex parte Mahone, 30 Ala. 49; Ex parte Howard, 30 Ala. 43; Ex parte Bryant, 34 Ala. 270. It is a safe rule to deny bail if the court would sustain a capital conviction on the evidence. —Ex parte Nettles, 58 Ala. 268. Bail should be granted where the evidence is circumstantial, "unless it excludes to a moral certainty every other hypothesis but that of guilt."—Ex parte Acree, 63 Ala. 234. Law providing that if the defendant is not tried at the second term he may have bail does not violate.—Ex parte Croom, 19 Ala. 561. If the assaulted person is likely to die within a year and a day, accused is not entitled to bail, unless he would be so entitled if assaulted person died.—Ex parte Andrews, 19 Ala. 582.

§18. That the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended by the authorities of this State.

§19. That treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against it, or adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort; and that no person shall be convicted of treason, except on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or his own confession in open court.

§20. That no person shall be attainted of treason by the general assembly; and that no conviction shall work corruption of blood, or forfeiture of estate.

§21. That no person shall be imprisoned for debt.

Applies to liabilities ex contractu; defendant may not be imprisoned for alleged contempt in failing to pay a decree for money.—Ex parte John Hardy, 68 Ala. 303; State v. Allen, 71 Ala. 543; Smith v. State, 82 Ala. 40; Wynn v. State, 82 Ala. 55; Carr v. State, 106 Ala. 35; Crosby v. City Council, 108 Ala. 498. Fines, forfeitures, and costs arise ex delicto, and are not debts.—Nelson v. State, 46 Ala. 186; Morgan v. State, 47 Ala. 34; Caldwell v. State, 55 Ala. 133; Ex parte Hardy, 68 Ala. 303; State v. Bauerman, 72 Ala. 252; Lee v. State, 75 Ala. 29; State v. Leach, 75 Ala. 36; Smith v. State, 82 Ala. 40; Wynn v. State. 82 Ala. 55; Ex parte Russellville, 95 Ala. 19. Advances made to a convict by his surety in the confessed judgment is a debt arising ex contractu.—Smith v. State, 82 Ala. 40; Wynn v. State, 82 Ala. 55. Law punishing crime of enticing servant of another does not imprison for debt.—Tarpley v. State, 79 Ala. 271. Nor "innkeepers' law."—Ex parte King, 102 Ala. 182. Nor imprisonment as a punishment visited on employees of a water company for violation of their contract with a city.—Crosby v. City Council, 108 Ala. 498. Law authorizing imprisonment, not as an alternative punishment or in lieu of fine and costs, but as a means of coercing the payment of fine and costs, violates.—Ex parte Russellville, 95 Ala. 19. And so, a law punishing with imprisonment, a banker who receives a deposit knowing he is insolvent.—Carr v. State, 106 Ala. 35. It makes no difference that the debt was contracted fraudulently.—Ex parte Hardy, 68 Ala. 303; Carr v. State, 106 Ala. 35.

§22 That no power of suspending laws shall be exercised, except by the general assembly.

§23. That no ex post facto law, or any law impairing the obligation of contracts, or making any irrevocable grants of special privileges or immunities, shall be passed by the general assembly.

No ex post facto law shall be passed.—Aldridge v. T. C. & D. R. Co. 2 S. & P. 199; Elliott v. Mayfield, 4 Ala. 417; Holman v. Bank of Norfolk, 12 Ala. 369; Eliza v. State, 39 Ala. 693; Aaron v. §24. That the exercise of the right of eminent domain shall never be abridged, nor so construed as to prevent the general assembly from taking the property and franchises of incorporated companies, and subjecting them to public use the same as individuals; but private property shall not be taken or applied for public use, unless just compensation be first made therefor; nor shall private property be taken for private use, or for the use of corporations other than municipal, without the consent of the owner. Provided, however, that the general assembly may, by law, secure to persons or corporations the right of way over the lands of other persons or corporations, and by general laws provide for and regulate the exercise by persons and corporations of the rights herein reserved; but just compensation shall, in all cases, be first made to the owner. And provided, that the right of eminent domain shall not be so construed as to allow taxation, or forced subscription, for the benefit of railroads, or any other kind of corporations other than municipal, or for the benefit of any individual or association.

Whatever is beneficially employed for the community is a public use.—Aldridge v. Tuscumbia R. Co., 2 S. & P. 199. The taking of water to supply a city is a public use.—Stein v. Burden, 24 Ala. 130; Stein v. Ashley, 24 Ala. 521; Burden v. Stein, 27 Ala. 104. Also to run a public grist mill.—Sadler v. Langham, 34 Ala. 311; Bottoms v. Brewer, 54 Ala. 288. Also land for plank road or canal.—Sadler v. Langham, 34 Ala. 311. Right extends to all property, whether under mortgage or owned by chartered corporation.—A. & F. R. Co. v. Kenny, 39 Ala. 307; E. & W. R. Co. v. E. T. V. & G. R. Co., 75 Ala. 275; M. & C. R. Co. v. B. S. & T. R. Co., 96 Ala. 571. But property and franchises of a corporation, taken by it for public use, may be only again taken for public use by the legislature.—A. & C. R. Co. v. J. G. & A. R. Co., 82 Ala. 297. Right may be given to railroad company.—Aldridge v. Tuscumbia R. Co., 2 S. & P. 199; Davis v. Tuscumbia R. Co., 4 S. & P., 421; Jones v. N. O. R. Co., 70 Ala. 227; M. S. R. Co. v. Sayre, 72 Ala. 443. Compensation must be made before or at the time of taking, unless prepayment is waived.—N. O. R. Co. v. Jones, 68 Ala. 48; s. c., 70 Ala. 227; M. S. R. Co. v. Co., 92 Ala. 331; A. M. Ry. Co. v. Newton, 94 Ala. 443; Highland Ave. & B. R. Co. v. Matthews, 99 Ala. 24. And this applies to the State itself.—Smith v. Inge, 80 Ala. 283; M. & C. R. Co. v. B. S. & T. R. Co., 96 Ala. 571. The crossing of one railroad by another is a "taking."—M. & G. Ry. Co. v. A. M. Ry. Co., 87 Ala. 501; M. & C. R. Co. v. B. S. & T. R. Co., 96 Ala. 571; See citations to Art. XIV., Sec. 7. Considerations governing compensations.—A. & F. R. Co. v. Burkett, 46 Ala. 569. Owner of a ferry cannot claim compensation for loss of business from the building of a bridge.—Dyer v. Tuskaloosa Bridge Co., 2 Port. 296. Private property may now be taken for private use, compensation being first made.—State v. County Commissioners, 83 Ala. 304. Appeal; trial by jury.—M. S. Ry. Co. v. Sayre, 72 Ala. 443.

§25. That all navigable waters shall remain forever public highways, free to the citizens of the State and of the United States, without tax, impost, or toll; and that no tax, toll, impost, or wharfage shall be demanded or received from the owner of any merchandise or commodity, for the use of the shores, or any wharf erected on the shores, or in or over the waters of any navigable stream, unless the same be expressly authorized by law.

The bed of a navigable stream and the fish and oysters therein are the property of the State.—State v. Harrub, 95 Ala. 176.

§26. That the citizens have a right in a peaceable manner to assemble together for the common good, and to apply to those invested with the power of government, for redress of grievances, or other purposes, by petition, address, or remonstrance.

§27. That every citizen has a right to bear arms in defense of himself and the State.

Law prohibiting the carrying of weapons concealed is a mere regulation and not violative.—State v. Reid, 1 Ala. 612. Law making it an offense to point firearms at another does not violate; has no application to cases of self-defense.—Davenport v. State, 112 Ala. 49.

§28. That no standing army shall be kept up without the consent of the general assembly; and, in that case, no appropriation for its support shall be made for a longer term than one year; and the military shall, in all cases, and at all times, be in strict subordination to the civil power.

§29. That no soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house, without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

§30. That no title of nobility, or hereditary distinction, privilege, honor, or emolument, shall ever be granted or conferred in this State; and that no office shall be created, the appointment to which shall be for a longer time than during good behavior.

To preserve the equality of citizens in public and private rights.—Horst v. Moses, 48 Ala. 129.

§31. That immigration shall be encouraged, emigration shall not be prohibited, and that no citizen shall be exiled.

License cannot be required of a person contracting to carry away laborers.—Joseph v. Randolph, 71 Ala. 499.

§32. That temporary absence from the State shall not cause a forfeiture of residence once obtained.

§33. That no form of slavery shall exist in this State; and there shall be no involuntary servitude, otherwise than for the punishment of crime, of which the party shall have been duly convicted.

Convict, violating labor contract for fine and costs, may be punished criminally.—Smith v. State, 82 Ala. 40; Wynn v. State, 82 Ala. 55.

§34. The right of suffrage shall be protected by laws regulating elections, and prohibiting, under adequate penalties, all undue influences from power, bribery, tumult, or other improper conduct.

§35. The people of this State accept as final the established fact, that from the Federal Union there can be no secession of any State.

§36. Foreigners who are, or may hereafter become, bona fide residents of this State shall enjoy the same rights in respect to the possession, enjoyment, and inheritance of property, as native-born citizens.

§37. That the sole object and only legitimate end of government is to protect the citizen in the enjoyment of life, liberty and property; and when the government assumes other functions, it is usurpation and oppression.

Law taxing an attorney's fee as costs against railroad in certain cases violates.—S. & N. R. Co. v. Morris, 65 Ala. 193. Buying and selling of cotton in the seed in certain localities may be prohibited.—Mangan v. State, 76 Ala. 60.

§38. No educational or property qualification for suffrage or office, nor any restraint upon the same on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude, shall be made by law.

§39. That this enumeration of certain rights shall not impair or deny others retained by the people.

Enumeration cannot be construed to disparage or deny other rights retained by the people.—Ex parte Dorsey, 7 Port. 293.

ARTICLE II.

STATE AND COUNTY BOUNDARIES.

§1. The boundaries of this State are established and declared to be as follows, that is to say: Beginning at the point where the thirty-first degree of north latitude crosses the Perdido river; thence east, to the western boundary line of the State of Georgia; thence along said line to the southern boundary line of the State of Tennessee; thence west, along the southern boundary line of the State of Tennessee, crossing the Tennessee river, and on to the second intersection of said river by said line; thence up said river to the mouth of Big Bear creek; thence by a direct line to the northwest corner of Washington county, in this State, as originally formed; thence southerly, along the line of the State of Mississippi, to the Gulf of Mexico; thence eastwardly, including all islands within six leagues of the shore, to the Perdido river; thence up the said river to the beginning.

§2. The boundaries of the several counties of this State, as heretofore established by law, are hereby ratified and confirmed. The general assembly may, by a vote of two-thirds of both houses thereof, arrange and designate boundaries for the several counties of this State, which boundaries shall not be altered, except by a like vote; but no new counties shall be hereafter formed of less extent than six hundred square miles; and no existing county shall be reduced to less extent than six hundred square miles, and no new county shall be formed which does not contain a sufficient number of inhabitants to entitle it to one representative, under the ratio of representation existing at the time of its formation, and leave the county or counties from which it is taken with the required number of inhabitants entitling such county or counties to separate representation.

ARTICLE III.

DISTRIBUTION OF POWERS OF GOVERNMENT.

§1. The powers of the government of the State of Alabama shall be divided into three distinct departments, each of which shall be confided to a separate body of magistracy, to wit: Those which are legislative, to one; those which are executive, to another; and those which are judicial, to another.

Distribution of powers.—Ex parte Screws, 49 Ala. 57; Scott v. Strobach, 49 Ala. 477; Fox v. McDonald, 101 Ala. 51. Legislative power.—Legislature exclusive judge of what is a public use.—Sadler v. Langham, 34 Ala. 311. Controls domestic affairs of the State.—Ex parte Norton, 44 Ala. 177. Determines who are its members.—Ex parte Screws, 49 Ala. 57; Scott v. Strobach, 49 Ala. 477. May remove administration of estate to another county without invading the judiciary.—Wright v. Ware, 50 Ala. 549. And transfer a cause to another court of co-ordinate jurisdiction.—Ex parte Hickey, 52 Ala. 228. And compromise and settle past due taxes.—Tallassee Mfg. Co. v. Glenn, 50 Ala. 489. And require a license or certificate of fitness of locomotive engineers.—McDonald v. State, 81 Ala. 279; N. C. & St. L. Ry. Co. v. State, 83 Ala. 71 (affirmed 128 U. S. 96); Smith v. State, 85 Ala. 341 (affirmed 124 U. S., 465); Baldwin v. State, 85 Ala. 619. And empower administrator to sell lands to pay debts.—Holman v. Bank of Norfolk, 12 Ala. 369. And regulate civil procedure, allowing real party in interest to intervene.—Perry v. Cabaniss, 70 Ala. 253. And declare that only certain of the State's liabilities shall be adjusted on a given basis.—State v. Cobb, 64 Ala. 127. Extent of power to pass special laws for the sale of the property of minors, deceased persons, etc.—Chappell v. Williamson, 49 Ala. 153; Todd v. Flournoy, 56 Ala. 99; Watson v. Oates, 58 Ala. 647; Tindal v. Drake, 60 Ala. 170; Bruce v. Bradshaw, 69 Ala. 360; Mumford v. Pearce, 70 Ala. 452. Cannot declare, in opposition to established procedure, that no appeal shall be discontinued except on motion.—Carleton v. Goodwin, 41 Ala. 153. Nor that conveyance already executed is invalid because not according to forms then prescribed.—Ala. L. I. & T. Co. v. Boykin, 38 Ala. 510. Nor declare certain judgments void.—Sanders v. Cabaniss, 43 Ala. 173; Weaver v. Lapsley, 43 Ala. 224; But see Ex parte Bibb, 44 Ala. 140; Ex parte Norton, 44 Ala. 177. Nor authorize commissioners to treat a sale as rescinded under certain conditions.—Hardy v. Bank, 15 Ala. 722. Nor remit fines.—Haley v. Clark, 26 Ala. 439. But may remit penalty for failure to pay taxes.—M. & G. R. Co. v. Peebles, 47 Ala. 317. And cure defects in the organization of private corporations.—C. A. & M. Assn. v. Ala. Gold Life Ins. Co., 70 Ala. 120. And exercise certain powers of forfeiture.—M. & O. R. Co. v. State, 29 Ala. 573. And bind the State by contract.—T. & C. R. Co. v. Moore, 36 Ala. 371; State v. Cobb, 64 Ala. 127. And establish rules of evidence within constitutional limitations.—Stoudenmire v. Brown, 48 Ala. 699. As to delegation of power, see Art. IV., Sec. 1, and Art. XI. Executive power.—Power of appointment is given, not inherent.—Fox v. McDonald, 101 Ala. 51. Governor has no general authority to contract in the name of the State.—State v. Cobb, 64 Ala. 127. Must conform to legislative will.—Ex parte Screws, 49 Ala. 57. Law prohibiting distillation of grain except under the direction of the governor is no invasion of legislative functions.—Ingram v. State, 39 Ala. 247. Governor alone has power to remit fines.—Haley v. Clark, 26 Ala. 439. Mandamus lies to compel governor to exercise ministerial functions.—T. &. C. R. Co. v. Moore, 36 Ala. 371. See State v. Cobb, 64 Ala. 127. Judicial power.—Judiciary declare what the law is, legislature what it shall be.—Ala. L. & I. Co. v. Boykin, 38 Ala. 510. The forfeiture of a charter is the province of the courts.—M. & O. R. Co. v. State, 29 Ala. 573. Trial of the constitutional qualifications of a judge elected by the legislature is judicial, not political.—State v. Porter, 1 Ala. 688 (overruling State v. Paul, 5 S. & P. 40). Cannot control the speaker in the exercise of his functions.—Ex parte Echols, 39 Ala. 698. Will not condemn legislative construction of a contract unless clearly wrong.—Ex parte S. & G. R. Co., 45 Ala. 696. Can only interfere to control legislative mistakes when they involve a disregard of some constitutional limitations; nor interfere with the executive except as to purely ministerial duties. Ex parte Screws, 49 Ala. 57; Scott v. Strobach, 49 Ala. 477.

§2. No person, or collection of persons, being of one of those departments, shall exercise any power properly belonging to either of the others, except in the instances hereinafter expressly directed or permitted.

See citations to preceding section.

ARTICLE IV.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

§1. The legislative power of this State shall be vested in a general assembly, which shall consist of a senate and house of representatives.

The Constitution is a limitation, not a grant of power; legislative power is unlimited except as restrained by State or Federal Constitution.—Ex parte Dorsey, 7 Port. 293; State v. Reid, 1 Ala. 612; Ex parte Pickett. 24 Ala. 91; Stein v. Mayor, 24 Ala. 591; Noles v. State, 26 Ala. 31; Dorman v. State, 34 Ala. 216; Ingram v. State, 39 Ala. 249; A. & F. R. Co. v. §2. The style of the laws of this State shall be: "Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Alabama." Each law shall contain but one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title, except general appropriation bills, general revenue bills, and bills adopting a Code, digest, or revision of statues; and no law shall be revived, amended, or the provisions thereof extended or conferred, by reference to its title only; but so much thereof as is revived, amended, extended, or conferred, shall be re-enacted and published at length.

A Code of laws is valid if the bill by which it was adopted went through the prescribed forms.—Dew v. Cunningham, 28 Ala. 466; Hoover v. State, 59 Ala. 57; Bales v. State, 63 Ala. 30. The valid adoption of a Code of laws re-enacts all the laws included therein, although originally invalid because proper forms were not pursued. —Bales v. State, 63 Ala. 30. Each law shall contain but one subject which shall be clearly expressed in the title, etc.—Miles v. State, 40 Ala. 39; Ex parte Pollard, 40 Ala. 77; Tuskaloosa B. Co. v. §3. Senators and representatives shall be elected by the qualified electors, on the first Monday in August, eighteen hundred and seventy-six; and one-half of the senators and all the representatives shall be elected every two years thereafter, unless the general assembly shall change the time of holding elections. The terms of office of the senators shall be four years, and that of the representatives two years, commencing on the day after the general election, except as otherwise provided in this Constitution.

§4. Senators shall be at least twenty-seven years of age, and representatives twenty-one years of age; they shall have been citizens and inhabitants of this State for three years, and inhabitants of their respective counties or districts one year next before their election, if such county or district shall have been so long established; but if not, then of the county or district from which the same shall have been taken; and they shall reside in their respective counties or districts during their terms of service.

§5. The general assembly shall meet biennially, at the capitol, in the senate chamber and in the hall of the house of representatives (except in cases of destruction of the capitol, or epidemics, when the governor may convene them at such place in the State as he may deem best) on the day specified in this Constitution, or on such other day as may be prescribed by law; and shall not remain in session longer than sixty days at the first session held under this Constitution, nor longer than fifty days at any subsequent session.

Legislature sits fifty working days, excluding Sundays and days on which, by concurrent resolution, the two houses do not sit.—Moog v. Randolph, 77 Ala. 597; Sayre v. Polland, 77 Ala. 608; Ex parte Cowert, 92 Ala. 94.

§6. The pay of the members of the general assembly shall be four dollars per day, and ten cents per mile in going to and returning from the seat of government, to be computed by the nearest usual route traveled.

§7. The general assembly shall consist of not more than thirty-three senators, and not more than one hundred members of the house of representatives; to be apportioned among the several districts and counties as prescribed in this Constitution.

§8. The senate, at the beginning of each regular session, and at such other times as may be necessary, shall elect one of its members president thereof; and the house of representatives, at the beginning of each regular session, shall elect one of its members as speaker; and the president of the senate and the speaker of the house of representatives shall hold their offices respectively until their successors are elected and qualified. Each house shall choose its own officers, and shall judge of the election, returns and qualifications of its members.

§9. At the general election in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-six, senators shall be elected in the even-numbered districts to serve for two years, and in the odd-numbered districts to serve for four years, so that thereafter one-half the senators may be chosen biennially. Members of the house of representatives shall be elected at the general election every second year. The time of service of senators and representatives shall begin on the day after their election, except the terms of those elected in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-six, which shall not begin until the term of the present members shall have expired. Whenever a vacancy shall occur in either house, the governor for the time being shall issue a writ of election to fill such vacancy for the remainder of the term.

§10. A majority of each house shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner, and under such penalties, as each house may provide.

§11. Each house shall have power to determine the rules of its proceedings, and to punish its members, or other persons, for contempt or disorderly behavior in its presence; to enforce obedience to its process; to protect its members against violence, or offers of bribes or corrupt solicitation; and, with the concurrence of two-thirds of either house, to expel a member, but not a second time for the same cause; and shall have all the powers necessary for the legislature of a free State.

§12. A member of either house expelled for corruption shall not thereafter be eligible to either house, and punishment for contempt or disorderly behavior shall not bar an indictment for the same offense.

§13. Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and cause the same to be published immediately after its adjournment, excepting such parts as, in its judgment, may require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the members of either house on any question shall, at the desire of one-tenth of the members present, be entered on the journals. Any member of either house shall have liberty to dissent from, or protest against, any act or resolution which he may think injurious to the public or an individual, and have the reasons for his dissent entered on the journals.

Journal is a public record of which the courts will take judicial notice.—Jones v. Hutchinson, 43 Ala. 721; Moody v. State, 48 Ala. 115; Henderson v. State, 94 Ala. 95. Must show affirmatively that the yeas and nays were taken; no other evidence received.—State v. Buckley, 54 Ala. 599; Walker v. Griffith, 60 Ala. 361. Except where the Constitution requires that a matter shall appear on the journal, its performance is presumed, unless the contrary affirmatively appears.—Harrison v. Gordy, 57 Ala. 49; Perry Co. v. S. M. & M. R. Co., 58 Ala. 546; Walker v. Griffith, 60 Ala. 361; Clarke v. Jack, 60 Ala. 271; Hall v. State, 82 Ala. 562; Hare v. Kennerly, 83 Ala. 608. Notice of a local law will be presumed if the journal does not show the contrary.—Harrison v. Gordy, 57 Ala. 49; Clarke v. Jack, 60 Ala. 271; Walker v. Griffith, 60 Ala. 361; Hall v. State, 82 Ala. 562.

§14. Members of the general assembly shall, in all cases, except treason, felony, violation of their oath of office, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house, they shall not be questioned in any other place.

§15. The doors of each house shall be open, except on such occasions as, in the opinion of the house, may require secrecy.

§16. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which they may be sitting.

§17. No senator or representative shall, during the term for which he shall have been elected, be appointed to any civil office of profit under this State, which shall have been created, or the emoluments of which shall have been increased during such term, except such offices as may be filled by election by the people.

A member of the legislature cannot be elected by that body judge of a new circuit then created.—State v. Porter, 1 Ala. 688. Nor appointed police judge of the city of Birmingham, the same being a civil office of profit under the State, created by the body of which he was a member.—Montgomery v. State, 107 Ala. 372.

§18. No person hereafter convicted of embezzlement of the public money, bribery, perjury or other infamous crime, shall be eligible to the general assembly, or capable of holding any office of trust or profit in this State.

§19. No law shall be passed except by bill, and no bill shall be so altered or amended on its passage through either house as to change its original purpose.

Compliance presumed unless the contrary shown.—State v. Buckley, 54 Ala. 599. Bill may be amended, or a substitute adopted, so long as the original purpose be not changed.—State v. Buckley, 54 Ala. 599; Harrison v. Gordy, 57 Ala. 49; Stein v. Leeper, 78 Ala. 517; Abernathy v. State, 78 Ala. 411; Donnelly v. State, 78 Ala. 453; Dunbar v. Frazer, 78 Ala. 538; Hall v. State, 82 Ala. 562.

§20. No bill shall become a law until it shall have been referred to a committee of each house and returned therefrom.

Compliance presumed unless contrary shown.—State v. Buckley, 54 Ala. 599. Committee may report an amendatory or substitutional bill.—State v. Buckley 54 Ala. 599.

§21. Every bill shall be read on three different days in each house; and no bill shall become a law unless, on its final passage, it be read at length, and the vote be taken by yeas and nays, the names of the members voting for and against the same be entered on the journals, and a majority of each house be recorded thereon as voting in its favor, except as otherwise provided in this Constitution.

A bill becomes a law only when it has gone through all the required forms; court may search the journal, the record.—Jones v. Hutchinson, 43 Ala. 721; Moody v. State, 48 Ala. 115; Moog v. Randolph, 77 Ala. 597; Sayre v. Pollard, 77 Ala. 608. Does not require that everything to become law shall be read three times; a Code may be enacted by bill read three times.—Dew v. Cunningham, 28 Ala. 466; Hoover v. State, 59 Ala. 57; Bales v. State, 63 Ala. 30. Presumption is that bill was read three times.—Walker v. Griffith, 60 Ala. 361. Yeas and nays must appear affirmatively from the journal.—State v. Buckley, 54 Ala. 599; Walker v. Griffith, 60 Ala. 361. "Final passage" is the vote on its passage in either house after three readings on three different days in that house.—State v. Buckley, 54 Ala. 599. If a statute as engrossed and signed varies materially in substance and legal effect from the bill as passed, neither is a constitutional enactment.—Jones v. Hutchinson, 43 Ala. 721; Moody v. State, 48 Ala. 115; Moog v. Randolph, 77 Ala. 597; Sayre v. Pollard, 77 Ala. 608; Stein v. Leeper, 78 Ala. 517; Abernathy v. State, 78 Ala. 453; Dunbar v. Frazer, 78 Ala. 538.

§22. No amendment to bills by one house shall be concurred in by the other, except by a vote of a majority thereof, taken by yeas and nays, and the names of those voting for and against recorded upon the journals; and reports of committees of conference shall in like manner be adopted in each house.

Yeas and nays must appear on the journal; compliance with certain other requirements presumed.—State v. Buckley, 54 Ala. 599.

§23. No special or local law shall be enacted for the benefit of individuals or corporations, in cases which are or can be provided for by a general law, or where the relief sought can be given by any court of this State; nor shall the operation of any general law be suspended by the general assembly for the benefit of any individual, corporation, or association.

Definition of a general law.—Holt v. Mayor, 111 Ala. 369; Anniston v. So. Ry. Co., 112 Ala. 557. Whether a case can be provided for by a general law is a question of legislative discretion.—Clarke v. Jack, 60 Ala. 271. It would seem that "corporations" means private corporations.—Ex parte City Council, 64 Ala. 463. Does not prevent the exception from a general law of persons or things otherwise included.—Ex parte City Council, 64 Ala. 463. Law authorizing the people to vote on the question of removal of county-site is not a "special or local law."—Clarke v. Jack, 60 Ala. 271. Divorce cannot be granted by special law.—Jones v. Jones, 95 Ala. 443. Authorizing county superintendent to pay debts contracted by school trustees, is a healing statute and constitutional.—McKennie v. Gordon, 68 Ala. 442. Quære, as to the power to pass special laws for the sale of property of minors, etc., since the adoption of this Constitution.—Mumford v. Pearce, 70 Ala. 452. See Art. IV., Sec. 1. Suspending general law.—State v. Webb, 110 Ala. 214.

§24. No local or special law shall be passed on a subject which cannot be provided for by a general law, unless notice of the intention to apply therefor shall have been published in the locality where the matter or things to be affected may be situated; which notice shall be at least twenty days prior to the introduction into the general assembly of such bill, and the evidence of such notice having been given shall be exhibited to the general assembly before such bill shall be passed. Provided, that the provisions of this Constitution, as to special or local laws, shall not apply to public or educational institutions of or in this State, nor to industrial, mining, immigration or manufacturing corporations or interests, or corporations for constructing canals, or improving navigable rivers or harbors of this State.

Where the journal does not show the contrary, notice of a local law is presumed.—Harrison v. Gordy, 57 Ala. 49; Clarke v. Jack, 60 Ala. 271; Walker v. Griffith, 60 Ala. 361; Hall v. Steele, 82 Ala. 562; Jennings v. Russell, 92 Ala. 603. Does not apply to curative or healing statutes.—McKennie v. Gordon, 68 Ala. 442; State v. Webb, 110 Ala. 214. Definition of general law.—Holt v. Mayor, 111 Ala. 369; Anniston v. So. Ry. Co., 112 Ala. 557.

§25. The general assembly shall pass general laws, under which local and private interests shall be provided for and protected.

Definition of a general law.—Holt v. Mayor, 111 Ala. 369; Anniston v. So. Ry. Co., 112 Ala. 557.

§26. The general assembly shall have no power to authorize lotteries or gift enterprises for any purpose, and shall pass laws to prohibit the sale of lottery or gift-enterprise tickets, or tickets in any scheme in the nature of a lottery, in this State; and all acts, or parts of acts, heretofore passed by the general assembly of this State, authorizing a lottery or lotteries, and all acts amendatory thereof, or supplemental thereto, are hereby avoided.

Loiseau v. State, Ala; (22 So. 138).

§27. The presiding officer of each house shall, in the presence of the house over which he presides, sign all bills and joint resolutions passed by the general assembly, after the titles have been publicly read immediately before signing, and the fact of signing shall be entered on the journal.

§28. The general assembly shall prescribe by law the number, duties, and compensation of the officers and employes of each house; and no payment shall be made from the state treasury, or be in any way authorized to any person, except to an acting officer or employe, elected or appointed in pursuance of law.

§29. No bill shall be passed giving any extra compensation to any public officer, servant or employee, agent or contractor, after the service shall have been rendered, or contract made; nor shall any officer of the State bind the State to the payment of any sum of money but by authority of law.

§30. All stationery, printing, paper, and fuel used in the legislative and other departments of government, shall be furnished, and the printing, binding, and distribution of laws, journals, department reports, and all other printing and binding, and repairing and furnishing the halls and rooms used for the meetings of the general assembly and its committees, shall be performed under contract, to be given to the lowest responsible bidder below a maximum price, and under such regulations as shall be prescribed by law; no member or officer of any department of the government shall be in any way interested in such contracts, and all such contracts shall be subject to the approval of the governor, state auditor, and state treasurer.

Not self-executing.—Brown. v. Seay, 86 Ala. 122.

§31. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the house of representatives; but the senate may propose amendments, as in other bills.

Mandatory.—Perry Co. v. S. M. & M. R. Co., 58 Ala. 546. "Raising revenue" is the levy of a tax as the means of collecting revenue whether receipts are increased or diminished.—Perry Co. v. S. M. &. M. R. Co., 58 Ala. 546. A statute regulating the granting of licenses to retail is not a bill to raise revenue.—Dunbar v. Frazer, 78 Ala. 538.

§32. The general appropriation bill shall embrace nothing but appropriations for the ordinary expenses of the executive, legislative, and judicial departments of the State, interest on the public debt, and for the public schools; all other appropriations shall be made by separate bills, each embracing but one subject.

Appropriation for a local school must be by separate bill.—Woolf v. Taylor, 98 Ala. 254.

§33. No money shall be paid out of the treasury, except upon appropriations made by law, and on warrant drawn by the proper officer in pursuance thereof; and a regular statement and account of receipts and expenditures of all public moneys shall be published annually, in such manner as may be by law directed.

Conservative, not restrictive of legislative power.—Smith v. Speed, 50 Ala. 276. A resolution of the senate is not a law.—Reynolds v. Blue, 47 Ala. 711.

§34. No appropriation shall be made to any charitable or educational institution not under the absolute control of the State, other than normal schools established by law for the professional training of teachers for the public schools of the State, except by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house.

Elsberry v. Seay, 83 Ala. 614.

§35. No act of the general assembly shall authorize the investment of any trust fund by executors, administrators, guardians, and other trustees, in the bonds or stock of any private corporation; and any such acts now existing are avoided, saving investments heretofore made.

§36. The power to change the venue, in civil and criminal causes, is vested in the courts, to be exercised in such manner as shall be provided by law.

§37. When the general assembly shall be convened in special session, there shall be no legislation upon subjects other than those designated in the proclamation of the governor calling such session.

§38. No State office shall be continued or created for the inspection or measuring of any merchandise, manufacture, or commodity; but any county or municipality may appoint such officers, when authorized by law.

§39. No act of the general assembly changing the seat of government of the State shall become a law until the same shall have been submitted to the qualified electors of the State at a general election, and approved by a majority of such electors voting on the same; and such act shall specify the proposed new location.

§40. A member of the general assembly, who shall corruptly solicit, demand, or receive, or consent to receive, directly or indirectly, for himself or for another, from any company, corporation, or person, any money, office, appointment, employment, reward, thing of value or enjoyment, or of personal advantage, or promise thereof, for his vote or official influence, or for withholding the same; or with an understanding, expressed or implied, that his vote or official action shall be in any way influenced thereby; or who shall solicit or demand any such money or other advantage, matter or thing aforesaid, for another, as the consideration of his vote or official influence, or for withholding the same; or shall give or withhold his vote or influence, in consideration of the payment or promise of such money, advantage, matter, or thing, to another, shall be guilty of bribery within the meaning of this Constitution, and shall incur the disabilities provided thereby for such offense, and such additional punishment as is, or shall be, provided by law.

§41. Any person who shall, directly or indirectly, offer, give, or promise any money or thing of value, testimonial, privilege, or personal advantage, to any executive or judicial officer, or member of the general assembly, to influence him in the performance of any of his public or official duties, shall be guilty of bribery, and be punished in such manner as shall be provided by law.

§42. The offense of corrupt solicitation of members of the general assembly, or of public officers of this State, or of any municipal division thereof, and any occupation or practice of solicitation of such members, or officers, to influence their official action, shall be defined by law, and shall be punished by fine and imprisonment.

§43. A member of the general assembly, who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill, proposed or pending before the general assembly, shall disclose the fact to the house of which he is a member, and shall not vote thereon.

§44. In all elections by the general assembly, the members shall vote viva voce, and the votes shall be entered on the journals.

§45. It shall be the duty of the general assembly to pass such laws as may be necessary and proper to decide differences by arbitrators, to be appointed by the parties who may choose that mode of adjustment.

§46. It shall be the duty of the general assembly, at its first session after the ratification of this Constitution, and within every subsequent period of ten years, to make provision by law for the revision, digesting and promulgation of the public statutes of this State of a general nature, both civil and criminal.

§47. The general assembly shall pass such penal laws as they may deem expedient to suppress the evil practice of dueling.

§48. It shall be the duty of the general assembly to regulate by law the cases in which deductions shall be made from the salaries of public officers, for neglect of duty in their official capacities, and the amount of such deductions.

§49. It shall be the duty of the general assembly to require the several counties of this State to make adequate provision for the maintenance of the poor.

§50. The general assembly shall not have power to authorize any municipal corporation to pass any laws inconsistent with the general laws of this State.

"General law" is a law operative throughout the entire State; if there are excepted parts, the law is public, not general.—Holt v. Mayor, 111 Ala. 369; Anniston v. So. Ry. Co., 112 Ala. 557. Not intended to prevent the delegation to counties of quasi legislative powers.—Askew v. Hale Co., 54 Ala. 639; Stanfill v. Dallas Co., 80 Ala. 287; Dunn v. Wilcox Co., 85 Ala. 144. Nor to limit legislature in conferring police powers on municipal corporations.—Ex parte Cowert, 92 Ala. 94.

§51. In the event of annexation of any foreign territory to this State, the general assembly shall enact laws extending to the inhabitants of the acquired territory all the rights and privileges which may be required by the terms of the acquisition, anything in this Constitution to the contrary notwithstanding.

§52. The general assembly shall not tax the property, real and personal, of the State, counties, or other municipal corporations, or cemeteries; nor lots in incorporated cities or towns, or within one mile of any city or town, to the extent of one acre, nor lots one mile or more distant from such cities or towns, to the extent of five acres, with the buildings thereon, when the same are used exclusively for religious worship, for schools, or for purposes purely charitable; nor such property, real or personal, to an extent not exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars in value, as may be used exclusively for agricultural or horticultural associations of a public character.

§53. The general assembly shall by law prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to ascertain the value of personal and real property exempted from sale under legal process by this Constitution, and to secure the same to the claimant thereof as selected.

§54. The State shall not engage in works of internal improvement, nor lend money or its credit in aid of such; nor shall the State be interested in any private or corporate enterprise, or lend money or its credit to any individual, association, or corporation.

§55. The general assembly shall have no power to authorize any county, city, town, or other subdivision of this State, to lend its credit, or to grant public money or thing of value, in aid of, or to any individual, association, or corporation whatsoever, or to become a stockholder in any such corporation, association, or company, by issuing bonds, or otherwise.

No power to authorize a county to build a railroad bridge whether to be used free of rent by the railroad, or to be leased to it.—Garland v. Board of Revenue, 87 Ala. 223.

§56. There can be no law of this State impairing the obligation of contracts by destroying or impairing the remedy for their enforcement; and the general assembly shall have no power to revive any right or remedy which may have become barred by lapse of time, or by any statute of this State.

Substantially lessening or impairing the value of the contract is what is forbidden; no reference to the degree of impairment.—Edwards v. Williamson, 70 Ala. 145; Adams v. Creen, 100 Ala. 218. The remedy may be changed, so it remains fully adequate to the enforcement of the contract.—Edwards v. Williamson, 70 Ala. 145; Osborn v. Johnson W. P. Co., 99 Ala. 309. Does not apply to claims against the State, or against a special fund controlled by it as the fine and forfeiture fund.—Palmer v. Fitts, 51 Ala. 489; Sessions v. Boykin, 78 Ala. 328; Brown v. Parris, 93 Ala. 314; Harold v. Herrington, 95 Ala. 395; See also citations to Art. I., Sec. 23.

ARTICLE V.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

§1. The executive department shall consist of a governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, state auditor, attorney-general and superintendent of education, and a sheriff for each county.

Fox v. McDonald, 101 Ala. 51. See citations to Art. III.

§2. The supreme executive power of this State shall be vested in a chief magistrate, who shall be styled "The Governor of the State of Alabama."

Mandamus lies to compel the governor to perform his ministerial duties.—T. & C. R. Co. v. Moore, 36 Ala. 371; State v. Cobb, 64 Ala. 127. Power of appointment does not belong inherently to the executive.—Fox v. McDonald, 101 Ala. 51.

§3. The governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, state auditor, and attorney-general shall be elected by the qualified electors of this State, at the same time and places appointed for the election of members of the general assembly.

§4. The returns of every election for governor, secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer, and attorney-general shall be sealed up and transmitted by the returning officers to the seat of government, directed to the speaker of the house of representatives, who shall, during the first week of the session to which said returns shall be made, open and publish them in the presence of both houses of the general assembly in joint convention. The person having the highest number of votes for either of said offices shall be declared duly elected; but if two or more shall have an equal and the highest number of votes for the same office, the general assembly, by joint vote, without delay, shall choose one of said persons for said office. Contested elections for governor, secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer, and attorney-general shall be determined by both houses of the general assembly, in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

§5. The governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, state auditor, and attorney-general shall hold their respective offices for the term of two years from the time of their installation in office, and until their successors shall be elected and qualified.

§6. The governor shall be at least thirty years of age when elected, and shall have been a citizen of the United States ten years, and a resident citizen of this State at least seven years next before the day of his election.

§7. The governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, state auditor, and attorney-general shall reside at the seat of government of this State during the time they continue in office, except in case of epidemics; and they shall receive compensation for their services, which shall be fixed by law, and which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which they shall have been elected.

§8. The governor shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

§9. The governor may require information in writing, under oath, from the officers of the executive department, on any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices; and he may, at any time, require information in writing, under oath, from all officers and managers of State institutions, upon any subject relating to the condition, management, and expenses of their respective offices and institutions; and any such officer or manager who makes a false report, shall be guilty of perjury, and punished accordingly.

§10. The governor may, by proclamation, on extraordinary occasions, convene the general assembly at the seat of government, or at a different place, if, since their last adjournment, that shall have become dangerous from an enemy, or from infectious or contagious diseases; and he shall state specifically in such proclamation each matter concerning which the action of that body is deemed necessary.

§11. The governor shall, from time to time, give to the general assembly information of the state of the government, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he may deem expedient; and, at the commencement of each session of the general assembly, and at the close of his term of office, give information, by written message, of the condition of the State; and he shall account to the general assembly, as may be prescribed by law, for all moneys received and paid out by him, from any funds subject to his order, with the vouchers therefor; and he shall, at the commencement of each regular session, present to the general assembly estimates of the amount of money required to be raised by taxation for all purposes.

§12. The governor shall have power to remit fines and forfeitures, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by law, and after conviction, to grant reprieves, commutation of sentence, and pardons, except in cases of treason and impeachment; but pardons, in cases of murder, arson, burglary, rape, assault with intent to commit rape, perjury, forgery, bribery, and larceny, shall not relieve from civil and political disability, unless specifically expressed in the pardon. Upon conviction of treason, the governor may suspend the execution of the sentence, and report the same to the general assembly at the next regular session, when the general assembly shall either pardon, commute the sentence, direct its execution, or grant further reprieve. He shall communicate to the general assembly, at every regular session, each case of reprieve, commutation, or pardon granted, with his reasons therefor, stating the name and crime of the convict, the sentence, its date, and the date of the reprieve, commutation, or pardon.

Fines and forfeitures can only be remitted by the governor.—Haley v. Clark, 26 Ala. 439. Power confined to offenses for which there may be conviction and punishment.—M. & G. R. Co. v. Peebles, 47 Ala. 317.

§13. Every bill which shall have passed both houses of the general assembly, shall be presented to the governor; if he approve, he shall sign it; but, if not, he shall return it with his objections to that house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large upon the journals; and the house to which such bill shall be returned shall proceed to reconsider it; if, after such reconsideration, a majority of the whole number elected to that house shall vote for the passage of such bill, it shall be sent, with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; if approved by a majority of the whole number elected to that house, it shall become a law; but in such case the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays; and the names of the members voting for or against the bill shall be entered upon the journals of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within five days, (Sundays excepted), after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the general assembly, by their adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law. And every vote, order, or resolution, to which the concurrence of both houses may be necessary (except questions of adjournment, and of bringing on elections by the two houses, and of amending this Constitution), shall be presented to the governor, and, before the same shall take effect, be approved by him, or, being disapproved, shall be repassed by both houses according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

A bill signed by the governor materially differing from the bill as passed, does not become a law.—Jones v. Hutchinson, 43 Ala. 721; Moody v. State, 48 Ala., 115; Moog v. Randolph, 77 Ala. 597; Sayre v. Pollard, 77 Ala. 608; Stein v. Leeper, 78 Ala. 517; Abernathy v. State, 78 Ala. 411.

§14. The governor shall have power to disapprove of any item or items of any bill making appropriations of money, embracing distinct items; and the part or parts of the bill approved shall be the law, and the item or items disapproved shall be void, unless repassed according to the rules and limitations prescribed for the passage of other bills over the executive veto; and he shall, in writing, state specifically the item or items he disapproves.

§15. In case of the impeachment of the governor, his removal from office, death, refusal to qualify, resignation, absence from the State, or other disability, the president of the senate shall exercise all the power and authority appertaining to the office of governor, until the time appointed for the election of governor shall arrive, or until the governor who is absent, or impeached, shall return or be acquitted, or other disability be removed; and if during such vacancy in the office of governor the president of the senate shall be impeached, removed from office, refuse to qualify, die, resign, be absent from the State, or be under any other disability, the speaker of the house of representatives shall, in like manner, administer the government. If the governor shall be absent from the State over twenty days, the secretary of state shall notify the president of the senate, who shall enter upon the duties of governor; and if the governor and president of the senate shall both be absent from the State over twenty days, the secretary of state shall notify the speaker of the house of representatives; and in such case he shall enter upon and discharge the duties of governor, until the return of the governor or president of the senate.

§16. The president of the senate and speaker of the house of representatives shall, during the time they respectively administer the government, receive the same compensation which the governor would have received if he had been employed in the duties of his office. Provided, that if the general assembly shall be in session during such absence, they, or either of them, shall receive no compensation as members of the general assembly while acting as governor.

§17. No person shall, at one and the same time, hold the office of governor of this State and any other office, civil or military, either under this State, the United States, or any other State or government, except as otherwise provided in this Constitution.

§18. The governor shall be commander-in-chief of the militia and volunteer forces of this State, except when they shall be called into the service of the United States, and he may call out the same to execute the laws, suppress insurrection, and repel invasion; but he need not command in person unless directed to do so by a resolution of the general assembly; and when acting in the service of the United States he shall appoint his staff, and the general assembly shall fix his rank.

§19. No person shall be eligible to the office of secretary of state, state treasurer, state auditor, or attorney-general, unless he shall have been a citizen of the United States at least seven years, and shall have resided in this State at least five years next preceding his election, and shall be at least twenty-five years old when elected.

§20. There shall be a great seal of the State, which shall be used officially by the governor; and the seal now in use shall continue to be used until another shall have been adopted by the general assembly. The said seal shall be called the "Great Seal of the State of Alabama."

§21. The secretary of state shall be the custodian of the seal of the State, and shall authenticate therewith all official acts of the governor, his approval of laws and resolutions excepted. He shall keep a register of the official acts of the governor, and when necessary, shall attest them, and lay copies of the same, together with copies of all papers relative thereto, before either house of the general assembly, when required to do so, and shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by law.

§22. All grants and commissions shall be issued in the name and by the authority of the State of Alabama, sealed with the great seal, and signed by the governor, and countersigned by the secretary of state.

§23. Should the office of secretary of state, state treasurer, state auditor, attorney-general, or superintendent of education become vacant for any cause specified in section fifteen of this article, the governor shall fill the vacancy, until the disability is removed, or a successor elected and qualified.

§24. The state treasurer, state auditor, and attorney-general shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by law. The state treasurer and state auditor shall, every year, at a time the general assembly may fix, make a full and complete report to the governor, showing all receipts and disbursements of revenue of every character, all claims audited and paid by the State, by items, and all taxes and revenue collected and paid into the treasury, and from what sources; and they shall make reports oftener on any matter pertaining to their office, if required to do so by the governor or the general assembly.

§25. The state auditor, state treasurer and secretary of state shall not, after the expiration of the terms of those now in office, receive to their use any fees, costs, perquisites of office, or compensation, other than their salaries as prescribed by law; and all fees that may be payable by law, for any services performed by either of such officers, shall be paid in advance into the state treasury.

§26. A sheriff shall be elected in each county, by the qualified electors thereof, who shall hold his office for the term of four years, unless sooner removed, and shall be ineligible to such office as his own successor. Provided, that sheriffs elected on the first Monday in August, 1877, or at such other time as may be prescribed by law for the election in that year, shall hold their offices for the term of three years, and until their successors shall be elected and qualified. In the year 1880, at the general election for members to the general assembly, sheriffs shall be elected for four years as herein provided. Vacancies in the office of sheriff shall be filled by the governor, as in other cases; and the person appointed shall continue in office until the next general election in the county for sheriff, as provided by law.

ARTICLE VI.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

§1. The judicial power of the State shall be vested in the senate sitting as a court of impeachment, a supreme court, circuit courts, chancery courts, courts of probate, such inferior courts of law and equity, to consist of not more than five members, as the general assembly may from time to time establish, and such persons as may be by law invested with powers of a judicial nature.

The courts named are constitutional and cannot be abolished by legislature; inferior courts are statutory, may be abolished and term and salary of judge ends with the court.—Perkins v. Corbin, 45 Ala. 103; Ex parte Roundtree, 51 Ala. 42. An inferior court is one whose judgments can be reviewed by a higher tribunal, the circuit or supreme court.—Nugent v. State, 18 Ala. 521: Perkins v. Corbin, 45 Ala. 103; Ex parte Roundtree, 51 Ala. 42; Sanders v. State, 55 Ala. 42. Competent to divide a circuit court into two divisions, each sitting in a different part of the county.—Lowery v. State, 103 Ala. 50; Triest v. Enslen, 106 Ala. 180.

§2. Except in cases otherwise directed in the Constitution, the supreme court shall have appellate jurisdiction only, which shall be coextensive with the State, under such restrictions and regulations, not repugnant to this Constitution, as may from time to time be prescribed by law; Provided, that said court shall have power to issue writs of injunction, habeas corpus, quo warranto, and such other remedial and original writs as may be necessary to give it a general superintendence and control of inferior jurisdictions.

The supreme court has only appellate jurisdiction, with exceptions named.—State v. Flinn, Minor 8; Johnston v. Atwood, 2 Stew. 225. Rendition of judgment against sureties on an appeal bond is not assuming original jurisdiction.—Johnston v. Atwood, 2 Stew. 225. Legislature can control appellate, but not original jurisdiction; the latter being constitutional.—Thompson v. Lea, 28 Ala. 453; Ex parte Bibb, 44 Ala. 140; Ex parte Candee, 48 Ala. 386. Jurisdiction is in general, revisory, and application must be first refused by inferior court; but supreme court may first award either of the designated writs.—Davis v. Tuscumbia R. Co., 4 S. & P. 421; State v. Paul, 5 S. & P. 40; Ex parte Simonton, 9 Port. 383; State v. Porter, 1 Ala. 688; John v. State, 1 Ala. 95; Ex parte Mansony, 1 Ala. 98; State v. Williams, 1 Ala. 342; Ex parte Tarleton, 2 Ala. 36; Ex parte Chaney, 8 Ala. 424; Ex parte Smith, 23 Ala. 94; Ex parte City Council, 24 Ala. 98; Ex parte Henry, 24 Ala. 638; Ex parte Pickett, 24 Ala. 91; Ex parte Burnett, 30 Ala. 461; Thompson v. Lea, 28 Ala. 453; Ex parte Floyd, 40 Ala. 116; Ex parte Henderson, 43 Ala. 392; Ex parte Bibb, 44 Ala. 140; Ex parte Candee, 48 Ala. 386; Ex parte Jones, 94 Ala. 33. Will award original mandamus to compel the speaker to certify to the pay of a legislator.—Ex parte Pickett, 24 Ala. 91. When may issue writ of prohibition.—Ex parte Smith. 23 Ala. 94; Ex parte Walker, 25 Ala. 81; Ex parte Green, 29 Ala. 52; Ex parte Russell, 29 Ala. 717; Ex parte Roundtree, 51 Ala. 42.

§3. The supreme court shall be held at the seat of government, but if that shall have become dangerous from any cause, it may adjourn to a different place.

State v. Tally, 102 Ala. 25, 33.

§4. The State shall be divided by the general assembly into convenient circuits, not to exceed eight in number, unless increased by a vote of two-thirds of the members of each house of the general assembly, and no circuit shall contain less than three nor more than twelve counties; and for each circuit there shall be chosen a judge, who shall, for one year next preceding his election, and during his continuance in office, reside in the circuit for which he is elected.*

Within prescribed limits circuits may be changed at will.—Ex parte Lusk, 82 Ala. 519.

§5. The circuit court shall have original jurisdiction in all matters, civil and criminal, within the State, not otherwise excepted in this Constitution; but in civil cases only when the matter or sum in controversy exceeds fifty dollars.

Original jurisdiction is constitutional and does not require legislation to effectuate it; appellate is statutory and limited.—Carew v. Lillienthall, 50 Ala. 44; Dunbar v. Frazer, 78 Ala. 529. Has no chancery jurisdiction except power to issue injunctions.—Nugent v. State, 18 Ala. 521. Summary proceedings against public officer for dereliction of duty is not a "civil cause" within this section.—Huggins v. Ball, 19 Ala. 587; Nowlin v. McCalley, 31 Ala. 678. If complaint shows cause of action for only a nominal sum, court has no jurisdiction.—Cahuzac v. Samini, 29 Ala. 288. If debt is in- creased to more than fifty dollars, although by interest, court has jurisdiction.—Hogan v. Odam, 3 Stew. 59; Hargrove v. Smith, 1 Ala. 80. Between fifty and one hundred dollars the jurisdiction is concurrent with justices of the peace.—Carew v. Lillienthal, 50 Ala. 44; K. C., M. & B. R. Co. v. Whitehead, 109 Ala. 495. The amount in controversy is the amount claimed by the plaintiff, and not the amount of the recovery.—Haws v. Morgan, 59 Ala. 508; M. & C. R. Co. v. Hembree, 84 Ala. 182; Camp v. Marion Co., 91 Ala. 240.

§6. A circuit court shall be held in each county in the State at least twice in every year, and the judges of the several circuits may hold courts for each other, when they deem it expedient, and shall do so when directed by law; Provided, that the judges of the several circuit courts shall have power to issue writs of injunction returnable into courts of chancery.

§7. The general assembly shall have power to establish a court or courts of chancery, with original and appellate jurisdiction. The State shall be divided by the general assembly into convenient chancery divisions, not exceeding three in number, unless an increase shall be made by a vote of two-thirds of each house of the general assembly, taken by yeas and nays and entered upon the journals; and the divisions shall be divided into districts; and for each division there shall be a chancellor, who shall, at the time of his election or appointment, and during his continuance in office, reside in the division for which he shall have been elected or appointed.

Nugent v. State, 18 Ala. 521.

§8. A chancery court shall be held in each district, at a place to be fixed by law, at least once in each year; and the chancellors may hold courts for each other, when they deem it necessary.

Does not confine the venue to county of defendant's residence or in which the property is located.—Fulmore v. Brady, 44 Ala. 218.

§9. The general assembly shall have power to establish in each county within the State a court of probate, with general jurisdiction for the granting of letters testamentary and of administration, and for orphans' business.

A specific grant of unrestricted and general jurisdiction over the granting of letters testamentary and of administration and for orphans' business.—Ikelheimer v. Chapman, 32 Ala. 676; Gray v. Cruise, 36 Ala. 559; Coltart v. Allen, 40 Ala. 155; Balkum v. State, 40 Ala. 671; Carswell v. Spencer, 44 Ala. 204; Hall v. Hall, 47 Ala. 290; Wright v. Ware, 50 Ala. 549; Bean v. Chapman, 62 Ala. 58; Sims v. Waters, 65 Ala. 442; Hatchett v. Billingslea, 65 Ala. 16; Steele v. Tutwiler, 68 Ala. 107; Landford v. Dunklin, 71 Ala. 594; Morgan v. Casey, 73 Ala. 222; Barclift v. Treece, 77 Ala. 528. But there is a class of cases involving testamentary trusts and powers of which the probate court has not jurisdiction.—Ex parte Dickson, 64 Ala. 188; Penny v. Werborn, 72 Ala. 58; Foxworth v. White, 72 Ala. 224; Hinson v. Williamson, 74 Ala. 180; Creamer v. Holbrook, 99 Ala. 52. Power of chancery court to appoint administrator ad litem.—Malone v. Hill, 60 Ala. 225. No prohibition against conferring on probate courts judicial cognizance of matters also within the jurisdiction of other courts.—Balkum v. State, 40 Ala. 671; Randolph v. Baldwin, 41 Ala. 305. The office of probate judge is the creature of statute under which it exists, and by which its character is defined.—Thompson v. Holt, 52 Ala. 491.

§10. The judges of the supreme court, circuit courts, and chancellors shall, at stated times, receive for their services a compensation which shall not be diminished during their official terms; but they shall receive no fees or perquisites, nor hold any office (except judicial offices) of profit or trust under this State or the United States, or any other power, during the term for which they have been elected.

Protection extended only to judges of the supreme and circuit courts and chancellors; not to judges of inferior statutory courts.—Perkins v. Corbin, 45 Ala. 103; Ex parte Rountree, 51 Ala. 42; Ex parte Amos, 51 Ala. 57.

§11. The supreme court shall consist of one chief justice and such number of associate justices as may be prescribed by law.

§12. The chief justice and associate justices of the supreme court, judges of the circuit courts, probate courts, and chancellors shall be elected by the qualified electors of the State, circuits, counties, and chancery divisions, for which such courts may be established, at such times as may be prescribed by law.

Legislature cannot make the judge of the circuit court, in whose circuit an inferior court is established, the judge thereof.—Ex parte Roundtree, 51 Ala. 42. The office of probate judge is statutory; a bond may be required of him for the faithful performance of ministerial duties.—Thompson v. Holt, 52 Ala. 491.

§13. The judges of such inferior courts of law and equity as may be by law established, shall be elected or appointed in such mode as the general assembly may prescribe.

County courts may be established, of which the judge of probate is ex officio judge.—Balkum v. State, 40 Ala. 671; Randolph v. Baldwin, 41 Ala. 305. City courts of which the judges may be elected or appointed, and the court and office abolished at will.—Perkins v. Corbin, 45 Ala. 103. And jurisdiction of circuit court may be conferred upon judge of probate.—Moore v. State, 68 Ala. 360.

§14. The judges of the supreme court, circuit courts, and chancellors, and the judges of city courts shall have been citizens of the United States and of this State for five years next preceding their election or appointment, and shall be not less than twenty-five years of age, and learned in the law.

§15. The chief justice and associate justices of the supreme court, circuit judges, chancellors, and probate judges shall hold office for the term of six years, and until their successors are elected or appointed and qualified; and the right of such judges and chancellors to hold their offices for the full term hereby prescribed shall not be affected by any change hereafter made by law in any circuit, division, or county in the mode or time of election.

§16. The judges of the supreme court shall, by virtue of their offices, be conservators of the peace throughout the State; the judges of the circuit courts, within their respective circuits, and the judges of the inferior courts within their respective jurisdictions, shall, in like manner, be conservators of the peace.

§17. Vacancies in the office of any of the judges or chancellors of this State shall be filled by appointment by the governor; and such appointee shall hold his office for the unexpired term, and until his successor is elected or appointed and qualified.

Winter v. Sayre, (ms).

§18. If in any case, civil or criminal, pending in any circuit, chancery, or city court in this State, the presiding judge or chancellor shall, for any legal cause, be incompetent to try, hear, or render judgment in such cause, the parties or their attorneys of record, if it be a civil case, or the solicitor or other prosecuting officer, and the defendant or defendants, if it be a criminal case, may agree upon some disinterested person practicing in the court and learned in the law, to act as special judge or chancellor, to sit as a court, and to hear, decide, and render judgment in the same manner and to the same effect as a judge of the circuit or city court, or chancellor sitting as a court might do in such case. If the case be a civil one, and the parties or their attorneys of record do not agree, or if the case be a criminal one, and the prosecuting officer and the defendant or defendants do not agree upon a special judge or chancellor, or if either party in a civil cause is not represented in court, the clerk of the circuit or city court, or register in chancery, of the court in which said cause is pending, shall appoint the special judge or chancellor, who shall preside, try, and render judgment as in this section provided.

If a disqualified judge arranges for another judge to hold the term, he may try and determine the issues arising in the case in which the regular judge is disqualified.—Payne v. State, 60 Ala. 80. Relationship within the fourth degree of consanguinity or affinity disqualifies.—Gill v. State, 61 Ala. 169. Statutory provisions are not exclusive of disqualifications imposed by the common law.—Medlin v. Taylor, 101 Ala. 239; Pegues v. Baker, 110 Ala. 251.

§19. The general assembly shall have power to provide for the holding of circuit and chancery courts in this State, when the judges or chancellors thereof fail to attend regular terms.

§20. No judge of any court of record in this State shall practice law in any of the courts of this State or of the United States.

§21. Registers in chancery shall be appointed by the chancellors of the divisions, and shall hold office during the term of the chancellor making such appointment; and such registers shall receive as compensation for their services only such fees and commissions as may be specifically prescribed by law.

§22. A clerk of the supreme court shall be appointed by the judges thereof, and shall hold office during the term of the judges making the appointment; and clerks of such inferior courts as may be established by law shall be appointed by the judges thereof, and shall hold office during the term of the judge making such appointment.

§23. Clerks of the circuit court shall be elected by the qualified electors in each county for the term of six years. Vacancies in such office shall be filled by the governor for the unexpired term.

§24. The clerk of the supreme court and registers in chancery may be removed from office by the judges of the supreme court and chancellors respectively, for cause, to be entered at length upon the records of the court.

§25. A solicitor for each judicial circuit shall be elected by joint ballot of the general assembly, who shall be learned in the law, and who shall, at the time of his election, and during his continuance in office, reside in the circuit for which he is chosen, and whose term of office shall be for six years; Provided, that the general assembly, at the first session thereof after the ratification of this Constitution, shall, by joint ballot, elect a solicitor for each judicial circuit of the State, whose term of office shall begin on Tuesday after the first Monday in November, eighteen hundred and seventy-six, and continue for four years; And provided, that the general assembly may, when necessary, provide for the election or appointment of county solicitors.

Mandatory as to circuit solicitors; permissive as to county.—Ex parte Lusk, 82 Ala. 519.

§26. There shall be elected by the qualified electors of each precinct of the counties not exceeding two justices of the peace and one constable. Such justices shall have jurisdiction in all civil cases wherein the amount in controversy does not exceed one hundred dollars, except in cases of libel, slander, assault and battery, and ejectment. In all cases tried before such justices the right of appeal, without prepayment of costs, shall be secured by law; Provided, that the governor may appoint one notary public for each election precinct in counties, and one for each ward in cities of over five thousand inhabitants, who, in addition to the powers of notary, shall have and exercise the same jurisdiction as justices of the peace within the precincts and wards for which they are respectively appointed; And provided, that notaries public without such jurisdiction may be appointed. The term of office of such justices and notaries public shall be prescribed by law.

Not self-executing.—Pearce v. Pope, 42 Ala. 319; Taylor v. Woods, 52 Ala. 474; Carter v. Alford, 64 Ala. 236; K. C. M. & B. R. Co. v. Whitehead, 109 Ala. 495. Jurisdiction generally. Jurisdiction, in case of moneyed demand, is determined by the amount legally due or actually claimed, not by recovery.—Cothran v. Weir, 3 Ala. 24; Crabtree v. Cliatt, 22 Ala. 181; Carter v. Alford, 64 Ala. 236. Concurrent with circuit court where amount involved is between fifty and one hundred dollars.—Carew v. Lillienthall, 50 Ala. 44. If debt above jurisdiction is divided and notes given each within the amount, suit may be brought on each note before justice of the peace.—Herrin v. Buckalew, 37 Ala. 585. Plaintiff in an action on a contract may remit the excess so as to bring the debt within jurisdiction, against defendant's objection.—King v. Dougherty, 2 S. 487; Nibbs v. Moody, 5. S. & P. 198; Bentley v. Wright, 3 Ala. 607; Henderson v. Plumb, 18 Ala. 74; Crabtree v. Cliatt, 22 Ala. 181; Solomon v. Ross, 49 Ala. 198; Carter v. Alford, 64 Ala. 236; Davis v. Bedsole, 69 Ala. 362; Wharton v. King, 69 Ala. 365. Entry and detainer. Has jurisdiction of forcible entry and detainer.—Ward v. Lewis, 1 Stew. 26. Legislature cannot give the right to try title to real estate by calling it unlawful detainer.—Ex parte Webb, 58 Ala. 109; Webb v. Carlisle, 65 Ala. 313. Right of appeal must be secured.—Tims v. State, 26 Ala. 165; Ex parte Houghton, 38 Ala. 570. Notary, with jurisdiction of justice of the peace: May exercise both the civil and criminal jurisdiction of a justice.—Carroll v. State, 58 Ala. 396. Has power to issue attachments returnable before himself in causes of which he has jurisdiction.—Griffin v. Appleby, 69 Ala. 409; Rice v. Watts, 71 Ala. 593. But not, before statute, returnable before circuit or city court.—Vann v. Adams, 71 Ala. 475; Nordlinger v. Gordon, 72 Ala. 239; Jackson v. Bain, 74 Ala. 328. Not necessary, but proper, to add "Ex officio justice of the peace" to his signature.—Coleman v. State, 63 Ala. 93.

§27. An attorney-general shall be elected by the qualified electors of the State at the same time and places of election of members of the general assembly, whose term of office shall be for two years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. After his election he shall reside at the seat of government, and shall be the law officer of the State, and shall perform such duties as may be required of him by law.

§28. The style of all process shall be "The State of Alabama," and all prosecutions shall be carried on in the name and by the authority of the same, and shall conclude, "Against the peace and dignity of the State."

Criminal prosecutions triable without indictment by a grand jury need not conclude "against the peace," etc.—Thomas v. State, 107 Ala. 61; Simpson v. State, 111 Ala. 6. Information in impeachment should so conclude.—Thomas v. State, 107 Ala. 61, 64.

ARTICLE VII.

IMPEACHMENTS.

§1. The governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, attorney-general, superintendent of education and judges of the supreme court may be removed from office for willful neglect of duty, corruption in office, habitual drunkenness, incompetency, or any offense involving moral turpitude while in office, or committed under color thereof, or connected therewith, by the senate, sitting as a court for that purpose, under oath or affirmation, on articles or charges preferred by the house of representatives.

§2. The chancellors, judges of the circuit courts, judges of the probate courts, solicitors of the circuits, and judges of inferior courts from which an appeal may be taken directly to the supreme court, may be removed from office for any of the causes specified in the preceding section, by the supreme court, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law.

State v. Buckley, 54 Ala. 599; State v. Savage, 89 Ala. 1; State v. Tally, 102 Ala. 25; State v. Robinson, 111 Ala. 482.

§3. The sheriffs, clerks of the circuit, city, or criminal courts, tax collectors, tax assessors, county treasurers, coroners, justices of the peace, notaries public, constables, and all other county officers, mayors, and intendants of incorporated cities and towns in this State, may be removed from office for any of the causes specified in section one of this article, by the circuit, city, or criminal court of the county in which such officers hold their office, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. Provided, that the right of trial by jury and appeal in such cases be secured.

State v. Seawell, 64 Ala. 225; Ex parte Wiley, 54 Ala. 226.

§4. The penalties in cases arising under the three preceding sections shall not extend beyond removal from office, and disqualification from holding office under the authority of this State, for the term for which he was elected or appointed; but the accused shall be liable to indictment, trial, and punishment, as prescribed by law.

ARTICLE VIII.

SUFFRAGE AND ELECTIONS.

§1. Every male citizen of the United States, and every male person of foreign birth, who may have legally declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States before he offers to vote, who is twenty-one years old or upwards, possessing the following qualifications, shall be an elector, and shall be entitled to vote at any election by the people, except as hereinafter provided:

First.—He shall have resided in the State at least one year immediately preceding the election at which he offers to vote.

Second.—He shall have resided in the county for three months, and in the precinct or ward for thirty days immediately preceding the election at which he offers to vote; Provided, that the general assembly may prescribe a longer or shorter residence in any precinct in any county or in any ward in any incorporated city or town having a population of more than five thousand inhabitants, but in no case to exceed three months; And provided, that no soldier, sailor or marine in the military or naval service of the United States, shall acquire a residence by being stationed in this State.

§2. All elections by the people shall be by ballot, and all elections by persons in a representative capacity shall be viva voce.

§3. The following classes shall not be permitted to register, vote or hold office:

First.—Those who shall have been convicted of treason, embezzlement of public funds, malfeasance in office, larceny, bribery, or other crime punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Does not impinge the Federal Constitution; nature of the elective franchise; forfeited by the commission of any of the crimes here mentioned, or any grade of them.—Washington v. State, 75 Ala. 582; Anderson v. State, 72 Ala. 187; Gandy v. State, 82 Ala. 61, 86 Ala. 20.

Second.—Those who are idiots or insane.

§4. Electors shall in all cases, except treason, felony, or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at elections, or while going to or returning therefrom.

§5. The general assembly shall pass laws, not inconsistent with this Constitution, to regulate and govern elections in this State, and all such laws shall be uniform throughout the State. The general assembly may, when necessary, provide by law for the registration of electors throughout the State, or in any incorporated city or town thereof, and when it is so provided, no person shall vote at any election unless he shall have registered as required by law.

§6. It shall be the duty of the general assembly to pass adequate laws giving protection against the evils arising from the use of intoxicating liquors at all elections.

§7. Returns of elections for all civil officers who are to be commissioned by the governor, except secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer and attorney-general, and for members of the general assembly, shall be made to the secretary of state.

ARTICLE IX.

REPRESENTATION.

§1. The whole number of senators shall be not less than one-fourth or more than one-third the whole number of representatives.

§2. The house of representatives shall consist of not more than one hundred members, who shall be apportioned by the general assembly among the several counties of the State, according to the number of inhabitants in them respectively, as ascertained by the decennial census of the United States for the year eighteen hundred and eighty; which apportionment, when made, shall not be subject to alteration until the first session of the general assembly after the next decennial census of the United States shall have been taken.

§3. It shall be the duty of the general assembly, at its first session after the taking of the decennial census of the United States in the year eighteen hundred and eighty, and after each subsequent decennial census, to fix by law the number of representatives, and apportion them among the several counties of the State; Provided, that each county shall be entitled to at least one representative.

§4. It shall be the duty of the general assembly at its first session after the taking of the decennial census of the United States in the year eighteen hundred and eighty, and after each subsequent decennial census, to fix by law the number of senators, and to divide the State into as many senatorial districts as there are senators, which districts shall be as nearly equal to each other in the number of inhabitants as may be, and each shall be entitled to one senator, and no more; and which districts, when formed, shall not be changed until the next apportioning session of the general assembly after the next decennial census of the United States shall have been taken. No county shall be divided between two districts, and no district shall be made of two or more counties not contiguous to each other.

§5. Should the decennial census of the United States, from any cause, not be taken, or if, when taken, the same as to this State is not full and satisfactory, the general assembly shall have power, at its first session after the time shall have elapsed for the taking of said census, to provide for an enumeration of all the inhabitants of this State, and once in each ten years thereafter, upon which it shall be the duty of the general assembly to make the apportionment of representatives and senators as provided for in this article.

§6. Until the general assembly shall make an apportionment of representatives among the several counties, after the first decennial census of the United States, as herein provided, the counties of Autauga, Baldwin, Bibb, Blount, Calhoun, Chilton, Cherokee, Choctaw, Clark, Clay, Cleburne, Coffee, Colbert, Conecuh, Coosa, Covington, Crenshaw, Dale, DeKalb, Elmore, Etowah, Escambia, Fayette, Franklin, Geneva, Henry, Lauderdale, Marion, Morgan, Monroe, Marshall, Randolph, Sanford, Shelby, St. Clair, Walker, Washington, and Winston shall each have one representative; the counties of Barbour, Bullock, Butler, Chambers, Greene, Hale, Jackson, Jefferson, Limestone, Lawrence, Lowndes, Lee, Macon, Marengo, Perry, Pickens, Pike, Russell, Sumter, Talladega, Tallapoosa, Tuskaloosa, and Wilcox shall have each two representatives; the county of Madison shall have three representatives; the counties of Dallas and Montgomery shall have each four representatives; and the county of Mobile shall have five representatives.

§7. Until the general assembly shall divide the State into senatorial districts, as herein provided, the senatorial districts shall be as follows:

First district, Lauderdale and Limestone; second district, Colbert and Lawrence; third district, Morgan, Winston, and Blount; fourth district, Madison; fifth district, Marshall, Jackson, and DeKalb; sixth district, Cherokee, Etowah, and St. Clair; seventh district, Calhoun and Cleburne; eighth district, Talladega and Clay; ninth district, Randolph and Chambers; tenth district, Macon and Tallapoosa; eleventh district, Bibb and Tuskaloosa; twelfth district, Franklin, Marion, Fayette, and Sanford; thirteenth district, Walker, Jefferson, and Shelby; fourteenth district, Greene and Pickens; fifteenth district, Coosa, Elmore, and Chilton; sixteenth district, Lowndes and Autauga; seventeenth district, Butler and Conecuh; eighteenth district, Perry; nineteenth district, Choctaw, Clark, and Washington; twentieth district, Marengo; twenty-first district, Monroe, Escambia, and Baldwin; twenty-second district, Wilcox; twenty-third district, Henry, Coffee, Dale, and Geneva; twenty-fourth district, Barbour; twenty-fifth district, Pike, Crenshaw, and Covington; twenty-sixth district, Bullock; twenty-seventh district, Lee; twenty-eighth district, Montgomery; twenty-ninth district, Russell; thirtieth district, Dallas; thirty-first district, Sumter; thirty-second district, Hale; thirty-third district, Mobile.

ARTICLE X.

EXEMPTED PROPERTY.

§1. The personal property of any resident of this State, to the value of one thousand dollars, to be selected by such resident, shall be exempted from sale on execution, or other process of any court, issued for the collection of any debt contracted since the thirteenth day of July, eighteen hundred and sixty-eight, or after the ratification of this Constitution.

Must be liberally construed.—Webb v. Edwards, 46 Ala. 17; Fearn v. Ward, 65 Ala. 33. The right of selection belongs to the debtor and is beyond the reach of legislative or judicial restraint before sale.—Bray v. Laird, 44 Ala. 295; Brewer v. Granger, 45 Ala. 580; Webb v. Edwards, 46 Ala. 17; Ala. Conference v. Vaughan, 54 Ala. 443; Williamson v. Harris, 57 Ala. 40; Enzor v. Hurt, 76 Ala. 595. A mere personal privilege to be ex- ercised or not at the option of the debtor.—Graham v. Walker, 10 Ala. 370; Ross v. Hannah, 18 Ala. 125; Bell v. Davis, 42 Ala. 460; Brown v. Lietch, 60 Ala. 313; Sherry v. McKibbon, 92 Ala. 622; (limiting Clingman v. Kemp, 57 Ala. 195). Double exemption not allowed; when may be claimed a second time.—Weis v. Levy, 69 Ala. 209. When money in the hands of a garnishee is claimed the claim must be filed before judgment of condemnation.—Randolph v. Little, 62 Ala. 396; (overruling Webb v. Edwards, 46 Ala. 17); Roden v. Brown, 103 Ala. 324.

§2. Every homestead, not exceeding eighty acres, and the dwelling and appurtenances thereon, to be selected by the owner thereof, and not in any city, town, or village, or in lieu thereof, at the option of the owner, any lot in the city, town, or village, with the dwelling and appurtenances thereon, owned and occupied by any resident of this State, and not exceeding the value of two thousand dollars, shall be exempted from sale on execution, or any other process from a court, for any debt contracted since the thirteenth day of July, eighteen hundred and sixty-eight, or after the ratification of this Constitution. Such exemption, however, shall not extend to any mortgage lawfully obtained, but such mortgage or other alienation of such homestead, by the owner thereof, if a married man, shall not be valid without the voluntary signature and assent of the wife to the same.

Legislature may increase constitutional exemptions but may not diminish them; self-executing.—Miller v. Marx, 55 Ala. 322; David v. David, 56 Ala. 49. Must be liberally construed in favor of the exemption.—McGuire v. Van Pelt, 55 Ala. 344; Webber v. Short, 55 Ala. 311; Kennedy v. First Nat. Bank, 107 Ala. 170. Limited to debts contracted after the adoption of the Constitution.—Miller v. Marx, 55 Ala. 322; Preiss v. Campbell, 59 Ala. 635. Essentials to, and extent of homestead; protection is only extended to residents; and only covers land owned, used and actually occupied, as a home, dwelling-place, family seat, mansion.—Koster v. Richardson, 94 Ala. 629; Parks v. Barnett, 104 Ala. 438. Though the wife be insane.—Thompson v. N. E. Mfg. Soc. Co., 110 Ala. 400. Prior to 1873, if the wife join in the execution of a conveyance, and it was regularly executed as other conveyances, the homestead passed.—Miller v. Marx, 55 Ala. 322; Lyons v. Connor, 57 Ala. 181; Preiss v. Campbell, 59 Ala. 635; Cahall v. Cit. Mut. Bldg. Assn., 61 Ala. 232; Forsyth v. Preer, 62 Ala. 443; Rogers v. Adams, 66 Ala. 600; Scott v. Simons, 70 Ala. 352; Butts v. Broughton, 72 Ala. 294; Jones v. Roper, 86 Ala. 210. Since 1873 the form then prescribed must be regarded as a negation on all other methods of alienation and must be followed.—Scott v. Simons, 70 Ala. 352. But the requirement applies only to conveyances perfected by delivery.—Jenkins v. Harrison, 66 Ala. 345. Separate examination of wife not essential to convey her separate estate.—Weiner v. Sterling, 61 Ala. 98; Dawson v. Burruss, 73 Ala. 111. Voluntary signature and assent is all that is required; wife need not be named as grantor if she joins in power of sale in a mortgage.—Dooley v. Villalonga, 61 Ala. 129; Hood v. Powell, 73 Ala. 171; Shelton v. Aultman, 82 Ala. 315. A deed or mortgage, inoperative to pass the homestead, if regularly executed passes any excess above homestead that may be described.—Miller v. Marx, 55 Ala. 322; McGuire v. Van Pelt, 55 Ala. 344; Pettus v. McKinney, 56 Ala. 41; Barner v. Bond, 61 Ala. 84; Snedecor v. Freeman, 71 Ala. 140; DeGraffenreid v. Clark, 75 Ala. 425. But if wife joins "solely for the purpose of releasing dower" the homestead will not pass although the acknowledgment is sufficient.—Thompson v. Sheppard, 85 Ala. 611. Sufficiency of certificate showing "voluntary signature and assent."—Scott v. Simmons, 70 Ala. 352; Motes v. Carter, 73 Ala. 553. Acknowledgment may be after execution, but not so as to affect intervening rights.—Cahall v. Cit. Mut. Bldg. Assn., 61 Ala. 232; Hood v. Powell, 73 Ala. 171; Winston v. Hodges, 102 Ala. 304. But not after the death of the husband.—Richardson v. Woodstock I. Co., 90 Ala. 266; s. c., 94 Ala. 629; Hodges v. Winston, 95 Ala. 514; Parks v. Barnett, 104 Ala. 438. Nor after sale under execution.—Smith v. Pearce, 85 Ala. 264. Under Constitution of 1868, if homestead was a lot in a town worth over two thousand dollars, and incapable of reduction, there was no exemption and no restraint on its alienation.—Miller v. Marx, 55 Ala. 322; Watts v. Barnett, 56 Ala. 340; Garner v. Bond, 61 Ala. 84. A conveyance of the homestead by the husband, direct to the wife, is not void, but passes the legal title, subject to all pre-existing homestead rights.—Turner v. Bernheimer, 95 Ala. 241. Conveyance of right of way over homestead invalid unless wife joins.—McGhee v. Wilson, 111 Ala. 615.

§3. The homestead of the family, after the death of the owner thereof, shall be exempt from the payment of any debts contracted since the thirteenth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, or after the ratification of this Constitution, in all cases, during the minority of the children.

It is the actual homestead at the time of the death which is exempt; other land cannot be selected.—Chambers v. McPhaul, 55 Ala. 367; David v. David, 56 Ala. 49; Turner v. Turner, 107 Ala. 465. May be claimed in property purchased with declared intention of using it as a homestead, but the use of which was prevented by death.—Englehardt v. Yung, 76 Ala. 534. For the benefit of actual residence; widow must be resident at the time of husband's death.—Allen v. Manasses, 4 Ala. 554; Ex parte Pearson, 76 Ala. 521. Exemption free from administration; vests at death of owner; continues during life of widow and minority of children and then reverts.—Webber v. Short, 55 Ala. 311; Miller v. Marx, 55 Ala. 322; Hunter v. Law, 68 Ala. 365; Barber v. Williams, 74 Ala. 331; Norton v. Norton, 94 Ala. 481; Cofer v. Scroggins, 98 Ala. 342. Equitable title sufficient.—Munchus v. Harris, 69 Ala. 506. Cannot be cut off by attempted disposition by will.—Bell v. Bell, 84 Ala. 64. Adopted child entitled to exemption.—Cofer v. Scroggins, 98 Ala. 342. The fact that a widow has a separate estate does not lessen her right.—Darden v. Reese, 62 Ala. 311. Exemption takes effect at the death of owner of homestead and is controlled by the then law; the quantity is controlled by the law of force at the creation of the debt.—Taylor v. Pettus, 52 Ala. 287; Taylor v. Taylor, 53 Ala. 135; Rottenberry v. Pipes, 53 Ala. 447; Miller v. Marx, 55 Ala. 322; Davis v. Davis, 63 Ala. 293; Slaughter v. McBride, 69 Ala. 510; Skinner v. Chapman, 78 Ala. 376; McDonald v. Berry, 90 Ala. 464.

§4. The provisions of sections one and two of this article shall not be so construed as to prevent a laborer's lien for work done and performed for the person claiming such exemption, or a mechanic's lien for work done on the premises.

§5. If the owner of a homestead die, leaving a widow, but no children, such homestead shall be exempt, and the rents and profits thereof shall enure to her benefit.

Gives a mere right to occupy, without power to convey or charge; at death of widow reverts to estate of owner.—Miller v. Marx, 55 Ala. 322; Barber v. Williams, 74 Ala. 331. Attempted alienation as an abandonment.—Barber v. Williams, 74 Ala. 331. Exemption is in the actual homestead; if that is leased merely, or mortgaged, other property cannot be selected.—Chambers v. McPhaul, 55 Ala. 367. See also Citations to Art. X., Sec. 3.

§6. The real and personal property of any female in this State, acquired before marriage, and all property, real and personal, to which she may afterwards be entitled by gift, grant, inheritance, or devise, shall be and remain the separate estate and property of such female, and shall not be liable for any debts, obligations and engagements of her husband, and may be devised or bequeathed by her, the same as if she were a femme sole.

Abrogates the right of married woman to disaffirm at any time a purchase of property made by her.—McAnally v. Heflin, 105 Ala. 525. If not induced by improper influence, an absolute conveyance of the wife's land in payment of her husband's debt is valid.—Perryman v. Greer, 39 Ala. 133; Holt v. §7. The right of exemptions hereinbefore secured may be waived by an instrument in writing, and when such waiver relates to realty, the instrument must be signed by both the husband and the wife, and attested by one witness.

Exemption of personal property could be waived by stipulation in a note prior to Constitution.—Brown v. Leitch, 60 Ala. 313. Waiver must be in writing and the intention clear.—Knox v. Wilson, 77 Ala. 309. Waiver of exemptions as to personalty may be expressed in any written contract; if of the homestead it must be by separate instrument.—Neely v. Henry, 63 Ala. 261; Terrell v. Hurst, 76 Ala. 588; Wagnon v. Keenan, 77 Ala. 519; Agnew v. Walden, 95 Ala. 108; Reed Lumber Co. v. Lewis, 94 Ala. 626. If waiver only as to part of exempt property such part must be specified; not so if general.—Neely v. Henry, 63 Ala. 261. Waiver in partnership note operates to waive the individual exemptions in personalty of the partner executing the note; but not of the other partner unless signer was specially authorized.—Terrell v. Hurst, 76 Ala. 588; Reed Lumber Co. v. Lewis, 94 Ala. 626. Law prohibiting garnishments except where exemptions are waived and the debt was contracted for necessaries not a restraint on the right to waive.—Adams v. Creen, 100 Ala. 218. A note waiving exemptions is a mere engagement and does not create a lien on property.—Craft v. Stoutz, 95 Ala. 245. And is ineffectual as against the widow and minor children of the deceased maker.—Wiggins v. Mertins, 111 Ala. 164.

ARTICLE XI.

TAXATION.

§1. All taxes levied on property in this State shall be assessed in exact proportion to the value of such property; Provided, however, the general assembly may levy a poll-tax, not to exceed one dollar and fifty cents on each poll, which shall be applied exclusively in aid of the public school fund in the county so paying the same.

"Taxes" and "taxation" have respectively the same meaning in this article.—Mayor v. Klein, 89 Ala. 461. The right to tax is a limitation, not a grant of power.—Dorman v. State, 34 Ala. 216; Irwin v. Mobile, 57 Ala. 6; Shultes v. Eberly, 82 Ala. 242; Hare v. Kennerly, 83 Ala. 608; Mayor v. Klein, 89 Ala. 461; Elyton Land Co. v. Mayor, 89 Ala. 477. Article intended to provide for, regulate and limit only general taxation for general government purposes, State, county and municipal.—Mayor v. Klein, 89 Ala. 461. All taxation must be in exact proportion to value, but approximate equality is sufficient.—Mayor v. Stonewall Ins. Co., 53 Ala. 570; Board v. A. C. R. Co., 59 Ala. 551; Board of Rev. v. Mont. Gas L. Co., 64 Ala. 269; Moog v. Randolph, 77 Ala. 597; W. U. Tel. Co. v. State, Bd. Assmt., 80 Ala. 273; Elyton Land Co. v. Mayor, 89 Ala. 477; Mayor v. Klein, 89 Ala. 461; State Bank v. Board of Rev., 91 Ala. 217. Not to be construed to prohibit exemptions from taxation; nor a reasonable classification, nor to require the taxation of all property at precisely the same rate.—M. &. G. R. Co. v. Peebles, 47 Ala. 317; S. &. N. R. Co. v. Morris, 65 Ala. 193; Mayor v. Stonewall Ins. Co., 53 Ala. 570; Clark v. Mobile, 67 Ala. 217; Dauphin St. Ry. Co. v. Kennedy, 74 Ala. 583; Moog v. Randolph, 77 Ala. 597; W. U. Tel. Co. v. State Bd. Assmt., 80 Ala. 273; State Bank v. Bd. Rev., 91 Ala. 217. Cannot prescribe or declare an arbitrary or artificial value under the guise of classification; taxation must not be spoliation.—Assmt. Bd. v. A. C. R. Co., 59 Ala. 551; Moog v. Randolph, 77 Ala. 597. Has no application to local assessments for local street improvement, as paving; such power is referable to the general inherent power of taxation, not here limited or restrained.—Irwin v. Mobile, 57 Ala. 6; Mayor v. Klein, 89 Ala. 461 (overruling Mobile v. Dargan, 45 Ala. 310, and Mobile v. Royal St. Ry., 45 Ala. 322). Incomes, salaries, etc.—Lott v. Hubbard, 44 Ala. 593; Board of Rev. v. Montgomery Gas L. Co., 64 Ala. 269. Does not forbid taxation of credits secured by mortgage on property which is also taxed.—Ala. Gold Life Ins. Co. v. Lott, 54 Ala. 499.

§2. No power to levy taxes shall be delegated to individuals or private corporations.

Power can only be delegated to counties and municipal corporations.—President v. Board of Improvement, 45 Ala. 399; Clark v. Mobile, 67 Ala. 17; Schultes v. Eberly, 82 Ala. 242; Spigener v. Rives, 104 Ala. 437.

§3. After the ratification of this Constitution, no new debt shall be created against, or incurred by this State, or its authority, except to repel invasion or suppress insurrection, and then only by a concurrence of two-thirds of the members of each house of the general assembly, and the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays and entered on the journals; and any act creating or incurring any new debt against this State, except as herein provided for, shall be absolutely void; Provided, the governor may be authorized to negotiate temporary loans, never to exceed one hundred thousand dollars, to meet deficiencies in the treasury; and until the same is paid, no new loan shall be negotiated; Provided further, that this section shall not be so construed as to prevent the issuance of bonds in adjustment of existing State indebtedness.

§4. The general assembly shall not have the power to levy, in any one year, a greater rate of taxation than three-fourths of one per centum on the value of the taxable property within this State.

Limitation applies only to State taxes levied for State purposes.—Hare v. Kennerly, 83 Ala. 608. The term "taxable property," as here used, does not include all the subjects of taxation; it shows that which is made, not which the legislature may make, liable.—Lott v. Rose, 38 Ala. 156; W. U. Tel. Co. v. State Bd. Assmt., 80 Ala. 273; Capital City Water Co. v. Bd. Rev., Ala. (MS.). A distinction is made between the taxation of property, as such, and a license or privilege tax; a business is not "taxable property" as here meant.—W. U. Tel. Co. v. State Bd. Assmt., 80 Ala. 273; Anniston v. So. Ry. Co., 112 Ala. 557; Capital City Water Co. v. Bd. Rev., Ala. (MS.). Cannot levy for several years' past taxes, to be paid at one time, exceeding the limit; this is not an assessment of escaped taxes.—Maguire v. Board of Rev., 71 Ala. 401.

§5. No county in this State shall be authorized to levy a larger rate of taxation, in any one year, on the value of the taxable property therein, than one-half of one per centum. Provided, that to pay debts existing at the ratification of this Constitution, an additional rate of one-fourth of one per centum may be levied and collected which shall be exclusively appropriated to the payment of such debts or the interest thereon. Provided further, that to pay any debt or liability now existing against any county, incurred for the erection of the necessary public buildings or other ordinary county purposes, or that may hereafter be created for the erection of necessary public buildings or bridges, any county may levy and collect such special taxes as may have been or may hereafter be authorized by law, which taxes so levied and collected shall be applied exclusively to the purposes for which the same were so levied and collected.

Limitation applies only to county taxes levied for county purposes.—Hare v. Kennerly, 83. Ala. 608. A railroad bridge to be used and operated by a private corporation is not such a bridge as for the erection of which a special tax may be levied by a county.—Garland v. Board of Rev., 87 Ala. 223. Law authorizing a county to levy a special tax on a proposed "stock district," to be used in fencing it in is constitutional.—Spigener v. Rives, 104 Ala. 437.

§6. The property of private corporations, associations and individuals of this State, shall forever be taxed at the same rate; Provided, this section shall not apply to institutions or enterprises devoted exclusively to religious, educational, or charitable purposes.

If a tax is imposed on a species of property all property of that species must be taxed at the same rate, whether belonging to an individual, association of persons or a private corporation.—Mayor v. Stonewall Ins. Co., 53 Ala. 570; Board of Assmt. v. A. C. R. Co., 59 Ala. 551; Nat. Com. Bank v. Mayor, 62 Ala. 284; Sumter Co. v. Nat. Bank, 62 Ala. 464; Board of Rev. v. Montgomery Gas L. Co., 64 Ala. 269; Auditor v. Jackson Co., 65 Ala. 142; Perry Co. v. R. Co., 65 Ala. 391; Pollard v. Zuber, 65 Ala. 628; State v. Rev. Board, 73 Ala. 65; Quartlebaum v. State, 79 Ala. 1; W. U. Tel. Co. v. State Bd. Assmt., 80 Ala. 273; State Bank v. Bd. Rev., 91 Ala. 217. Should the legislature leave a species of property free from taxation by failure to provide machinery for assessment, the courts are powerless.—Pollard v. Zuber, 65 Ala. 628; Auditor v. Jackson Co., 65 Ala. 142; State v. Bd. Rev., 73 Ala. 65; Maguire v. Board of Revenue, 71 Ala. 401. Tax- payer may be authorized to deduct his indebtedness from his solvent credits.—Moog v. Randolph, 77 Ala. 597; State Bank v. Bd. Rev., 91 Ala. 217. Law requiring auditor to assess and collect taxes on the road-bed and rolling-stock of railroad and relieving these items from county taxation, was valid.—M. & G. R. Co. v. Peebles, 47 Ala. 317. A specific commutation granted a corporation in lieu of an ad valorem tax is void.—Mayor v. Stonewall Ins. Co., 53 Ala. 570; Sumter Co. v. Nat. Bank, 62 Ala. 464. The word "person" in the income tax of 1867 was construed to embrace corporations.—Bd. Rev. v. Montgomery Gas L. Co., 64 Ala. 269; State v. Rev. Bd., 73 Ala. 65.

§7. No city, town or other municipal corporation other than provided for in this article, shall levy or collect a larger rate of taxation, in any one year, on the property thereof, than one-half of one per centum of the value of such property, as assessed for State taxation during the preceding year; Provided, that for the payment of debts existing at the time of the ratification of this Constitution and the interest thereon, an additional rate of one per centum may be collected, to be applied exclusively to such indebtedness; And provided, this section shall not apply to the city of Mobile, which city may, until the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, levy a tax not to exceed the rate of one per centum, and from and after that time a tax not to exceed the rate of three-fourths of one per centum, to pay expenses of the city government, and may also, until the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, levy a tax not to exceed the rate of one per centum, and from and after that time, a tax not to exceed the rate of three-fourths of one per centum, to pay existing indebtedness of said city, and the interest thereon.

Intended to define the extent of direct municipal tax on property; has no reference to specific tax on privileges.—Ex parte City Council, 64 Ala. 463. Nor on local assessments for purposes of local street improvements.—Mayor v. Klein, 89 Ala. 461. Limits rate of taxation and makes the State assessment for the preceding year the only basis of value, regardless of any increase.—Mayor v. Klein, 89 Ala. 461; Elyton Land Co. v. Mayor, 89 Ala. 477. Legislature has the right to levy and collect a tax on property in Mobile for the purpose of paying its debts, up to the limit here fixed.—Hare v. Kennerly, 83 Ala. 608.

§8. At the first session of the general assembly after the ratification of this Constitution, the salaries of the following officers shall be reduced at least twenty-five per centum, viz.: Governor, secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer, attorney-general, superintendent of education, judges of the supreme and circuit courts, and chancellors; and after said reduction, the general assembly shall not have the power to increase the same, except by a vote of a majority of all the members elected to each house, taken by yeas and nays, and entered on the journals; Provided, this section shall not apply to any of said officers now in office.

§9. The general assembly shall not have the power to require the counties or other municipal corporations to pay any charges which are now payable out of the State treasury.

ARTICLE XII.

MILITIA.

§1. All able-bodied male inhabitants of this State, between the ages of eighteen years and forty-five years, who are citizens of the United States, or have declared their intention to become such citizens, shall be liable to military duty in the militia of the State.

§2. The general assembly, in providing for the organization, equipment, and discipline of the militia, shall conform as nearly as practicable to the regulations for the government of the armies of the United States.

§3. Each company and regiment shall elect its own company and regimental officers; but if any company or regiment shall neglect to elect such officers within the time prescribed by law, they may be appointed by the governor.

§4. Volunteer organizations of infantry, cavalry, and artillery may be formed in such manner, and under such restrictions, and with such privileges, as may be provided by law.

§5. The militia and volunteer forces shall, in all cases, except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at musters, parades, and elections, and in going to and returning from the same.

§6. The governor shall, except as otherwise provided herein, be commander-in-chief of the militia and volunteer forces of the State, except when in the service of the United States, and shall, with the advice and consent of the senate, appoint all general officers, whose terms of office shall be for four years. The governor, the generals, and regimental and battalion commanders shall appoint their own staffs, as may be provided by law.

§7. The general assembly shall provide for the safe-keeping of the arms, ammunition, and accoutrements, military records, banners, and relics of the State.

§8. The officers and men of the militia and volunteer forces shall not be entitled to, or receive any pay, rations, or emoluments, when not in active service.

ARTICLE XIII.

EDUCATION.

§1. The general assembly shall establish, organize, and maintain a system of public schools throughout the State, for the equal benefit of the children thereof between the ages of seven and twenty-one years; but separate schools shall be provided for the children of citizens of African descent.

Mandatory.—Elsberry v. Seay, 83 Ala. 614. System must extend throughout the State, operating upon and in favor of all alike, without special local rights, privileges or burdens.—Schultes v. Eberly, 82 Ala. 242; Elsberry v. Seay, 83 Ala. 614. Separate school districts may be established, but no implied privileges arise in their favor. Schultes v. Eberly, 82 Ala. 242. Institutions of learning, distinct from the public schools, may be established, but the public school fund may not be reduced below the minimum for their maintenance.—Elsberry v. Seay, 83 Ala. 614.

§2. The principal of all funds arising from the sale or other disposition of lands or other property, which has been or may hereafter be granted or intrusted to this State, or given by the United States, for educational purposes, shall be preserved inviolate and undiminished; and the income arising therefrom shall be faithfully applied to the specific objects of the original grants or appropriations.

§3. All lands or other property given by individuals, or appropriated by the State for educational purposes, and all estates of deceased persons who die without leaving a will or heir, shall be faithfully applied to the maintenance of the public schools.

§4. The general assembly shall also provide for the levying and collection of an annual poll-tax, not to exceed one dollar and fifty cents on each poll, which shall be applied to the support of the public schools in the counties in which it is levied and collected.

Poll-tax must bear the expense of its own assessment and collection.—Shaver v. Robinson, 59 Ala. 195.

§5. The income arising from the sixteenth section trust fund, the surplus revenue fund, until it is called for by the United States government, and the funds enumerated in sections three and four of this article, with such other moneys, to be not less than one hundred thousand dollars per annum, as the general assembly shall provide by taxation or otherwise, shall be applied to the support and maintenance of the public schools; and it shall be the duty of the general assembly to increase, from time to time, the public school fund, as the condition of the treasury and the resources of the State will admit.

Other than the poll-tax no provision is made for special taxation for educational purposes.—Schultes v. Eberly, 82 Ala. 242. Law "setting apart and appropriating from the school fund for the colored people" a fund for the maintenance of an University for colored people is an unauthorized perversion.—Elsberry v. Seay, 83 Ala. 614.

§6. Not more than four per cent. of all moneys raised, or which may hereafter be appropriated for the support of public schools, shall be used or expended otherwise than for the payment of teachers employed in such schools; Provided, that the general assembly may, by a vote of two-thirds of each house, suspend the operation of this section.

§7. The supervision of the public schools shall be vested in a superintendent of education, whose powers, duties, term of office, and compensation shall be fixed by law. The superintendent of education shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State in such manner, and at such time, as shall be provided by law.

An "University for Colored People," not under the control of the superintendent of education, is not a public school.—Elsberry v. Seay, 83 Ala. 614.

§8. No money raised for the support of the public schools of the State shall be appropriated to, or used for, the support of any sectarian or denominational school.

§9. The State University and the Agricultural and Mechanical College shall each be under the management and control of a board of trustees. The board for the university shall consist of two members from the congressional district in which the university is located, and one from each of the other congressional districts in the State. The board for the Agricultural and Mechanical College shall consist of two members from the congressional district in which the college is located, and one from each of the other congressional districts in the State. Said trustees shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, and shall hold office for a term of six years, and until their successors shall be appointed and qualified. After the first appointment each board shall be divided into three classes, as nearly equal as may be. The seats of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of two years, and those of the second class in four years, and those of the third class at the end of six years, from the date of appointment, so that one-third may be chosen biennially. No trustee shall receive any pay or emolument, other than his actual expenses incurred in the discharge of his duties as such. The governor shall be ex officio president, and the superintendent of education ex officio a member of each of said boards of trustees.

§10. The general assembly shall have no power to change the location of the State University, or the Agricultural and Mechanical College, as now established by law, except upon a vote of two-thirds of the members of the general assembly, taken by yeas and nays, and entered upon the journals.

§11. The provisions of this article, and of any act of the general assembly, passed in pursuance thereof, to establish, organize, and maintain a system of public schools throughout the State, shall apply to Mobile county only so far as to authorize and require the authorities designated by law to draw the portion of the funds to which said county will be entitled for school purposes, and to make reports to the superintendent of education, as may be prescribed by law. And all special incomes and powers of taxation, as now authorized by law for the benefit of public schools in said county, shall remain undisturbed until otherwise provided by the general assembly: Provided, that separate schools for each race shall always be maintained by said school authorities.

ARTICLE XIV.

CORPORATIONS.—PRIVATE CORPORATIONS.

§1. Corporations may be formed under general laws, but shall not be created by special act, except for municipal, manufacturing, mining, immigration, industrial, and educational purposes, or for constructing canals, or improving navigable rivers and harbors of this State, and in cases where, in the judgment of the general assembly, the objects of the corporation cannot be attained under general laws. All general laws and special acts passed pursuant to this section may be altered, amended, or repealed.

To prevent irrepealable exemptions and discriminations.—Mayor v. Stonewall Ins. Co., 53 Ala. 570. The formation of corporations under the general law, rather than by special act, is a favored public policy.—Cahall v. Cit. Mut. Bldng. Assn., 61 Ala. 232. The test of the power to confer franchises is whether the privilege conduces to the public good.—Horst v. Moses, 48 Ala. 129. Defects in the organization of a corporation organized under the general law may be cured by special statute.—Central A. & M. Assn. v. Ala. Gold Life Ins. Co., 70 Ala. 120; State v. Webb, 110 Ala. 214.

§2. All existing charters or grants of special or exclusive privileges, under which a bona fide organization shall not have taken place and business been commenced in good faith, at the time of the ratification of this Constitution, shall thereafter have no validity.

§3. The general assembly shall not remit the forfeiture of the charter of any corporation now existing, or alter or amend the same, or pass any general or special law for the benefit of such corporation, other than in execution of a trust created by law or by contract, except upon the condition that such corporation shall thereafter hold its charter subject to the provisions of this Constitution.

Acceptance of amendment by acquiescence is sufficient to show consent to hold charter subject to conditions imposed by the Constitution.—State v. Montgomery Light Co., 102 Ala. 594.

§4. No foreign corporation shall do any business in this State without having at least one known place of business and an authorized agent or agents therein; and such corporation may be sued in any county where it does business by service of process upon an agent anywhere in this State.

Self-executing, needing no statute to give it operation.—A. U. Tel. Co. v. W. U. Tel. Co., 67 Ala. 26; Beard v. U. & A. Pub. Co., 71 Ala. 60; Sherwood v. Alvis, 83

Ala. 115; Dudley v. Collier, 87 Ala. 431; Farrior v. N. E. Mort. Sec. Co., 88 Ala. 275; Mullens v. Am. F. L. M. Co., 88 Ala. 280; Craddock v. Am. F. L. M. Co., 88 Ala. 281; Christian v. Am. F. L. M. Ingram, 91 Ala. 337; Nelms v. E. A. L. M. Co., 92 Ala. 157; Sullivan v. Sullivan T. Co., 103 Ala. 371. A legitimate exercise of police power and not in conflict with the Federal Constitution or any act of Congress.—Am. U. Tel. Co. v. W. U. Tel. Co., 67 Ala. 26; Dudley v. Collier, 87 Ala. 431. Not intended to interfere with interstate commerce, and not applicable to corporations engaged therein as to such business.—Ware v. Hamilton-B. Shoe Co., 92 Ala. 145. Foreign corporations are not citizens within meaning of Federal Constitution, and are wholly dependent on state laws for privilege; yet their contracts with citizens are subject to interstate commerce regulations and state cannot interfere with them.—Ware v. Mitchell, 100 Ala. 519. A contract to purchase shoes made between a citizen and a Missouri corporation, whether made here or there, is interstate commerce.—Ware v. H-B. Rome Brick Co., 98 Ala. 409. And so the sale here of books in another state to be delivered here.—Culberson v. Am. T. & B. Co., 107 Ala. 457. Loaning money is not interstate commerce; a single act constitutes "doing business" within the meaning of this section.—Nelms v. E. A. L. M. Co., 92 Ala. 157; Farrior v. N. E. Mtg. Sec. Co., 88 Ala. 275; Mullens v. Mtge. Co., 88 Ala. 280; Dundee Mtge. Co., v. Nixon, 95 Ala. 318; Guin v. N. E. Mtg. Sec. Co., 92 Ala. 135; State v. Bristol Bank, 108 Ala. 3. Soliciting and receiving subscriptions for a newspaper published in another state is not "doing business" within meaning.—Beard v. U. & A. Pub. Co., 71 Ala. 60. Nor the institution and prosecution of suits.—Christian v. Mtge. Co., 89 Ala. 198; Cook v. Rome Brick Co., 98 Ala. 409. Before the statute imposing a penalty for non-compliance, an executed contract made by a corporation not complying was not void; and the other party could not question the contracting capacity of the corporation.—Sherwood v. Alvis, 83 Ala. 115; Craddock v. Am. F. L. M. Co., 88 Ala. 281. Since the statute the contract is void and, if executory, will not be enforced.—Dudley v. Collier, 87 Ala. 431; Farrior v. N. E. Co., 100 Ala. 496. Foreign corporation may be sued in any county where it is doing business; if not doing any business, in the county designated in its certificate.—Sullivan v. Sullivan T. Co., 103 Ala. 371.

§5. No corporation shall engage in any business other than that expressly authorized in its charter.

Cannot engage in any business not expressly or impliedly authorized by original or amended charter.—State v. Montgomery Light Co., 102 Ala. 594. Contract made by or with a corporation in excess of its corporate authority confers no rights, and party promising may invoke ultra vires.—Smith v. Ala. §6. No corporation shall issue stock or bonds except for money, labor done, or money or property actually received; and all fictitious increase of stock or indebtedness shall be void. The stock and bonded indebtedness of corporations shall not be increased, except in pursuance of general laws, nor without the consent of the persons holding the larger amount in value of stock, first obtained at a meeting to be held after thirty days notice given in pursuance of law.

Does not prohibit a corporation from pledging its bonds for loan of less than their face value.—Nelson v. Hubbard, 96 Ala. 238. Requirements before increasing stock or bonded debt are for the benefit of stockholders, and may be waived.—Nelson v. Hubbard, 96 Ala. 238. And cannot be invoked by creditors.—Barrett v. Pollak, 108 Ala. 390; Ala. I. & S. Co. v. §7. Municipal and other corporations and individuals invested with the privilege of taking private property for public use, shall make just compensation for the property taken, injured, or destroyed by the construction or enlargement of its works, highways, or improvements, which compensation shall be paid before such taking, injury, or destruction. The general assembly is hereby prohibited from depriving any person of an appeal from any preliminary assessment of damages against any such corporations or individuals made by viewers, or otherwise; and the amount of such damages in all cases of appeal shall, on the demand of either party, be determined by a jury according to law.

Liberally construed in favor of the citizen.—City Council v. Townsend, 80 Ala. 489; City Council v. Maddox, 89 Ala. 181. Has no application, where a municipal corporation tears down obstructions or fills up excavations in sidewalks.—Winter v. City Council, 83 Ala. 589. Prepayment of just compensation before the taking is complete, is guaranteed, without regard to the agency employed, in the taking, unless it be the State.—Montgomery S. Ry. Co. v. Sayre, 72 Ala. 443; Smith v. Inge, 80 Ala. 283; City Council v. Townsend, 80 Ala. 489; s. c., 84 Ala. 478; Woodward I. Co. v. Cabaniss, 87 Ala. 328; Postal T. C. Co. v. A. G. S. R. Co., 92 Ala. 331; A. M. Ry. Co. v. Newton, 94 Ala. 443; M. & C. R. Co. v. B. S. & T. R. Co., 96 Ala. 571; Highland Ave. & B. R. Co. v. Matthews, 99 Ala. 24. Extent to which the municipal corporation is liable for consequential damages if injury or destruction is produced by the construction or enlargement of some work, highway or improvement, as by changing the grade of a street.—C. & W. Ry. Co. v. Witherow, 82 Ala. 190; City Council v. Maddox, 89 Ala. 181; Evans v. S. & W. Ry. Co., 90 Ala. 54; Town of Avondale v. McFarland, 101 Ala. 381 (overruling City Council v. Townsend, 80 Ala. 489; s. c., 84 Ala. 478). The crossing of one railroad by another is a taking of private property.— M. & G. R. Co. v. A. M. Ry. Co., 87 Ala. 501; M. & C. R. Co. v. B. S. & T. R. Co., 96 Ala. 571. Does not authorize a law giving a municipal corporation the right to open streets at the cost of adjacent property in proportion to benefit received.—Miller v. Mobile, 47 Ala. 163. "Determined by a jury according to law" means a jury of twelve men, according to the course of common law; right of appeal to a jury is preserved.—Woodward I. Co. v. Cabaniss, 87 Ala. 328; Postal T. C. Co. v. A. G. S. R. Co., 92 Ala. 331; A. M. Ry. Co. v. Newton, 94 Ala. 443; M. & C. R. Co. v. Hopkins, 108 Ala. 159; M. & C. R. Co. v. B. S. & T. R. Co., 96 Ala. 571.

§8. Dues from private corporations shall be secured by such means as may be prescribed by law; but in no case shall any stockholder be individually liable otherwise than for the unpaid stock owned by him or her.

If property is taken in payment of subscription for stock at grossly excessive valuation, creditors may proceed against such subscribers as for a partially paid subscription.—Parsons v. Joseph, 92 Ala. 403; Elyton Land Co. v. Birmingham W. & E. Co., 92 Ala. 407. See citations to art. I., sec. 24.

§9. No corporation shall issue preferred stock without the consent of the owners of two-thirds of the stock of said corporation.

§10. The general assembly shall have the power to alter, revoke, or amend any charter of incorporation now existing, and revocable at the ratification of this Constitution, or any that may hereafter be created, whenever, in their opinion, it may be injurious to the citizens of the State; in such manner, however, that no injustice shall be done to the corporators. No law hereafter enacted shall create, renew, or extend the charter of more than one corporation.

Power of repeal.—Bibb v. Hall, 101 Ala. 79.

§11. Any association or corporation organized for the purpose, or any individual, shall have the right to construct and maintain lines of telegraph within this State, and connect the same with other lines; and the general assembly shall, by general law of uniform operation, provide reasonable regulations to give full effect to this section. No telegraph company shall consolidate with, or hold a controlling interest in the stock or bonds of any other telegraph company owning a competing line, or acquire, by purchase or otherwise, any other competing line of telegraph.

§12. All corporations shall have the right to sue, and shall be subject to be sued in all courts, in like cases as natural persons.

No burden can be imposed on one class of persons, natural or artificial, which is not, under like conditions, imposed on all other classes.—Mayor v. Stonewall Ins. Co., 53 Ala. 570; S. & N. A. R. Co. v. Morris, 65 Ala. 193; Green v. State, 73 Ala. 26; Home Protection v. Richards, 74 Ala. 466; Smith v. L. & N. R. Co., 75 Ala. 449; Carter v. Coleman, 84 Ala. 256; Youngblood v. Birmingham T. & S. Co., 95 Ala. 521.

§13. The term "corporation," as used in this article, shall be construed to include all joint-stock companies, or any associations having any of the powers or privileges of corporations, not possessed by individuals or partnerships.

BANKS AND BANKING.

§14. The general assembly shall not have the power to establish or incorporate any bank or banking company, or moneyed institution, for the purpose of issuing bills of credit, or bills payable to order or bearer, except under the conditions prescribed in this Constitution.

§15. No banks shall be established otherwise than under a general banking law, nor otherwise than upon a specie basis.

§16. All bills or notes issued as money shall be at all times redeemable in gold or silver, and no law shall be passed sanctioning, directly or indirectly, the suspension by any bank or banking company of specie payment.

§17. Holders of bank-notes, and depositors who have not stipulated for interest, shall, for such notes and deposits, be entitled, in case of insolvency, to the preference of payment over all other creditors.

§18. Every bank or banking company shall be required to cease all banking operations within twenty years from the time of its organization (unless the general assembly shall extend the time), and promptly thereafter close its business; but shall have corporate capacity to sue and shall be liable to suit, until its affairs and liabilities are fully closed.

§19. No bank shall receive, directly or indirectly, a greater rate of interest than shall be allowed by law to individuals for lending money.

§20. The State shall not be a stockholder in any bank, nor shall the credit of the State ever be given or loaned to any banking company, association, or corporation.

RAILROADS AND CANALS.

§21. All railroads and canals shall be public highways, and all railroad and canal companies shall be common carriers. Any association or corporation organized for the purpose shall have the right to construct and operate a railroad between any points in this State, and to connect, at the State line, with railroads of other States. Every railroad company shall have the right with its road to intersect, connect with, or cross any other railroad, and shall receive and transport, each, the other's freight, passengers, and cars, loaded or empty, without delay or discrimination.

Railroad crossing another.—M. & C. R. Co. v. B. S. & T. R. Co., 96 Ala. 571; M. & C. R. Co. v. Hopkins, 108 Ala. 159.

§22. The general assembly shall pass laws to correct abuses and prevent unjust discrimination and extortion in the rates of freights and passenger tariffs on railroads, canals, and rivers in this State.

§23. No railroad or other transportation company shall grant free passes, or sell tickets or passes at a discount other than as sold to the public generally, to any member of the general assembly, or to any person holding office under this State or the United States.

§24. No street passenger railway shall be constructed within the limits of any city or town, without the consent of its local authorities.

§25. No railroad, canal, or other transportation company, in existence at the time of the ratification of this Constitution, shall have the benefit of any future legislation by general or special laws, other than in execution of a trust created by law, or by contract, except on the condition of complete acceptance of all the provisions of this article.

ARTICLE XV.

OATH OF OFFICE.

§1. All members of the general assembly, and all officers, executive and judicial, before they enter upon the execution of the duties of their respective offices, shall take the following oath or affirmation, to wit:

"I,———, solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be) that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of Alabama, so long as I continue a citizen thereof; and that I will faithfully and honestly discharge the duties of the office upon which I am about to enter, to the best of my ability. So help me God."

Which oath may be administered by the presiding officer of either house of the general assembly, or by any officer authorized by law to administer an oath.

ARTICLE XVI.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

§1. No person holding an office of profit under the United States, except postmasters whose annual salary does not exceed two hundred dollars, shall, during his continuance in such office, hold any office of profit under this State; nor shall any person hold two offices of profit at one and the same time under this State, except justices of the peace, constables, notaries public, and commissioners of deeds.

§2. It is made the duty of the general assembly to enact all laws necessary to give effect to the provisions of this Constitution.

ARTICLE XVII.

MODE OF AMENDING THE CONSTITUTION.

§1. The general assembly may, whenever two-thirds of each house shall deem it necessary, propose amendments to this Constitution, which, having been read on three several days in each house, shall be duly published in such manner as the general assembly may direct, at least three months before the next general election for representatives, for the consideration of the people; and it shall be the duty of the several returning officers, at the next general election which shall be held for representatives, to open a poll for the vote of the qualified electors on the proposed amendments, and to make a return of said vote to the secretary of state; and, if it shall thereupon appear that a majority of all the qualified electors of the State, who voted at said election, voted in favor of the proposed amendments, said amendments shall be valid, to all intents and purposes, as parts of this Constitution; and the result of such election shall be made known by proclamation of the governor.

§2. No convention shall hereafter be held for the purpose of altering or amending the Constitution of this State, unless the question of convention or no convention shall be first submitted to a vote of all the electors of the State, and approved by a majority of those voting at said election.

SCHEDULE.

In order that no injury or inconvenience may arise from the alterations and amendments made by this Constitution to the existing Constitution of this State, and to carry this Constitution into effect, it is hereby ordained and declared—

1. That all laws in force at the ratification of this Constitution, and not inconsistent therewith, shall remain in full force, until altered or repealed by the general assembly; and all rights, actions, prosecutions, claims, and contracts of this State, counties, individuals, or bodies corporate, not inconsistent with this Constitution, shall continue to be as valid as if this Constitution had not been ratified.

2. That all bonds executed by or to any officer of this State, all recognizances, obligations, and all other instruments executed to this State, or any subdivision or municipality thereof, before the ratification of this Constitution, and all fines, taxes, penalties, and forfeitures due and owing to this State, or any subdivision; or to any municipality thereof; and all writs, suits, prosecutions, claims, and causes of action, except as herein otherwise provided, shall continue and remain unaffected by the ratification of this Constitution. All indictments which may have been found, or which may hereafter be found, for any crime or offense committed before the ratification of this Constitution, shall be proceeded upon in the same manner as if this Constitution had not been ratified.

3. That all the executive and judicial officers, and all other officers in this State, who shall have been elected at the election held in this State, on third day of November, eighteen hundred and seventy-four, or who may have been appointed since that time, and all members of the present general assembly, and all that may hereafter be elected members of the present general assembly, and all other officers holding office at the time of the ratification of this Constitution, except such as hold office under any act of the general assembly, shall continue in office, and exercise the duties thereof until their respective terms shall expire, as provided by the present Constitution and laws of this State.

4. This Constitution shall be submitted to the qualified electors of this State for ratification or rejection, as authorized and required by an act of the general assembly of this State, entitled "An act to provide for the calling of a convention to revise and amend the Constitution of this State," approved nineteenth day of March, Anno Domini, eighteen hundred and seventy-five.

5. If at said election the said Constitution shall be found to have been ratified by a majority of all of the qualified electors voting at said election, the said new Constitution, so ratified, shall go into effect as the new Constitution of the State of Alabama within the time stated in the proclamation of the governor, and shall thereafter be binding and obligatory as such upon all the people of this State, according to the provisions of said act, approved nineteenth day of March, Anno Domini, eighteen hundred and seventy-five.

6. That instead of the publication as required by section twelve of said act, the governor of the State is hereby authorized to take such steps as will give general publicity and circulation to this Constitution in as economical manner as practicable.

7. That all laws requiring an enumeration of the inhabitants of this State during the year eighteen hundred and seventy-five are hereby avoided.

8. That the board of education of this State is hereby abolished.

9. The salaries of the executive and judicial, and all other officers of this State who may be holding office at the time of the ratification of this Constitution, and the pay of the present members of the general assembly, shall not be affected by the provisions of this Constitution.

SECTIONS 905 AND 906 OF THE REVISED STATUTES OF THE UNITED STATES.

RELATING TO THE AUTHENTICATION OF PUBLIC ACTS, JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS, AND OFFICE RECORDS.

SEC. 905. Authentication of legislative acts and proof of judicial proceedings of states, etc. The acts of the legislature of any State or Territory, or of any country subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, shall be authenticated by having the seals of such State, Territory, or country affixed thereto. The records and judicial proceedings of the courts of any State or Territory, or of any such country, shall be proved or admitted in any other court within the United States, by the attestation of the clerk, and the seal of the court annexed, if there be a seal, together with a certificate of the judge, chief justice, or presiding magistrate, that the said attestation is in due form. And the said records and judicial proceedings, so authenticated, shall have such faith and credit given to them in every court within the United States as they have by law or usage in the courts of the State from which they are taken.

An exemplification of a statute under the great seal of state may be given in evidence without further proof.—United States v. Amedy, 11 Wh. 392; Pacific Guano Co. v. Mullen, 66 Ala. 582; McClerkin v. State, 105 Ala. 107. Records and judical proceedings must be authenticated according to the laws of the state wherein they exist. Crawford v. Simonton, 7 Port. 110; McRae v. Stokes, 3 Ala. 401; White v. Strother, 11 Ala. 720; Andrews v. Flack, 88 Ala. 294. Not admissible when certificate of judge fails to state that the clerk's attestation is in due form.—Trigg v. Conway, Hempst. 538, 24 Fed. Cas. 194; Holly v. Flournoy, 54 Ala. 99. The seal should be annexed to the record, not to the judge's certificate.—Turner v. Waddington, 3 Wash. C. C., 126, 24 Fed. Cas. 377. The record of a court which has no seal may be admitted on such fact being stated in the judge's certificate.—Morgan v. Cortenius, 4 McLean, 366, 17 Fed. Cas. 747. Judge's certificate that the attestation is in due form cannot be contradicted.—Ferguson v. Harwood, 7 Cr. 408. When by the organization of the court there is no chief justice, one of the justices has authority to make the requisite certificate.—Woodley v. Findlay, 9 Ala. 716; Andrews v. Flack, 88 Ala. 294. When properly authenticated, the same faith and credit must be given as in the state where rendered; but no greater.—Mills v. Duryee, 7 Cr. 481; Hampton v. McConnell, 3 Wh. 324; McElmoyle v. Cohen, 13 Pet. 312; Board of Public Wks. v. Columbia College, 17 Wall. 521; Pennoyer v. Neff, 95 U. S. 714; Peete v. Hatcher, Ala. (21 So. 711). Precludes all inquiry into the merits of the subject-matter of the judgment.—Mills v. Duryee, 7. Cr. 481; McElmoyle v. Cohen, 13 Pet. 312.—The statute of limitations of the new forum may be pleaded against the the judgment sued on.—McElmoyle v. Cohen, 13 Pet. 312; Bank of Ala. v. Dalton, 9 How. 522. Does not prevent inquiry into the jurisdiction of the court which pronounced the judgment, either as to parties or subject-matter.—Christmas v. Russell, 5 Wall. 290; Board of Public Works v. Columbia College, 17 Wall. 521; Thompson v. Whitman, 18 Wall. 457; Cole v. Cunningham, 133 U. S. 107; Kingsbury v. Yniestra, 59 Ala. 320; Kohn v. Haas, 95 Ala. 478. Nor whether the judgment is founded in, or impeachable for, a manifest fraud. Cole v. Cunningham, supra. A judgment againt a non-resident, rendered without personal service within the state and without appearance, is not entitled to any faith or credit.—D'Arcy v. Ketchum, 11 How. 165; Cooper v. Reynolds, 10 Wall. 308; Pennoyer v. Neff, 95 U. S. 714; St. Clair v. Cox, 106 U. S. 350; Coleman v. Cunningham, 133 U. S. 107; Exchange Nat. Bank of Spokane v. Clement, 109 Ala. 270. When judgment void for want of jurisdiction, a special plea in bar going to matters anterior to its rendition, may be interposed.—Andrews v. Flack, 88 Ala. 294. Federal courts give same effect as state courts.—Insurance Co. v. Harris, 97 U. S. 331; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Wiggins Ferry Co. 108 U. S. 18; Chase v. Curtis, 113 U. S. 452. Record properly certified as required by act of congress is necessarily admissible; but may be admissible without such authentication if properly certified under laws of the state where offered.—Hawes v. State, 88 Ala. 37.

SEC. 906. Proof of records, etc., kept in offices not pertaining to courts. All records and exemplifications of books, which may be kept in any public office of any State or Territory, or of any country subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, not appertaining to a court, shall be proved or admitted in any court or office in any other State or Territory, or in any such country, by the attestation of the keeper of the said records or books, and the seal of his office annexed, if there be a seal, together with a certificate of the presiding justice of the court of the county, parish, or district in which such office may be kept, or of the governor, or secretary of state, the chancellor or keeper of the great seal of the State, or Territory, or country, that the said attestation is in due form, and by the proper officers. If the said certificate is given by the presiding justice of a court, it shall be further authenticated by the clerk or prothonotary of the said court, who shall certify, under his hand and the seal of his office, that the said presiding justice is duly commissioned and qualified; or, if given by such governor, secretary, chancellor, or keeper of the great seal, it shall be under the great seal of the State, Territory, or country aforesaid in which it is made. And the said records and exemplifications, so authenticated, shall have such faith and credit given to them in every court and office within the United States as they have by law or usage in the courts or offices of the State, Territory, or country, as aforesaid, from which they are taken.

CODE OF ALABAMA,

THE CIVIL CODE.

CHAPTER 1.

GENERAL PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO THE WHOLE CODE. 1-11.

1 (1) (1) (1) (1). Signification of words.—Words used in this Code, in the past or present tense, include the future, as well as the past and present. Words used in the masculine gender include the feminine and neuter; the singular includes the plural, and the plural the singular; the word "person" includes a corporation as well as a natural person; "writing" includes printing on paper; "oath" includes affirmation; "signature" or "subscription" includes mark when the person cannot write, his name being written near it, and witnessed by a person who writes his own name as a witness. The terms "lunatic," "insane," or "non compos mentis," include all persons of unsound mind.

These definitions apply only to words used in this Code, or in statutes construed as part of it; not to contracts or instruments governed by the common law.—Bickley v. Keenan, 60 Ala. 296; Ala. Warehouse Co. v. Lewis, 56 Ala. 514. "Singular includes the plural and the plural the singular."—Brunson v. Brooks, 68 Ala. 248; Thompson v. Boswell, 97 Ala. 570; Kent v. Mansel, 101 Ala. 334; Garner v. Toney, 107 Ala. 352. Person includes an artificial as well as a natural person, unless thereby a statute is rendered inharmonious. P. & M. Bank v. Andrews, 8 P. 404; Selma v. Mullen, 46 Ala. 411; Mayor v. Rowland, 26 Ala. 498. Writing includes printing, or part writing and part printing.—Johnson v. State, 69 Ala. 593. Signature includes mark: Execution of will by mark.—Bailey v. Bailey, 35 Ala. 687. Attestation of will by mark.—Garrett v. Heflin, 98 Ala. 615. Execution of note by mark.—Wimberely v. Dallas, 52 Ala. 196. Execution of mortgage of personalty by mark (before the statute requiring such mortgages to be in writing).—Breene v. McCrary, 52 Ala. 154; Ala. Warehouse Co. v. Lewis, 56 Ala. 514; Bickley v. Keenan, 60 Ala. 296. Since the statute—attestation by mark.—Houston v. State, MS. Execution, by mark, of replevy bond approved by sheriff.—Hester v. Ballard, 96 Ala. 410. Generally, words used in a statute are construed in their ordinary and familiar signification.—Mayor v. Winter, 29 Ala. 651; Lehman v. Robinson, 59 Ala. 219. Punctuation marks have no controlling influence in construing statutes.—Danzy v. State, 68 Ala. 296; Cook v. State, 110 Ala. 40.

2 (2) (2) (2) (2). Meaning of the terms "property," "circuit," "negro," etc.—The following words have in this Code the signification attached to them in this section, unless otherwise apparent from the context:

1. The word "property" includes property, real and personal.

2. The words "real property" are co-extensive with lands, tenements and hereditaments.

3. The words "personal property" include money, goods, chattels, things in action and evidences of debt, deeds and conveyances.

4. The word "circuit" means judicial circuit.

5. The term "negro," within the meaning of this Code, includes mulatto. The term "mulatto," or "person of color," within the meaning of this Code, is a person of mixed blood, descended on the part of the father or mother, from negro ancestors, to the third generation inclusive, though one ancestor of each generation may have been a white person.

Personal property as used in the exemption statutes includes everything subject to ownership, except realty.—Enzor v. Hurt, 76 Ala. 595; Kennedy v. Smith, 99 Ala. 83. Negro includes mulatto.—Linton v. State, 88 Ala. 216.

3 (3) (3) (3) (3). Joint authority exercised by a majority.—All words giving a joint authority to three or more persons or officers, give such authority to a majority of such persons or officers, unless it is otherwise declared.

Jennings v. Jenkings, 9 Ala. 285.

4 (4) (4) (4) (4). Meaning of the word "justice."—The word "justice," when applied to a magistrate, means "justice of the peace." "Justice of the peace," if not otherwise expressed, includes a notary public having and exercising the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace, within the precinct or ward for which he is appointed.

5 (5) (5) (5) (5). Meaning of "preceding" and "following." "Preceding" and "following" mean next before and next after.

6 (6) (6) (6) (6). Meaning of "state."—The word "state," when applied to the different parts of the United States, includes the District of Columbia, and the several territories of the United States.

7 (7) (7) (7) (7). Meaning of "United States."—The words "United States" include the territories thereof, and the District of Columbia.

8 (8) (8) (8) (8). Meaning of the words "month" and "year." The word "month" means a calendar month, and "year" a calendar year, unless otherwise expressed.

9 (9) (9) (9) (9). When undertaking without seal sufficient. When by law a bond is required, an undertaking without seal is sufficient, and must be taken in all respects as if the same was a sealed instrument.

Feb. 28, 1889, p. 104.

10 (10) (10) (10) (10). Laws continued in force and laws repealed.—This Code shall not affect any existing right, remedy, or defense, nor shall it affect any prosecution now commenced, or which shall be hereafter commenced, for any offense already committed. As to all such cases the laws in force at the adoption of this Code shall continue in force. But this section does not apply to changes in forms of remedy or defense, to rules of evidence, nor to provisions authorizing amendments of process, proceedings or pleadings in civil causes. Local, private, or special statutes, and those public laws not of a general and permanent nature, and those relating to the swamp and overflowed lands, and those relating to the public debt, and those relating to institutions of learning, and those relating to the jurisdiction and practice of courts in any division, circuit, county, or other territory less than the entire state, are not repealed by this Code. But subject to the foregoing provisions, all statutes of a public, general, and permanent nature, not included in this Code, are repealed.

General and public statutes omitted from the Code are repealed.—Ulmer v. State, 61 Ala. 208; Hatchett v. Billingslea, 65 Ala. 16; Carmichael v. Hays, 66 Ala. 543; Sawyers v. Baker, 72 Ala. 49; Werborn v. Austin, 77 Ala. 381. But such omission does not affect any existing right, remedy or defense, etc. Hart v. Ross, 64 Ala. 96; State v. McBride, 76 Ala. 51; Ernst v. Hollis, 89 Ala. 638; Barker v. Anniston, etc., Co., 92 Ala. 314; Jordan v. Smith, 83 Ala. 299; Robinson v. Holt, 85 Ala. 596; Ex parte Oehmig & Weihl, 91 Ala. 558. Code provisions which are inconsistent with statutes passed at session at which the Code was adopted are superseded.—Breden v. State, 88 Ala. 22; South v. State, 86 Ala. 617; Harrison v. Jones, 80 Ala. 412. Instruction to commissioner to incorporate acts passed at the session at which the Code was adopted is directory merely.—South v. State, 86 Ala. 617.

11 (11) (11) (14) (13). Time, how computed.—The time within which any act is provided by law to be done must be computed by excluding the first day and including the last; if the last day is Sunday, it must also be excluded.

Excluding first and including last day.—Garner v. Johnson, 22 Ala. 494; Owen v. Slatter, 26 Ala. 547; Lang v. Phillips, 27 Ala. 311; Field v. Gamble, 47 Ala. 443; City Council v. Adams, 51 Ala. 449; Dickson v. Frisbee, 52 Ala. 165; Madden v. Floyd, 69 Ala. 221; Chapman v. Ewing, 78 Ala. 403; Loosse v. Bogel, 80 Ala. 308; Thrower v. Brandon, 89 Ala. 406; L. & N. R. Co. v. Watson, 90 Ala. 68. If last day of limitation is Sunday, action brought on following Monday barred.—Allen v. Elliot, 67 Ala. 433. When fractions of a day considered to determine priority of liens.—German Security Bank v. Campbell, 99 Ala. 249; Lang v. Phillips, 27 Ala. 311.

ACTIONS AND PARTIES. 12-44.

12 (2573) (2902) (2533) (2137). Suit by state.—The state may sue in its own name, and is entitled to all remedies provided for the enforcement of rights between individuals, without giving bond or security, or causing affidavit to be made, though the same may be required, if the action were between private citizens; the written direction of the governor of the state to the attorney of record is a sufficient authority for bringing the suit.

Not unconstitutional; state not required to make bond or affidavit; general words do not apply to state.—Ex parte Macdonald, 76 Ala. 603; Holmes v. State, 100 Ala. 291. Not necessary for attorney of record to exhibit written authority; how objection made.—Wolffe v. State, 79 Ala. 201. State may maintain ejectment.—Gaston v. State, 88 Ala. 459.

13 (2574) (2903) (2537) (2141). Suit against county.—Suit must not be brought against a county until the claim has been presented to the court of county commissioners, and disallowed or reduced by the court, and the reduction refused by the claimant.

Claim must be disallowed, or reduced and amount refused, to authorize suit; if allowed, remedy by mandamus.—Autauga Co. v. Davis, 32 Ala. 703; Marshall Co. v. Jackson Co., 36 Ala. 613; Barbour Co. v. Horn, 41 Ala. 114; Lowndes Co. v. Hunter, 49 Ala. 507; Covington Co. v. Dunklin, 52 Ala. 28; Elmore Co. v. Long, 52 Ala. 277; Commissioners v. Moore, 53 Ala. 25; Chambers Co. v. Lee Co., 55 Ala. 534; Shinbone v. Randolph Co., 56 Ala. 183; Speed v. Cocke, 57 Ala. 209; Caldwell v. Dunklin, 65 Ala. 461; Schroeder v. Colbert Co., 66 Ala. 137; Jack v. Moore, 66 Ala. 184; Marengo Co. v. Lyles, 101 Ala.

423; Looney v. Jackson Co., 105 Ala. 597; Jeffersonian Pub. Co. v. Hilliard, 105 Ala. 576. What sufficient presentation of claim.—Crenshaw Co. v. Fleming, 109 Ala. 554. Complaint must aver statutory requirements.—Shinbone v. Randolph Co., 56 Ala. 183; Schroeder v. Colbert Co., 66 Ala. 137. Suit conducted as between individuals.—Randolph Co. v. Hutchins, 46 Ala. 397. Allowance of claim bars further prosecution of suit.—Looney v. Jackson Co., 105 Ala. 597. All claims, where no particular mode of payment is prescribed, must be presented.—Dale Co. v. Gunter, 46 Ala. 118; Shinbone v. Randolph Co., 56 Ala. 183. Claim for damages must be presented.—Barbour Co. v. Horn, 41 Ala. 114. But when the law under which the claim arises, fixes its validity and amount, or specifies the particular method of enforcement, presentment is not necessary.—Dale Co. v. Gunter, 46 Ala. 118; Commissioners v. Rather, 48 Ala. 433; Shinbone v. Randolph Co., 56 Ala. 183; Caldwell v. Dunklin, 65 Ala. 461. Suit lies against county treasurer and sureties when he has proper funds and refuses to pay claim.—Arrington v. Van Houton, 44 Ala. 284; Randolph Co. v. Hutchins, 46 Ala. 397; Briggs v. Coleman, 51 Ala. 561; Caldwell v. Guinn, 54 Ala. 64; Speed v. Cocke, 57 Ala. 209; Caldwell v. Dunklin, 65 Ala. 461; Grayson v. Latham, 84 Ala. 546. Action defeated by showing invalidity of claim, notwithstanding allowance; burden on defendant.—Caldwell v. Guinn, 54 Ala. 64; Caldwell v. Dunklin, 65 Ala. 461; Grayson v. Latham, 84 Ala. 546. On judgment against county no execution or garnishment can issue.—Edmonson v. Dekalb Co., 51 Ala. 103. Limitation against allowed and registered claim is six years from the time it is reached in order of registration.—Grayson v. Latham, 84 Ala. 546. Presentment of claim cannot be proved by oral testimony.—Crenshaw Co. v. Sikes, Ala. (21 So. 135).

14 (2575) (2917) (2552) (2154). Suit on official bonds.—For any breach of an official bond or undertaking of any officer of this state, executor, administrator, or guardian, or of any bond or undertaking given in an official capacity to the state, or any officer thereof, the person aggrieved may sue in his own name, assigning the appropriate breach.

Statute remedial, and literally construed; bonds of county officers within. Morrow v. Wood, 56 Ala. 1. Bonds not strictly statutory, if acted under, within.—Sprowl v. Lawrence, 33 Ala. 674; Lewis v. Lee Co., 66 Ala. 480. Injunction bond not within.—Smith v. Mutual L. & T. Co., 102 Ala. 282. Nor attachment bond.—Masterson v. Phinizy, 56 Ala. 336. Nor bond for costs of election contest.—Hilliard v. Brown, 103 Ala. 318. The probate judge is not a "person aggrieved" by the breach of an administration bond.—Williams v. Stoutz, 92 Ala. 516. County superintendent is a "person aggrieved" by the failure of county treasurer to pay over school money.—Morrow v. Wood, 56 Ala. 1. Legatee or distributee, after final settlement, may sue administrator in his own name.—Amason v. Nash, 24 Ala. 279. County may sue on bonds of its officials, although the state is the obligee.—Dudley v. Chilton Co., 66 Ala. 593; Lewis v. Lee Co., 66 Ala. 480.

15 (2576) (2918) (2533) (2155). Suit for penalty imposed by law.—When a penalty is imposed by a statute which does not provide a mode for the recovery, any citizen may sue for the same on behalf of himself and the county in which the penalty is incurred.

16 (2578) (2901) (2532) (2136). When wife may sue or defend for husband.—When a husband or father has deserted his family, or is confined in an insane asylum, not having been declared of unsound mind, or when he is imprisoned for a term of two years or more under a conviction for crime, the wife or mother may prosecute and defend in his name any action which he might have prosecuted or defended, and has the same powers and rights in reference to such action which he might have had.

Ex parte Cole, 28 Ala. 50; Winslow v. State, 92 Ala. 78.

17 (2579) (2893) (2526) (2132). Suit by and against infants. Infants must sue by next friend, and must be defended by a guardian of the appointment of the court.

Infant may sue by next friend whether he has a guardian or not.—Hooks v. Smith, 18 Ala. 338. Purpose and necessity of next friend or guardian ad litem.—Thomason v. Gray, 84 Ala. 559; Hibber v. Sprowl, 71 Ala. 50; Griffith v. Ventress, 91 Ala. 366. Infancy of plaintiff suing without next friend; pleadable in abatement, not in bar.—Howland v. Wallace, 81 Ala. 238. Appeals by and against infants.—Cooper v. Maclin, 25 Ala. 298; Riddle v. Hanna, 25 Ala. 484; Cook v. Adams, 27 Ala. 294.

18 (2580) (2894) (2527). Suit by and against persons of unsound mind.—Persons of unsound mind suing for a personal injury, not having a guardian appointed in this state, may sue by next friend, and if sued, must be defended by a guardian of the appointment of the court.

Objection to interposition of next friend must be made before trial entered upon.—Worthington v. Mencer, 96 Ala. 310. Form of judgment; appeal. Walker v. Clay, 21 Ala. 797; Modawell v. Holmes, 40 Ala. 391.

19 (2581) (2895) (2528). Guardian appointed pending suit.—If the suit be not for a personal injury to the ward, whether the ward be a minor, or a person of unsound mind, on the appointment of a guardian pending suit, such guardian may, on application, be substituted for the next friend, and the suit must proceed in the name of the guardian for the use of the ward.

20 (2582) (2893) (2526) (2132). Guardian may sue for the use of the ward.—In all suits in which the ward has an interest, and the recovery enures to his or her benefit, a guardian may sue in his own name for the use of the ward; and if, pending such suit, the ward should arrive at full age, or, if a female, should marry, or, if a person of unsound mind, should be restored to sanity, the suit must proceed in his or her name; or, if the ward should die, his or her personal representative may be made the sole party plaintiff, or, if the nature of the case require it, his or her heirs may be made parties plaintiff.

Applies to suit against purchaser of ward's lands for damages for failing to comply with terms of sale.—Hutton v. Williams, 35 Ala. 503. And for damages for the conversion of the ward's property.—Longmire v. Pilkington, 37 Ala. 296. But not to suits in equity.—Blackman v. Davis, 42 Ala. 184; West v. West, 90 Ala. 458. Nor to application for removal of an administrator. Blackman v. Davis, supra.

21 (2583) (2795) (2432). Guardians of persons of unsound mind subject to suit.—The guardian of a person of unsound mind may be sued on any contract made by the ward, or for any tort committed by him while of sound mind, or for necessaries furnished him or his family before the appointment of a guardian.

22 (2584) (2900) (4423). Action for felonious injury.—For any injury, either to person or property, amounting to a felony, a civil action may be maintained by the party injured, without a prosecution of the offender.

23 (2585) (2896) (2529) (2133). Unmarried woman may sue for her seduction.—An unmarried female may prosecute as plaintiff an action for her own seduction, and may recover such damages as may be assessed in her favor.

24 (2586) (2897) (2530) (2134). Suit for seduction of daughter by father or mother.—The father, or in case of his death, or desertion of his family, or of his imprisonment for a term of two years or more, under a conviction for crime or of his confinement in an insane asylum, or of his having been declared of unsound mind, the mother may maintain an action for the seduction of a daughter, though she be not living with, or in the service of the plaintiff at the time of the seduction, or afterwards, and there be no loss of service; but a suit by the daughter is a bar to an action by the father or mother.

25 (2587) (2898) (2531) (2135). Father may sue for injury to minor child.—A father, or in case of his death or desertion of his family, or of his imprisonment for a term of two years or more under a conviction for crime, or of his confinement in an insane asylum, or if he has been declared of unsound mind, the mother may sue for an injury to a minor child, a member of the family.

Parent and child may maintain separate and concurrent actions for injury to child.—Pratt City Iron Co. v. Brawley, 83 Ala. 371; Ga. P. R. Co. v. Propst, 83 Ala. 518; S. & N. R. Co. v. Donovan, 84 Ala. 141; McNamara v. Logan, 100 Ala. 187.

26 (2588). Suits for injuries causing death of minor child. When the death of a minor child is caused by the wrongful act, or omission, or negligence of any person or persons, or corporation, his or their servants or agents, the father, or the mother, in the cases mentioned in the preceding section, or the personal representative of such minor, may sue and recover such damages as the jury may assess; but a suit by the father or mother, in such case, is a bar to a suit by the personal representative.

Policy of statute.—Williams v. S. & N. R. Co., 91 Ala. 635; Winslow v. State, 92 Ala. 78. Recovery solely for benefit of parents.—Tenn. C. I. & R. Co. v. Herndon, 100 Ala. 451. Parent can only recover where minor could have recovered at common law, had he survived.—Lovell v. DeBardelaben C. & I. Co., 90 Ala. 13; Williams v. S. & N. R. Co., 91 Ala. 635; Harris v. McNamara, 97 Ala. 181. Contributory negligence; effort to avoid injury; when questions for jury.—A. G. S. R. Co. v. Dobbs, 101 Ala. 219; Williams v. S. & N. R. Co., 91 Ala. 635. (See also citations to next section.) Damages under this section compensatory and not punitive.—Williams v. S. & N. R. Co., 91 Ala. 635.

27 (2589) (2641, 2642, 2643) (2299, 2300) (1940, 1941). Action for wrongful act, omission, or negligence causing death.—A personal representative may maintain an action, and recover such damages as the jury may assess, for the wrongful act, omission, or negligence of any person or persons, or corporation, his or their servants or agents, whereby the death of his testator or intestate was caused, if the testator or intestate could have maintained an action for such wrongful act, omission, or negligence, if it had not caused death; such action shall not abate by the death of the defendant, but may be revived against his personal representaive; and may be maintained, though there has not been prosecution, or conviction, or acquittal of the defendant for such wrongful act, or omission, or negligence; and the damages recovered are not subject to the payment of the debts or liabilities of the testator or intestate, but must be distributed according to the statute of distributions. Such action must be brought within two years from and after the death of the testator or intestate.

Statute is constitutional.—R. & D. R. Co. v. Freeman, 97 Ala. 289. Only applies when deceased could have maintained action had he survived; but the nature of the wrongful act or omission is the basis of the action.—S. & N. R. Co. v. Sullivan, 59 Ala. 272. Selling liquor to intemperate person, not within.—King v. Henkie, 80 Ala. 505. No one can sue but personal representative.—L. & N. R. Co. v. Sullivan, 59 Ala. 272; Lovell v. DeBardelaben C. & I. Co., 90 Ala. 13. Limitation two years.—Buckalew v. T. C. I. & R. Co., 112 Ala. 146.—Damages under this section are punitive "to prevent homicides"; the measure is such as the jury "deem just".—S. & M. R. Co. v. Shearer, 58 Ala. 672; S. & N. R. Co. v. Sullivan, 59 Ala. 272; E. T. V. & G. R. Co. v. King, 81 Ala. 177; R. & D. R. Co. v. Freeman, 97 Ala. 289; K. C. M. & B. R. Co. v. Phillips, 98 Ala. 159; K. C. M. & B. R. Co. v. Sanders, Ib. 293; Buckalew v. T. C. I. & R. Co., 112 Ala. 146. Damages distributed as personal property of deceased, had he died intestate.—S. & N. R. Co. v. Sullivan, 59 Ala. 272. And are not subject to the payment of debts.—Griswold v. Griswold, 111 Ala. 572. "Wrongful act, omission or negligence": Duty of railroad company towards persons on the track.—S. & M. R. Co. v. Shearer, 58 Ala. 672; S. & N. R. Co. v. Sullivan, 59 Ala. 272; M. & M. R. Co. v. Blakely, 59 Ala. 471; Tanner v. L. & N. R. Co., 60 Ala. 621; Gothard v. A. G. S. R. Co., 67 Ala. 114; Cook v. C. R. & B. Co., 67 Ala. 533; M. & C. R. Co. v. Womack, 84 Ala. 149; C. R. & B. v. Vaughn, 93 Ala. 209; Glass v. M. & C. R. Co., 94 Ala. 581; S. & W. R. Co. v. Meadors, 95 Ala. 137; A. G. S. R. Co. v. Anderson, 109 Ala. 299; L. & N. R. Co. v. Webb, 97 Ala. 308. Care and prudence required of railroad company in the selection of servants, machinery and appliances.—M. & M. R. Co. v. Blakely, 59 Ala. 471; Tanner v. L. & N. R. Co., 60 Ala. 621; Gothard v. A. G. S. R. Co., 67 Ala. 114; Cook v. C. R. & B. Co., 67 Ala. 533; A. G. S. R. Co. v. Jones, 71 Ala. 487 (distinguishing M. & C. R. Co. v. Lyon, 62 Ala. 71); Holland v. T. C. I. & R. Co., 91 Ala. 444. Skill and diligence exacted of persons in charge of railroad trains.—M. & M. R. Co. v. Blakely, 59 Ala. 471; S. & N. R. Co. v. Sullivan, 59 Ala. 272; Tanner v. L. & N. R. Co., 60 Ala. 621; Gothard v. A. G. S. R. Co., 67 Ala. 114; Cook v. C. R. & B. Co., 67 Ala. 533. Negligence in backing railroad train within corporate limits of town with insufficient lookout.—S. & M. R. Co. v. Shearer, 58 Ala. 672; S. & N. R. Co. v. Sullivan, 59 Ala. 272; E. T. V. & G. R. Co. v. King, 81 Ala. 177. And elsewhere to prevent collision.—K. C. M. & B. R. v. Lackey, (MS.) In running trains through town at a rate prohibited by municipal ordinance.—Gothard v. A. G. S. R. Co., 67 Ala. 114 (overruling N. & D. R. Co. v. Comans, 45 Ala. 437); S. & N. R. Co. v. Donovan, 84 Ala. 141; G. P. R. Co. v. Lee, 92 Ala. 262; Nave v. A. G. S. R. Co., 96 Ala. 264. Negligence of fellow-servant gives no right of action under this section.—Dantzler v. DeBardelaben C. & I. Co., 101 Ala. 309. Contributory negligence as a defense; burden of proof.—S. & M. R. Co. v. Shearer, 58 Ala. 672; S. & N. R. Co. v. Sullivan, 59 Ala. 272; Tanner v. L. & N. R. Co., 60 Ala. 621; M. & C. R. Co. v. Copeland, 61 Ala. 376; Gothard v. A. G. S. R. Co., 67 Ala. 114; Cook v. C. R. & B. Co., 67 Ala. 533; E. T. V. & G. R. Co. v. Clark, 74 Ala. 443; King v. 28 (2594) (2890) (2523) (2129). When beneficial owner must sue.—Actions on promissory notes, bonds, or other contracts, express or implied, for the payment of money, must be prosecuted in the name of the party really interested, whether he has the legal title or not, subject to any defense the payor, obligor, or debtor may have had against the payee, obligee, or creditor, previous to notice of assignment or transfer, except that, in actions upon bills of exchange and promissory notes payable at a bank or banking house, or at a designated place, and other commercial instruments, the suit must be instituted in the name of the person having the legal title.

Judgments not contracts within the statute.—Smith v. Harrison, 33 Ala. 706; Johnson v. Martin, 54 Ala. 271; Masterson v. Gibson, 56 Ala. 56; Wolffe v. Eberlein, 74 Ala. 99. Nor official bond of county treasurer.—Morrow v. Wood, 56 Ala. 1. Nor bond for title to lands.—Skinner v. Payne, 77 Ala. 584. When assignee of a policy of insurance cannot maintain suit.—Fire Ins. Co. v. Felrath, 77 Ala. 194. When debtor places notes in hands of another, the proceeds to be paid over to his creditors, the debtor may sue in his own name for breach of contract.—Shotwell v. Gilkey, 31 Ala. 724. Promise to one person for the benefit of another; when either may sue.—Mason v. Hall, 30 Ala. 599; Shotwell v. Gilkey, 31 Ala. 724; Rice v. Rice, 106 Ala. 636. A promise to one person to pay a debt due from him to another may be enforced by that other, in his own name.—Young v. Hawkins, 74 Ala. 370; Coleman v. Hatcher, 77 Ala. 217; North Ala. Development Co. v. Short, 101 Ala. 333. When note transferred to one agreeing to pay another part of the proceeds, that other cannot sue for such fractional part.—Pleasants v. Erskine, 82 Ala. 386. The payee of a non-negotiable rent note, the proceeds of which belong to a purchaser of the rented premises, cannot maintain suit against the maker.—Moses v. Ingram, 99 Ala. 483. Contract for transmission of telegraph message; who may sue for breach.—Daughtery v. Am. U. Tel. Co., 75 Ala. 168; Kennon v. W. U. Tel. Co., 92 Ala. 399; W. U. Tel. Co. v. Wilson, 93 Ala. 32. Suit to recover back money paid on an option not within the statute.—Buck v. Carlisle, 98 Ala. 580. Transferee of non-negotiable note, though by separate instrument, may sue in his own name.—P. & M. Ins. Co. v. Tunstall, 72 Ala. 142; Stephens v. Adams, 93 Ala. 117. Also transferee of non-negotiable note transferred in violation of agreement unsupported by a consideration.—Johnson v. Washburn, 98 Ala. 258. Also holder of note made by executor for debt of testator, transferred by delivery.—Taylor v. Perry, 48 Ala. 240. Also the holder, by delivery merely, of a coupon payable to bearer.—K. C. M. & B. R. v. Cobb, 100 Ala. 228. The person to whom payment may be legally made and who may discharge the debtor, may sue in his own name, although the money, when collected, is not for his use. Yerby v. Sexton, 48 Ala. 311; Hirschfelder v. Mitchell, 54 Ala. 419; Tilley v. Harrison, 91 Ala. 295; Bibb v. Hall, 101 Ala. 79; Rice v. Rice, 106 Ala. 636. When sole legatee not within statute.—Wood v. Cosby, 76 Ala. 557. Agent may sue to recover money of principal lent by him without authority. Bryan v. Wilson, 27 Ala. 208. Vendor of leased premises, retaining rent notes to collect for benefit of vendee, is without beneficial interest.—Moses

v. Ingram, 99 Ala. 483. Statute does not apply to suits in equity.—Dawson v. Burruss, 73 Ala. 111; McGhee v. Imp. & T. Nat. Bank, 93 Ala. 192; Moore v. Pope, 97 Ala. 462. Averments of ownership.—Bryan v. Wilson, 27 Ala. 208; Dwyer v. Kennemore, 31 Ala. 404; Lakeside Land Co. v. Dromgoole, 89 Ala. 505. Plea averring that plaintiff is not the beneficial owner, good.—Bryan v. Wilson, supra; Hirschfeld v. Mitchell, 54 Ala. 419; Lakeside Land Co. v. Dromgoole, supra; Hanna v. Ingram, 93 Ala. 482. Possession of non-negotiable note payable to another or bearer, insufficient proof of ownership when denied.—Cobb v. Bryant, 86 Ala. 316. Commercial instruments not within the statute.—Carmelich v. Mims, 88 Ala. 335; Lakeside Land Co. v. Dromgoole, 89 Ala. 505; Hanna v. Ingram, 93 Ala. 482; K. C. M. & B. R. v. Cobb, 100 Ala. 228; Ala. Coal Mining Co. v. Brainard, 35 Ala. 476; Cobb v. Bryant, supra. Nor "labor tickets," "not transferable."—Tabler v. S. L. I. & C. Co., 79 Ala. 377. Effect of transfer of claim, pending suit.—Dolberry v. Trice, 49 Ala. 207; Neilson v. Slade, Ib. 253; Wilkerson v. McDougal, 48 Ala. 517; Davis v. Davis, 93 Ala. 173.

29 (2595) (2891) (2524) (2130). Beneficiary sole party on record.—In all cases where suits are brought in the name of the person having the legal right for the use of another, the beneficiary must be considered as the sole party on the record.

Lehman v. Clark, 85 Ala. 109; Gardner v. M. & N. R. Co., 102 Ala. 635.

30 (2596) (2909) (2543) (2147). Action not abated by death of nominal plaintiff.—When suit is brought for the use of another, the death of the nominal plaintiff does not abate the suit, but it proceeds in the name of the beneficiary; when the beneficiary dies, it must be revived in the name of his personal representative, whether the nominal plaintiff be living or not.

31 (2597) (2915) (2549) (2151). Suits on lost notes, etc.; exception.—Suit may be brought on a bond, note, bill of exchange, or other mercantile instrument, which has been lost or destroyed by accident; and if affidavit is made by the plaintiff of such loss and destruction, and the contents thereof, and that the same has not been paid or otherwise discharged, and accompanies the complaint, it must be received as presumptive evidence, both of the contents and loss or destruction of such instrument, unless the defendant by plea, verified by affidavit, denies the execution of such bond, note, or bill, or the indorsement, acceptance, or the contents thereof, in which case proof of such execution, indorsement, acceptance, or contents must be made by the plaintiff; but this section must not be so construed as to authorize a suit for the recovery of bank-notes, or bills issued to circulate as money, and alleged to be lost or destroyed. When the suit is against an executor or administrator, he may controvert the oath of the plaintiff of the loss, destruction, or contents of the instrument sued on, by swearing to the best of his knowledge and belief.

Statute is cumulative and does not take away existing remedies.—Br. Bank v. Tillman, 12 Ala. 214. Suits may be brought on lost notes or bonds without affidavit of loss; affidavit merely shifts burden of proof.—Bell v. Moore, 9 Ala. 824; Br. Bank v. Tillman, 12 Ala. 214; Bank of Mobile v. Williams, 13 Ala. 544; Glassell v. Mason, 32 Ala. 719; Bank of Mobile v. Meagher, 33 Ala. 622; Chaudron v. Hunt, 3 Stew. 31. Contract offered in evidence must correspond with that described in the affidavit.—Boylston v. Sherran, 31 Ala. 538. If instrument found before trial it may be introduced in evidence.—Carlisle v. Davis, 7 Ala. 42. If instrument lost, pending suit, its contents and loss may be proved without amending the complaint.—Lester v. Governor, 12 Ala. 624. If affidavit is made, or, if made and denied by verified plea, loss and contents of instrument must be proved.—Glassell v. Mason, 32 Ala. 719; Parker v. Edwards, 85 Ala. 246; s. c., 88 Ala. 356. Affidavit necessary when suit on lost instrument upon which plaintiff could not sue at common law because of the loss.—Posey v. Decatur Bank, 12 Ala. 802.

32 (2598) (2916) (2550) (2152). Execution not to issue in such case till bond given.—When suit is brought under the provisions of the preceding section, to recover upon a bill of exchange or other instrument, which, by the provisions of this Code, is declared subject to the law merchant, and alleged to have been lost or destroyed before the maturity thereof, no execution must issue on the judgment until the plaintiff execute bond payable to the defendant, with surety, in twice the amount of the recovery, with condition to pay all such damages as he may sustain by reason of the judgment and the payment thereof.

33 (2599) (2922) (2557) (2159). When ratable recovery on contract allowed.—When a person contracts for the performance of services by himself for a stipulated period of time, and is prevented from full performance of the contract by death, his personal representative may recover a ratable compensation for the service actually rendered, notwithstanding the entirety of the contract.

Dryer v. Lewis, 57 Ala. 551; Patrick v. Petty, 83 Ala. 420.

34 (2669) (2983) (2634) (2232). New actions on same contract. Successive actions may be maintained upon the same contract or transaction, whenever, after the former action, a new cause of action arises therefrom.

Discharged servant, whose wages are payable in installments, may sue and recover on each installment as it falls due.—Davis v. Preston, 6 Ala. 83; Strauss v. Meertief, 64 Ala. 299; Howard College v. Turner, 71 Ala. 729; Wilkinson v. Black, 80 Ala. 329; Ryall v. Prince, 82 Ala. 264; Liddell v. Chidester, 84 Ala. 508; M. & M. R. Co. v. Gilmer, 85 Ala. 422; Hood v. League, 102 Ala. 228.

35 (2600) (2920) (2555) (2157). Actions survive to and against representative.—All actions on contracts, express or implied, all personal actions, except for injuries to the person or reputation, survive in favor of and against the personal representatives.

Actions for seduction of wife, or assault and battery, abate on death of defendant.—Garrison v. Burden, 40 Ala. 513; Hadley v. Bryars, 58 Ala. 185. Judgment in favor of deceased plaintiff void, and may be set aside at subsequent term.—Moore v. Easley, 18 Ala. 619. See also citations to section 38 (2603).

36 (2601) (2921) (2556) (2158). Real actions survive to or against heir or representative.—Real actions to try the title, or for the recovery of the possession of lands, and actions for injuries to lands, survive in favor of heirs, devisees, or personal representatives, and against heirs, devisees, tenants, or personal representatives, according to their respective rights; and the court must direct the record and judgment to be so framed as to secure their rights and declare their respective interests.

In actions respecting lands, if the title only is in controversy, suit must be revived by or against the heirs; if profits or damages only, by or against the representative; if both, by or against both heirs and representatives.—Ex parte Nabors, 7 Ala. 459; Rowland v. Ladiga, 21 Ala. 9; Mason v. Storrs, 34 Ala. 179; Ex parte Swan, 23 Ala. 192; Crutchfield v. Hudson, 23 Ala. 393; Ridgeway v. Waugh, 51 Ala. 423; Evans v. Welch, 63 Ala. 250; Ex parte Sayre, 69 Ala. 184; Marcy v. Howard, 91 Ala. 133.

37 (2602) (2914) (2548) (2150). Action by or against woman not abated by marriage.—A suit brought by or against an unmarried woman does not abate on her marriage, but, the marriage being suggested upon the record, the suit proceeds in her name acquired by the marriage, and judgment is rendered accordingly. If judgment be rendered against her, it may be satisfied out of her separate estate.

On marriage of plaintiff suing as administratrix, husband should be joined as co-plaintiff.—M. & C. R. Co. v. Womack, 84 Ala. 149.

38 (2603) (2908) (2542) (2146). When actions do not abate by death; revivor in twelve months.—No action abates by the death or other disability of the plaintiff or defendant, if the cause of action survive or continue; but the same must, on motion, within twelve months thereafter, be revived in the name of or against the legal representative of the deceased, his successor, or party in interest; or the death of such party may be suggested upon the record, and the action proceed in the name of or against the survivor.*

"Other disability" is any intervening disability save death.—Dumas v. Robbins, 48 Ala. 545. Suit cannot be revived against foreign representative. Bank v. McDonald, 22 Ala. 474. Action against one partner on partnership obligation may be revived.—Ex parte Ware, 48 Ala. 223. But where action is against partnership in firm name, and one partner dies, revivor not necessary.—Comer v. Reid, 93 Ala. 391. Filing claim against estate in chancery is an action, and may be revived.—Reynolds v. Crook, 95 Ala. 570. Action by trustee who resigns must be revived in the name of his successor.—Dumas v. Robbins, 48 Ala. 545. Suit must be revived, or motion made, within statutory period.—Waller v. Nelson, 48 Ala. 531; Pope v. Irby, 57 Ala. 105; Brown v. Tutwiller, 61 Ala. 372; Evans v. Welch, 63 Ala. 250; Ex parte Sayre, 69 Ala. 184; Phœnix Ins. Co. v. Moog, 81 Ala. 335 (in conflict, Ex parte Jones, 54 Ala. 108). Voluntary appearance is a waiver of motion to revive.—Parker v. Abrams, 50 Ala. 35. Suggestion on the record is sufficient motion to remove bar of statute, but it cannot rest in parol.—Rupert v. Elston, 35 Ala. 79; Waller v. Nelson, 48 Ala. 531; Pope v. Irby, 57 Ala. 105. Suggestion of "death on the record and action proceeds in the name of survivor without revival."—Gregg v. Bethea, 6 P. 9; Evans v. Welch, 63 Ala. 250; Phœnix Ins. Co. v. Moog, 81 Ala. 335; Davis v. Davis, 93 Ala. 173. Does not apply to suits in equity.—Ex parte Kirtland, 49 Ala. 403; Fearn v. Ward, 80 Ala. 555. Nor to settlement of administration in probate court.—Glenn v. Billingslea, 64 Ala. 345. On death of one of two co-plaintiffs, right of action vests in survivor, and, on death of latter, vests in his representative.—Bebee v. Miller, Minor, 364.

39 (2604) (2905) (2539) (2143). Joint promises in writing; how construed.—When two or more persons are jointly bound by judgment, bond, covenant, or promise in writing of any description whatsoever, the obligation or promise is in law several as well as joint, and suit may be instituted thereon against the legal representatives of such as are dead.

Partnership obligations are within the statute.—Duramus v. Harrison, 26 Ala. 326; Cox v. Harris, 48 Ala. 538; Haralson v. Campbell, 63 Ala. 278; Goldsmith v. Eichold, 94 Ala. 116; Baldridge v. Eason, 99 Ala. 516. Suit may be brought against one, several, or all joint obligors.—McKee v. Griffin, 60 Ala. 427; Steed v. Barnhill, 71 Ala. 157; First Nat. Bank v. Dawson, 78 Ala. 67; Lott v. Mobile Co., 79 Ala. 69; McNeil v. Davis, 105 Ala. 657. Judgment may be in favor of one and against another, where several sued on joint obligation.—Burns v. Moore, 76 Ala. 339. Or against surviving defendant and representative of deceased co-defendant severally.—Parker v. Abrams, 50 Ala. 35.

40 (2605) (2904) (2538) (2142). Suits against partnership by firm name, or against one partner.—Two or more persons associated together as partners in any business or pursuit, who transact business under a common name, whether it comprise the names of such persons or not, may be sued by their common name, and the summons in such case being served on one or more of the associates, the judgment in the action binds the joint property of all the associates in the same manner as if all had been named defendants, had been sued upon their joint liability, and served with process; any one of the associates, or his legal representative, may also be sued for the obligation of all.

Does not authorize suit by partners in firm name.—Reid v. McLeod, 20 Ala. 576; Lanford v. Patton, 44 Ala. 584; Moore v. Burns, 60 Ala. 269; Moore v. Watts, 81 Ala. 261; Tompkins v. Levy, 87 Ala. 263; Foreman v. Weil, 98 Ala. 495; Simmons v. Titche, 102 Ala. 317. Actions commenced by attachment within.—McCaskey v. Pollock, 82 Ala. 174. Actions for libel, committed by all partners, or by one, in the prosecution of the business, within.—Atlantic Glass Co. v. Paulk, 83 Ala. 404. Married women doing business under partnership name, or as a partner, within, and cannot plead coverture.—Yarbrough v. Bush, 69 Ala. 170; LeGrand v. Eufaula Bank, 81 Ala. 123; McCaskey v. Pollock, 82 Ala. 174; Rabitte v. Orr, 83 Ala. 185; Schlapback v. Long, 90 Ala. 525; Belser v. Tuscumbia Banking Co., 105 Ala. 514. Suit against partners by common name, judgment binds only partnership property; against individuals composing it, binds property of those served.—Savage v. Walshe, 26 Ala. 619; Wyman v. Stewart, 42 Ala. 163; Cox v. Harris, 48 Ala. 538; McCoy v. Watson, 51 Ala. 466; Shepard v. Lightfoot, 56 Ala. 506; Haralson v. Campbell, 63 Ala. 278; Yarbrough v. Bush, 69 Ala. 170; Ladiga v. Smith, 78 Ala. 108; Watts v. Rice, 75 Ala. 289; LeGrand v. Eufaula Bank, 81 Ala. 123; McCaskey v. Pollock, 82 Ala. 174; Rabitte v. Orr, 83 Ala. 185; Dollins v. Pollock, 89 Ala. 351; Powers v. Robinson, 90 Ala. 225; Comer v. Reid, 93 Ala. 391; Baldridge v. Eason, 99 Ala. 516. When suit against individual members of firm.—Leinkauff v. Munter, 76 Ala. 194; Dollins v. Pollock, 89 Ala. 351; Blackman v. Moore-Handley Co., 106 Ala. 458. (See also supra.) One sued for obligation of all.—McCullough v. Judd, 20 Ala. 703; Duramus v. Harrison, 26 Ala. 326; Waldron v. Simmons, 28 Ala. 629; Ex parte Ware, 48 Ala. 223; Pearce v. Shorter, 50 Ala. 318; Hall v. Cook, 69 Ala. 87; Hall v. Green, 69 Ala. 368; Clark v. Jones, 87 Ala. 474; Alexander v. King, 87 Ala. 642; Alexander v. Jones, 90 Ala. 474; Goldsmith v. Eichold, 94 Ala. 116; Bradley Fert. Co. v. Pollock, 104 Ala. 402. Creditor partnership may sue members of debtor partnership, where they have a common partner, provided he is not made a defendant.—Lacy v. LeBruce, 6 Ala. 904; Alexander v. King, 87 Ala. 642; Alexander v. Jones, 90 Ala. 474. Revivor not necessary where one partner dies pending suit against partnership by common name.—Comer v. Reid, 93 Ala. 391. Effect of acceptance of service by one partner.—Bowin v. Sutherlin, 44 Ala. 278. Statute does not relate to suits in equity.—Opelika v. Daniel, 59 Ala. 211.

41 (2606) (2910) (2544) (2148). Revivor on death of defendant pending suit.—If the cause of action survive, on the death of a defendant, suggestion thereof must be made and entered of record, and the proper representative may come in and voluntarily make himself a party defendant; but if such representative do not come in and make himself a party, citation must issue to him, on his being made known, to appear at the next term and defend, and after service of such citation, the suit may be revived against him; but final judgment must not be rendered against a personal representative, if he objects, until after the expiration of twelve months from the grant of letters testamentary or of administration.

Waddill v. John, 48 Ala. 232; s. c., 57 Ala. 93; Parker v. Abrams, 50 Ala. 35; Pope v. Irby, 57 Ala. 105; Brown v. Tutwiler, 61 Ala. 372; Evans v. Welch, 63 Ala. 250; Ex parte Sayre, 69 Ala. 184; Phœnix Ins. Co. v. Moog, 81 Ala. 335; Donnor v. Quartermas, 90 Ala. 164; Bobo v. Gunnels, 92 Ala. 601; Reynolds v. Crook, 95 Ala. 570.

42 (2607) (2911) (2545) (2149). Discontinuance entered as to parties not served, or alias issued.—When any suit is instituted against two or more persons upon any joint or joint and several contract, or upon any joint or joint and several cause of action, the plaintiff may, at his election, sue out an alias summons, or discontinue as to those on whom the summons is not served, and proceed to judgment against those on whom it has been executed.

Statute works no change in common law in respect to actions ex delicto. Slade v. Street, 77 Ala. 576; Montgomery Gas L. Co. v. M. & E. R. Co., 86 Ala. 372. Actions ex delicto may be discontinued as to one or more, whether served or not, without discontinuing the entire action.—Slade v. Street, 77 Ala. 576; Montgomery Gas L. Co. v. M. & E. R. Co., 86 Ala. 372. If action ex contractu is continued as to one not served, or discontinued as to one, all having been served, the whole action is discontinued.—Mock v. Walker, 42 Ala. 668; Curtis v. Gaines, 46 Ala. 455; Reynolds v. Simpkins, 67 Ala. 378; Kendall v. Lassiter, 68 Ala. 181; Slade v. Street, 77 Ala. 576; Jones v. Englehardt, 78 Ala. 505. Definition and effect of discontinuance.—Whitaker v. VanHorn, 43 Ala. 255; Garrett v. Lynch, 44 Ala. 324; Curtis v. Gaines, 46 Ala. 455.

43 (2608) (2912, 2913) (2546, 2547). Death of one of several joint defendants.—The death of one or more defendants jointly sued does not, as to the defendant dying, abate the suit, if the cause of action survive, but may be revived against the proper representative of such defendant, and may proceed against such representative and the surviving defendant or defendants, jointly or severally, at the election of the plaintiff; the judgments therein rendered must be several, but against a personal representative, if he objects, judgment must not be rendered until after the expiration of twelve months from the grant of letters testamentary or of administration; the satisfaction of one judgment is, as to the plaintiff, a satisfaction of all, except as to costs; but if requested, the plaintiff must assign, without recourse on him, the judgment against a principal debtor to the party from whom satisfaction is received, if such principal debtor was bound to the indemnity of such party.

Statute permissive only; judgment may be rendered against survivors without revivor.—Garrett v. Lynch, 44 Ala. 324. Representative may consent to final judgment before expiration of statutory period.—Pope v. Irby, 57 Ala. 105. Form of judgment.—Parker v. Abrams, 50 Ala. 35.

44 (2609) (2919) (2554) (2156). Plaintiff suing several may recover against one or more; liability for costs.—When a suit is instituted against several defendants, whether sued as partners or otherwise, the plaintiff may recover against one or more, but is liable to costs to those against whom he does not obtain judgment.

Defendant against whom plaintiff fails, is entitled to judgment for his "aliquot proportion of the whole costs."—Walker v. Mobile Dock Co., 31 Ala. 529; Burns v. Moore, 76 Ala. 339; Neff v. Edwards, 81 Ala. 246; Handley v. Lawley, 90 Ala. 527.

GRANT OF LETTERS TESTAMENTARY AND OF ADMINISTRATION.

45 (2003) (2339) (1975) (1657). Grant of letters testamentary. Whenever a will has been admitted to probate in this state, the judge of the court in which the will was probated may issue letters testamentary, according to the provisions of this chapter, to the persons named as the executors in such will, if they are fit persons to serve as such.

Grant of letters on estate of living man, supposed to be dead, void. Duncan v. Stewart, 25 Ala. 408; Bean v. Chapman, 73 Ala. 140. Jurisdiction of probate court, in grant of letters, is original, general and unlimited. Ikelheimer v. Chapman, 32 Ala. 676; Gray v. Cruise, 36 Ala. 559; Barclift v. Treece, 77 Ala. 528; Sowell v. Sowell, 41 Ala. 359. Letters testamentary must be granted before executor is invested with any legal authority.—Cleveland v. Chandler, 3 Stewart 489; Gardner v. Gantt, 19 Ala. 666; Wood v. Cosby, 76 Ala. 557; Brock v. Frank, 51 Ala. 85. Grant of administration prima facie evidence of facts giving court jurisdiction. Eslava v. Elliott, 5 Ala. 264; Sims v. ments and decrees of probate court are protected, on collateral attack, by presumption that they were rightful.—Savage v. Benham, 17 Ala. 119; Miller v. Jones, 26 Ala. 247; Wright v. Ware, 50 Ala. 549; Wharton v. Moragne, 62 Ala. 201; Burnett v. Nesmith, 62 Ala. 261; Burke v. Mutch, 66 Ala. 568; Landford v. Dunklin, 71 Ala. 594; Kling v. Connell, 105 Ala. 590. No necessity for administration, where there are no debts and no personal property for distribution.—Owens v. Childs, 58 Ala. 113; Fretwell v. McLemore, 52 Ala. 124; Sullivan v. Lawler, 72 Ala. 68.

46 (2004) (2340) (1976) (1658). Persons disqualified as executors.—No person must be deemed a fit person to serve as executor who is under the age of twenty-one years, or who has been convicted of an infamous crime, or who, from intemperance, improvidence, or want of understanding, is incompetent to discharge the duties of the trust.

An intermeddler with the assets, before administration, not per se disqualified from serving as administrator.—Bingham v. Crenshaw, 34 Ala. 683. Letters of administration issued to minor not void.—Davis v. Miller, 106 Ala. 154.

47 (2005) (2369) (2007) (1687). Form of letters testamentary. Letters testamentary may be substantially in the following form:

"The State of Alabama, ——— county. } Court of Probate.

The will of —— —— having been duly admitted to record in said county, letters testamentary are hereby granted to —— ——, the executor named in said will, who has complied with the requisitions of the law, and is authorized to take upon himself the execution of such will. Witness my hand, and dated this —— day of ——, 18—.

——, Judge of Probate."

48 (2006) (2341) (1977) (1659). If executors disqualified, administration granted.—If the person named in the will as sole executor is, or if all the persons named therein as executors are, from any of the causes enumerated in the second preceding section, unfit to serve as executor or executors, letters of administration, with the will annexed, may be granted on the testator's estate, under the provisions of section 53 (2011).

49 (2007) (2342) (1978) (1660). When married woman entitled to letters testamentary.—No married woman is entitled to letters testamentary unless her husband consents thereto, by a writing signed by him and filed with the judge of probate; and, by giving such consent, he becomes responsible for her acts jointly with her.

During coverture, administratrix incapable of valid act, cannot control husband in disposition of assets—Pistole v. Street, 5 Port. 64; Hopper v. Steele, 18 Ala. 828; Rambo v. Wyatt, 32 Ala. 363. Upon marriage of administratrix, husband acquires right of administration for joint lives.—Pistole v. Street, 5 Port. 64; Williamson v. Hill, 6 Port. 184; Kavanaugh v. Thompson, 16 Ala. 817; Carlisle v. Tuttle, 30 Ala. 613; Dowty v. Hall, 83 Ala. 165. Married woman resigning, authority of husband terminates.—Rambo v. Wyatt, 32 Ala. 363. Husband's consent presumed when validity of wife's administration collaterally assailed.—English v. McNair, 34 Ala. 40.

50 (2008) (2343) (1979) (1661). On removal of disability, minor or married woman entitled to letters.—If the disability of a person under age, or of a married woman, named as executor in any will, is removed before the administration of such will is completed, such person is entitled to supplementary letters testamentary, to be issued in the same manner as original letters, and shall thereupon be authorized to join in the execution of such will with the persons previously appointed.

Minor, ratifying appointment after attaining majority, letters cannot be revoked.—Davis v. Miller, 106 Ala. 154.

51 (2009) (2344) (1980) (1662). Renunciation of right to act as executor; how made.—Any person named as executor in a will may renounce such appointment by appearing before the judge of probate and declaring such renunciation, which must be entered of record; or such person may renounce his appointment by an instrument in writing executed by him and acknowledged before an officer authorized to take and certify acknowledgments to conveyances, whether within or beyond the state; and such instrument must be filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which the will is probated.

Widow's primary right renounced only by appearance before probate judge, or by statutory instrument.—Dunham v. Roberts, 27 Ala. 701; Curtis v. Williams, 33 Ala. 570; Sowell v. Sowell, 41 Ala. 359.

52 (2010) (2345) (1981) (1663). On renunciation, etc., by one, letters granted to others named.—If any person named as executor in the will renounces his appointment, or fails to apply for letters testamentary within thirty days after probate, and any other persons named therein as executors make application for such letters, and are fit persons to discharge the trust, letters testamentary must issue to them, if they comply with the other requisitions of the law.

If person named in will as executor fails to apply for letters within time prescribed by law, prior right waived.—Curtis v. Burt, 34 Ala. 729; Wheat v. Fuller, 82 Ala. 572; Keith v. Proctor, Ala. (21 So. 502).

53 (2011) (2346, 2347) (1982, 1983) (1664, 1665). Administration granted in stated order on failure of executor to apply, etc. If no person is named in the will as executor, or if they all renounce, or fail to apply within thirty days after probate, or are unfit persons to serve, the residuary legatee, or, if he fails to apply within such time, refuses to accept, or is unfit to serve, then the principal legatee is entitled to letters of administration with the will annexed; and if both residuary and principal legatees fail to apply within such time, refuse to accept, or are unfit to serve, then such letters may be granted to the same persons, and in the same order, as letters of administration are granted in cases of intestacy.

See citations to preceding section.

54 (2012) (2348) (1984) (1666). On death of sole or surviving executor, who entitled to administration.—No executor of an executor can, as such, administer on the estate of the first testator; but on the death of a sole or surviving executor, letters of administration with the will annexed may be granted to the persons entitled thereto, as in any case in which a sole executor has renounced his appointment.

55 (2013) (2349) (1985) (1667). Letters of administration; by what court and in what county granted.—Courts of probate, within their respective counties, have authority to grant letters of administration on the estates of persons dying intestate, as follows:

1. Where the intestate, at the time of his death, was an inhabitant of the county.

2. Where the intestate, not being an inhabitant of the state, died in the county, leaving assets therein.

3. Where the intestate, not being an inhabitant of the state, dies out of the county, leaving assets therein.

4. Where the intestate, not being an inhabitant of the state, dies, leaving no assets therein, and assets are afterwards brought into the county.

5. Where the intestate, being an inhabitant of the state, dies, leaving no assets subject to administration in the county of his residence, and no administration has been granted in such county within three months after the death of the intestate, then administration may be granted in any county where the intestate leaves assets.

56 (2014) (2350) (1986) (1668). Order of grant of administration.—Administration of an intestate's estate must be granted to some one of the persons herein named, if willing to accept, and fit to serve, in the following order:

1. The husband or widow.

2. The next of kin entitled to share in the distribution of the estate.

3. The largest creditor of the intestate residing within this state.

4. Such other person as the judge of probate may appoint.

Right of widow to letters.—Dunham v. Roberts, 27 Ala. 701; Williams v. McConico, 27 Ala. 572; Curtis v. Williams, 33 Ala. 570. Right cannot be delegated.—Curtis v. Williams, 33 Ala. 570. Discussion of husband's right under former statute.—Randall v. Shrader, 17 Ala. 333. Father entitled in preference to brothers and sisters.—Brown v. Thomas, 59 Ala. 158; Markland v. Albes, 81 Ala. 433; Wheat v. Fuller, 82 Ala. 572.

57 (2015) (2370) (2008) (1688). Form of letters of administration.—Letters of administration may be substantially in the following form:

"The State of Alabama, ——— county } Court of Probate.

Letters of administration on the estate of —— ——— (or letters of administration on the annexed will of —— ———, as the case may be), are hereby granted to —— ———, who has duly qualified and given bond as such administrator, and is authorized to administer such estate (or to execute such will, as the case may be). Witness my hand, and dated this —— day of ———, 18—.

—— ——, Judge of Probate."

58 (2016) (2351) (1987) (1669). When right to letters waived. If no person entitled to the administration of the estate, according to the first three subdivisions of the second preceding section, applies for letters within forty days after the death of the intestate is known, the persons so entitled must be held to have relinquished their right to the administration.

See citations to section 56 (2014).

59 (2017) (2352, 2353, 2354, 2355) (1988, 1989, 1990, 1991) (1670, 1671, 1672, 1673). Rules as to grant of letters in certain cases.—If several persons of the same degree of kindred to the intestate, computed by the rules of the civil law, are entitled to the administration, men are to be preferred to women, and the whole-blood to the half-blood; and when several persons are equally entitled thereto, the court may, in its discretion, grant letters to one or more of them; and when a married woman is entitled thereto, it may be granted to her husband in her right.

Davis v. Swearingen, 56 Ala. 539.

60 (2018) (2356) (1992) (1674). Renunciation; how made. Any person entitled to administration may relinquish his right thereto in the same manner as executors are authorized to renounce their appointment.

See citations to section 52 (2010).

61 (2019) (2357) (1993) (1675). When letters must not be granted; examination of applicant, etc.—No letters of administration must be granted until the expiration of fifteen days after the death of the intestate is known; and the court may, in all cases, examine the persons applying therefor, on oath, touching the time and place of the death of the intestate, and as to whether or not he left any will, and other matters necessary to give the court jurisdiction; and may also examine any other witnesses as to the same facts, and may compel their attendance for that purpose by subpœna and attachment.

Letters conferring general authority not granted until fifteen days expire.—Espalla v. Gottschalk, 95 Ala. 254.

62 (2020) (2358) (1994) (1676). Appointment of special administrator.—The judge of probate may, in any contest respecting the validity of a will, or for the purpose of collecting the goods of the deceased, or in any other case in which it is necessary, appoint a special administrator, authorizing the collection and preservation by him of the goods of the deceased until letters testamentary or of administration have been duly issued.

Special administration granted at any time after intestate's death.—Espalla v. Gottschalk, 95 Ala. 254. An averment in petition of "letters of special administration," construed to mean letters of "administration de bonis non," when such letters only authorized.—Clemens v. Walker, 40 Ala. 189; Clemens v. Wilson, 40 Ala. 219. Administrator ad colligendum may be removed at any time.—Flora v. Mennice, 12 Ala. 836. At common law, no action maintained against administrator ad colligendum.—Erwin v. Br. Bank, 14 Ala. 307.

63 (2021) (2359) (1995) (1677). His authority.—Every such special administrator has authority to collect the goods and chattels of the estate, and debts of the deceased, and to secure and preserve such goods and chattels, at such expense as may be deemed reasonable by the probate court; and for such purposes he may maintain suits as administrator.

The capacity of special administration relative to personal assets, same as administrator in chief.—Underhill v. Mobile, 67 Ala. 45. Authority of special administrator ceases upon appointment of administrator in chief. Farrow v. Bragg, 30 Ala. 261; Briarfield v. Foster, 54 Ala. 622. The appointment of a "legal administrator for the special purpose of conducting a suit at law," is not void.—Wolffe v. Eberlein, 74 Ala. 99. A special administrator may file bill in equity for a receiver.—Briarfield v. Foster, 54 Ala. 622. Powers of special administrator defined by statute, limited to personal assets.—Espalla v. Gottschalk, 95 Ala. 254. Special administrator not authorized to pay debts.—Erwin v. Br. Bank, 14 Ala. 307.

64 (2022) (2360) (1996) (1678). May sell perishable goods. Such special administrator may also, under the direction of the probate court, sell such goods as are perishable or wasting, after the same have been appraised, upon such notice as the judge of probate may prescribe.*

65 (2023) (2361) (1997) (1679). When his authority ceases; his duties in such case.—Upon the grant of letters testamentary or of administration, the authority of such special administrator ceases, and on demand he must deliver to the rightful executor or administrator all the assets of the deceased which may be in his hands, and render an account on oath of all his proceedings to the probate court.

See citations to section 63 (2021).

66 (2024) (2365, 2366) (2003, 2004) (1683, 1684). Executors and administrators must give bond.—Every person appointed executor, administrator, or special administrator, except in cases otherwise provided for in this chapter, must give bond, with at least two sufficient sureties, payable to, and to be approved by the judge of probate of the county having jurisdiction of the estate, in a penalty prescribed by him, which must be a sum not less than double the estimated value of the personal property, and double the estimated value of the rent of the real estate of the decedent for a term of three years, or, at the discretion of the judge of probate, in a sum not less than double the estimated value of the real and personal property of the estate, and conditioned to perform all the duties which are or may be required of him as such executor or administrator. But an executor or administrator, other than the general administrator, or the sheriff, or an executor relieved from giving bond, who has not given bond in double the estimated value of the estate, real and personal, of the decedent, must not obtain an order for the sale of lands of the decedent and must not, under any authority or power, make sale of any lands of the decedent, until he has given bond in double the estimated value of such lands.

Price, 23 Ala. 826; Steele v. Tutwiler, 68 Ala. 107.

67 (2025) (2367) (2005) (1685). Testator may exempt executor from giving bond; when no bond required; exceptions.—Any testator may, by an express provision in his will to that effect, exempt an executor from giving bond; and, when such provision is made, such bond must not be required except in the following cases:

1. When any executor, heir, legatee, or other person interested in the estate, makes affidavit, showing his interest, and alleging that such interest is, or will be endangered for want of security.

2. When, in the opinion of the judge of probate, the estate is likely to be wasted, to the prejudice of any person interested therein.

Petition by legatee showing his interest, and that estate will be endangered, sufficient.—Allen v. Draper, 98 Ala. 590; Johnson v. Clements, 14 South. 14. Creditor interested person within meaning of statute.—Smith v. Phillips, 54 Ala. 8; Phillips v. Smith, 62 Ala. 575; Byrd v. Jones, 84 Ala. 336. No inquiry into validity of debt, prima facie liability sufficient. Phillips v. Smith, 62 Ala. 575. Limitation of appeal by executor on removal.—Holtzclaw v. Ware, 34 Ala. 307.

68 (2026) (2368) (2006) (1686). Proceedings when bond required of executor.—In the cases provided for by the preceding section, upon application for the executor to give bond, he may show cause against such application, and must have such notice as the judge may deem reasonable; but if he is not in the state, the application may be heard and determined without notice.

See citations to preceding section.

69 (2027) (2362) (2000) (1680). General administrator; his duties.—Each judge of probate must also appoint a suitable person as general administrator within his county, who must take charge of the estates of deceased persons, or act as special administrator, in those cases in which no other persons entitled thereto will administer, and no other person is appointed by the court; and his office shall expire with the expiration of the term of the judge who appointed him.*

As to release of surety on bond of general administrator.—Mitchell v. Nelson, 49 Ala. 88; Jones v. Ritter, 56 Ala. 270. General administrator, bond of, covers all estates thereafter committed to him.—Kling v. Connell, 105 Ala. 590. On collateral assault, appointment of sheriff not void, because record does not disclose that there was no general administrator.—Burnett v. Nesmith, 62 Ala. 261; Burke v. Mutch, 66 Ala. 568; Langford v. Dunklin, 71 Ala. 594. Suit by general administrator, revived in name of successor.—Russell v. Erwin, 41 Ala. 292. Term expires, with expiration of judge's term. Eubank v. Clark, 78 Ala. 73. His duties.—Willis v. Willis, 9 Ala. 330; Feagan v. Kendall, 43 Ala. 628; Moseley v. Lane, 27 Ala. 62.

70 (2028) (2371) (2009) (1689). General administrator to give bond.—The general administrator of a county must give bond, with at least two sufficient sureties, in an amount to be prescribed by the judge of probate, sufficient to secure all persons interested, payable to the judge of probate, and conditioned faithfully to administer all estates which may come to his charge as such general administrator; which bond must be approved by such judge. Feb. 6, 1891, p. 421.

Discharge of sureties on official bond.—Mitchell v. Nelson, 49 Ala. 88.

71. General administrator must keep record showing his official acts.—The general administrator must, from time to time, enter, in a well-bound book to be supplied by the court of county commissioners, a full and complete record of his official acts concerning each estate in his charge. Such book shall be kept in the office of the judge of probate and free to the examination of all persons when not in use. Feb. 6, 1891, p. 421.

Bondurant, 15 Ala. 346. Not necessary that unsettled estate be committed to succeeding sheriff.—King v. Griffin, 6 Ala 387. On same footing with other administrations.—Governor v. Gantt, 1 Stew. 388; Governor v. Davis, 9 Ala. 917; McLaughlin v. Nelms, 9 Ala. 925.

73 (2030) (2364) (2002) (1682). When estate not to be committed to general administrator, sheriff, or coroner.—The administration of an estate must not be committed to the general administrator, or to the sheriff, or to the coroner, except as special administrator, until the death of the decedent has been known sixty days; nor until one month after the death, resignation, or removal of an executor or administrator previously appointed.

74 (2031) (2373) (2011) (1691). Bond required of applicant. When administration is committed to the general administrator, sheriff, or coroner, on the application of a third person, such letters must not be granted, unless such person enter into bond, with surety, to be approved by the judge, to pay the fees and allowances made by the court on such administration, if the property of the estate is insufficient therefor.

75 (2032) (2374) (2012). Summary decree against obligors on such bond.—If, upon the settlement of an administrator appointed under the preceding section, it appears that sufficient assets of his intestate have not come to his hands to pay the costs and expenses legally incurred in his administration, the probate court having jurisdiction of such administration may render a decree, and thereon issue execution against the obligors in the bond mentioned in the preceding section, for any excess due above the assets in the hands of such administrator.

76 (2033) (2375) (2013) (1692). Liability of judge in taking bond.—The judge of probate is liable for any neglect or omission in not taking bond, or for taking an insufficient bond from any executor or administrator; and any person injured thereby may maintain an action against such judge and his sureties, and recover according to the injury proved.

No suit can be maintained for failure to require new bond on account of insolvency of original sureties.—Hamilton v. Williams, 26 Ala. 527.

77 (2034) (2376) (2014) (1693). Conclusiveness of letters.—Letters testamentary or of administration, and letters to a special administrator, or to any general administrator, sheriff, or coroner, granted by any probate court having jurisdiction, are conclusive evidence of the authority of the person to whom the same are granted, from the date thereof until the same are revoked; and, when granted, such letters exclude the probate court of every other county from the jurisdiction thereof, and extend to all the property of the deceased in the state.

Letters conclusive of grant.—Eslava v. Elliott, 5 Ala. 264; Duncan v. Stewart, 25 Ala. 408; Bradley v. Broughton, 34 Ala. 694; Gray v. Cruise, 36 Ala. 559; Coltart v. Allen, 40 Ala. 155; Russell v. Erwin, 41 Ala. 292; Plowman v. Henderson, 59 Ala. 559; Burnett v. Nesmith, 62 Ala. 261; Landford v. Dunklin, 71 Ala. 594; Barclift v. Treece, 77 Ala. 528; Leatherwood v. Sullivan, 81 Ala. 458; Nicrosi v. Giuly, 85 Ala. 365; Sullivan v. Rabb, 86 Ala. 433; Clancy v. Stephens, 92 Ala. 577. See citations to section 45 (2003).

78 (2035) (2377) (2015) (1694). When letters not to issue until time for appeal has passed.—When there are contesting applicants for letters testamentary or of administration, no letters must issue until the time for taking an appeal from the decree thereon has passed; and if such appeal is taken, no letters in chief must be granted until the appeal is finally disposed of; but a special administrator may be appointed if necessary.

79 (2036) (2378) (2016) (1695). Letters and bonds recorded; transcript evidence.—All letters testamentary and of administration, general or special, and the bonds given by executors and administrators, must be recorded by the judge of probate; and transcripts thereof, duly certified, are evidence in all the courts of this state to the same extent as if the originals were produced.

ARTICLE 2.

APPOINTMENT OF NON-RESIDENTS AS EXECUTORS AND ADMINISTRATORS, AND SPECIAL PROVISIONS IN RELATION TO THEM.

80 (2037) (2379). Non-residents may be appointed executors. Judges of probate are authorized to issue letters testamentary to persons named as executors in wills regularly probated, who are non-residents of this state, upon like bond and surety, and upon the same terms, conditions and requirements as are required by law of citizens of this state.

81 (2038) (2380). Steps necessary to grant of such letters, when will probated in another state.—When the will has been probated in another state or territory, before issuing letters testamentary thereon to a non-resident executor, the judge of probate must require him to file in court a copy of the will under which he is appointed, together with a certificate of the judge of the court in which the will was probated, that such will was regularly proved and established, and that letters testamentary were issued to him thereon, in accordance with the laws of the state or territory in which such original letters were granted, and also to give bond and surety upon the same terms, conditions and requirements as are required by law of citizens of this state. But if it shall appear from the will that the testator, by an express provision therein, has exempted the applicant from giving bond as executor, such bond must not be required, except in the cases specified in section 67 (2025). The certified copy of the foreign letters must be filed and recorded.

Leatherwood v. Sullivan, 81 Ala. 458; Keith v. Proctor, Ala. (21 So. 502).

82 (2039). Non-residents may be appointed administrators. When any non-resident dies, leaving assets in this state, if no application for letters of administration is made by a relative or creditor entitled thereto, an administrator of his estate, appointed by the competent authority of the state or territory of his domicil, shall be entitled to letters of administration on such estate in this state, upon the production of the letters granted to him by the state or territory of his intestate's domicil, duly certified as required by law, in preference to any other person, upon his giving like bond and surety, and upon the same terms, conditions and requirements, as are required by law of citizens of this state. The certified copy of his foreign letters shall be filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate issuing letters in this state.

83. Application by non-resident must show his post-office address; changes.—The application filed by such non-resident for letters testamentary or of administration must set forth his name and post-office address; but the address so given may, at any time, be changed by such non-resident executor or administrator, such change to be shown by a written statement, setting forth his present post-office address, signed by such executor or administrator, or his attorney, and filed and recorded in the court granting the letters.

84 (2040) (2381). How estate administered and settled.—When letters are granted to a non-resident executor or administrator the assets of the estate upon which such letters are granted, which may be within this state at the date of such letters, shall, in all respects, be administered and settled as if such letters had been issued to a resident executor or administrator.

85. Non-resident executors and administrators may sue.—Non-resident executors and administrators appointed under the provisions of this article may, by giving security for costs as required by law of non-residents, bring and maintain suits in the courts of this state, in all respects as may be done by resident executors and administrators.*

86. Non-resident executors and administrators liable to suit; service.—Such non-resident executors and administrators are liable to be sued in their representative character, in all cases, in the county in which letters were granted; and service of summons or other process may be made upon them personally if found within the state; and such service may be made in any case by sending a copy of the summons or other process through the mail to such executor or administrator, and serving a copy thereof upon a resident surety, if there be one, as provided in the next section.

87 (2041) (2382). How notice and process served.—Citations to make settlements, and other citations or notices to such non-resident executors and administrators, and all writs or legal process, including executions on decrees and judgments, may be served by depositing a copy in a sealed envelope, postage prepaid, in a post-office at or near the court or office issuing such process, such envelope to be plainly addressed and directed to such non-resident executor or administrator at the place and by the name furnished by him upon the filing of his application for letters, or thereafter as provided in the fourth preceding section, and, when the sureties, or either of them, reside in the state and their place of residence is known, by the service of a copy of such writ or process upon one of such sureties. When service is had by depositing a copy of the writ or process in the post-office only, and not accompanied by service upon a surety, such service should not take effect until the expiration of ten days from the date of mailing such copy. If the post-office address of such non-resident executor or administrator is not furnished as required by the fourth preceding section, service on one of his sureties is sufficient. If such post-office address is not so furnished, and if there be no resident surety, notice of such writ or process may be given by publication in a newspaper published in the county wherein the proceedings are had, for two consecutive weeks, and a copy thereof must be sent by mail to such non-resident executor or administrator if his post-office address can be ascertained; and if in such case there be no newspaper published in the county, the notice may be given by posting a copy thereof at the door of the court-house for fifteen days. The sheriff or other officer executing the writ or process must make return thereof according to the facts.

88 (2042) (2383). Liability of sureties to execution.—Upon the return of an execution as provided in the preceding section, and, further, that no property of such executor or administrator, or property not sufficient to satisfy the same, is found in the county in which the execution is issued, the sureties on his bond shall be liable in all respects as in cases of a return of no property found on executions issued against resident executors or administrators.

89 (2043) (2384). Removal to other state no ground for removal of executor; how settlement made.—The removal of any resident executor from this state to any other state or territory of the United States, shall not be cause for his removal from the office of executor; but on and after his removal, he shall in all respects be regarded and treated as a non-resident executor, and the provisions of this chapter shall be applicable to him. But, upon such removal, his sureties may require him to resign and make final settlement of his accounts, or give a new bond as such executor.

ARTICLE 3.

REMOVAL, RESIGNATION, AND REQUIRING ADDITIONAL BONDS OF EXECUTORS AND ADMINISTRATORS; APPOINTMENT OF ADMINISTRATORS DE BONIS NON; PROCEEDINGS ON DISCOVERY OF WILL AFTER GRANT OF LETTERS.

90 (2044) (2385). Discharge of surety; new bond.—Upon the application in writing of any surety or sureties upon the bond of an executor or administrator requesting to be discharged from future liability as such surety or sureties, or upon the application in writing of the personal representative, or of an heir or devisee of a deceased surety upon such bond, requesting that the estate of such deceased surety be discharged from future liability by reason of such suretyship, it shall be the duty of the court to give to such executor or administrator notice of such application and to require him, within fifteen days after the service of the notice, to make a new bond; and upon the failure to make such bond, such executor or administrator shall be removed and his letters revoked; and upon such removal he shall make settlement of his administration. Any number of persons having the right to make application under this section may join in the application.

91. Effect of new bond.—When a new bond is given under the preceding section, the surety on whose application, or the estate of the deceased surety on whose behalf the application was made, as the case may be, is discharged as to all breaches subsequent to the execution and approval of the new bond.

92 (2045) (2386) (2017) (1696). Causes of removal.—An administrator may be removed, and his letters revoked for his removal from the state; and an administrator or executor may be removed and his letters revoked for any of the following causes:

1. Imbecility of mind; intemperance; continued sickness, rendering him incapable of the discharge of his duties.

2. Failure to make and return inventories or accounts of sales; failure to make settlements as required by law; or the failure to do any act as such executor or administrator, when lawfully required by the judge of probate.

3. The wasting, embezzlement, or any other maladministration of the estate.

4. The using of any of the funds of the estate for his own benefit.

Application for removal.—Blackman v. Davis, 42 Ala. 184; Hubbard v. Smith, 45 Ala. 516; Godwin v. Hooper, 45 Ala. 613; Crawford v. Tyson, 46 Ala. 299. Non-residence as a ground for removal.—Harris v. Dillard, 31 Ala. 191; Crawford v. Tyson, 46 Ala. 299. When failure to return inventory sufficient to remove.—Oglesby v. Howard, 43 Ala. 144. When failure to return inventory insufficient to remove.—Hubbard v. Smith, 45 Ala. 516; Hightower v. Moore, 46 Ala. 466. An intentional misstatement of names of heirs in petition for sale of land, not maladministration.—Forrester v. Forrester, 37 Ala. 398. As to failure to make bond, see ex parte Maxwell, 37 Ala. 362; Leatherwood v. Sullivan, 81 Ala. 458; Keith v. Proctor, Ala. (21 So. 502). Payment of his private debt from funds of estate, a breach of trust.—Killam v. Costley, 52 Ala. 85. Order removing executor, at special term, void.—Boynton v. Nelson, 46 Ala. 501. Order removing executor—when will be presumed to have been made.—Cogburn v. McQueen, 46 Ala. 551.

93 (2046) (2387) (2018) (1697). When required to give additional bond; effect of failure.—An executor or administrator may also be required to give additional bond, and, in default thereof, may be removed, and his letters revoked, in the following cases:

1. When it is shown to the court by his sureties, or either of them, that he has become, or is likely to become insolvent, and that they have sustained, or probably will sustain loss thereby.

2. When his letters have been granted on insufficient security, or the security has become insufficient since the grant, or any of his sureties have removed from the state.

3. When the penalty of the bond is not sufficient to secure the due performance of the trusts committed to him.

94 (2047) (2388, 2389) (2019, 2020) (1698, 1699). Application for additional bond, or for removal.—Application for the removal of any executor or administrator, or for an additional bond, must be in writing, verified by oath, must specify the grounds of complaint and must be made to the court from which letters issued, or in which the administration is pending; and may be made by any creditor, legatee, devisee, heir, or distributee, or by any co-executor, co-administrator, or the sureties, or any of them.*

95 (2048) (2390) (2021) (1700). Citation to issue; service of. A citation to such executor or administrator to appear and answer the application on a day specified therein, must be served on him five days before the hearing of the complaint.

96 (2049) (2391, 2392) (2022, 2023) (1701, 1702). When notice given by publication; expense, how paid.—If such executor or administrator is not an inhabitant of the state, or is absent therefrom, upon such fact being shown by proof satisfactory to the judge, he must direct notice of such application to be given by publication for three successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county, or if none is published therein, in the newspaper published nearest to the court-house thereof; and the applicant must pay the expense of such publication, which may be taxed as costs.

Non-resident executor may be notified by publication, and removed on such notice.—Crawford v. Tyson, 46 Ala. 299.

97 (2050) (2393, 2394) (2024, 2025) (1703, 1704). Trial; when jury allowed.—On the day specified in the citation, or after publication as required, or on any day thereafter to which the hearing may be continued, the court must proceed to hear the evidence, and may, in its discretion, examine the parties; and when the application charges embezzlement, waste, or any other maladministration of the estate, either party is entitled to a trial by jury.

98 (2051) (2395) (2026) (1705). Costs; against whom taxed.—If the application is determined against the applicant, he, otherwise the executor or administrator, must be taxed with the costs, for which execution may be issued.

99 (2052) (2396, 2397) (2027, 2028) (1706, 1707). Order to give additional bond; effect of failure.—If an additional bond is required by the court, an order must be made to that effect, allowing such time to give the same as the court may think reasonable; and if such order is not complied with within the time prescribed, the executor or administrator must be removed, and his letters revoked.

100 (2053) (2398, 2399) (2029, 2030) (1708, 1709). Removal or additional bond on motion of court.—Whenever the judge of probate has reason to believe that any just ground or cause of removal exists, or that an additional bond should be required of an executor or administrator, he may cause a citation to be served on such executor or administrator, requiring him to appear on a day therein named, five days after service thereof, and show cause why he should not be removed,or give an additional bond, as the case may be; and if no sufficient cause is shown, the court may remove such executor or administrator, or require him to give an additional bond; and, if an additional bond is required, on failure to give the same within the time prescribed, the court may remove him.

Statutes upon removal of executor construed together.—Crawford v. Tyson, 46 Ala. 299. Removal of executor from this state, without application in writing.—Ib.

101 (2054) (2400) (2031) (1710). General administrator; when and how removed.—The general administrator may be removed for the same causes as other administrators; and such removal may be made by the judge of probate without notice; but the grounds thereof must be entered on the minutes of the court.

102 (2055) (2401) (2032) (1711). Additional bond of general administrator; effect of failure to give.—An additional bond may also be required of a general administrator, whenever the judge of probate deems it necessary to secure the interests of the estate confided to his charge, or the sureties may be unwilling to remain longer bound; and, if he fail to give such bond within the time prescribed by the court, he must be removed and his letters revoked; and when any person interested in an estate committed to the general administrator shall give notice in writing to the judge of probate, that the interest of the estate requires that the general administrator should give an additional bond, such judge must require him to give such bond; and if, in such case, the judge of probate fails or omits to require such bond, and loss thereby results to any one interested, he and the sureties on his official bond shall be responsible therefor.

103 (2056) (2402) (2033) (1712). Additional bond of sheriff or coroner.—When the administration of any estate is committed to the sheriff or coroner, the judge of probate, at such time, or at any time thereafter, while the administration is in the hands of such officer, may require of him an additional bond, if, in his opinion, the official bond of such officer is not sufficient security for the protection of the estate; and if he fail to give such additional bond for ten days after notice that the same is required, he vacates his office, and the judge of probate must certify the vacancy to the appointing power.

104 (2057) (2405) (2036) (1715). When sureties discharged by additional bond.—When an additional bond is given on the application of the surety of an executor or administrator, such surety is discharged as to all breaches subsequent to the execution and approval of the additional bond.

105 (2058) (2406) (2037) (1716). When former bond of force. When the additional bond is not given on the application of a surety, the former bonds are not discharged, but each remains of the same force and obligation as if such additional bond had not been given; and any person aggrieved, for a breach of the last bond, may proceed on either or all of such bonds, in the same, or in separate proceedings.

Application by surety necessary to effect discharge of former bonds. Hamner v. Mason, 24 Ala. 480; Jones v. Ritter, 56 Ala. 270.

106 (2059) (2407) (2038) (1717). Rights of sureties on such bonds among themselves.—The sureties in either bond, who have been compelled to make any payments thereon for the principal obligor, on a breach subsequent to the execution of the last bond, have the same remedies against the sureties in the remaining bonds as co-sureties have against each other; and may recover against such sureties such an amount as shall be in the same proportion to the sum paid by the plaintiff, as the aggregate penalty of the two bonds bears to the penalty of the bond of the defendant, apportioning the same among the solvent sureties.

Rights of co-sureties.—Bragg v. Patterson, 85 Ala. 233; Yeend v. Weeks, 104 Ala. 331.

107 (2060) (2408) (2039) (1718). Resignation of representative.—An executor or administrator may, by a writing subscribed by him, resign; and his resignation must be entered of record.

Executor cannot by resignation avoid judgment against him in regular process for unadministered assets.—Thomason v. Blackwell, 5 Stew. & Port. 181; Gayle v. Elliott, 10 Ala. 264; Skinner v. Frierson, 8 Ala. 915. A married woman may resign as administratrix without husband's consent.—Rambo v. Wyatt, 32 Ala. 363.

108 (2061) (2409) (2040) (1719). Liability on resignation.—In case of resignation, the executor or administrator and his sureties are bound for all the assets not administered, which shall not be delivered over to his successor.

See citations to preceding section.

109 (2062) (2410) (2041). Resignation by general administrator; effect of.—The resignation of the office of general administrator shall not operate to discharge the incumbent from the administration of any estate previously committed to his charge as such general administrator; but he may proceed, notwithstanding such resignation, to administer and finally settle the same, as if he had not resigned such office; and the sureties on his bond as general administrator shall be liable for every act of maladministration on such estate, committed after his resignation, to the same extent as if he had not resigned; but he may be removed from the administration of such estate for any of the causes prescribed by law, or he may resign his administration thereon by leave of the probate court of his county.

110 (2063) (2411) (2042). Upon resignation or removal of general administrator, successor appointed.—Upon the resignation or removal of a general administrator from office, the judge of the probate court of the proper county must proceed to appoint some other suitable person general administrator for such county, who shall give bond as required by law, and administer on such estates as may be committed to his charge by the probate court of his county.

111 (2064) (2412) (2043) (1720). Administrator de bonis non or cum testamento annexo; when appointed.—If the sole executor, or all the executors or administrators die, resign, or are removed, the probate court having jurisdiction of the estate must grant letters of administration, with the will annexed, or of the goods and chattels, rights, etc., unadministered, to the person entitled thereto, as in cases of intestacy.

What essential to validity of grant.—Matthews v. Douthitt, 27 Ala. 273; Rambo v. Wyatt, 32 Ala. 363; Gray v. Cruise, 36 Ala. 559; Sims v. Waters, 65 Ala. 442; Allen v. Kellam, 69 Ala. 442; Bean v. Chapman, 73 Ala. 140. When upheld on collateral attack.—Ikelheimer v. Chapman, 32 Ala. 676; Gray v. Cruise, 36 Ala. 559; Cogburn v. McQueen, 46 Ala. 551; Green v. Scarborough, 49 Ala. 137; Chappell v. Williamson, 49 Ala. 153; Sims v. Waters, 65 Ala. 442; Morgan v. Casey, 73 Ala. 222. When grant void.—Coltart v. Allen, 40 Ala. 155; Hooper v. Scarborough, 57 Ala. 510; Nelson v. Boynton, 54 Ala. 368; McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25; Bean v. Chapman, 62 Ala. 58; Bean v. Chapman, 73 Ala. 140. Acts null if appointment void.—Hooper v. Scarborough, 57 Ala. 510. When grant of letters in chief valid, as letters de bonis non.—Moseley v. Mastin, 37 Ala. 216. Two grants of administration at same time in same jurisdiction, are void.—Nelson v. Boynton, 54 Ala. 368; McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25.

112 (2065) (2413) (2044) (1721). When survivor continues to act.—When an executor or administrator dies, resigns, or is removed, and there is any other executor or administrator, no other must be appointed; but such administrator or executor must complete the administration, unless the testator has provided by his will for the nomination or appointment of a substitute or successor, when the person nominated, in accordance with the provisions of the will, shall be permitted to qualify as executor.

113 (2066) (2414) (2045) (1722). On proof of will, etc., letters must be revoked.—If, after letters of administration have been granted as in case of intestacy, any will is proved, and the executor therein named appears, claims letters testamentary, and complies with the requisitions of the law, the probate court having jurisdiction must revoke the letters of administration, and grant letters testamentary to such executor.

Revocation of letters of administration, on application of testator's executor.—Bradley v. Broughton, 34 Ala. 694; Jennings v. Moses, 38 Ala. 402; Watson v. Glover, 77 Ala. 323; Keith v. Proctor, Ala. (21 So. 502). Such grant of letters of administration voidable, only.—Floyd v. Clayton, 67 Ala. 265; Jennings v. Moses, 38 Ala. 402.

114 (2067) (2415) (2046) (1723). When, in such case, will to be annexed.—If, in the case provided for by the preceding section, the sole executor, or some of the executors, within five days after the proof of such will, do not appear and take out letters testamentary thereon, a copy of the will must be annexed to the letters of administration, and must be executed by the administrator.

ARTICLE 4.

COLLECTION OF DECEDENT'S PERSONAL PROPERTY; INVENTORY AND APPRAISEMENT THEREOF; NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT.

115 (2068) (2416) (2047) (1724). Collection of personalty and inventory.—It is the duty of every executor or administrator, immediately after taking out letters, to collect and take into his possession the goods and chattels, money, books, papers, and evidences of debt of the decedent, except the personal property specifically exempted from administration under section 2072 (2545), and to make a full inventory of the same.

Grant of letters of administration vests representative with legal title to personal assets.—Kelly v. Kelly, 9 Ala. 908; Snodgrass v. Cabiness, 15 Ala. 160; Beattie v. Abercrombie, 18 Ala. 9; Woolfolk v. Sullivan, 23 Ala. 548; Waring v. Lewis, 53 Ala. 615; Van Hoose v. Bush, 54 Ala. 342; Baldwin v. Hatchett, 56 Ala. 461; Hutchinson v. Owen, 59 Ala. 326; Nelson v. Stollenwerck, 60 Ala. 140; Shelton v. Carpenter, 60 Ala. 201; Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala. 438; Wood v. Cosby, 76 Ala. 557; Butler v. Gazzam, 81 Ala. 491; Chandler v. Chandler, 87 Ala. 300. Executor has no authority over assets until letters are granted.—Cleveland v. Chandler, 3 Stew. 489; Gardner v. Gantt, 19 Ala. 666; Wood v. Cosby, 76 Ala. 557.

116 (2069) (2417) (2048) (1725). What inventory must show. The inventory must set forth the goods and chattels, enumerating each article separately, all debts or demands due or accruing to the decedent, the time such debts or demands are due, the amount of the same, and how evidenced, with the credits, if any, and the name of the debtor, and the amount of money.

Remedy when assets are withheld.—Dobbs v. Cockerham, 2 Port. 328; Leavens v. Butler, 8 Port. 380; Blakely v. Blakely, 9 Ala. 391; Swink v. Snodgrass, 17 Ala. 653; Weems v. Bryan, 21 Ala. 302; Judge v. Tyson, 42 Ala. 401.

117 (2070) (2418) (2049) (1726). Inventory returned under oath.—On the return of the inventory, the executor or administrator must take and subscribe an oath, to be administered by the judge of probate, or any justice of the peace, or notary public of the county, that such inventory is full and complete, as to the goods and chattels, debts and money of the decedent, which have come to his knowledge or possession.

Inventory evidence against administrator.—Craig v. McGehee, 16 Ala. 41; Brazeal v. Brazeal, 9 Ala. 491; Steele v. Knox, 10 Ala. 608; Reynolds v. Reynolds, 11 Ala. 1023; Judge v. Tyson, 42 Ala. 401; McDonald v. Jacobs, 77 Ala. 524.

118 (2071) (2419, 2420, 2421) (2050, 2051, 2052) (1727, 1728, 1729). Appraisement of personal property.—At the time of the grant of letters, the court must appoint three appraisers in each county in which it is necessary to make an appraisement of the estate of the decedent, who must appraise each article specified in the inventory made by the executor or administrator, at its true value, and set down opposite to such articles, respectively, the values thereof in dollars and cents, in figures; and the appraisement must be subscribed and sworn to by them, and the executor or administrator is authorized to administer the oath. Such appraisers, for such service, shall each be entitled to receive two dollars per day while actually engaged in making the appraisement.

Appraisement not evidence against administrator.—Steele v. Knox, 10 Ala. 609; Brown v. Steele, 14 Ala. 63; Miller v. Jones, 29 Ala. 174; Harrison v. Harrison, 39 Ala. 489.

119 (2072) (2422) (2053) (1730). Return of inventory and appraisement.—The inventory and appraisement must be returned within two months after the grant of letters.

120 (2073) (2423, 2424) (2054, 2055) (1731, 1732). Supplemental inventories and appraisements.—The executor or administrator must make supplemental inventories of the decedent's estate coming to his knowledge or possession after making the first inventory; and an appraisement must be made of such estate by the appraisers, on oath, and in the same manner as the first appraisement was made.

121 (2074) (2425) (2056) (1733). Appointment of new appraisers.—New appraisers may be appointed by the court, from time to time, as may be necessary.

122 (2075) (2426) (2057) (1734). Notice of appointment of personal representative; its contents.—Executors and administrators must also, within one month from the grant of letters, give notice of their appointment, stating the name of the deceased, the day on which letters were granted, by what court, stating the county, and notifying all persons having claims against the estate to present the same within the time allowed by law, or that the same will be barred.

Failure to give notice does not suspend the statute of non-claim.—Thrash v. Sumwalt, 5 Ala. 13; Cawthorne v. Weisinger, 6 Ala. 714; Bank v. Plannett, 37 Ala. 222; see also McHenry v. Wells, 28 Ala. 451.

123 (2076) (2427) (2058) (1735). How notice to be given.—Such notice must be given in a newspaper published in the county in which the letters were granted, or, if none is published in such county, in the one published nearest to the court-house thereof, or in an adjoining county; and it must be published once a week for three successive weeks.

124 (2077) (2428) (2059) (1736). Penalty for failure to give notice.—It is the duty of the judge of probate to see that such publication is duly made; and any executor or administrator failing to make the same must not be allowed any compensation as such; but he and his sureties are liable, on proof that such notice has not been given, to any creditor for the amount which he would have been entitled to out of the assets of the estate, had his claim been duly presented.

ARTICLE 5.

PAYMENT AND SETTLEMENT OF DEBTS; PRESENTATION OF CLAIMS.

125 (2078) (2429) (2060) (1737). Property charged with payment of debts.—All the property of the decedent, except as otherwise provided, is charged with the payment of his debts, and, if necessary, may be sold for that purpose.

The whole property of an estate is charged, under the statute, with the payment of debts.—Anderson v. McGowan, 42 Ala. 280; Pettit v. Pettit, 32 Ala. 288; Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala. 438; Lewis v. Ford, 67 Ala. 143; Sharp v. Sharp, 76 Ala. 312; Starke v. Wilson, 65 Ala. 576; Trimble v. Fariss, 78 Ala. 260; Beadle v. Steele, 86 Ala. 413; Scott v. Ware, 64 Ala. 174; Warren v. Hearne, 82 Ala. 554; Chandler v. Wynne, 85 Ala. 301; Williams v. Williams, 49 Ala. 439; Spence v. Parker, 57 Ala. 196; May v. Parham, 68 Ala. 253; Banks v. Speers, 103 Ala. 436; Thompson v. Boswell, 97 Ala. 570; Cotton v. Holloway, 96 Ala. 544; Alford v. Alford, 96 Ala. 385; Banks v. Speers, 97 Ala. 560. Rents are assets.—Smith v. King, 22 Ala. 558; Smith v. Wiley, 22 Ala. 396; Boynton v. McEwen, 36 Ala. 348; Ashurst v. Ashurst, 13 Ala. 781; Smith v. Smith, 13 Ala. 329. Representative selling property in payment of a debt against the estate cannot, upon insolvency, repudiate sale and recover price.—Parker v. Daughtry, 111 Ala. 529.

126 (2079) (2430) (2064) 1741). Order of payment of debts.—The debts against the estates of decedents are to be paid in the following order:

1. The funeral expenses.
2. The fees and charges of administration.
3. Expenses of the last sickness.
4. Taxes assessed on the estate of the decedent previous to his death.
5. Debts due to employees, as such, for services rendered the year of the death of the decedent.
6. The other debts of the decedent.

Tombstone a proper charge as funeral expense.—Hatchett v. Curbow, 59 Ala. 516; Bendall v. Bendall, 24 Ala. 295. Burial expenses of wife husband's debt.—Smyley v. Reese, 53 Ala. 89; Lott v. Graves, 67 Ala. 40. Law implies promise of personal representative to pay burial expenses.—Gayle v. Johnston, 72 Ala. 254. Taxes assessed after death of decedent; when not preferred claim.—Pryor v. Davis, 109 Ala. 117. Costs paid by representative of insolvent estate without order of court, not preferred claims.—Patapsco v. Ballard, 107 Ala. 710. Credit for burial expenses should not be allowed on contest, on ex parte statement of creditor.—Jackson v. Wood, 108 Ala. 209.

127 (2080) (2431) (2065) (1742). No preference among debts of same class.—No executor or administrator must, before the expiration of twelve months from the grant of letters, give a preference in the payment of any debt over others of the same class; nor is a debt due and payable entitled to any preference over debts of the same class which are not due.*

Effect of statute on right of retainer.—Shortridge v. Early, 10 Ala. 520; Kimball v. Moody, 27 Ala. 130; Bates v. Vary, 40 Ala. 421; Kirksey v. Kirksey, 41 Ala. 626; Miller v. Irby, 63 Ala. 477; Cook v. Cook, 69 Ala. 294; Trimble v. Fariss, 78 Ala. 260; Dickie v. Dickie, 80 Ala. 57; Beadle v. Steele, 86 Ala. 413.

128. Payment of claims barred by the statute of limitations prohibited.—No claim against the estate of a decedent, whether in favor of the personal representative or any other person, which was barred by the statute of limitations at the time of the death of such dece- Feb. 16, 1891, p. 755.

dent, shall be paid by or allowed to the personal representative, unless the payment of such claim be expressly directed by a testator in his will.

Dec. 13, 1892, p. 133.

129. Representative having claim against estate must file same in probate court, verified by affidavit.—All claims against the estate of a decedent, held by the personal representative of such decedent, or by an assignee or transferee of such representative, or in which he has an interest, and which accrued prior to the grant of letters, must be presented within twelve months after the grant of letters; and all such claims accruing after the grant of letters must be presented within six months after the same have accrued; the presentation, in either case, to be made by filing the claim, or a statement thereof, verified by affidavit, in the office of the judge of probate, in all respects as provided by section 133 (2083) of this Code. All such claims not so presented and filed are forever barred, and the payment or allowance thereof is prohibited. But this section does not apply to claims of executors and administrators to compensation for their services as such, nor to sums properly disbursed by them in the course of administration.*

As amended, Dec. 9, 1896, p. 156.

130 (2081) (2597) (2239) (1883). All other claims to be presented, or they are barred.—All claims against the estate of a decedent, other than the claims referred to in the preceding section, must be presented within twelve months after the same have accrued, or within twelve months after the grant of letters testamentary or of administration; and if not presented within that time, they are forever barred, and the payment or allowance thereof is prohibited.

What claims within the statute. Generally, all claims of every nature. Jones v. Lightfoot, 10 Ala. 17; Neil v. Cunningham, 2 Port. 171; King v. Moseley, 5 Ala. 610; Ready v. sons of unsound mind having no guardian.—The provisions of the preceding section do not apply to minors or persons of unsound mind who have no legal guardian at the time of the grant of letters testamentary or of administration; but such minors and persons of unsound mind are allowed twelve months after the appointment of a guardian, or, if none be appointed, twelve months after the removal of their respective disabilities, in which to present their claims.*

132 (2082) (2598) (2240) (1884). Other exceptions; heirs or legatees claiming as such.—The provisions of section 130 (2081) do not apply to heirs or legatees claiming as such.

Heirs or legatees claiming as such.—Fretwell v. McLemore, 52 Ala. 124; Foster v. Holland, 56 Ala. 474; Owens v. Corbitt, 57 Ala. 92; McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25; Rhodes v. Hannah, 66 Ala. 215; Taylor v. Robinson, 69 Ala. 269; McDowell v. Brantley, 80 Ala. 173; Page v. Bartlett, 101 Ala. 193.

133 (2083) (2599) (2241) (1885). Presentation of claims; how made; affidavit.—The presentation may be made either to the executor or administrator, or by filing the claim, or a statement thereof, in the office of the judge of probate in which letters were granted, in which case the same must be docketed, with a note of the time of such presentation; and if required, a statement must be given by such judge, showing the time of presentation. But every such claim so presented must be verified by the oath of the claimant or some other person having knowledge of the correctness of the claim, and that the amount claimed is justly due, or to become due, after allowing all proper credits. When a claim is filed by an executor, administrator, guardian, or other trustee, it may be verified by his affidavit that he has made diligent inquiry and examination, and that he believes the amount claimed is justly due, or to become due, after allowing all proper credits. Any defect or insufficiency in the affidavit may be supplied by amendment at any time.

See citations to section 130 (2081).

134 (2084) (2600) (2242) (1886). When revival of suit a presentation.—The revival of any action pending against any person at the time of his death, which by law survives against his personal representative, by notice on the executor or administrator, within twelve months after the grant of letters, shall be considered as a presentation of the claim on which the action is founded.*

See citations to section 130 (2081).

135 (2085) (2601) (2243) (1887). Costs against plaintiff on failure to prove presentation.—In any action against an executor or administrator, commenced after the death of the decedent, if the plaintiff fails to prove a presentation of the claim or demand, he must pay the costs of suit, although he may recover.

grant of letters, protects him, to the extent of the payment, from liability on any other debt against such estate which had not been presented at the time of such payment.*

137 (2087) (2495) (2118) (1791). Payment of debts not due. Any debt not due, which has been presented, may be paid by an executor or administrator after twelve months from the grant of letters, and the provisions of the preceding section include such debts; but such payment must not be made, unless the creditor accept, in discharge of such debt, such an amount as, with interest from the day of payment to the day when such debt is due, would make the amount thereof.*

Claim payable at death, is absolute.—Farris v. Stoutz, 78 Ala. 130.

138 (2088) (2505). Sale or compromise of bad or doubtful claims.—The probate court having jurisdiction of the estate may authorize any executor or administrator to compromise or sell any bad or doubtful claim due the estate, on the written application of the executor or administrator, verified by his affidavit, and stating the facts, supported by evidence satisfactory to the court, that such claim is bad or doubtful, and that a compromise or sale thereof will promote the interests of the estate.

Authority to compound or discharge choses in action.—Butler v. Gazzam, 81 Ala. 491; Waring v. Lewis, 53 Ala. 615; Woolfolk v. Sullivan, 23 Ala. 548; Miller v. Irby, 63 Ala. 477; Van Hoose v. Bush, 54 Ala. 342.

139 (2089) (2505). Hearing of application; sale, and notice thereof.—Such application must not be heard until the next succeeding term after the filing thereof, when, or at such time as the court may continue the hearing, the court, if satisfied that the claim is bad or doubtful, and that a sale or compromise thereof will promote the interests of the estate, must make and enter a decree directing the sale or compromise of the claim, as may be best for the interests of the estate; and if a sale is decreed, it must be made by the executor or administrator at the court-house of the county, at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash, after having first given notice of the time and place thereof by publication, once a week for three successive weeks, in some newspaper published in the county, or if none is published therein, by posting notices for three weeks at the court-house door, and three other public places in the county.

140 (2090) (2506). Report of compromise or sale.—The executor or administrator shall make report, in writing and under oath, of such sale or compromise within thirty days thereafter; and when such report is made, the sale or compromise may be confirmed unless good cause be shown for setting the same aside.

141 (2091) (2432) (2066). When administrator may give note in settlement of debt.—Any executor or administrator, by authority of the probate court given on his written application, may, in his representative capacity, give his note, bond, or bill for the purpose of extending or settling a debt of the decedent, or settling a

SALE OF PERSONAL PROPERTY FOR PAYMENT OF DEBTS AND FOR DISTRIBUTION.

142 (2092) (2433) (2067) (1743). Power of sale conferred.—Any part of the personal property of a decedent, including land-warrants, may be sold by order of the court, on the written application of the executor or administrator, verified by affidavit, in the following cases, unless, in such cases, power to sell is conferred by the will:

1. For the payment of debts.
2. To make distribution among the distributees or legatees.
3. To prevent the waste or destruction of property liable to waste, or of a perishable nature, if it is proved that the sale would be beneficial to the estate.

bate may require; but when the property is perishable, and is so specified in the application, no notice is required, if the judge is satisfied of the truth of the allegations contained in the application.

144 (2094) (2435) (2069) (1745). Application may be contested. Any person interested may appear and contest such application, and show that no sale is required, or that it is more for the interest of the estate that other personal property should be sold.

145 (2095) (2436) (2070) (1746). Notice of sale.—When the application is granted for the sale of any personal property, the executor or administrator must give notice of the day, place and terms of sale, and a description of the property to be sold, by advertisement for three successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county where the sale is to take place, or, if there be no such paper, by posting notice at the court-house door and at three other public places in the county. But when the property is perishable, or the expense of keeping it is very great, the sale may be made after five days' notice, which may be given by one insertion in a newspaper published in the county where the sale is to take place, or, if there be no such paper, by posting at the court-house door and at three other public places in the county. And in addition to the notice herein prescribed, the court may direct the giving of notice by printed handbills, or posters, to be distributed and posted in the manner best calculated to give extended notice of the sale.

146 (2096) (2437) (2071) (1747). Hours of sale.—Such sale must not commence before the hour of eleven in the morning, nor continue longer than four in the afternoon; and, if not completed within those hours, it may be continued from day to day.

147 (2097) (2438, 2444) (2072, 2077) (1748, 1752). Terms of sale.—Such sale may be for cash, or on credit not exceeding twelve months, as the court may direct; and if on credit, notes or bonds, with at least two sufficient sureties, must be taken by the executor or administrator.

When credit given, measure of diligence and care required.—Searcy v. Holmes, 45 Ala. 225. When title passes as against claim of exemption.—Hardin v. Pulley, 79 Ala. 381. No authority to sell without an order of court.—Lay v. Lawson, 23 Ala. 377.

148. When bid rejected and sale postponed.—When the highest amount bid for the property, or any part thereof, is, in the opinion of the executor or administrator, greatly less than its fair value, he may withdraw the property and postpone the sale.

149. Failure of purchaser to comply; resale; deficiency.—If the purchaser fails to comply with the terms of the sale, the executor or administrator may again proceed to advertise and sell the property; and if, on another and a completed sale, the property sells for a less sum than the amount bid at the former sale, the purchaser so in default is liable to the executor or administrator for the deficiency, and also the expense of the resale.

150 (2098) (2439, 2440, 2441) (2261, 2262, 2073) (1901, 1750). Crops commenced by decedent; nature and sale of.—Any crop commenced by a decedent may be completed and gathered by the executor or administrator, and, the expenses of the plantation being deducted therefrom, is assets in his hands, and may be sold by him at private sale, either in or out of the state.

Payment of expenses.—Loeb v. Richardson, 74 Ala. 311; Tayloe v. Bush, 75 Ala. 432; Eubank v. Clark, 78 Ala. 73; Mitcham v. Moore, 73 Ala. 542; Naftel v. Osborn, 96 Ala. 623. When not necessary to complete crops.—Blair v. Murphree, 81 Ala. 454; Wright v. Watson, 96 Ala. 536; Marx v. Nelms, 95 Ala. 304.

151 (2099) (2442) (2074). Sale of stock of goods.—When any person engaged in mercantile business dies, leaving a stock of goods, wares, or merchandise, and leaving no surviving partner in such business, the executor or administrator of his estate may sell such stock of goods, wares, or merchandise, either at public or private sale, by wholesale or retail, upon first obtaining an order for such sale, as hereinafter provided, from the probate court having jurisdiction of the estate.

Mode of procedure.—Harris v. Parker, 41 Ala. 604.

152 (2100) (2443) (2075). Contents of application; when order made.—To obtain such order, the executor or administrator must file in such court an application in writing, verified by his oath, setting forth with reasonable certainty the kind, quantity and estimated value of such goods, wares, or merchandise, and any facts or circumstances that may render it necessary or expedient to sell the same; and if it should appear to the court that it would benefit those interested in the estate that such order should be made, the court must make the same, and may, in its discretion, prescribe such terms and conditions of sale as may seem to the court most advantageous to those interested in the estate; but such sale must be made within one year from the making of such order.

Harris v. Parker, 41 Ala. 604.

153 (2101) (2445) (2078) (1753). Returns of accounts of sales. All accounts of sales of personalty made by the executor or administrator must be returned on oath, within thirty days after such sale, and must be recorded; and such returns may be compelled by attachment.

ARTICLE 7.

RENTING AND SALE OF REAL ESTATE FOR PAYMENT OF DEBTS, AND FOR DIVISION.

154 (2102) (2446) (2076) (1751). Renting of lands; how made. The executor or administrator may rent the decedent's lands at public outcry, or, when the interest of the estate requires it, privately; and such rent is assets; but when lands are rented privately, he must report such renting to the probate court of the proper county within thirty days thereafter.

160 (2108) (2451) (2223) (1869). When notice given by publication.—If such application be for the sale of land for the payment of debts, notice must also be given by publication, once a week for three successive weeks, in some newspaper published in the county, or by posting up notices at the court-house door and three other public places in the county, at the discretion of the court; but if no newspaper is published in the county, notices must be posted as above prescribed.

161 (2109) (2452) (2227) (1871). Publication as to non-residents.—If any of the heirs or devisees reside out of this state, such heirs or devisees may be brought into court by publication, once a week for three successive weeks, in a newspaper published in the county in which the application is made, or if none is published therein, then in the newspaper published nearest to the court-house of such county.

162. Unknown parties; notice; appointment of special guardian; shares paid into court.—If it shall be averred in an application for the sale of lands for the payment of debts or for division, that the names of any of the heirs or devisees are unknown, that the petitioner has made diligent inquiry and cannot ascertain the same, the cause may proceed against them without naming them; but the court must make publication as in case of non-residents, describing such unknown parties as near as may be by the character in which they are made parties and with reference to their interest in the lands sought to be sold, and must appoint a suitable and competent person, not of kin or of counsel to the petitioner, as special guardian to represent such unknown parties. The shares or interests of such unknown parties, in the proceeds of lands sold for division, shall be paid into court and there retained and paid out to the proper parties when ascertained.

163 (2110) (2454) (2224). Duty, authority, and compensation of guardian ad litem and special guardian.—The person appointed to represent minors, or persons of unsound mind, or unknown parties, must deny in writing the allegations contained in the application, and, if necessary, must employ counsel to defend the interests of those he represents. He is entitled to reasonable compensation, to be fixed by the court and taxed and collected as costs.

164 (2111) (2455) (2084) (1758). Sale for payment of debts; proof of insufficiency of personalty.—On the day appointed for hearing an application for the sale of land for the payment of debts, or on any other day to which it is continued, the applicant must show to the court that the personal property of the estate is insufficient for the payment of debts; and such proof must be made by the deposition of disinterested witnesses, and filed and recorded.

Competency and sufficiency of evidence.—Davis v. Tarver, 65 Ala. 98; Garrett v. Bruner, 59 Ala. 513; Alford v. Alford, 96 Ala. 385; Hooper v. Hardie, 80 Ala. 114; Thompson v. Boswell, 97 Ala. 570; (declaring Stevenson v. Murray, 87 Ala. 442, unsound); Garner v. Toney, 107 Ala. 352. Insufficiency of personal property must be shown by personal representative.—Garrett v. Bruner, 59 Ala. 513; Cotton v. Holloway, 96 Ala. 544; Quarles v. Campbell, 72 Ala. 64; Kent v. Mansell, 101 Ala. 334; Pettus v. McClannahan, 52 Ala. 55; Goodwin v. Sims, 86 Ala. 102; Smith v. Brannon, 99 Ala. 445; Meadows v. Meadows, 73 Ala. 356.

165 (2112) (2456) (2086) (1760). When order of sale granted. On the hearing of such application, if the court is satisfied that the personal property of the estate is insufficient to pay the debts, and, when the application is by an executor or administrator with the will annexed, that no power is given by the will for that purpose, the court may direct the sale of all, or such portion of the real estate as may be necessary to pay the debts; and such sale may be had on such credit as the court may direct, not exceeding two years.

166 (2113) (2457) (2228) (1872). Sale of land for division; proof by deposition; order of sale.—The facts stated in an application to sell land for distribution must be proved by the deposition of disinterested witnesses, which must be filed and recorded; and on such proof being made, the court may order a sale of the land, which must be sold on such terms as the court may direct, not exceeding a credit of three years.

Affidavit for taking depositions not essential.—Bozeman v. Bozeman, 83 Ala. 416.

167 (2114) (2458) (2225). When minors, etc., interested, proceedings void, unless testimony taken by deposition.—No order for the sale of land belonging to any estate, whether for the payment of debts, or for division, must be made, when there are minors or persons of unsound mind or unknown parties interested in such estate, unless the probate court has taken evidence by deposition as in chancery proceedings, showing the necessity of such sale; and such evidence must be taken, whether the allegations in the petition are denied or not by the guardian appointed by the court to represent the minors or persons of unsound mind or unknown parties; and any order of sale and sale, made without a compliance with the requisitions of this section, shall be wholly void.

Proceedings void unless testimony taken by deposition.—Pettus v. McClannahan, 52 Ala. 55; Satcher v. Satcher, 41 Ala. 26; Wright v. Ware, 50 Ala. 549; Bland v. Bowie, 53 Ala. 152; Robertson v. Bradford, 70 Ala. 385; (See Quarles v. Campbell, 72 Ala. 64). Record reciting ascertainment of necessity for sale according to statutory procedure cannot be assailed collaterally. Pettus v. McClannahan, 52 Ala. 55; Clark v. Bernstein, 49 Ala. 596; Wright v. Ware, 50 Ala. 549; Bibb v. Bishop, 61 Ala. 326; Massey v. Smith, 73 Ala. 173; Gilchrist v. Shackleford, 72 Ala. 7; Goodwin v. Sims, 86 Ala. 102; Thompson v. Boswell, 97 Ala. 570; Chardavoyne v. Lynch, 82 Ala. 376.

168 (2115) (2459) (2087) (1761). When application to be dismissed; costs.—If, on the hearing of the application, the facts are not proved, the same must be dismissed at the cost of the applicant, for which execution may issue against him and his sureties.

169 (2116) (2460) (2088) (1762). Advertisement of sale.—When the application for the sale of land for the payment of debts or division is granted, and the land directed to be sold, the executor or administrator must give notice of the day, place and terms of sale, and a description of the property to be sold, by advertisement for three successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county where the sale is to take place; and in case of a sale of lands lying in one body, but in more than one county, such notice must be given in each of the counties. If there be no such paper published in the county, or in any county in which notice is required to be given, then, as to the county having no such paper, the notice must be given by posting at the court-house door and at three other public places in the county. And in addition to the notice herein prescribed, the court may direct the giving of notice by printed handbills, or posters, to be distributed and posted in the manner best calculated to give extended notice of the sale.

Failure to give statutory notice does not render sale void on collateral attack.—Matheson v. Hearin, 29 Ala. 210; Field v. Goldsby, 28 Ala. 218; Pollard v. Hanrick, 74 Ala. 334.

170. Hours of sale; when bid rejected and sale postponed; fail- ure of purchaser to comply; resale; deficiency.—Sections 146, 148, and 149 of this Code are applicable to sales of real estate.

171 (2117) (2461) (2089) (1763). How purchase-money secured. The executor or administrator must secure the purchase-money by taking the notes or bonds of the purchaser, with at least two sufficient sureties.

Personal liability of administrator for violating statute.—May v. Green, 75 Ala. 162; Walls v. Grigsby, 42 Ala. 473; James v. Faulk, 54 Ala. 184; Betts v. Blackwell, 2 Stew. & Port. 373; Dean v. Rathbone, 15 Ala. 328; Cruikshank v. Luttrell, 67 Ala. 318.

172 (2118) (2462) (2090) (1764). Place of sale.—Lands may be sold at such place in the county where they lie, as the court may direct; and if they lie in one body, but in more than one county, they may be sold in either of the counties, as the court may direct.

Place as affecting validity of sale.—Matheson v. Hearin, 29 Ala. 210; Brown v. Brown, 41 Ala. 215; Calloway v. Kirkland, 57 Ala. 476; Cruikshank v. Luttrell, 67 Ala. 318; Calloway v. Kirkland, 50 Ala. 401; Bozeman v. Bozeman, 82 Ala. 389.

173 (2119) (2463) (2091) (1765). Return of sales to be made and examined.—The executor or administrator must, within thirty days after such sale, report on oath his proceedings to the court, who must examine the same, and may also examine witnesses in relation thereto.

Report of sale.—Webb v. Ballard, 97 Ala. 584.

174 (2120) (2464) (2092) (1766). When sales set aside.—If, on such examination, the court is satisfied that the sale was not fairly conducted, or that the amount for which the land, or any portion of the same, sold, was greatly less than its real value, the court may vacate such sale, either in whole or in part.

When sale set aside.—Field v. Gamble, 47 Ala. 443; Cruikshank v. Luttrell, 67 Ala. 318; Pettus, v. McClannahan, 52 Ala. 55; Collins v. Johnson, 45 Ala. 548; Smitha v. Flournoy, 47 Ala. 345; Snedicor v. Mobley, 47 Ala. 517. Purchaser cannot have sale set aside.—Bland v. Bowie, 53 Ala. 152. See Pettus v. McClannahan, 52 Ala. 55.

175 (2121) (2465) (2093) (1767). Sales not confirmed until sufficient security is given.—If it is made to appear to the court, previous to the confirmation of such sale, that the sureties taken on the notes or bonds of the purchasers are insufficient, such sale, as to every such purchaser, must not be confirmed until he gives security for the purchase-money to the satisfaction of the court; and if such security is not given, the sale must be vacated as to the purchaser thus failing.

Personal representative individually liable if sufficient security not taken.—May v. Green, 75 Ala. 162; James v. Faulk, 54 Ala. 184; Walls v. Grigsby, 42 Ala. 473.

176 (2122) (2466) (2094) (1768). When resale to be made. When any sale of land is vacated, in whole or in part, according to the provisions of the two preceding sections, the court must direct another sale to be had, which must be advertised and conducted in all respects as is provided for the sale of land under the provisions of this article.

Cruikshank v. Luttrell, 67 Ala. 318; Field v. Gamble, 47 Ala. 443.

177 (2123) (2467) (2095) (1769). When sale confirmed.—Whenever the court is satisfied that such sale was fairly conducted, and the land sold for an amount not greatly less than its real value, and the purchase-money is paid, or sufficiently secured, it must make an order confirming such sale; but such order of confirmation shall not be made until after the expiration of ten days after the report of sale is filed.

Confirmation of sale.—Webb v. Ballard, 97 Ala. 584; Meadows v. Meadows, 81 Ala. 451; Cruikshank v. Luttrell, 67 Ala. 318; Eatman v. Eatman, 83 Ala. 478. When sale void.—McMillan v. Rushing, 80 Ala. 402; Bland v. Bowie, 53 Ala. 152; Stevenson v. Murray, 87 Ala. 442; Robertson v. Bradford, 70 Ala. 385. When a personal representative who has no interest in the estate purchases at his own sale, the sale is void at the election of the heirs, seasonably expressed; but if he has an interest, his purchase will be sustained if made in the ordinary mode and there is no unfairness.—James v. James, 55 Ala. 525; Dugger v. Tayloe, 60 Ala. 504; Anderson v. Bradley, 66 Ala. 263; Foxworth v. White, 72 Ala. 224; Daniel v. Stough, 73 Ala. 379; Feilder v. Childs, 73 Ala. 567; McMillan v. Rushing, 80 Ala. 402; Ligon v. Ligon, 84 Ala. 555; Penny v. Jackson, 85 Ala. 67; Brannan v. Oliver, 2 S. 47; McLane v. Spence, 6 Ala. 894; Montgomery v. Givhan, 24 Ala. 568, 585; Bolling v. Smith, 108 Ala. 411; Bogart v. Bell, 112 Ala. 412; Allison v. Allison, Ala. (21 So. 1008). When the personal representative becomes the purchaser at his own sale, the record must show notice to the heirs of the proceedings after the sale; an order to convey, made without such notice, and a conveyance thereunder, are void, even on collateral attack, whether the representative had an interest or not.—Dugger v. Tayloe, 60 Ala. 504; Anderson v. Bradley, 66 Ala. 263; Ligon v. Ligon, 84 Ala. 555; Bolling v. Smith, 108 Ala. 411; Bogart v. Bell, 112 Ala. 412; Allison v. Allison, Ala. (21 So. 1008). The effect of confirmation.—Wallace v. Nichols, 56 Ala. 321; Cruikshank v. Luttrell, 67 Ala. 318; Farley v. Dunklin, 76 Ala. 530; May v. Marks, 74 Ala. 249; Smith v. Wert, 64 Ala. 34; Fore v. McKenzie, 58 Ala. 115; Lowe v. Guice, 96 Ala. 80. When confirmation presumed.—Smith v. Wert, 64 Ala. 34. Until confirmation and order of conveyance made, title in heirs not divested.—Doe v. Hardy, 52 Ala. 291; Lightfoot v. Lewis, 1 Ala. 475; Cummings v. McCullough, 5 Ala. 324; Bonner v. Greenlee, 6 Ala. 411; Wallace v. Hall, 19 Ala. 367. Conclusiveness of recitals in decree.—Hudgens v. Cameron, 50 Ala. 379; Dugger v. Tayloe, 46 Ala. 320. The court, not the administrator, is the vendor. Pollard v. Hanrick, 74 Ala. 334; Hutton v. Williams, 35 Ala. 503; Wallace v. Hall, 19 Ala. 367; Jennings v. Jenkins, 9 Ala. 285; Perkins v. Winter, 7 Ala. 855.

178. Report of payment of purchase-money.—When lands have been sold on credit, and when the whole of the purchase-money has been paid, the executor or administrator must, within thirty days after such complete payment has been made, report the fact of such payment to the court of probate; and if he fail to do so within the time herein specified, such report may be compelled of him, in the manner provided by sections 180 (2125) and 181 (2126) of this Code.

179 (2124) (2468) (2096) (1770). Conveyance; when, by whom, and to whom made.—After such confirmation, and when the whole of the purchase-money has been paid by the purchaser, or his heirs, or any other person holding under him, directly or derivatively, on the application of such purchaser, or his heirs, or such other person holding under him, or of the executor or administrator, the court must order a conveyance to be made to such purchaser, or to his heirs, or to such other person holding under him, as the case may be, by the executor or administrator, or such other person as the court may appoint, conveying all the right, title and interest which the decedent had, at the time of his death, in such lands; and such order shall operate to vest the right, title and interest of the decedent in such purchaser, or his heirs, or such other person holding under him.

What necessary before title of heirs divested.—Dugger v. Tayloe, 60 Ala. 504; Doe v. Hardy, 52 Ala. 291; Lightfoot v. Lewis, 1 Ala. 475; Cummings v. McCullough, 5 Ala. 324; Bonner v. Greenlee, 6 Ala. 411; Wallace v. Hall, 19 Ala. 367; Ketchum v. Creagh, 53 Ala. 224; May v. Marx, 74 Ala. 249; Wilburn v. McCalley, 63 Ala. 436; Corbitt v. Clenny, 52 Ala. 480; Wallace v. Nichols, 56 Ala. 321; Ligon v. Ligon, 84 Ala. 555; Gardner v. Kelsoe, 80 Ala. 497. Landford v. Dunklin, 71 Ala. 594. A conveyance executed, without the order of the court, is not operative to pass title.—Doe v. Hardy, 52 Ala. 291; Landford v. Dunklin, 71 Ala. 594; Nelson v. Murfee, 69 Ala. 598; McCully v. Chapman, 58 Ala. 325; Tyson v. Brown, 64 Ala. 244; Cruikshank v. Luttrell, 67 Ala. 318; Ketchum v. Creagh, 53 Ala. 224; Van Hoose v. Bush, 54 Ala. 342; Pruitt v. Holly, 73 Ala. 369. When court may authorize person other than personal representative to convey.—Pollard v. Hanrick, 74 Ala. 334. When the administrator becomes the purchaser at his own sale, the heirs are entitled to notice of his application for conveyance; order to convey, made without such notice, and conveyance thereunder, are void, even on collateral attack. Dugger v. Tayloe, 60 Ala. 504; Anderson v. Bradley, 66 Ala. 263; Ligon v. Ligon, 84 Ala. 555; Bolling v. Smith, 108 Ala. 411; Bogart v. Bell, 112 Ala. 412; Allison v. Allison, Ala. (21 So. 1008).

180 (2125). When purchaser or party claiming under him may cite executor or administrator to report sale.—If the executor or administrator fail, within the time required by law, to report any sale of lands made by him under the provisions of this article, the purchaser, or his heirs, or any other person claiming under him, directly or derivatively, may, by motion in the probate court, have citation to issue to such executor or administrator, citing him to appear within twenty days from the date of the service of the citation, and report the sale; and if such executor or administrator is then a non-resident of the state, or his place of residence is unknown to the party asking for the citation, the court, on affidavit being made of either of these facts, must cause service of such citation to be made by publication, once a week for three successive weeks, in some newspaper published in the county, or if none is published therein, in the newspaper published nearest the court-house of such county.

Decree without notice is void.—Dugger v. Tayloe, 60 Ala. 504; Anderson v. Bradley, 66 Ala. 263; Mead v. Larkin, 66 Ala. 87; Ligon v. Ligon, 84 Ala. 555; May v. Marks, 74 Ala. 249. Who may ask for conveyance by administrator.—Anderson v. Bradley, 66 Ala. 263.

181 (2126). Proceedings when executor or administrator fails to obey citation.—If the executor or administrator fails to appear and report the sale, as required by such citation, the probate court must, on the day such executor or administrator is cited to appear, or on such other day as may be set by the court, proceed to hear evidence touching the regularity of the sale, the compliance with the terms of sale, and the adequacy of the price bid for the lands; and if from the evidence the court is satisfied that the sale was regular and fair, that the purchase-money has been paid or secured, according to the terms of sale, and that the amount bid at the sale is an adequate price for the lands, an order confirming the sale, and, if the sale was for cash, and the purchase-money has been paid, designating and authorizing some person to convey the title to the lands to the party entitled thereto, must be made.

See citation to preceding section.

182 (2127) (2469) (2229) (1873). With widow's consent, dower may be sold.—In all cases where, under the provisions of this article, the lands of a decedent can be ordered to be sold by the probate court, the widow may file in the office of the judge of probate her written consent, that her dower interest in the land may be sold, so as to vest in the purchaser the complete title; and thereupon, the court must order such dower interest to be sold with the residue of the lands.

Dower interest cannot be sold, unless by written consent of widow, and purchaser acquires no title.—Bradford v. Bradford, 66 Ala. 252; Jenks v. Terrell, 73 Ala. 238; Clancy v. Stephens, 92. Ala. 577.

183 (2128) (2470, 2471) (2230, 2231) (1874, 1875). Value of dower interest; how fixed and paid.—When the sale is confirmed, the court, on the application of the widow, must make an order that a fair equivalent for the dower interest be paid to her by the personal representative, when the purchase-money is collected, the value of such interest to be ascertained by proof, having regard to the age and health of the widow, but in no case to exceed one-sixth of the purchase-money.

Inchoate right of dower, how estimated.—Gordon v. Tweedy, 71 Ala. 202; Sherard v. Sherard, 33 Ala. 488; Martin v. Wharton, 38 Ala. 637; Beavers v. Smith, 11 Ala. 20; Gordon v. Tweedy, 74 Ala. 232.

184 (2129) (2472) (2128). Mistake in description of lands sold under order of probate court; how corrected.—When a mistake has been made in the description of lands of a decedent sold in good faith under an order of the probate court, either in the petition, order, or other proceedings, the court ordering the sale has authority, on the written application of the purchaser, or his heirs or personal representatives, or any person holding under him, verified by affidavit, to correct such mistake. The application must contain a correct description of the lands sold, and must state the facts, and the names, ages and places of residence of the personal representative and heirs or devisees of such decedent, if known, and if there be no personal representative, that fact must be stated; and, upon the filing of such application, the court must appoint a day for the hearing, of which, and of the nature of the application, notice must be given, by personal service, to the personal representative of such decedent, and such of his heirs as are of age, and are of sound mind, if residents of the state, at least twenty days before the day appointed for the hearing, and also by publication, once a week for three successive weeks, in some newspaper published in the county, or if none is published therein, in a newspaper published nearest to the courthouse thereof. If there is no personal representative of the estate of such decedent, the court must appoint an administrator ad litem to represent the estate in such proceeding; and the court must also appoint a guardian ad litem for such of the heirs or devisees as are under the age of twenty-one years, or are of unsound mind.

When court has authority to correct mistake.—Brown v. Williams, 87 Ala. 353; Lee v. Williams, 85 Ala. 189.

185 (2130) (2472) (2128). Decree on such application.—If, upon the hearing, the court is satisfied from the evidence adduced, that the sale of such lands was made in good faith, and that a mistake was made in the description of the lands sold, as stated in the application, a decree must be made and entered, correcting the mistake; and if the purchase-money has been fully paid, and a deed executed, the court must order the personal representative, or, if there be none, the administrator ad litem, to execute to the party making the application a new deed, conveying to him the lands according to the description as corrected.

186 (2131) (2473) (2129). Evidence of title on application to sell lands.—In applications to the probate court for the sale of lands, the patent or deed shall be sufficient evidence to authorize the court to proceed and hear the application.

187 (2132) (2507) (2132). Jurisdiction to sell or divide land received on compromise.—Real estate received by an executor or administrator in payment of any bad or doubtful claim, on a compromise of such claim made under an order of the probate court, may be distributed by the court having jurisdiction of the estate, by sale or division, upon the same proceedings as are had for the sale or division of real estate of decedents; but such real estate, or the proceeds thereof, if sold, must otherwise be treated and distributed as personal property.

ARTICLE 8.

SALE AND PARTITION OF PARTNERSHIP LANDS IN WHICH A DECEDENT HAD AN INTEREST AS PARTNER.

188 (2295). Sale or partition of lands in which decedent had an interest as partner; jurisdiction declared.—Whenever a member of any partnership dies, leaving the business thereof unsettled, whether such partnership had been dissolved or not at the time of his death, and there are lands, the property of the partnership, or of the partners as tenants in common, or in which the partnership, or the partners as tenants in common may have any interest growing out of the partnership business, the probate court having jurisdiction of the estate, in cases of intestacy, or where the will does not grant such power to any person, or does not prohibit the grant of such power to the executor or administrator, has jurisdiction to confer upon the executor or administrator of such decedent, on his application in writing, duly verified by oath, general authority to join the surviving partner, or partners, in privately selling and conveying any or all of such lands, or any interest therein, whenever it may be necessary or to the advantage of the estate to sell the same for the payment of the debts of the partnership; and also to agree with such surviving partner, or partners, as to the partition of all such lands, or such part thereof as may not be sold, and to execute and receive all such conveyances as may be necessary to perfect such partition.

189 (2296). Contents of application.—Such application must describe the lands as to which such authority is sought, must state the interest of the deceased partner therein, the probable value of such interest, after the payment of the debts of the partnership, the names and places of residence of the heirs or devisees, and whether any, and, if so, which of them are under the age of twenty-one years, or are persons of unsound mind, or are married women. Any person interested in the estate of such decedent may contest the application.

190 (2297). Day fixed for hearing; guardian ad litem; notice. Upon the filing of such application, the court must appoint a day, not less than forty days thereafter, for the hearing of the same, must appoint a proper person guardian ad litem to represent such of the heirs or devisees as are minors or of unsound mind, and must issue a citation to such of the heirs or devisees as are of full age and reside in this state, notifying them of the application and of the day appointed for its hearing, which must be served on them ten days before the hearing. Notice of the application, and of the day appointed for the hearing, must also be given by publication, once a week for three successive weeks, in some newspaper published in the county, or if none is published therein, then in the newspaper published nearest the court-house of such county; and if any of the heirs or devisees reside out of, or are then absent from the state, such publication shall be sufficient to bring them into court.

191. Unknown parties.—If any of the heirs or devisees are unknown, they may be made parties in the manner provided by section 162, which is applicable to proceedings under this article.

192 (2298). Duty, authority and compensation of guardian ad litem and special guardian.—The person appointed to represent minors, or persons of unsound mind, or unknown parties, must deny in writing the allegations contained in the application, and, if necessary, must employ counsel to defend the interests of those he represents. He is entitled to reasonable compensation, to be fixed by the court and taxed and collected as costs.

193 (2299). Hearing and decree.—On the day appointed for the hearing, or on any other day to which it may be continued, the court must proceed to hear and determine the application; and if the allegations of the application are proved to its satisfaction by competent evidence, the court may grant an order conferring upon the executor or administrator the authority authorized by the provisions of this article.

194 (2300). How testimony taken when minors or persons of unsound mind are interested.—If any of the heirs or devisees are minors or of unsound mind, or unknown parties, such order must not be made, unless evidence has been taken as in chancery cases, showing that such application should be granted; and such evidence must be taken whether the guardian ad litem, or special guardian, denies the truth of the allegations of the application or not, and must be recorded; and any order granted without a compliance with the provisions of this section shall be wholly void.

195 (2301). When application dismissed; costs.—If, on the hearing of the application, the facts are not proved, it must be dismissed at the cost of the executor or administrator, for which execution may issue against him and his sureties.

196 (2302). Record of order when granted.—If such order is granted, it shall be the duty of the executor or administrator to have a certified copy thereof recorded, within three months thereafter, in the office of the judge of probate of each county in which any part of such lands may be situated.

197 (2303). Report of conveyances made; when conveyances confirmed, and when vacated.—The executor or administrator must, within sixty days after making or receiving any conveyance under the provisions of this article, report on oath his proceedings to the court, which must examine the same, and may also examine witnesses in relation thereto; and if, upon such examination, the court is satisfied that such proceedings were fairly conducted, and that the interests of the estate are not unduly prejudiced thereby, it must make an order confirming the same, and must indorse upon each conveyance so made by the executor or administrator, upon its presentation to the court, a certificate of such confirmation, and the date thereof, which shall be evidence of such confirmation, and must be recorded with the conveyance; but if the court is not so satisfied as to any such conveyance, it must vacate the same, and thereupon the authority granted to the executor or administrator shall continue in force.

198 (2304). Title vested by conveyance.—Any conveyance made by the executor or administrator, and confirmed by the probate court, under the provisions of this article, shall have the effect of vesting in the party to whom it is made all the right, title and interest that the deceased partner may have had in the lands conveyed at the time of his death.

199 (2305). Lands subject to administration, and may be conveyed to heirs or devisees.—Any lands conveyed to the executor or administrator of a deceased partner, under the provisions of this article, shall be subject to administration in all respects as if the full legal title thereto had been vested in him at the time of his death; and the probate court shall have authority, upon proper application and due proof, to order the executor or administrator, or any other person it may appoint, to convey the same, or a proper interest therein, to the heirs or devisees of such decedent.

200 (2306). Authority may be continued in successor without application.—The authority conferred under the provisions of this article shall remain in the executor or administrator only so long as he continues as such; but the probate court may, without application therefor, make an order continuing such authority in his successor, if it shall consider him a suitable person to exercise the same.

ARTICLE 9.

SETTLEMENTS AND DISTRIBUTIONS.

201 (2133) (2508) (2136) (1801). Partial settlements; when to be made.—Every executor or administrator must make annual settlements of his administration; and he may, when necessary for the interests of the estate, be required to make a settlement at any time.

Annual settlement is not conclusive, but subject to examination on final settlement.—Tayloe v. Bush, 75 Ala. 432; Ditmar v. Bogle, 53 Ala. 169; Scruggs v. Orme, 46 Ala. 533; McCreelis v. Hinkle, 17 Ala. 459; Smith v. Smith, 13 Ala. 329; Thompson v. Hunt, 22 Ala. 517; Jones v. Jones, 42 Ala. 218; Daughdrill v. Daughdrill, 108 Ala. 321. Cannot be converted into a final settlement.—King v. Collins, 21 Ala. 363; Wharton v. Moragne, 59 Ala. 641; Sims v. Waters, 65 Ala. 442; Daughdrill v. Daughdrill, 108 Ala. 321.

202 (2134) (2528) (2157) (1821). Final settlement; when may be made.—A final settlement may be made at any time after twelve months from the grant of letters, if the debts are all paid, and the condition of the estate, in other respects, will admit of it.*

Final settlement within eighteen months after grant of letters, void. Matthews v. Douthitt, 27 Ala. 273; Williamson v. Mason, 18 Ala. 87. Decree on final settlement.—Merrill v. Jones, 2 Ala. 192; Jones v. Jemison, 4 Ala. 632; Davis v. Davis, 6 Ala. 611; Harrison v. Harrison, 9 Ala. 470; Shortridge v. Easley, 10 Ala. 520; Slatter v. Glover, 14 Ala. 648; Brazier v. King, 16 Ala. 730; Carroll v. Moore, 7 Ala. 615; Petty v. Wafford, 11 Ala. 143; Rhodes v. Turner, 21 Ala. 210; Hollis v. Coughman, 22 Ala. 478; Watson v. Hutto, 27 Ala. 513; Griffin v. Griffin, 40 Ala. 296; Cook v. Cook, 69 Ala. 294; Watt v. Watt, 37 Ala. 543; Barnett v. Tarrence, 23 Ala. 463; Allman v. Owen, 31 Ala. 167; Moore v. Lesuerur, 33 Ala. 237; Perkins v. Moore, 16 Ala. 9; King v. Brown, 108 Ala. 68; Daughdrill v. Daughdrill, 108 Ala. 321; Waring v. Lewis, 53 Ala. 615; Hall v. Pegram, 85 Ala. 522; Hatcher v. Dillard, 70 Ala. 343. Administration pending, right of distributees to settlement.—Hooper v. Smith, 57 Ala. 557; Chighizola v. LeBaron, 21 Ala. 406; Alexander v. Steele, 84 Ala. 332; Masterson v. Girard, 10 Ala. 60; Sankey v. Elsberry, 10 Ala. 455; Jackson v. Rowell, 87 Ala. 685. Administrator occupying antagonistic positions, decree on settlement.—Vaughan v. Suggs, 82 Ala. 357; Hays v. Cockrell, 41 Ala. 75; Tankersly v. Pettis, 61 Ala. 354; Alexander v. Alexander, 70 Ala. 212; Cleere v. Cleere, 82 Ala. 581; Ex parte Lyon, 60 Ala. 650; Clark v. Head, 75 Ala. 373; Bruce v. Strickland, 47 Ala. 192; Alexander v. Steele, 84 Ala. 332; Hutton v. Williams, 60 Ala. 107. What not ground for deferring.—Ditmar v. Bogle, 53 Ala. 169; Gayle v. Elliott, 10 Ala. 264; Alexander v. Fisher, 18 Ala. 374; Simmons v. Price, 18 Ala. 405; Ligon v. Ligon, 84 Ala. 555; Tarver v. Tankersley, 51 Ala. 309; Waring v. Lewis, 53 Ala. 615. When final settlement does not discharge administrator.—Ligon v. Ligon, 84 Ala. 555; Simmons v. Price, 18 Ala. 405; Tarver v. Tankersley, 51 Ala. 309. Compelling administrator to make settlement.—Vincent v. Daniel, 59 Ala. 602; Waring v. Lewis, 53 Ala. 615; Alexander v. Steele, 84 Ala. 332; Hooper v. Smith, 57 Ala. 557; Cook v. Cook, 69 Ala. 294; Chighizola v. LeBaron, 21 Ala. 406; Eatman v. Eatman, 82 Ala. 223. Party complaining should show an interest in estate.—Vincent v. Daniel, 59 Ala. 602. Bill to remove administration into chancery court may be filed at any time after grant of letters.—Baker v. Mitchell, 109 Ala. 490.

203 (2135) (2509) (2137) (1802). Settlements; account; vouchers and statement of heirs or legatees.—In making settlements of an administration, the executor or administrator must proceed as follows:

1. He must make out an account between himself and the estate he represents, charging himself with all the assets of the deceased which have come into his possession, except the lands, and crediting himself with all the credits he is by law entitled to; which account, verified by his oath, must be filed with the judge of probate of the court having jurisdiction.

*"Eighteen" changed to "twelve" by joint committee.

2. With such account he must also file the vouchers and written evidence in his possession, on which he relies to sustain the credit side of such account.

3. He must, at the same time, file a statement, on oath, of the names of the heirs and legatees of such estate, specifying particularly which are under the age of twenty-one years; and if any of them are married women or persons of unsound mind, it must be stated; but if the names, ages, or condition of such heirs or legatees are unknown, and they reside out of the state, they may be made parties as unknown heirs or legatees.

Statement of heirs, and parties to settlements.—Boyett v. Kerr, 7 Ala. 9; Eddings v. Long, 10 Ala. 203; Reynolds v. Reynolds, 11 Ala. 1023; Hall v. Andrews, 17 Ala. 40; McConico v. Cannon, 25 Ala. 462; Thomas v. Dumas, 30 Ala. 83; Hutton v. Williams, 60 Ala. 107; Otis v. Dargan, 53 Ala. 178; McMullen v. Brazelton, 81 Ala. 442; Walker v. Jones, 23 Ala. 448; Eddings v. Long, 10 Ala. 203; Clack v. Clack, 20 Ala. 461; Watt v. Watt, 37 Ala. 543; Sims v. Waters, 65 Ala. 442.

204 (2136) (2511) (2139) (1804). Damages for failure to file such statement.—If such statement is not filed, the executor or administrator and his sureties are liable for all damages arising therefrom.

205 (2137) (2510) (2138) (1803). Appointment of guardian ad litem.—The court must appoint a competent person as guardian ad litem to represent the interests of minors, and persons of unsound mind, interested in such settlement.

Settlement without guardian ad litem, voidable.—Frierson v. Travis, 39 Ala. 150; Wilson v. Wilson, 18 Ala. 176; McCreeliss v. Hinkle, 17 Ala. 459; King v. Collins, 21 Ala. 363; Cunningham v. Poole, 9 Ala. 615; Hutton v. Williams, 60 Ala. 133; Turrentine v. Daly, 82 Ala. 205; Modawell v. Hudson, 80 Ala. 265; Alexander v. Alexander, 70 Ala. 353; Petty v. Britt, 46 Ala. 491; Willis v. Willis, 16 Ala. 652. No necessity for guardian ad litem when general guardian appears.—Smith v. Smith, 21 Ala. 761; King v. Collins, 21 Ala. 363; Morgan v. Morgan, 35 Ala. 303; Jones v. Fellows, 58 Ala. 343; Hatcher v. Dillard, 70 Ala. 343. Record must show that infants were represented by guardian or guardian ad litem.—Clack v. Clack, 20 Ala. 461; Jenkins v. Jenkins, 16 Ala. 693; Searcy v. Holmes, 43 Ala. 608; Petty v. Britt, 46 Ala. 491; Morris v. Morris, 58 Ala. 443. Settlement with infant represented by guardian ad litem, binding.—Stabler v. Cook, 57 Ala. 22; Waring v. Lewis, 53 Ala. 615; Preston v. Dunn, 25 Ala., 507; Hunt v. Ellison, 32 Ala. 173; Dow v. Whitman, 36 Ala. 604; Trawick v. Trawick, 67 Ala. 271. Guardian ad litem must accept appointment and be present at settlement.—Laird v. Reese, 43 Ala. 148.

206 (2138) (2512) (2140) (1805). Day appointed for settlement; notice.—Upon the filing of such account, vouchers, evidence and statement, the judge of probate must appoint a day for such settlement, and must give notice of the same by publication in some newspaper published in the county, for three successive weeks; or, if none is published therein, by posting such notice at the courthouse and three other public places in such county, for the same length of time; but if the settlement be only an annual one, publication shall only be given by posting up notices as above provided.

Record must show that parties in interest had notice.—Bruce v. Strickland, 47 Ala. 192; Frierson v. Travis, 39 Ala. 150; Willis v. Willis, 16 Ala. 652; Jenkins v. Jenkins, 16 Ala. 693; Searcy v. Holmes, 43 Ala. 608. What is legal notice.—Bruce v. Strickland, 47 Ala. 192; Otis v. Dargan, 53 Ala. 178;

Stabler v. Cook, 57 Ala. 22; McRee v. McRee, 34 Ala. 165; Frierson v. Travis, 39 Ala. 150; Allen v. Martin, 34 Ala. 442; s. c., 36 Ala. 330; Jenkins v. Jenkins, 16 Ala. 693. Settlement without notice invalid.—Bruce v. Strickland, 47 Ala. 192; Laird v. Reese, 43 Ala. 148; Searcy v. Holmes, 43 Ala. 608; Carter v. Carter, 53 Ala. 365. Notice of annual settlement will not authorize final distribution.—King v. Collins, 21 Ala. 363; Whorton v. Moragne, 59 Ala. 641; Sims v. Waters, 65 Ala. 442; Daughdrill v. Daughdrill, 108 Ala. 321.

207 (2139) (2513) (2141) (1806). Contents of notice.—Such notice must state the name of the executor or administrator, the name of the deceased, the day appointed for settlement, and the nature of the settlement, whether annual or final.

King v. Collins, 21 Ala. 363; Sims v. Waters, 65 Ala. 442. See citations to preceding section.

208 (2140) (2514) (2142) (1807). On waiver of publication, notice given by posting.—If the heirs or legatees are of age, and waive publication in a newspaper, notice must, in such case, be given by posting the same at the court-house door.

209 (2141) (2515, 2516, 2517) (2143, 2144, 2145) (1808, 1809, 1810). Auditing of account; proof of credits.—On the day appointed, or any other day to which the settlement is continued, the court must proceed to examine and audit the account; and, on such auditing, the executor or administrator must produce satisfactory proof of the correctness of each item on the credit side of the account, which may be made by the affidavit or oral examination of witnesses, or by any other legal evidence.

Proof of credits claimed by representative.—Jenks v. Terrell, 73 Ala. 238; Teague v. Corbitt, 57 Ala. 529; Savage v. Benham, 11 Ala. 49; Wright v. Wright, 64 Ala. 88; McDonald v. Carnes, 90 Ala. 147; Morgan v. Morgan, 35 Ala. 303; Henderson v. Simmon, 33 Ala. 291; Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227; Gaunt v. Tucker, 18 Ala. 27; Martin v. Ellerbe, 70 Ala. 326; Landreth v. Landreth, 9 Ala. 430; Jackson v. Wood, 108 Ala. 209; Daughdrill v. Daughdrill, 108 Ala. 321; Harwood v. Pearson, 60 Ala. 410; Dickie v. Dickie, 80 Ala. 57. Error on final settlement, how shown on appeal.—King v. Brown, 108 Ala. 68.

210 (2142) (2520) (2148) (1813). Liability for interest or profits; exculpatory oath.—If any executor or administrator uses any of the funds of the estate for his own benefit, he is accountable for any profit made thereon, or legal interest; and in making out his account for a settlement, he must state the sum so used, the time, and the profit resulting from such use, if over legal interest; or he must expressly deny on oath that he has so used such funds; and any party interested may contest the same.

Liability, how avoided.—McCreeliss v. Hinkle, 17 Ala. 459; Clack v. Clack, 20 Ala. 461; Hollis v. Caughman, 22 Ala. 478; Bendall v. Bendall, 24 Ala. 295; Farmer v. Farmer, 26 Ala. 671; Roundtree v. Snodgrass, 36 Ala. 185; Harrison v. Harrison, 39 Ala. 489; Ivey v. Coleman, 42 Ala. 409; Nunn v. Nunn, 66 Ala. 35; Clark v. Knox, 70 Ala. 607; Clark v. Hughes, 71 Ala. 163; May v. Green, 75 Ala. 162; Englehardt v. Yung, 76 Ala. 534; Johnson v. Holifield, 82 Ala. 123; American Mtg. Co. v. Boyd, 92 Ala. 139; Eubank v. Clark, 78 Ala. 73; Ditmar v. Bogle, 53 Ala. 169; Smyley v. Reese, 53 Ala. 89; Moody v. Hemphill, 71 Ala. 169; Benagh v. Turrentine, 60 Ala. 557; Kent v. Mansel, 101 Ala. 334. Covers period allowed by law for keeping funds of estate; if settlement unreasonably delayed, representative liable for interest though he make the affidavit.—Clark v. Knox, 70 Ala. 607; Clark v. Hughes, 71 Ala. 163; May v. Green, 75 Ala. 162; Englehardt v. Yung, 76 Ala. 534; Eubank v. Clark, 78 Ala. 73; Mims v. Mims, 39 Ala. 716; Harrison v. Harrison, 39 Ala. 489; American Mtg. Co. v. Boyd, 92 Ala. 139. Representative prima facie chargeable with interest and must discharge himself by oath.—Brazaele v. Brazaele, 9 Ala. 491; Parker v. McGaha, 11 Ala. 521; King v. Cabaniss, 12 Ala. 598; McCreeliss v. Hinkle, 17 Ala. 459; Hollis v. Caughman, 22 Ala. 478; Roundtree v. Snodgrass, 36 Ala. 185; Smyley v. Reese, 53 Ala. 89. Affidavit that he has always had on hand a sum equal to the trust fund, but not denying the use of the trust fund, insufficient to relieve from interest.—Farmer v. Farmer, 26 Ala. 671; Harrison v. Harrison, 39 Ala. 489; Ivey v. Coleman, 42 Ala. 409; Owen v. Peebles, 42 Ala. 338. He is chargeable with interest on trust funds mixed with his own.—Ivey v. Coleman, 42 Ala. 409; Ditmar v. Bogle, 53 Ala. 169; Key v. Boyd, 10 Ala. 154; DeJarnette v. DeJarnette, 41 Ala. 708; Henderson v. Henderson, 58 Ala. 582. And on the value of the rents and hires of property used by him.—Harrison v. Harrison, 39 Ala. 489. And on moneys misappropriated.—Moody v. Hemphill, 71 Ala. 169; Harris v. Parker, 41 Ala. 604; Foley v. Leva, 101 Ala. 395; Bass v. Bass, 88 Ala. 408; Parks v. Parks, 66 Ala. 326. And on debts which he negligently failed to collect.—Smyley v. Reese, 53 Ala. 89; Harris v. Parker, 41 Ala. 604; Alexander v. Steele, 84 Ala. 332. And on moneys which he neglected to lend.—Nunn v. Nunn, 66 Ala. 35; Foscue v. Lyon, 55 Ala. 440; s. c. 60 Ala. 468; Moore v. Randolph, 70 Ala. 575. Affidavit may be made on settlement; if parties surprised, continuance proper.—Bendell v. Bendell, 24 Ala. 295.

211 (2143) (2519) (2147) (1812). Contest of account; evidence in support thereof.—Any person interested may appear and contest any item of the account, and may examine the executor or administrator, or any other witness, and may introduce any legal evidence, in support of his contest.

Who are parties in interest.—Owens v. Thurmond, 40 Ala. 289; Eatman v. Eatman, 82 Ala. 223; Byrd v. Jones, 84 Ala. 336. Manner of contesting. Cummings v. Bradley, 57 Ala. 224; Robertson v. Black, 74 Ala. 322; Waller v. Ray, 48 Ala. 468.

212 (2144) (2519) (2147) (1812). Depositions; how taken, and when admissible.—The depositions of witnesses may be taken on interrogatories, and read in evidence, by any party to the settlement, in the same cases, for the same causes, and under the same rules, as depositions are taken and read in civil actions in common-law courts.

213 (2145) (2521) (2149) (1814). Costs of contests; by whom paid.—If any item, as charged by the executor or administrator, is reduced or not allowed, the costs of the contest in relation to such item must be paid by the executor or administrator; otherwise, by the party contesting.

Rule for taxing costs.—Jones v. Deyer, 16 Ala. 221; Henderson v. Renfro, 31 Ala. 101; Bendall v. Bendall, 24 Ala. 295; Anderson v. Anderson, 37 Ala. 683; Teague v. Corbitt, 57 Ala. 529; Moody v. Hemphill, 71 Ala. 169.

214 (2146) (2522) (2150) (1815). Items may be withdrawn on paying costs.—The executor or administrator may, before the decision of the court on any item, withdraw the same; but in such case he must pay the costs of the contest as to such item.

215 (2147) (2523) (2152) (1816). Account to be stated and recorded.—On auditing the account, the court must state the same, and render a decree passing it as stated; and the same must be recorded.

The statement of account, rights of parties in auditing.—Bendall v. Bendall, 24 Ala. 295; Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227; Taylor v. Kilgore, 33 Ala. 214; Moody v. Hemphill, 71 Ala. 169.

216 (2148) (2529). Proceedings, etc., when representative guardian of distributee.—The jurisdiction of the probate court to make partial or final settlements or distributions of the estates of decedents, is not affected by the fact that the executor or admintrator making the settlement is also guardian of any heir or distributee, devisee, or legatee of the decedent; but in such case, the court must appoint a special guardian, without bond, to represent such heir or distributee, devisee, or legatee, on the settlement and distribution; and upon final settlement, any decree to which such ward may be entitled must be rendered against the executor or administrator in the name of the special guardian, for the use of the ward; and thereafter the executor or administrator, in the capacity of guardian, shall be accountable for such decree. The special guardian shall be entitled to reasonable compensation for his services, and for the services of counsel properly employed, to be allowed by the court, and to be paid by such general guardian out of the estate of the ward.

Jurisdiction and remedy.—Carswell v. Spencer, 44 Ala. 204; Tankersly v. Pettis, 61 Ala. 354; Bruce v. Strickland, 47 Ala. 192; Vincent v. Martin, 79 Ala. 540; Cleere v. Cleere, 82 Ala. 581; Hutton v. Williams, 60 Ala. 107.

217 (2149) (2531) (2159) (1823). Previous settlements presumed to be correct.—Upon the final settlement, any item of account included in any previous settlement may be re-examined; but its allowance in the previous settlement is presumptive evidence of its correctness.

Onus on distributee, on final settlement, to overcome this presumption. Dickie v. Dickie, 80 Ala. 57; Newberry v. Newberry, 28 Ala. 691; Ditmar v. Bogle, 53 Ala. 169; Ashley v. Martin, 50 Ala. 537; Bentley v. Dailey, 87 Ala. 406; Holman v. Sims, 39 Ala. 709. Partial settlements prima facie correct. Smith v. Smith, 13 Ala. 329; Jones v. Jones, 42 Ala. 218; Thompson v. Hunt, 22 Ala. 517; Ditmar v. Bogle, 53 Ala. 169; Radford v. Morris, 66 Ala. 283; Bentley v. Dailey, 87 Ala. 406; Tayloe v. Bush, 75 Ala. 432. Must conform to requirements of statute.—McCreeliss v. Hinkle, 17 Ala. 459; Jones v. Jones, 42 Ala. 218; Radford v. Morris, 66 Ala. 283.

218 (2150) (2532) (2160) (1824). When representative chargeable with other items.—Upon final settlement, any person contesting may also show that the executor or administrator has failed to charge himself with, or to account for all the assets of the decedent received by him, or that he has failed to collect the same, or any portion thereof; or that by any abuse of, or failure to discharge his trust, such assets, or any portion thereof, have been depreciated, injured, or destroyed.

219 (2151) (2533) (2161) (1825). Compensation to executors or administrators.—Executors and administrators may be allowed such commissions on all receipts and disbursements by them, as such, as may appear to the probate court a fair compensation for their trouble, risk and responsibility, not to exceed two and one-half per cent. on the receipts, and the same percentage on the disbursements; and the court may also allow actual expenses, and, for special or extraordinary services, such compensation as is just.

Compensation and commissions on receipts and disbursements.—Allen v. Martin, 34 Ala. 442; Wright v. Wilkerson, 41 Ala. 267; Moore v. Randolph, 70 Ala. 575; Newberry v. Newberry, 28 Ala. 691; Neilson v. Cook, 40 Ala. 498; Beadle v. Steele, 86 Ala. 413; Key v. Jones, 52 Ala. 238; Phillips v. Thompson, 9 Port. 664; Carroll v. Moore, 7 Ala. 615; Watson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 231. When allowed for services as an attorney.—Harris v. Martin, 9 Ala. 895; Bendall v. Bendall, 24 Ala. 295; Bates v. Vary, 40 Ala. 421; Teague v. Corbitt, 57 Ala. 529; Moore v. Randolph, 70 Ala. 575; Clark v. Knox, 70 Ala. 608; Clark v. Eubank, 80 Ala. 584; Smyley v. Reese, 53 Ala. 89; Ditmar v. Bogle, 53 Ala. 169; Munden v. Bailey, 70 Ala. 63; Taylor v. McCall, 71 Ala. 52; Jones v. Deyer, 16 Ala. 221; Holman v. Sims, 39 Ala. 709; Williamson v. Mason, 23 Ala. 488; Pinckard v. Pinckard, 24 Ala. 250; Harris v. Parker, 41 Ala. 604; Pickens v. Pickens, 35 Ala. 442; Anderson v. Anderson, 37 Ala. 683; Henderson v. Simmons, 33 Ala. 291; Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227; Mims v. Mims, 39 Ala. 716; Smith v. Kennard, 38 Ala. 695.

220 (2152) (2534) (2162). Commissions on property and money distributed.—Upon the appraised value of all personal property, and the amount of money and solvent notes distributed by executors or administrators, they shall be allowed the same commissions as upon disbursements.

221 (2153) (2535) (2163) (1826). How personal property of estate of inhabitant of another state disposed of.—When administration is taken out in this state on the estate of any person who, at the time of his death, was an inhabitant of any other state or country, his personal estate, after the payment of debts and charges on his estate, must be disposed of according to his last will, if probated in this state; and if no such will is probated in this state, according to the law of the state or country of which he was an inhabitant.

222 (2154) (2536) (2164) (1827). Distribution of such estate. Upon the settlement of such estate, and after the payment of all debts for which the same is liable in this state, the residue of the personal estate may be distributed and disposed of according to the provisions of the preceding section; or it may be transmitted or paid over to the executor or administrator of the state or country where the deceased had his domicil.

223 (2155) (2524) (2153) (1817). When settlement compelled by attachment, or account stated by court.—Any executor or administrator may be required by citation to file his accounts and vouchers, and to make a settlement; and if, after service of the citation, he fails to file his accounts and vouchers for a settlement by the day named in the citation, the probate court may compel him to do so by attachment, or may proceed to state the account against him from the materials on file, or such other information as may be accessible, charging him with such assets as may have come to his hands.

Parties, procedure, and jurisdiction.—Blackwell v. Vastbinder, 6 Ala. 218;

Vincent v. Daniel, 59 Ala. 602; Cook v. Cook, 69 Ala. 294; Spence v. Savery, 25 Ala. 723; King v. Shackleford, 13 Ala. 435; State v. Judge, 15 Ala. 740; Simmons v. Price, 18 Ala. 405; Croft v. Ferrell, 21 Ala. 351; Chighizola v. LeBaron, 21 Ala. 406; George v. Goldsby, 23 Ala. 326; Howard v. Howard, 26 Ala. 682; Matthews v. Douthitt, 27 Ala. 273.

224 (2156) (2525, 2526) (2154, 2155) (1818, 1819). When account stated, to be audited and restated; citation and notice. After stating such account, the court must issue citation to such executor or administrator, to appear on a day therein named, and file his accounts and vouchers for settlement, or that the account so stated will be passed, which must be served on him at least ten days before the day named therein; and must also give notice of such settlement by publication, as in case of settlements voluntarily made by executors and administrators; and if, on the day named, such executor or administrator fails to appear and file his accounts and vouchers for settlement, as required by law, the court must proceed to examine the account so stated, and audit, and, if necessary, restate the same.

When court to compel a settlement.—Sankey v. Sankey, 6 Ala. 607; Duffee v. Buchanan, 8 Ala. 27; Petty v. Wafford, 11 Ala. 143; Ashley v. Ashley, 15 Ala. 15; Harrison v. Harrison, 9 Ala. 470; Ditmar v. Bogle, 53 Ala. 169; George v. Goldsby, 23 Ala. 326; Vincent v. Daniel, 59 Ala. 602; May v. Carlisle, 68 Ala. 135; Hooper v. Smith, 57 Ala. 557. See also citations to preceding section.

225 (2157). Proceedings on settlement of such account.—On the day appointed for auditing such account, any person may attend on the part of such executor or administrator, and show that he is entitled to additional credits; and any person interested may attend and contest any item of such account, or in any previous account; or may show assets not accounted for; or that such executor or administrator has failed to collect any assets from want of due diligence; or that, by any abuse of, or failure to discharge his trust, such assets, or any portion thereof, have been injured, destroyed, or depreciated; and in case of such proof, the executor or administrator must be charged therewith; and upon such settlements, decrees must be rendered as upon settlements voluntarily made.

226 (2158) (2527) (2156) (1820). Decree set aside on filing accounts before settlement.—If, however, such executor or administrator appears and files his accounts and vouchers for settlement and pays such costs as have accrued upon the proceedings had under the three preceding sections, the court may set aside such decree, and proceed as if none had been rendered.

227 (2159) (2644). When credit allowed for expenses of minor distributees.—When the estate of a decedent is solvent, the executor or administrator, out of the assets in his hands, may defray the necessary and reasonable expenses of maintaining and educating minors who are entitled to distribution therein, and who have no legal guardian; and upon any partial or final settlement by him the probate court must allow him credit for such expenses, to be charged against the shares of such minors, and deducted therefrom on any distribution of the estate.

Advances made by administrator for distributees.—Cary v. Simmons, 87 Ala. 524.

228 (2160) (2645). Separate accounts and vouchers for such expenses.—An executor or administrator, defraying such expenses, must file with his account for a settlement a separate account of the amounts paid therefor on account of each of such minors, accompanied by proper vouchers, showing the amounts, and for what expended.

Cary v. Simmons, 87 Ala. 524.

229 (2161) (2530) (2158) (1822). Distribution to be made on final settlement.—On the final settlement of an estate, the court may make such orders of distribution as may be necessary; and, on the confirmation of the same, may render a decree thereon, and the property must be delivered according to such decree; or if there is money only to be divided, it may render a decree in favor of each distributee entitled to the same, for his distributive share, against the executor or administrator.

Parties to, and decrees on settlement.—Davis v. Davis, 6 Ala. 611; Sankey v. Sankey, Ib. 607; Graham v. Abercrombie, 8 Ala. 552; Key v. Vaughn, 15 Ala. 497; Green v. Fagan, Ib. 335; Kavanaugh v. Thompson, 16 Ala. 817; Reynolds v. Reynolds, 11 Ala. 1023; Thomas v. Dumas, 30 Ala. 83; Simmons v. Knight, 35 Ala. 105; Petty v. Wafford, 11 Ala. 143; Frazier v. Praytor, 36 Ala. 691; Rhodes v. Turner, 21 Ala. 210; Slatter v. Glover, 14 Ala. 648; Hollis v. Caughman, 22 Ala. 478; Watts v. Watts, 37 Ala. 543; Davis v. Davis, 10 Ala. 299; King v. Brown, 108 Ala. 68. Married woman's distributive share should be decreed to her alone.—King v. Brown, supra. See also citations to section 202 (2134).

230 (2162) (2496) (2119) (1792). Orders of distribution; by whom executed.—All orders of distribution must be directed to five disinterested persons appointed by the court, must specify the property to be divided, the persons, and their respective shares, and must require them to return their proceedings on a day specified in such order.

231 (2163) (2497) (2120) (1793). Distribution to be made and returned.—The persons therein named, or a majority of them, must proceed to make distribution according to such order, having first taken an oath to make such distribution fairly and impartially, if the same can be made, which oath may be administered by the executor or administrator, and must return their proceedings in writing, signed by them, to the court by the day specified in such order.

232 (2164) (2498) (2121) (1794). When property cannot be divided.—If the property cannot be divided equitably without a sale of all or some portion thereof, the commissioners must so report.

233 (2165) (2499) (2122) (1795). Exceptions to commissioners' report.—Any person may file exceptions to the report of the commissioners within thirty days after the day appointed for the return; or if returned at any time thereafter, within thirty days after the return.

234 (2166) (2500) (2123) (1796). Distribution set aside or confirmed; when sale of property ordered.—The court, for cause shown on such exceptions, or otherwise, may set aside such distribution and direct another distribution; or, if the same is just, may confirm it; or, if it appears from such report that the property cannot be equitably divided without a sale of all or some portion thereof, it may direct a sale of all, or any portion of the personal property.

Order of sale for purposes of distribution.—Hamlet v. Johnson, 26 Ala. 557; Harris v. Parker, 41 Ala. 604.

235 (2167) (2501) (2124) (1797). Sale; how advertised and made.—Such a sale must be advertised and made as sales of personal property under the order of the court for the payment of debts.

236 (2168) (2502) (2125) (1798). Property delivered on confirmation.—Upon the confirmation of any order of distribution, the executor or administrator must deliver the property to the persons entitled thereto.

237 (2169) (2503) (2126) (1799). Division of claims.—Any judgments or claims in favor of the estate, which are not collected at the time of final distribution, may be divided among the persons entitled, on final distribution; or, if such division cannot be equitably made, may be sold as other personal property.

As to moneyed decree under this section.—Offutt v. Nance, 42 Ala. 243.

238 (2170) (2504) (2127) (1800). Assignment of such judgments or claims.—The executor or administrator must assign any such judgment or claim to the distributee, legatee, or purchaser, as the case may be; and such person is entitled to collect the same by suit or otherwise.

239 (2171). When indebtedness of distributees set off against their shares; defense.—If, on final settlement, any distributee or legatee owes the estate any debt, contracted with the decedent in his lifetime, or with the executor or administrator in his representative capacity, the court shall allow the same in favor of the executor or administrator, as a set-off against the distributive share of such distributee or legatee, and shall decree satisfaction of his distributive share to the extent of such debt or demand; but the distributee or legatee may make any defense to the set-off that would be available to him in a direct proceeding for the recovery of the debt.

240 (2172). No judgment, in such case, for excess; but balance may be collected by suit.—In no case, however, shall a decree be rendered in favor of the executor or administrator against such distributee or legatee for the excess, when the debt is greater in amount than the distributive share; nor shall the executor or administrator be prevented from prosecuting a suit in the proper court for any excess that may be due him from such distributee or legatee.

241 (2173) (2537, 2590) (2165, 2232) (1876). Settlement after representative's death, removal, or resignation.—When an executor or administrator dies, resigns, or is removed, or his letters are revoked, or his authority ceases from any cause, he must, within one month after his authority ceases, or, in case of his death, his personal representative must, within six months after the grant of letters, file his accounts, vouchers and statement of the heirs and legatees for, and must make final settlement of the administration of such executor or administrator; of which settlement notice must be given in the same manner, and such settlement must be conducted and governed, except as herein otherwise provided, by the same rules and provisions of law, as other final settlements by executors or administrators.

Remedy against sureties.—Martin v. Ellerbe, 70 Ala. 326; Stallworth v. Farnham, 64 Ala. 259; Woods v. Legg, 91 Ala. 511. Who are proper parties on such settlements.—Waller v. Ray, 48 Ala. 468; Hatchett v. Billingslea, 65 Ala. 16; Hays v. Cockrell, 41 Ala. 75; Whitworth v. Oliver, 39 Ala. 286; Buchanan v. Thomason, 70 Ala. 401; Sampey v. Sowell, 93 Ala. 447.

242 (2174) (2538) (2166). Remaining or succeeding executor or administrator a party; notice.—The remaining or succeeding executor or administrator of the estate of the decedent, if there be one, must be made a party to such settlement, and, if a resident of this state, must have personal notice of the time of making the same served on him, at least ten days before the day appointed therefor.

243 (2175) (2591) (2233) (1877). Decree against representative for balance.—If there remains any act of administration to be done, other than making settlement and distribution, or payment of legacies, and there is a remaining or succeeding executor or administrator, a decree must be rendered in his favor for the amount found due on such settlement, and for the delivery of any personal property in the hands of the executor or administrator whose authority has ceased, or, if dead, of his personal representative; but if more than twelve months have elapsed from the original grant of letters, and there remains no other act of administration to be done than making distribution or payment of legacies, and the estate is solvent, the court must at once proceed to decree distribution or payment of legacies directly to those entitled; or, if in the case last mentioned there are money assets in the hands of the outgoing executor or administrator, or, if dead, of his personal representative, in excess of a sum sufficient for the payment of debts and expenses of further administration, such excess must be distributed, or legacies paid therefrom, directly to those entitled, without passing through the hands of the remaining or succeeding administrator.*

244 (2176) (2539) (2167). Decree against remaining or succeeding executor or administrator.—If, on such settlement, a balance is ascertained to be due from the estate of such decedent to the deceased or outgoing executor or administrator, the probate court may, if twelve months have elapsed from the grant of original letters, render a decree in favor of the outgoing executor or administrator, or, if dead, of his personal representative, against the remaining or succeeding executor or administrator, for such balance; and if the estate is solvent, payment thereof may be enforced by execution against him, to be levied on any effects of such estate in his hands unadministered; but if the estate is insolvent, such decree is to be paid as other claims against insolvent estates; and if such balance, or any part thereof, is for expenses of administration necessarily incurred, such balance, or such part thereof as may be for such expenses, shall be a preferred claim against such estate, and shall be paid as other preferred claims are paid.*

Cunningham v. Beard, 44 Ala. 317.

245 (2177) (2540) (2168). When execution may be stayed.—The probate court may stay execution on any decree rendered under the provisions of the preceding section, for any time, not exceeding six months, if, in the judgment of the court, the interest of the estate requires extension.

Stay of execution, when ordered.—Cunningham v. Beard, 44 Ala. 317.

246 (2178) (2592) (2234) (1881). Settlement against outgoing or deceased representative compelled, or account stated.—If such outgoing executor or administrator, or, if dead, his personal representative, fails to make settlement within the time required by this article, the court may, of its own motion, or on the application of any party in interest, compel him to do so by attachment, or may state the account against him from the materials on file, or such other information as may be accessible to the court, charging him, or his personal representative, with such assets as may have come to the hands of such executor or administrator.

247 (2179) (2593) (2235) (1879). When account examined, audited and restated; notice and citation.—After stating such account, the court must issue citation to such executor or administrator, or if dead, to his personal representative, to appear on a day therein named, and file his account and vouchers for settlement, or that the account so stated will be passed, which must be served on him, or if dead, on his personal representative, at least ten days before the day named therein; and must also give notice of such settlement by publication, as in case of final settlements voluntarily made by executors or administrators; and if, on the day named, such executor or administrator, or if dead, his personal representative, fails to appear and file his accounts and vouchers for settlement, as required by law, the court must proceed to examine the account, audit, and, if necessary, restate the same.

248 (2180) (2594) (2236) (1880). Proceedings on final settlement of such account.—On the day appointed for auditing such account, any person may attend, on the part of such executor or administrator, or if dead, of his personal representative, and show that he is entitled to additional credits; and any person interested may attend and contest any item of such account, or in any previous account; or may show assets not accounted for; or that such executor or administrator has failed to collect any assets from want of due diligence; or that, by any abuse of, or failure to discharge his trust, such assets, or any portion thereof, have been injured, destroyed or depreciated; and in case of such proof, the executor or administrator, or if dead, his personal representative, must be charged therewith. On such settlements, decrees must be rendered as upon like settlements voluntarily made.

249 (2181). Decree set aside on filing accounts before settlement.—If, however, such executor or administrator, or if dead, his personal representative, appears and files his accounts and vouchers for settlement, and pays such costs as have accrued upon the proceedings had under the three preceding sections, the court may set aside such decree, and proceed as if none had been rendered.

250 (2182) (2596) (2238) (1882). Proceedings no bar to other suits.—The proceedings for the settlement of the accounts of deceased or outgoing executors or administrators, provided for in this article, do not prevent any action by the remaining or succeeding executor or administrator, or by any other person entitled thereto, against such executor or administrator, or his personal representative, for any property remaining in his hands, or for any other cause of action.

251 (2183) (2541) (2169). Arbitration of controversies on settlement of estates.—On the settlement of the estate of a decedent, when such estate is free from debt, the probate court in which such settlement may be pending has authority to refer all matters of controversy arising in such settlement to arbitration, if, in the opinion of the court, the interests of the parties can be best subserved thereby, and the parties, or their attorneys, consent thereto.

Holdsombeck v. Fancher, 112 Ala. 469.

252 (2184) (2542) (2170). Guardian may consent for ward.—If any person interested in such estate be an infant, or of unsound mind, his guardian shall have authority to consent to the reference to arbitration, which consent must be in writing, and when so given, shall be binding on such person as fully and effectually as if he was of full age or of sound mind.

253 (2185) (2543) (2171). Number and qualifications of arbitrators.—The arbitrators must not exceed three in number, and must be entirely disinterested, and must be appointed by order of the probate court.

254 (2186) (2544) (2172). Award to be made in writing.—The arbitrators must make their award in writing, and, within ten days after making the same, they must return it to such court; and, if approved by the court, it must be entered of record, and shall be final and conclusive upon all the parties. But such award must not be approved until after the expiration of ten days from the time it is returned to the court.

255 (2187) (2545) (2173). When award to have effect of a judgment.—If such award, or any part thereof, be for the payment of money, it shall, when approved and entered of record, have the force and effect of a judgment at law in favor of the person to whom the money may be awarded; and execution may issue thereon as in other cases.

256 (2188) (2546) (2174). When award may be set aside.—If such award be not approved by the court, it must be set aside; and the court may refer the matters again to the same or other arbitrators.

257 (2189) (2547) (2175). Objections to award; proceedings thereon.—Any of the parties may, within ten days after such award has been returned to the court, file objections to the same; and if objections are filed, the court must appoint a day, not less than thirty days from the filing of such objections, to hear and determine the same, notice of which must be given as now required by law in cases of applications for final settlements of the estates of decedents by executors or administrators.

258 (2190) (2548) (2176). Sections applicable.—Sections 511 (3224), 512 (3225), 514 (3227), 515 (3228), 516 (3229), 517 (3230), 518 (3231), and 520 (3235) of this Code are made applicable to the settlement of estates by arbitration.

ARTICLE 10.

PAYMENT OF LEGACIES, AND PARTIAL DISTRIBUTION BEFORE FINAL SETTLEMENT.

259 (2191) (2474) (2097) (1771). Distribution before final settlement.—When the executor or administrator is satisfied that the estate is solvent, he may at any time, so report it, and obtain an order of distribution as to the whole, or any part of the property; but in such case, if the order is made before a final settlement of such estate, the order and proceedings thereon are not a defense in any action brought against such executor or administrator as such.

When estate to be settled.—Williamson v. Mason, 18 Ala. 87; Walker v. Johnson, 82 Ala. 347; Jackson v. Rowell, 87 Ala. 685; Horton v. Averett, 20 Ala. 719; Hallett v. Allen, 13 Ala. 554; Austin v. Jordan, 35 Ala. 642; Whitfield v. Woolf, 5 Ala. 202; Handley v. Heflin, 84 Ala. 600.

260 (2192) (2475) (2098) (1772). When payment of legacies may be compelled.—After the expiration of twelve months from the grant of letters testamentary, or of administration with the will annexed, if there are more than sufficient assets in the hands of such executor or administrator to pay the debts of the deceased, any legatee may apply to the probate court of the county in which letters were granted, to compel the payment of his legacy; and a widow who has dissented from her husband's will, or her personal representative, if she is dead, shall have like remedy to compel the payment of the distributive share to which she may be entitled.*

When application not granted.—Smith v. Hall, 20 Ala. 777; Chighizola v. LeBaron, 21 Ala. 406; McReynolds v. Jones, 30 Ala. 101; McAllister v. Thompson, 32 Ala. 497; Sankey v. Elsberry, 10 Ala. 455; Johnston v. Fort, 30 Ala. 78.

*"Eighteen" changed to "twelve" by joint committee.

261 (2193) (2476) (2099) (1773). Contents of application.—The application for such purpose must be in writing, verified by affidavit, must set forth the applicant's claim, and must allege a sufficiency of assets in the hands of such executor or administrator to pay the same, after discharging the debts of the testator, charges on his estate, and other legacies entitled to priority of payment.

262 (2194) (2477) (2100) (1774). Day fixed for hearing; citation to representative.—The court must appoint a day for hearing such application, and a citation must be issued and served on the executor or administrator, notifying him of the grounds of such application, and of the day appointed for hearing the same, ten days before such day.

263 (2195) (2478) (2101) (1775). When court may direct payment of legacy, on giving refunding bond.—On the day appointed, or on any other day to which the hearing of the application may be continued, the court must hear the same, and if it appears that the applicant is a legatee, and that, after the payment of his legacy, there will be a sufficiency of assets to pay all the debts which have been presented, charges and other legacies which are entitled to priority, the court may direct the payment or delivery of such legacy, or any part thereof, according to the proof of assets, and of the other legacies in the same degree with that of the applicant, on the legatee executing a refunding bond according to the provisions of the next section.

264 (2196) (2479) (2102) (1776). Terms and conditions of refunding bond.—Such refunding bond must be payable to the executor, or administrator with the will annexed, and must be in double the amount directed to be paid, or in double the value of the property to be delivered, to be ascertained by the appraisement or other evidence satisfactory to the court, with at least two sufficient sureties, conditioned to refund the amount paid, or to return the property, or pay the value thereof, with interest on such amount or value from the time the same was received, should the assets prove insufficient to discharge the other debts presented, and charges, and other legacies entitled to priority of payment.

When refunding bond must be given.—Johnson v. Fort, 30 Ala. 78; Rowland v. Day, 17 Ala. 681; Erwin v. Ferguson, 5 Ala. 167; Whitfield v. Woolf, 51 Ala. 202; Horton v. Averett, 20 Ala. 719.

265 (2197) (2481) (2104) (1777). How payment of legacy enforced.—If the legacy is not payable in money, the value thereof, as ascertained under the preceding section, must be entered of record; and if the amount directed to be paid, or the property directed to be delivered, is not paid or delivered within sixty days after such order, an execution may issue for such amount, or the value of such property, against such executor, or administrator, and his sureties.

In equity.—Walker v. Johnson, 82 Ala. 347.

266 (2198) (2480) (2103). What provisions applicable to widow. The five sections next preceding apply to the widow who has dissented from her husband's will, and seeks to compel the payment of her distributive share, or if she is dead, to her administrator or executor.

267 (2199) (2482) (2105) (1778). Distribution made on application after twelve months.—The court may also, in cases of intestacy, make an order of distribution out of the assets of the decedent, on the application of any person entitled to distribution, after twelve months from the grant of letters.*

Application must conform to statute.—Johnston v. Fort, 30 Ala. 78; Gunn v. Howell, 27 Ala. 663; Harrison v. Harrison, 9 Ala. 470; Harrison v. Meadors, 41 Ala. 274; Ward v. Oates, 42 Ala. 225.

268 (2200) (2483) (2106) (1779). Contents of application.—Such application must be in writing, verified by affidavit; must specify the share to which the applicant is entitled, and must allege that the assets of the decedent are more than sufficient to pay the debts of the decedent, and the charges on his estate.

269 (2201) (2484) (2107) (1780). Day fixed for hearing; citation.—A day must be appointed for the hearing of such application, and a citation must be issued and served on the administrator ten days before the day appointed, notifying him of the grounds of the application, and the day of hearing the same.

See citations to section 267, (2199).

270 (2202) (2485, 2486) (2108, 2109) (1781, 1782). Order of distribution; when made.—On the day appointed, or on any other day to which the application may be continued, if the court is satisfied from the evidence that the assets are more than sufficient to pay the debts and charges, it may make an order of distribution for such portion of the distributive share of the applicant as may be authorized by the evidence; but in making such order, the court must not exceed the share to which the applicant would be entitled on a final settlement and distribution.

Harrison v. Meadows, 41 Ala. 274.

271 (2203) (2486) (2109) (1782). Order made on giving refunding bond; terms and conditions of such bond.—Such order must not in any case be made, unless the applicant give a refunding bond, with two sufficient sureties, to be approved by the judge of probate, payable to the administrator, in double the amount distributed to the applicant, or in double the value of his share of the property directed to be distributed, to be ascertained by the appraisement or other evidence, and entered of record, and conditioned to refund the amount directed to be paid, or to return the property received on such distribution, or to pay the value thereof and interest on such amount or value from the time the same was received, if the assets are insufficient to discharge the debts and charges against the estate.

Johnson v. Fort, 30 Ala. 78.

272 (2204) (2487) (2110) (1783). Costs.—If any application made under the provisions of this article is determined against the applicant, he must pay the costs.

*"Eighteen" changed to "twelve" by joint committee.

273 (2205) (2488) (2111) (1784). Bond recorded; transcript evidence.—All refunding bonds provided for in this article must be recorded by the judge of probate, and then delivered to the executor or administrator; and a transcript of any such bond as recorded, duly certified, is evidence to the same extent as the original would have been, if produced.

274 (2206) (2489, 2490) (2112, 2113) (1785, 1786). For whom such bond a security.—Such refunding bond stands as security for the executor or administrator, should the assets in his hands, after any payment of money or delivery of property under the order of the court, prove insufficient to pay the debts, claims and charges against the estate, and the executor or administrator pays the same; and also as security for the creditors of the estate; and any creditor may sue thereon.

Alexander v. Fisher, 18 Ala. 374.

275 (2207) (2491) (2114) (1787). Suits and recoveries on such bond.—The extent of the recoveries on such bond is the amount or value of property received by the legatee or distributee, and interest on such amount or value from the date of its receipt; and the value of property received may be proved by the entry of record, made according to the provisions of this article, or other evidence; and such bond may be sued on from time to time, in the name of any person aggrieved, until the whole amount of the liability, as determined by this section, is recovered.

276 (2208) (2492) (2115) (1788). Rights of parties to such bonds among themselves.—Any party making a payment on any refunding bond taken under this article may recover against the parties to any other refunding bond such an amount as shall be in the same proportion to the amount collected from the plaintiff, as the amount of money and value of the property delivered on both bonds bear to the amount of money or property delivered on the bond of the defendant.

277 (2209) (2493) (2116) (1789). Order made after twelve months protects representative.—The order of the court, made after twelve months from the grant of letters, on the application of any legatee or person entitled to distribution, is a protection to the executor or administrator, to the extent of the amount or value of the legacy or share ordered to be paid or distributed.*

ARTICLE 11.

KEEPING ESTATES TOGETHER.

278 (2210) (2602) (2263) (1902). Continuing plantation and employing laborers.—The probate court may authorize the executor or administrator, on application made, and good cause shown, to keep the real and personal estate, or any portion thereof, together for such length of time as the court may deem advisable, not exceeding ten years, and employ laborers to cultivate, improve, keep in repair, and carry on the plantation belonging to the estate.

When administrator should be allowed expenses and compensation for properly maintaining estate.—Craig v. McGehee, 16 Ala. 41; Harris v. Martin, 9 Ala. 895; Gerald v. Bunkley, 17 Ala. 170; Stewart v. Stewart, 31 Ala. 207; Pickens v. Pickens, 35 Ala. 442; Hinson v. Williamson, 74 Ala. 180; Pinckard v. Pinckard, 24 Ala. 250; Waller v. Ray, 48 Ala. 468; Cannon v. Copeland, 43 Ala. 259; Ivey v. Coleman, 42 Ala. 409; Smith v. Kennard, 38 Ala. 695; Clopton v. Jones, 38 Ala. 121. Keeping estate together without order of court.—Harrison v. Harrison, 39 Ala. 489; Glenn v. Glenn, 41 Ala. 571; Hinson v. Williamson, 74 Ala. 180; Steele v. Knox, 10 Ala. 608; Loeb v. Richardson, 74 Ala. 311; McCreeliss v. Hinkle, 17 Ala. 459; Morgan v. Nelson, 43 Ala. 586; Stewart v. Stewart, 31 Ala. 207. Final settlement.—Sampey v. Sowell, 93 Ala. 447.

279 (2211) (2603) (4431). Time extended for good cause shown. Whenever any executor or administrator has kept an estate together, under the order of the probate court, for ten years, the time may be extended annually, upon application and good cause shown, if the court is of the opinion that the interest of such estate demands such extension.

280 (2212) (2604) (2264). When distributed share kept and worked with undivided portion of estate.—When a share or shares of real or personal property of any decedent is or are set apart or distributed to any widow, heir at law, or distributee of such decedent, and it appears to the satisfaction of the court that it is to the interest of the parties interested in the estate that such share or shares should be kept and worked together with such estate remaining undivided, the probate court, upon the application of the executor or administrator, and of the owner or owners of such share or shares, may order the executor or administrator to keep such share or shares, and work the same, together with the estate remaining undivided, for a term not exceeding ten years; but such order must not be granted, if in conflict with the will of the testator.

281 (2213) (2605) (2265). Distributee's share of proceeds; how paid or enforced.—The executor or administrator must pay, at the end of each year, to the owner or owners of such share or shares a proportionate share of the profits arising from such estate, and is entitled to a credit for the same; but if it shall appear, on a settlement of his accounts, that he has not paid the same, a decree therefor in favor of such owner or owners must be rendered by the probate court.

On failure to receive proceeds of share. Bowen v. Montgomery, 48 Ala. 353.

282 (2214) (2606) (2266). Authority to administrator to hire laborers to cultivate plantation.—The probate court has power to grant orders authorizing administrators, in cases of intestacy, to hire a sufficient number of laborers to keep up and cultivate the plantations of their intestates, where it is deemed by the court advisable to order the same to be kept together for a term of years.

Compensation.—Craig v. McGehee, 16 Ala. 41; Harris v. Martin, 9 Ala. 895; Savage v. Benham, 11 Ala. 49.

283 (2215) (2606) (2266). Application for such order; notice and report.—Before granting such order, the court must require the administrator to file a petition under oath, setting forth the facts upon which the application is based; and, upon the filing of such petition, the court must appoint a day for the hearing of the same, and must give ten days notice thereof by advertisement in some newspaper published in the county; or if there is no newspaper published therein, then by posting the notice at the court-house door; and on the day appointed, the court must proceed to hear and determine the same upon the evidence adduced by the petitioner, or the other parties in interest, and any other evidence that the court may, in its discretion, cause to be adduced; and unless good cause be shown to the contrary, the court must grant such order, and must require the petitioner to return a written report of such hiring under oath, on or before a day specified in such order.

284 (2216) (2607) (2267) (1903). Real estate cultivated, but dower reserved.—When the estate of any decedent is kept together, the real estate may be cultivated under the direction of the executor or administrator; but the dower of the widow must in all cases be reserved.

285 (2217) (2608) (2268) (1904). Only kept together when not in conflict with will.—The provisions of the preceding sections of this article must not be so construed as to conflict with the will of the testator.

286 (2218) (2609, 2610) (2269, 2270) (1905, 1906). Annual settlement of such estates.—The executor or administrator must make annual settlements of such estates, as required in other cases, and in such settlements he must show how such estate has been managed, crop made, expenses incurred, and the disposition of all moneys received; and he must also show the amounts appropriated and expended for each and every person entitled to any distribution from such estate.

Effect of failure to make annual settlement.—Craig v. McGehee, 16 Ala. 41; Hall v. Wilson, 14 Ala. 295; Powell v. Powell, 10 Ala. 900. Jurisdiction to require settlements.—Savage v. Benham, 11 Ala. 49.

287 (2219) (2611) (2271) (1907). Filing accounts, etc.; notice and contest.—The account and vouchers, evidence and statement of the heirs and legatees must be filed, notice given, and contest made, in the same manner as on annual settlements in other cases.

288 (2220) (2612) (2272) (1908). Settlement compelled; account stated by the court.—Such settlement may be compelled by attachment, or the probate court may proceed in the same manner as in other cases when an executor or administrator, being cited to make a settlement, fails to do so.

289 (2221) (2613) (2273) (1909). What rights not affected. The provisions of this article in relation to keeping estates together must not be so construed as to affect the rights of creditors, or to prevent any legatee or distributee from receiving his proportion of the estate on his arriving at full age.

INSOLVENT ESTATES.

290 (2222) (2549) (2177) (1828). Order of payment of debts. When the real and personal property of any decedent is insufficient for the payment of the debts, the proceeds arising from the sale thereof must be distributed as directed by section 126 (2079) in proportion to the amounts due to each class of creditors, in the order in such section specified.

291 (2223) (2550) (2178) (1829). When and by whom estate reported insolvent.—Whenever the executor or administrator of any estate is satisfied that the property of the estate is insufficient to pay its debts, he must file with the judge of probate of the court having jurisdiction of the estate a report in writing, that such estate is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, insolvent.

Declaration of insolvency.—Banks v. Speers, 97 Ala. 560; Steele v. Weaver, 20 Ala. 540; Clark v. West, 5 Ala. 117; Lee v. Leachman, 22 Ala. 452; Heydenfeldt v. Towns, 27 Ala. 423; Hine v. Hussey, 45 Ala. 496; Black v. Black, 20 Ala. 401; Life Association v. Neville, 72 Ala. 517; Hullett v. Hood, 109 Ala. 345. Effect of judgments and decrees.—Lee v. Leachman, 22 Ala. 452; Watts v. Gayle, 20 Ala. 817; Banks v. Speers, 97 Ala. 560; see 23 Ala. 523-794; Heydenfeldt v. Towns, 27 Ala. 423; Brazeale v. Brazeale, 9 Ala. 491; Chandler v. Wynne, 85 Ala. 301; Randle v. Carter, 62 Ala. 95; Hullett v. Hood, 109 Ala. 345; McGehee, v. Lomax, 49 Ala. 131; Lambert v. Mallet, 50 Ala. 73; Balkum v. Harper, 50 Ala. 429; Thames v. Herbert, 61 Ala. 340; Thornton v. Moore, 61 Ala. 347; Dolan v. Dolan, 89 Ala. 256. Premature payment of debt.—Jackson v. Wood, 108 Ala. 209; Hullett v. Hood, 109 Ala. 345; Prior v. Davis, 109 Ala. 117. Parties to insolvency proceedings.—Randle v. Carter, 62 Ala. 95; McGuire v. Shelby, 20 Ala. 456; Bank v. Ellis, 30 Ala. 478; Lambeth v. Garber, 6 Ala. 870; Edwards v. Gibbs, 11 Ala. 292; Hine v. Hussey, 45 Ala. 496; Eubank v. Clark, 78 Ala. 73. Dower and homestead.—Banks v. Speers, 97 Ala. 560; Corr v. Shackleford, 68 Ala. 241; Norton v. Norton, 94 Ala. 481; Kilgore v. Kilgore, 103 Ala. 614. Removal of settlement into equity.—Dolan v. Dolan, 91 Ala. 152; Corr v. Shackleford, 68 Ala. 241; Shackleford v. Bankhead, 72 Ala. 476; Hardin v. Pulley, 79 Ala. 381; Wright v. Dunklin, 83 Ala. 317. When report of insolvency forms a good plea in bar.—Shiver v. Rousseau, 68 Ala. 564; Dangaix v. Lunsford, 112 Ala. 403.

292 (2224) (2551) (2179) (1830). Statements to be filed with report.—He must file with such report—

1. A statement of all the goods and chattels, evidences of debt, and other personal property, with the estimated value of each, and the amount of money belonging to such estate.

2. A full statement of the real property of the deceased, or any interest therein, and the local situation and estimated value thereof.

3. A full statement of the claims against the estate which have come to his knowledge, the character and amount of each claim, and the name and residence of each creditor, if known.

Contents of report of insolvency.—Raines v. Raines, 30 Ala. 425; Feagan v. Kendall, 43 Ala. 628. Refusal to declare insolvent, when no bar to second application.—Feagan v. Kendall, 43 Ala. 628.

293 (2225) (2552) (2180) (1831). Report and statement to be verified by affidavit.—Such report and statement must be accompanied by an affidavit of the executor or administrator to the effect that they are correct, to the best of his knowledge, information and belief.

See citations to preceding section.

294 (2226) (2553) (2181) (1832). Day fixed for hearing; notice, how given.—The probate court, on the filing of such report and statements, must appoint a day, not less than thirty, nor more than sixty days therefrom, to hear and determine the same; and must give notice to the creditors of the estate of the filing of the report, and the day appointed to hear and determine the same, by publication, once a week for three successive weeks, in some newspaper published in the county, or if none is published therein, in the newspaper published nearest to the court-house of such county, and by posting such notice at the court-house door for the same length of time, and by forwarding such notices by mail to all creditors whose places of residence are known.

295 (2227) (2554) (2182) (1833). Hearing of such report.—Upon the day appointed, or on any other day to which the hearing is continued, the court must proceed to hear and determine such report.

296 (2228) (2555, 2558) (2183, 2186) (1834, 1837). Issue of insolvency; trial by jury.—Any creditor, or other person interested in the estate, may make an issue as to the correctness of such report, by denying in writing that the estate is insolvent, which issue must be tried by a jury on the application of either party; but only one issue must be made, in which any number of the creditors may join at any time before the determination thereof.

297 (2229) (2556, 2557) (2184, 2185) (1835, 1836). When report dismissed; payment of costs.—If such issue is decided against the executor or administrator, the report must be dismissed, and execution for the costs may issue against him and his sureties; but if it is decided in his favor, the costs must be paid by the contesting creditor, or out of the estate, as the court may direct.

298 (2230) (2559, 2560) (2187, 2188) (1838, 1839). When declared insolvent; settlement ordered; notice, how given.—If no creditor contests the correctness of the report, or if the issue is decided against him, the court must declare the estate insolvent, and must make an order for the executor or administrator, on a day therein named, not less than thirty, nor more than sixty days therefrom, to appear and make a settlement of his administration; and of such order, and of the day appointed for such settlement, notice must be given by the judge of probate as is required by section 294 (2226).

Proceedings in rem.—Hine v. Hussey, 45 Ala. 496. Jurisdiction attaches on filing report.—Hine v. Hussey, 45 Ala. 496; Hayes v. Collier, 47 Ala. 726. Effect of decree of insolvency is to transfer to the probate court exclusive jurisdiction of all claims against the estate.—Edwards v. Gibbs, 11 Ala. 292; Shiver v. Rousseau, 68 Ala. 564; Sharp v. Herrin, 32 Ala. 502; Ray v. Thompson, 43 Ala. 434; McEachin v. Reid, 40 Ala. 410; Thames v. Herbert, 61 Ala. 340. It merely ascertains the status of the estate, as between the personal representative and creditors of the estate; not affecting the rights of legatees or next of kin.—Randle v. Carter, 62 Ala. 95; McGuire v. Shelby, 20 Ala. 456; Thames v. Herbert, 61 Ala. 340. Effect on suits pending or subsequently brought.—Colbert v. Chandler, Minor, 254; Hale v. Cummings, 3 Ala. 398; Edwards v. Gibbs, 11 Ala. 292; McGehee v. Lomax, 49 Ala. 131; Walker v. Mock, 39 Ala. 568; Cunningham v. Lindsay, 77 Ala. 510; Seals v. Holloway, Ib., 344; Cogburn v. McQueen, 46 Ala. 551. What liens destroyed by decree of insolvency.—Fitzpatrick v. Edgar, 5 Ala. 499; Burk v. Jones, 13 Ala. 167; Lamar v. Gunter, 39 Ala. 324; McEachin v. Reid, 40 Ala. 410; Ray v. Thompson, 43 Ala. 434; Hale v. Cummings, 3 Ala. 398; Seals v. Holloway, 77 Ala. 344. What liens not destroyed.—McKinney v. Benagh, 48 Ala. 358. Conclusive on administrator.—McDonald v. McDonald, 50 Ala. 26. Effect of insolvency on distributees.—Eubanks v. Clark, 78 Ala. 73. Decree does not ipso facto terminate authority of personal representative.—Clay v. Gurley, 62 Ala. 14.

299 (2231) (2561) (2189) (1840). Nomination of administrator by creditors.—On the day appointed for such settlement, or on any day to which the same is continued, the creditors present or represented, may nominate to the court any fit person, an inhabitant of this state, as administrator of the property, rights and credits of such estate unadministered.

300 (2232) (2562) (2190) (1841). Manner of voting in making nomination.—In making the nomination, each creditor, in person or represented, votes as follows:

1. On claims held by any one creditor, not exceeding in the aggregate one thousand dollars, one vote for each hundred dollars.

2. On claims held by any one creditor, exceeding in the aggregate one thousand dollars, ten votes for the first thousand, and one for every additional five hundred dollars.

3. Every creditor is entitled to one vote, and no creditor to more than twenty.

301 (2233) (2563) (2191) (1842). Mode of nominating and of proving claims.—The nomination must be made in the presence, and under the direction of the court; and the amount of claims held by any creditor must be proved by affidavit, as required by section 133 (2083); and the court may require other evidence of the correctness and amount of the claim.*

302 (2234) (2564) (2192) (1843). Plurality of votes nominates. The person receiving a plurality of votes must be appointed by the court administrator of the property, rights and credits of the estate unadministered.

303 (2235) (2566) (2194) (1845). Appointment, when creditors fail to attend.—If none of the creditors attend at the time appointed, or if, from any other cause, no appointment of such administrator is made, the court may, in its discretion, continue the former executor or administrator, or may appoint any fit person, or the general administrator of the county, or should there be none, the sheriff or coroner of the county, to administer the estate according to the provisions of this article.

Clay v. Gurley, 62 Ala. 14.

304 (2236) (2565) (2193) (1844). Appointment to a vacancy. Whenever a vacancy occurs in the office of such administrator, the court, on motion of any creditor of the estate, may order another meeting of creditors, and hold another election, and make the appointment of the person elected, in all respects, as upon the first meeting of the creditors.

305 (2237) (2567) (2195) (1846). Appointment revokes former letters.—Whenever an administrator is appointed under the provisions of this article, any former grant of letters on the estate is thereby revoked; and the property of such estate is thereby vested in such administrator.

306 (2238) (2568) (2196) (1847). When claims barred; affidavit to claims.—Every person, having any claim against the estate declared insolvent, must file the same in the office of the judge of probate, within six months after such declaration, or after the same accrues, verified by affidavit as required by section 133 (2083). Any defect or insufficiency in the affidavit may be supplied by amendment at any time. And when, prior to the declaration of insolvency, a claim has been duly filed in the office of the judge of probate as required by said section, such claim shall be considered as duly filed under this section.*

What claims to be filed. Generally.—Thames v. Herbert, 61 Ala. 340; Gamble v. Dunklin, 48 Ala. 425; Ray v. Thompson, 43 Ala. 434; Murdock v. Rousseau, 32 Ala. 611; Hollinger v. Holly, 8 Ala. 454. Judgments must be verified and filed.—Campbell v. Campbell, 11 Ala. 730; Sharp v. Herrin, 32 Ala. 502; Walden v. Spigener, 87 Ala. 390. Judgments rendered before declaration of insolvency.—Whitfield v. Clark, 48 Ala. 555; Gamble v. Dunklin, Ib. 425. But not judgments rendered in suit pending at time of declaration of insolvency. Gamble v. Dunklin, 48 Ala. 425. Whether demands in suit at time of declaration, quære.—McDougal v. Dawson, 30 Ala. 553. Such demands must be filed. Murdock v. Rousseau, 32 Ala. 611. Contra.—Erwin v. McGuire, 44 Ala. 499; Waller v. Nelson, 48 Ala. 531; Dolberry v. Trice. 49 Ala. 207. The exception of claims on which suits are pending is the result of judicial decision, which, though in conflict with former decisions, perhaps ought not now to be disturbed.—Thames v. Herbert, 61 Ala. 340. Preferred, as well as other claims, must be filed.—Hatchett v. Curbow, 59 Ala. 516. But not claim for family expenses under will.—Prince v. Prince, 47 Ala. 283. Failure to file does not bar equity to enforce vendor's lien.—Flinn v. Barber, 61 Ala. 530. By whom claim may be filed and prosecuted.—Hogan v. Calvert, 21 Ala. 194; Henry v. Black, 24 Ala. 417; Blankenship v. Nimmo, 50 Ala. 506; Thornton v. Moore, 61 Ala. 347 (overruling Miller v. Parker, 47 Ala. 312); Page v. Bartlett, 101 Ala. 193. Filing. What a sufficient filing.—Rutherford v. Br. Bank, 14 Ala. 92; Erwin v. McGuire, 44 Ala. 499; Levert v. Reid, 54 Ala. 529 (overruling Clement v. Nelson, 46 Ala. 634, and Brewer v. Moseley, 49 Ala. 79); Shelton v. Poulson, 60 Ala. 578; Henderson v. Henderson, 67 Ala. 519; Woodruff v. Winston, 68 Ala. 412. What not a sufficient filing.—Beene v. Phillips, 37 Ala. 312; Phillips v. Beene, 38 Ala. 248; Henderson v. Henderson, 67 Ala. 519. Statement of claim; when sufficient.—Flinn v. Shackleford, 42 Ala. 202; Woodruff v. Winston, 68 Ala. 412; Rowdon v. Young, 12 Ala. 234; Ransom v. Quarles, 16 Ala. 437; Hogan v. Calvert, 21 Ala. 194; Stubbs v. Beene, 37 Ala. 627; Thornton v. Moore, 61 Ala. 347. Verification of claim. When sufficient.—Trowbridge v. Pinckard, 31 Ala. 424; Carhart v. Clark, Ib. 396; P. & M. Bank v. Smith, 14 Ala. 416; Norvill v. Williams, 35 Ala. 551. When insufficient.—Beene v. Collenberger, 38 Ala. 647; Lay v. Clark, 31 Ala. 409; Dennis v. Coker, 34 Ala. 611; Cook v. Davis, 12 Ala. 551; Pickle v. Ezzell, 27 Ala. 623. Amendment of affidavit.—P. & M. Bank v. Smith, 14 Ala. 416; Dennis v. Coker, 34 Ala. 611; Fox v. Dawson, 44 Ala. 319; Prestridge v. Irwin, 46 Ala. 653; Thornton v. Moore, 61 Ala. 347. Effect of failure to file.—Murdock v. Rousseau, 32 Ala. 611; Thames v. Herbert, 61 Ala. 340. Failure of creditors to file their claims does not annul decree of insolvency.—McCuan v. Turrentine, 48 Ala. 68. If a surplus is left after paying claims which have been filed, distributees entitled in preference to creditors who did not file their claims.—Puryear v. Puryear, 34 Ala. 555. But see Phelan v. Phelan, 13 Ala. 679, and Middleton v. Maul, 16 Ala. 479. Representative not authorized to pay claim which has not been filed.—Sharp v. Sharp, 35 Ala. 574. Claim not filed within the time required by the statute not available as an offset in suit by personal representative.—Bell v. Andrews, 34 Ala. 538; Shelton v. St. Clair, 64 Ala. 565. Filing claim operates a presentation.—Lattimore v. Williams, 8 Ala. 428. Effect of taking claim from file.—Ross v. Ross, 21 Ala. 322. Claim duly filed, and not objected to, stands as a judgment.—Wright v. Dunklin, 83 Ala. 317; Chandler v. Wynne, 85 Ala. 301.

307 (2239) (2569) (2197) (1848). Longer time allowed infants and lunatics.—The provisions of the preceding section, as to the time within which claims are to be filed, do not apply to infants and persons of unsound mind who have no legal guardian at the time of the declaration of insolvency; but such minors and persons of unsound mind are allowed nine months after the appointment of a guardian, or, if none be appointed, nine months after the removal of their respective disabilities, in which to file their claims.

308 (2240) (2570) (2198) (1849). Verification of claims in another state.—When a claim against such estate is verified by the oath of a person out of this state, but within the United States, such oath may be made before a notary public, justice of the peace, or any judge of a court of record, or a commissioner of this state; and when made before a justice of the peace it must be certified that such officer was a justice of the peace, and that his attestation is genuine, by some judge of a court of record, or a commissioner of this state; but when made before either of the other officers specified, no other proof of the taking of such oath is necessary than the certificate of such officer.

Carhart v. Clark, 31 Ala. 396; Fox v. Lawson, 44 Ala. 319.

309 (2241) (2571) (2199) (1850). Verification of claim in foreign country.—When such oath is taken out of the United States, it may be taken before any judge of a court of record, mayor or chief magistrate of any county, city, borough, or town, notary public, or diplomatic, consular, or commercial agent of the United States; and no other proof of the taking of such oath is necessary than the certificate of such officer.

310 (2242) (2572) (2200) (1851). Receipt for claim; indorsement of filing.—The judge of probate must, when required, give a receipt for such claim to the claimant, his agent, or attorney, and must indorse on the claim the day when the same was filed, and sign his name thereto.

311 (2243) (2573) (2201) (1852). Docket of claims.—Such judge must keep a docket of all the claims thus filed, which must be at all times, during office hours, subject to the inspection of the administrator and creditors of, or any person interested in the estate.

312 (2244) (2574) (2202) (1853). When claim allowed without further proof.—If no opposition is made, in the manner hereinafter provided, within twelve months after the time when the estate was declared insolvent, such claim must be allowed against the estate without further proof.

Claim duly filed and not objected to, or allowed against objection, stands as a judgment.—Wright v. Dunklin, 83 Ala. 317; Chandler v. Wynne, 85 Ala. 301; Cunningham v. Lindsay, 77 Ala. 510.

313 (2245) (2575) (2203) (1854). Objections to claims; issue, trial, costs.—At any time within nine months after the declaration of insolvency, the administrator, or any creditor, heir, legatee, devisee, or distributee may object to the allowance of any claim filed against the estate, by filing objections thereto in writing; and thereupon the court must cause an issue to be made up between the claimant and objector, in which issue the correctness of such claim must be tried as in an action of law, if required; and if it is found for the claimant to the whole amount thereof, the same must be allowed, and such claimant recover the costs of the trial of such issue; but if against the claimant, the claim must be rejected, and the party contesting recovers the costs of the trial of such issue.*

Allowance of claims, unless objections filed within time allowed, a matter of right.—McNeil v. Macon, 20 Ala. 772; Hardy v. Meachem, 33 Ala. 457; Thames v. Herbert, 61 Ala. 340; Thornton v. Moore, Ib., 347; Guard v. Hale, 64 Ala. 479; Clark v. Knox, 70 Ala. 607; Wright v. Dunklin, 83 Ala. 317; Chandler v. Wynne, 85 Ala. 301. But matters subsequently occurring may be raised at any time before decree allowing claim.—Thames v. Herbert, 61 Ala. 340; Thornton v. Moore, Ib. 347. An objection as to time of filing may be made at any time before or on settlement.—Carhart v. Clark, 31 Ala. 396; Bartol v. Calvert, 21 Ala. 42. But as to verification or correctness, must be filed within time allowed.—Gaffney v. Williamson, 21 Ala. 112; Hogan v. Calvert, 21 Ala. 194; Hardy v. Meachem, 33 Ala. 457; Moore v. Winston, 66 Ala. 296; and authorities first supra. Objection by distributees.—Eubank v. Clark, 78 Ala. 73. When motion to strike plea from file properly sustained.—Thornton v. Moore, 61 Ala. 347. Trial by jury.—Blankenship v. Nimmo, 50 Ala. 506; Nooe v. Garner, 70 Ala. 443. Contest between partnership and individual creditors.—Claflin v. Behr, 89 Ala. 503. Liability of administrator of insolvent estate for costs.—McDonald v. Cox, 104 Ala. 379; Patapsco Guano Co. v. Ballard, 107 Ala. 710. Plea of statute of limitations of three years must aver claim an open account.—Clark v. Guard, 73 Ala. 456. Bar must be complete when claim is filed.—Woodruff v. Winston, 68 Ala. 412; Wright v. Dunklin, 83 Ala. 317. Allowance of claim has force of judgment in personam. Randle v. Carter, 62 Ala. 95; Wright v. Dunklin, 83 Ala. 317; Cunningham v. Lindsay, 77 Ala. 510; Chandler v. Wynne, 85 Ala. 301. Effect of judgment rejecting claim.—Saltmarsh v. Bird, 19 Ala. 665; McDougald v. Rutherford 30 Ala. 253; McDougald v. Dawson, Ib. 553; Coffin v. McCullough, 30 Ala. 107. Proper mode of declaring on claim.—Ross v. Ross, 20 Ala. 105. Burden of proof on contest.—Woodruff v. Winston, 68 Ala. 412; Dickie v. Dickie, 80 Ala. 57. What necessary to equitable relief against allowance, when no objection has been filed.—Moore v. Winston, 66 Ala. 296. Representative paying debt prematurely, subrogated to right of creditor.—Prior v. Davis, 109 Ala. 117.

314 (2246) (2576) (2204) (1855). If part only found due, it must be allowed; costs.—If a part only of such claim is found to be due, it must be allowed for that amount, and the costs paid by either party, or in such proportion by either party as the court may direct.

315 (2247) (2577) (2205) (1856). When settlement to be made. Every executor or administrator of an insolvent estate must make a settlement of his accounts as such, at such time as the court may appoint, not less than nine, nor more than fifteen months from the time the estate is declared insolvent.

Requisites of final decree.—Watt v. Watt, 37 Ala. 543; Lehman v. Robertson, 84 Ala. 489. Parties to settlement.—Baker v. Wood, 51 Ala. 345. Jurisdiction to settle estates of deceased partners having common administrators.—Baldwin v. Deming, 51 Ala. 553. Settlement of insolvent estates, in general.—Clark v. Guard, 73 Ala. 456. Appeal lies from partial.—Lehman v. Robertson, 84 Ala. 489.

316 (2248) (2578) (2206) (1857). On such settlement, debts paid ratably; other settlements.—At such settlement, the court must decree to each creditor whose claim has been allowed, as herein provided, his proportion of all moneys then found due from such executor or administrator, reserving in his hands a ratable proportion of such moneys for such claims as may be then contested and undecided; and a similar settlement and distribution must be made at least every six months thereafter, at such times as the court may appoint, until the estate is finally settled and distributed.

See citations to preceding section.

317 (2249) (2579) (2207) (1858). Effect of report of insolvency on pending suits.—During the progress of any suit against an executor or administrator, he may show that such estate has been reported insolvent, and upon such showing the cause must be continued until the final disposition of such report.

Pendency of suit does not take away jurisdiction of probate court.—Cunningham v. Lindsay, 77 Ala. 510. See citations to section 306 (2238).

318 (2250) (2580) (2208) (1859). Plea of declaration of insolvency; proceedings thereon.—The executor or administrator may also, at any time before judgment, plead specially that the estate has been declared insolvent; and, in such case, the other issues must be tried, and judgment rendered thereon.

Declaration of insolvency before suit, a bar.—Shiver v. Rousseau, 68 Ala. 564; Edwards v. Gibbs, 11 Ala. 292; Dolberry v. Trice, 49 Ala. 207; Lunsford v. Baskins, 6 Ala. 512. After suit, must be specially pleaded, not merely suggested.—Stern v. Collier, 101 Ala. 424. Statute does not apply when representative is plaintiff.—McDonald v. Cox, 104 Ala. 379. Declaration of insolvency and failure to file claim, bars revivor.—Sharp v. Herrin, 32 Ala. 502. When judgment may be rendered against sureties on appeal bond.—Mount v. Stewart, 86 Ala. 365.

319 (2251) (2581) (2209) (1860). Judgment certified to probate court; execution for costs.—If such judgment is for the plaintiff, and it is shown to the court that such estate has been declared insolvent, an order must be made to the effect that no execution issue on such judgment, but that the same be certified to the proper probate court; and upon a certified copy of such judgment being filed as a claim against the estate, it must be allowed with the costs against such estate, unless shown to have been obtained by collusion; and when such judgment is certified, the clerk may demand of the plaintiff payment of all costs incurred in obtaining the same, and if the plaintiff fails for twenty days after the judgment is so certified to pay such costs, execution may issue against him for the same as in other cases.

See citation to section 306 (2238).

320 (2252) (2582) (2210) (1861). Effect of appeal on contest of report.—If an appeal has been taken on a contest as to the report of insolvency, the case must, on motion, be continued during the pendency of such appeal.

321 (2253) (2583) (2211) (1862). Claims not due may be presented; dividends on.—Any creditor whose debt is not due may file the same as if due, and thereupon must be considered as a creditor under this article; and he is entitled to his dividend, or such an amount as, with the interest added from the time of payment to the maturity of the debt, would be equal to the amount thereof.

322 (2254) (2584) (2212) (1863). Claims allowed after partial distribution entitled to full dividend.—Any creditor of an insolvent estate, whose claim is allowed after a partial distribution, must be allowed out of the remaining assets of such estate, if sufficient, such an amount as will give him his just dividend.

323 (2255) (2585) (2213) (1864). When creditor may sue those receiving dividends for his proportion.—Any creditor of an insolvent estate, whose claim is not barred, may sue any person who has received any dividend of such estate, and may recover from him such an amount of the dividend he has received as shall be in the same proportion thereto as the claim of the plaintiff bears to the debts of the estate distributed, including the claim of the plaintiff.

Contribution between creditors.—Shelton v. Carpenter, 60 Ala. 201; Clark v. Guard, 73 Ala. 456.

324 (2256) (2586) (2214) (1865). Payment to another creditor reduces recovery.—But in such action the defendant may reduce the recovery, by showing that such dividend has been reduced by the recovery or payment of the claims of other creditors of such estate in the like proportion.

325 (2257) (2587) (2215) (1866). Costs in such cases.—In such action, the plaintiff must pay the costs, unless he proves that he has exhibited his claim and demanded of the defendant his proportion of the dividend received by him, before the commencement of the action.

326 (2258). Sale of lands after declaration of insolvency.—On the application of an executor or administrator of an estate which has been declared insolvent, for an order for the sale of lands belonging to the estate for the payment of debts, he shall be allowed to obtain such order without taking any evidence by deposition, as in chancery cases, to show the necessity of such sale.

Substitutes the decree of insolvency for proof that there are debts of the estate to be paid, and that the personal assets are insufficient therefor. Meadows v. Meadows, 78 Ala. 240; Dolan v. Dolan, 89 Ala. 256, 261. Decree of insolvency makes prima facie case of necessity to sell lands.—Chandler v. Wynne, 85 Ala. 301, 311.

327 (2259). Notice to heirs, etc., of such application.—Such application shall be in writing, verified by affadivit, shall contain an accurate description of the lands sought to be sold, and shall set forth the names and places of residence of the heirs or devisees, and whether they are under or over the age of twenty-one years; and the court shall give notice to such heirs or devisees of the filing of such application, and of the day appointed to hear the same, by publication once a week for three successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county, or if none is published therein, in the newspaper published nearest to the court-house of such county, by posting notice at the court-house door for the same length of time, and by forwarding notices to those whose places of residence are known. If any of the heirs or devisees are unknown, they may be made parties in the manner provided by section 162.

328 (2260) (2588) (2216). Representative may maintain action for recovery of lands.—The administrator of an insolvent estate may maintain an action for the recovery of lands of the estate, in every case in which such action might be maintained by him if the estate was solvent.

Langford v. Dunklin, 71 Ala. 594, 605.

329 (2261) (2589) (4424). Second declaration by succeeding administrator not necessary.—An estate of a decedent having once been declared insolvent, it shall not be necessary for any succeeding administrator to apply for, or obtain a declaration or decree of insolvency; but a declaration of insolvency once had, and remaining unreversed, shall continue, and apply to, and be effectual under all subsequent administrations, as if obtained under each of them.

ARTICLE 13.

SUITS BY AND AGAINST EXECUTORS AND ADMINISTRATORS, AND ENFORCEMENT OF JUDGMENTS AND DECREES; ADMINISTRATORS AD LITEM; AUTHORITY OF FOREIGN EXECUTORS AND ADMINISTRATORS TO SUE FOR, AND RECOVER OR RECEIVE PROPERTY.

330 (2262) (2615) (2277) (1918). In what county representatives may be sued.—Executors or administrators are liable to be sued, in their representative character, in all cases, in the county in which letters were granted; and service of summons may be made on them in any county in the state.

Averment of representative capacity.—Rhodes v. Walker, 44 Ala. 213; Morrow v. Taggart, 45 Ala. 293; Graham v. Gunn, 45 Ala. 577; Taylor v. Perry, 48 Ala. 240; Christian v. Morris, 50 Ala. 585. Pleas.—Wilson v. Bothwell, 50 Ala. 378; Riddle v. Hill, 51 Ala. 224; Shiver v. Rousseau, 68 Ala. 564; Whitfield v. Woolf, 51 Ala. 202.

331 (2263) (2614) (2276) (1917). Not to be sued for six months, etc.—No suit must be commenced against an executor or administrator, as such, until six months, and no judgment rendered against him, as such, until twelve months after the grant of letters testamentary or of administration.*

Process of garnishment may be sued out before the lapse of six months. Moore v. Stainton, 22 Ala. 831. Suit commenced within six months, abated on plea.—Espy v. Comer, 76 Ala. 501; Goldsmith v. Eichold, 94 Ala. 116; Word v. Word, 90 Ala. 81. The period of six months, excluded in computation of statute of limitations.—Hood v. League, 102 Ala. 228; Goldsmith v. Eichold, 94 Ala. 116. Statute applies only to suits against the representative as such.—Ala. State Bank v. Glass, 82 Ala. 278; Torrey v. Bishop, 104 Ala. 548. Nor to revivor on death of defendant in ejectment.—Torrey v. Bishop, supra.

332 (2264) (2621) (2283) (1924). Suits begun by special administrator, continued by successor.—Suits commenced by a special administrator do not abate by the appointment of an executor or administrator in chief, but may be prosecuted by such executor or administrator.

333 (2265) (2622) (2284) (1925). Suits begun by or against representative, prosecuted by or against successor.—When any action has been commenced by or against the personal representative of a decedent, the same may be prosecuted by or against any succeeding executor or administrator, who may, on motion, be made a party.*

Revivor of action by succeeding general administrator.—Russell v. Erwin, 41 Ala. 292; Brown v. Tutwiler, 61 Ala. 372; Pope v. Irby, 57 Ala. 105; Wells v. Elliott, 68 Ala. 183; Reynolds v. Crook, 95 Ala. 570.

334 (2266) (2624) (2286) (1927). On death of one representative, suit continued against survivor.—If any one of two or more executors or administrators, against whom a suit is pending, die during the pendency of the suit, it does not abate, but may be continued against the survivor or survivors, on a suggestion of such death on the record.

335 (2267) (2632) (2288) (1929). Damages to realty survive to representatives.—All proceedings to ascertain damages done to real property survive to the executors or administrators.

Representative may maintain bill in equity to enjoin trespass without showing necessity to sell land to pay debt.—Sullivan v. Rabb, 86 Ala. 433.

336 (2268) (2631) (2287) (1928). Representatives of those who were liable to an estate also liable.—The executor or administrator of any decedent who, as executor or administrator, or otherwise, has wasted or converted to his own use any assets of any other decedent, is liable in the same manner as his testator or intestate would have been, if living.

337 (2269) (2616) (2278) (1919). Limit of representative's liability.—No executor or administrator is liable, except in the case provided by section 124 (2077), beyond the amount of assets which have come to his hands, or which have been lost, destroyed, wasted, injured, depreciated, or not collected, by want of diligence on his part, or an abuse of his trust.

Dangaix v. Lunsford, 112 Ala. 403. Representative liable for timber cut and sold from lands of intestate without authority.—Glenn v. Glenn, 41 Ala. 571; Billingslea v. Glenn, 45 Ala. 540. But not for the value of property lost or destroyed without fault on his part.—Brazeale v. Brazeale, 9 Ala. 491; Harrison v. Harrison, 39 Ala. 489.

338 (2593). Liability of personal representative and sureties. The personal representative, and the sureties on his bond are liable to the parties in interest for the due and legal distribution of all damages recovered by such representative under section 26 (2588), or section 27 (2589), or section 1751 (2591), and are subject to all

*On Nov. 30th, 1896 (Pamph. Acts 1896–7, p. 23), an act was approved, entitled "An act to revive judgments and decrees against administrators de bonis non, in cases where such judgments or decrees have been rendered against administrators in chief, and such administrators in chief have died, been removed or have resigned before the payment of such judgment or decree," which is as follows:

"SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of Alabama, That in all cases where judgment or decree has been rendered against an administrator in chief, of any estate, and such administrator in chief dies, resigns, or is removed before the satisfaction of such judgment or decree, such judgment or decree may be revived in favor of the owner of such judgment or decree, or his personal representative, against the administrator de bonis non of such estate on ten days notice to such administrator de bonis non; Provided, such liabilities shall only bind the administrator de bonis non to the extent of the assets of the estate which have come into his possession. Approved November 30th, 1896."

remedies which may be pursued against such representative and sureties for the due administration of personal assets.

339 (2270) (2617) (2279) (1920). When resignation no defense. No executor or administrator can allege his resignation in defense to any action or proceeding, without an averment that he has settled his administration, and delivered over the assets of the estate, as required by law.

No executor of a solvent estate can allege that his authority has ceased without an averment of settlement.—Cogburn v. McQueen, 46 Ala. 551; Shiver v. Rousseau, 68 Ala. 564; Skinner v. Frierson, 8 Ala. 915; Gayle v. Elliott, 10 Ala. 264; Whitfield v. Woolf, 51 Ala. 202.

340 (2271) (2636) (2292) (1933). Executor de son tort only liable to representative; exception.—No person is liable to an action, as executor of his own wrong, for having taken, received, or interfered with the property of a deceased person, but is liable to the executor or administrator for the value of all the property so taken or received, and for all damages caused by his act to the estate of the deceased; but the provisions of this section must not be construed so as to prevent any creditor from maintaining a suit against any one in possession of property fraudulently transferred by such deceased person.

Creditor cannot subject, in equity, funds of decedent in hands of executor de son tort.—Winfrey v. Clarke, 107 Ala. 355; (overruling Cameron v. Cameron, 82 Ala. 392 and Dunlap v. Newman, 47 Ala. 429). See Watts v. Gayle, 20 Ala. 817; Wood v. Cosby, 76 Ala. 557. Retaining possession under color of title, in good faith, will not make party chargeable as executor de son tort.—Ward v. Bevill, 10 Ala. 197; Simonton v. McLane, 25 Ala. 353; see also Marx v. Nelms, 95 Ala. 304. Administrator has plain remedy at law to recover assets of estate, bill seeking to charge parties as executors de son tort, without equity.—Abernathy v. Bankhead, 71 Ala. 190. When executor may sue in his own name.—Dunlap v. Newman, 47 Ala. 429; McGehee v. Slater, 50 Ala. 431; Morrow v. Taggart, 45 Ala. 293. Voluntary sales by executor de son tort confers no title on purchaser.—Carpenter v. Going, 20 Ala. 587; Nelson v. Goree, 34 Ala. 565; Keith v. Ham, 89 Ala. 590.

341 (2272) (2403) (2034) (1713). Suit on bond of representative.—Any bond given by an executor or administrator, as such, may be sued or proceeded on in the name of the party aggrieved, until the whole penalty is exhausted.

How suit brought.—Amason v. Nash, 24 Ala. 279. Who is a party aggrieved. Williams v. Stoutz, 92 Ala. 516; Amason v. Nash, 24 Ala. 279; Morrow v. Wood, 56 Ala. 1. To what extent sureties liable.—Grace v. Martin, 47 Ala. 135.

342 (2273) (2404) (2035) (1714). Bond irregularly taken a statutory bond.—The bond of the general administrator of the county, or of any executor or administrator, is valid and operative as a statutory bond, and is of the same obligation, force and effect as a statutory bond, though it may not be approved, or in the penalty, or payable, or with the condition required by law.

Irregularity within meaning of statute.—Steele v. Tutwiler, 68 Ala. 107; Sprowl v. Lawrence, 33 Ala. 674.

343 (2274). Conditional execution or delivery of bond.—A surety on the bond of the general administrator of the county, or on the bond of any executor or administrator, cannot avoid liability thereon, on the ground that he signed or delivered it on condition that it should not be delivered to the judge of probate, or should not become perfect, unless it was executed by some other person who does not execute it.

344 (2275) (2634) (2290) (1931). When legatee may sue at law for legacy.—Any legatee, after twelve months from the grant of letters testamentary, or of administration with the will annexed, may sue at law and recover his legacy, upon proof that the executor assented to the same.*

Assent to legacy, implied.—Cox v. McKenney, 32 Ala. 461. Action for recovery of legacy.—Cox v. McKenney, 32 Ala. 461; Bonner v. Young, 68 Ala. 68 Ala. 35; Wood v. Wood, 3 Ala. 756; Gause v. Hughes, 9 Port. 552; Pettigrew v. Pettigrew, 1 Stew. 580.

345 (2276) (2618) (2280) (1921). How judgments and decrees of probate court enforced against representative.—All judgments, orders and decrees of the probate court against an executor or administrator, for the payment of money, may be enforced by execution, or by process of garnishment, which may issue in like cases and manner as it may issue on judgments in courts of law, and may, in like manner, be prosecuted to judgment against the garnishee; for the delivery of personal property, by attachment, or a special order to the sheriff, requiring him to take such property and deliver the same according to the judgment, order, or decree; for the possession of land, by a writ to the sheriff against the executor or administrator, requiring him to put the heir or devisee in possession of the same.

346 (2277) (2619) (2281) (1922). When sureties liable to execution or garnishment.—When an execution against an executor or administrator, issued from the probate court on any judgment, order, or decree for money, is returned to any regular term of such court "no property" by the sheriff of the county, such judgment, order, or decree may be enforced against the executor or administrator and his sureties, by execution, or by process of garnishment, which may issue in like cases and manner as it may issue on judgments in courts of law, and may, in like manner, be prosecuted to judgment against the garnishee.

When return of "no property" authorizes execution against sureties. Little v. Heard, 16 Ala. 358; Thompson v. King, 15 Ala. 346; Jenkins v. Gray, 16 Ala. 100; Poacher v. Weisinger, 20 Ala. 102; Kirby v. Anders, 26 Ala. 466; Jewett v. Hoogland, 30 Ala. 716; Grace v. Martin, 47 Ala. 135; McGehee v. Lomax, 49 Ala. 131; Hudson v. Modawell, 64 Ala. 481; Payne v. Thompson, 48 Ala. 535; Stallworth v. Farnham, 64 Ala. 259; Steele v. Graves, 68 Ala. 17; s. c., 68 Ala. 21; Martin v. Tally, 72 Ala. 23; Berry v. Perry, 81 Ala. 103.

347 (2278) (2620) (2282) (1923). When execution issues de bonis propriis.—When any judgment is rendered in the circuit court against any executor or administrator, as such, and an execution thereon has been returned "no property" by the sheriff or other officer of the county in which such judgment was rendered, an execution may issue against the executor or administrator personally, to be levied on his goods and chattels, lands and tenements.

348 (2279) (2623) (2285) (1926). Executions in favor of successor.—Any subsequent administrator, or administrator with the will annexed, may have execution on any judgment recovered by any person who preceded him in the administration of the same estate, without reviving the same, or without proceeding to notify the defendant in such judgment.

349 (2280) (2633) (2289) (1930). How judgments against decedents enforced against representatives.—When a judgment has been rendered against a decedent before his death, no execution can issue thereon against his personal representative, except in the case provided for in section 1895 (2897); but such judgment may be revived against his personal representative by scire facias after the lapse of twelve months from the grant of letters; and sections 317 (2249), 318 (2250), 319 (2251), and 320 (2252), of this Code are applicable to such proceeding.*

Revivor of judgment.—Hurst v. Williamson, 42 Ala. 296; Kirby v. Anders, 26 Ala. 466; May v. Parham, 68 Ala. 253; Bobo v. Gunnels, 92 Ala. 601; Reynolds v. Crook, 95 Ala. 570; Enslen v. Wheeler, 98 Ala. 200; Brown v. Newman, 66 Ala. 275.

350 (2281). Representative may purchase under decree or execution for estate.—The executor or administrator of any decedent may purchase for the estate property sold under any decree of the chancery court, or under any execution, in his favor as such executor or administrator.

351 (2282) (2635) (2291) (1932). How inventory, when read in evidence, explained by proof.—In an action against an executor or administrator, in which the fact of his having administered the estate of his testator or intestate, or any part thereof, comes in issue, and the inventory of the property of the deceased, filed by him, is given in evidence, the effect of the same may be repelled by evidence—

1. That any property has been omitted in such inventory, or was not returned therein at its full value, or since the filing thereof has increased in value.

2. That such property has perished, or been lost without the fault of such executor or administrator, or that it has been fairly sold, according to law, at a less price than the value so returned, or that, since the return of the inventory, such property has deteriorated or decreased in value; and in such action the defendant cannot be charged for any thing in action specified in the inventory, unless it appears that it was, or might have been collected by the exercise of due diligence.

352 (2283) (2625). When administrator ad litem appointed. When, in any proceeding in the probate or chancery court, or other court having chancery jurisdiction, the estate of a deceased person must be represented, and there is no executor or administrator of such estate, or he is interested adversely thereto, it shall be the duty of the court to appoint an administrator ad litem of such estate for the particular proceeding, without bond, whenever the facts rendering such appointment necessary shall appear in the record of such case, or shall be made known to the court by the affidavit of any person interested therein; and when such proceedings are pending in the chancery court, or court having like jurisdiction, the register, or the officer discharging the duties of register, of such court shall have authority to make such appointment in vacation.

Appointment of administrator ad litem.—Hays v. Cockrell, 41 Ala. 75; Teague v. Corbitt, 57 Ala. 529; Ex parte Lyon, 60 Ala. 650; Dooley v. Villalonga, 61 Ala. 129; Malone v. Hill, 68 Ala. 225; Clark v. Knox, 70 Ala. 607; Gayle v. Johnston, 72 Ala. 254. When administrator ad litem should not be appointed.—Marcy v. Howard, 91 Ala. 133; Page v. Bartlett, 101 Ala. 193.

353 (2284) (2626). Decree in favor of administrator ad litem. When, in such proceedings, the estate represented by the administrator ad litem is entitled to a decree for the recovery of money, or for the possession of real or personal property, such decree shall be rendered in favor of the administrator ad litem for the use of the estate.

354 (2285) (2626). Execution on money decree, how issued; money paid into court.—When such decree is for the recovery of money, and the estate has no executor or administrator, execution shall issue thereon in favor of the administrator ad litem for the use of the estate, and the money, when collected, shall be paid by the officer to the judge of the probate court, or to the register, or officer acting as register, of the chancery or other court having like jurisdiction, from which the execution issued; and the party against whom such decree is rendered may pay the same to such judge, register, or officer acting as register, before the issue of execution, whose receipt to him therefor shall be a full discharge of such decree.

355 (2286) (2627). When writ issues under decree for recovery of property.—When such decree is for the recovery of real or personal property, and the estate has no executor or administrator, no writ of possession, or other writ for the enforcement of such decree, shall issue thereon, until there shall be some person duly authorized under the laws of this state to receive the possession of such property, and then such writ shall issue in favor of such person.

356 (2287) (2628). Decree when executor or administrator adversely interested; how enforced.—When such administrator ad litem is appointed on account of the adverse interest of the executor or administrator, and the decree is rendered against such executor or administrator, no execution, writ of possession, or other writ for the enforcement of the decree, shall issue thereon, but in such decree the court shall require the executor or administrator to charge himself, as executor or administrator of the estate represented by the administrator ad litem, with the money or property recovered of him by the administrator ad litem; but when the decree is not against the executor or administrator, execution, writ of possession, or other writ for the enforcement of the decree, shall issue thereon in favor of such executor or administrator.

357 (2288) (2629). Duty and compensation of judge of probate or register; penalty.—It shall be the duty of the judge of probate, register, or officer acting as register, receiving the money, to pay over the same, less one-half of one per cent. thereon, to the person entitled thereto, on demand; and for failure to do so, he incurs a penalty in favor of such person of ten per cent. thereon, which, together with the money received and interest thereon, may be recovered by suit on his bond.

358 (2289) (2630). Compensation of administrator ad litem; how paid.—Such administrator ad litem must be allowed for his services such compensation as the judge of probate or chancellor appointing him may direct, to be taxed and collected, as part of the costs of the proceedings, either out of the estate represented by him, or out of the general fund administered therein, or out of any party to the cause who may be taxed therewith, as the court may direct.

Compensation of such administrator.—Harris v. Martin, 9 Ala. 895; Gould v. Hayes, 25 Ala. 426; Clark v. Knox, 70 Ala. 607.

359 (2290) (2637) (2293) (1934). When foreign representative may sue for and recover, or receive property.—Any executor or administrator who has obtained letters testamentary or of administration on the estate of a person who was not, at the time of his death, an inhabitant of this state, in any other of the United States, and who has not obtained letters testamentary or of administration thereon in this state as authorized by article 2 of this chapter, may maintain suits and recover or receive property in this state—

1. By recording, at any time before judgment, or the receipt of the property, a copy of his letters, duly authenticated according to the laws of the United States, in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which such suit is brought or property received.

2. By giving bond, with at least two good and sufficient sureties, payable to and approved by such judge of probate, in such amount as he may prescribe, to be determined with reference to the value of the property to be recovered or received, and conditioned to faithfully administer such recovery or property according to law.

Foreign executors authorized to maintain suits, but must comply with statute before rendition of judgment.—Hatchett v. Berney, 65 Ala. 39; Barclift v. Treece, 77 Ala. 528; Ferguson v. Morris, 67 Ala. 389; Harris v. Moore, 72 Ala. 507; Grimball v. Patton, 70 Ala. 626. Action defeated by domestic grant to defendant.—Broughton v. Bradley, 34 Ala. 694. Administrator of estate of non-resident collects assets, and holds for debts and ulterior administration.—Grimball v. Patton, 70 Ala. 626; Ex parte Grimball, 61 Ala. 598; Welch v. Welch, 14 Ala. 76; Gardner v. Gantt, 19 Ala. 666; Lockhart v. Cameron, 29 Ala. 355; Fretwell v. McLemore, 52 Ala. 124. Sale under power in mortgage, by foreign administrator.—Sloan v. Frothingham, 65 Ala. 593; s. c., 72 Ala. 589.

360 (2291) (2637) (2293). Suit by foreign representative not affected by appointment of resident representative; right to intervene.—No suit brought by such foreign executor or administrator, under the provisions of the preceding section, must be abated, barred, or affected by the grant of letters of administration in this state, either prior or subsequent to the institution of such suit; but, in such case, the administrator appointed in this state may, if necessary for the protection of creditors, distributees, or legatees, resident in this state, intervene in such suit, and shall be entitled to the recovery therein.

361 (2292) (2638) (2294) (1935). Compliance with such requirements must be proved.—Before a judgment is rendered in a suit brought by such foreign executor or administrator, the plaintiff must prove that he has complied in all respects with the provisions of section 359 (2290), and failing to do so, he cannot recover.

See citations to second preceding section.

362 (2293) (2639) (2295) (1936). Amount of bond, how determined; security thereby afforded.—The judge of probate, in determining the amount of the bond which such executor or administrator should give, may examine him on oath; and such bond, when given, stands as security, on its condition being broken, for any person thereby injured.

363 (2294) (2640) (2296) (1937). Delivery of property or recovery of judgment protects defendant.—A delivery of property or the recovery of judgment, under the provisions of section 359 (2290), is a protection to the defendant, or to the person delivering the property, to the extent of such judgment, or the value of such property.

CHAPTER 4.

ADOPTION OF CHILDREN. 364–367.

364 (2364) (2742) (2404) (2008). The marriage of the parents legitimates the children.—The marriage of the mother and reputed father of a bastard child renders it legitimate, if recognized by the father as his child.

Bastards; inheritance by and from.—Lingen v. Lingen; 45 Ala. 410; Butler v. Elyton Land Co., 84 Ala. 384.

365 (2365) (2743) (2405) (2009). Proceedings to legitimate bastard children; effect of.—The father of a bastard child may legitimate it, and render it capable of inheriting his estate, by making a declaration in writing, attested by two witnesses, setting forth the name of the child proposed to be legitimated, its sex, supposed age, and the name of the mother, and that he thereby recognizes it as his child, and capable of inheriting his estate, real and personal, as if born in wedlock; the declaration being acknowledged by the maker before the judge of probate of the county of his residence, or its execution proved by the attesting witnesses, filed in the office of the judge of probate, and recorded on the minutes of his court, has the effect to legitimate such child.

Bastard legitimated in foreign country cannot inherit in Alabama.—Lingen

v. Lingen, 45 Ala. 410. Statutory provisions ministerial; not to be construed so strictly as to defeat legislative intent.—Abney v. DeLoach, 84 Ala. 393. Adoptive parent assumes duties of natural parent, and is entitled to custody and earnings of child against all persons, unless it be non-consenting parents.—Tilley v. Harrison, 91 Ala. 295.

366 (2366) (2744) (2406) (2010). Child's name changed at same time.—The father may, at the same time, change the name of such child, stating in his declaration the name it is then known by, and the name he wishes it afterwards to have.

367 (2367) (2745) (2407) (2011). Mode of adopting child; effect of.—Any person desirous to adopt a child so as to make it capable of inheriting his estate, real and personal, or to change the name of one previously adopted, may make a declaration in writing, attested by two witnesses, setting forth the name, sex, and age of the child he wishes to adopt, and the name he wishes it thereafter to be known by, which, being acknowledged by the declarant before the judge of probate of the county of his residence, filed and recorded as in the two preceding sections, has the effect to make such child capable of inheriting such estate of the declarant, and of changing its name to the one stated in the declaration; and, for services under this chapter, the judge of probate is entitled to a fee of one dollar. But the judge of probate may, on petition of said child, or the party adopting the child, after notice given as prescribed by him and after hearing and for good cause shown, by a decree to be entered of record, annul in whole or in part any such declaration whereby any child has been adopted under the provisions of this section. As amended Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1296.

Failing to state age of child, not fatal.—Abney v. DeLoach, 84 Ala. 393. Validity of declaration of husband not affected by wife joining.—Ib. Certificate of acknowledgment in form prescribed for conveyances, valid.—Ib. Adopted child entitled to exemptions in estate of adoptive parent.—Cofer v. Scroggins, 98 Ala. 342. But does not take under will made prior to adoption devising property to testator's "children."—Russell v. Russell, 84 Ala. 48.

5.—FARMERS' INSTITUTES AND AGRICULTURAL FAIRS. 416–418.

ARTICLE 1.

QUALIFICATION, DUTIES AND SALARY OF THE COMMISSIONER AND HIS CLERKS.

368 (129). Department of agriculture.—A department of agriculture is created and established under the management and control of a public officer to be known as the "commissioner of agriculture," who must be a practical and experienced agriculturist.

Statute "clearly constitutional."—Steiner v. Ray, 84 Ala. 93.

Feb. 18, 1891, p. 1213. Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1091, §2.

369 (130). Term of office of commissioner; vacancy filled by the governor.—The commissioner of agriculture holds office for the term of two years from the first day of September next after his election, and until his successor is elected and qualified. Vacancies are filled by the governor for the unexpired term, and until the election and qualification of a successor.

Lane v. Kolb, 92 Ala. 636.

370 (131). Oath of office; bond.—The commissioner, before entering on the duties of the office, must take and subscribe the oath of office prescribed by the Constitution; and must enter into bond, payable to the State of Alabama, with at least two good and sufficient sureties, in the penalty of five thousand dollars, with condition for the faithful performance of all the duties which are, or may be by law required of him. The bond must be approved by the governor, and, with the oath of office, filed in the office of the auditor.

371 (132). Salary.—The salary of the commissioner is twenty-one hundred dollars annually, payable monthly.

372 (133). Location of office.—The commissioner must keep his office in the state capitol.

373 (134). Clerks; oaths of office; bonds; term of office.—The commissioner must appoint two clerks, one of whom shall be known as the chief clerk, the other as assistant clerk; each of them must take an oath to discharge faithfully all the duties which are, or may be required of him by law. The chief clerk must give bond, with at least two good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the commissioner and the governor, in the penalty of five thousand dollars, payable to the State of Alabama, with condition for the faithful performance of all the duties which are, or may be required of him by law. The assistant clerk must give bond, with at least two good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the commissioner and the governor, in the penalty of three thousand dollars, payable to the State of Alabama, with condition for the faithful performance of all the duties which are, or may be required of him by law. The official oaths and bonds of the chief clerk and assistant clerk must be filed in the office of the auditor. The chief clerk and assistant clerk hold office during the term of the commissioner by whom they are appointed, and until the appointment and qualification of their successors, unless sooner removed.

374 (135). Duties of clerks.—The clerks must discharge such duties as may be prescribed by the commissioner. It is the duty of the chief clerk to take charge of the "fertilizer tags" of the department; to furnish the same to dealers, and to make such reports as may be required by the commissioner; under the supervision of the commissioner, to make sale of the tags to licensees; to keep a correct account of all tags sold by the department, showing to whom and when sold, and, as far as practicable, the fertilizer or fertilizers for which they are intended; and to keep an account of all licenses issued by the commissioner, to whom and when issued, and of the fees received therefor; and, under the direction of the commissioner, to render monthly accounts to the auditor of all moneys received by the department, and of all its expenditures; and to pay into the state treasury such moneys as are properly payable thereto, on the certificate of the auditor.

375 (136). Compensation of clerks.—The annual salary of the chief clerk is fifteen hundred dollars, and of the assistant clerk twelve hundred dollars, payable monthly, on the certificate of the commissioner. Expenses necessarily incurred by them in traveling on the business of the department, under the direction of the commissioner, must be paid from, and charged against the department fund.

376 (137). Duties of commissioner.—The following are the duties of the commissioner:

1. He shall encourage the proper development of agriculture, horticulture and kindred industries.

2. He shall encourage the organization of neighborhood and county agricultural clubs and associations, and out of these the organization of a state agricultural association.

3. He shall collect and publish statistics, and such other information in regard to the industries of this state, and of other states, as may be of benefit in developing the agricultural resources of the state. To this end, he shall put himself in communication, and shall co-operate with the departments of agriculture in other states, and with the commissioner of agriculture of the United States, and shall provide for the proper and careful distribution of all seeds, plants, documents and information coming into his possession on account of the department, that may be of interest and benefit to the people of the state; and he may purchase seeds for distribution.

4. He shall cause to be investigated the diseases of grain, fruits and other crops growing in this state, and also remedies for such diseases, and also the habits and propagation of the various insects that are injurious to the crops of the state, and the proper mode of their destruction.

5. He shall investigate the subject of grasses, and report upon their value, and the cultivation of the varieties best adapted to the different sections of the state, and the mode of preserving the same.

6. He shall inquire into all matters connected with the dairy that he may deem of interest to the people of the state, and in this connection the raising of stock and poultry, the obtaining of such as are of the most value, and the breeding and propagation of the same; and shall encourage the raising of fish and the culture of bees.

7. He shall give attention to the subject of fencing, and the reduction of the cost thereof; and shall investigate the subject of subsoil drainage, and the best modes of effecting it; and of irrigation, and what portion of the state can be most benefited thereby.

8. He shall investigate and report upon the culture of wool, and the utility and profits of sheep-raising; also the culture of silk, and its manufacture and preparation for market.

9. He shall cause a proper collection of agricultural statistics to be made annually, and to this end, shall furnish blank forms to the tax-assessor, or some other county official of each county; and it is made the special duty of the tax-assessor, or other officer to whom such blanks are furnished, to collect such information as may be desired, and report the same without delay to the commissioner.

10. He shall appoint county correspondents, who will report to him from time to time, as may be desired.

11. He shall prepare and keep in his office books of registry, wherein any person may have entered, upon payment of a registry fee of one dollar for each tract or lot, any real estate for sale, with the terms of sale; and shall file in his office any plats, or descriptive papers desired; and such books, plats and papers shall be open to inspection, free of charge. He shall also obtain from the auditor and keep in his office, the registry of the lands which may be held by the state for sale for non-payment of taxes, or for other cause, with their value, and the nature and characteristics of the soil.

12. He shall collect specimens of wood, suitable for manufacturing and other purposes, and specimens of agricultural, mineral, phosphate, and marl deposits of the state, and cause correct analysis of such as may be deemed expedient to be made and recorded in a substantial book to be kept for this purpose.

13. He shall also as soon as practicable, prepare a convenient handbook, with the necessary illustrative maps, which shall contain all necessary information, as to the mines, minerals, forests, soils, and and other products, climate, water, and water-powers; fisheries, mountains, streams, industries, and all such statistics as are best adapted to give proper information of the attractions and advantages which the state affords to immigrants, and shall make illustrative expositions thereof, whenever practicable, at international and state expositions.

14. He shall aid immigration by publishing each year such information as to the agricultural, mineral, and other industries and resources of the state, as shall be of interest to immigrants, or others, seeking a change of home, or seeking investments.

15. He shall, at the opening of each season, issue and distribute circulars, setting forth the brands of fertilizers, sold or exchanged, or offered for sale or exchange in the state, their analysis as claimed by the manufacturer or dealer in them, and, so far as known, their agricultural and commercial value.

16. He shall issue a license to such persons as propose to sell or exchange fertilizers.

As amended Feb. 1, 1891, p.442.

17. He shall obtain samples of each and every brand of fertilizers sold or exchanged, or offered for sale or exchange in this state, for each season in which such fertilizers are offered for sale, and cause such samples to be analyzed by the state chemist; and he shall make publication of such analysis not later than the first day of August of each year.

18. He shall make and publish such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this chapter touching the sale or exchange of fertilizers.

19. He shall make a report to the governor, quarterly, of all the moneys received and disbursed by the department; and, on the expiration of the fiscal year must make a report of all such receipts and disbursements. Such annual report must include a list of all licenses issued during the year, with date of issuance, number of each license, name and address of each licensee, amount received for each license and the total amount received for licenses; also, a statement showing the date of each sale of tags during the year, the name and address of each purchaser, the number of tags purchased, the amount paid therefor, and the total amount received from the sale of tags.

20. He shall from time to time inquire into and examine into the sale or delivery within this state of any article, product or compound made wholly or partly out of any fat, oil, oleaginous substance, or compound thereof, not produced directly at the time of manufacture from unadulterated milk or cream from the same, which shall be in imitation of yellow butter produced from pure, unadulterated milk, or cream from the same; and for the purpose of making said investigation, he shall be authorized to summon and examine witnesses and administer oaths to them, and whenever he has cause to believe from such investigation, that an offense has been committed against the laws of this state, it shall be his duty to report the same together with the evidence in the case to the solicitor of the proper circuit or county to be laid before the grand jury. The expenses incurred under the provisions of this subdivision, duly certified to, and verified by the affidavit of the commissioner of agriculture, and approved by the governor, shall be paid from the funds of the department of agriculture derived from the sale of tags.* Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1307.

*An act approved February 16, 1897 (Pamph. Acts, p. 1141) entitled "An act to encourage and protect the raising and growing of fruit in the State of Alabama," is as follows:

"SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of Alabama, That upon complaint being made to the commissioner of agriculture that in any county or section of the state there exists or is believed to exist any disease among any apple, peach, pear or other fruit trees, which is likely to permanently injure or destroy the orchards or fruit crops in said county or section, the said commissioner shall cause a sample of such diseased tree to be sent to him or to some of the agricultural experiment stations located in this state, where he shall cause the same to be thoroughly examined and analyzed and a written report furnished to him regarding the same.

"SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, That said commissioner of agriculture be, and he is hereby authorized and empowered to require the owner of any trees which as shown by the written report from any of the agricultural experiment stations to be infected with any blight or disease calculated to permanently injure or destroy the orchards or fruit crops in any county or section of this state to destroy and burn any and all trees so infected, provided that the owner of such trees shall first be permitted to show said commissioner, if he 377 (138). State geologist to furnish information to the commissioner.—It is the duty of the state geologist, on application, to furnish the commissioner all the information he may have, with reference to the mineral, agricultural, and other natural resources of the state, together with the analysis of soils, ores, marls, minerals and mineral waters, and with maps, charts, drawing and specimens, illustrative of the geological, agricultural, and mineral features of the state.

ARTICLE 2.

PROVISIONS REGULATING THE SALE OF FERTILIZERS.

378 (139). Sale or exchange of commercial fertilizers; license required.—Commercial fertilizers must not be sold or exchanged without a license from the commissioner authorizing the person making the sale or exchange to deal therein. All sales or exchanges made without such license are void.

See citations to section 386 (141).

379 (140). License; fee; duration.—On the payment of a fee of one dollar, the commissioner must issue license to any person or firm, or corporation, or association of persons, authorizing the sale or exchange of fertilizers during a season, expiring on the thirtieth day of September of each year.

380. Evidence.—The printed report of the commissioner or a certified copy of the record in his office showing the issuance of a license to sell or exchange commercial fertilizers, and to whom and when issued, is presumptive evidence of the fact that such license was issued to such person at such date. But this provision does not preclude the introduction of the license in evidence.

Feb. 23, 1893, p. 865.

381. Commissioner must make requisition upon auditor for tags. The commissioner must, prior to the beginning of each season, and at such other times as may be necessary, make written requisition upon the auditor for the estimated number of tags required to supply the demand during the ensuing season.

Ib.

382. Tags supplied by auditor and account kept against commissioner.—Upon the receipt of such requisition, the auditor must have printed the required number of tags of suitable material, with proper fastenings for attaching the same to packages, bags or barrels of fertilizers; and there shall be printed thereon the word "Guaranteed," with the year or season in which the tags are to be used, and a facsimile signature of the auditor and of the commissioner; and there shall also be printed thereon the words: "Alabama Tag Tax, 5 cents." The auditor must, as soon as practicable, deliver such can, that such disease does not in fact exist, or is not dangerous to the orchards or fruit crops in his section.

"SEC. 3. Be it further enacted, That any person who fails or refuses to comply with the requirements of the commissioner of agriculture, after having been warned to do so, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined, not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars."

tags to the commissioner, at the capitol, taking his receipt therefor; and the auditor shall keep a true and correct account with the commissioner, charging him with all the tags furnished, at the price of five cents each, and crediting him with all legally accounted for, at the same price. The commissioner must report to the auditor at the end of each month the number of tags sold during the month, and credit therefor must be given as above provided.

383. Surplus tags to be destroyed at end of season and credit therefor given.—All tags remaining in the hands of the commissioner at the end of the year or season must be destroyed in the presence of the treasurer, secretary of state, and attorney-general; and the certificate of these officers showing the number of tags so destroyed and the year or season for which they were intended, entitles the commissioner to credit therefor on his account with the auditor at the sum of five cents for each tag so destroyed. Ib.

384. Commissioner and his sureties liable for tags not accounted for.—The commissioner and the sureties on his official bond are liable to the state for all such tags not legally accounted for, at the rate of five cents each.

385. When auditor to certify account to attorney-general for suit.—If, for more than sixty days after the expiration of the year or season, the commissioner shall fail to account for all the tags so furnished him, the auditor must certify the account therefor to the attorney-general; and unless all such tags shall be legally accounted for within thirty days thereafter, the attorney-general must proceed by suit to enforce the liability against the commissioner and the sureties on his bond.

386 (141). Dealer must attach tags, else sale or exchange void. Feb. 4, 1895, p. 368, §1. Before selling or exchanging, or offering to sell or exchange fertilizers, the licensee must attach one of such tags to each bag, barrel or package containing two hundred pounds or any less number of pounds; two tags to each bag, barrel or package containing more than two hundred pounds and not more than four hundred pounds, and one additional tag for each additional two hundred pounds or fractional part thereof, contained in such bag, barrel or package; and a sale or exchange of fertilizers not so tagged is void.

A sale of commercial fertilizers, made in violation of statutory requirements, is void, and no recovery can be had for the price.—Campbell v. Segars, 81 Ala. 259; Steiner v. Ray, 84 Ala. 93; Clark's Cove Guano Co. v. Dowling, 85 Ala. 142; Merriman v. Knox, 99 Ala. 93; Brown v. Adair, 104 Ala. 652; Kirby v. Adair, 104 Ala. 652. Residence of seller and place of manufacture of goods are immaterial when delivery made in this state.—Merriman v. Knox, 99 Ala. 93; Brown v. Adair, 104 Ala. 652. Tags must be attached at the time of the sale; if previously attached, and lost before the sale, others must be supplied, else the sale is void.—Clark's Cove Guano Co. v. Dowling, 85 Ala. 142; Kirby v. Huntsville F. & M. ever any manufacturer, merchant or other person selling fertilizers shall, directly or indirectly, include such tag tax in the price of the fertilizer sold, such sale is void.

Dec. 8, 1886, p. 50, §1.

388. Contracts for the sale of fertilizers at fictitious price; only real market value recoverable.—In contracts for the sale of fertilizers in which an excessive or fictitious price is put upon such fertilizers with the stipulation that if such fertilizers are paid for on or before a certain date they may be paid for in a smaller sum than such excessive or fictitious price, or in cotton or other produce at an excessive or fictitious price, the difference between the excessive or fictitious price charged for the fertilizers and their real market value shall be held a penalty; and in all suits to enforce such contracts only the real market value of such fertilizers, with the interest thereon, shall be recovered.

Ib. §2.

389. Parol evidence competent.—Parol evidence is competent to show such market price, the situation of the parties and the consideration of such contracts, as in cases of usury, notwithstanding any writing in the premises.

390 (142). Fertilizers to be submitted to commissioner.—Before offering a fertilizer for sale or exchange, the person proposing to sell or exchange must submit to the commissioner a written or printed statement, setting forth—

1. The name and brand under which such fertilizer is to be sold or exchanged, the number of pounds contained in the bag, barrel, or package, in which it is to be put upon the market, the name or names of the manufacturers, and the place of manufacturing.

2. A statement setting forth the amount of the named ingredients which they are willing to guarantee such fertilizer to contain: First, nitrogen; second, water soluble phosphoric acid; third, citrate soluble phosphoric acid; fourth, acid soluble phosphoric acid; fifth, potash; and such statement shall be held to constitute a guarantee to the purchaser that every package of such fertilizer contains not less than the amount of each ingredient set forth in the statement, and when such statement sets forth the maximum and the minimum of any ingredient, the commercial value shall be estimated upon the minimum alone; but this shall not preclude the party from setting forth any other ingredients which the fertilizer may contain, which, as well as the preceding, shall be embraced in the guarantee.

As amended, Feb. 27, 1889, p. 778.

391 (143). Fertilizers or chemicals for manufacturing to be branded.—All fertilizers, or chemicals for manufacturing or composting the same, offered for sale, exchange, or distribution, must have branded upon, or attached to each bag, barrel, or package, in such manner as the commissioner may by regulation establish, the true analysis of such fertilizers or chemical, as claimed by the manufacturer, showing the percentage of valuable elements or ingredients such fertilizer or chemical contains, and its commercial value, calculated upon the standard of value of the principal ingredients as set forth in the preceding section as priced by the commissioner of agriculture at the beginning of each season, and in every case the brand must specifically set forth the percentage contained in the fertilizer or chemical of the several ingredients specified in the preceding section, in the terms of that section.

392 (144). Fertilizer; what not included in term.—The term "fertilizer," or "commercial fertilizer," as used in this chapter, does not include common lime, land plaster, cottonseed, cottonseed meal, ashes, or common salt, not in combination.

393 (145). Chemist of department.—The professor of chemistry of the Agricultural and Mechanical College is the official chemist of the department. On the application of the commissioner, he must analyze and certify the analysis of all fertilizers, samples of which are furnished him; and, at the request of the commissioner, if he can without conflict with his duties as professor, must attend conventions of agricultural chemists, make reports of such matters as he may deem of interest to the department, and render such other services in the line of his profession as the commissioner may require.

394 (146). Compensation of chemist.—The chemist is entitled to his necessary traveling expenses while on duty assigned to him by the commissioner, payable from the funds of the department as provided in the next article.

395 (147). Copy of official analysis evidence.—The copy of the official analysis of any fertilizer or chemical, under the seal of the department of agriculture, shall be admissible as evidence in any of the courts of this state, on the trial of any issue involving the merits of such fertilizer or chemical.

ARTICLE 3.

FUNDS OF THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

396 (148). Funds of department.—All moneys received by the department from fees for licenses, from sales of tags, from fees for the registration of lands for sale, or from any other source, must, except as is herein otherwise provided, be paid into the state treasury monthly; and such moneys must be, by the auditor and treasurer, entered on the books of their respective offices to the credit of the department of agriculture.

397 (149). Expenses of department.—The commissioner must submit, monthly, to the governor an account of the expenses of the department for the preceding month, and an estimate of the expenses for the succeeding month, and, with the approval of the governor indorsed thereon, may retain from the moneys in hand, or draw from the funds in the treasury to the credit of the department of agriculture, the amount of such estimate, not to exceed the sum of five hundred dollars, to meet such expenses, not including the salary of the commissioner and his clerks; such estimate, with the approval of the governor, to be filed in the office of the auditor. The traveling expenses of the commissioner and clerks and of the chemist, on the accounts thereof being itemized and verified before payment, may be paid from the money so retained.

ARTICLE 4.

AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT STATIONS AND SCHOOLS.

As amended Feb. 28, 1889, p. 119.

398 (150). Experiment station of A. & M. College.—The trustees of the Agricultural and Mechanical College may establish and maintain an agricultural experiment station, at which careful experiments in scientific agriculture shall be made; the results whereof shall be furnished the commissioner monthly, and he shall make publication thereof as often as he may deem necessary; and if such station is established and maintained, the trustees of the college shall cause, without charge therefor, an analysis to be made of all fertilizers submitted by the commissioner for analysis; and one-sixth of the net proceeds arising from the sale of fertilizer tags shall be paid quarterly to the treasurer of the Agricultural and Mechanical College on the approval of the governor and of the commissioner, to be disbursed under the direction of the board of trustees for the development of the agricultural and mechanical department of the college.

As amended Feb. 16, 1887, p. 828, §1.

399 (151). Canebrake Agricultural Experiment Station.—A branch agricultural experiment station, for the purpose of conducting and making experiments in scientific agriculture, is established and located at or near Uniontown, in Perry county, known as the Canebrake Agricultural Experiment Station.

Ib. §2.

400 (152). Board of control.—The station is under the general supervision and control of a board of control composed of the commissioner of agriculture, the director of the experiment station at the Agricultural and Mechanical College, and five progressive farmers, to be appointed by the governor; who are actually engaged in cultivating canebrake lands, three of whom must reside within ten miles of the station, and who must not receive any compensation other than expenses actually incurred in visiting the station, and while there supervising its affairs.

Ib. §3.

401 (153). Authority of board.—The board has authority to purchase suitable lands, not exceeding in quantity forty acres, for the uses of the station, taking the title to the state, and to construct thereon the necessary buildings and other improvements, not expending more than two thousand dollars in making such purchase, and in the construction of such buildings and improvements. The board has authority also to appoint and to discharge at pleasure such officers, agents, or servants as are deemed necessary to the operation of the station, fixing their compensation; and may appoint a director to conduct and control the operations of the station, under the superintendence and direction, and subject to the rules and regulations of the board, and may pay such director a reasonable salary, not to exceed two hundred and fifty dollars per annum.

402 (154). Duties of board.—The board must cause such experiments to be made at the station as will advance the interests of scientific agriculture, particularly on canebrake lands, and to cause such chemical analyses to be made as are deemed necessary; all such analyses, if requested, to be made, under the supervision of the commissioner of agriculture, by the chemist of the agricultural department without charge.

403 (155). Expenses of station.—The expenses of the Canebrake Agricultural Experiment Station, not exceeding twenty-five hundred dollars annually, must be paid out of the funds of the agricultural department, to the treasurer of the board of control, in equal quarterly installments, on the first days of January, April, July and October. Feb. 16, 1887, p. 828, §4.

404. Branch agricultural experiment station and school for each congressional district.—A branch agricultural experiment station and school is established at Athens, Limestone county, in the eighth congressional district, known as the North Alabama Agricultural Experiment Station and School; another at Abbeville, Henry county, in the third congressional district, known as the Southeast Alabama Agricultural Experiment Station and School; another at Albertville, Marshall county, in the seventh congressional district, known as the Northeast Alabama Agricultural Experiment Station and School; another at Evergreen, Conecuh county, in the second congressional district, known as the Southwest Alabama Agricultural Experiment Station and School; another at Hamilton, Marion county, in the sixth congressional district, known as the Sixth District Agricultural Experiment Station and School; another at Blountsville, Blount county, in the ninth congressional district, known as the Ninth District Agricultural Experiment Station and School; and three additional agricultural experiment stations and schools, to be located by the governor, commissioner of agriculture and superintendent of education, may be established in the first, fourth, and fifth congressional districts, respectively, to be known as the ——— District Agricultural Experiment Station and School, respectively, whenever the inhabitants of the district shall convey to the state, for the use of such stations and schools, respectively, not less than eighty acres of land, with suitable school buildings thereon of not less than five thousand dollars in value as approved by the commissioner of agriculture.* Feb. 28, 1889, p. 1036. 405. Board of control and executive committee; how constituted. Each of such stations is under the supervision of a board of control, appointed by the governor, to be composed of five members, a majority of whom shall be men whose principal business is farming, who shall be residents of the respective congressional district wherein the school for which they are appointed is located; and the superintendent of education and the commissioner of agriculture shall be ex officio members of each of such boards of control. Such board of control may appoint an executive committee composed of not less than three members of such board, who shall exercise such powers consistent with the acts creating the said school as are conferred upon them by the board of control. Of the five members of each board of control appointed by the governor, one shall be appointed for two years, two for four years, and two for six years from the date of their respective appointments, and as their terms expire the governor shall fill the vacancies, and the members appointed to fill such vacancies shall hold for six years from their appointments. And the governor, whenever he deems such action necessary or expedient, shall have authority to remove the board of control of any school or any member of such board. The members of said board must not receive any compensation other than traveling expenses actually incurred in attending meetings of the board of control.

406. Appropriations out of agricultural fund; when prorated. For the support of the nine branch agricultural schools and experiment stations, located in the first, second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth congressional districts, respectively, in the State of Alabama, there shall be appropriated annually out of the agricultural fund the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars to each of said schools, one-fourth of such sum to be paid quarterly, to wit: January 1st, April 1st, July 1st, and October 1st, of each year to the treasurer of the board of control of such schools, properiment station shall be established in either of said congressional districts until such district or the citizens thereof shall donate and convey to the state for the use of such station and school real estate and buildings not less than five thousand dollars in value to be approved by the commissioner of agriculture. Provided, that when the school is established in the sixth district it shall be established under this bill at Hamilton, Marion county, and that for the fifth district at Alexander City, Tallapoosa county; Provided further, that when located at Hamilton the people at Hamilton shall make title to the state for school building and eighty acres of land adjoining, and when located at Alexander City the people of that city shall make title to the state for the school building and lot on which it is located and eighty acres of land adjacent or as nearly adjacent as may be procured suitable for said station to be approved by commissioner of agriculture, and in addition thereto shall pay to the treasurer of the board of control of said station and school two thousand dollars on demand in money to be used as provided in this act in erecting buildings and the equipment and improvement of the school and station; Provided further, that in the event any other place in the fifth congressional district shall within thirty days from the passage of this act tender to the governor, superintendent of education and the commissioner of agriculture a donation of property and money equal to the amount stipulated in this act as the donation of Alexander City, then the governor, superintendent of education and commissioner of agriculture shall consider such tender of donations and shall locate said fifth congressional district agricultural experiment station and agricultural school at such place in the fifth congressional district as in their judgment offers the greatest inducement as to value of donations and desirability of location.' "

vided there is so much of said fund not otherwise appropriated; and if such fund is not sufficient to pay to each of said schools the said sum of two thousand five hundred dollars, then the same is to be equally divided among said schools.

Ib. §2.

407. Not less than five hundred dollars to be used in making agricultural experiments.—Not less than five hundred dollars of the sum so appropriated to each of said schools shall be used in maintaining, cultivating and improving the farms respectively, and making agricultural experiments thereon, under and by direction of the respective boards of control.

Ib. §3.

408. Treasurer to give bond in sum of one thousand dollars. The treasurer of the board of control shall give bond payable to the president of the board of control, in the sum of at least one thousand dollars, conditioned to faithfully keep and disburse the funds of the school, and such board of control may require an additional bond at any time it may deem necessary.

Ib. §4.

409. Director of school.—The president or principal of each of said schools shall be the director of the respective school and station in which he is employed, and he shall personally superintend the making of such experiments as will advance the interests of scientific agriculture and cause such chemical analyses to be made as are deemed necessary, and perform such other duties in reference to such experiment stations as shall be required of him by the board of control.

Ib. §5.

410. Bulletins to be prepared and published.—The president and board of control of said agricultural schools and experiment stations shall, from time to time, prepare bulletins of information for farmers and reports of agricultural experiments conducted by them, and answers to questions that may be asked them in practical farming and veterinary diseases, including condensed reports of the experiment station at Uniontown, and publish the same in all the weekly newspapers published in their respective congressional districts whose publishers will insert the same free of charge.

Ib. §6.

411. President to make annual report to superintendent of education.—It shall be the duty of the president or principal of each of said schools to make to the superintendent of education on or before September 30th of each year a full report of the financial condition, workings and progress of said school, embracing an itemized account of all receipts and disbursements of money appropriated to such schools by this article, and a like report to the commissioner of agriculture of the condition, expenses and workings of the experiment station connected with such school.

Ib. §7.

412. President to make quarterly report to board as to finances. It shall be the duty of the president and principal of each of such schools to report in writing quarterly to the board of control an itemized account of all incidental or matriculation fees and all other moneys received by him as such president or principal, together with the disposition of the same. He shall give receipts for all moneys received and take receipts for all moneys disbursed by him.

Ib. §9. 413. Scientific agriculture must be taught.—Scientific and practical agriculture shall be taught at all the agricultural schools, and all male pupils over ten years of age who receive free tuition therein shall be required to take the course in scientific agriculture and horticulture, and all other pupils over the age of ten years receiving free tuition shall be required to take the course in floriculture and horticulture.

Ib. §10. 414. Appropriation withheld unless agricultural experiments conducted by school.—None of the said schools shall receive the appropriation provided for in this article or any part thereof unless such school shall be actually conducting an agricultural experiment station and agricultural school wherein such experiments are made as will tend to advance the interests of scientific farming.

Ib. §11. 415. Course of study and training; certificate of proficiency or diploma.—The board of control and president of the faculty of said schools shall adopt a course of study with a view to educating and training pupils for teachers in the public schools of this state, which course of study shall embrace the different grades adopted by the state; to grant certificates of proficiency or diplomas to such pupils as shall complete the course of study so adopted, provided, that such certificates of proficiency or diplomas shall not entitle the holder to teach in the public schools in the state without examination.

ARTICLE 5.

FARMERS' INSTITUTES AND AGRICULTURAL FAIRS.

Feb. 28, 1889, p. 669. 416. Farmers' institutes.—The commissioner is authorized and directed to adopt annually such measures as may be necessary to successfully conduct, in different sections of the state, farmers' institutes, consisting of lectures on subjects related to agriculture by persons of scientific attainments, and by practical and successful farmers, with discussions relating thereto, and of such exhibitions as may prove instructive and of practical value to the farmers of the vicinity where such institutes are held, a report of which, with a detailed statement of the money expended in that connection, must be embodied in his annual report.

Ib. 417. Expenses of institutes.—The commissioner is authorized to pay the necessary expenses incurred in conducting such farmers' institutes, including the expense of employing lecturers when necessary, and for distributing the reports thereof; and for this purpose there is annually appropriated out of the funds of the department of agriculture, three thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary to be paid from the monthly estimate and allowance for expenses of the department.

Feb. 18, 1891, p. 1191. 418. Agricultural fairs; taxes on privileges remitted to.—All state, county and municipal taxes on privileges are remitted and released to all agricultural fairs which may be granted or sold by them and conducted on their grounds during the exhibition of such fairs, on which a tax is now or may hereafter be levied by state, county or municipal authority; but this section shall not be construed to authorize any fair to sell or grant privileges on the grounds to wheels of fortune, or any game of chance, or any device inimical to the laws of the state.

CHAPTER 6.

ALIENS.

419 (1914) (2860). Aliens may take, hold and transmit property.—An alien, resident or non-resident, may take and hold property, real and personal, in this state, either by purchase, descent, or devise, and may dispose of, and transmit the same by sale, descent, or devise, as a native citizen.

CHAPTER 7.

ANIMALS. 420–425.

420 (1378) (1600) (1295) (1114). Fire-hunters liable for killing stock.—If any person hunting deer by fire, in the night-time, kills any horse, mare, colt, or other domestic animal, he is liable to double damages, at the suit of the owner of the property.

421 (1379) (1601) (1296). Liability on account of dogs killing stock, and killing the dogs.—No person must keep any dog which has been known to kill or worry sheep, or other stock, without being set upon the same; and any person knowingly keeping such dog is liable for double the value of all stock killed or injured by such dog, to be recovered by the owner of such stock before any court of competent jurisdiction; and no action shall be maintained against any one for killing such dog.

422. Destruction of abandoned and diseased animals.—Any agent, officer or member of a duly incorporated society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, may lawfully destroy, or cause to be destroyed, any animal found abandoned and not properly cared for, which may appear in the judgment of two reputable citizens, called by him to view the same in his presence, to be superannuated, infirm, glandered, injured, or diseased past recovery for any useful purpose. Jan. 30, 1893, p. 218.

423. Dogs may be registered.—The judge of probate must procure a suitable book in which shall be recorded the name, a brief description of the dog, and the name of the owner of any dog entitled to be Feb. 12, 1887, p. 805.

registered therein; and the owner of any dog may cause his dog to be registered in such book; and dogs so registered shall be numbered in the order of their registration.

IB. 424. Fee; tax; certificate.—At the time of such registration the owner of the dog must pay to the judge of probate a fee of twenty-five cents and a tax of one dollar, and thereupon the judge of probate must deliver to such owner a certificate stating the number, name and description of such dog, and the date of its registration; and only one registration shall be required for each dog.

IB. 425. Tax appropriated to public schools.—All taxes collected under the provisions of the preceding section shall be appropriated to the use of the public schools in the county where collected.

427 (3612) (3918). Appeals from certain interlocutory decrees. From any decree rendered by the chancery court in term time, or by the chancellor in vacation, sustaining or overruling a demurrer to a bill in equity, or sustaining or overruling a plea to such bill, or sustaining or overruling a motion to dismiss such bill for want of equity, an appeal lies to the supreme court, to be taken within thirty days after the rendition of such decree; the appeal shall be heard and determined by the supreme court in preference to all other than criminal cases, and if the decree of the chancellor is reversed, the court shall render such decree as should have been rendered by the chancellor; but nothing in this section shall be so construed as to prevent an assignment of errors on such decrees, on appeals taken after the final determination of the cause, if appeals are not taken under this section.

Appeal does not lie from decree sustaining demurrer to cross-bill and continuing cause.—Parish v. Galloway, 34 Ala. 163; Thornton v. Kyle, 46 Ala. 379; Ex Parte Thornton, Ib. 384; Barclay v. Spragins, 80 Ala. 357; Jones v. Woodstock, 90 Ala. 545; Festorazzi v. St. Stephen's Catholic Church, 96 Ala. 178; Buford v. Ward, 109 Ala. 309. But does lie from decree sustaining demurrer and dismissing cross-bill.—Winn v. Dillard, 57 Ala. 167; s. c., 60 Ala. 369. And from decree on motion to dismiss for want of equity.—S. & N. R. Co. v. Highland Ave. & B. R. 429 (3614) (3921) (4422). Appeal from order appointing or refusing receiver.—An appeal lies from an order of the chancellor, made in term time or in vacation, appointing or refusing to appoint a receiver, within thirty days from the filing of the order with the register; and such appeal must be taken and deemed by the supreme court as a preferred case, and must be heard during the term to which it is returnable in preference to all other than criminal cases, or other preferred cases having priority on the docket of the court.

Miller v. Lehman, 87 Ala. 517; Werborn v. Kahn, 93 Ala. 201.

430 (3615) (3917) (3486). Appeals from certain interlocutory judgments.—An appeal to the supreme court may be taken, before the final determination of the cause, from any judgment overruling a motion to dismiss or quash an attachment, or sustaining a demurrer to a plea in abatement to an attachment, or sustaining an attachment against matters set up in abatement of it, either in the way of an agreed case, or by plea, or otherwise; but such appeal shall be taken only after the consent of the opposite party, or his attorney, is obtained to its being taken; and on the trial of such appeal, there shall not be a reversal, if the supreme court discovers that the defect or error alleged or insisted on can be removed or remedied by amendment.

Crumley v. Bryan, 69 Ala. 91; Stanton v. Heard, 100 Ala. 515.

431 (3616) (3923). Appeals from denial of remedial writs.—Appeals may be taken to the supreme court from the judgment of judges of the circuit and city courts on application for writs of certiorari, supersedeas, quo warranto, mandamus and other remedial writs, upon plaintiff or defendant giving security for the costs of appeal, approved by the judge trying the same, within thirty days from the day of the judgment; but such appeal shall not operate as a supersedeas of the judgment, unless bond with sufficient sureties be given by the appellant, payable to the appellee, in such sum as the judge hearing the application shall require, conditioned to pay all damages thereby sustained.

Ex parte Candee, 48 Ala. 386; Thompson v. Holt, 52 Ala. 497; Ex parte City Council, 64 Ala. 463; Gardner v. Ingram, 82 Ala. 339; Clark v. Spencer, 80 Ala. 345; Dunn v. Court Co. Rev., 85 Ala. 144; Chastain v. Armstrong, Ib. 215.

432 (3617) (3924). Application, etc., filed in clerk's office; manner of taking appeal.—When any application mentioned in the foregoing section has been acted upon by any judge of the circuit or city court, such judge shall cause the application, together with his order thereon, and the other papers in the cause, to be filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit or city court of the county where the application is heard, and such clerk shall prepare the transcript thereof, and certify the appeal as in other cases.

433. Appeals from partial settlements.—From any decree rendered by a court of equity, or court of probate, on a partial or annual settlement of an estate of a deceased person, an appeal lies to the supreme court, to be taken within twelve months after the rendition of such decree; but this section shall not be so construed as

434. Appeals from decisions on motions for new trials.—Whenever a motion for a new trial shall be granted or refused by any circuit or city court in any civil case at law, either party may except to the decision of the court and may reduce to writing the reasons offered for the new trial together with the substance of the evidence in the case and also the decision of the court on the motion; and it shall be the duty of the judge before whom the motion is made to allow and sign the same; and such bill of exceptions shall be a part of the record in the cause, and may embrace the judgment and motion or other matters of record; and the appellant may assign for error that the court below improperly granted or refused to grant a new trial; and the supreme court shall have power to grant new trials or to correct any errors of the circuit or city court in granting or refusing the same.

Practice; motion; reserving exception; assignment of error; how considered and revised.—Cobb v. Malone, 92 Ala. 630; Loan Co. v. Deans, 94 Ala. 377; White v. Blair, 95 Ala. 147; Hoskins v. 435 (3618) (3919, 3920). Appeals from judgments or decrees of abolished courts.—If an inferior court of record ceases to exist by reason of the repeal of the statute creating it, and, while existing, rendered a judgment or decree from which an appeal would lie, within the time prescribed by law, an appeal therefrom may be taken on application to the clerk or register of the court to which the unfinished business, or the records of such inferior court, may be transferred, as if such judgment or decree had been rendered in the court having the jurisdiction of such unfinished business, or the custody of such records; and in the event of the reversal of such judgment or decree, the remandment of the cause must be to the latter court.

Clark v. Spencer, 80 Ala. 435.

ARTICLE 2.

MANNER AND TIME OF TAKING APPEALS.

436 (3619) (3949) (3508) (3040). Limitation of appeals.—Appeals under this chapter, except in such cases as a different time is prescribed, must be taken within one year from the rendition of the judgment or decree.

Andrews v. Branch Bank, 10 Ala. 375; Pearson v. Darrington, 21 Ala. 169; Cawlfield v. Brown, 45 Ala. 552; Jones v. Wilson, 54 Ala. 50; Alabama Co. v. State, Ib. 36; Waldrop v. Carnes, 62 Ala. 374; Lanier v. Russell, 74 Ala. 364; Kimbrell v. Rogers, 90 Ala. 339; Wadsworth v. Goree, 96 Ala. 227; Foley v. Leva, 101 Ala. 395; Florence Cotton & Iron Co. v. Field, 104 Ala. 471.

437 (3620) (3925). When appeal returnable.—Unless otherwise provided, an appeal to the supreme court, if taken in vacation, is returnable to the next ensuing term; but if taken during the term, must be made returnable to the first Monday of the term next after the expiration of twenty days from the date of the appeal.

Shulman v. Brantly, 48 Ala. 193; Rodgers v. Abercrombie, Ib. 466; Winn v. Dillard, 60 Ala. 369; Robinson v. Murphy, 69 Ala. 543; Webb v. Robbins, 77 Ala. 176; Sears v. Kirksey, 81 Ala. 98; Winthrow v. Woodward Iron Co., Ib. 100; Moore v. Spier, 80 Ala. 129; Handley v. Heflin, 84 Ala. 600; Kimbrell v. Rogers, 90 Ala. 339; Capehart v. Granite Mills, 97 Ala. 353; Collier v. Coggins, 103 Ala. 281.

438 (3621). Return of appeal from order appointing or refusing receiver.—If an appeal is taken from an order appointing or refusing to appoint a receiver during the term of the supreme court, it must be made returnable to the first Monday succeeding the taking thereof, to which ten days notice of the appeal can be given; otherwise, the appeal must be taken to the next succeeding term of the court.

439 (3622) (3950) (3509) (3041). Security for costs; when required.—No appeal can be taken without giving bond to supersede the execution of the judgment or decree, unless the appellant give security for the costs of such appeal, to be approved by the clerk, register, or judge of probate; the names of the surety or sureties to be certified with the record to the appellate court; and execution may issue against such sureties for the costs in such court and the costs of the transcript, if decided against the appellant.

Croom, 50 Ala. 479; Montgomery Gas Light Co. v. Merrick, 61 Ala. 534; Ex parte Hood, 107 Ala. 520.

440 (3623) (3927) (3489) (3019). Supersedeas bond.—When the judgment or decree is for the payment of money only, the appeal does not operate as a supersedeas, or to stay or suspend the execution of such judgment or decree (except in such cases as are otherwise provided), unless bond be given by the appellant, or some other person, in double the amount of the judgment or decree, including costs, payable to the appellee, with sufficient sureties, and with condition to prosecute the appeal to effect, or, if he fails therein, to satisfy such judgment as the supreme court may render in the premises.

As amended Feb. 28, 1889, p. 72.

442 (3625) (3928) (3490) (3020). Supersedeas bond in other cases.—If the judgment or decree be only for the performance of some act or duty, or for the recovery of property, real or personal, or the possession thereof, or for the sale of property, real or personal, unless otherwise provided, the party appealing, if he wishes to supersede the execution of the judgment or decree, must execute bond with good and sufficient sureties payable to the clerk or the register in such sum as the judge, chancellor or register may in writing prescribe, with condition that if he fail in the appeal he will pay such judgment as the supreme court may render in the premises, and all such costs and damages as any party aggrieved may sustain by reason of the wrongful appeal and suspension of the execution of the judgment or decree.

See citations to preceding section.

443 (3626) (3928) (3490) (3020). Order fixing amount of bond filed and recorded.—The order of the judge, chancellor or register, fixing the amount of the bonds mentioned in the two preceding sections, must be filed and entered by the clerk or register on the minutes of the court; but the failure to make such order, or if made, to file or to record the same shall not impair the validity or obligation of any bond which is given as a security under the two preceding sections, by which an appeal and a suspension of execution are in fact obtained.

444 (3627) (3934) (3493) (3023). Bond on appeal by claimant in trial of right of property.—When an appeal is sued out by the claimant from a judgment against him on a trial of the right of property, and he desires to supersede the judgment, the bond must be taken in double the amount of the plaintiff's judgment, if that, with the interest, is less than the valuation by the jury of the property levied on, and in double the amount of the assessed value, if less than the judgment of the plaintiff.

445 (3628). Bond or security for costs on appeal from order appointing receiver.—If an appeal is taken from an order appointing a receiver, and it is intended to supersede such order, the party taking the appeal must enter into bond with good and sufficient sureties, payable to and approved by the register, in such sum as may be prescribed by the chancellor or register, with condition to prosecute such appeal to effect, or, if he fail therein, to pay the costs thereof, and all such damages as any person in interest may sustain from the suspension of such order during the pendency of such appeal; but if it is not intended to supersede such order, or if the appeal is taken from an order refusing the appointment of a receiver, security for the costs only must be taken.

Ex parte Tillman, 93 Ala. 101.

446 (3629) (3930). When married women relieved from giving bond or security for costs.—From any judgment of the circuit or city court, or from any order or decree of the court of probate, or from any decree of the court of chancery, subjecting to sale the separate estate of a married woman, or any part thereof, be the same her statutory separate estate, or a separate estate otherwise created, she is entitled to an appeal to the supreme court to revise such judgment, order, or decree, without giving security for costs of appeal, on making affidavit that she is unable to give such security; and such appeal shall operate as a suspension and stay of all proceedings under such judgment, order, or decree, until such appeal shall have been heard and determined by the supreme court.

447 (3630) (3929) (3491) (3021). Liability for taking insufficient surety on appeal bond.—For taking insufficient surety, the clerk, register, or judge of probate, is liable to the appellee for the damages thereby sustained, unless the surety was generally reputed good for the amount when he was received; but the clerk, register, or judge of probate, is not required to receive any one as surety, who refuses to answer on oath as to his sufficiency.

448 (3631) (3926) (3488) (3018). Citation on appeal.—Upon an appeal being taken, the register, or clerk of the circuit or city court, or the judge of probate, must issue a citation to the adverse party, returnable to the day to which the appeal is returnable, notifying him of the appeal, which must be served on him, or his attorney, or solicitor, at least ten days (unless otherwise provided) before the day to which the appeal is returnable.

449 (3632). Notice of appeal from order appointing or refusing receiver.—Notice of an appeal from an order appointing or refusing to appoint a receiver must be given by citation to the adverse party, which must be served on him, or his solicitor of record, ten days at least before the return day thereof.

450 (3633) (3944) (3503) (3035). Notice to appellee when non-resident.—When the appellee is a non-resident and has no attorney or agent within the state to receive notice of the appeal, oath in writing being made of the fact, the supreme court may direct notice to be given by publication, which is as effectual as actual notice.

451 (3634) (3933) (3492) (3022). Appellant to have transcript of record and certificate of appeal and citation.—The register, clerk, or judge of probate, must, on the application of the appellant or his attorney, make and deliver to him in time to be returned to the supreme court, a full and complete transcript of the record and proceedings in the cause, together with his certificate that the appeal was taken, and the time when, and when returnable, and the citation and a copy of the appeal bond, if any was given, with his certificate that it is a complete transcript of all the proceedings in the cause, and envelope and seal up the whole in a package directed to the clerk of the supreme court, or deliver it to the attorney applying for the same; and no costs shall attend or grow out of the trial and litigation of said cause other than are created and authorized by laws enacted by the general assembly of the State of Alabama.*

*On the 18th of February, 1897 (Pamph. Acts, p. 1414), an act was approved, entitled "An act to prohibit the requiring of abstracts in cases of appeal to the supreme court of Alabama, except in certain cases," which is as follows:

"SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of Alabama, That in cases of appeal to the supreme court of Alabama, from the chancery, circuit or other courts, the appellant shall not be required to make, or prepare for such supreme court or opposing counsel, any transcript or abstract of said cause except the transcript now required by law, to be prepared and certified by the clerk, register or judge of the court from which said appeal is taken, and all laws and rules of the supreme court requiring such abstract are hereby repealed.

"SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, That from and after the date of the approval of this act, on appeal to the supreme court of this state from any judgment, order or decree of the chancery, circuit or probate court, or from any city court in civil cases, the parties to the record may, in person or by their attorneys or solicitors, agree in writing upon an abstract of the record in the case; and upon such agreement and abstract being made and filed with the clerk, register or judge, he shall certify such abstract, which abstract shall be in lieu of the transcript required by law on appeal; and the case shall be heard and determined by the supreme court upon such abstract. If there are to the record, parties weo are minors or of unsound mind, their guardian ad litem, or his attorneys or solicitors, may make such agreement for them. That in such abstracts shall be included the security for costs or appeal bond, and the notice of the appeal required by law.

"SEC. 3. Be it further enacted, That the clerk, or register or judge shall be entitled to a fee of five dollars for certifying such abstract, which shall be in lieu of fees allowed by law for making and certifying transcripts on appeal; and the clerk of the supreme court shall be entitled to a fee of twenty-five cents for each abstract filed or affidavit made and a fee of one dollar for each abstract or opinion bound and indexed as the final record of the supreme court."

rendered, and that an appeal has been taken thereon, with a statement of the obligors in the bond to supersede the judgment or decree, if one has been given, or of the sureties for costs.

Armstrong v. Nelson, 57 Ala. 556.

455 (3638) (3948) (3507) (3039). Appeals on death of either party after judgment.—When either party to a judgment or decree dies after judgment or decree rendered, and before appeal taken thereon, an appeal may be prosecuted in the name of, or against the legal representative of the deceased, on producing satisfactory evidence to the clerk, judge of probate, or register, of the death of the party, and grant of letters testamentary or of administration.

Morrow v. Taggart, 45 Ala. 293.

456 (3639) (3952) (3511). Clerks of inferior courts may issue executions for costs unpaid.—Clerks of the circuit or city court, registers in chancery, and judges of probate, when cases have been taken from their respective courts to the supreme court by appeal, or other lawful mode, and been there decided, if the costs accruing in such lower courts for transcripts, or otherwise, be not paid by the parties against whom they were adjudged in the supreme court, may issue executions for such costs, returnable into the court in which such costs accrued.

ARTICLE 3.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS AS TO APPEALS FROM PROBATE COURT.

457 (3640) (3957) (2247). Final decree.—An appeal lies to the circuit or supreme court from any final decree of the court of probate, or from any final judgment, order, or decree of the judge of probate; and in all cases where it may of right be done, the appellate court shall render such decree, order, or judgment as the court of probate, or the judge thereof, ought to have rendered.

Lehman v. Robertson, 84 Ala. 489; Harrison v. Meadors, 41 Ala. 274; Shows v. Pendry, 93 Ala. 248. See also citations to section 426 (3611).

458 (3641) (3954) (2244) (1888). Other cases in which an appeal lies.—Appeals from the decrees of the court of probate, or from the order, judgment, or decree of the judge of probate, may be taken by the party aggrieved to the circuit or supreme court, in the cases and within the time hereinafter specified, under the same rules and regulations which govern other appeals:

1. From the decree or judgment on a contest as to the validity of a will, to be taken within thirty days after the determination of the contest.

2. From the decree or judgment on an application claiming the right to execute a will or administer an estate, to be taken within thirty days after the hearing and decision of such application; unless the application was denied because the applicant was deemed unfit to serve by reason of a conviction of an infamous crime, or by reason of improvidence, intemperance, or want of understanding, in which case the appeal must be taken within ten days from the denial of the application.

3. Upon any judgment or order removing an executor or administrator, in which case the appeal must be taken within five days after such judgment or order.

4. By a legatee or person entitled to distribution, on the decision of the court, in proceedings instituted to compel the payment of a legacy or distributive share, at any time within six months after such decision.

5. After a final settlement, upon any order, decision, or decree, made on such settlement, or respecting any item or matter thereof, or on any previous settlement, or item, or matter thereof, within six months thereafter.

6. Upon any issue as to the insolvency of an estate, and upon any issue as to an allowance of any claim against insolvent estates, in which cases the appeal must be taken within thirty days after the determination of such issue.

7. On an application for a division or partition of real or personal property, in which case the appeal must be taken within six months, and the decree may be superseded, upon the execution within fifteen days of a supersedeas bond, payable to the appellee, in an amount and upon condition to be prescribed by the judge of probate, such supersedeas to continue until the appeal is decided.

Subdivision 1.—Glover v. Lyon, 57 Ala. 365; Lanier v. Russell, 74 Ala. 364; Truett v. Windham, 98 Ala. 604. Subdivision 2.—Mitchell v. Duncan, 94 Ala. 192. Subdivision 3.—Holtzclaw v. Ware, 34 Ala. 307. Subdivision 5.—Smith v. Smith, 30 Ala. 642; Stewart v. Price, 16 Ala. 40; Howard v. Howard, 26 Ala. 682; Williams v. Gunter, 28 Ala. 681; Thomas v. Dumas, 30 Ala. 83; McAllister v. Thompson, 32 Ala. 497; Bruce v. Strickland, 47 Ala. 192. Subdivision 6.—Nooe v. Garner, 70 Ala. 443. Subdivision 7.—Hoard v. Hoard, 41 Ala. 590; McDade v. McDade, 56 Ala. 598.

459 (3642) (3963) (2253) (1894). Appeals from circuit to supreme court.—An appeal to the supreme court may be taken from the judgment of the circuit court on an appeal brought to such court under the provisions of this article, within thirty days after such judgment.

Truett v. Windham, 98 Ala. 604.

460 (3643) (3958) (2248) (1889). Appeal to supreme court on change of venue in contest of will.—Upon the contest of a will removed from the probate court of the county in which it was propounded to the probate court of another county for trial, an appeal lies to the supreme court, and must be taken within thirty days after the judgment.

Seale v. Chambliss, 35 Ala. 19.

461 (3644) (3964) (2254) (1895). No appeal from order removing executor or administrator without bond.—No appeal can be taken from any order of the probate court removing an executor or administrator, unless the appellant gives bond with at least two good and sufficient sureties, payable to the judge of probate, and in an amount to be fixed by him, not less than the amount of his bond as executor or administrator, conditioned to prosecute the appeal to effect, and, until the same is decided, faithfully to discharge his duties as such executor or administrator.

462 (3645) (3965) (2255) (1896). On affirmance, execution against principal and sureties on bond.—If such appeal is decided against the appellant, execution for costs may issue against him and the sureties on such bond; their names being certified with the record to the appellate court.

463 (3646) (3966) (2256) (1897). Bond also security for estate. Such bond also stands as security for the faithful discharge of his duties as such executor or administrator, from the time the same is approved until the appeal is finally decided.

464 (3647) (3967) (2257) (1898). Security for costs to be given on appeal.—In all other cases in which an appeal is taken under the provisions of this article, the appellant, or some one for him, must give security for the costs of such appeal, to be approved by the judge of probate, or the clerk of the circuit court, as the case may be; and the names of such sureties must be certified with the record to the appellate court; and if the appellant fails to prosecute his appeal, or the judgment is not reversed, or is rendered against him for a less amount than the judgment of the court from which the appeal is taken, execution may issue against him and such sureties for the costs of the appeal.

465 (3648) (3959, 3960) (2249, 2250) (1890, 1891). Bill of exceptions.—Either party may, by bill of exceptions, reserve any charge, opinion, ruling, or decision of the court, or of the judge, touching the matter of controversy, which would not otherwise appear of record; such bill to be signed by the judge within ten days after the entry of the decree or judgment; and, when signed, becomes part of the record.

Williams v. Gunter, 28 Ala. 681; Reese v. Gresham, 29 Ala. 91; Lovett v. Chisolm, 30 Ala. 88; Harris v. Dillard, 31 Ala. 191; Turner v. Key, Ib. 202; Dunham v. Hatcher, Ib. 484; Bartee v. James, 33 Ala. 34; Seale v. Chambliss, 35 Ala. 19; Jones v. Jones, 42 Ala. 218; Tap v. Cox, 56 Ala. 553; Jaques v. Horton, 76 Ala. 240; Truett v. Windham, 98 Ala. 604. See also citations to section 612 (2758).

466 (3649). Transcript of record.—If the error complained of arises only in the matter of the bill of exceptions, the transcript thereof certified to the appellate court need contain only the bill of exceptions and the decree, order or judgment.

467 (3650) (3961) (2251) (1892). Judgment thereon.—If it appears from the bill of exceptions that all the evidence in relation to the particular matter is set out, the appellate court may reverse and render such judgment, order or decree, touching such matter, as should have been rendered, or may remand generally, or may remand with directions to enter the proper judgment, order or decree.

468 (3651) (3968) (2258). Minors; non compos mentis.—The next friend or general guardian of a minor, or of a person of unsound mind, may, in the name of such minor or person of unsound mind, take and prosecute an appeal from any final decree of the court of probate, or from any judgment, order or decree of the judge of probate, on giving security for the costs of the appeal; but a guardian ad litem may take and prosecute an appeal without giving any security for costs of the appeal.

Guardian ad litem not taxed with costs.—Brown v. Williams, 87 Ala. 353; Perryman v. Burgster, 6 P. 99. Next friend may be.—Thomason v. Gray, 84 Ala. 559.

469 (3652) (3969) (2259) (1899). Costs of appeal.—The costs of an appeal, when paid by an executor, administrator, guardian, or guardian ad litem, or next friend, or an administrator ad litem, may, in the discretion of the judge of probate, be reimbursed from the estate of the testator, or intestate, or infant, or person of unsound mind.

ARTICLE 4.

PROCEEDINGS IN SUPREME COURT ON APPEAL.

470 (3653) (3931). Amendment of appeal.—An appeal must not be dismissed because of any error, mistake or irregularity in the taking thereof, or because of any defect in the certificate; but on motion all such amendments as are necessary to perfect it must be allowed.

Harper v. Bibb, 45 Ala. 670; Kidd v. Turner, 52 Ala. 251; Thompson v. Campbell, Ib. 583; Alexander v. Rea, 50 Ala. 64; Vaughan v. Higgins, 68 Ala. 546; Coffey v. Norwood, 81 Ala. 512.

471 (3654) (3932) (4421). Appeal bonds and bonds for costs amendable.—No appeal shall be dismissed for the want of a sufficient appeal bond or bond for the costs of the appeal, if the appellant will give a sufficient bond, which bond the supreme court, or any member thereof, may take and approve, or it may be taken and certified to the supreme court by the judge, clerk or register certifying the appeal.

See citations to preceding section.

472 (3655) (3953) (3512). Discontinuance.—An appeal must not be deemed or treated as discontinued, or as having otherwise lost its force, unless the appellee shall duly move for a discontinuance after legal cause for discontinuance has occurred.

Rhea v. Rhea, 54 Ala. 68; Carleton v. Goodwin, 41 Ala. 153; Sears v. Kirksey, 81 Ala. 98; Withrow v. Woodward Iron Co., Ib. 100.

473 (3656) (3947) (3506) (3038). On death of either party, cause revived.—Upon the death of either party to an appeal being suggested, if the cause cannot proceed without new parties, the cause may be revived either for or against such party, on the production of letters testamentary or of administration; but citation must issue from the appellate court to all who are thus made defendants, unless they appear and waive it.

Clancy v. Stephens, 92 Ala. 577.

474 (3657) (3940) (3499) (3031). Judgment of affirmance on certificate.—If an appeal is taken, and the transcript of the record is not filed within the time prescribed, it is the duty of the court, on the motion of the appellee, to affirm the judgment or decree of the court below, upon the production by him of the certificate of the register, clerk, or judge of probate, that an appeal has been taken to the supreme court. For good cause shown, the court may reinstate the the cause during the term, on payment of costs.

Perryman v. Camp, 24 Ala. 438; Pearsall v. McCartney, 25 Ala. 461; Shulman v. Brantley, 48 Ala. 193; Jones v. Mathews, Ib. 558; Dorsey v. Dumas, 50 Ala. 244; Armstrong v. Nelson, 57 Ala. 556.

475 (3658) (3943) (3502) (3034). Judgment or decree, if reversed, may be rendered, or cause remanded.—The supreme court may, upon the reversal of any judgment or decree, remand the same for further proceedings, or render such judgment or decree as the court below should have rendered, when the record enables it to do so.

When cause remanded on reversal.—Wells v. Bransford, 28 Ala. 201; Bondurant v. Sibley, 29 Ala. 570; Latham v. Staples, 46 Ala. 462; Childress v. Harrison, 47 Ala. 556; Wilburn v. McCalley, 63 Ala. 436; Parks v. Parks, 66 Ala. 326; Bradford v. Bradford, Ib. 252; Kendall v. Lassiter, 68 Ala. 181; Jones v. Latham, 70 Ala. 164. When rendered on appeal.—Evans v. Bell, 20 Ala. 509; Commissioners v. Tarver, 25 Ala. 480; Jackson v. Shipman, 28 Ala. 489; Pike v. Bright, 29 Ala. 332; Campbell v. May, 31 Ala. 567; Griffin v. Wall, 32 Ala. 150; Jean v. Sandiford, 39 Ala. 317; Manning v. Kohn, 44 Ala. 343; Glidden v. Street, 68 Ala. 600; Lehman v. Levy, 69 Ala. 48; Munchus v. Harris, Ib. 596; Waite v. Ward, 93 Ala. 271. Judgment by default; when reversed only as to defendant not served with process.—Lucy v. Beck, 5 P. 166; Windham v. Nat. Fertilizer Co., 99 Ala. 578. When as to all.—Faver v. Briggs, 18 Ala. 478; Parker v. Parker, 39 Ala. 347. Cross appeals from judgment at law; affirmed or reversed entirely.—A. G. S. R. v. McAlpine, 80 Ala. 73. Appeal from judgment of trial court on facts without jury.—Hood v. Pioneer M. & M. Co., 95 Ala. 461; Hunt v. Johnson, 96 Ala. 130; Garner v. Ullman, 99 Ala. 218; Evansville, etc., Co. v. Slater, 101 Ala. 245; Williams v. Woodward Iron Co., 106 Ala. 254; Bridgeport L. Co. v. Ladd, 107 Ala. 244; White v. White, 107 Ala. 417; LeBron v. Morris, 110 Ala. 115; York Mfg. Co. v. Bessemer Ice Mfg. Co., 111 Ala. 332.

476 (3659) (3946) (3505) (3037). Clerical errors corrected at appellant's cost.—No cause must be reversed by the supreme court for any miscalculation of interest, or other clerical mistake in entering judgment, but on motion of, and at the cost of the appellant.

Beason v. Riddle, 11 Ala. 743; Windham v. Clarke, 16 Ala. 659; Rambo v. Wyatt, 82 Ala. 363; Smith v. Kennedy, 63 Ala. 334; Brown v. Brown, 81 Ala. 508; McCaskey v. Pollock, 82 Ala. 174; Spigener v. Farquhar, Ib. 569; Atlantic Glass Co. v. Paulk, 83 Ala. 404; Elyton Land Co. v. Morgan, 88 Ala. 434; Simmons v. Titche, 102 Ala. 317.

477 (3660) (3945) (3504) (3036). Confession of judgment releases errors.—A confession of judgment is in law a release of errors.

Murphree v. Whitley, 70 Ala. 554; McNeil v. State, 71 Ala. 71; Burke v. State, 74 Ala. 399.

478 (3661, 3662) (3941, 3942) (3500, 3501) (3032, 3033).—Judgment of affirmance on supersedeas.—When a judgment or decree is rendered for money, whether debt or damages, and the same has been superseded on appeal by the execution of bond with surety, if the supreme court affirms the judgment of the court below, it must also render judgment against all or any of the obligors in the bond, for the amount of the affirmed judgment, ten per cent. damages thereon, and the costs of the supreme court.

Lawrence v. Jones, 37 Ala. 3.

479 (3663) (3935) (3494) (3024). Damages when judgment by claimant in trial of right of property is affirmed.—When an appeal is taken by the claimant on a trial of the right of property, and the judgment superseded, if the appellate court affirms the judgment of the court below, it must also render judgment of ten per cent. on the assessed value of such property, if less than the amount of the execution against the defendant; if such value exceeds such execution, ten per cent. on the amount thereof, against the obligors in the appeal bond.

480 (3664) (3936) (3495) (3027). Damages on affirmance of judgment in detinue.—Upon the affirmance of a judgment for the recovery of chattels in specie, which has been superseded, the court must also render judgment for ten per cent. damages upon the assessed value of the chattels, and upon the damages for the detention thereof.

Boulden v. Estey Organ Co., 92 Ala. 182.

ARTICLE 5.

APPEALS FROM JUSTICES OF THE PEACE AND PROCEEDINGS THEREON.

481 (3398) (3654, 3710) (3257, 3313) (2811, 2864). Appeals from judgments before justices.—Any party may appeal from any judgment rendered against him before a justice of the peace to the circuit court, or court of like jurisdiction, upon complying with the provisions of this chapter, at any time within five days after the rendition thereof, unless otherwise provided in this Code.

What may be removed by certiorari.—Gilliland v. Ware, 4 Ala. 414; Wyatt v. Judge, 7 P. 37. What judgment not sufficient to support an appeal.—Little v. Fitts, 33 Ala. 343; Francis-Chenoweth Hardware Co. v. Bailey, 104 Ala. 566. No appeal lies from a confessed judgment in a civil case.— Murphree v. Whitley, 70 Ala. 554. One of several defendants may appeal independent of his co-defendants.—Craig v. Atwood, 1 S & P. 86. Right to remove cause not impaired by issuance of execution on judgment.—Olmstead v. Brewer, 91 Ala. 124. Nor by voluntary payment by the adverse party.—Grantham v. Payne, 77 Ala. 584. Defects in petition for certiorari or other proceeding to remove cause not available to dismiss in circuit court.—Casey v. Briant, 1 S. & P. 51; Wright v. Gray, 20 Ala. 363; Hatter v. Eastland, 22 Ala. 689; Washington v. Parker, 60 Ala. 448; Grantham v. Payne, 77 Ala. 584; Wright v. Hurt, 92 Ala. 591. But separate and disconnected cases cannot be united in one petition and bond.—Davis v. Calhoun, 24 Ala. 439; Croswell v. Com'rs' Court, Ib. 282; Carter v. Com'rs' Court, 80 Ala. 394. Certiorari is not grantable to determine a question on the payment of an execution.—Bobo v. Thompson, 3 S. & P. 385. When certiorari or supersedeas is the appropriate remedy to quash execution on forthcoming bond illlegally returned forfeited.—Cobb v. Thompson, 87 Ala. 381. Does not bring in review execution on forfeited claim bond.—Weedon v. Clark, 94 Ala. 505. Certiorari not available in criminal cases.—Deans v. State, 63 Ala. 153. Certiorari barred in one year. Grantham v. Payne, 77 Ala. 584. Common-law certiorari; when available to quash proceedings for errors of law apparent on the record.—Glaze v. Blake, 56 Ala. 379; A. G. S. R. Co. v. Christian, 82 Ala. 307; M. & C. R. Co. v. Brannum, 96 Ala. 461; McCulley v. Cunningham, Ib. 583; Independent Pub. Co. v. American Press Asso., 102 Ala. 475. Judge of probate can only grant statutory certiorari.—Guscott v. Roden, 112 Ala. 632.

482 (3399) (3654) (3257) (2811). Bond for appeal or certiorari. Unless otherwise provided, no cause can be carried from a justice's court to the circuit or other court of like jurisdiction by appeal or certiorari, unless the party applying for such appeal or certiorari first executes bond, with sufficient sureties, payable to the adverse party, with condition to pay such judgment as may be rendered against him by the court to which the cause is sought to be removed.

What covered by appeal bond.—Lykes v. Schwarz, 91 Ala. 461. When bond insufficient.—Smith v. Hearne, 2 S. & P. 81; Davis v. Calhoun, 24 Ala. 437; Reynolds v. Cox, 108 Ala. 276. When bond will not sustain judgment against sureties.—Quinn v. Adair, 4 Ala. 315; Reynolds v. Cox, 108 Ala. 276. Bond payable to a party who is dead is void.—Frierson v. Blakesley, 3 S. 267. What substantial compliance with statute.—Lightfoot v. Strahan, 7 Ala. 444; Windham v. Coats, 8 Ala. 285. Sureties not liable beyond penalty of the bond.—Quinn v. Adair, 4 Ala. 315; McBarnett v. Kerr, 6 Ala. 476; Windham v. Coats, 8 Ala. 285; Seamans v. White, Ib. 656; Witherington v. Brantley, 18 Ala. 197; Sherry v. Priest, 57 Ala. 410; Waite v. Ward, 93 Ala. 271; Rich v. Lowenthal, 99 Ala. 487. Insolvency of estate, pending appeal by administrator, affords no relief to sureties on appeal bond.—Mount v. Stewart, 86 Ala. 365. Appeal should not be dismissed for defect in bond, unless appellant fails to execute a perfect bond.—Carter v. Pickard, 11 Ala. 673; Henderson v. Plumb, 18 Ala. 74; Appleton v. Turrentine, 19 Ala. 706; McClellan v. Allison, Ib. 671; Davis v. Calhoun, 24 Ala. 455.

483 (3400). Amount of bond for appeal or certiorari.—If such appeal or certiorari is applied for by a defendant, claimant, garnishee, or any other party against whom a judgment for the payment of money has been rendered, such bond shall be in double the amount of the judgment rendered against him, including costs; in all other cases, in such amount as may be prescribed, in cases of appeal, by the justice, and, in case of certiorari, by the officer granting the same.

484 (3402) (3655) (3258) (2812). Papers and statement of the case to be returned to the clerk.—When an appeal is taken, the justice must return all the original papers of the cause, together with a statement, signed by him, of the case and the judgment rendered by him, to the clerk of the court to which the appeal was taken, within ten days after the taking of the appeal.

Larcher v. Scott, 2 Ala. 40; Wolfe v. Parham, 18 Ala. 441.

485 (3403) (3657) (3260) (2814). Notice of appeal to be served on appellee.—The justice must also issue a notice to the appellee that such appeal has been taken, which must be executed by personal service on him, his agent, or attorney, five days before the return term of the appeal, and must be returned by the constable to the clerk of the court to which the appeal was taken, on or before the second day of the term.

Bettis v. Nicholson, 1 Stew. 349; Goss v. Davis, 21 Ala. 479; Martin v. Higgins, 23 Ala. 775; Kane v. Gammell, 50 Ala. 492; McConnell v. Worns, 102 Ala. 587; Murphy v. Wood, 103 Ala. 638.

Feb. 5, 1891, p. 369.

486. How notice served when appellee moves out of the county. If the appellee, after the appeal is taken, moves out of the county, or absconds, or secretes himself so that notice cannot be served on him, it shall be the duty of the constable to execute such notice by leaving a copy at the residence or late residence of the appellee and by posting the same in front of the court-house door of the county in which the justice trying the case resides, and return the facts to the clerk of the court to which the appeal was taken, on or before the second day of the term.

487 (3404) (3654, 3126) (3257, 2777) (2811, 2373). Defects in bond may be cured.—Whenever it is made to appear to the appellate court that the appeal or certiorari is defective, or the security is insufficient, such court may require a new bond, or new or additional sureties, within such time as the court may prescribe; and if not given, the court may dismiss the suit or appeal, or render judgment, as the circumstances may require; but no appeal or certiorari must be dismissed for any defect in such bond, if the party is willing to execute a sufficient bond.

See citations to section 482 (3399).

488 (3405) (3121, 3127) (2772, 2778) (2368, 2374). When and how cases on appeal shall be tried.—Cases brought by appeal or certiorari from judgments of justices of the peace must be tried at the first term thereafter, if the five days notice of the appeal or certiorari required by law, has been given to the appellee, his agent, or attorney, unless good cause be shown for a continuance; but if such notice has not been given, the case must be continued until the next term; and all such cases must be tried de novo and according to equity and justice, without regard to any defect in the summons, or other process, or proceedings before the justice.

Trial de novo, etc.—Solomon v. Ross, 49 Ala. 198; Brooks v. Carter, 36 Ala. 682; S. & N. R. R. Co. v. Seale, 59 Ala. 608; W. U. Tel. Co. v. Meyer, 61 Ala. 158; Abraham v. Moore, 21 Ala. 758. Want of jurisdiction of primary court, objection must be taken before justice.—L. & N. R. Co. v. Barker, 96 Ala. 435; Western Ry. Co. v. Lazarus, 88 Ala. 453; Burns v. Henry, 67 Ala. 209; Glaze v. Blake, 56 Ala. 379. Objections before justice; how made.—Knowles v. Steed, 79 Ala. 427. When judgment on appeal greater than justice's jurisdiction.—R. & D. R. Co. v. Hutto, 102 Ala. 575; Pruitt v. Stewart, 5 Ala. 112; Vaughan v. Robinson, 20 Ala. 229; Hays v. Myrick, 47 Ala. 335; Drake v. Johnson, 50 Ala. 1. Trial may be had on original complaint, or a new complaint. So. Ex. Co. v. Perkins, 100 Ala. 275.

489 (3406) (3693) (3296) (2849). Attachments; what defects cured by appeal.—No attachment can be quashed or dismissed in the appellate court for any defect in the affidavit, attachment, or bond, or for want of bond, if the plaintiff will execute a sufficient bond; and no objection can be made in that court to the regularity of the proceedings which was not made before the justice of the peace.

Slaton v. Apperson, 15 Ala. 721; Staggers v. Washington, 56 Ala. 225; Knowles v. Steed, 79 Ala. 427.

490 (3407) (3122) (2773) (2369). When case tried without a jury.—When the sum claimed does not exceed twenty dollars, the cause must be tried by the court without the intervention of a jury; but when it exceeds twenty dollars, an issue must be made up, under the direction of the court, and the cause tried by a jury.

Pike v. Bright, 29 Ala. 332; Abrams v. Johnson, 65 Ala. 470; Dargan v. Harris, 68 Ala. 144; Jones v. Collins, 80 Ala. 108.

491 (3408) (3123) (2774) (2370). Damages assessed, if appeal taken for delay.—If it appear that the appeal or certiorari was taken for delay merely, fifteen per cent. damages may be assessed.

Shorter v. Hightower, 48 Ala. 526; Crump v. Battles, 49 Ala. 223.

492 (3409) (3124) (2775) (2371). Costs; how taxed.—If the defendant appeals or obtains a writ of certiorari, and the judgment of the appellate court is for less than the judgment of the justice, the court may tax either party with the costs, or with any portion thereof; and if the plaintiff appeals, or obtains a writ of certiorari, and does not recover more than the amount for which the justice rendered judgment, he must be taxed with the costs.

Beason v. Riddle, 11 Ala. 743; Guscott v. Roden, 112 Ala. 632.

493 (3410) (3125) (2776) (2372). On affirmance, judgment rendered also against sureties.—When, on appeal or certiorari, the judgment is affirmed, judgment must be rendered by the court against the sureties as well as the principal, which must include the costs of the inferior and appellate courts.

Judgment against sureties for costs of both courts.—Neff v. Edwards, 81 Ala. 246; Mount v. Stewart, 86 Ala. 365. See also citations to section 482 (3399).

494 (3412). Procedendo when justice vacates office pending appeal.—When a cause is removed from the court of a justice of the peace, or notary public having like powers, to the circuit or other court of like jurisdiction, by appeal or certiorari, and while the cause is pending in such court, the justice or notary should die, or otherwise vacate his office, leaving no qualified successor, and in the prosecution of the cause, it should become necessary, by a dismissal of the appeal or certiorari, for a writ of procedendo to issue, it shall be the duty of the court, upon motion, to direct such writ to issue to any justice of the peace, or notary public having like powers, in the county.

495 (3413). How judgment in such case established, when docket has been lost.—If, in such case, the docket of the justice or notary has been lost or destroyed, the transcript of the same on file in the appellate court, or a certified copy thereof, shall be sufficient evidence upon which to establish the judgment before any justice or notary to whom the appellate court may direct the writ of procedendo to issue.

CHAPTER 9.

APPRENTICES. 496-507.

496 (1474) (1734) (1450) (1215). Children bound out as apprentices.—The judge of probate of each county may bind out, as apprentices, the children of any person unable to provide for their support, until the age of twenty-one years, if a boy, and eighteen years, if a girl.

497 (1475) (1737) (1450). Officers report minors; and probate judge binds out apprentices.—Sheriffs, justices of the peace, and all other civil officers of the several counties in this state must report to the probate judges of their respective counties, at any time, all minors under the age of eighteen years within their respective counties, precincts, or districts, who are orphans without visible means of support, or whose parents have not the means, or who refuse to provide for and support such minors; and thereupon such probate judge must apprentice them, and all other such minors as may otherwise come to his knowledge, to some suitable and competent person, on such terms as the court may prescribe, having a particular care to the interest of such minor; and such judge of probate must make a record of all the proceedings in such case, for which he shall be entitled to a compensation of one dollar, to be paid by the master.

No form of proceeding necessary, except notice to the parent; judge may proceed on report of officer, or ex proprio motu.—Brinston v. Compton, 68 Ala. 299; Cochran v. State, 46 Ala. 714; Owens v. State, 48 Ala. 328.

498 (1476) (1745) (1464). Parent or person having control of child notified.—The judge of probate must notify the minor's father, or his mother if he have no father, or the person having the custody or control of such child if he have no father or mother, when such father, or mother, or person having the control of such child is living in the state, of the proceedings to apprentice such minor, and the father, or mother, or person having control of such minor may, by proof, show his or her ability to support the minor, or that the proposed master is an unsuitable person. As amended Dec. 9, 1890, p. 70.

499 (1477) (1744) (1463). Probate judge fixes age.—When the age of the minor cannot be ascertained by record testimony, the judge of probate shall fix the same.

500 (1478) (1738) (1455). Master appointed on full proof, and gives bond.—Before an apprentice is bound to any person, there must be full proof of his suitableness to have the charge and care of such minor, and he must give bond, with surety, to be approved and kept by the probate judge, and in such sum as such judge may direct, and conditioned that he shall furnish such minor with sufficient food and clothing, treat him humanely, furnish him medical attention in case of sickness, teach him, or cause him to be taught, to read and write, and will conform to any law that may hereafter be passed for the regulation of the duties and relation of master and apprentice.

501 (1479) (1735) (1451) (1216). Duties of master.—The person to whom such apprentice is bound must provide a sufficiency of good and wholesome provisions, furnish all necessary clothing, washing, and lodging; treat with kindness and humanity, and instruct such apprentice in the trade, business, or occupation which he pursues; have him taught to read and write; and, at the expiration of his term of apprenticeship, furnish him with two complete new suits of clothing.

502 (1480) (1739) (1456). Master may chastise.—In the management and control of such apprentice, such master shall have power to inflict such moderate corporeal chastisement as a father or guardian is allowed to inflict on his child or ward at common law; but in no case shall cruel or inhuman punishment be inflicted.

503 (1481) (1740) (1457). Remedy when apprentice leaves.—If any apprentice leaves the employment of his master without his consent, such master may pursue and arrest such apprentice and bring him before any justice of the peace of the county, who must remand such apprentice to the service of his master; and if such apprentice refuses to return, such justice must commit him to the jail of such county, on failure to give bond, until the next term of the probate court; and such court must, at the first term thereafter, investigate the case, and if, in the opinion of the court, such apprentice left the employment of his master without good cause, must order him to receive such punishment as may be provided by the vagrant laws which may be then in force in this state, until he shall agree to return to his master; but the court may grant continuances, as in other cases; but if the court believes that such apprentice had good cause to quit the employment of his master, the court must discharge such apprentice from such indenture, and may enter a judgment against the master for not more than one hundred dollars, for the use and benefit of such apprentice, to be collected on execution, as in other cases.

Shows v. Pendry, 93 Ala. 248, 251.

504 (1482) (1741) (1460). Release of master and re-apprenticing.—Any master, if he desires, may summon his apprentice before the probate judge, and, on good and satisfactory cause shown to such judge, and on proof that such apprentice will not be injured thereby, shall be released from all liability as master of such apprentice, and his bond canceled; and such judge must forthwith re-apprentice such minor; and if any master of an apprentice dies before the close of the term of service of such apprentice, the judge must give the preference in re-apprenticing such minor to the widow or other member of such master's family; but such widow or other member of such family must be a suitable person for that purpose.

505 (1483) (1742) (1461). Removal of master to another state. When any master of an apprentice, bound to him under the provisions of this chapter, is about to remove or has removed to any other state of the United States, by the laws of which such apprentice may be an inhabitant thereof, the probate court of the proper county may authorize the removal of such apprentice to such state, upon the master entering into a bond with surety, in a penalty to be fixed by the judge, conditioned that such master will, upon such removal, comply with the laws of such state in such cases; but such master shall be cited to attend the court at which such order is proposed to be made, and such apprentice shall have the right to resist the same by next friend, or otherwise.

506 (1484) (1736) (1453) (1218). Indentures; when canceled. The judge of probate may at any time, for good cause, revoke any letters of apprenticeship, and bind out the apprentice to another.

An appeal does not lie from order revoking letters of apprenticeship. Cox v. Jones, 40 Ala. 297; McKimmey v. McKimmey, 52 Ala. 102.

507 (1485) (1743) (1462). Parents may apprentice.—Any parent, having a minor child, may apprentice such child as provided in this chapter.

ARBITRATION AND AWARD. 508-523.

508 (3221) (3536) (3148) (2709). Order of reference to arbitration in pending suit; continuance.—It is the duty of all courts to encourage the settlement of controversies pending before them by a reference thereof to arbitrators, chosen by the parties or their attorneys; and, on motion of the parties, must make such order and continue the cause for award; but such continuance must not extend beyond one term, unless for good cause shown, or by consent.

When suit pending, order of court essential to statutory reference of matters in controversy.—Dudley v. Farris, 79 Ala. 187; Bell v. Sampey, 80 Ala. 372; Lamar v. Nicholson, 7 Port. 158; Davis v. McConnell, 3 Stew. 492; Mendenhall v. Smith, Minor, 380. In such reference, written statement by parties has no office to perform; pleadings sufficiently show matters in controversy.—Snodgrass v. Armbrester, 90 Ala. 493. Unexecuted order of reference no obstacle to trial of cause at a subsequent term.—Davis v. Badders, 95 Ala. 348; Shelby Iron Co. v. Cobb, 55 Ala. 636. Attorney in pending suit may submit matters in litigation.—Wright v. Evans, 53 Ala. 103; Beverly v. Stephens, 17 Ala. 701. Effect on pending suit, of arbitration by agreement of parties without order of court.—Henry v. Porter, 29 Ala. 619; Jessie v. Cater, 25 Ala. 351, s. c., 28 Ala. 475; Dudley v. Farris, supra; Bell v. Sampey, supra. But if award entered up without objection, judgment treated as confessed. Thompson v. Greene, 85 Ala. 240. When cause in justice's court arbitrated, award conclusive on appeal, unless impeached for fraud, etc.—Wright v. Bolton, 8 Ala. 548.

509 (3222) (3537) (3149) (2710). Submission when no suit pending; award to be entered as a judgment.—When no suit is pending, the parties to any controversy may refer the determination thereof to the decision of arbitrators, to be chosen by themselves; and the award made pursuant to the provisions of this chapter must be entered up as the judgment of the proper court, if the award is not performed.

Statement of matters in dispute, signed by the parties, necessary when no suit pending.—Snodgrass v. Armbrester, 90 Ala. 493. Requisites and sufficiency of statement.—Lamar v. Nicholson, 7 Port. 158; Tuscaloosa Bridge Co. v. Jemison, 33 Ala. 476; King v. Jemison, Ib. 499; Willingham v. Harrell, 36 Ala. 583; Wolff v. Shelton, 51 Ala. 425; Brewer v. Bain, 60 Ala. 153. And of award.—Reynolds v. Reynolds, 15 Ala. 398; Jessie v. Cater, 25 Ala. 351, s. c., 28 Ala. 475; Mobile, etc. Co. v. Yeind, 29 Ala. 325; Tuscaloosa Bridge Co. v. Jemison, supra; King v. Jemison, supra; Davis v. Forshee, 34 Ala. 107; Roundtree v. Turner, 36 Ala. 555; McCrary v. Harrison, Ib. 577; Crook v. Chambers, 40 Ala. 239; Elrod v. Simmons, Ib. 274; Horton v. Pool, Ib. 629; Bogan v. Daughdrill, 51 Ala. 312; Wolff v. Shelton, Ib. 425. Submission must conform to statute, else judgment will not be entered up on award.—Davis v. McConnell, 3 Stew. 492; Lamar v. Nicholson, supra; Dudley v. Farris, 79 Ala. 187; Bell v. Sampey, 80 Ala. 372. Award must conform to submission. Bogan v. Daughdrill, supra; Wolff v. Shelton, supra; Edmunson v. Wilson, 108 Ala. 118; Anderson v. Miller, 108 Ala. 171. Guardian may submit for ward. Strong v. Beroujon, 18 Ala. 168. And executor or administrator for estate. Jones v. Deyer, 16 Ala. 221; Jones v. Blalock, 31 Ala. 180. And corporation, by resolution or ordinance.—Tuscaloosa Bridge Co. v. Jemison, 33 Ala. 476, 481. One partner alone cannot bind partnership to submission.—Fancher v. Bibb Furnace Co. 80 Ala. 481. Nor can husband submit controversy involving wife's estate.—Thomas v. James, 32 Ala. 723; Sampley v. Watson, 43 Ala. 377. Agent to collect claim has no implied power to arbitrate.—Huber v. Zimmerman, 21 Ala. 488; Wright v. Evans, 53 Ala. 103; Brewer v. Bain, 60 Ala. 153. Misconduct of arbitrators as ground of objection to award.—Graham v. Woodall, 86 Ala. 313; Rosenau v. Legg, 82 Ala. 568; Brewer v. Bain, supra; Burns v. Hendrix, 54 Ala. 78; McCrary v. Harrison, 36 Ala. 577. Objections must be stated with precision.—Brewer v. Bain, supra; Willingham v. Harrell, supra. Mistake of law no ground.—Goodwin v. Yarbrough, 1 Stew. 152; Byrd v. Odem, 9 Ala. 755; Young v. Leaird, 30 Ala. 371, but see Brewer v. Bain, 60 Ala. 153; Bumpass v. Webb, 4 Port. 65. Plaintiff cannot take voluntary nonsuit and thus prevent statutory award against him from being entered up as judgment.—Davis v. Forshee, 34 Ala. 107. Award may be valid in part and so far enforced.—Burrus v. Meadors, 90 Ala. 140; Bogan v. Daughdrill, 51 Ala. 312; Reynolds v. Reynolds, 15 Ala. 398. Must be by majority of arbitrators.—Horton v. Pool, 40 Ala. 629, and with notice to all, McCrary v. Harrison, 36 Ala. 577. And must finally dispose of questions submitted.—McCrary v. Harrison, supra. Until delivery, award is under control of arbitrators; but once returned is beyond their control.—Chapman v. Ewing, 78 Ala. 403; Edmunson v. Wilson, 108 Ala. 118; Anderson v. Miller, 108 Ala. 171. If withdrawn by an arbitrator from court files, mandamus lies to compel its return.—Ib. Award construed with great liberality and every reasonable presumption indulged in its support.—Tankersley v. Richardson, 2 Stew. 130; Price v. Kirby, 1 Ala. 184; Reynolds v. Reynolds, 15 Ala. 398. Wolff v. Shelton, 51 Ala. 425; Burns v. Hendrix, 54 Ala. 78; Edmunson v. Wilson, 108 Ala. 118. Treated as judgment on collateral attack.—Brewer v. Bain, 60 Ala. 153; Yeatman v. Mattison, 59 Ala. 382; Chambers v. Crook, 42 Ala. 171. Agreement to re-submit does away with former finding.—Payne v. Crawford, 97 Ala. 604, s. c., 102 Ala. 387. Plea setting up award must set out submission and award.—Henry v. Porter, 29 Ala. 619. When award and assailing evidence must be left to jury.—Burns v. Hendrix, 54 Ala. 78. Money awarded payable instanter when no time fixed.—Ehrman v. Stanfield, 80 Ala. 118. Authority of court to enter up, involves power to set aside award. Collins v. L. & N. R. Co., 70 Ala. 533. When submission includes property in two states, award binding everywhere; arbitrators may sit in either state.—Edmunson v. Wilson, 108 Ala. 118. When submission limits extent and duration of authority conferred and prescribes mode in which decision shall be evidenced, a substantial compliance is essential to a valid award. Anderson v. Miller, 108 Ala. 171.

510 (3223) (3538) (3150) (2711). Submission to be in writing; contents; delivery of to arbitrators.—The parties must concisely state in writing, signed by them, the matter in dispute between them, and that they desire to leave the determination thereof to certain persons, naming them, as arbitrators; and such submission must be delivered to the arbitrators, or one of them, together with a list of the witnesses either party may desire to examine.

Provision for delivery of list of witnesses directory.—Tuscaloosa Bridge Co. v. Jemison, 33 Ala. 476. See citations to preceding sections.

511 (3224) (3539) (3151) (2712). Proceedings before arbitrators; how award made and delivered.—Thereupon, it is the duty of the arbitrators to appoint a time and place for hearing the parties and making their award, of which they must give the parties three days notice; and if no cause is shown for a continuance, they must proceed to hear and determine the matters referred to them, and make their award in writing, which must be signed by them, and a copy thereof be delivered to each of the parties, their agents, or attorneys, and the fact and date of such delivery endorsed on the original.

Notice to parties of the hearing, or their actual presence, indispensable. Tuscaloosa Bridge Co. v. Jemison, 33 Ala. 476. Receiving testimony after evidence closed and parties withdrawn, vitiates award.—Rosenau v. Legg, 82 Ala. 568. Or shutting out testimony of party in violation of promise to hear at another time.—Graham v. Woodall, 86 Ala. 313. Failing to serve copy of award does not affect its validity.—Mobile, etc., Co. v. Yeind, 29 Ala. 325; Crook v. Chambers, 40 Ala. 239. Unless the submission stipulates for delivery of copy.—Anderson v. Miller, 108 Ala. 171. Delivery of original award, without objection at the time, substantial compliance with stipulation for copy, Ib.

512 (3225) (3540) (3152) (2713). Supplying place of arbitrator; award by majority.—If any of the arbitrators fail to attend at the time and place designated, and the parties appear, they may substitute others in their place; or if the parties cannot agree, the arbitrators present may themselves appoint others in their stead, of which they must make a memorandum on the submission. A majority of the arbitrators may make the award.

Substitution of arbitrator; memorandum thereof.—Snodgrass v. Armbrester, 90 Ala. 493; Dudley v. Farris, 79 Ala. 187; Chapman v. Ewing, 78 Ala. 403. Award by umpire alone, though signed by all, invalid.—Horton v. Pool, 40 Ala. 629. Proceeding to trial without objection, waives failure to substitute.—Badders v. Britt, 88 Ala. 367.

513 (3226) (3541) (3153) (2714). Return and effect of award; to what court returned.—If the award is not performed in ten days after notice and delivery of a copy thereof, the successful party may, if a suit be pending, cause the award and the file of papers in the cause to be returned to the court in which the suit is pending, or, if no suit is pending, cause the submission and award to be returned to the clerk of the circuit court of the county in which the award is made, if for the payment of more than fifty dollars, for the delivery of specific property, or to do or omit to do any particular act; if for fifty dollars, or less, then to a justice of the peace of the county; and, in either case, such award has the force and effect of a judgment at law, upon which execution may issue as in other cases.

Award has force and effect of judgment ten days after notice and delivery of copy.—King v. Jemison, 33 Ala. 499, 508.

514 (3227) (3542) (3154) (2715). Performance of award; when enforceable by attachment.—If the award is for the delivery of property, or to do or omit to do any particular act, on notice and motion to the court, performance may be enforced by attachment, or other appropriate writ.

Award not in pursuance of statute must be proceeded upon by regular action.—Davis v. McConnell, 3 Stew. 492; Lamar v. Nicholson, 7 Port. 158. When court of equity will enforce performance.—Jones v. Blalock, 31 Ala. 180; Kirksey v. Fike, 27 Ala. 383.

515 (3228) (3543) (3155) (2716). Oath to be administered to arbitrators.—Before making their award, the arbitrators must be sworn impartially to determine the matters submitted to them, according to the evidence and the manifest justice and equity of the case, to the best of their judgment, without favor or affection; which oath they may administer to each other, or may be administered to them by any officer authorized to administer oaths.

Taking oath a point of substance.—Tuscaloosa Bridge Co. v. Jemison, 33 Ala. 476, 481. Award failing to show the fact, it may be proved by parol. Price v. Kirby, 1 Ala. 184; Crook v. Chambers, 40 Ala. 239. Recital in award, that arbitrators were sworn, or duly sworn, sufficient.—Price v. Kirby, supra; Mobile, etc., Co. v. Yeind, 29 Ala. 325.

516 (3229) (3544) (3156) (2717). Witnesses and depositions. The arbitrators, or either of them, have power to subpœna witnesses, at the request of either of the parties, and to administer all oaths which may be necessary in the progress of the cause; and must, on the application of either party, issue commission to take the deposition of any witness residing out of the county, which must be taken in the same manner as depositions in the circuit court, except that no oath to the materiality of the witness, or of the cause for taking the deposition, is required.

517 (3230) (3545) (3158) (2719). How subpœnas executed. Subpœnas for witnesses may be executed by the sheriff, by any constable of the county, or by the parties themselves.

518 (3231) (3546) (3159) (2720). Defaulting witness; fine and liability.—Any witness duly summoned, who fails to attend without sufficient excuse, may be fined ten dollars for the use of the county, for the collection of which the arbitrators must issue execution; and such defaulting witness is also liable to the party summoning him for any injury sustained by the loss of his testimony, to be recovered before any court having jurisdiction.

519 (3236) (3550) (3163) (2724). When witness may refuse to attend, and arbitrators to deliver award; recovery of charges. Any witness may refuse to testify until his fees are paid by the party summoning him; and the arbitrators may refuse to deliver copies of the award until all charges are paid; but if paid by a party not liable therefor, he may recover the same by action before any court having jurisdiction thereof; and the receipt of the arbitrators is presumptive evidence of the fact of payment, and of the liability of the party therefor.

520 (3235) (3549) (3162) (2723). Pay of arbitrators, witnesses, and sheriff or constable.—The arbitrators are, if demanded by them, entitled each to two dollars per day whilst actually engaged in the arbitration; the witnesses to one dollar per day each; and the sheriff or constable to the customary fees for executing subpœnas; all of which must be paid jointly by the parties, unless the arbitrators otherwise determine.

521 (3232) (3547) (3160) (2721). Award final unless set aside for fraud, partiality, or corruption.—An award made substantially in compliance with the provisions of this chapter is conclusive between the parties thereto and their privies, as to the matter submitted, and cannot be inquired into, or impeached for want of form or for irregularity, if the award determines the matter or controversy submitted; and such award is final, unless the arbitrators are guilty of fraud, partiality, or corruption in making it.

What substantial compliance.—Tuscaloosa Bridge Co. v. Jemison, 33 Ala. 476; King v. Jemison, Ib. 499; Crook v. Chambers, 40 Ala. 239; Horton v. Pool, Ib. 629; Anderson v. Miller, 108 Ala. 171. Finality and conclusiveness of award.—Mendenhall v. Smith, Minor, 380; Goodwin v. Yarbrough, 1 Stew. 152; Tankersley v. Richardson, 2 Stew. 130; Bumpass v. Webb, 4 Port. 65; Wright v. Bolton, 8 Ala. 548; Reynolds v. Reynolds, 15 Ala. 398; Jessie v. Cater, 25 Ala. 351, s. c., 28 Ala. 475; Mobile, etc. Co. v. Yeind, 29 Ala. 325; Young v. Leaird, 30 Ala. 371; Tuscaloosa Bridge Co. v. Jemison, 33 Ala. 476; King v. Jemison, Ib. 499; Davis v. Forshee, 34 Ala. 107; Roundtree v. Turner, 36 Ala. 555; McCrary v. Harrison, Ib. 577; Crook v. Chambers, 40 Ala. 239; Elrod v. Simmons, Ib. 274; Yeatman v. Mattison, 59 Ala. 382; Brewer v. Bain, 60 Ala. 153; Chapman v. Ewing, 78 Ala. 403; Badders v. Britt, 88 Ala. 367; Thompson v. Green, 85 Ala. 240; Odum v. Rutledge, etc. R. Co., 94 Ala. 488; Edmunson v. Wilson, 108 Ala. 118. When relief may be had at law.—Graham v. Woodall, 86 Ala. 313 (contra, Strong v. Beroujon, 18 Ala. 168); Rosenau v. Legg, 82 Ala. 568; Burns v. Hendrix, 54 Ala. 78; Comer v. Thompson, Ib. 265; Horton v. Pool, 40 Ala. 629; Roundtree v. Turner, 36 Ala. 555; McCrary v. Harrison, Ib. 577. When relief may be had in equity.—Chambers v. Crook, 42 Ala. 171; Young v. Leaird, 30 Ala. 371; Bumpass v. Webb, 4 Port. 65; Wolff v. Shelton, 51 Ala. 425; Brewer v. Bain, 60 Ala. 153. Party estopped from assailing award which he has ratified and executed.—McRae v. Buck, 2 Stew. and Port. 155; Willingham v. Harrell, 36 Ala. 583; Reynolds v. Roebuck, 37 Ala. 408. Award evidence to support or defend ejectment.—Moore v. Helms, 74 Ala. 368; Payne v. Crawford, 97 Ala. 604; s. c., 102 Ala. 387. Awards much favored and liberally construed.—Price v. Kirby, 1 Ala. 184; Tankersley v. Richardson, 2 Stew. 130; Reynolds v. Reynolds, 15 Ala. 398; Wolff v. Shelton, 51 Ala. 425; Burns v. Hendrix, 54 Ala. 78; Edmunson v. Wilson, 108 Ala. 118. When participating surety bound by award between co-surety and principal.—McGehee v. McGehee, 12 Ala. 83. Award fixing amount of mortgage debt does not affect validity of mortgage.—Collier v. White, 97 Ala. 615.

522 (3233) (3547). Appeal to supreme court.—Either party may, however, within ten days after receiving notice of the award, file in the office of the clerk, register, or judge of the court in which the cause is pending, or, if no suit is pending, in the office of the clerk of the circuit court to which the award is returnable under the provisions of this chapter, a notice of appeal to the supreme court, and may tender to the arbitrators a bill of exceptions setting forth all the evidence in the cause, which, with the conclusions of law of the arbitrators, and their award thereon, shall be certified by them, or a majority of them, and returned with the file of papers, or with the submission, as the case may be, to the court to which the award is returnable; and either in term time or vacation, the clerk, register, or judge of the court may enter it up as the judgment or decree of the court, and it shall stand as the judgment or decree of the court, unless set aside for some of the causes specified in the preceding section, or for the failure or refusal of the arbitrators to certify a correct bill of exceptions as herein provided; and from the judgment or decree so entered up, or from the judgment setting aside the award, an appeal shall lie as in other cases.

Appeal lies only from judgment entering up or setting aside award.—Collins v. L. & N. R. Co., 70 Ala. 533; Dudley v. Farris, 79 Ala. 187; Bell v. Sampey, 80 Ala. 372. When mandamus will lie to compel court to enter judgment on award.—Dudley v. Farris, supra. When not.—Bell v. Sampey, supra; Dudley v. Farris, supra. On appeal court will intend everything record will warrant to sustain award.—Tankersley v. Richardson, 2 Stew. 130; Reynolds v. Reynolds, 15 Ala. 398; Price v. Kirby, 1 Ala. 184.

523 (3234) (3548) (3161) (2722). Arbitrations at common law not prevented.—Nothing in this chapter contained shall prevent any person or persons from settling any matters of controversy by a reference to arbitration at common law.

Difference between statutory and common law arbitrations and awards. Tuscaloosa Bridge Co. v. Jemison, 33 Ala. 476; Willingham v. Harrell, 36 Ala. 583; Wolff v. Shelton, 51 Ala. 425; Brewer v. Bain, 60 Ala. 153; Payne v. Crawford, 97 Ala. 604; s. c., 102 Ala. 387; Lamar v. Nicholson, 7 Port. 158; Martin v. Chapman, 1 Ala. 278; Byrd v. Odem, 9 Ala. 755; Strong v. Beroujon, 18 Ala. 168; Davis v. McConnell, 3 Stew. 492.

CHAPTER 11.

ATTACHMENTS.

ARTICLE 1.—ISSUE OF ATTACHMENTS. 524–539.
2.—IN WHAT MANNER AND ON WHAT PROPERTY EXECUTED. 540–554.
3.—REPLEVY OF PROPERTY. 555–557.
4.—ANCILLARY ATTACHMENTS. 558–560.
5.—PLEADINGS, TRIAL, JUDGMENT AND EXECUTION. 561–570.
6.—ATTACHMENTS ISSUED BY JUSTICE OF THE PEACE. 571–578.

ARTICLE 1.

ISSUE OF ATTACHMENTS.

524 (2929) (3252) (2927) (2503). For what demands issued. Attachments may issue—

1. To enforce the collection of a debt, whether it be due or not, at the time the attachment is taken out.

2. For any moneyed demand, the amount of which can be certainly ascertained.

3. To recover damages for a breach of contract, when the damages are not certain or liquidated.

4. When the action sounds in damages merely.

Subdivision 1.—U. S. Rolling Stock Co. v. Clark, 95 Ala. 322. Subdivision 2. Guy v. Lee, 81 Ala. 163; Tenn. R. T. Co. v. Kavanaugh, 93 Ala. 324; U. S. Rolling Stock Co. v. Clark, 95 Ala. 322; Atkinson v. James, 96 Ala. 214. Subdivision 3.—Weaver and Puryear, 11 Ala. 941; Bozeman v. Rose, 40 Ala. 212; Moore v. Dickerson, 44 Ala. 485. Subdivision 4.—Hadley v. Bryars, 58 Ala. 139. Covers any civil action under proper conditions, whether ex contractu or ex delicto.—Hadley v. Bryars, 58 Ala. 139; Atkinson v. James, 96 Ala. 214. May be sued out against partnership in firm name.—Sims v. Jacobson, 51 Ala. 186. Suit may be instituted in any county where levy, by garnishment or otherwise, may be made.—Herndon v. Givins, 16 Ala. 261; Atkinson v. Wiggins, 69 Ala. 190; Home Protection Ins. Co. v. Richards, 74 Ala. 466; McPhillips v. Hubbard, 97 Ala. 512. Lies against foreign corporation.—Central M. & M. Co. v. Stoven, 45 Ala. 594. When lies against national bank.—Bank v. Colby, 46 Ala. 435. (But see Bank v. Colby, 21 Wall. 609.) Does not lie to enforce liability of foreign corporation to an employee at the place of its domicil, at the suit of a creditor of the latter.—L. & N. R. Co. v. Dooley, 78 Ala. 524. When prematurely brought.—Russell v. Gregory, 62 Ala. 454; Moore v. Dickerson, 44 Ala. 485. If sued out on a demand for which it does not lie, objection raised by rule to show cause.—Cain v. Mather, 3 P. 224; Borroughs v. Wright, 3 Ala. 43; Roberts v. Burke, 6 Ala. 348; Jordan v. Hazzard, 10 Ala. 221; s. c., 12 Ala. 180; Ex parte Putnam, 20 Ala. 592; Van Dyke v. State, 24 Ala. 81; Gills v. Downs, 26 Ala. 670; Brown v. Coats, 56 Ala. 439; Dryer v. Abercrombie, 57 Ala. 497; Johnston v. Hannah, 66 Ala. 127; Rich v. Thornton, 69 Ala. 473; Drakford v. Turk, 75 Ala. 339; Adair v. Stone, 81 Ala. 113; Stradham v. Parrish, 93 Ala. 465. Judgment cannot be rendered until debt is due.—Jones v. Holland, 47 Ala. 732. Bill to set aside attachment as collusive or fraudulent.—Cartwright v. Bamberger, 90 Ala. 405; s. c., 99 Ala. 622; Bamberger v. Voorhees, 99 Ala. 292; Pollak v. Muscogee Mfg. Co., 108 Ala. 467; Barrett v. Pollak Co., 108 Ala. 390.

525 (2930) (3253) (2928) (2504). Cases in which issued.—And in the following cases:

1. When the defendant resides out of the state.

2. When the defendant absconds.

3. When the defendant secretes himself so that the ordinary process of law cannot be served on him.

4. When the defendant is about to remove out of the state.

5. When the defendant is about to remove his property out of the state, so that the plaintiff will probably lose his debt, or have to sue for it in another state.

6. When the defendant is about fraudulently to dispose of his property.

7. When the defendant has fraudulently disposed of his property.

8. When the defendant has moneys, property, or effects, liable to satisfy his debts, which he fraudulently withholds.

Subdivision 1.—Graham v. Ruff, 8 Ala. 171. Subdivision 2.—Middlebrook v. Ames, 5 S. & P. 158; Pitts v. Burroughs, 6 Ala. 733. Subdivision 3.—Pitts v. Burroughs, 6 Ala. 733; Malone v. Handley, 81 Ala. 117. Subdivision 4. Baldwin v. Walker, 91 Ala. 428; s. c., 94 Ala. 514. Subdivision 5.—Napper v. Noland, 9 P. 218; Stewart v. Coles, 46 Ala. 646. Subdivision 6.—Tree v. Hukill, 44 Ala. 197; Hafley v. Patterson, 47 Ala. 271; Smith v. Baker, 80 Ala. 318; Campbell v. Hopkins, 87 Ala. 179; Schloss v. Rovelsky, 107 Ala. 596. Subdivision 7.—City National Bank v. Jeffries, 73 Ala. 183; Smith v. Baker, 80 Ala. 318; Baxley v. Segrest, 85 Ala. 183; Schloss v. Rovelsky, 107 Ala. 596. Subdivision 8.—Smith v. Baker, 80 Ala. 318.

526 (2931) (3254) (2929) (2505). By what officers issued.—In the first and second cases mentioned in the first section of this article, an attachment may be issued by any judge of the circuit court, returnable to any county in the state; or by the clerk of the city or circuit court, judge of probate, or any justice of the peace or a notary public exercising the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace, within their respective counties; in the third and fourth cases, only by a judge of the circuit court, judge of probate, or chancellor, returnable to any county.

Deputy may issue in the name of the clerk.—Minniece v. Jeter, 65 Ala. 222; Joseph v. Cawthorn, 74 Ala. 411. Justice of the peace or a notary with like powers, may issue attachment returnable before himself.—Griffin v. Appleby, 69 Ala. 409; Rice v. Watts, 71 Ala. 593; Nordlinger v. Gordon, 72 Ala. 239; Jackson v. Bain, 74 Ala. 328; Carter v. O'Bryan, 105 Ala. 305. Judge of the city court of Selma may issue.—Bledsoe v. Gary, 95 Ala. 70. And of Mobile.—Lowenstein v. Martin, 105 Ala. 668. Clerk may issue to recover damages for breach of contract to purchase personal property.—Tenn. R. T. Co. v. Kavanaugh, 93 Ala. 324. And to recover damages for removal of cotton and destruction of landlord's lien.—Atkinson v. James, 96 Ala. 214. Clerical mistake does not invalidate.—Carter v. O'Bryan, 105 Ala. 305. General appearance waives defects and irregularities in the writ.—Lampley v. Beavers, 25 Ala. 534; Birmingham Flooring Mills v. Wilder, 85 Ala. 593; Stephens v. Adams, 93 Ala. 117; Rosenburg v. Claflin, 95 Ala. 249; Carter v. O'Bryan, 105 Ala. 305.

527 (2932) (3255) (2930) (2506). Oath to be made.—The officer, before issuing the attachment in the first two cases mentioned in the last section, must require the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, to make oath of the amount of the debt or demand, and that it is justly due, or to become due,* and that one of the causes enumerated in the second section of this article exists; and that the attachment is not sued out for the purpose of vexing or harassing the defendant; and such oath must be reduced to writing and subscribed by the party making it.

Affidavit may be made before any one having authority to take and certify affidavits.—Wright v. Smith, 66 Ala. 545. Must be made before or at the time writ issues.—Watts v. Womack, 44 Ala. 605; Wright v. Smith, 66 Ala. 545. Writ issuing without affidavit can be abated only on plea.—Jones v. Pope, 6 Ala. 154; Kirkman v. Patton, 19 Ala. 32; Dow v. Whitman, 36 Ala. 604; Hyde v. Adams, 80 Ala. 111; Smith v. Baker, 80 Ala. 318. Affidavit that defendant is a "non-resident", sufficient.—Jackson v. Stanley, 2 Ala. 326; Graham v. Ruff, 8 Ala. 171. Made by agent on information and belief, sufficient. Mitchell v. Pitts, 61 Ala. 219. Must set out individual names of plaintiff partners, or it abates on plea.—Sims v. Jacobson, 51 Ala. 186. Grounds of attachment cannot be stated disjunctively, but may be stated conjunctively if consistent with each other.—Johnson v. Hale, 3 S. & P. 331; Cannon v. Logan, 5 P. 77; Watson v. Auerbach, 57 Ala. 353; Smith v. Baker, 80 Ala. 318. Variance between amount claimed in affidavit and complaint must be claimed on trial.—McAbee v. Parker, 78 Ala. 573; Fears v. Thompson, 82 Ala. 294; Decatur Imp. Co. v. Crass, 97 Ala. 524. Failure of clerk to certify not a fatal defect.—McCartney v. Bank, 3 Ala. 709; Hyde v. Adams, 80 Ala. 111. Defects reached by plea in abatement or motion to quash.—Free v. Howard, 44 Ala. 195; Hall v. Brazleton, 46 Ala. 359; Sims v. Jacobson, 51 Ala. 186; DeBardeleben v. Crosby, 53 Ala. 363; Watson v. Auerbach, 57 Ala. 353; Murphy v. Egger, 59 Ala. 639; Johnston v. Hannah 66 Ala. 127; Hyde v. Adams, 80 Ala. 111. Amendment.—See citations to section 564 (2998).

As amended Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1247.

528 (2933) (3256) (2931) (2507). Bond and surety also required. Such officer must, when the attachment is sued out otherwise than upon the ground that the defendant is a non-resident, further require the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, to execute a bond in double the amount claimed, with sufficient surety, payable to the defendant, with the condition that the plaintiff will prosecute the attachment to effect, and pay the defendant all such damages as he may sustain by the wrongful or vexatious suing out of such attachment. When the attachment is sued out upon the ground that the defendant is a non-resident, such officer shall issue the writ with or without a bond being given, as the plaintiff may elect. If such attachment is issued without bond, that fact must be indorsed on the writ. Should the defendant, before the return day thereof, in person or through his agent or attorney, make an unqualified appearance in the cause, it is the duty of the clerk to issue notice to the plaintiff or his attorney of the fact of such appearance. Unless within twenty-four hours after the service of such notice the plaintiff make bond payable to the defendant in double the amount sued for, such levy shall be discharged.

Bond is properly payable to all of several defendants, although writ is only levied on property of one.—Hadley v. Bryars, 58 Ala. 139. Effect where penalty is left blank.—Copeland v. Cunningham, 63 Ala. 394. Effect where bond is payable to partnership in firm name and levy is on individual property.—Watts v. Rice, 75 Ala. 289. If bond is in fact approved the indorsement of approval is unnecessary.—Hyde v. Adams, 80 Ala. 111.

529 (2934) (3257) (2932) (2508). When additional affidavit required.—When an attachment is applied for in the cases provided for in the third and fourth subdivisions of the first section of this article, the judge or chancellor, before issuing it, must require the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, in addition to the affidavit and bond required in other cases, to make affidavit in writing of the special facts and circumstances, so as to enable him to determine the amount for which a levy must be made; which sum may, at the discretion of the court, be reduced at the return term of the attachment, on affidavit of the defendant, and the levy released to the amount of such reduction.

Definiteness and sufficiency in the discretion of the judge cannot be tested by plea in abatement.—Bozeman v. Rose, 40 Ala. 212; Hadley v. Bryars, 58 Ala. 139. Special affidavit not necessary for attachment for breach of warranty in sale of chattels.—Guy v. Lee, 81 Ala. 163. Nor in attachment for destruction of landlord's lien.—Atkinson v. James, 96 Ala. 214.

530 (2935) (3258) (2933) (2509). Attachment by a non-resident against another.—A non-resident of this state may sue out an attachment against a non-resident for an existing debt or ascertained liability; but the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, is required, in addition to the oath necessary in other cases, to swear that, according to the best of his knowledge, information, and belief, the defendant has not sufficient property within the state of his residence wherefrom to satisfy the debt; and must also give bond as in other cases, with surety resident in this state.

Affidavit must show that defendant has not sufficient property in the state of his residence to pay the debt in suit.—Cobb v. Force, 6 Ala. 468; Cobb v. Miller, 9 Ala. 499; Jones v. Lawrence, 36 Ala. 618. Lies for only such demands as ordinary attachment lies to recover.—Hazard v. Jordan, 12 Ala. 180. Affidavit on information and belief.—Mitchell v. Pitts, 61 Ala. 219. Need not aver residence of defendant.—Jackson v. Stanley, 2 Ala. 326.

531 (2936) (3259) 2934) (2510). Notice to non-resident defendant.—When an attachment is sued out against a non-resident of the state, the writ shall be returned to the clerk of the court as soon as levied upon the property of the defendant, and thereupon the clerk shall cause a notice of the attachment and levy on the defendant's property to be advertised, once a week for three successive weeks, in some newspaper, a copy of which must be sent by mail to the defendant, if his residence is known or can be ascertained; and if such publication is perfected twenty days before the next term of the court, the case shall stand for trial at that term; otherwise, at the succeeding term, or any other term after the perfection of such publication twenty days prior thereto.

Applies whatever the ground of attachment.—Dollins v. Pollock, 89 Ala. 351.

Execution of replevy bond an admission of notice.—Chastain v. Armstrong, 85 Ala. 215. The fact that a default judgment cannot be rendered against non-appearing defendant without a levy is not changed.—Byers v. Baker, 104 Ala. 173. Necessary proof of notice; recitals of judgment entry.—Walker v. Hallett, 1 Ala. 379; Johnston v. Hainesworth, 6 Ala. 443; Butler v. Butler, 11 Ala. 668; Hartley v. Bloodgood, 16 Ala 233; Hodges v. Wise, 16 Ala. 509; Cullum v. Bank, 23 Ala. 797; Clark v. Gilmer, 28 Ala. 265; Keiffer v. Barney, 31 Ala. 192; Hunt v. Ellison, 32 Ala. 173; Dow v. Whitman, 36 Ala. 604; Brinsfield v. Austin, 39 Ala. 227; Diston v. Hood, 83 Ala. 331; Meyer v. Keith, 99 Ala. 519.

532 (2937) (3260). Notice of levy when defendant resident of state.—Notice of the levy of the attachment shall be given in writing by the sheriff, or other person who makes such levy, to the defendant in person, or notice thereof in writing left at his residence, if resident in the county; and if not resident in the county, but a resident of the state, then by posting up a written notice at the courthouse door, and by sending a copy of the same by mail, addressed to the defendant at the post-office nearest his residence.

Oral notice of levy on stock in corporation, sufficient.—Abels v. P. & M. Ins. Co., 92 Ala. 382. May be given after death of plaintiff and before revivor.—Rice v. Clements, 57 Ala. 191. General appearance or execution of replevy bond a waiver.—Peebles v. Weir, 60 Ala. 413; Betancourt v. Eberlin, 71 Ala. 461; Chastain v. Armstrong, 85 Ala. 215. Presumptions in favor of verity and correctness of sheriff's return.—Fears v. Thompson, 82 Ala. 294.

533 (2938) (3261) (2936) (2512). Corporations may sue out attachments.—Corporations, either foreign or domestic, are entitled to process of attachment for the recovery of the debts or ascertained demands due them, the president, cashier of the corporation, or an agent or attorney thereof, making the affidavit and executing bond as in other cases.

534 (2939) (3262) (2937). How security for costs may be given. When an attachment is sued out in favor of a non-resident, or a foreign corporation, security for the costs of the suit may be taken and approved by the officer issuing the same, or may be indorsed with his approval on the attachment.

See citations to section 1347 (2858).

535 (2940) (3263) (2938) (2513). Attachments against foreign corporations.—Process of attachment may issue against foreign corporations, having property in this state, for the recovery of debts, or to recover damages for a breach of contract when the damages are not certain or liquidated, or in cases where the action sounds in damages merely, in the same manner, and subject to the same rules as in case of natural persons residing without this state.

Central M. & M. Co. v. Stoven, 45 Ala. 594; Iron Age Pub. Co. v. W. U. Tel. Co., 83 Ala. 498; Sullivan v. Sullivan T. Co., 103 Ala. 371.

536 (2941) (3264) (2939) (2514). Form; no objection taken for want of.—The form of attachment must be in substance as follows, but no objection shall be taken for any defect in form, if the essential matters are set forth:

"The State of Alabama, ——— county. } To any sheriff of the State of Alabama:

Whereas A. B. (or C. D., as the agent or attorney of A. B., as the case may be) hath complained on oath to me, E. F., judge of the circuit court of said state (or justice of the peace, or judge of the probate court, or clerk of the circuit court of said county, or as the case may be), that G. H. is (or will be, as the case may be) justly indebted to the plaintiff in the sum of —— dollars, and the plaintiff having made affidavit and given bond as required by law in such cases, you are hereby commanded to attach so much of the estate of G. H. as will be of value to satisfy the said debt and costs, according to the complaint; and such estate, unless replevied, so to secure that the same may be liable to further proceedings thereon, to be had at the next term of the circuit court for the county of ———, to be held at the court-house thereof; when and where you must make known how you have executed this writ.

Witness my hand, this, etc. E. F., Clerk."

Need not state term to which returnable.—Blair v. Miller, 42 Ala. 308.
Proper direction of writ.—Blair v. Miller, 42 Ala. 308; Peebles v. Weir, 60 Ala. 413; Herring v. Kelly, 96 Ala. 559; Drewry v. Leinkauff, 94 Ala. 486.
Waiver of exemptions must be indorsed.—Fears v. Thompson, 82 Ala. 294.
Defects taken advantage of by plea in abatement.—Peebles v. Weir, 60 Ala. 413.

537 (2942) (3265) (2940) (2515). Return of bond and affidavit. The bond and affidavit must be returned by the officer issuing the attachment to the court to which the attachment is returnable.

538 (2943) (3266) (2941). When issued and executed on Sunday. Attachments may issue and be executed on Sunday, if the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, in addition to the oath prescribed for the issue of such process, make affidavit that the defendant is absconding, or is about to abscond, or is about to remove his property from the state, and give the bond required in this article.

539 (2944) (3267) (2942). Provisions of chapter applicable to private corporations.—The provisions of this chapter are applicable to all private corporations, and all affidavits or answers, required to be made under any of its provisions, may be made by the president, cashier, secretary, or any other duly authorized agent of such corporation; and such corporations may do and be dealt with under its provisions, in the same manner as if they were natural persons.

IN WHAT MANNER AND ON WHAT PROPERTY EXECUTED.

540 (2945) (3268) (2943) (2516). How attachment executed. Attachments may be levied on real estate, whether a fee simple or any less legal estate, or on personal property of the defendant; or may be executed by summoning any person indebted to the defendant, or liable to him on a contract for the delivery of personal property, or for the payment of money which may be discharged by the delivery of personal property, or on a contract payable in personal property, or a person having in his possession, or under his control, any money or effects belonging to the defendant; and the officer executing the writ must indorse such levy or service thereon, and, if practicable, take the property into his possession, unless replevied as hereinafter prescribed.

What subject to levy: Lands on which execution has been levied.—Johnson v. Burnett, 12 Ala. 743. Any property of defendant that has value however small.—Thornton v. Winter, 9 Ala. 613; Clark v. Cilley, 36 Ala. 652. Funds in the hands of an attorney which he has been directed to pay to others, but to which application payees have not assented.—Sterrett v. Miles, 87 Ala. 472; Coleman v. Hatcher, 77 Ala. 217; Trager v. Feibleman, 95 Ala. 60. Certificate of stock in a corporation.—Fisher v. Jones, 82 Ala. 117; Berney Nat. Bank v. Pinckard, 87 Ala. 577; Abels v. Planters & Merchants' Ins. Co., 92 Ala. 382. Rule as to levy on property already attached and replevied. McRae v. McLean, 3 P. 138; Rives v. Wilborne, 6 Ala. 45; McLemore v. Benbow, 19 Ala. 76; Cordaman v. Malone, 63 Ala. 556; Scarborough v. Malone, 67 Ala. 570; Powell v. Rankin, 80 Ala. 316; Sackhoff v. Vandegrift, 98 Ala. 192, (distinguishing Dollins v. Lindsey, 89 Ala. 217). What not subject.—Thompson v. Thornton, 21 Ala. 808; Read v. Sprague, 34 Ala. 101; Goode v. Longmire, 35 Ala. 668; Central M. & M. Co. v. Stoven, 45 Ala. 594; Starnes v. Allen, 58 Ala. 316. Mortgagee's interest in land before entry is not subject. Morris v. Barker, 82 Ala. 272; Martin v. Carter, 90 Ala. 96. Nor mere right to personal property held adversely.—Horton v. Smith, 8 Ala. 73. Nor vested remainder in personal property during continuance of particular estate. Goode v. Longmire, 35 Ala. 668. Nor personal property conveyed by deed of trust but remaining in grantor's hands after default.—Thompson v. Thornton, 21 Ala. 808. Nor statutory right of redemption.—Central M. & M. Co. v. Stoven, 45 Ala. 594. Nor interest of landlord in crop by virtue of his lien. Starnes v. Allen, 58 Ala. 316. Nor property in possession of a receiver, pending appeal.—Stanton v. Heard, 100 Ala. 515. Nor property obtained from a search of person unlawfully arrested.—Cunningham v. Baker, 104 Ala. 160. Service of garnishment a levy.—Thompson v. Allen, 4 S. & P. 184; Cleaveland v. State, 34 Ala. 254. Although garnishee not indebted.—Flournoy v. Lyon, 70 Ala. 308. But default judgment not sustained without judgment against garnishee.—Byers v. Baker, 104 Ala. 173. What demands can be reached by garnishment.—See citations to section 2191 (2976). Levy not sufficient if colorable or fictitious.—Thornton v. Winter, 9 Ala. 613; Grier v. Campbell, 21 Ala. 327. Or when procured by force, fraud or trespass.—Ex parte Hurn, 92 Ala. 102. Officer levying must acquire possession and control of personal property.—Abrams v. Johnson, 65 Ala. 465; Stanton v. Heard, 100 Ala. 515. Officer cannot levy by garnishment until the attachment writ is in his hands.—Donald v. Nelson, 95 Ala. 111. Officer must indorse description of property on the writ or attach an inventory.—Green v. Pyne, 1 Ala. 235; Toulmin v. Lesesne, 2 Ala. 359. May amend indorsement until it is returned.—Harris v. Russell, 93 Ala. 59. When against several may be levied on joint property or property of one; but it only brings in those who have an interest therein.—Hadley v. Bryars, 58 Ala. 139. Levy on exempt property brings defendant into court.—Hadley v. Bryars, 58 Ala. 139. Effect of death and insolvency of defendant.—McEachin v. Reid, 40 Ala. 410; Seals v. Holloway, 77 Ala. 344. When return sufficiently shows that property belongs to defendant.—Bickerstaff v. Patterson, 8 P. 245; Kirksey v. Bates, 1 Ala. 303; Miller v. McMillan, 4 Ala. 527; Fleming v. Burge, 6 Ala. 373; Lucas v. Godwin, 6 Ala. 831. Junior attaching creditor cannot obtain priority by first obtaining judgment.—Alexander v. King, 87 Ala. 642. Sheriff, and not clerk, must issue garnishment whereby attachment is levied.—Donald v. Nelson, 95 Ala. 111; Warren v. Mathews, 96 Ala. 183. Proceeding where several attachments are levied by garnishment against fund in court.—Warren v. Mathews, 96 Ala. 183.

541 (2946) (3269) (2944) (2517). Garnishee cited to appear and answer.—When attachment is executed by summoning a person indebted to the defendant, such person is called the garnishee, and the summons must be to answer as garnishees are required to answer, and upon return of an attachment so executed, proceedings may be had as in other cases of garnishment.

See citations to sections 2187 (2974), 2191 (2976).

542 (2947) (3270) (2945) (2518). Levied on joint or separate property.—An attachment may be levied on the joint or separate estate of joint obligors, promissors, or partners, whether resident or non-resident.

Levy only operates to bring in those of the defendants who have an interest in the property levied on.—Hadley v. Bryars, 58 Ala. 139. If against partnership in the firm name, writ can only be levied on partnership property.—Watts v. Rice, 75 Ala. 289. A debt due a member of the partnership may be levied on in attachment against the firm.—Pearce v. Shorter, 50 Ala. 318.

543 (2948) (3271) (2946) (2519). Executors and administrators. Executors and administrators may commence a suit by attachment in their representative character.

Lies against an executor in his official capacity to subject a debt due by him as executor to himself personally.—Dudley v. Falkner, 49 Ala. 148. Administrator garnishee cannot question ownership of original judgment. Jackson v. Shipman, 28 Ala. 488. Administrator may be summoned as garnishee before lapse of six months, but no judgment can be rendered against him until twelve months after appointment.—Moore v. Stainton, 22 Ala. 831. Answer not admitting assets.—Corbitt v. Pynes, 45 Ala. 258.

544 (2953) (3277) (2952) (2525). Attachments executed in any county.—The attachment may be executed in any county of the state by the sheriff of the county in which the property or garnishee may be found; and the sheriff must take and hold the property attached, unless replevied, subject to the order of the court in which the attachment is pending.

545 (2954) (3278) (2954) (2526). Branch writs.—Branch writs of attachment may issue to any county of the state, directed to any sheriff of the State of Alabama, to be executed as in the preceding section.

546 (2955) (3313) (2988) (2560). Alias writs; new writs of garnishment.—Alias writs of attachment, or new writs of garnishment, may be issued by the clerk without a renewal of the bond or affidavit, in cases where no property, or an insufficient amount thereof to satisfy the plaintiff's demand, has been found, or when, pending the suit, the plaintiff wishes to garnish other persons.

547 (2956) (3279) (2953). Levy by constables.—When an attachment is issued by a justice of the peace, or a notary public exercising the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace, if the amount of the debt does not exceed the penalty of the constable's bond, the justice, or notary, may, by indorsement on the process, direct it to be executed by the constable of the precinct, who shall return the same to the court to which it is returnable.

Indorsement need not be in any particular form or on the back of the writ.—Drewry v. Leinkauff, 94 Ala. 486. Regular bonded constable must make levy.—Peebles v. Weir, 60 Ala. 413; Carter v. Ellis, 90 Ala. 138 (explaining Brinsfield v. Austin, 39 Ala. 227). Constable should deliver property to sheriff.—Joseph v. Henderson, 95 Ala. 213.

548 (2957) (3280) (2955) (2527). Lien of attachment.—The levy of an attachment, or service of a garnishment, creates a lien in favor of the plaintiff.

Lien attaches at time of levy.—McRae v. McLean, 3 P. 138; Cary v. Gregg, 3 S. 433; Pond v. Griffin, 1 Ala. 678; Langdon v. Raiford, 20 Ala. 532; Hardaway v. Semmes, 38 Ala. 657; Woolfolk v. Ingram, 53 Ala. 11; Phillips v. Ash, 63 Ala. 414; Cordaman v. Malone, 63 Ala. 556; Scarborough v. Malone, 67 Ala. 570; Cartwright v. Bamberger, 90 Ala. 405; Bamberger v. Voorhees, 99 Ala. 292. Lien is inchoate and does not divest ownership; judgment must be obtained or it is lost.—Hale v. Cummings, 3 Ala. 398; Fitzpatrick v. Edgar, 5 Ala. 499; Sherrod v. Davis, 17 Ala. 312; Lamar v. Gunter, 39 Ala. 324; McEachin v. Reid, 40 Ala. 410; Phillips v. Ash, 63 Ala. 414; Cordaman v. Malone, 63 Ala.

556; Scarborough v. Malone, 67 Ala. 570; Ware v. Russell, 70 Ala. 174; Berney Nat. Bank v. Pinckard, 87 Ala. 577; Dollins v. Pollock, 89 Ala. 351; Abels v. P. & M. Ins. Co., 92 Ala. 382; Joseph v. Henderson, 95 Ala. 213. Replevy, nor conveyance after levy, will impair lien.—Cary v. Gregg, 3 S. 433; Randolph v. Carlton, 8 Ala, 606; Reed v. Perkins, 14 Ala. 231; Baldwin v. Leftwich, 12 Ala. 838; Hardaway v. Semmes, 38 Ala. 657; Phillips v. Ash, 63 Ala. 414; Cordaman v. Malone, 63 Ala. 556; Scarborough v. Malone, 67 Ala. 570; Striplin v. Cooper, 80 Ala. 256; Abels v. P. & M. Ins. Co., 92 Ala. 382; Kyle v. Swem, 99 Ala. 573. Nor failure of officer to make a return.—Reed v. Perkins, 14 Ala. 231. Nor the subsequent bankruptcy of defendant.—May v. Courtnay, 47 Ala. 185; Crowe v. Reid, 57 Ala. 281; Martin v. Lile, 63 Ala. 406. Nor suing out a fi. fa. on the judgment.—Berney Nat. Bank v. Pinckard, 87 Ala. 577. Nor by voluntary nonsuit by plaintiff which is immediately set aside and cause reinstated.—Dollins v. Pollock, 89 Ala. 35. Nor by death of defendant if on personal property; otherwise on realty.—McClellan v. Lipscomb, 56 Ala. 255; s. c., 72 Ala. 151; Phillips v. Ash, 63 Ala. 414. Lien obtained by issuing garnishment against maker of negotiable promissory note is destroyed by transfer to bona fide purchaser without notice before maturity.—Mayberry v. Morris, 62 Ala. 113. Lien on personal property is lost if defendant dies before judgment and his estate is declared insolvent.—McEachin v. Reid, 40 Ala. 410; Woolfolk v. Ingram, 53 Ala. 11; Phillips v. Ash, 63 Ala. 414; Seals v. Holloway, 77 Ala. 344. Junior attaching creditor cannot obtain priority by first obtaining judgment.—Alexander v. King, 87 Ala. 642.

549 (2958) (3281) (2956) (2528). Sale of perishable property under order of court.—If the property levied on be perishable, it must be sold by order of the court, on motion of either party, and the proceeds of the sale retained by the sheriff to await the decision of the cause, unless the court otherwise direct.

Lease hold is not perishable.—First Nat. Bank v. Consolidated E. L. Co., 97 Ala. 465.

550 (2959) (3282) (2957) (2529). When sold without order of court. If the property levied on be of so perishable a nature that it will deteriorate greatly in value, or be destroyed, before the meeting of the court, or if the charge of keeping it be very great, it is the duty of the sheriff, if not replevied, to sell it at public auction, returning a statement of the facts and the money to the court.

Sheriff vested with discretion, gross abuse of which makes him liable as a trespasser.—Griel v. Hunter, 40 Ala. 542.

551 (2960) (3283). When plaintiff may receive proceeds of sale upon executing refunding bond.—When property levied on under an attachment has been sold pending the suit, on motion of the plaintiff, the judge of the court to which the attachment is returnable must, at any time after thirty days from the levy, in term time or vacation, make, and cause to be entered upon the minutes of the court, an order directing the officer having in his hands the proceeds of sale, after reserving an amount, to be fixed in the order, to cover the probable costs and charges in the cause, to pay over to the plaintiff, or his attorney, the balance of such proceeds, not exceeding the amount of the plaintiff's demand, to be stated in the order, upon his giving bond in double the amount of the money to be paid over, payable to the defendant, with sufficient surety, to be approved by such officer, and with condition, that if he is cast in the suit, he will pay into court the amount so paid over to him, with interest, or if he recovers in the suit, and the recovery is for a sum less than the amount so paid over to him, he will pay into court the excess, with interest; and upon the execution of such bond, such officers shall pay over to the plaintiff, or his attorney, the proceeds of sale as directed in the order. Such order shall not, however, be made, if, upon the hearing of the motion, or at any time prior thereto, a claim to the property levied on is interposed by any person not a party to the suit, or the defendant denies under oath the existence of the plaintiff's demand. Notice of such motion, and of the time and place of hearing the same, must be served on the defendant, or his attorney, ten days before the hearing thereof; or if the defendant resides out of the state, and has no attorney resident of the county, such notice must be given by publication in some newspaper published in the county, once a week for three successive weeks.

Leinkauff v. Tuscaloosa S. & A. Co., 105 Ala. 328.

552 (2961) (3283). Proceedings on forfeiture of such bond; when money to be paid defendant.—The officer taking such bond shall forthwith return the same to the clerk of the court in which the suit is pending, with his indorsement thereon, showing how he has executed such order, and specifying the amount paid over to the plaintiff, or his attorney, thereunder, and the date of such payment; and if the plaintiff is cast in the suit, or if he recovers, and his recovery is for a less sum than the amount paid him under such order, and he fails for thirty days after the date of the rendition of the judgment to pay into court the money required by the condition of his bond to be paid, the clerk shall indorse the bond forfeited, and issue execution thereon against the obligors for the amount so paid to the plaintiff, or his attorney, as shown by the indorsement of the officer taking the bond, with interest from the date of such payment, if the plaintiff was cast in the suit; or, if the plaintiff recovered, and his recovery was for a less sum than the amount so paid, for the difference between the amount recovered and the amount received by him, with interest from the date of payment. If the plaintiff complies with the condition of the bond by paying the money into court, the same must be paid to the defendant.

553 (2962) (3284) (2958) (2530). Amount so received by sheriff recovered on one day's notice.—The sheriff and his sureties, or either of them, may be proceeded against by motion, on one day's notice, at the instance of the plaintiff, or of the defendant if the plaintiff fail in the action, for any money received for the sale of perishable property; and judgment rendered against him or them for the amount, and five per cent. a month from the time of the demand.

Entry of motion on docket sufficient notice.—James v. Moseley, 47 Ala. 299. Statutory damages need not be specifically claimed.—McArthur v. Dane, 61 Ala. 539.

554 (2963) (3285) (2959) (2532). Bond of indemnity.—When a doubt exists as to the title of the defendant to personal property which the sheriff is required to levy upon, he may demand indemnity from the plaintiff.

Indemnity may be demanded before or after levy.—Screws v. Watson, 48 Ala. 628; Lavretta v. Holcombe, 98 Ala. 503.

ARTICLE 3.

REPLEVY OF PROPERTY.

555 (2964) (3289) (2964) (2536). Replevy of property levied on. The defendant in attachment, or, in his absence, a stranger, may replevy the goods or chattels attached, or any part thereof, by executing bond, with sufficient sureties, payable to the plaintiff, in double the value of the property replevied, to be determined by the officer making the levy, with condition that if the defendant fail in the action, the principal in the bond, or his sureties, will return the specific property attached within thirty days after the judgment; which bond must be returned with the other papers of the cause.

Effect of replevy does not impair lien.—Cary v. Gregg, 3 S. 433; McRae v. McLean, 3 P. 138; Rives v. Wilborne, 6 Ala. 45; Langdon v. Brumby, 7 Ala. 53; Woolfolk v. Ingram, 53 Ala. 11; Cordaman v. Malone, 63 Ala. 556; Scarborough v. Malone, 67 Ala. 570; Striplin v. Cooper, 80 Ala. 256; Powell v. Rankin, 80 Ala. 316; Sackhoff v. Vandegrift, 98 Ala. 192 (distinguishing Dollins v. Lindsey, 89 Ala. 217); Kyle v. Swem, 99 Ala. 573. Replevy by stranger; duty and liability.—Sartin v. Weir, 3. S. &. P. 421; Kurney v. Mallory, 3 Ala. 626; Braley v. Clark, 22 Ala. 361; Cooper v. Peck, 22 Ala. 406; Mitchell v. Ingram, 38 Ala. 395; Kirk v. Morris, 40 Ala. 225; Morris v. Hall, 41 Ala. 510; Rhodes v. Smith, 66 Ala. 174. Form of bond; if insufficient as statutory, may be good as common-law bond.—Meredith v. Richardson, 10 Ala. 828; Mitchell v. Ingram, 38 Ala. 395; Russell v. Locke, 57 Ala. 420; Adler v. Potter, 57 Ala. 571; Agnew v. Leath, 63 Ala. 345. Condition is to return the specific property.—Sartin v. Weir, 3 S. & P. 421; Braley v. Clark, 22 Ala. 361; Cooper v. Peck, 22 Ala. 406; Rhodes v. Smith, 66 Ala. 174; Roswald v. Hobbie, 85 Ala. 73. Failure to return any part of property subjects obligors to pro tanto liability.—Dunlap v. Clements, 18 Ala. 778. But only by action on bond if failure the result of act of plaintiff.—Dunlap v. Clements, 18 Ala. 778. Obligor and sureties "in a sense parties to the suit."—Peebles v. Weir, 60 Ala. 413; Woolfolk v. Ingram, 53 Ala. 11; Rhodes v. Smith, 66 Ala. 174; Cordaman v. Malone, 63 Ala. 556; Scarborough v. Malone, 67 Ala. 570. Remedy of surety for wrongful second levy.—Cordaman v. Malone, 63 Ala. 556; Scarborough v. Malone, 67 Ala. 570. Obligors cannot deny that property is subject to levy, despite the levy, or set up title to the property in themselves or a third person, until after its return to sheriff.—Sartin v. Weir, 3 S. & P. 421; Mead v. Figh, 4 Ala. 279; Meredith v. Richardson, 10 Ala. 828; Easley v. Walker, 10 Ala. 671; Dunlap v. Clements, 18 Ala. 778; Braley v. Clark, 22 Ala. 361; Cooper v. Peck, 22 Ala. 406; Mitchell v. Ingram, 38 Ala. 395; Adler v. Potter, 57 Ala. 571; Rhodes v. Smith, 66 Ala. 174; Brown v. Hamil, 76 Ala. 506; Roswald v. Hobbie, 85 Ala. 73. When obligors relieved from liability.—McRae v. McLean, 3 P. 138; Dunlap v. Clements, 18 Ala. 778; Glover v. Taylor, 41 Ala. 124; Cordaman v. Malone, 63 Ala. 556; Scarborough v. Malone, 67 Ala. 570; Bolling v. Vandiver, 91 Ala. 375; Watson v. Simmons, Ib. 567.

556 (2965) (3291) (2966) (2538). Forfeiture of replevy bond; execution thereon.—When the property replevied is not delivered in thirty days after judgment against the defendant in attachment, the sheriff shall return the bond forfeited, and execution must be issued thereon against the principal and sureties for the amount of the value of the property replevied, as fixed by the sheriff or other officer making the levy, with interest thereon from the date of the bond, and for the cost of the replevy and of the execution, unless such value is greater than the amount of the judgment against the defendant, in which case the execution shall be for the amount of such judgment and costs.

Execution cannot issue except on statutory bond.—Woolfolk v. Ingram, 53 Ala. 11; Russell v. Locke, 57 Ala. 420; Rhodes v. Smith, 66 Ala. 174. On failure to return property, and return of bond forfeited, execution issues; pro tanto only if failure is partial.—Dunlap v. Clements, 18 Ala. 778; Braley v.

Clark, 22 Ala. 361; Cooper v. Peck, 22 Ala. 406; Woolfolk v. Ingram, 53 Ala. 11; Peebles v. Weir, 60 Ala. 413; Rhodes v. Smith, 66 Ala. 174; Roswald v. Hobbie, 85 Ala. 73.

557 (2966) (3292) (2967) (2539). If property dies, or is destroyed, value received in discharge of bond.—If any of the property so replevied should die or be destroyed without fault or negligence on the part of the person in possession, before the day for the delivery thereof, the obligors in the bond may tender the value to the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney; and if such tender is refused, such obligors may obtain relief by supersedeas.

Death after day of delivery does not absolve.—Burgess v. Sugg, 2 S. & P. 341. Death of party replevying does not absolve.—Woolfolk v. Ingram, 53 Ala. 11. If destruction is produced by plaintiff, sureties are relieved.—Dunlap v. Clements, 18 Ala. 778.

ARTICLE 4.

ANCILLARY ATTACHMENTS.

558 (2967) (3319, 3320) (2994, 2995) (2566, 2567). Attachment in aid of pending suit.—When a suit has been commenced by the suing out of a summons, whether such summons has been executed or not, the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, may, at any time before judgment, sue out an attachment in aid of such suit, upon making affidavit and giving bond as is required on the issue of original attachments; and all proceedings on such attachments must be conducted as are proceedings on original attachments; and such attachment may be sued out in any case in which an original attachment may be sued out, and may be issued by the officer having authority to issue original attachments.

559 (2969) (3321) (2996) (2568). Attachment may issue when resident defendant evades service of summons.—When a summons has been returned "not found" as to all or any of the defendants, residents of the county, if the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, make affidavit that the defendant has evaded the service of the process, the court must direct an attachment to issue, returnable to the next term of the court, and the cause must in all respects proceed, as against such defendant, as if originally commenced by attachment.

560 (2970) (3322) (2997) (2569). Proceedings in such case. The plaintiff may, notwithstanding such attachment, proceed to judgment against any of the defendants on whom process was served; but a judgment and satisfaction of the debt or claim abate the attachment at the costs of the plaintiff.

ARTICLE 5.

PLEADINGS, TRIAL, JUDGMENT AND EXECUTION.

561 (2995) (3323, 3324) (2998, 2999) (2570, 2571). Complaint, when to be filed; time of trial.—The plaintiff must, within the first three days of the return term of the attachment, file his complaint, and the cause stands for trial at such return term, if the levy is made and notice thereof is given twenty days before the commencement of such term; but if the attachment is issued upon a demand not then due, the cause shall not stand for trial, nor shall the plaintiff be required to file his complaint, until such demand is due and payable.

Requirement as to filing complaint is directory.—Perkerson v. Snodgrass, 85 Ala. 137. Need not be filed, nor can judgment be rendered, until debt is due.—Jones v. Holland, 47 Ala. 732. Default judgment cannot be taken until filed.—Penn v. Edwards, 42 Ala. 655. Death of plaintiff does not postpone time.—Rice v. Clements, 57 Ala. 191. Purpose of notice and effect of failure to give; executing replevy bond, or general appearance, a waiver; notice. Peebles v. Weir, 60 Ala. 413; Rosenberg v. Claflin, 95 Ala. 249. After appearance and plea, suit proceeds as if on ordinary summons and complaint. Hutchison v. Powell, 92 Ala. 619; Giddens v. Bolling, 93 Ala. 92; Rosenberg v. Claflin, 95 Ala. 249. Default judgment may be taken without notice given, if replevy bond filed.—Peebles v. Weir, 60 Ala. 413; Hawkins v. Armour Packing Co. 105 Ala. 545, 548. Judgment by default against non-resident on proof of statutory notice; what entry must show.—Meyer v. Keith, 99 Ala. 519. Judgment nil dicit with waiver of exemptions may be taken if waiver alleged in complaint, although it was not indorsed on the writ.—Hutchison v. Powell, 92 Ala. 619.

562 (2996) (3325) (3000) (2572). Practice in such suits.—If the defendant appears and pleads, the cause proceeds as in suits commenced by summons and complaint; if he fails to appear, or appearing, fails to plead within the time required by law, the plaintiff may take judgment by default or nil dicit, and may execute a writ of inquiry, if necessary.

563 (2997) (3314) (2989) (2561). When attachment may be abated.—An attachment issued without affidavit and bond, as prescribed in this chapter, may be abated on plea of the defendant, filed within the first three days of the return term.

Can be abated only on plea of defendant; want of plea is not available on error unless objection is made.—Lowry v. Stowe, 7 P. 483; P. & M. Bank v. Andrews, 8 P. 404; Findlay v. Pruitt, 9 P. 195; Alford v. Johnson, 9 P. 320; Lowe v. Derrick, 9 P. 415; Jackson v. Stanley, 2 Ala. 326; Reynolds v. Bell, 3 Ala. 57; Scott v. Macy, 3 Ala. 250; Banks v. Lewis, 4 Ala. 599; Conklin v. Harris, 5 Ala. 213; Jones v. Pope, 6 Ala. 154; Roberts v. Burke, 6 Ala. 348; Fleming v. Burge, 6 Ala. 373; Burt v. Parish, 9 Ala. 211; Jordan v. 564 (2998) (3315) (2990) (2562). Attachment law; how construed; when attachment cannot be abated.—The attachment law must be liberally construed to advance the manifest intent of the law; and the plaintiff, before or during the trial, must be permitted to amend any defect of form or of substance in the affidavit, bond, or attachment; and no attachment must be dismissed for any defect in the affidavit, if the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, will make a sufficient affidavit, or for any defect in the bond, or for want of a bond, if the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, is willing to give or substitute a sufficient bond.

Before the Code of 1886, defects of form only were amendable; defects of substance were fatal.—Hall v. Brazleton, 40 Ala. 406; Sims v. Jacobson, 51 Ala. 186; Shield v. Dothard, 59 Ala. 595; Peebles v. Weir, 60 Ala. 413; Flexner v. Dickerson, 65 Ala. 129; Knowles v. Steed, 79 Ala. 427; Robinson v. Holt, 85 Ala. 596; Richards v. Bestor, 90 Ala. 352. There cannot be an entire change of parties.—Sims v. Jacobson, 51 Ala. 186; Rosenberg v. Claflin, 95 Ala. 249; Ex parte Nicrosi, 103 Ala. 104. Affidavit may be amended so as to show that affiant is an agent or attorney of another.—Paulhaus v. Leber, 54 Ala. 91. Amendment by adding signature.—Watts v. Womack, 44 Ala. 605. The defendant was about to "abscond himself and his property," amendable. Ware v. Todd, 1 Ala. 199. May be amended to show corporate character of plaintiff.—Rosenberg v. Claflin, 95 Ala. 249. And that defendant, described as a corporation, is an individual.—Ex parte Nicrosi, 103 Ala. 104. Failure of clerk to certify to affidavit, amendable.—Hyde v. Adams, 80 Ala. 111. Whether bond is void or only defective a new bond may be substituted. Jackson v. Stanley, 2 Ala. 326. New bond may be required; if not given suit abates.—Lowery v. Stowe, 7 P. 483; P. & M. Bank v. Andrews, 8 P. 404; Lowe v. Derrick, 9 P. 415; Scott v. Macy, 3 Ala. 250; Sims v. Jacobson, 51 Ala. 186; Mohr v. Chaffe, 75 Ala. 387; Hyde v. Adams, 80 Ala. 111; Ex parte Damon, 103 Ala. 477; Ex parte McKissack, 107 Ala. 493. Clerk need not actually indorse his approval on bond if it was in fact approved.—Pearson v. Gayle, 11 Ala. 278; Dothard v. Sheid, 69 Ala. 135; Hyde v. Adams, 80 Ala. 111. A writ returnable to the circuit court may be amended so as to make it returnable to city court.—Blair v. Miller, 42 Ala. 308; Mohr v. Chaffe, 75 Ala. 387. If writ is erroneously addressed but is executed by the proper officer, the court "will hesitate to interfere."—Ware v. Todd, 1 Ala. 199; Blair v. Miller, 42 Ala. 308. Clerical error in writing in the teste of writ, the words "clerk of said circuit court" instead of "city court," is amendable.—Free v. Howard, 44 Ala. 195; Carter v. O'Bryan, 105 Ala. 305. Writ directed to "sheriff or any constable of said county," may be amended and properly addressed.—Herring v. Kelly, 96 Ala. 559. Clerk cannot afterwards contradict his indorsement of the filing and approval of bond.—Pearson v. Gayle, 11 Ala. 278. Attachment by partnership in firm name may be amended so as to show individual names. Sims v. Jacobson, 51 Ala. 186. Statute applies to garnishment proceedings. White v. Simpson, 107 Ala. 386.

565 (2999) (3317, 3318) (2992, 2993) (2564, 2565). Grounds of issue not traversable; suit on bond, when brought, and what damages recoverable.—The defendant must not deny or put in issue the cause for which the attachment issued; but, at any time within three years of the suing out of the attachment, before or after the suit is determined, he may commence suit on the attachment bond, and may recover such damages as he has actually sustained, if the attachment was wrongfully sued out; and, if sued out maliciously as well as wrongfully, the jury may, in addition, give vindictive damages.

The "cause" which defendant may not put in issue is the existence of a ground for attachment, not the relation between the parties nor the existence of a debt.—Tucker v. Adams, 52 Ala. 254; Smith v. Baker, 80 Ala. 318; Brown v. Master, 104 Ala. 451. Action, whether on bond or in case, may be instituted after the termination of the attachment suit whether it is original or ancillary.—Kirksey v. Dec. 13, 1892, p. 141.

566. Venue of suits on bond.—The defendant in any attachment may bring suit on the attachment bond in the county where the attachment is levied, or in the county where the plaintiff in attachment, or any one of his sureties, resides.

567 (3000) (3311) (2986) (2558). Judgment in attachment suspended until trial of collateral issues.—No judgment can be rendered against the defendant in attachment, when a claim has been interposed to try the right of property, or when the answer of the garnishee is contested, or a contest has arisen about the title to, or interest in the debt or demand, money or effects garnished, until these questions are settled; unless other property or effects of the defendant be attached or garnished, about which no contest has arisen.

Suit stands in abeyance as to goods claimed, but may proceed as to goods levied on and not claimed.—Abraham v. Nicrosi, 87 Ala. 173; Richards v. Bestor, 90 Ala. 352.

568 (3001) (3312) (2987) (2559). When property restored to claimant.—If the plaintiff do not obtain judgment against the defendant in attachment, all property condemned, where a claim for the trial of the right of property had been interposed, must be restored to the claimant at the costs of the plaintiff.

569 (3002) (3274) (2949) (2522). Judgments against personal representatives.—No judgment can be rendered against an executor or administrator upon his answer in attachment or garnishment, until twelve months after the grant of letters testamentary, or of administration.

570 (3003) (3326) (3001) (2773). Process for satisfaction of judgment.—If the judgment of the plaintiff be not satisfied by the property attached, or by the garnishee, execution must issue thereon, which may be levied on, and satisfied by any property of the defendant; and the plaintiff may proceed to a sale of the property attached by a venditioni exponas, or by an ordinary writ of execution.

Does not apply when judgment rendered against a non-resident without personal appearance.—Exchange National Bank of Spokane v. Clement, 109 Ala. 270.

ARTICLE 6.

ATTACHMENTS ISSUED BY JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

571 (3334) (3682) (3285) (2838). Attachments returnable be- fore justices.—Justices of the peace have power to issue attachments, returnable before themselves, where the amount claimed does not exceed one hundred dollars, for the enforcement of the debts or demands, and in the cases mentioned in sections 524 (2929) and 525 (2930) of this Code.

Notary public who is ex officio justice of the peace, has like powers as justice.—Griffin v. Appleby, 69 Ala. 409. Date of bond not conclusive as to time.—Johnson v. Hale, 3 S. & P. 331. Objection that justice is not so in fact must be made by plea in abatement.—Lowry v. Stowe, 7 P. 483. Lien dates from levy.—Langdon v. Raiford, 20 Ala. 532. Rule as to priorities where several attachments levied on the same property.—Cook v. Walthall, 20 Ala. 334.

572 (3335) (3683) (3286) (2839). What provisions applicable. The provisions of this Code regulating the issue and levy of attachments, original or ancillary, and of garnishments, and the trial of, and proceedings in suits commenced by attachments, or in aid of which attachments or garnishments are issued in the circuit court, not contrary to the provisions of this article, and so far as applicable, shall apply to, and govern in like cases triable before justices of the peace.

573. (3336) (3684) (3287) (2840). Form of attachment.—The form of such attachment must be, in substance, as follows:

"State of Alabama, ——— county. } To any lawful officer of said county:

Whereas ——— ——— (or ——— ———, as the authorized agent or attorney of ——— ———), hath complained on oath to me, ——— ———, a justice of the peace for the county aforesaid, that ——— ——— is (or will be) justly indebted to him in the sum of —— dollars, and has made affidavit and given bond as required by law: You are hereby commanded to attach so much of the estate of ——— ——— as will be of value sufficient to satisfy the complaint and costs, and such estate, unless replevied, so to secure that the same may be liable to further proceedings thereon, to be had before me on the —— day of ———, 18—, at ———, when and where you must make return how you have executed this writ. Witness my hand this —— day of ———, 18—.

——— ———, Justice of the Peace."

Seal is not necessary.—Lowry v. Stowe, 7 P. 483.

574 (3337) (3685) (3288) (2841). Notice of levy on real estate. When such attachment is levied on real estate, notice must be given as provided for by section 1948 (3360) and the papers, after judgment against the defendant, must be returned to the clerk of the circuit court by the justice for an order of sale, as in other cases of levy on lands by constables.

575 (3338) (3686) (3289) (2842). What cannot be attached. Neither money in the hands of a sheriff, or other executive officer of the court, nor a debt or demand in any court of record, can be attached under an attachment or other process issued by, and returnable before a justice of the peace.

Sharpe v. Wharton, 85 Ala. 225.

576 (3339) (3687) (3290) (2843). Sale of property attached before judgment.—Property which is perishable, or such that the expense of keeping it will materially impair its value, must be sold by order of the justice, when the debt upon which the attachment is sued out is not due, or when the defendant is a non-resident, or when from any cause the judgment or sale is postponed, so that the property attached will materially deteriorate in value, unless the same is replevied; and the proceeds of such sale must be retained in the hands of the justice to abide the judgment.

577 (3341) (3689) (3292) (2845). When property replevied to be delivered; execution on forfeited bond.—Property replevied must be delivered to the constable within ten days after judgment against the defendant, unless an appeal is prosecuted from the judgment; and, on failure thereof, the constable must indorse the bond forfeited, upon which execution must issue against the obligors therein.

Replevy by stranger.—Cummins v. Gray, 4 S. & P. 397. Bond conditioned to deliver property in twenty days is defective and no execution can issue; may be good as a common-law bond.—Cobb v. Thompson, 87 Ala. 381; Olmstead v. Thompson, 91 Ala. 127.

578 (3343) (3691) (3294) (2847). Execution for balance of judgment unsatisfied.—When the property attached, or in the hands of the garnishee, is not sufficient to satisfy the judgment, execution may issue for the residue, and be levied on any other property of the defendant subject to levy and sale.

CHAPTER 12.

ATTORNEYS AT LAW, 579–611.

579 (853) (780) (861) (729). Who may practice as attorneys. Only such persons as are regularly licensed have authority to practice law.

580 (854) (781) (862) (730). Extent of license.—Those who have been regularly licensed can practice only in such courts as their license may authorize; those admitted to the supreme court may practice in all the courts in this state; and those admitted by any chancery, city, or circuit court may practice in any court in the state except the supreme court.

When right enforced by mandamus.—Withers v. State, 36 Ala. 252. Legislature may impose license tax on lawyers.—Cousins v. State, 50 Ala. 113; Goldthwaite v. State, Ib. 486. And may delegate such power to a municipal corporation.—Goldthwaite v. State, supra; Ex parte city council in re Knox, 64 Ala. 463.

581 (855) (782) (863) (731). Who may be licensed.—Any man of the age of twenty-one years, of good moral character, and who possesses the requisite qualifications of learning and ability, is entitled to admission to practice in any or all the courts of this state.*

*The act approved February 18, 1897 (Pamph. Acts, p. 1482), "To prescribe the duties and qualifications of attorneys and counsellors at law and regulate their admission to practice in the courts of the state," which takes effect January 1, 1898, is as follows:

"SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Alabama, That any person, being a citizen of the United States, a resident of this state, above the age of twenty-one years and of good moral character, who shall desire to be admitted to practice as an attorney and counsellor at law may make application in writing to the chancery, circuit or city court of the county of his residence, making known his wish. The court shall thereupon inquire into the moral character and qualifications, other than legal learning, of the applicant and to that end may examine witnesses; and if the applicant be found possessed of all the necessary qualifications, except legal learning, the court shall so adjudge and enter an order upon the minutes to that effect, but if the applicant be found not to be so qualified his application shall be dismissed at his costs.

"SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, That the applicant being found to be otherwise qualified, the judge or chancellor in open court, shall propound in writing to said applicant, a sufficient number of questions to thoroughly test his learning, upon the following subjects, namely:

"1st. Of the law of real property.
"2d. Of the law of personal property.
"3d. Of the law of pleading and evidence.
"4th. Of the commercial law.
"5th. Of the criminal law.
"6th. Of chancery and chancery pleading.
"7th. Of the statute law of the state.
"8th. Of the constitution of the United States and of the state of Alabama, which questions the applicant shall in open court, or in the presence of the judge or chancellor, answer in writing without aid from any person, or from examination of books.

"SEC. 3. Be it further enacted, That when the written examination shall be completed, the judge or chancellor shall certify thereon that it was taken before him and in his presence, in conformity to the last section, and he shall forward the same, both questions and answers, to a judge of the supreme court.

"SEC. 4. Be it further enacted, That the judge of the supreme court who receives the written examination, shall read and consider the same and cause at least two other judges of the supreme court to examine the same; and at least three of said judges shall within ten days, if practicable, indorse on or at the end of such writing their judgment and conclusion as to the sufficiency or insufficiency of the legal learning of the applicant to be licensed as an attorney and counsellor at law; and they shall within said time transmit said writing, with the certificate thereon, to the chancellor from whom it was received.

"SEC. 5. Be it further enacted, That upon the receipt of the written examination with the certificate of the supreme court judges by the judge or chancellor, he shall, if the certificate of two of said judges be that the applicant possesses sufficient legal learning, grant the application and cause to be entered on the minutes of the court, in term time or vacation, an order granting to the applicant license to practice law in all the courts, both of law and equity, in this state, upon the taking by the applicant of the oath prescribed by law; if the certificate of three of said judges be that the applicant does not possess sufficient legal learning, the chancellor or judge shall enter an order dismissing the application; and in either case, the applicant shall pay the costs.

"SEC. 6. Be it further enacted, That the dismissal of an application for license to practice law shall not bar another application by the same person after the expiration of six months from the order of dismissal.

"SEC. 7. Be it further enacted, That if the applicant present to the chancery court with his written application a diploma granted him by the University of Alabama conferring the degree of bachelor of laws, the judge or chancellor shall inquire into his moral character and other qualifications, but need not examine him on law, and may if he be otherwise qualified, grant him a license without a certificate from the supreme judges.

"SEC. 8. Be it further enacted, That every attorney and counsellor at law, before he shall be permitted to practice, shall produce his license in some court of record where he intends to practice, and in the presence of such court, shall take the following oath or affirmation, to wit:

"'I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will demean myself as an attorney and counsellor of this court, according to the best of my learning and ability and with all good fidelity, as well to the court as to the client; that I will use

582 (856) (783) (864) (732). Application for license.—For the purpose of admission, he must apply to the supreme court, the court of chancery, or the circuit, or city court, and must show—

1. That he is of the age twenty-one years, which proof may be made by his own affidavit.

2. That he is of good moral character, which may be proved by certificate, or other evidence satisfactory to the court.

583 (857) (784) (865) (733). Examination of applicant.—The applicant must be examined in open court touching his knowledge—

1. Of the law of real property.
2. Of the law of personal property.
3. Of the law of pleading and evidence.
4. Of the commercial law.
5. Of the criminal law.
6. Of chancery and chancery pleading.
7. Of the statute laws of the state.

584 (858) (785) (866) (734). Order of admission.—If, on examination, the applicant is found duly qualified in all the branches specified in the preceding section, the court must direct an order to be entered, that the applicant is of the age of twenty-one years, of good moral character, and possesses the requisite qualifications of learning and ability to practice in the several courts of this state, in which his license entitles him; and upon the entry of such order, obtaining his license, and taking the oath hereinafter prescribed, he is entitled to practice accordingly.

no falsehood or delay any person's cause for lucre or malice, and that I will support the constitution of the State of Alabama so long as I continue a citizen thereof, so help me God.'

"SEC. 9. Be it further enacted, That the court of chancery may license minors in the same manner as adults, if possessing the maturity, character and attainments requisite, but the minors so licensed shall be precluded from pleading infancy in any civil proceedings against them.

"SEC. 10. Be it further enacted, That if any attorney commences practice before taking the oath as prescribed by the preceding section, he forfeits the sum of two hundred dollars, one half to the use of the person suing for the same and the other to the state.

"SEC. 11. Be it further enacted, That this act shall not be construed so as to prevent any person from conducting and managing his own cause in any court in this state.

"SEC. 12. Be it further enacted, That it is the duty of attorneys—

"1st. To support the constitution and laws of this state and of the United States.

"2d. To maintain the due respect to courts of justice and judicial officers.

"3d. To employ, for the purpose of maintaining the causes confided to them, such means only as are consistent with truth; and never seek to mislead the judges by any artifice, or false statement of the law.

"4th. To maintain inviolate the confidence, and, at every peril to themselves, to preserve the secrets of their clients.

"5th. To abstain from all offensive personalities, and to advance no fact prejudicial to the honor or reputation of a party, or a witness, unless required by the justice of the cause with which they are charged.

"6th. To encourage neither the commencement nor continuance of any action or proceeding from any motive of passion or interest.

"7th. To never reject, for any consideration personal to themselves, the cause of the defenseless or oppressed.

"SEC. 13. Be it further enacted, That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be, and the same are, hereby repealed.

"SEC. 14. Be it further enacted, That this act shall not go into effect until January 1st, 1898."

585 (859) (786) (867). Minors may be licensed.—The court of chancery, or the circuit or city court may license minors, if possessing the maturity, character and attainments requisite; but the minors so licensed shall be precluded from pleading infancy in any civil proceeding against them.

586 (860) (787) (868). Supreme court may appoint committee. The supreme court may, at its discretion, appoint a committee of three members of its bar to examine an applicant for license, either privately or in open court, and must grant or refuse license according to the report of such committee.

587 (861) (788) (869) (735). Oath of attorney.—Every attorney, before commencing practice, must take an oath to support the constitution of this state, and of the United States, and not to violate the duties enjoined on him by law; which oath must be filed in the office of the clerk or register of the court by which he is licensed.

An attorney is not an officer, and is not required to take the dueling oath. Ex parte Dorsey, 7 P. 293.

588 (862) (789) (870) (736). Penalty for practicing before oath. If any attorney commences practice before taking and filing the oath prescribed by the preceding section, he forfeits the sum of two hundred dollars; one half to the use of the person suing for the same, and the other to the use of the state.

589 (863) (790) (871) (737). Party may manage his own cause. Any person may, however, conduct and manage his own case in any court in this state.

A constitutional right.—May v. Williams, 17 Ala. 23.

590 (864) (791) (872) (738). Duties of attorneys.—It is the duty of attorneys—

1. To support the constitution and laws of this state, and of the United States.

2. To maintain the respect due to courts of justice and judicial officers.

3. To employ, for the purpose of maintaining the causes confided to them, such means only as are consistent with truth; and never to seek to mislead the judges by any artifice, or false statement of the law.

4. To maintain inviolate the confidence, and, at every peril to themselves, to preserve the secrets of their clients.

5. To abstain from all offensive personalities, and to advance no fact prejudicial to the honor or reputation of a party, or a witness, unless required by the justice of the cause with which they are charged.

6. To encourage neither the commencement nor continuance of an action or proceeding from any motives of passion or interest.

7. Never to reject, for any consideration personal to themselves, the cause of the defenseless or oppressed.

Employment a personal trust, incapable of delegation without client's consent.—Hitchcock v. McGehee, 7 P. 556; Johnson v. Cunningham, 1 Ala. 249; Wright v. Evans, 53 Ala. 103. Knowledge and silence give consent. King v. Pope, 28 Ala. 601. Authority continues after judgment; may di- rect and control process thereon.—McClure v. Colclough, 5 Ala. 65; Albertson v. Goldsby, 28 Ala. 711; Fabel v. Boykin, 55 Ala. 383; Frazier v. Parks, 56 Ala. 363; Smith v. Gayle, 58 Ala. 600. But cannot, without special authority, assign a judgment.—Gardner v. M. & N. R. Co., 102 Ala. 635. Special agent, without authority to compromise, release or assign client's demand.—Gullett v. Lewis, 3 S. 23; Kirk v. Glover, 5 S. & P. 340; Craig v. Ely, Ib. 354; Cost v. Genette, 1 P. 212; Boren v. McGehee, 6 P. 432; Cook v. Bloodgood, 7 Ala. 683; Leach v. Williams, 8 Ala. 759; West v. Ball, 12 Ala. 340; Chapman v. Cowles, 41 Ala. 103; Robinson v. Murphy, 69 Ala. 543; Hall Safe & Lock Co. v. Harwell, 88 Ala. 441; Senn v. Joseph, 106 Ala. 454. Liability for negligence and want of skill.—Mardis v. Shackelford, 4 Ala. 493; Goodman v. Walker, 30 Ala. 482; Teague v. Corbitt, 57 Ala. 529; Jackson v. Clopton, 66 Ala. 29; Pinkston v. Arrington, 98 Ala. 489. Privileged communications; when attorney may testify.—Crawford v. McKissack, 1 P. 433; State v. Marshall, 8 Ala. 302; Brazier v. Fortune, 10 Ala. 516; McGehee v. Hansel, 13 Ala. 17; Morrow v. Parkman, 14 Ala. 769; Quarles v. Waldron, 20 Ala. 217; Parish v. State, Ib. 89. Amicus curæ; office of.—Birmingham L. & A. Co. v. First Nat. Bank, 100 Ala. 249.

591 (865) (792, 794) (873) (739). Officers and deputies disqualified from practicing.—The sheriff, or deputy of the sheriff, must not practice law; the clerk of the circuit or city court, or the deputy of the clerk, must not practice in the court of which he is clerk or deputy; the register in chancery, or his partner, or the deputy of the register, must not practice in the court of which he is register or deputy; the clerk of the judge of probate must not practice in the court of which his principal is the judge.*

592 (866) (796) (877) (743). Authority of attorneys in cause. An attorney has authority to bind his client, in any action or proceeding, by any agreement in relation to such cause, made in writing, or by an entry to be made on the minutes of the court.

Starke v. Kenan, 11 Ala. 818; Holman v. Bank, 12 Ala. 369; Montgomery v. Givhan, 24 Ala. 568; Harvey v. Thorpe, 28 Ala. 250; Rosenbaum v. State, 33 Ala. 354; Saltmarsh v. out authority.—If it be alleged by a party for whom an attorney appears, that he does so without authority, the court may, at any stage of the proceedings, upon proof of the allegation, relieve the party for whom the attorney has assumed to appear from the consequences of his acts.

594 (868) (798) (880) (746). Proof of authority; when required; how made.—The court or judge may, on motion of either party, and on showing reasonable grounds therefor, require the attorney for the adverse party, or for one of the several adverse parties, to produce or prove the authority under which he appears; and, until he does so, may stay all proceedings by him on behalf of the party for whom he assumes to appear; but the oath of the attorney is presumptive evidence of his authority.

Brewer v. Watson, 71 Ala. 299; Daughdrill v. Daughdrill, 108 Ala. 321.

595 (869) (799) (881) (747). Causes of removal of attorney.—An attorney must be removed for the following causes by the circuit court:

1. Upon his being convicted of a felony other than manslaughter, or of a misdemeanor involving moral turpitude; in either of which cases the record of his conviction is conclusive evidence.

2. When any judgment is rendered against him, for money collected by him as an attorney, upon which judgment an execution has issued, and been returned no property; in which case the record of the judgment and execution is conclusive evidence.

596 (870) (800) (882) (748). Other causes of removal or suspension.—For the following causes he may be removed or suspended:

1. Upon its being shown, to the satisfaction of the court, that he has been guilty of any deceit or willful misconduct in his profession.

2. For a willful disobedience or violation of the order of a court, requiring him to do or forbear an act connected with, or in the course of his profession.

3. For a willful violation of any of the provisions of section 590 (864).

Withers v. State, 36 Ala. 252; Thomas v. State, 58 Ala. 365.

597 (871) (801) (883) (749). At whose instance.—The proceedings to remove or suspend an attorney, as provided for in the last two sections, may be taken by the court of its own motion, or upon the motion of any third party.

598 (872). State Bar Association may institute proceedings. The Alabama State Bar Association has authority to institute and prosecute, in its own name, the proceedings herein prescribed for the removal or suspension of an attorney.

599 (873) (802) (884) (750). Charge to be in writing.—The accusation must be in writing, and when the proceeding is taken by the court, it may be drawn up by the solicitor, or the clerk, under the direction of the court.

600 (874) (803) (885) (751). Charge to be sworn to.—If the proceedings are upon the information of another, the accusation must be verified by the oath of the person making it, or some other person, and presented to the court.

601 (875) (804) (886) (752). Attorney cited to answer.—The court must then, if of opinion that the accusation would, if true, be grounds of removal or suspension, make an order requiring the accused to appear and answer the same, at a specified day during that, or the next term; and must cause a copy of the order and accusation to be served on the accused, within a prescribed time before the day appointed in the order.

602 (876) (805) (887) (753). In default of appearance, charge examined, etc.—The accused must appear at the time appointed in the order, and answer the accusation, unless, for sufficient cause, the court assigns another day for that purpose; if he does not appear, the court may proceed and determine the accusation in his absence.

603 (877) (806) (888) (754). Answer.—The accused may answer, either by objecting to the sufficiency of the accusation or by denying its truth, either of which must be entered on the minutes.

604 (878) (807) (889) (755). Answer after demurrer overruled. If the objection to the sufficiency of the accusation be not sustained, the accused must answer it forthwith.

605 (879) (808) (890) (756). How tried; accused may demand jury.—If he pleads guilty, or refuses to answer the accusation, the court must proceed to judgment of removal or suspension; if he deny the accusation, the court must immediately, or at such time as it may appoint, proceed to try the same, the accused having a right to demand a trial by jury.

606 (881) (810) (892) (758). In whose name conducted.—The proceedings, when instituted by the court of its own motion, are conducted in the name of the state, the solicitor appearing to sustain the accusation; and when on the information of another, in the name of the state, on the information of such person.

607 (882) (811) (893) (759). Testimony, how taken; security for costs.—Either party has a right to subpœnas and other process to compel the attendance of witnesses; and testimony may be taken by deposition in such cases, and in the same manner as in actions at law; and the court may, in its discretion, require the informant to give security for costs; and, failing so to do within the time prescribed, the proceedings must be dismissed at the cost of the informant.

609 (884) (813) (895) (761). Proceedings on death of informant. Upon the death of the informant, if there be but one, the proceedings abate, unless some other person is substituted in his place, which may be done on application to the court. If there be more than one informant, the proceedings continue on the information of the survivor.

610 (880) (809) (891) (757). Appeal taken to supreme court. A judgment of acquittal is final, but from a judgment of removal or suspension the accused may appeal to the supreme court, at any time within thirty days after judgment.

611 (885) (814) (896) (762). When attorneys of other states may practice.—Attorneys at law residing in other states, having a license to practice law therein, may practice in any of the courts of this state, when by law the attorneys of this state are permitted to practice law in such state; and such attorneys, when practicing in the courts of this state, are subject to all the rules and regulations prescribed in this chapter.

CHAPTER 13.

612 (2758) (3107) (2754) (2353). Bill of exceptions taken during trial.—Either of the parties in any civil case, during the trial of the cause, may reserve by bill of exceptions any charge, opinion, or decision of the court touching the cause of action, which would not otherwise appear of record.

Bills of exceptions are of statutory origin and unknown to the common law. Ned v. State, 7 P. 187; Bourne v. State, 8 P. 458; Rolater v. Rolater, 52 Ala. 111; Petty v. Dill, 53 Ala. 641; Pearce v. 613. Exception to giving or refusing special charge in writing presumed on appeal.—It is not necessary for a party to except to the ruling of the court in giving or refusing a charge requested in writing, nor need the bill of exceptions state that exception was reserved thereto; if the charge is refused, an exception by the party asking it is presumed, and if the charge is given, an exception by the other party is presumed; and such charge, and the ruling of the court thereon, may be, by the party in whose favor such exception is presumed, assigned as error on appeal, and when so assigned, the appellate court must review and consider the same in all respects as if exception had been expressly reserved upon the trial of the cause.

Exception presumed only when ruling assigned as error.—Whitaker v. State, 106 Ala. 30; Wesson v. State, 109 Ala. 61.

614 (2759) (3112) (2759) (2357). Plaintiff suffering nonsuit may take bill of exceptions.—When, from any decision of the court on the trial of a cause, it may become necessary for the plaintiff to suffer a nonsuit, the facts, point, or decision may be reserved for the decision of the supreme court by bill of exceptions, as in other cases.

Applies only when nonsuit suffered in consequence of rulings properly shown by bill of exceptions; not to rulings on demurrer or other pleadings. Blackburn v. Minter, 22 Ala. 613; Douglass v. M. & W. P. R. Co., 37 Ala. 638; Paulling v. Marshall, 47 Ala. 270; Darden v. James, 48 Ala. 33; Welch v. Mayor, Ib. 291; Hubbard v. Baker, Ib. 491; Amerson v. M. & M. R. Co., 50 Ala. 497; Rogers v. Baker Hill Iron Co., 108 Ala. 635; Prichard v. Sweeney, 109 Ala. 651. Only such rulings as are properly reserved by bill of exceptions are revisable.—Palmer v. Bice, 28 Ala. 430; Vincent v. Rogers, 30 Ala. 471; Wyatt v. Evins, 52 Ala. 285. Record must show that the nonsuit was the result of adverse ruling; when sufficiently shown.—Shields v. Byrd, 15 Ala. 818; Tate v. McCrary, 21 Ala. 499; Downs v. Minchew, 30 Ala. 86; Douglass v. M. & W. P. R. Co., 37 Ala. 638; Wood v. Coman, 56 Ala. 283. When not sufficiently shown.—Tate v. McCrary, 21 Ala. 499.

615 (2760) (3108) (2755) (2354). Bill to state point excepted to; if correct must be signed.—The bill must be tendered by the party supposing himself aggrieved, stating the point, charge, opinion, or decision, wherein the court is supposed to err, with such a statement of the facts as is necessary to make it intelligible; and if correctly stated, it is the duty of the presiding judge to sign the same, which thereby becomes a part of the record.

See citations to section 612 (2758).

616 (2761) (3113) (2760) (2358). When bill signed.—No bill of exceptions can be signed after the adjournment of the court during which the exception was taken, unless by consent or agreement of counsel in writing, except in such cases as is otherwise provided.

Must affirmatively appear that the bill was signed in term time, or within the time fixed by order of court or agreement of counsel.—Kitchen v. Moye, 17 Ala. 143; Haden v. Brown, 22 Ala. 572; Bryant v. State, 36 Ala. 270; Union India Rubber Co. v. Maddox, 37 Ala. 314; Maddox v. Broyles, 42 Ala. 436; Alford v. Eubank, 44 Ala. 276; Markland v. Albes, 81 Ala. 433; Morris v. Brannen, 103 Ala. 602. When sufficiently shown by judge's orders copied into transcript.—M. & B. R. Co. v. Worthington, 95 Ala. 598.

Feb. 22, 1887, p. 126. 617. When signed in vacation by order of court.—The court may, in term time, fix a time in which the bill of exceptions may be signed, and the judge may, in vacation, extend such time.

Order or agreement extending time must be made within time previously fixed.—Bass Furnace Co. v. Glasscock, 86 Ala. 244; Rosson v. State, 92 Ala. 76; Ladd v. State, Ib. 58; M. & B. R. Co. v. Worthington, 95 Ala. 598; Beal v. State, 99 Ala. 234; Morris v. Brannen, 103 Ala. 602. Power not abridged by statute making city court judgment final in ten days.—Johnson v. Washburn, 98 Ala. 258; Danforth v. T. & C. R. Co., 99 Ala. 331.

Ib. 618. When signed in vacation by agreement.—The parties, or their counsel, may, by agreement in writing entered into in term time, fix a time in which the bill of exceptions may be signed, and may, in like manner, in vacation, extend such time.

See citations to preceding sections.

619. Further extensions.—The time fixed by the court or judge may be extended by agreement of the parties or their counsel, and the time fixed by agreement may be extended by the judge, in vacation. Ib.

See citations to second preceding section.

620. Extensions not to exceed six months.—The time allowed for signing a bill of exceptions must not be extended beyond six months from the adjournment of the court. Ib.

621 (2762) (3111) (2758) (2356). Refusal to sign bill; establishment of in supreme court.—If the judge fail or refuse to sign a bill of exceptions, the point or decision and the facts being truly stated, he is guilty of a high misdemeanor in office; and the supreme court must receive such evidence of the facts as may be deemed by it satisfactory, and proceed to hear the cause as if the bill had been signed by the judge.

Application to establish bill in supreme court must show that a correct bill was presented in proper time and that the judge failed or refused to sign.—Haden v. Brown, 22 Ala. 572; Stein v. McArdle, 25 Ala. 561; Garlington v. Jones, 37 Ala. 240; Strawbridge v. State, 48 Ala. 308; Judge v. State, 58 Ala. 402; Posey v. Beale, 69 Ala. 32; Blake v. Harlan, 75 Ala. 205; Hale v. Goodbar, 81 Ala. 108; Turner v. White, 97 Ala. 545; Beal v. State, 99 Ala. 234. Judge may properly refuse to sign an incorrect or incomplete bill.—Strawbridge v. State, 48 Ala. 308; Ex parte Mayfield, 63 Ala. 203; Blake v. Harlan, 75 Ala. 205. Motion to establish bill; practice.—Garlington v. Jones, 37 Ala. 240; Strawbridge v. State, 48 Ala. 308; Ex parte Mayfield, 63 Ala. 203; Blake v. Harlan, 75 Ala. 205; Turner v. White, 97 Ala. 545; Beal v. State, 99 Ala. 234.

622. Vacancy or expiration of office; when bill established in supreme court.—If the judge dies, resigns, or is impeached, or if the term of his office expires, or if from other good cause he does not sign a bill of exceptions duly presented to him within the proper time, the bill of exceptions may be established in the supreme court as provided in the preceding section.* Feb. 22, 1887, p. 126

CHAPTER 14.

BOUNDARIES OF THE STATE.

623 (12) (12) (16) (15). Boundaries.—The boundaries of this state are established and declared to be as follows, that is to say: Beginning at the point where the thirty-first degree of north latitude crosses the Perdido river; thence east, to the western boundary line of the State of Georgia; thence along said line, to the southern boundary line of the State of Tennessee; thence west along the southern boundary line of the State of Tennessee, crossing the Tennessee river, and on to the second intersection of said river by said line; thence up said river to the mouth of Big Bear creek; thence by a direct line, to the northwest corner of Washington county in this State as originally formed; thence southerly along the line of the state of Mississippi, to the Gulf of Mexico; thence eastwardly, including all islands within six leagues of the shore, to the Perdido river; and thence up the said river to the beginning.

624 (13) (13) (17) (16). Boundary between Alabama and Georgia.—The boundary line between Alabama and Georgia commences on the west side of the Chattahoochee river, at the point where it enters the State of Florida; from thence up the river, along the western bank thereof, to the point on Miller's Bend, next above the place where the Uchee creek empties into such river; thence in a direct line to the Nickajack.

In Howard v. Ingersoll, 17 Ala. 780, the boundary of the state, it was held, commenced at low-water mark, on the west side of the Chattahoochee river, from the point where it enters the present State of Florida, to the "great bend" next above the place where the Uchee creek empties into the said river. In other words, low-water mark on the west side of the Chattahoochee river was the line which separated the jurisdiction of the State of Alabama from the State of Georgia. On writ of error to the supreme court of the United States, the decision was reversed, a majority of the court holding that the boundary line between the two states was not low-water mark on the west side of the Chattahoochee river, but a line running up the river on and along its western bank, and that the jurisdiction of Georgia extended to the line which is washed by the water wherever it covers the bed of the river within its banks. The permanent fast land bank governs the line. From the lower edge of that bank the bed of the river commences, and the jurisdiction of Georgia extends to the lower edge of the bank on the west side of the river. Nelson and Grier, JJ., dissenting, held, that the true boundary line between the states of Georgia and Alabama was not a line drawn on the bank or bluff of the river, at high-water mark, but the line marked by the permanent bed of the river, by the flow of the water at its usual and accustomed stage, and where the water will be found at all times in the season, except when diminished by drouth or swollen by freshet.—Howard v. Ingersoll, 13 Howard, 381.

The boundary line between the states of Georgia and Alabama depends upon the construction of the following words of the contract of cession between the United States and Georgia, describing the boundary of the latter, namely: "West of a line beginning on the western bank of the Chattahoochee river, where the same crosses the boundary between the United States and Spain, running up the said river, and along the western bank thereof." State of Alabama v. State of Georgia, 23 Howard, U. S. 505.

"It is the opinion of this court that the language implies that there is ownership of soil and jurisdiction in Georgia, in the bed of the river Chattahoochee, and that the bed of the river is that portion of its soil which is alternately covered and left bare, as there may be an increase or diminution in the supply of water, and which is adequate to contain it at its average and mean stage during the entire year, without reference to the extraordinary freshets of the winter or spring, or the extreme drouth of summer or autumn."—Ib.

The western line of the cession on the Chattahoochee river must be traced on the water-line of the acclivity of the western bank, and along that bank where that is defined; and in such places on the river where the western bank is not defined, it must be continued up the river on the line of its bed, as that is made by the average and mean stage of the water, as that is expressed in the conclusion of the above recited paragraph."—Ib.

By the contract of cession, the navigation of the river is free to both parties.—Ib.

625 (14) (14) (18) (17). Boundary between Alabama and Florida.—The boundary line between Alabama and Florida is the line commonly known as the "mound line," or "Ellicott's line," as distinguished from a blazed line, known as the "upper" or "Coffee line," commencing at a point on the Chattahoochee river, near a place known as "Irwin's Mills;" and from thence to the Perdido river, marked the whole distance by blazes on the trees and by mounds of earth, at distances of about one mile.

CESSIONS TO THE UNITED STATES. 626–629.

626 (19) (19) (22) (24). The United States may acquire lands. As amended Feb. 18, 1891, p. 1336. The United States may acquire and hold lands within the limits of this state, as sites for forts, magazines, arsenals, dockyards, and other needful buildings, or either of them, as contemplated and provided by the Constitution of the United States, which purchase may be by contract with the owners, or as hereinafter provided for. In like manner the United States may acquire and hold lands, rights of way, and material needed in maintaining, operating, or prosecuting works for the improvement of rivers and harbors within this state.

627 (20) (20) (23) (22). Value of the land, how determined. Ib. If the agent of the United States and the owner of such lands or right of way cannot agree as to the sale and purchase thereof, the probate court of the county in which the lands lie may, on the application of such agent, ascertain the value of such lands or right of way, and decree a conveyance thereof as follows:

1. Reasonable notice of such application must be given to the owner of the land by personal service upon him of a copy of the application.

2. The value of the land or right of way must be ascertained by a jury summoned for that purpose, under the direction of the probate judge, or by any three persons agreed on by the parties, which jury or persons must be sworn by the probate judge faithfully and impartially to determine such value.

3. Upon the ascertainment of the value of the land or right of way upon evidence or inspection of the same, or both, by the jury, or by the persons agreed upon, under the direction of the probate judge, the said probate court must, on the payment of the value thereof to the owner, or into court for his use, and the payment of the costs and expenses of the proceeding, decree and direct a conveyance of the land or right of way within a time to be specified in the decree, to the United States, for such purpose, and on failure to execute such conveyance within the time specified in the decree, the decree shall operate as a conveyance.

628 (21) (21) (24) (23). Governor to cede jurisdiction; restrictions.—The governor, upon application made to him in writing on behalf of the United States for that purpose, accompanied by the proper evidence of the purchase, describing the lands sought to be ceded, is authorized on the part of the state to cede to the United States jurisdiction over such lands, to hold, to use, and occupy the same for the purposes of the cession, and none other. The jurisdiction thus ceded does not prevent the execution on such lands of any process, civil or criminal, under the authority of this state, nor prevent the laws of this state from operating over such lands; saving to the United States security to their property within the limits of the jurisdiction ceded, and exemption of the same and of such lands from taxation under the authority of this state during the jurisdiction ceded.

As amended Feb. 26, 1889, p. 50.

629 (22) (22). Cession of submarine sites.—Whenever the United States desire to acquire title to land belonging to this state, and covered by the navigable waters of the United States, and within the limits of this state, for the site of a lighthouse, beacon, or other aid to navigation, and application is made therefor by a duly authorized agent of the United States, describing the site required for one of the purposes aforesaid, then the governor of the state is authorized and empowered to convey the title to the United States, and to cede to the United States jurisdiction over the same; and upon like application the governor is authorized and empowered to convey to the United States the title to any land belonging to this state and covered by the navigable waters of the United States upon which any lighthouse or other aid to navigation has heretofore been erected, and to cede to the United States jurisdiction over the same; but no single tract shall contain more than ten acres, and this state shall retain jurisdiction concurrent with the United States, so far that all process, civil and criminal, issuing under the authority of this state, may be executed by the proper officers thereof upon any person amenable to the same within the limits of land so ceded.

In the sixth district, composed of the county of Perry, at Marion, on the last Monday in May and November, and may continue three days.

636 (718) (613) (715) (613). Special terms.—Special terms of any chancery court may be held, at the place of holding the regular term, when any regular term is not held, or when the business is not disposed of at any regular term.

637 (719) (614) (716) (614). Notice of such terms.—Thirty days' notice of the time of holding such special terms must be given by advertisement in some newspaper published in the county, or if none is published therein, in the one published nearest to the county in which such special term is to be held.

ARTICLE 2.

JURISDICTION OF COURTS OF CHANCERY; POWERS OF CHANCELLORS; SALARY; PENALTY FOR FAILING TO HOLD COURTS; SPECIAL CHANCELLORS AND THEIR COMPENSATION.

638 (720) (616) (698) (602). Jurisdiction of chancery court. The powers and jurisdiction of courts of chancery extend—

1. To all civil causes in which a plain and adequate remedy is not provided in the other judicial tribunals.

2. To all cases founded on a gambling consideration, so far as to sustain a bill of discovery and grant relief.

Paulling v. Watson, 26 Ala. 205.

3. To subject an equitable title or claim to real estate to the payment of debts.

4. To such other cases as may be provided by law.

Scope of the four subdivisions defined.—Waldron v. Simmons, 28 Ala. 629.

639 (721) (617) (699) (603). Extraordinary jurisdiction of chancellors.— Chancellors may exercise the extraordinary jurisdiction granted to such officer by the common law, in cases of necessity, when adequate provision has not been made for its exercise by some other officer, or in other courts, and with the exceptions, limitations and additions imposed by the laws of this state.

640 (722) (620) (702). Powers to enforce execution of process. Courts of chancery have all the powers of enforcing the execution of process which appertain to chancery courts; and chancellors may, when necessary, appoint a special officer to execute process against any sheriff or coroner, or to perform any other special service.

641 (723) (618) (700) (604). Power to punish for contempts. The court of chancery may punish for contempts by fine, not exceeding fifty dollars, and by imprisonment, not exceeding five days; one or both.

642 (724) (619) (701) (605). Power to administer oaths.—Chancellors may administer oaths and take affidavits in all cases in which oaths and affidavits are required by law.

643 (725) (615) (697) (601). Residence and salary of chancellors.—Each chancellor shall, at the time of his election or appointment, and during his continuance in office, reside in the division for which he is elected or appointed; and his salary shall be twenty-five hundred dollars per annum. Feb. 22, 1887, p. 134.

644 (726) (621) (703) (606). Chancellor's jurisdiction; courts, where held.—Each chancellor has jurisdiction co-extensive with the state; but he must hold the courts in his division, or provide for their being held by some other chancellor.

645 (727) (622) (704). When court to be opened.—When the period for any term of the chancery court is three or more days, if the chancellor is absent, the sheriff must adjourn the court from day to day until three o'clock in the afternoon of the third day; and at any time before that hour the chancellor may open the court.

646 (728) (623) (705). Penalty for failure to attend, or absence. Any chancellor who fails to attend any court at the appointed time, unless the same is held by another chancellor, or who, after attending, absents himself before the term closes, or the completion of the business of the court, forfeits, for each day's absence or failure to attend, twenty-five dollars, to be deducted from his salary, unless such failure or absence was necessary on account of the sickness of himself or family, or unless there has been a failure to hold court, or an adjournment of the same, on account of an epidemic or contagious disease, or well-grounded apprehension thereof; either of which facts may be proved by his own affidavit, to be produced to the auditor and filed in his office.

647 (729) (624) (706). Sheriff certifies such failure or absence. The sheriff of the county from the court of which the chancellor may be absent, or which he fails to attend, as described in the preceding section, must, immediately after the end of the term, certify the number of days of such absence or failure to attend to the auditor.*

As amended Jan. 24, 1893, p. 190.

648 (730) (625) (707). Penalty for sheriff's failure to certify; when not required to certify.—Any sheriff, failing for thirty days to certify, as required in the preceding section, incurs a penalty to the state of one hundred and fifty dollars, to be recovered after two days' notice, on motion, in the name of the state, by the solicitor, in the circuit court of the county in which such sheriff resides; but the chancellor incurs no forfeiture, and the sheriff must not certify to the auditor, in case of absence for a day at the commencement of a term, if there was not time, after the adjournment of the preceding court, to reach the place of holding court on the first day of the term, or if the chancellor was prevented from reaching the place of holding the court on the first day by high water, or if he could only have reached such place at such time by traveling on Sunday, or if his absence was not attributable to a willful neglect of duty. Nor must the sheriff certify to the auditor if he is satisfied that the absence at the term of the court was caused by the sickness of the chancellor, or any member of his family, or when there is no business on the docket to be disposed of and the chancellor has been informed of that fact by the certificate of the register.*

649 (731) (627) (713) (612). Compensation to solicitor acting as special chancellor when chancellor incompetent.—Any solicitor acting as special chancellor on the hearing and trial of any cause, which the chancellor is incompetent to try, shall receive for his compensation an amount to be agreed upon, and to be paid as may be determined by the solicitors in the cause.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1135, §1.

650. Special chancellor appointed by governor when chancellor absent or impeached.—Whenever it shall be made known to the governor that any regular term or terms of the chancery court will not be held by any regular chancellor, by reason of the failure of the chancellor to attend such term or terms, or when impeachment proceedings are pending against him, the governor may appoint and commission a person possessing the qualifications of chancellors, as special chancellor to hold such regular term or terms of such court; and such special chancellor shall qualify by taking the oath of office prescribed by the Constitution, and shall proceed to hold such court for the term or terms thereof which he is appointed to hold; and during the time of such appointment, such special chancellor shall have and exercise all the powers and jurisdiction of chancellors; but his term of office shall cease and determine upon the adjournment of the term or terms of the court which he is appointed to hold, or sooner if the regular chancellor shall appear and assume the duty of holding such court. No fee shall be charged for the commission herein authorized to be issued.

Ib. §2.

651. Compensation of such special chancellor.—Such special chancellor shall receive as compensation for his services, the sum of ten dollars per day for each day he is actually engaged in holding such court, and his actual and necessary expenses incurred therein, to be paid out of the state treasury on the approval of the governor and warrant drawn by the auditor.

652. Chancellor reduced to half pay while place filled by special chancellor.—For each day a special chancellor is paid under the preceding section, the auditor must, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, cause to be deducted from the salary of the chancellor, and retained for the benefit of the state, the sum of three dollars and forty-seven cents, so that the chancellor shall receive but one-half his usual salary for the time his place is filled by the special chancellor. But when the penalty prescribed by section 646 (728) of this Code is enforced, the deduction herein provided for shall not be made. Nor does this section apply when the chancellor was, during such time, engaged in holding court elsewhere.

ARTICLE 3.

REGISTERS OF THE CHANCERY COURT, THEIR QUALIFICATION, DUTIES AND POWERS.

653 (732) (629) (720) (616). Appointment, term and removal of register.—A register in chancery for each district is appointed by the chancellor of the division in which such district is situate, who holds the office during the term of the chancellor making the appointment; but the chancellor may, in term time or vacation, remove any such register for ineligibility or disqualification, whether existing at the the time of the appointment or thereafter occurring, or for misbehavior, negligence, or malpractice; and, in case of any removal, the reasons therefor must be entered upon the minutes at the term at which the removal is made, or, if in vacation, at the first term thereafter; and women are eligible to fill such office.*

Register's ministerial duties may be performed by a deputy or assistant. Merlette v. State, 100 Ala. 42.

654 (733) (630) (721) (617). Official bond of register.—The register, before entering upon the discharge of the duties of his office, must give bond in such sum as may be required by the chancellor, or by the judge of probate of the county in which the court is held, not less than five thousand dollars, to be approved by the chancellor, or such judge of probate; and such bond must be filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which the court of which he is register is held.

655 (734) (631, 632) (722, 723) (618, 619). Additional bond. The chancellor, whenever the public interests demand, must require of such register an additional bond; and, on failure to give the same within the time fixed by the chancellor therefor, the chancellor must remove him from office. Such additional bond must be approved, filed and recorded as the first official bond.

656 (735) (633) (724) (620). Place of office.—The register must keep his office at the place at which the court of which he is register is held.

657 (736) (634) (725) (621). Duties of register.—It is the duty of the registers within their respective districts—

1. To administer oaths in chancery cases, and to issue all process from such courts; to make orders of publication for defendants; to grant decree pro confesso for the want of answers; to hear exceptions to bills, answers and reports; to issue attachments and process of sequestration; to perform the duties of master, unless otherwise ordered by the chancellor; and to make all interlocutory decrees and orders in vacation, not affecting the decision of the controversy between the parties, subject at all times to the control, direction and supervision of the chancellor.

Powell v. Central Co., 24 Ala. 441.

2. To keep a docket, in which must be entered the names of plaintiffs and defendants, the names of the solicitors of the several parties, a minute of the time when process issued and was returned; the return thereon, and a note of all the orders and proceedings.

Pinkston v. Arrington, 98 Ala. 489.

3. To keep an execution-docket as required of clerks of the circuit court; and in such docket, as well as on the execution, to enter the name of the solicitor of the party entitled to the execution.

4. To keep a subpœna-docket, in which must be entered the cases in which subpœnas for witnesses examined orally in open court, or before him on references, or otherwise, are issued, the names of the witnesses, the time of the issue, and the return of the sheriff.

5. To keep a commission-docket, in which shall be entered the date of filing interrogatories, direct, cross and rebutting, the names of the witnesses for the examination of whom the commission issues, for what party the witnesses are examined, the date of the issue and return of the commission, the names of the commissioners, the residences of witnesses and commissioners, and the fees for copying interrogatories, issuing notices and commissions, and the fees of the witnesses and of the commissioners.

Merlette v. State, 100 Ala. 42.

6. To enter, in well-bound books, all orders and interlocutory decrees made by him in vacation, and all decrees and orders made by the chancellor.

7. To record, in well-bound books, within six months after the final determination of any cause, all the proceedings in relation to the same, except those previously recorded under section 2644 (653) and except as otherwise provided by this Code or ordered by the chancellor.*

Pinkston v. Arrington, 98 Ala. 489.

8. To issue, within five days after the adjournment of each term of the court, all process necessary for the enforcement of any order or decree made during the term.

*As amended by joint committee.

9. To keep all papers, books, dockets and records belonging to his office with care and security; the papers filed, arranged, numbered and labeled so as to be of easy reference; the books, dockets and records properly labeled; and to allow parties to inspect the same free of charge.

10. On application, and the payment of the legal fees therefor, to make out and deliver to any person a correct transcript, properly certified, of any paper or record in his office.

11. To give the plaintiff, his agent, or solicitor, if resident in the county, personal notice of the collection of money within ten days thereafter; if not resident in the county, and he knows the residence of either of them, he must send such notice by mail.

12. To administer oaths and take affidavits in all cases in which the authority to administer such oath or take such affidavit is not confined to some other officer.

13. To perform such other duties as are or may be required of him by law.

Some of the foregoing duties are judicial and some ministerial.—Merlette v. State, 100 Ala. 42.

658 (737) (637) (728). Depositions, etc., not recorded; transcript for supreme court.—In no case must the register make any record of any commission issued to take the deposition of any witness, or the direct, cross, or rebutting interrogatories, or the exhibits thereto, or the answers to such interrogatories; but the register must mark, file and carefully preserve all papers relating to any case decided in chancery; and whenever a case is carried to the supreme court the register must make out a transcript from the complete record and the papers on file in his court relating to the case.

When register's certificate to transcript sufficient.—Cargile v. Ragan, 65 Ala. 287; Cofer v. Schening, 98 Ala. 338.

659 (738) (641) (732) (622). Injunctions.—The register has no authority to grant or dissolve injunctions.

660 (739) (642) (733) (623). Special register.—The chancellor may appoint a special register when necessary.

661 (741) (644) (735). Books and stationery.—The courts of county commissioners must allow to the registers in chancery the amounts properly expended by them for books and stationery, for the use of their offices.

Stationery includes blanks for official use. Commissioners' Court v. Goldthwaite, 35 Ala. 704.

662 (742) (645) (736). How such expenses paid, when more than one county in district.—When a district is composed of more than one county, the amounts expended for such books and stationery shall be borne by each county in the proportion that its population bears to the aggregate population of the counties composing the district, as shown by the last decennial census of the United States; and the chancellor must, once a year during the sitting of the court, ascertain the share each county in such district is liable to contribute, and certify the same to the court of county commissioners of such county; and such court must provide for the payment of the same according to the certificate of the chancellor.

663 (743) (646) (738). General direct and reverse indexes. Registers in chancery must keep general direct and reverse indexes of all record books in their offices, which must always be in good, and substantial, and well-bound books; but they are not required to prepare any new indexes, if those already in their offices are sufficient.

Pinkston v. Arrington, 98 Ala. 489.

664 (744) (647) (740). Recopy of books.—The register, deeming it necessary to recopy any books in his office, in order to secure their contents from damage or loss, must submit the same to the examination of the court of county commissioners, and such court, if they deem such recopy necessary, must, upon the minutes of the court, order the same to be made; and the register must make the same in good and substantial books, for which such court must allow him a reasonable compensation; and if more than one county are embraced in the district, the expenses therefor must be borne and paid by such counties as the expenses for books and stationery are borne and paid.

665 (745) (648) (741). Records free for examination.—The records of the register's office must be free for the examination of all persons when not in use by him.

666 (746) (649). Register pays money to successor.—The register, having in his hands at the expiration of his official term, any money held by him subject to the further order, decree, or judgment of any court, shall, on demand of his successor in office, pay the same to him, and, upon such payment, shall be discharged from further liability therefor.

667 (747). Register, his deputy or partner not allowed to practice in his court.—It is unlawful for any register or his deputy or partner, to practice law in the court of which he is register, or to be interested, as solicitor, in any cause pending in such court, while he is in office.*

Feb. 7, 1887, p. 124.

668. Register may punish for contempt.—The register, when holding a reference by order of the chancery court, or sitting at rules in any matter which by law may come before him, may punish for contempt, by fine not exceeding ten dollars and by imprisonment not exceeding two days.

ARTICLE 4.

CASES OF WHICH CHANCERY COURTS TAKE COGNIZANCE; PLEADINGS; PROCESS; LIMITATION; VENUE.

669 (3414) (3753) (3321) (2872). Cases of which chancery courts take cognizance.—Courts of chancery must take cognizance of cases in equity—

*As amended by joint committee.

1. When the defendants reside in this state.

2. Against non-residents, when the object of the suit concerns an estate of, lien or charge upon lands, or the disposition thereof, or any interest in, title to, or incumbrance on personal property within this state, or where the cause of action arose, or the act on which the suit is founded, was to have been performed in this state.

3. In such other cases as such courts are by law required to take jurisdiction.

Court having jurisdiction of parties may grant relief, although subject-matter of litigation is in another state.—Allen v. Buchanan, 97 Ala. 399; Rose v. Gibson, 71 Ala. 35; Lide v. Parker, 60 Ala. 165. When court has jurisdiction of non-residents.—Pearce v. Jennings, 94 Ala. 524. When not.—Holman v. Bank, 12 Ala. 369; Glover v. Glover, 16 Ala. 440; Iron Age Pub. Co. v. W. U. Telegraph Co., 83 Ala. 498. Jurisdiction of non-residents limited and statute strictly construed.—Sayre v. Elyton Land Co., 73 Ala. 85. Original jurisdiction not affected by legislative enactments.—Waldron v. Simmons, 28 Ala. 629.

670 (3415) (3754) (3322) (2873). Joint demand may be prosecuted against one defendant.—When the plaintiff has a joint demand, he may proceed against one or more of the parties thereto, without joining the others.

Rule prior to statute stated.—Moore v. Armstrong, 9 Port. 697; Watts v. Gayle, 20 Ala. 817. Sureties may be sued without principal.—Fulgham v. Herstein, 77 Ala. 496. Not necessary to proceed against all the sureties on official bonds.—Teague v. Corbitt, 57 Ala. 529; Hailey v. Boyd, 64 Ala. 399; Lott v. Mobile County, 79 Ala. 69.

671 (3416) (3755) (3323). State may bring suit in chancery. The state may sue in chancery, and the suit is governed by the same rules as suits between individuals. The solicitor of the circuit in which the suit is pending must attend to the same on the part of the state, and the governor may employ assistant counsel, if he deem it necessary, and the chancellor may determine the amount of compensation; and if unsuccessful, the state is liable for costs as individual suitors are. The direction of the executive of the state in writing is sufficient authority to the attorney for bringing such suit.

672 (3417) (3756) (3324). How persons of unsound mind may sue.—Persons of unsound mind may sue by next friend, and guardians may be substituted; and upon restoration to sanity, the suit may proceed in their own names.

Suit should be in name of lunatic by next friend or guardian.—West v. West, 90 Ala. 458.

673 (3418) (3757) (3325) (2874). Suits; how commenced.—The mode of commencing the suit in chancery is by bill, addressed to the chancellor of the division in which the same is filed.

When filing of bill is complete.—State v. Stow, 51 Ala. 69.

674 (3419) (3758) (3381) (2928). Limitation.—The provisions of this Code, prescribing the time within which civil suits must be commenced after the cause of action has accrued, apply to suits commenced by bill in chancery.

Statute declaratory of law as previously settled by judicial decision. Molton v. Henderson, 62 Ala. 426; Thompson v. Parker, 68 Ala. 387; Morrison v. Stevenson, 69 Ala. 448. Chancery courts give effect to limitations obtaining at law and to exceptions and qualifications thereto.—Crocker v. Clements, 23 Ala. 296, 305; Carter v. Carter, 53 Ala. 365; Jones v. Jones, 55 Ala. 525, 532;

Gonner v. Smith, 88 Ala. 300. Statute as applicable to equitable as to legal titles and demands.—Coyle v. Wilkins, 57 Ala. 108. Defense of statute must be asserted by proper pleading.—Parker v. Jones, 67 Ala. 234; Thompson v. Parker, 68 Ala. 387; Sands v. Hammell, 108 Ala. 624. May be asserted by plea or answer, or, if bill shows claim barred, by demurrer.—Ragland v. Morton, 41 Ala. 344; Shorter v. Smith, 56 Ala. 208; Bercy v. Lavretta, 63 Ala. 374; Underhill v. Mobile Ins. Co., 67 Ala. 45; Thompson v. Parker, 68 Ala. 387; Espy v. Comer, 76 Ala. 501; Scruggs v. Decatur M. & L. Co., 86 Ala. 173; Lovelace v. Hutchinson, 106 Ala. 417. What sufficient plea of statute in equity. Love v. Love, 65 Ala. 554. When bill makes case prima facie barred, facts avoiding bar must be pleaded.—Ragland v. Morton, 41 Ala. 344; Philippi v. Philippi, 61 Ala. 41; Scruggs v. Decatur M. & L. Co., 86 Ala. 173. Or if reason for excepting case from statute exists, the matter of exception should be introduced by amendment of bill.—Ragland v. Morton, 41 Ala. 344; Parker v. Jones, 67 Ala. 234; Thompson v. Parker, 68 Ala. 387.

675 (3420) (3759) (3382) (2929). Filing of bill commencement of suit.—The filing of the bill is the commencement of the suit, if prosecuted, whether the defendant is brought into court by personal service or by publication.

Merely cited arguendo.—Thompson v. Parker, 68 Ala. 387. Order appointing receiver before bill filed, void.—Crowder v. Moone, 52 Ala. 220; Harwell v. Potts, 80 Ala. 70. Order granting injunction before bill filed a mere irregularity.—Ex parte Sayre, 95 Ala. 288; Henry v. Watson, 109 Ala. 335.

676 (3421) (3760) (3326) (2875). In what district filed.—The bill must be filed in the district in which the defendants, or a material defendant resides; and if to enjoin proceedings on judgments in other courts, it may be filed in the district in which such proceedings are pending, or judgment rendered; and in case of non-residents, in the district where the subject of the suit, or any portion of the same, is, when the cause of action arose, or the act on which the suit is founded was to be performed; or if real estate be the subject-matter of the suit, whether it be the exclusive subject-matter of the suit or not, then in the district where the same, or a material portion thereof, is situated.

Bill disclosing want of jurisdiction is subject to demurrer or motion to dismiss; otherwise, plea in nature of plea in abatement proper mode of presenting objection.—Shrader v. Walker, 8 Ala. 244; Porter v. Worthington, 14 Ala. 584; Lewis v. Elrod, 38 Ala. 17; Campbell v. Crawford, 63 Ala. 392; Harwell v. Lehman, 72 Ala. 344. Objection to local jurisdiction may be waived by conduct of parties, or failure to seasonably insist upon it.—Freeman v. McBroom, 11 Ala. 943; Bank v. Rutledge, 13 Ala. 196; Gay v. Brierfield C. & I. Co., 94 Ala. 303; s. c., 106 Ala. 615. Otherwise, where the defendants are infants.—Johnston v. Shaw, 31 Ala. 592. It is only a defendant to the original, not an amended, bill who may complain of suit out of his jurisdiction.—Gay v. Brierfield C. & I. Co., 106 Ala. 615. If no material defendant resides in state, bill may be filed in district of any proper defendant.—Waddell v. Lanier, 54 Ala. 440. Provision "in case of non-residents" means when all defendants are non-residents.—Johnston v. Shaw, 31 Ala. 592. Suit against residents, not relating to real estate or injunction of proceedings in other courts, must be brought in district of a material defendant.—Johnston v. Shaw, 31 Ala. 592; Milner v. Ramsey, 48 Ala. 287; Alabama Gold Life Ins. Co. v. Cobb, 57 Ala. 547; Campbell v. Crawford, 63 Ala. 392; Harwell v. Lehman, 72 Ala. 344; Street v. Selig, 88 Ala. 533. When real estate subject-matter of suit, complainant has election to sue in district where land situated or material defendant resides.—Tindal v. Drake, 51 Ala. 574; Ashurst v. Gibson, 57 Ala. 584, 586; Harwell v. Lehman, 72 Ala. 344; Reeves v. Brown, 103 Ala. 537; explaining Bolling v. Munchus, 65 Ala. 558. A material defendant is a necessary, not a merely proper, party.—Shrader v. Walker, 8 Ala. 244; Lewis v. Elrod, 38 Ala. 47; Milner v. Ramsey, 48 Ala. 287; Waddell v. Lanier, 54 Ala. 440; Harwell v. Lehman, 72 Ala. 344; Gay v. Brierfield C. & I. Co., 106 Ala. 615.

677 (3422) (3761) (3327) (2876). Frame of bill.—The bill must contain a clear and orderly statement of the facts on which the suit is founded, without prolixity or repetition, and conclude with a prayer for the appropriate relief, without averring any combination or confederacy between the defendants, or others, the insufficiency of the remedy at law, or charging pretenses by the defendants; and it is the duty of the courts to discountenance prolix statements and unnecessary and false allegations in all chancery pleadings.

Degree of certainty and precision required.—Spence v. Duren, 3 Ala. 251; Read v. Walker, 18 Ala. 323; Cockrell v. Gurley, 26 Ala. 405; Jones v. Cowles, 26 Ala. 612; Charles v. DuBose, 29 Ala. 367; Bogan v. Camp, 30 Ala. 276; Bliss v. Anderson, 31 Ala. 612; Bailey v. Jordan, 32 Ala. 50; Lucas v. Oliver, 34 Ala. 626; Duckworth v. Duckworth, 35 Ala. 70; Willingham v. Harrell, 36 Ala. 583; Magruder v. Campbell, 40 Ala. 611; McKenzie v. Baldridge, 49 Ala. 564; Wolff v. Shelton, 51 Ala. 425; Perry v. N. O. M. & C. Railroad Co., 55 Ala. 413; S. & M. Railroad Co. v. Mortgage Co., 92 Ala. 157; McCurry v. Gibson, 108 Ala. 451. Only necessary to allege facts, not evidence.—Bishop v. Bishop, 13 Ala. 475; McDonald v. Life Ins. Co., 56 Ala. 468. Nor conclusions.—Cameron v. Abbott, 30 Ala. 416; Walker v. Allen, 72 Ala. 456; Chandler v. Hanna, 73 Ala. 390; Coal City Co. v. Powder Co., 108 Ala. 218. Bills sustainable on facts alleged, not facts inferred.—Danforth v. Herbert, 33 Ala. 497; Seals v. Robinson, 75 Ala. 363; Williams v. Spraggins, 102 Ala. 424. No objection that bill states more than necessary.—Caple v. McCollum, 27 Ala. 461; Noble v. Moses, 81 Ala. 530. General charge of fraud, without facts, insufficient.—Flewellen v. Crane, 58 Ala. 627; Pickett v. Pipkin, 64 Ala. 520; Morgan v. Morgan, 68 Ala. 80; Chamberlain v. Dorrance, 69 Ala. 40; Lipscomb v. McClellan, 72 Ala. 151; Meadows v. Meadows, 73 Ala. 356; Ins. Co. v. Moog, 78 Ala. 284; Burford v. Steele, 80 Ala. 147; Perry v. Mill Co., 93 Ala. 364; Ft. Parsons, 103 Ala. 215. Argumentative allegations and expressions of opinion objectionable.—Lake v. Loan Association, 72 Ala. 207. Allegations on information and belief.—Read v. Walker, 18 Ala. 323; Jones v. Cowles, 26 Ala. 612; Lucas v. Oliver, 34 Ala. 626; Nix v. Winter, 35 Ala. 309; Ex parte Reid, 50 Ala. 439. Land must be described with reasonable certainty.—Long v. Pace, 42 Ala. 495; Williams v. Roe, 59 Ala. 629; Gilchrist v. Shackelford, 72 Ala. 7; Paige v. Broadfoot, 100 Ala. 610; Wharton v. Hannon, 101 Ala. 554; Clement v. Draper, 108 Ala. 211. Bill construed against pleader; facts not averred deemed not to exist.—Cockrell v. Gurley, 26 Ala. 405; Lucas v. Oliver, 34 Ala. 626; Reed v. Overall, 39 Ala. 138; Bercy v. Lavretta, 63 Ala. 374; Rapier v. Gulf City Paper Co., 64 Ala. 330; Underhill v. Ins. Co., 67 Ala. 45; Jones v. Latham, 70 Ala. 164; Elevator Co. v. Land Co. 93 Ala. 549. Facts occurring after filing of bill cannot be basis of relief.—Hill v. Hill, 10 Ala. 527; Land v. Cowan, 19 Ala. 297; Vaughan v. Vaughan, 30 Ala. 329; Rives v. Walthall, 38 Ala. 329; Ins. Co. v. Bank, 63 Ala. 585; Rice v. Less, 105 Ala. 298. Bills with double aspect.—Andrews v. McCoy, 8 Ala. 920; Strange v. Watson, 11 Ala. 325; Stern v. Robertson, 30 Ala. 286; Lucas v. Oliver, 34 Ala. 626; Walthall v. Rives, 34 Ala. 91; Rives v. Walthall, 38 Ala. 329; David v. Shepard, 40 Ala. 587; Micou v. Ashurst, 55 Ala. 607; Eufaula v. McNab, 67 Ala. 588; Rapier v. Gulf City Paper Co., 69 Ala. 476; Shipman v. Furniss, 69 Ala. 555; Adams v. Sayre, 70 Ala. 318; Heyer v. Bromberg, 74 Ala. 524; Seals v. Parker, 108 Ala. 357.

678 (3423). Multifariousness.—Unless taken by demurrer, objection to a bill because of multifariousness must not be entertained.

679 (3424) (3762) (3328) (2877). Waiver of oath to answer. When a bill is filed for any other purpose than discovery only, the plaintiff may waive, in or upon the bill, the answer being made on the oath of the defendants, or either of them; and in such case the answer is entitled to no more weight as evidence than the bill.

Unless oath waived, answer must be sworn to.—Paige v. Broadfoot, 100 Ala. 610. Unless bill for discovery only, oath may be waived.—Bromberg v. Bates, 98 Ala. 621. Unsworn answer mere pleading.—Rainey v. Rainey, 35 Ala. 282; Guthrie v. Quinn, 43 Ala. 561; Zelnicker v. Brigham, 74 Ala. 598; Watts v. Bank, 76 Ala. 474; Thorington v. City Council, 88 Ala. 548; Ex parte Ashurst, 100 Ala. 573, 578. When unsworn answer conclusive evidence against respondent.—Latham v. Staples, 46 Ala. 462; McGehee v. Lehman, 65 Ala. 316; Thorington v. City Council, 88 Ala. 548. Bill or answer not evidence, unless noted in submission.—Goodloe v. Dean, 81 Ala. 479; Rice v. Tobias, 83 Ala. 348. Denials of unsworn answer insufficient to dissolve injunction.—Hart v. Clark, 54 Ala. 490; superseding Lockhart v. Troy, 48 Ala. 579. When oath to answer to amended bill waived.—Wilkinson v. Bradley, 54 Ala. 677. How answer of corporation sworn to.—Griffin v. Bank, 17 Ala. 258; Mining & Mfg. Co. v. Hale, 93 Ala. 542.

680. Rule requiring two witnesses to overcome sworn answer modified.—The rule requiring two witnesses, or one witness and corroborating circumstances, to overcome an answer under oath denying the allegations of the bill, is abolished in all cases where the bill is sworn to by the complainant; and such answer shall have only such weight as evidence as the evidence of such defendant taken upon interrogatories.*

Former rule stated.—Marshall v. Croom, 52 Ala. 554; Wynn v. Rosette, 66 Ala. 517; Pattison v. Bragg, 95 Ala. 55; Bank v. Steele, 98 Ala. 85.

681 (3425) (3763) (3329) (2878). Issue of summons.—Upon the filing of the bill, the register must forthwith issue a summons and copy for each defendant against whom publication is not shown to be necessary, requiring him to appear and demur, plead to or answer the bill within thirty days after service.

682 (3426) (3764, 3765) (3330, 3331) (2879, 2880). Service of summons.—A copy of such summons must be personally served by the sheriff, if the defendant is to be found in his county, his return indorsed on the original, and returned to the register within five days after service; but it is not necessary to serve a copy of the bill.

Sufficiency of summons.—Lenert v. Redwood, 9 Port. 79. Service or appearance necessary to support decree.—Kirk v. McAllister, 39 Ala. 343. Presumption of service from lapse of time.—Wilson v. Holt, 83 Ala. 528. What sufficient service and return.—Cleveland v. Pollard, 37 Ala. 556; Florence v. Paschal, 50 Ala. 28. Summons to city served on mayor.—Lyon v. Lorant, 3 Ala. 151. Sheriff's return not proof of official character of party served, as mayor, president, secretary, etc.—Lyon v. Lorant, 3 Ala. 151; Bldg. Assn. v. Agee, 99 Ala. 571, 591; Independent Pub. Co. v. Press Assn., 102 Ala. 475, 480.

683 (3427) (3766) (3332) (2881). Summons executed in another county returned by mail.—When the summons is executed in any other county than the one in which the court from which the same issues, is held, the return may be made by mail, directed to the register, the title of the suit being indorsed on the envelope, and the word "summons" written against the same.

684 (3428) (3767) (3333) (2882). Mailed within five days. When the return is by mail, the summons, directed and indorsed according to the provisions of the preceding section, must be deposited in a post-office of the county in which the same is executed, within five days after the execution.

*As amended by joint committee.

685 (3429) (3768) (3334). How parties of unsound mind may be made defendants.—When a party to a suit, or other proceedings in chancery, is alleged to be of unsound mind, and to have no legal guardian, such party may be brought into court by service of process personally upon him, and a guardian ad litem appointed for such person, as in case of infants over fourteen years of age who fail to select or nominate a guardian ad litem.

686 (3430) (3769) (3335) (2884). Publication as to non-residents.—If any defendant is shown to be a non-resident, or if his residence is unknown, or if, being a resident, he has been absent from the state more than six months from the filing of the bill, or conceals himself so that process cannot be served on him, the register must, on proof thereof by affidavit, make out and superintend the execution of the appropriate order of publication.

Resident absenting himself to avoid service.—Glover v. Glover, 18 Ala. 367. Defendant may not object, that publication for unnecessary party not perfected.—Mims v. Mims, 35 Ala. 23. Place of publication discretionary with register or chancellor.—Mobley v. Leophart, 51 Ala. 587. Statute and rules as to publication must be strictly observed.—Hanson v. Patterson, 17 Ala. 738; Paulling v. Creagh, 63 Ala. 398; Sayre v. Elyton Land Co., 73 Ala. 85; Chilton v. Life Ins. Co., 74 Ala. 290.

687. Summons as to non-residents.—A summons to answer the bill may be issued to a non-resident defendant and may be personally served upon him if found within the state; and in such case, publication is not necessary.

688 (3431) (3770) (3336) (2885). Fee for publication deposited with register.—In all cases in which an order of publication is necessary, a sufficient amount of money must be deposited with the register to cover the expense of such publication; and the bill may be dismissed, on thirty days' notice to the plaintiff or his solicitor, on failure to make such deposit within that time.

689 (3432) (3771) (3337) (2886). Defendant entitled to copy of bill.—Any defendant, after service of a summons, or after being brought into court by publication, may, on application to the register, obtain a copy of the bill, to be taxed as other costs.

690 (3433) (3774) (3340) (2889). Publication and proceedings against defendants whose names are unknown.—In cases where it is necessary to make any persons defendants to a bill, and the names of all or any of them are unknown to the plaintiff, and cannot be ascertained on diligent inquiry, and he annexes to his bill an affidavit that the names of such persons are unknown, that he has made diligent inquiry to ascertain the same, and that their residence, as he believes, is not in this state, proceedings may be had, and a decree rendered against them without naming them; and the register must make publication as in case of non-residents, describing such unknown parties, as near as may be, by the character in which they are sued, and with reference to their title or interest in the subject-matter.

691 (3434) (3775) (3341) (2890). Time for answer; decree pro confesso.—A defendant must demur, plead, or answer within thirty days after the service of the summons, or within thirty days after the period specified in the order of publication, if the publication required by the order has been perfected, or he must obtain further time; otherwise, a decree pro confesso may be passed.

Failure to answer in pursuance of agreement authorizes decree pro confesso.—Pearce v. Daughdrill, 54 Ala. 456. Effect of decree pro confesso.—Johnson v. Kelly, 80 Ala. 135.

692 (3435) (3776) (3342) (2891). When answer compelled by attachment.—Answers from defendants upon whom there has been personal service of process may be compelled by attachment, if the bill is filed for discovery, or answer on oath is not waived.

693 (3436) (3777) (3343) (2892). Arrest under attachment; discharge on bond.—Such attachments are executed by the arrest of the defendant and bringing him before a chancellor, circuit judge, or register, who may discharge him on his giving bond with surety in such sum as may be fixed by such chancellor, circuit judge, or register to be approved by the arresting officer, payable to the register of the court in which the bill is filed, and conditioned that he will file a full answer to the bill, within a time to be prescribed by the officer before whom such defendant is brought; which bond must be returned with the attachment within the same time after service, and in the same manner, if by mail, as a summons is required to be returned under the provisions of this chapter.

694 (3437) (3778) (3344) (2894). Suit on attachment bond. Upon the forfeiture of the bond, the chancellor may direct the same to be sued, and the whole or such part of the penalty as he directs, may be recovered against any or all of the obligors having ten days' notice, by motion in the circuit court of the county in which the court issuing the attachment is held; and on the trial of such motion, the indorsement by the register of forfeiture is presumptive evidence of the fact.

695 (3438) (3779) (3345) (2895). Defendant imprisoned until he files answer or bond.—In case a defendant refuses or neglects to give such bond, he must be committed to jail by the sheriff, and there kept until he files a full answer with the register.

696 (3439) (3780) (3346) (2896). Oath to answer; by whom administered.—When an answer is required to be sworn to, the oath may be administered by any officer authorized to take and certify affidavits, or by a commissioner appointed by the register.

Blank commission should not issue.—Guice v. Parker, 46 Ala. 616.

697 (3440) (3781) (3347) (2897). Protection from full answer. A defendant may in his answer protect himself from furnishing a full answer to the allegations of the bill.

When partial answer receivable.—Bentley v. Cleaveland, 22 Ala. 814.

698 (3441) (3782) (3348) (2898). Application to answer specially.—When a party offers to answer specially, and applies for leave to do so, the ground of such application may be contested, and the application must only be granted upon reasonable notice.

699 (3442) (3783) (3349) (2899). All defenses may be set up in answer.—A defendant may incorporate all matters of defense in his answer, and is not required to plead specially in any case.

May incorporate demurrer at any time before final decree.—Crawford v. Childress, 1 Ala. 482; Shaw v. Lindsey, 60 Ala. 344; Ruse v. Bromberg, 88 Ala. 619; Harland v. Person, 93 Ala. 273.

700 (3443) (3784) (3350) (2900). Grounds of demurrer.—A demurrer to the bill must set forth the ground of demurrer specially, and otherwise must not be heard.

Formerly general demurrer turned inquiry upon equity of bill.—Werborn v. Tiller, 10 Ala. 305; Chambers v. Wright, 52 Ala. 444. "That there is no equity in bill" only general demurrer.—Hart v. Clark, 54 Ala. 490; Erwin v. Reese, 54 Ala. 589; Pate v. Hinson, 104 Ala. 599. Ruling confined to special cause assigned.—Chambers v. Wright, 52 Ala. 444; Masterson v. Pullen, 62 Ala. 145; P. & M. Ins. Co. v. Selma Bank, 63 Ala. 585; Humphreys v. Burleson, 72 Ala. 1; Werborn v. Kahn, 93 Ala. 201; Dickerson v. Winslow, 97 Ala. 491; Baker v. Graves, 101 Ala. 247. Demurrer to whole bill, good in part only, to be overruled.—Burke v. Roper, 79 Ala. 138; Houston v. Williamson, 81 Ala. 482; Echols v. Orr, 106 Ala. 237. Decree sustaining demurrer referable to good grounds.—Baker v. Graves, 101 Ala. 247; Steiner v. Parker, 108 Ala. 357; Tatum v. Tatum, 111 Ala. 209; McDonald v. Pearson, Ala. (21 So. 534) (overruling S. & N. Ala. R. Co. v. Highland Ave. & B. R. Co., 104 Ala. 233).

701 (3444) (3785) (3351) (2901). No replication.—No replication is necessary to an answer.

Not necessary to traverse matter of defense.—Forrest v. Robinson, 2 Ala. 215; American F. L. Mortgage Co. v. Dykes, 111 Ala. 178. Matter in avoidance of answer to be introduced by amendment of bill.—Lanier v. Hill, 30 Ala. 111; Smith v. Vaughan, 78 Ala. 201; American F. L. Mortgage Co. v. Dykes, 111 Ala. 178.

702 (3445) (3786) (3352) (2902). Effect of answer on hearing on bill and answer.—When the case is heard on bill and answer without testimony, the answer must be taken to be true, so far as it is responsive to the allegations of the bill, except in those cases where the complainant has waived the oath of the defendant to the answer.

Formerly, when the submission was by consent, answer taken as true in all respects.—Forrest v. Robinson, 2 Ala. 215; White's heirs v. Florence Bridge Co., 4 Ala. 464. Matter not responsive to bill, not provable even by sworn answer.—Bates v. Murphy, 2 Stew. & Port. 165; Rembert v. Brown, 17 Ala. 667; Keiffer v. Barney, 31 Ala. 192; Frazer v. Lee, 42 Ala. 25; Wynn v. Rosette, 66 Ala. 517; Green v. Casey, 70 Ala. 417; Buchanan v. Buchanan, 72 Ala. 55; Barton v. Barton, 75 Ala. 400; Goodloe v. Dean, 81 Ala. 479. Sworn answer responsive to bill taken as true.—Foxworth v. White, 72 Ala. 224. When oath to answer waived, answer mere pleading.—Marks v. Cowles, 61 Ala. 299; Buchanan v. Buchanan, 72 Ala. 55. But admissions of unsworn answer conclusive on respondent.—Thorington v. City Council, 88 Ala. 548. When hearing on bill and unsworn answer, relief denied unless authorized by admitted allegations of bill.—Winter v. City Council, 83 Ala. 589.

703 (3446) (3787) (3353). Dismissal of suit in vacation.—Before an answer or cross-bill is filed, the complainant may, on application to the register in vacation, dismiss the suit. On such application, the register must enter on the minutes an order of dismissal; and may issue execution against the complainant for all costs which have accrued. After answer or cross-bill filed, the complainant may, on application to the register in vacation, dismiss the suit; and the register must enter an order of dismissal on the minutes. But the defendant, at the next succeeding term of the court, may show cause against the dismissal, and procure a vacation of the order. If cause is not shown at the next succeeding term, the order is final; and execution may issue against the complainant for all costs which have accrued.

ARTICLE 5.

AMENDMENTS; EXCEPTIONS; FILING PAPERS; SERVING NOTICES; EXAMINATION OF PARTIES; MAKING ANSWER A CROSS-BILL; REVIVOR OF SUIT BY A DEFENDANT.

704 (3447) (3788) (3354) (2903). Amendments before answer. Amendments to bills before answers, pleas, or demurrers filed, are allowable as of course and without notice; and amendments to any summons may be made before service thereof.

705 (3448) (3789) (3355) (2904). Amendments after service and before answer.—After a defendant has obtained a copy of the bill from the register, and before answer, plea, or demurrer, amendments to the bill may be made without notice, upon payment of the costs of furnishing a copy of the amendment to such defendants as have obtained a copy of the bill; and amendments may also be made after demurrer, and before argument on the same terms.

706 (3449) (3790) (3356). Amendments before decree, on terms. Amendments to bills must be allowed at any time before final decree, by striking out or adding new parties, or to meet any state of evidence which will authorize relief; and amendments to answers must be allowed at any time before final decree, so as to set up any matter of defense; but such amendments to bills and answers must be allowed on such terms as the chancellor may impose, not extending beyond the payment of all the costs; and if an amendment be allowed at the hearing to bill or answer, the party against whom the amendment is allowed shall be entitled to a continuance as a matter of right; and if the cause is continued, both parties shall have the right to take additional testimony; and if an amendment be allowed in vacation, both parties shall have the right to take additional testimony without a special application.

Rule prior to statute stated.—Rapier v. Gulf City Paper Co., 69 Ala. 476. Allowance of amendment matter of right, when not making entirely new case nor radical departure from original cause of action nor working entire change of parties.—Pitts v. Powledge, 56 Ala. 147; Hinton v. Citizens' M. Ins. Co., 63 Ala. 488; Scott v. Ware, 64 Ala. 174; Jones v. Reese, 65 Ala. 134; Rapier v. Gulf City Paper Co., 69 Ala. 476; Adams v. Atkins, 106 Ala. 194. Effect of introducing inconsistent allegations.—American F. L. M. Co. v. Sewell, 92 Ala. 163. The right must be claimed before final decree.—Smith v. Coleman, 59 Ala. 260; Munter v. Linn, 61 Ala. 492; Winter v. Merrick, 69 Ala. 86; Beatty v. Brown, 85 Ala. 209. When in time.—Martin v. Mohr, 56 Ala. 221. When not.—Owen v. Bankhead, 82 Ala. 399. When facts occurring after bill filed may be introduced.—Ala. Warehouse Co. v. Jones, 62 Ala. 550; Freeman v. Brown, 96 Ala. 301. Necessary to set up new matter in avoidance of plea or answer, but not necessary to traverse.—Lanier v. Hill, 30 Ala. 111; Smith v. Vaughan, 78 Ala. 201; American F. L. M. Co. v. Dykes, 111 Ala. 178. Not regular mode of bringing in personal representatives or heirs upon revivor.—Floyd v. Ritter, 65 Ala. 501. But may serve as suggestion of death and names of representative and heirs.—Wells v. Mortgage Co. 109 Ala. 430. Doctrine of relation.—King v. Avery, 37 Ala. 169; Crawford v. Kirksey, 55 Ala. 282; Adams v. Phillips, 75 Ala. 461; Lipscomb v. McClellan, 72 Ala. 151; Jones v. McPhillips, 82 Ala. 102; Wilson v. Holt, 91 Ala. 204; Winston v. Mitchell, 93 Ala. 554. Introduction of parties acquiring interest in subject-matter of suit not always matter of right.—Morton v. N. O. & Selma R. Co., 79 Ala. 590. When complainant must have opportunity to amend before decree dismissing bill.—Bishop v. Wood, 59 Ala. 253; Kingsbury v. Flowers, 65 Ala. 479, 486; Lee v. Lee, 67 Ala. 406; Kingsbury v. Milner, 69 Ala. 502; Stoudenmire v. DeBardelaben, 72 Ala. 300; Shackelford v. Bankhead, 72 Ala. 476; Massey v. Modawell, 73 Ala. 421; Conner v. Smith, 74 Ala. 115; Goodlett v. Kelly, 74 Ala. 213; Gilmer v. Wallace, 75 Ala. 220; Gilmer v. Morris, 80 Ala. 78; Wright v. Dunklin, 83 Ala. 317; Olds v. Marshall, 93 Ala. 138; Kyle v. McKenzie, 94 Ala. 236. Dismissal in term time without leave to amend, no leave being asked, not erroneous.—Munchus v. Harris, 69 Ala. 506; Buford v. Ward, 108 Ala. 307; American F. L. Mortgage Co. v. Dykes, 111 Ala. 178, 193. When notice of application to amend necessary.—Masterson v. Masterson, 32 Ala. 437; Holly v. Bass, 63 Ala. 387; Hinton v. Citizens M. Ins. Co., 63 Ala. 488; McClenny v. Ward, 80 Ala. 243. Notice presumed from presence in court, at allowance of amendment.—Gayle v. Johnston, 80 Ala. 395. Amendment allowable after reversal of final decree. Winter v. Merrick, 69 Ala. 86; Park v. Lide, 90 Ala. 246; Price v. Bell, 96 Ala. 534. Answer setting up exemption may be amended.—Zelnicker v. Brigham, 74 Ala. 598. Admissions of unsworn answer may be stricken out by amendment at any time before final decree.—Ex parte Ashurst, 100 Ala. 573. Answer may be amended to incorporate demurrer at any time before final decree.—Shaw v. Lindsey, 60 Ala. 344; Ruse v. Bromberg, 88 Ala. 619; Harland v. Person, 93 Ala. 273. When refusal of such amendment not reversible error.—Eureka Co. v. Edwards, 80 Ala. 250. Amendment not presumed from mere granting of leave.—Keith v. Cliatt, 59 Ala. 408. Imposition of terms discretionary and not revisable.—McLane v. Riddle, 19 Ala. 180; Rives v. Walthall, 38 Ala. 329; Mahone v. Williams, 39 Ala. 202. Amendment striking out unnecessary defendant no ground of continuance to another defendant. Elyton Land Co. v. Denny, 108 Ala. 553.

707 (3450) (3791) (3357) (2905). Register may allow amendments after answer.—The register may, on notice to the opposing party, allow amendments to bills after answer, and amendments to answers, but only on payment of the costs of the amendment by the party making the application.

708 (3451) (3792) (3358) (2907). Answer to amendment.—If an amendment to the bill is made after answer filed, and an answer to the amendment is required, the defendant must answer within thirty days after notice thereof, or obtain further time to answer; failing therein, the matter of the amendment may be taken as confessed. But at any time before the hearing, the order or decree pro confesso may be set aside on application to the register or chancellor, and on filing a full and sufficient answer, on such terms as the chancellor or register may prescribe.

709 (3452) (3793) (3359) (2908). What objections set for separate hearing.—When an objection is made to a bill for want of parties, or joinder of improper parties, it may be set for hearing on that objection only; and if not set for hearing on that ground, the court, if the objection prevail on the final hearing, must dismiss the bill.

710 (3453) (3794) (3360) (2909). Decree, when objection for want of parties first taken at hearing.—If the defendant, at the hearing of a cause, take an objection for want of parties, not having by plea or answer taken the objection, the court may render a decree saving the rights of parties not before it, or it may grant leave to amend the bill on terms not extending beyond the payment of costs.

711 (3454) (3795) (3361) (2910). Pleadings indorsed with date of filing.—All bills, answers, and other papers filed in any cause must be indorsed by the register with the true date on which they were filed.

712 (3455) (3796) (3362) (2911). Notices; when served on solicitor.—Notice in relation to any supplemental bill, amendment, decree, motion, or other proceeding in the court of chancery, served on the solicitor of the party, is valid.

713 (3456) (3797) (3363) (2912). Notice to parties in default. When parties are in default for want of an answer, or other cause, the notices may be entered on the order book of the register, and such entries, for such time as is fixed by the register, are sufficient in cases of amendments, supplemental bills, and of other orders in the cause.

714 (3457) (3798) (3364) (2913). Exceptions to answers.—Exceptions to answers must be made within sixty days after the same are filed, and notice must be given by the register of the day of hearing the same.

715 (3458) (3799) (3365) (2914). Defendant may examine complainant.—If the defendant wishes to examine the complainant touching the subject-matter of the bill, or his defense, he may, after filing his answer, exhibit interrogatories to the complainant and call upon him to answer the same; and on his failing to answer them within such time as may be prescribed by the register, his bill must be dismissed with costs, unless such time is extended.

716. Complainant may examine defendant.—If the complainant wishes to examine the defendant touching the matters at issue, he may exhibit interrogatories to the defendant and call upon him to answer the same; and on his failure to answer them within such time as may be prescribed by the register, the court may, by attachment, compel him to answer them, or may render a decree granting relief to the complainant, or may extend the time for such answers to be made.

717. Copy of interrogatories to be served.—Upon the filing of interrogatories under either of the two preceding sections, the register must issue a copy thereof, which, together with a copy of the order of the register fixing the time for answering them, must be served upon the party to whom the interrogatories are propounded, or his solicitor, not less than sixty days before the expiration of such time.

718 (3459) (3800) (3356) (2915). Exceptions to such interrogatories.—Exceptions may be taken to such interrogatories and heard before the register at such time as he may prescribe, on reasonable notice to the party filing the interrogatories, or his solicitor, subject to an appeal to the chancellor.

719. Answers to such interrogatories evidence.—The answers to such interrogatories, when duly sworn to before and certified by an officer authorized to take and certify affidavits, or a commissioner appointed by the register to take and certify such answers, are evidence in the cause when offered by the party taking them; but such party is not precluded from offering other testimony touching the same facts, or from contradicting such answers.

720 (3460) (3801, 3802) (3367, 3368) (2916, 2917). Answer may be made cross-bill.—A defendant may obtain relief against a party complainant or defendant for any cause connected with, or growing out of the bill, by alleging in his answer, and as a part thereof, the facts upon which such relief is prayed. The matters or facts thus alleged and put in issue must be considered in the nature of a cross-bill, and be heard at the same time as the original bill.

By English rule, prevailing here prior to statute, answer could not be made cross-bill.—Lehman v. Dozier, 78 Ala. 235. Answer made cross-bill governed by rules relating to cross-bills.—Taunton v. McInnish, 46 Ala. 619. Hearing on statutory cross-bill, whether on merits or demurrer must not be earlier than hearing on original bill.—Ex parte Thornton, 46 Ala. 384. As general rule, dismissal of bill carries cross-bill.—Dill v. Shahan, 25 Ala. 694; Con. Life Ins. Co. v. Webb, 54 Ala. 688; Wilkinson v. Roper, 74 Ala. 140. When such dismissal does not carry cross-bill.—Abels v. P. & M. Ins. Co., 92 Ala. 382; Lehman v. Dozier, 78 Ala. 235; Wilkinson v. Roper, 74 Ala. 140; Gilman v. N. O. & S. R. Co., 72 Ala. 566. Nature and purpose of cross-bill.—Davis v. Cook, 65 Ala. 617; Gilman v. N. O. & S. R. Co., 72 Ala. 566; O'Neill v. Perryman, 102 Ala. 522. Affirmative relief not obtainable under answer, cross-bill necessary.—Ketchum v. Creagh, 53 Ala. 224; Watts v. Eufaula Bank, 76 Ala. 474; Morton v. N. O. & S. R. Co., 79 Ala. 590; Bedell v. New England M. S. Co., 91 Ala. 325; Cotton v. Scott, 97 Ala. 447. One defendant may not have relief against another without becoming actor.—Trimble v. Fariss, 78 Ala. 260. Not until amendment of Jan. 22, 1885, could one defendant obtain relief against another defendant by statutory cross-bill, unless irregularity waived.—Gilman v. N. O. & S. R. Co., 72 Ala. 566; Jones v. Robinson, 77 Ala. 499; Lehman v. Dozier, 78 Ala. 235; Abels v. P. & M. Ins. Co., 92 Ala. 382.

721 (3461) (3803, 3804) (3369, 3370) (2918, 2919). Answer to such matter.—The party complainant or defendant, as to whom such new matter is alleged, must make answer thereto under the rules and regulations provided in this chapter for the answers of defendant to original bills. An answer on oath may be required or waived in or upon the answer introducing such matter; and if an answer on oath is waived, the answer is not evidence for the party respondent.

722 (3462) (3805). Revivor of suit by defendant.—Upon the abatement of a suit by reason of the death or other disability of the complainant, or if he be suing as executor, administrator, or trustee, by reason of his resignation or removal, if there be not, within ninety days after his death, resignation, or removal, an application to revive by his legal representative, his successor, or party in interest, a defendant, having an interest in the further prosecution of the suit, may at any time within twelve months, revive the same by bill of revivor, or by bill of revivor and supplement, or by bill of revivor and cross-bill.*

Revivor and appearance in original suit will not support decree in cross-suit, without service of process or appearance therein.—Paulling v. Creagh, 63 Ala. 398.

ARTICLE 6.

EVIDENCE IN CHANCERY; HOW TAKEN; COMMISSIONERS; WITNESSES.

723 (3463). Oral examination of witnesses.—Either party may require witnesses residing within one hundred miles of the place of trial, to be examined orally, instead of by interrogatories. Such examination may be taken before the register, or before an examiner appointed by the court, or by a special commissioner of the appointment of the register, as the applicant may desire.

Commissioner should not rule upon evidence—"His business is to write down the questions and the objections to them, if any, and put down the answers, referring the legality or relevancy of the evidence to the court."—Elyton Land Co. v. Denny, 108 Ala. 553.

724 (3464). Notice of oral examination.—Notice of the requirement of an oral examination must be given by the party desiring it to the adverse party, or to his solicitor of record, if he have such solicitor residing in the district; but if such adverse party do not reside in the district, and have no solicitor of record residing therein, notice may be given by an entry on the order-book of the register.

725 (3465) (3806) (3371) (2920). Testimony by interrogatories. In all other cases than that provided for in the first section of this article, testimony in chancery causes must be taken by interrogatories, under the rules now in force, or such as may hereafter be adopted.

726 (3466) (3807) (3372) (2921). Rules as to competency same as at law.—The rules of evidence as to the competency of witnesses in courts of chancery are the same as in courts of law.

727 (3467) (3808) (3373) (2922). Testimony, when taken.—The plaintiff may take testimony at any time after answer, or after a decree pro confesso, and the defendant at any time after filing his answer.

Proper practice when depositions have been taken without notice while decree pro confesso in force against party, afterwards answering.—Planters & Merchants' Bank v. Walker, 7 Ala. 926. Irregularity of taking testimony before cause at issue may be waived.—Reynolds' admr. v. Pharr, 9 Ala. 560.

*As amended by joint committee.

After decree pro confesso, testimony may be taken ex parte.—Atkisson v. Atkisson, 17 Ala. 256; Jordan v. Jordan, 17 Ala. 466.

728 (3468) (3809) (3374) (2923). Proof of exhibits proved before register.—Exhibits to bills and answers may be proved by affidavits filed with the exhibits in the register's office thirty days before the hearing.

729 (3469) (3810) (3375). When testimony may be retaken. The party against whom the deposition of a witness has been taken, may retake the testimony of such witness, under the provisions of section 1845 (2811) of this Code, and the provisions of that section apply to such testimony when taken.

730 (3470) (3811) (3376) (2924). Commissions to take testimony. All commissions for the taking of testimony must be directed to one or more commissioners, to be appointed by the register, and made returnable with all convenient speed.

Commissioner is officer of court pro hac vice.—Potier v. Barclay, 15 Ala. 439. When objection to incompetency of commissioner or irregularity in taking deposition must be made.—Colgin v. Redman, 20 Ala. 650; Harris v. Miller, 30 Ala. 221. When return of commissioner sufficient.—King v. King, 28 Ala. 315. Not proper to issue blank commission.—Worsham v. Goar, 4 Port. 441. Consent to issuance of commission waives irregularity of failure to name residence of witness.—Farmer v. Farmer, 86 Ala. 322; Aicardi v. Strang, 38 Ala. 326. Commissioner may amend certificate in open court. Wolfe v. Underwood, 97 Ala. 375; Dunlap v. Horton, 49 Ala. 412.

731 (3471) (3812) (3377) (2925). Service of interrogatories. As amended Dec. 14, 1894, p. 130, §1. No commission to take testimony must issue until the adverse party, or his solicitor, if either of them reside in the district, has been served with notice of the filing of the interrogatories for ten days; but after such service, such party may, on application to the register, obtain a copy of the interrogatories, the cost thereof to be taxed as other costs in the cause.

Cross-interrogatories filed after ten days from notice, but before commission issued, will not be stricken from file.—E. T. V. & G. R. Co. v. Watson, 90 Ala. 41.

732 (3472) (3813) (3378) (2926). If adverse party a non-resident.—If such adverse party, or his solicitor, do not reside in the district, this notice may be given by the register mailing a copy of such notice, postage prepaid, to such solicitor of record, at his place of residence, ten days before the issuance of the commission; but such party may, on application to the register, obtain a copy of the interrogatories as provided in the preceding section. The certificate of the register is prima facie evidence of the mailing of such notice. Ib. §2.

733 (3473) (3814) (3379) (2927). Rebutting interrogatories. After such notice has been given, if cross-interrogatories are filed, the party has five days to file rebutting interrogatories; but this time may be extended on application to the register without notice.

734 (3474) (3815) (3380). Register may act as commissioner, unless objected to.—When interrogatories are filed in the chancery court for the purpose of taking the deposition of a witness in any cause pending in such court, and the solicitor filing the same shall appoint the register, in writing indorsed on the interrogatories, as the commissioner to take the same, the register may, without the issuance of a commission to himself, proceed to take the testimony of the witness specified in the interrogatories, under the rules and regulations applying to the taking of such testimony by commissioners appointed by such register, unless the opposite party, within ten days after such interrogatories are filed, files an objection in writing, when the appointment of a commissioner must be made as usual.

See citations to sections 730 and 723.

735. Subpœnas for witnesses; examination.—The commissioner, register, or examiner has power to issue subpœnas for witnesses, to administer oaths to them and to take and certify their testimony.

736. Subpœnas executed by sheriff or constable; proof of default.—Such subpœnas may be executed by any sheriff or constable; and the certificate of the commissioner, register, or examiner that a witness failed to appear and testify, together with the return of service by the officer, is presumptive evidence of the facts.

737. Compensation of witnesses.—Witnesses in chancery causes are entitled to the same compensation as in civil cases at law, to be proved before and certified by the commissioner, register, or examiner, and taxed as costs in the cause.

738. Fees for taking depositions.—For taking and certifying the testimony of witnesses, the commissioner, register or examiner is entitled to twenty cents for every hundred words, not including the caption, certificate or exhibits, one dollar and fifty cents for each day he is necessarily engaged, and five cents for each mile necessarily traveled by him in the taking of such testimony; all of which must, upon his certificate, be taxed as costs in the cause; but the chancellor may, for good cause shown, reduce such compensation.*

739 (3476) (3817) (3384) (2931). Default of witness, penalty. If the witness fail to attend before the commissioner, register, or examiner, being served with a subpœna so to do, the commissioner, register, or examiner may indorse on the subpœna that the witness failed to attend, and return the same to the clerk of the circuit court of the county, who must enter the case on the docket, and such proceedings may be had as in the case of defaulting witnesses in the circuit court, the indorsement on the subpœna being presumptive evidence of the default of such witness.

740. Defaulting witness may be committed, without bail, until he consents to testify.—If a witness fails, after due notice, to appear before the commissioner, register, or examiner, or, being present, refuses to testify, the commissioner, register, or examiner must, when requested by either party or his solicitor, certify the facts to any chancellor or circuit judge; and thereupon the witness may be committed and compelled to testify in all respects as in cases of defaulting witnesses before commissioners appointed from courts of law, the bail-bond in such case to be enforced in the circuit court of the county.

*As amended by joint committee.

ARTICLE 7.

REFERENCES TO THE REGISTER; EXCEPTIONS.

741 (3477) (3818) (3385) (2932). Proceedings before the register on reference.—Whenever a reference is made to the register, the party at whose instance, or for whose benefit the reference is made, must cause such matter to be presented to the register within the time limited for the hearing, and if no time is limited, within three months after the reference is made; and if such party omit to do so, the adverse party may cause proceedings to be had before the register, at the costs of the the party procuring the reference.

As a rule, exception to evidence introduced on reference, must be reserved before register.—Kirkman v. Vanlier, 7 Ala. 217; Davenport v. Bartlett, 9 Ala. 179; Taylor v. Kilgore, 33 Ala. 214; Kinsey v. Kinsey, 37 Ala. 393. When exception or objection before register unnecessary.—Clark v. Knox, 70 Ala. 607. Objection to mass of testimony partly legal, may be overruled. Brantley v. Gunn, 29 Ala. 387. Register must obey instructions of chancellor.—Lang v. Brown, 21 Ala. 179; Taylor v. Kilgore, 33 Ala. 214; Henderson v. Huey, 45 Ala. 275. Register must take down testimony in writing.—Mahone v. Williams, 39 Ala. 202.

742 (3478) (3819) (3386) (2933). Notice of day for hearing; proceedings thereon.—Upon any such reference, the register must assign a time and place for proceeding therein, and give reasonable notice to each of the parties, or their solicitors; and if either party fail to appear at the time and place appointed, the register may proceed ex parte, or, in his discretion, adjourn the examination to another day, giving notice to the adverse party, or his counsel, of such adjournment.

743 (3479) (3820) (3387) (2934). Authority of the register on reference.—The register, in all matters referred, must proceed with the least practicable delay, and has authority—

1. To examine the parties on oath as to all the items of reference.
2. To require the production of all books, papers, writings, vouchers and documents in relation to such matters.
3. To examine on oath, viva voce, all witnesses produced by the parties before him, and take down such evidence in writing.
4. To hear the depositions of witnesses taken under a commission, or upon oral examination, as in other chancery cases.
5. To do all other acts, and direct all other inquiries and proceedings in the matters before him, which may be necessary, subject at all times to the revision and control of the chancellor.

Taking down evidence.—Mahone v. Williams, 39 Ala. 202. Practice as to reference, evidence and report, stated.—Kinsey v. Kinsey, 37 Ala. 393; Mahone v. Williams, 39 Ala. 202. Register reports conclusions, not evidence. Kirkman v. Vanlier, 7 Ala. 217; Alexander v. Alexander, 8 Ala. 796; Kinsey v. Kinsey, 37 Ala. 393; Mahone v. Williams, 39 Ala. 202; Vaughan v. Smith, 69 Ala. 92. But statement of account should be accompanied by explanations. O'Neill v. Perryman, 102 Ala. 522.

744 (3480) (3821) (3388) (2936). Evidence in cause used before register.—All affidavits, depositions and documents, which have been made or filed in the cause, may be used on reference before the register.

Answer of one defendant not evidence against co-defendant.—Halstead v. Shepard, 23 Ala. 558; Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227. Ex parte affidavits receivable, unless objected to.—Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227. Books of account between parties; when admissible.—Kirkman v. Vanlier, 7 Ala. 217. When register need not consider paper, signature to which was proven before chancellor.—Aday v. Echols, 18 Ala. 353. Rule as to re-examination on reference, of witness testifying in cause.—Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227.

745 (3481) (3822) (3389) (2937). Exceptions to register's decisions.—Either party may reserve in writing any question arising on a reference for the revision of the chancellor. But the statement of the name of a witness and the page on which his testimony is noted is in all cases sufficient to call such testimony to the attention of the chancellor.*

Evidence relied on to support exception must be noted.—Mahone v. Williams, 39 Ala. 202; Mooney v. Walter, 69 Ala. 75; Vaughan v. Smith, 69 Ala. 92; Crump v. Crump, 69 Ala. 156; Pruitt v. McWhorter, 74 Ala. 315; State v. McBride, 76 Ala. 51; Kilpatrick v. Hinson, 81 Ala. 464. Conclusion of register on evidence is not disturbed unless plainly wrong.—Kinsey v. Kinsey, 37 Ala. 393; Mahone v. Williams, 39 Ala. 202; Lehman v. Levy, 69 Ala. 48; Munden v. Bailey, 70 Ala. 63; Winter v. Banks, 72 Ala. 409; Glover v. Hembree, 82 Ala. 324. Exception must be definite and specific.—Alexander v. Alexander, 8 Ala. 796; Royall v. McKenzie, 25 Ala. 363; O'Reilly v. Brady, 28 Ala. 530; Foster v. Gressett, 29 Ala. 393; Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227; Powers v. Dickie, 49 Ala. 81; Vaughan v. Smith, 69 Ala. 92. Exception to report, based upon secondary or incompetent evidence, not sustainable, without objection to evidence before register.—Taylor v. Kilgore, 33 Ala. 214; Kinsey v. Kinsey, 37 Ala. 393. Exception to irrelevant evidence not sustainable if sufficient legal evidence to justify report.—Powers v. Dickie, 49 Ala. 81. Exception overruled by chancellor need not be renewed on re-statement of account.—Harbin v. Bell, 54 Ala. 389; Moore v. Randolph, 70 Ala. 575. Informality, in exception, curable by amendment, not considered, when objection first made on appeal.—Moore v. Randolph, 70 Ala. 575. Exceptions not passed on by chancellor not considered on appeal.—Bryant v. Stephens, 58 Ala. 636; Waldrop v. Carnes, 62 Ala. 374. Report, regular on face, confirmed without exception, not assailable on appeal.—Gerald v. Miller, 21 Ala. 433; Taunton v. McInnish, 46 Ala. 619; Waldrop v. Carnes, 62 Ala. 374; Nunn v. Nunn, 66 Ala. 35; Bellinger v. Lehman, 103 Ala. 385. When exception to report must be taken.—Lewis v. Lewis, Minor, 35. When report should be set aside, without exceptions.—Levert v. Redwood, 9 Port. 79; Lang v. Brown, 21 Ala. 179; Bobe v. Stickney, 36 Ala. 482. Chancellor may make calculation without reference.—Thornton v. Neal, 49 Ala. 590; Chambers v. Wright, 52 Ala. 444. Re-reference to allow additional testimony discretionary with chancellor.—Nunn v. Nunn, 66 Ala. 35. Order of reference, so framed as to cut off right of exception to report, erroneous.—McCartney v. Calhoun, 11 Ala. 110. Report of amount due must be confirmed before issuance of execution.—Stapler v. Hurt, 16 Ala. 799.

DECREES PRO CONFESSO AND FINAL DECREES WITHOUT PERSONAL SERVICE.

746 (3482) (3823) (3390) (2938). Decrees pro confesso.—Decrees pro confesso may be taken before the register on the failure of the defendant to demur, plead to, or answer the bill within thirty days after service of the summons, or thirty days after the period specified in the order of publication, if the publication required by the order has been perfected, unless the time for answering or pleading has been extended; in which case, a decree pro confesso may be passed at the expiration of such time.

*As amended by joint committee.

Time of taking decree.—Levert v. Redwood, 9 Port. 80; Pitfield v. Gazzam, 2 Ala. 325; Keiffer v. Barney, 31 Ala. 192. Decree rendered on thirtieth day from service too soon.—Madden v. Floyd, 69 Ala. 221. Service must be perfected before decree can be taken.—Butler v. Butler, 11 Ala. 668; Hurter v. Robbins, 21 Ala. 585. After appearance, decree may be rendered, without service, for want of answer.—Mobile & C. P. R. Co. v. Talman, 15 Ala. 472. Waiver of irregularity in taking decree.—Bank v. St. John, 25 Ala. 566. When irregularity of decree against husband available to wife.—Keiffer v. Barney, 31 Ala. 192. Decree should state facts on which founded.—Hartley v. Bloodgood, 16 Ala. 233; Cullman v. Branch Bank, 23 Ala. 797; Keiffer v. Barney, 31 Ala. 192; McDonald v. McMahon, 66 Ala. 115. Should show compliance with prerequisites.—Holly v. Bass, 63 Ala. 387.

747 (3483) (3824) (3391) (2939). On such decrees allegations of bill taken as admitted; exceptions.—In all cases in which decrees pro confesso are lawfully taken, the allegations of the bill are to be regarded as admitted, except in the case of infant defendants, persons of unsound mind, executors, administrators, and bills for divorce.

Not evidence, if bill afterwards dismissed.—Garrett v. Ricketts, 9 Ala. 529. Dispenses with necessity of proof except in cases stated.—Arnold v. Sheppard, 6 Ala. 299; Welborn v. Tiller, 10 Ala. 305; Carradine v. O'Connor, 21 Ala. 573. Effect on trustee of decree against beneficiary.—Johnson v. Longmire, 39 Ala. 143; citing Hartley v. Bloodgood, 16 Ala. 233; Julian v. Reynolds, 8 Ala. 680, 683; Moore v. Hubbard, 4 Ala. 187, 192. No proof need be taken against an administrator, a merely nominal party.—Thornton v. Neal 49 Ala. 590. On revivor after death of party, against whom decree has been taken, answer from administrator not required.—Jones v. Beverly, 45 Ala. 161. Conclusive even in subsequent suit between parties or their privies.—A. G. S. R. Co. v. S. & N. R. Co., 84 Ala. 570. Only admission of facts well pleaded, not of right to relief.—McDonald v. Mobile Life Ins. Co., 56 Ala. 468; Johnson v. Kelly, 80 Ala. 135. Admits exhibits to bill also.—Baker v. Young, 90 Ala. 426. After decree pro confesso, omission of note of evidence on submission not error.—Jones v. Beverly, 45 Ala. 161.

748 (3484) (3825) (3392) (2940). Not heard on day of taking decree.—No cause in which a decree pro confesso is taken must be heard on the same day; but the cause may be set for hearing on any subsequent day.

McDonald v. McMahon, 66 Ala. 115.

749 (3485) (3826) (3393) (2941). Defendant may contest decree on merits, or appear on reference.—A defendant against whom a decree pro confesso is taken can appear and contest a decree on the merits of the bill, or may appear before the register on a reference.

May move to dismiss for want of equity.—Smith v. Robinson, 11 Ala. 840; Madden v. Floyd, 69 Ala. 221. But not for want of proper parties.—Thornton v. Neal, 49 Ala. 590. May contest on merits.—McDonald v. Mobile Life Ins. Co., 56 Ala. 468; Johnson v. Kelly, 80 Ala. 135.

750 (3486) (3827) (3394) (2942). Decree set aside on full answer.—A defendant who has been served with a summons may, at any time before publication of the testimony, on making a proper showing, obtain leave from the chancellor or register to set aside such decree, upon filing a full and sufficient answer, and upon such terms, not extending beyond full costs, as the chancellor deems proper; and the defendant may also plead or demur upon such terms as the chancellor may order.

Decree will not be set aside to allow plea.—Bank v. St. John, 25 Ala. 566. When defendant may not file answer without leave or consent.—Davenport v. Bartlett, 9 Ala. 179; Hurter v. Robbins, 21 Ala. 585. After reversal default may be set aside on answer filed.—Keenan v. Strange, 12 Ala. 290. Right not lost by one ineffectual attempt to exercise it.—Pond v. Lockwood, 11 Ala. 567.

751 (3487) (3828) (3395) (2943). When set aside as against defendant on publication.—A defendant brought into court by publication, against whom a decree pro confesso has been rendered, may also, before publication of the testimony, set aside such decree on application to the chancellor or register, on filing a full and sufficient answer, and such other terms, not extending beyond the payment of costs to the time of the application, as may be imposed.

752 (3488) (3829) (3396) (2944). Answer after publication of testimony.—The permission to file an answer, after the publication of the testimony, rests in the sound discretion of the chancellor.

753 (3489) (3830) (3397) (2945). Decree without personal service not absolute for twelve months; copy sent defendant.—A decree made against a defendant, without personal service, who does not appear, is not absolute for twelve months from the rendition thereof, except as otherwise in this article provided; and in such case the court must direct a copy of the decree to be sent to such defendant, or, in case of infants, or persons of unsound mind, to their guardians, if their residences can be ascertained.*

Statute not applicable to resident infant.—Tabor v. Lorance, 53 Ala. 543. Decree should direct compliance with statute, but failure not ground of reversal. Holly v. Bass, 63 Ala. 387; Hurt v. Blount, 63 Ala. 327. Statute must be read into decree.—Sayre v. Elyton Land Co., 73 Ala. 85.

754 (3490) (3831) (3398) 2946). Petition to set aside decree and defend on merits.—Such defendant may file a petition, showing sufficient cause for setting aside such decree and permitting him to defend the suit on the merits, at any time within such twelve months, unless he has been served with a copy of such decree, when such petition must be filed within six months from such service. If the parties have been dismissed, notice of such petition shall be given those in interest. Upon the hearing of such petition, the chancellor has full power to open the decree and proceed with the cause as if no decree had been rendered therein.*

When petition filed, during statutory period, showing sufficient cause, opening of decree a duty.—Lehman v. Collins, 69 Ala. 127. Appeal lies from order dismissing such petition.—Buford v. Ward, 108 Ala. 307.

755 (3491) (3832) (3399) (2947). When testimony on file used by either party.—In the case provided for in the preceding section, either party may use the testimony of witnesses on file in the cause, who have died, or removed from the state, or become insane.

756 (3492) (3835) (3402) (2950). When decree becomes conclusive.—Where personal service of a decree rendered under the provisions of this article is made by serving the defendant with a copy of such decree, the same is conclusive and binding on him, if the petition to set aside such decree is not made within six months from such service.

757 (3493) (3836) (3403) (2951). To whom preceding section not applicable.—The provisions of the preceding section do not apply to infants, or persons of unsound mind, who are allowed twelve months from the termination of their respective disabilities to show cause against such decrees.

758 (3494) (3833) (3400) (2948). Rights and liabilities of parties without service extend to representatives.—The rights and liabilities of any plaintiff or defendant on bills taken pro confesso, without personal service, extend to the personal representatives of any deceased plaintiff or defendant; and with reference to the altered state of the parties, and any new interest acquired, the chancellor may, on petition, upon due notice being given and sustained by proof, permit any party to file such bills and adopt such proceedings as the circumstances of the case may require for having the matter of the decree duly considered, and the rights of the parties interested therein duly ascertained and determined.

759 (3495) (3834) (3401) (2949). Execution of decrees on bills taken pro confesso without service.—It is no objection to the execution of a decree rendered against a defendant, that it was founded on a bill taken pro confesso without personal service; but before the execution of such decree, within twelve months from the rendition thereof, the plaintiff, or party interested, must give bond, with two sureties, payable to and approved by the register, in a penalty to be prescribed by the chancellor or such register, conditioned to pay the pecuniary value of the personal property which may be disposed of, or placed beyond the control of the court or party, by the execution of the decree, and interest thereon from the time such property is so disposed of, or placed beyond such control; and to account for the value, rents and profits of any real estate transferred by the operation of such decree, and further to abide and perform such decree as the court may render, if the decree taken on the bill pro confesso is set aside; and the chancellor may, if such decree is set aside, render a final decree against all the parties to such bond.

Statute construed and applied.—Hurt v. Blount, 63 Ala. 327; Holly v. Bass, 63 Ala. 387; Sayre v. Elyton Land Co., 73 Ala. 85; Lehman v. Collins, 69 Ala. 127. When sale under decree without compliance with statute not subject to collateral attack.—Seelye v. Smith, 85 Ala. 25.

ARTICLE 9.

BILLS OF REVIEW, NE EXEAT, EQUITABLE ATTACHMENTS, GARNISHMENTS AND WRITS OF SEIZURE.

760 (3496) (3842) (3404) (2952). Suspension of decree on presenting a bill of review.—When a decree has been rendered, and a bill of review is presented, the chancellor may direct the proceedings on such decree to be suspended until a decree is rendered on such bill of review, or until the further order of the court; requiring such bond of the plaintiff as will effectually protect the interest of the parties interested in the decree rendered; on which bond the chancellor may render a final decree for any portion, or the whole of the penalty.

Leave to file must be obtained.—Caller v. Shields, 2 Stew. & Port. 417.

Leave discretionary with chancellor.—P. & M. Bank v. Dundas, 10 Ala. 661; Murrell v. Smith, 51 Ala. 301. Notice of application for leave and waiver. Mitchell v. Hardie, 84 Ala. 349. Order of suspension inoperative after dismissal of bill of review.—Hogan v. Davis, 3 Ala. 70. Object and effect of bill of review, prayer and relief.—McCall v. McCurdy, 69 Ala. 65. May be filed only by parties to former suit or their privies.—Curry v. Peebles, 83 Ala. 225. Allegations of bill; precision required, and details of former suit.—Caller v. Shields, 2 Stew. & Port. 417; McDougald v. Dougherty, 39 Ala. 409; Goldsby v. Goldsby, 67 Ala. 560. Bill of review for error apparent.—Caller v. Shields, 2 Stew. & Port. 417; P. & M. Bank v. Dundas, 10 Ala. 661; McDougald v. Dougherty, 39 Ala. 409; Stallworth v. Blum, 50 Ala. 46; Noble v. Hallonquist, 53 Ala. 229; Bishop v. Wood, 59 Ala. 253; Tankersly v. Pettis, 61 Ala. 354; Gordon v. Ross, 63 Ala. 363; George v. George, 67 Ala. 192; Goldsby v. Goldsby, 67 Ala. 560; Cresswell v. Jones, 68 Ala. 420; McCall v. McCurdy, 69 Ala. 65; Ashford v. Patton, 70 Ala. 479; Banks v. Long, 79 Ala. 319; Hooper v. Hardie, 80 Ala. 114; Mitchel v. Hardie, 84 Ala. 349; Smyth v. Fitzsimmons, 97 Ala. 451; Cook v. Bolling, 99 Ala. 455; Thorington v. Thorington, 111 Ala. 237. Bill of review for newly-discovered evidence.—Caller v. Shields, 2 Stew. & Port. 417; Williams v. Murphy, 1 Port. 40; Bradshaw v. Garrett, 1 Port. 47; Cochran v. Rison, 20 Ala. 463; McDougald v. Dougherty, 39 Ala. 409; Murrell v. Smith, 51 Ala. 301; Banks v. Long, 79 Ala. 319; Wilson v. Wilson, Ala. (21 So. 67.) Original bill, in nature of bill of review, lies, without leave, to impeach decree for fraud.—Ex parte Smith, 34 Ala. 455; Stallworth v. Blum, 50 Ala. 46; Curry v. Peebles, 83 Ala. 225; McDonald v. Pearson, Ala. (21 So. 534.)

761 (3497) (3843) (3405) (2953). Application to file such bills, when made.—Application to file bills of review must be made within three years after the rendition of the decree, except in cases of infants and persons of unsound mind, who may apply within three years after the termination of their respective disabilities.

Not required to file bill within three years—only necessary to make application.—Mitchel v. Hardie, 84 Ala. 349. Exception in favor of infants.—Heflin v. Ashford, 85 Ala. 125. Infant may file bill to review decree founded on admissions of guardian ad litem.—Hooper v. Hardie, 80 Ala. 114. Limitation of three years applies by analogy to bills to impeach decree for fraud.—Gordon v. Ross, 63 Ala. 363.

762 (3498) (3844) (3406) (2954). Writ of ne exeat; equitable attachment.—Writs of ne exeat and equitable attachments may issue on equitable debts and demands in any case in which an attachment at law may issue; and in the issue of equitable attachments, and all the proceedings thereon, the provisions in relation to attachments from courts of law must be observed, except so far as may be otherwise provided in this chapter.

Ne exeat.—Lucas v. Hickman, 2 Stew. 111; Baker v. Rowan, 2 Stew. & Port. 361. Equitable attachment; order for writ must be obtained.—McKenzie v. Bentley, 30 Ala. 139. Statutory bond and affidavit and prayer for writ necessary.—Smith v. Moore, 35 Ala. 76. Affidavit of no intention to vex or harass defendant required.—Saunders v. Cavett, 38 Ala. 51. Writ may be sued out before maturity of demand.—Ware v. Seasongood, 92 Ala. 152. What may be reached.—Smith v. Moore, 37 Ala. 327; Dollins v. Lindsey, 89 Ala. 217.

763 (3499) (3845) (3407) (2955). Chancellors may examine answers in such cases in vacation.—Chancellors may, in vacation, examine all answers in relation to writs of ne exeat and attachments returnable into chancery, and writs of seizure, discharge, or reduce any bail taken, or levy made, on application and reasonable notice to the adverse party.

See citations to preceding section.

764 (3500) (3846) (3408) (2956). Attachments on legal demands to subject equitable effects.—Courts of chancery may also issue writs of attachment on legal demands, founded on any judgment or contract, express or implied, in such cases as attachments may issue from courts of law; which attachments operate only on the effects of the defendant held by an equitable title, or on demands owing by other persons, to which the defendant against whom the attachment issues is in equity entitled, whether due or not.

Will lie at suit of husband's creditor to reach improvements made by him on wife's land.—Ware v. Seasongood, 92 Ala. 152.

765 (3501) (3847) (3409) (2957). Attachments may issue before judgment for debt.—To authorize the issue of equitable attachments, it is not necessary that the demand of the plaintiff should be reduced to a judgment, but the court may render a decree for the amount proved, and execution may issue to enforce the same as from courts of law.

Demand need not be due.—Ware v. Seasongood, 92 Ala. 152.

766 (3502) (3848) (3410) (2958). Property to be specified. Equitable attachments must specify the property, effects, or demands, on which they are intended to operate; and a copy of the bill must, in such cases, be served with the summons.

767 (3503) (3849) (3411) (2959). Replevy of property attached. Any property levied on by an equitable attachment may be replevied by the defendant, or any one for him, on giving bond with surety in double the value of the property levied on, to be approved by the sheriff, payable to the plaintiff, and conditioned as replevy bonds on attachments from courts of law.

768 (3504) (3850) (3412) (2960). Replevy bond to be returned. When property levied on by an equitable attachment is replevied, the bond must be returned with the attachment.

769 (3505) (3851) (3413) (2961). Lien of such attachments. Equitable attachments are a lien upon the property or debts attached from the service of the attachment.

770 (3506) (3852) (3414) (2962). If property not delivered, execution issues on replevy bond.—If a decree is rendered in a case in which an equitable attachment has been levied, and the property replevied is not forthcoming within such time as the court may direct, to be proved by the affidavit of the party before the register, the replevy bond in such case has the force of a judgment, and execution may issue thereon for the whole, or any portion of the penalty, as the court may direct, against any or all of the parties thereto.

771 (3507) (3853) (3415) (2963). Writs of ne exeat and attachment; orders in respect to.—Chancellors, circuit judges and registers of the court in which the bill is filed, may make all necessary orders for the issuing of writs of ne exeat and equitable attachments, and for the sale of personal property levied on, as in like cases from courts of law; the money arising from such sale to be paid to the register.

772 (3508) (3854, 3855, 3856). Garnishments may issue.—On all decrees for the payment of money, or on all decrees for the payment of costs, and in all suits in which a decree for the payment of money may be rendered, a writ of garnishment may be issued by the register, under the rules and regulations prevailing in the circuit courts.

Writ reaches only demands and liabilities subject to same process at law. Jones v. Crews, 64 Ala. 368; Henderson v. Ala. Gold Life Ins. Co., 72 Ala. 32; Long v. Walker, 84 Ala. 72.

773 (3509) (3857) (3416) (2964). Writs of seizure in aid of suit commenced in chancery.—Writs may also issue from the courts of chancery on an original bill, or in aid of a suit pending in such court, by the order of any chancellor, judge of the circuit court, or register, for the seizure of personal property, when the same is claimed under an equitable title, or when a decree is sought against the same, and it is in danger of being wasted, carried beyond the jurisdiction of the court, or otherwise disposed of.

Writ of seizure substitute for injunction.—Walker v. Radford, 67 Ala. 446.

774 (3510) (3858) (3417) (2965). Affidavit to be made by plaintiff.—The plaintiff in such case must sustain his claim by affidavit, and give bond with surety, payable to the defendant, in double the value of the property, to be approved by the register, conditioned to pay all damages the defendant may sustain by the wrongful or vexatious suing out of such writ.

This section qualifies both 762 and 764.—Ware v. Seasongood, 92 Ala. 152.

775 (3511) (3859) (3418) (2966). Property restored on giving bond.—The officer executing such writ must restore the property seized to the defendant, on his giving bond in double the value of the same, with surety, to be approved by such officer, payable to the plaintiff, and conditioned to have such property forthcoming to answer the decree of the court.

776 (3512) (3860) (3419) (2967). When property delivered to plaintiff.—If the defendant neglects, for five days after the seizure of such property, to give such bond, the sheriff must deliver the same to the plaintiff, on his giving bond with surety in double the value of such property, to be approved by the sheriff, payable to the defendant, conditioned, if unsuccessful in his suit, to return such property within thirty days after its determination.

777 (3513) (3861) (3420) (2968). Return of writs and bonds. Such writs, with the proper return thereon, and the bonds taken under the provisions of either of the last two sections, must be returned to the register of the court from which the writ issues.

778 (3514) (3862) (3421) (2969). Decree when plaintiff sustains his claim.—If the claim of the plaintiff is sustained, the court may direct that if its decree in relation to such property is not performed within a specified time, execution may issue on the bond of the defendant for all, or such portion of its penalty as the court may determine under all the circumstances.

779 (3515) (3863) (3422) (2970). Liability of plaintiff and his sureties.—If the plaintiff is unsuccessful, and fails to deliver the property to the defendant within thirty days after the determination of the suit, he and his sureties are liable to an action, and, in case of a recovery, to damages, not exceeding fifty per centum on the value of the property.

780 (3516) (3864) (3423). Equitable attachment for benefit of surety in written contract.—A writ of attachment may be issued out of the court of chancery, on the application of any surety, indorser, accommodation drawer, acceptor, or maker of any bond, bill, or note, or other contract in writing, against the principal debtor, to be levied on the property or effects of the defendant, whether held by a legal or equitable title, whenever such surety, indorser, acceptor, maker, or drawer, could sue out an attachment at law, if he was a creditor of such principal debtor; and the provisions in reference to attachments at law must be observed in the issue of such attachments, and such writ of attachment may be granted by the register in chancery.

Peevey v. Cabaniss, 70 Ala. 253.

781 (3517) (3865) (3424). When such attachments may be dissolved.—When such attachments are sued out by any indorser, surety, acceptor, maker, or drawer, of any bond, bill, note, or other contract in writing, not due and payable, such attachment must be dissolved, on application to the chancellor, in vacation or term time, or by the register in vacation, on the principal debtor furnishing the complainant complete indemnity against his liability, and paying all costs which may have accrued on such attachment.

Peevey v. Cabaniss, 70 Ala. 253.

782 (3518) (3866) (3425). Decree in favor of surety.—No decree must be rendered in favor of the complainant in such attachment, until he has paid the debt for which he is liable as the surety, indorser, accommodation maker, drawer, or acceptor, of the defendant.

783 (3519). Creditor may intervene.—If the surety die before paying the debt, and there is not administration of his estate, or his personal representative fail or refuse for sixty days to revive the suit, the creditor may by petition intervene and prosecute the suit to a final decree in his own name, becoming liable for the costs as if he had been the original complainant.

Valid exercise of legislative power.—Peevey v. Cabaniss, 70 Ala. 253.

ARTICLE 10.

INJUNCTIONS.

784 (3520) (3867) (3426) (2971). By whom granted.—Injunctions may be granted, returnable into any of the courts of chancery in this state, by the judges of the supreme and circuit courts and chancellors.

Grantable by other judges when specially authorized, as for instance, judges of city and criminal courts.—Ex parte Greene, 29 Ala. 52; E. & W. R. Co. v. E. T. V. & G. R. Co., 75 Ala. 275; Ex parte Sayre, 95 Ala. 288; Cofer v. Schening, 98 Ala. 338.

785 (3521) (3868) (3427) (2972). Injunction of judgment a release of errors.—An injunction obtained by a defendant to a judgment at law, to stay proceeding thereon, operates as a release to errors as to such defendant.

Practice under statute of 1816, requiring release of errors to be filed. Cotton v. Wilson, Minor, 118; Bates v. P. & M. Bank, 9 Port. 376; Reynolds v. Pharr, 9 Ala. 560; Paulding v. Watson, 21 Ala. 279.

As amended Feb. 27, 1889, p. 116.

786 (3522) (3869) (3428) (2973). Bond on injunction of judgment.—No injunction must issue to stay proceedings after judgment, in a personal action, until the party at whose application the writ issues gives bond with surety, in double the amount of such judgment, payable to the opposite party, and approved by the register, conditioned, on the dissolution of such injunction, to pay the amount of the judgment enjoined with interest, and also such damages and costs as may be decreed against such party.

Within section, is injunction of statutory judgment by surety on claim bond.—Ex parte Fechheimer, 103 Ala. 154. But injunction of execution against or levy on particular property only, is not.—Dunn v. Bank, 2 Ala. 152; Wiswell v. Munroe, 4 Ala. 9; Bartlett v. Gayle, 6 Ala. 305; Halsey v. Murray, 112 Ala. 185. Neither is injunction of judgment by a stranger. Bartlett v. Gayle, 6 Ala. 305; Barnard v. Davis, 54 Ala. 565; Halsey v. Murray, 112 Ala. 185 (overruling McCalley v. Wilburn, 77 Ala. 549). Excess in penalty not destructive of effect as statutory bond.—Buckner v. Stewart, 34 Ala. 529. Injunction of judgment of supreme court.—Wiswell v. Munroe, 4 Ala. 9; Roebling Sons Co. v. Stevens El. Co., 93 Ala. 39. As means of obtaining equitable set-off.—Scholze v. Steiner, 100 Ala. 148; s. c., 105 Ala. 607; s. c., Ala. (21 So. 428). Venue of bill to enjoin judgment.—Shrader v. Walker, 8 Ala. 244; Butler v. Butler, 11 Ala. 668; Freeman v. McBroom, 11 Ala. 943; Eldridge v. Turner, 11 Ala. 1049; Branch Bank v. Rutledge, 13 Ala. 196; see also citations to section 676.

Ib.

787 (3523) (3870) (3429) (2974). Bond on injunction after recovery of lands.—No injunction must issue to stay proceedings at law after judgment, in any action for the recovery of lands, unless the party give bond with surety, payable to the opposite party, and approved by the register, in such sum as the officer granting the application directs, conditioned for the payment of the damages in such judgment, if enjoined, and also all damages and costs which the plaintiff in such judgment sustains by the suing out of such injunction, if the same is dissolved.

Ib.

788 (3524) (3871) (3430) (2975). Bond on injunction in other cases.—In other cases, the party must give bond with surety, in such sum as the officer granting the application directs, payable to the party against whom the application is granted, and approved by the register, and conditioned to pay all damages and costs which any person may sustain by the suing out of such injunction, if the same is dissolved.

Governs all cases not within 786 and 787.—Halsey v. Murray, 112 Ala. 185. Cited, Clay v. Powell, 85 Ala. 538. Writ without bond irregular.—Thorington v. Gould, 59 Ala. 461. But opportunity to give bond allowed before discharge of writ.—Jones v. Ewing, 56 Ala. 360. Form and construction of bond. Moore v. Harton, 1 Port. 15; Dubberly v. Black, 38 Ala. 193; Bolling v. Tate, 65 Ala. 417; Washington v. Timberlake, 74 Ala. 259; May v. Walter, 85 Ala. 438; Person v. Thornton, 86 Ala. 308. Without decree of dismissal of bill or dissolution, there is no breach.—Walter v. May, 85 Ala. 438. Such decree entitles defendant to at least nominal damages.—Rosser v. Timberlake, 78 Ala. 162. And counsel fees paid or incurred in procuring dissolution.—Garrett v. Hill, 19 Ala. 344; Holmes v. Weaver, 52 Ala. 516; Robertson v. Robertson, 58 Ala. 68; Bolling v. Tate, 65 Ala. 417; Rosser v. Timberlake, 78 Ala. 162. And sometimes for fees for whole case.—Jackson v. Millspaugh, 100 Ala. 285. Whether rendered in chancery or supreme court, or both.—Bolling v. Tate, 65 Ala. 417; Cooper v. Hames, 93 Ala. 280. But not for services gratuitously performed.—Schening v. Cofer, 97 Ala. 726. How and in whose name action to be brought.—Smith v. Mutual Loan & Trust Co., 102 Ala. 282. Recovery of separate damages.—Weeden v. Jones, 106 Ala. 336.

789 (3533) (3880) (3440) (2985). Notice of injunction to stay a judgment served on the attorney is valid.—Notices of injunctions, or other restraining process, staying proceedings in suits or on judgments at law, served upon the attorney of the party on whom such injunction or process is to operate, are valid.

790 (3525) (3872) (3431) (2976). Application for injunction refused; how renewed; when refusal final.—If any application is made to a circuit judge for an injunction, and refused, no other circuit judge can act on the application, but the application may be made to a chancellor or judge of the supreme court; if refused by a chancellor, it may be renewed to a judge of the supreme court, but no other officer; and, if refused by a judge of the supreme court, cannot be renewed.

791 (3526) (3873) (3432) (2977). Application to justice of supreme court.—No application must be made to a judge of the supreme court for an injunction, or other equitable process which may be granted by any other judge or officer, unless the same has been made to such other judge or officer, and refused by him.

792 (3527) (3874) (3433) (2978). Refusal to grant injunction indorsed on bill.—When an application for an injunction is refused, the officer to whom the same is made must indorse his refusal on the bill, and sign his name thereto; and any one erasing such indorsement is guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, must be fined not less than five hundred dollars.

793 (3528) (3875) (3434) (2979). On dissolution of injunction, damages granted for delay.—Whenever an injunction to stay proceedings in an action is dissolved on a final hearing, the chancellor may decree six per centum damages on the amount of money for which such judgment was enjoined, if of opinion that the injunction was obtained for delay.

Applies only to injunction of judgments.—Halsey v. Murray, 112 Ala. 185. Damages decreed only when allegations of bill untrue or evasive.—Crawford v. Bank, 5 Ala. 55; Mallory v. Matlock, 10 Ala. 595; Weissinger v. Johnson, 13 Ala. 93; Contra, Wharton v. Jones, 49 Ala. 102, where damages decreed on dismissal for want of equity.

794 (3529) (3876) (3435) (2980). Effect of bond on dissolution of injunction of a judgment; execution.—A bond to enjoin proceedings at law on a judgment for money, upon the dissolution thereof, in whole or in part, either upon an interlocutory or final decree, has the force and effect of a judgment; and being certified by the register to the clerk of the court in which the judgment was rendered, execution may issue against any or all the obligors thereto, for the amount of such judgment which has been enjoined, interest and the damages decreed.

Applies only to bonds given on injunction of judgments by person liable therefor.—Halsey v. Murray, 112 Ala. 185 (overruling McCalley v. Wilburn, 77 Ala. 549). When the statutory judgment will not be enjoined.—Knabe v. Rice, 106 Ala. 516. Certificate of register not essential to execution.—Wiswell v. Munroe, 4 Ala. 9; Dubberly v. Black, 38 Ala. 193.

795 (3530) (3877) (3436) (2981). Execution for costs.—The register may also issue execution for costs, if decreed against the party obtaining the injunction, against any or all the parties to the bond.

General, not confined to injunction of judgments.—Newsom v. Thornton, 61 Ala. 95.

796 (3531) (3878) (3437) (2982). If injunction of judgment is dissolved pending suit, refunding bond required.—When an interlocutory decree is made dissolving an injunction to stay proceedings on a judgment at law, the chancellor must require of the defendant a refunding bond, in double the amount of the sum enjoined, payable to, and to be approved by the register, conditioned to refund the money and interest he may collect on the judgment, if the same is, on the final hearing of the bill, perpetually enjoined; and the court may render a final decree on such bond against any or all the parties thereto.

Only applicable to injunction of judgments by person liable therefor. Halsey v. Murray, 112 Ala. 185. Cases wherein refunding bond was required. McLaughlin v. McLaughlin, 36 Ala. 145; Robertson v. Walker, 51 Ala. 484; Barnard v. Davis, 54 Ala. 565; Rice v. Tobias, 83 Ala. 348; Dexter v. Ohlander, 95 Ala. 467; Rogers v. Haines, 96 Ala. 586; Jackson v. Elliott, 100 Ala. 669.

797 (3532) (3879) (3438) (2983). Motion to dissolve or discharge in vacation.—A defendant may, in vacation, upon ten days' notice to the complainant or his solictor, move, before the chancellor of the division in which the bill is filed, to dissolve an injunction for want of equity in the bill or on the coming in of the answer, or to discharge an injunction, to be heard on the original papers or certified copies thereof; and motions to discharge and dissolve may be made and heard at the same time, without prejudice to either.

When notice of motion void for uncertainty.—Florence v. Paschal, 48 Ala. 458. Motion may be heard out of division.—Griffin v. Branch Bank, 9 Ala. 201. When may be renewed.—Hudson v. Crutchfield, 12 Ala. 433. Right of party in contempt to make motion.—Jacoby v. Goetter, 74 Ala. 427; Crabtree v. Baker, 75 Ala. 91. Difference between motion to discharge and motion to dissolve.—Jones v. Ewing, 56 Ala. 360; E. & W. R. Co. v. E. T. V. & G. R. Co., 75 Ala. 275; Ex parte Sayre, 95 Ala. 288; Ex parte Fechheimer, 103 Ala. 154. Motion to discharge proper when injunction irregularly granted.—Jones v. Ewing, 56 Ala. 360; E. & W. R. Co. v. E. T. V. & G. R. Co., 75 Ala. 275. Writ will not be discharged for defective verification of bill until opportunity given to supply sufficient affidavit.—Calhoun v. Cozens, 3 Ala. 498; Jacoby v. Goetter, 74 Ala. 427; Forney v. Calhoun Co., 84 Ala. 215. Issuance of writ without bond, irregular.—Thorington v. Gould, 59 Ala. 461. Proper order in such case.—Jones v. Ewing, 56 Ala. 360. Formerly, motion to discharge would not lie, in vacation.—Ex parte Sayre, 95 Ala. 288. Motion to dissolve in vacation made only for want of equity in bill or upon denials of answer.—Jones v. Ewing, 56 Ala. 360; E. & W. R. Co. v. E. T. V. & G. R. Co., 75 Ala. 275; Ex parte Sayre, 95 Ala. 288. When submission on final hearing, improper merely to dissolve injunction, without making final decree.—Trump v. McDonnell, 112 Ala. 256. When bill wanting in equity, injunction dissolved, whether answer admits or denies allegations of bill.—Nelson v. Dunn, 15 Ala. 501; Cave v. Webb, 22 Ala. 583; Powell v. 800 (3535) (639, 640) (730, 731). Appointment by register; suspension of order.—When an order appointing a receiver is made by the register, it shall be subject to appeal to the chancellor, which may be heard in term time or vacation; and such order must be suspended whenever the appellant enters into bond with sufficient sureties, to be approved by the register, in such sum as he shall prescribe, payable to the appellee, and conditioned to pay the appellee all such costs and damages as he may sustain in case the appeal is not prosecuted to effect.

On appeal, hearing is de novo and additional affidavits, etc., receivable. Heard v. Murray, 93 Ala. 127; Werborn v. Kahn, 93 Ala. 201; Etowah M. Co. v. Wills Valley M. & M. Co., 106 Ala. 492. Denial of motion to vacate appointment not appealable.—Miller v. Lehman, 87 Ala. 517.

801. Complainant must give bond before appointment of receiver. When application is made to the chancellor or register for the appointment of a receiver, such chancellor or register must, before making such appointment, require the complainant to enter into bond with surety, in such sum as the chancellor or register may prescribe, payable to the opposite party, and approved by the register, with condition to pay all damages which any person may sustain by the appointment of the receiver, if such appointment is vacated. Feb. 18, 1895, p. 585, §1.

Statute mandatory.—Capital City Water Co. v. Weatherly, 108 Ala. 412; Dreyspring v. Loeb, Ala. (21 So. 73).

802. Any person damaged may sue on bond.—Any person damaged by the appointment of the receiver, in the event such appointment is vacated, may recover, by suit upon such bond, in his own name, all damages so sustained, not exceeding the penalty of the bond. Ib. §2.

803. Receiver may be sued without leave of court.—A receiver or manager of property, appointed by any court, may be sued in respect to any act or transaction of his, in carrying on the business connected with such property in this state, without the previous leave of the court in which such receiver or manager was appointed.* Feb. 18, 1895, p. 100

804. Service of process on receivers.—In suits at law or in equity against foreign or domestic receivers holding, owning, claiming or operating property in this state, the summons or summons and complaint may be executed by the delivery of a copy thereof to the receiver if he is found within the state; or, upon affidavit being made by the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, that the receiver cannot be found within the state, then service may be had by leaving a copy of the summons, or, if the action be at law, a copy of the summons and complaint, with any agent in the employ of such receiver; and if there be two or more receivers of the same estate, firm, person, or corporation, service upon one of such receivers, or his agent as herein provided, is sufficient. Dec. 14, 1894, p. 158.

BILLS TO CORRECT ERRORS IN SETTLEMENTS IN THE PROBATE COURT.

805 (3536) (3837) (2274) (1915). Bill in chancery to correct settlements; when to be filed.—When any error of law or fact has occurred in the settlement of any estate of a decedent, to the injury of any party, without any fault or neglect on his part, such party may correct such error by bill in chancery, within two years after the final settlement thereof; and the evidence filed in the court of probate in relation to such settlement must be received as evidence in the court of chancery, with such other evidence as may be adduced; and a failure to appeal from the decree of the probate court shall not be held to be such fault or neglect as will bar the complainant of the remedy herein provided.

Last clause, declaring effect of failure to appeal, first appeared in Code of 1886.—Hall v. Pegram, 85 Ala. 522. Effect of that clause not decided; s. c. Under section 3837 of Code of 1876, it was firmly settled that judgments of probate courts are of equal dignity with judgments at law, and to open them in equity required same grounds as in cases of judgments at law: (1) Injury to complainant.—Boswell v. Townsend, 57 Ala. 308; Massey v. Modawell, 73 Ala. 421; Waldron v. Waldron, 76 Ala. 285. (2) Absence of fault or neglect of party complaining.—Robertson v. Walker, 51 Ala. 484; Boswell v. Townsend, 57 Ala. 308; Lyne v. Wann, 72 Ala. 43; Stoudenmire v. DeBardelaben, 72 Ala. 300; Cawthorne v. Jones, 73 Ala. 82; Vincent v. Martin, 79 Ala. 540. (3) Special ground of relief, as fraud, accident, or mistake.—Otis v. Dargan, 53 Ala. 178; Waring v. Lewis, 53 Ala. 615; Gamble v. Jordan, 54 Ala. 432; Paulling v. Creagh, 54 Ala. 646; Stabler v. Cook, 57 Ala. 22; Bowden v. Perdue, 59 Ala. 409; Lowe v. Guice, 69 Ala. 80; Hatcher v. Dillard, 70 Ala. 343; Alexander v. Alexander, 70 Ala. 357; Humphreys v. Burleson, 72 Ala. 1; Foxworth v. Rice, 106 Ala. 516. Error alone not sufficient.—Cowan v. Jones, 27 Ala. 317. Bill would not lie for set-off, which should have been presented in probate court.—Duckworth v. Duckworth, 35 Ala. 70; Wilson v. Randall, 37 Ala. 74. Settlements in probate court held conclusive on minors represented by guardian ad litem.—Waring v. Lewis, 53 Ala. 615; Stabler v. Cook, 57 Ala. 22; Jones v. Fellows, 58 Ala. 343; Watts v. Frazer, 80 Ala. 186. When not so represented, settlement voidable.—Hutton v. Williams, 60 Ala. 133; Cox v. Johnson, 80 Ala. 22; Turrentine v. Daly, 82 Ala. 205. Instances of fraud relieved against.—Mock v. Steele, 34 Ala. 198; Morrow v. Allison, 39 Ala. 70; Humphreys v. Burleson, 72 Ala. 1; Watts v. Frazer, 80 Ala. 186. See also Meadows v. Edwards, 46 Ala. 354; Monnin v. Beroujon, 51 Ala. 196, in connection with later decisions. Limitation of two years.—Ansley v. King, 35 Ala. 278; Baldwin v. Dening, 51 Ala. 553. When not applicable.—Millsap v. Stanley, 50 Ala. 319.

806 (3537) (3838) (2275) (1916). Infants, etc., allowed longer time.—The limitations of the preceding section do not extend to infants or persons of unsound mind, who are allowed two years after the termination of their respective disabilities, but in no case to exceed twenty years.

807 (3538) (3839) (2451) (2041). Settlements by guardians may be corrected.—Errors of law or fact in the settlement of accounts of guardians may be corrected in chancery according to the provisions of the two preceding sections.

See citations to section 805.

808 (3539) (3840, 3841). Irregular sales of lands under decrees of court of probate may be confirmed.—Sales of lands made under a decree of the court of probate, the parties in interest having had legal notice of the proceedings in which the decree was rendered, which are invalid because of errors, omissions, or irregularities in the proceedings in the court of probate, may be confirmed by a decree of the court of chancery, if it be shown that the lands were sold for their full value, which has been fully paid to the party entitled to receive it.

Proof that lands sold for full value essential.—Ganey v. Sikes, 76 Ala. 421; s. c., 84 Ala. 348.

ARTICLE 13.

BILLS TO COMPEL THE DETERMINATION OF CLAIMS TO LANDS AND TO QUIET TITLE.

809. Person in possession of and claiming lands may file bill to clear title.—When any person is in peaceable possession of lands, whether actual or constructive, claiming to own the same, and his title thereto, or to any part thereof, is denied or disputed, or any other person claims or is reputed to own the same, or any part thereof, or any interest therein, or to hold any lien or incumbrance thereon, and no suit is pending to enforce or test the validity of such title, claim or incumbrance, such person so in possession may bring and maintain a suit in equity to settle the title to such lands, and to clear up all doubts or disputes concerning the same. Dec. 10, 1892, p. 42, §1.

Object of suit.—Ward v. Janney, 104 Ala. 122; Cheney v. Nathan, 110 Ala. 254.

810. Contents of bill.—The bill must describe the lands with certainty, must allege the possession and ownership of the complainant and that the defendant claims or is reputed to claim some right, title, or interest in or incumbrance upon such lands, and must call upon him to set forth and specify his title, claim, interest or incumbrance, and how and by what instrument the same is derived and created. Ib.

Insufficient description of land.—Ward v. Janney, 104 Ala. 122.

811. Contents of answer.—If the defendant shall answer claiming any estate or interest in, or incumbrance upon such lands, he must, in such answer, specify and set forth the title, claim, interest or incumbrance so claimed, and if not claimed in or upon the whole of the lands, he must specify and describe, with sufficient certainty, the part in or upon which the same is claimed, and the manner in which and the sources through which such title, claim, interest or incumbrance is claimed to be derived and created. Ib. §8.

When affirmative relief not granted to defendant on answer alone.—Cheney v. Nathan, 110 Ala. 254.

812. Jury trial on demand; decree.—Upon the application of either party, a trial by jury shall be directed to determine the issues, or any specified issue, of fact presented by the pleadings; and the court is bound by the result, but may, for sufficient reasons, order a new trial thereof; and when such trial is not requested, or as to the Ib. §§4, 5.

facts for which the same is not requested, the court shall consider and determine such title, claim, interest or incumbrance, and shall, upon the finding of the jury, or upon such consideration and determination, finally adjudge and decree whether the defendant has any right, title, or interest in, or incumbrance upon such lands, or any part thereof, and what such right, title, interest or incumbrance is, and in or upon what part of the lands the same exists; and such decree is binding and conclusive upon all the parties to the suit.

Decree.—Cheney v. Nathan, 110 Ala. 254.

Ib. §2. 813. Decree when defendant fails to answer, or disclaims interest; costs.—No decree for costs shall be had against a defendant who suffers a decree pro confesso against him, or who, in his answer, disclaims all title to, interest in, or incumbrance on such lands; but the court shall, in such cases, without further proof, decree that such defendant has no estate or interest in, or incumbrance on, such lands, or any part thereof; and any defendant who shall, by answer under oath, deny that he claims, or ever has claimed or pretended to have any estate, interest, or incumbrance in or upon such lands or any part thereof, shall be entitled to recover his costs in the suit.

ARTICLE 14.

CREDITORS' BILLS.

814 (3540) (3882) (3442) (2987). Creditors' bills to enforce collection of judgments.—When an execution for money from any court has been issued against a defendant, and is not satisfied, the plaintiff, or the person for whose benefit such execution is sued out, may file a bill in chancery against such defendant to compel the discovery of any property belonging to him, or held in trust for him; and to prevent the transfer, payment, or delivery thereof to such defendant, except when the trust has been created by, or proceeded from some other person than the defendant himself; and the court may bring any other party before it, and decree such property, or the interest of the defendant therein, to the satisfaction of the sum due the plaintiff.

The chancery court had original jurisdiction at suit of judgment creditor: (1) Without return of nulla bona to reach property fraudulently conveyed on which judgment or execution was a lien; (2) to reach equitable assets not subject at law, after exhaustion of legal remedies.—Morgan v. Crab, 3 Port. 470; Roper v. McCook, 7 Ala. 318; P. & M. Bank v. Walker, 7 Ala. 926; Brown v. Bates, 10 Ala. 432; Dargan v. Waring, 11 Ala. 988; Reese v. Bradford, 13 Ala. 837; Sanders v. Watson, 14 Ala. 198; Holt v. Bancroft, 30 Ala. 193; Evans v. Welch, 63 Ala. 250; Lehman v. Meyer, 67 Ala. 396; Cawthorn v. Jones, 73 Ala. 82; Mathews v. Mobile Ins. Co., 75 Ala. 85; Chardavoyne v. Galbraith, 81 Ala. 521; Carter v. Coleman, 82 Ala. 177. While statute declaratory of existing jurisdiction, it extended remedy by allowing general allegations of interests sought to be reached.—Brown v. Bates, 10 Ala. 432; Floyd v. Floyd, 77 Ala. 353; Martin v. Carter, 90 Ala. 96. Several creditors, by judgment or decree, may join as complainants, or one or more may proceed for themselves and others of the defined class.—Brown v. Bates, 10 Ala. 432. Allegation and proof of return of nulla bona, when necessary under this statute.—Brown v. Bates, 10 Ala. 432; Pharis v. Leachman, 20 Ala. 662; Nix v. Winter, 35 Ala. 309; Mixon v. Dunklin, 48 Ala. 455. Filing of bill followed by service constitutes equitable levy, giving complainant a lien.—Dargan v. Waring, 11

Ala. 988. Judgment creditor has election to file bill or sell under execution. Betts v. Nichols, 84 Ala. 278; Ladd v. Smith, 107 Ala. 506.

815 (3541) (3883) (3443) (2988). Bill for discovery of collusive judgments or fraudulent conveyances.—A bill for discovery may be filed, and the defendant compelled to answer such bill, when the defendant is charged with having confessed or suffered a judgment, where no portion or a part only of such judgment is due, with the intent to hinder, delay, or defraud creditors, or with having conveyed his property with the like intent.

816 (3542) (3884) (3444) (2989). Answers to such bills compelled.—A defendant may be compelled to answer a bill in chancery, charging him with any fraud affecting the rights or property of others.

817 (3543) (3885) (3445) (2990). Not evidence on indictment for fraud.—No answer made to a bill under the provisions of the two preceding sections can be read in evidence against the defendant, on an indictment for any fraud charged in the bill.

818 (3544) (3886) (3446). Creditor without lien may subject property fraudulently transferred.—A creditor without a lien may file a bill in chancery to discover or to subject to the payment of his debt any property which has been fraudulently transferred or conveyed, or attempted to be fraudulently transferred or conveyed by his debtor.

Before enactment of statute, simple contract creditors could not maintain such bill.—Reese v. Bradford, 13 Ala. 837; Sanders v. Watson, 14 Ala. 198; Turney v. Morrow, 26 Ala. 339; Smith v. 819 (3545) (3887). Bill of discovery by creditor.—A creditor, having obtained a judgment at law upon which execution has issued and been returned "no property found," or a creditor without a lien or judgment, may, in the court of chancery of the district in which the judgment debtor resides, or in the court of chancery of the district in which the judgment was rendered, file a bill for the discovery of the assets of the debtor subject to the payment of debts; and the debtor must answer on oath, and disclose all property, real or personal, in which he may have, or may claim an interest, legal or equitable; all moneys, effects, or choses in action, in which he may have, or may claim an interest, legal or equitable; where such property, real or personal, is situate, or may be found; who has, or may claim possession thereof; in whose possession are the moneys, effects, or choses in action, in which he has, or may claim an interest, legal or equitable, and where such moneys, effects, or choses in action may be found.

McKenzie, 96 Ala. 465. This statute confers new jurisdiction.—Ex parte Hardy, 68 Ala. 303.

As amended Feb. 28, 1889, p. 96.

820 (3546). Several creditors may join in such bill; assignee of judgment may file.—Any number of judgment creditors upon whose judgments executions have issued and been returned "no property found," or creditors without liens or judgments, may join as complainants in such bill. The assignee of a judgment, or the several assignees of several judgments, may maintain such bill. It is no objection to such bill that judgment creditors, and creditors without liens or judgments, and the assignees of judgments, or any two or more of them, are joined as complainants therein.*

Prior to amendment of Feb. 28, 1889, several creditors without lien could not unite in bill.—M. & F. Ry. Co. v. McKenzie, 85 Ala. 546. May now do so.—Tower Mfg. Co. v. Thompson, 90 Ala. 129. Not unconstitutional as impairing right of trial by jury.—Cook v. N. Y. Conds. Milk Co., 100 Ala. 580.

821 (3547) (3888). Orders; decrees.—If from the answer it appears that the defendant has property, real or personal, or an interest in property, real or personal, subject to the payment of debts; or has moneys, effects, or choses in action, or an interest in moneys, effects, or choses in action, subject to the payment of debts, whether such property, moneys, effects, or choses in action, be within or without the state, the court, in term time or in vacation, must make all such orders or decrees as may be necessary and proper to reach and subject such property, moneys, effects, or choses in action, and for that purpose may appoint a receiver with authority to demand, sue for and recover, or otherwise to reduce to possession such property, moneys, effects, or choses in action; and may require the debtor to make to such receiver all conveyances, assignments, or transfers, which may be necessary and proper to enable him to receive, or to sue for and recover such property.

time or in vacation, may order an examination of the debtor before the register, or before an examiner specially appointed, touching and concerning his property, real or personal, moneys, effects, or choses in action; and it is the duty of the debtor to attend at the time and place to which he may be summoned by the register or examiner, and submit to such examination. The provisions of this section apply to any bill filed under this article.*

Feb. 18, 1895. p. 881.

823. Judgment creditor of corporation may file bill against one or more stockholders.—A judgment creditor of a corporation, having an execution returned "no property found," may, by bill in equity, subject to the payment of his judgment, the unpaid subscription of one or more stockholders in such corporation, without joining the other stockholders, and without regard to whether the corporation has called for such subscription, or could maintain suit therefor against the stockholder.

ISSUES OUT OF CHANCERY.

824 (3585) (3890) (3463) (3001). Trial of issues of fact.—An issue of fact, directed to be tried by a jury, may be tried by a jury summoned to attend the court of chancery, or may be certified for trial to the circuit court of the district. A change of the venue of the trial may be had for good cause shown to the chancellor, as in civil cases in courts of common law.

Order directing issue is interlocutory.—Dabbs v. Dabbs, 27 Ala. 646. Purpose of jury trial, and when directed.—Kennedy v. Kennedy, 2 Ala. 572; Alexander v. Alexander, 5 Ala. 517; Atwood v. Smith, 11 Ala. 894; Adams v. Munter, 74 Ala. 338; Rice v. Tobias, 83 Ala. 348; Mathews v. Forniss, 91 Ala. 157. On contest of will jury trial matter of right.—Hill v. Barge, 12 Ala. 687. Except in issues of devastavit vel non, trial by jury discretionary with chancellor.—Alexander v. Alexander, 5 Ala. 517; Anonymous, 35 Ala. 226; Adams v. Munter, 74 Ala. 338; Rice v. Tobias, 83 Ala. 348. Should not be ordered before evidence taken.—Johnston v. Hainesworth, 6 Ala. 443; Rice v. Tobias, 83 Ala. 348. When reference to register, instead of issue to a jury, proper.—Springle v. Shields, 17 Ala. 295. Verdict merely advisory, and may be disregarded.—Marshal v. Croom, 60 Ala. 121; Adams v. Munter, 74 Ala. 338; Mathews v. Forniss, 91 Ala. 157. Will be disregarded when case did not authorize directing of issue.—Atwood v. Smith, 11 Ala. 894. New trial, practice and principles.—Alexander v. Alexander, 5 Ala. 517; Dabbs v. Dabbs, 27 Ala. 646; Adams v. Munter, 74 Ala. 338. Questions arising on trial may not be reserved by bill of exceptions.—Alexander v. Alexander, 5 Ala. 517; Barnett v. M. & E. R. Co., 51 Ala. 555; Mathews v. Forniss, 91 Ala. 157.

825 (3586) (3891) (3464) (3002). Evidence in such trials; parties examined.—Such issue must be tried upon the like evidence as a suit at law, together with such parts of the bill, answers, depositions, and other proceedings in the cause as the court may order; and the court may also order the examination of the parties to the suit, allowing the other party to impeach or contradict such evidence.

826 (3587) (3892) (3465) (3003). Proceedings to summon jury, etc., before chancellor.—If such issue is to be tried before the chancellor, he may make the necessary order for a jury to be summoned, and witnesses to be subpœnaed by the register of the district in which the trial is to be had; and render judgments, conditional and absolute, as the law directs.

827 (3589) (3894) (3467). Pay of jurors and how taxed.—In all cases in which jurors are summoned to attend upon the chancery courts, they must be allowed the same compensation as jurors attending upon the circuit courts, to be taxed and collected as other costs in the case in which they are called to serve as jurors.

828 (3588) (3893) (3466). Practice in partition suits when title or adverse claim involved.—In suits for partition of lands, either by metes and bounds, or by sale for division when the same cannot be equitably partitioned among the owners, if the defendant denies the title of the complainant, or asserts an adverse claim or title in himself, the chancellor need not dismiss the bill, but may direct the issue as to the title of the complainant, or as to such adverse claim or title of the defendant, to be tried as other issues of fact are triable, according to the three sections next preceding; but if neither party to the suit demands a jury, the chancellor shall try such issue as to the title of complainant, or as to such adverse claim or title of defendant, together with the other facts or issues of the case.

As amended Nov. 25, 1896, p. 11.

Prior to original statute (Acts 1857–8, p. 294) the practice in partition suits was to stay proceedings and direct trial of title at law.—Horton v. Sledge, 29 Ala. 478; Harrison v. Taylor, 111 Ala. 317. The statute authorized the jury trial to be had in chancery.—Ormond v. Martin, 37 Ala. 598. Before amendments of January 31, 1895 (Acts 1894–5, p. 331), and of November 26, 1896 (Acts of 1896–7, p. 11), the statute (Code of 1886, section 3588) was confined to bills for partition by metes and bounds.—McMath v. DeBardelaben, 75 Ala. 68; Keaton v. Terry, 93 Ala. 85; Ferris v. Montgomery L. & I. Co., 94 Ala. 557; Sibley v. Alba, 95 Ala. 191; Gore v. Dickinson, 98 Ala. 363. And the chancery court could not entertain jurisdiction to sell land for division, if adversely held. McEvoy v. Leonard, 89 Ala. 455; Sellers v. Friedman, 100 Ala. 499 (overruling McQueen v. Turner, 91 Ala. 273); Kilgore v. Kilgore, 103 Ala. 614; Davis v. Bingham, 111 Ala. 292; although jurisdiction was not ousted by mere adverse claim, without adverse possession.—Sherer v. Garrison, 111 Ala. 228; Hillens v. Brinsfield, 108 Ala. 605. Section 3588, Code of 1886, was held not applicable to contest between complainant and stranger alleged to have no interest. Bullock v. Knox, 96 Ala. 195.

ARTICLE 16.

RELIEVING INFANTS OF DISABILITIES OF NON-AGE.

829 (2357) (2735). When chancery may relieve from disabilities of non-age.—The several chancery courts of the state, in term time, or the chancellors in vacation, are authorized to relieve minors over eighteen years of age from the disabilities of non-age, in the following cases, and none other:

1. Whenever the father of such minor, or the mother, if the father is dead, shall petition the court in writing, praying that such minor be relieved from the disabilities of non-age, and the court shall be satisfied that it is to the interest of such minor.

2. Whenever any such minor, having no father, mother, or guardian, shall petition the court to be relieved of the disabilities of non-age, and the court shall be satisfied that it is to the interest of such minor.

3. Whenever such minor, having no father or mother, but having a guardian, shall petition the chancery court to be relieved from the disabilities, and the guardian shall join in such petition, and the court shall be satisfied that it is to the interest of such minor.

Jurisdiction special and limited; recitals of jurisdictional facts impeachable collaterally by extrinsic evidence.—Cox v. Johnston, 80 Ala. 22.

830 (2358) (2736). Where petition filed.—The petition must be filed in the district in which the parent or guardian of such minor resides, when the petition is filed by the parent or guardian; and in the district where the minor resides, when the petition is filed by a minor who has no parent or guardian, or whose parents reside beyond the limits of the state.

If infant has guardian, petition must be joint and signed by both.—Cox v. Johnston, 80 Ala. 22.

831 (2359) (2737). Notice given by register.—Whenever the petition is filed by a parent who is the guardian of a minor, or by a minor and the guardian, it shall be the duty of the register to give notice of the filing of such petition in some newspaper published in the district, and if no newspaper is published in such district, then in such manner as may be prescribed by the chancellor in vacation; and such notice shall be given once a week for three successive weeks before the time of hearing such petition.*

832 (2360) (2738). Who may contest; evidence, how taken.—Upon the hearing of all such petitions, any person may contest the granting of the same, upon giving security for costs of such contest. All evidence touching such petitions shall be taken in such manner as may be directed by the court, or the chancellor in vacation.

833 (2361) (2739). Decree and its effect.—If, on the hearing of the evidence adduced, and upon such other evidence as may be required by the court, the court shall be satisfied that it will be to the interest of such minor to be relieved from the disabilities, the court shall thereupon decree accordingly, and such decree shall have the effect of investing such minor with the right to sue and be sued, contract and be contracted with, to buy, sell and convey real estate, and generally to do and perform all acts which such minor could lawfully do if twenty-one years of age, except as hereinafter provided.

834 (2362) (2740). Court may restrict rights of minor.—The court, in rendering its decree, may, if it deem it advisable, restrict and qualify the rights of minors relieved from the disabilities of non-age, as to acquittances to, and contracts with guardians, executors, administrators, trustees, and other persons indebted to such minors, to such an extent as to the court may seem proper in each particular case; and such restrictions shall be fully set forth in the decree relieving such minor from the disabilities of non-age.

835 (2363) (2741). Copy of decree filed with judge of probate for record.—Every minor, relieved of the disabilities of non-age under the provisions of this article, must file a certified copy of the decree relieving him from such disabilities in the office of the judge of probate in each of the counties in which such minor shall thereafter reside, and in the office of the judge of probate of each county in the state where such minor shall do any business or make any contracts; and it shall be the duty of the judge of probate to record the decree and keep the same for the inspection of the public.*

ARTICLE 17.

PROTECTION OF ESTATES OF INTEMPERATE PERSONS.

836 (2502) (2815) (2399). Bill by relatives of intemperate. When any man, over twenty-one years of age, or any man under twenty-one years of age who has been relieved of the disabilities of non-age, is, by reason of intemperance, unfit to manage his estate, or is wasting or squandering it, and thereby in danger of being reduced to poverty and want, his wife or brother or sister or next of kin, or any or either of them, may themselves, or by their next friend, if minors, file their bill in chancery to preserve the estate of such intemperate person from further waste, and for general relief.

Statute confers new jurisdiction and is strictly construed.—Jones v. Semple, 91 Ala. 182. Father as next of kin may file bill although inebriate has other relatives first mentioned.—Pinkston v. Semple, 92 Ala. 564.

837 (2503) (2816) (2400). Allegations of bill; decree.—The bill provided for in the preceding section must specify the cause for which relief is prayed, and the estate proposed to be secured, and such person of intemperate habits must be made a party defendant thereto; if the allegations of the bill are admitted, either expressly or by a failure to answer thereto, or it is established by proof that the allegations of the bill are true, and that such person is wasting his estate, or is for the cause alleged unfit for its management, so that such person will probably be reduced to want, the chancellor must deprive him of all further control over it, and provide for its safekeeping by the appointment of a trustee, who shall give bond in double the value of the estate committed to him, to be approved by the register.*

Decree operates only on property specified in bill—subsequently acquired property and general power to contract debts not affected.—Jones v. Semple, 91 Ala. 182. After decree, sale by inebriate of property specified, even with consent of trustee who receives purchase-money and to one without notice of the proceeding, is void.—Pinkston v. Semple, 92 Ala. 564.

838 (2505) (2818) (2402). Security of estate pending suit. Pending such suit the chancellor must, by injunction or otherwise, secure the estate against further waste; but no such decree affects the rights of creditors acquired previously to the institution of the suit.

839 (2504) (2817) (2401). Duty of trustee.—The trustee appointed under this article must manage and superintend the affairs of the estate, and, from the avails thereof, provide for the support of such intemperate person, and his wife and children, if any, which support must be suitable to the means and estate of such intemperate person.

Power of trustee terminates with death of ward, liability to account remaining.—Ex parte Williams, 87 Ala. 547.

840 (2506) (2819) (2403). Restoration of estate.—On the petition of the person whose estate has been committed to the control of a trustee, and on notice to such trustee, and on satisfactory proof of the reformation of such intemperate person, and of his fitness to have charge of his estate, the chancellor must order it to be restored to him.

841. Jurisdiction; management and settlement of trust.—The chancery court making such appointment may direct and control the trustee in the management of the trust estate, and has jurisdiction of the settlements, partial and final, of his accounts.

842. Settlements.—The trustee must, at least once in three years, make partial settlement of his accounts, and may be required to do so at any time; and on the termination of the trust, he, or if he be dead, his personal representative, must make final settlement thereof, such settlements to be governed by the provisions of this Code regulating settlements of guardians' accounts in the court of probate, so far as such provisions may be applicable.

Liable to account on termination of trust by death of ward.—Ex parte Williams, 87 Ala. 547.

843. Compensation of trustee.—Such trustee is entitled, for his services, to such compensation as is allowed guardians.

ARTICLE 18.

CALL OF THE DOCKET; HEARING OF CAUSES; RENDITION, LIEN, EFFECT AND ENFORCEMENT OF DECREES; COSTS.

844 (3590) (3895). Call of docket; setting causes for hearing. If the term is more than one week, on the first day the docket must be called, not peremptorily, but for orders which may be taken by consent, or for the submission of causes which stand on decrees pro confesso. The call of the docket thereafter may be peremptory. The parties may by consent set down causes for hearing on such day of the term as they may select.

845 (3591) (3896) (3470) (3006). Decrees in writing; rendered in term time or vacation.—Decrees must be rendered in writing, in term time, if practicable; but in cases deemed by the chancellor difficult, he may reserve the rendition of decree until vacation, and may render it at any time before or during the next term.

Decrees in vacation.—Lewis v. Lewis, Minor, 35; Erwin v. Reese, 54 Ala. 589; Rogers v. Torbut, 58 Ala. 523; Forrest v. Luddington, 68 Ala. 1; Shine v. Bolling, 82 Ala. 415. When error to dismiss bill in vacation without allowing opportunity to amend.—Bishop v. Wood, 59 Ala. 253; Kingsbury v. Milner, 69 Ala. 502; Stoudenmire v. DeBardelaben, 72 Ala. 300; Shackelford v. Bankhead, 72 Ala. 476; Yonge v. Hooper, 73 Ala. 113; Conner v. Smith, 74 Ala. 115; Goodlet v. Kelly, 74 Ala. 213; Gilmer v. Wallace, 75 Ala. 220; Gilmer

v. Morris, 80 Ala. 78; Wright v. Dunklin, 83 Ala. 317; Olds v. Marshall, 93 Ala. 138; Kyle v. McKenzie, 94 Ala. 236.

846 (3592). Causes may be referred to arbitration.—By agreement in writing filed with the register in vacation, or by an entry on the minutes in term time, the parties may refer a cause to an arbitrator of their selection, for final decree. The arbitrator must certify the decree, when rendered, to the register ,and the register must enter it on the minutes of the court. Such decree shall have the force and effect of a decree rendered by the chancellor; and therefrom an appeal may be taken to the supreme court, as from other final decrees in chancery.

847 (3593) (3897) (717). Orders and decrees by consent.—Chancellors may make orders and render final decrees at any time by consent of parties or their counsel.

Written consent not necessary—Shine v. Bolling, 82 Ala. 415. Decrees in vacation by consent.—Lewis v. Lewis, Minor, 35; Erwin v. Reese, 54 Ala. 589.

848 (3594) (3898) (3468) (3004). Liens and priority of decrees. Executions issued on decrees of a court of chancery, for payment or recovery of money, are liens upon real and personal property subject to execution, from their delivery to the officer, in the same manner and to the same extent, and the rules as to the priority of liens from such court are the same, as in courts of law.

849 (3595) (3899) (3469) (3005). Decrees for conveyances and releases operate as such; executed by commissioner.—When a decree is made for a conveyance, release, or acquittance, and the party against whom the decree is made does not execute the same by the time specified in the decree, such decree operates in all respects as fully as if the conveyance, release, or acquittance, was made; or the court may decree, in default of the execution of such conveyance, release, or acquittance, the same to be executed by the register or a commissioner in the name of the party; and the conveyance, release, or acquittance, when so executed, is as valid in all respects as if executed by the party; or the court may directly divest title out of one party and vest it in another.

Last clause confirms rule declared in Jones v. Woodstock Iron Co., 95 Ala. 551, which overruled Prewitt v. Ashford, 90 Ala. 294, and Weathers v. Hill, 92 Ala. 492. When rule declared in Prewitt v. Ashford, 90 Ala. 294, is rule of property.—Ashford v. Prewitt, 102 Ala. 264.

850 (3596). Protection of tenant having crop planted on lands decreed to be sold.—A tenant or occupant of lands ordered or decreed to be sold by the court of chancery, having a crop planted or growing on such lands, or about being planted, may retain possession until the expiration of the current year, on securing to the purchaser the payment of the reasonable rent; such rent must, before or after the sale, be ascertained and determined by the chancellor, and the tenant or occupant must enter into bond, in a sum equal to double the amount of such rent, payable to the register, and by him approved, with sufficient surety, and with condition for the payment of such rent to the purchaser on the expiration of the year; and if, on the expiration of the year, such rent, or any part thereof, is not paid to the purchaser, such bond has the force and effect of a judgment, and execution may be issued thereon by the register against any or all the obligors in such bond, for so much of such rent as remains unpaid.

851 (3597) (3900) (3471) (3007). Costs at discretion of chancellor.—Costs may be apportioned at the discretion of the chancellor; and in all cases where costs are decreed against any party who has given security for costs, execution may issue against such security.

Taxation of costs discretionary.—Randolph v. Rosser, 7 Port. 249; Bryan v. Bryan, 34 Ala. 516; Kitchell v. Jackson, 71 Ala. 556; Allen v. Lewis, 74 Ala. 379; Falkner v. Campbell, P. P. & Mfg. Co., 74 Ala. 359. But the discretion is a legal one to be exercised according to general rules and former precedents.—Gray v. Gray, 15 Ala. 779. When division of costs proper.—Hudson v. Kelly, 70 Ala. 393; Purdue v. Brooks, 85 Ala. 459; Connor v. Armstrong, 91 Ala. 265; Waller v. Jones, 107 Ala. 331. General rule requires mortgagor seeking redemption to pay costs.—May v. Eastin, 2 Port. 414; Blum v. Mitchell, 59 Ala. 535. Although costs may sometimes be charged against mortgagee.—May v. Eastin, 2 Port. 414; Speakman v. Oaks, 97 Ala. 503. In foreclosure cases, costs may be made payable out of any money in custody of court, belonging to any party, and subject to mortgage lien.—Falkner v. Campbell, P. P. & Mfg. Co., 74 Ala. 359. Costs against wife in divorce case not awarded.—Richardson v. Richardson, 4 Port. 467. Costs against next friend.—Gray v. Gray, 16 Ala. 649. When costs taxable against relators in bill by attorney-general for their benefit.—State ex rel v. City Council of Montgomery, 74 Ala. 226. Taxation of costs may be varied on appeal.—Hunt v. Lewin, 4 Stew. & Port. 138; Alexander v. Alexander, 5 Ala. 517; Allen v. Lewis, 74 Ala. 379.

852 (3598) (3901) (3473) (3008). Decrees enforced by attachment or sequestration.—Courts of chancery may also enforce their decrees, orders and rules by process of attachment against the party or officer in contempt, or by process of sequestration against his property.

853 (3599) (3902) (3474) (3009). Decree for performance of some act to prescribe time.—If a decree is for the execution of a conveyance, the delivery of deeds, or any other specified act, the decree must, in all such cases, prescribe the time within which such act is to be performed.

854 (3600) (3903). Sales to be made by register.—When any property is ordered to be sold by the decree of any chancery court for the satisfaction of any debt secured by any mortgage or deed of trust, such sale shall in all cases be made by the register of the court ordering the same.

Sale by receiver under order of the court is good, and register not entitled to commissions, when so made.—R. & D. R. Co. v. Sibert, 97 Ala. 393. Purchaser's remedy for confirmation of sale.—Haralson v. George, 56 Ala. 295.

855 (3601) (3904) (3475) (3010). Attachment on affidavit of failure to perform.—Upon an affidavit being filed with the register by the party entitled to have such act done, his agent, or solicitor, stating that the decree of the court has not been performed, the register must issue an attachment against the delinquent party, upon which he may be arrested and committed to jail until he performs such act, or he is discharged by a special order of the chancellor extending the time for the performance; and if such act is not performed within the time as extended, another attachment may issue on the affidavit of the party, his agent, or solicitor.

856 (3602) (3905) (3476) (3011). If attachment not executed, sequestration follows.—Upon the issue of an attachment, if the delinquent cannot be found, a writ of sequestration may issue against the estate of such party to compel obedience to the decree.

857 (3603) (3906) (3477) (3012). Decrees; how enforced. Courts of chancery are authorized to issue such process, mesne and final, as has been used in such courts; and all writs for the collection of money, to obtain the possession of land or personal property, in use in the common-law courts, are to be adapted to the execution of decrees in the courts of chancery.

System of enforcing decrees assimilated to that prevailing in circuit courts; like writs allowed in each.—Allen v. Allen, 80 Ala. 154. Practice in reference to writs of assistance.—Creighton v. Paine, 2 Ala. 158; Trammel v. Simmons, 8 Ala. 271; Thompson v. Campbell, 57 Ala. 183; Hooper v. Yonge, 69 Ala. 484; Johnston v. Smith, 70 Ala. 108; Kemp v. Lyon, 76 Ala. 212; Wiley v. Carlisle, 93 Ala. 237.

858 (3604) (3907) (3478) (3013). Return day of such process. Writs from the court of chancery for the collection of money, or to obtain the possession of lands or personal property, may be made returnable on the first Monday of a month, to be specified in the writ; all other process, as the chancellor or register may direct, unless the return is fixed by law.

When day specified is beyond next term of court the execution not void. Brevard v. Jones, 50 Ala. 221.

859 (3605) (3908) (3479). Execution on decrees for enforcement of liens.—In all cases when an account is taken between the parties, execution as at law may issue for the amount of indebtedness ascertained by the decree of the court; and in all foreclosure suits, or suits for the enforcement of equitable liens, execution may issue for the balance found due after a sale of the property ordered and decreed to be sold.

Proper practice in foreclosure suits—two decrees contemplated and execution issues only after sale and confirmation.—Winston v. Browning, 61 Ala. 80; Tedder v. Steele, 70 Ala. 347; Sayre v. Elyton Land Co., 73 Ala. 85; McCall v. Rogers, 77 Ala. 349; Presley v. McLean, 80 Ala. 309; Johnson v. Ward, 82 Ala. 486; Baker v. Young, 90 Ala. 426; Perdue v. Brooks, 95 Ala. 611. Applies only when defendant personally liable for debt.—Teal v. Lewis, 85 Ala. 218.

860 (3606) (3910, 3911). Decree on partition.—A final decree of partition is operative to vest title, though releases or conveyances are not executed.

861 (3607) (3912) (3481). Forthcoming bond.—When the sale of any personal property is decreed, the register, or other person directed to make such sale, may take from the defendant a forthcoming bond, in double the amount of the property, in no case to exceed double the amount of the decree, for the delivery of such property on the day of sale.

862 (3608) (3913) (3482). Effect of forfeiture.—If the property is not delivered, such register, or person directed to make such sale, must return the bond "forfeited," in which case the bond shall have the force of a judgment; and execution may issue against all the obligors of such bond.

863 (3609) (3914) (3483) (3014). Sheriff liable for failure to collect money.—For failing to collect money on any execution from the court of chancery, the sheriff and his sureties, or any or either of them, are liable to the same penalties, to be recovered in the same manner as on failure to collect execution from the law courts; the motion to be made by the plaintiff in the circuit court of the county in which the court from which the execution issues is held.

ARTICLE 19.

RULES OF PRACTICE ADOPTED BY THE SUPREME COURT, AND BY CHANCELLORS, RECOGNIZED.

864 (3610) (3915) (3484) (3015). Rules of practice adopted by supreme court.—All the rules now in force, which have been adopted by the supreme court, not contrary to the provisions of this Code, are recognized; and power is granted to such court to adopt such other rules to regulate the practice of the court of chancery, or such modifications of the existing rules as they may deem proper, and also to furnish forms of proceeding, to mould the process of the chancery court, and to prescribe rules of evidence in the same, from time to time, as experience may determine that the existing rules do not fully meet the ends of public justice.

Authority of supreme court to require chancellor to fix bond for restoration of attachments and injunctions on appeals.—Ex parte P. & M. Ins. Co., 50 Ala. 390. By authority of statute, supreme court adopted "Revised Rules" of chancery practice in 1854.—Ex parte Branch, 63 Ala. 383.

Dec. 17, 1894, p. 237.

865. Chancellors may adopt rules to facilitate business.—The several chancellors may, from time to time, adopt rules to facilitate the business of their respective divisions, not contrary to law nor inconsistent with the rules established by the supreme court.

CHAPTER 17.

CHANGE BILLS. 866-868.

866 (1193) (1424) (1171) (935). Suits on paper issued to circulate as money.—Every bill of exchange, note, bond, or instrument of any description, whatever may be its form or device, issued with the intent to circulate as money, without authority of law, is an absolute, unconditional promise of the association or person putting such bill, note, or other instrument in circulation, and may be sued on by the holder thereof, without transfer, or assignment, and without demand, protest, or notice, and the amount thereof recovered, with interest thereon at the rate of fifty per cent. per annum from the date thereof, or from the time the same was put in circulation.

Nelson v. State, 82 Ala. 44.

867 (1194) (1425) (1172) (936). Corporations must not pay out change bills.—No turnpike, bridge, or railroad company, incorporated under any law of this state, must pay out, by their agents or officers, any change bills, notes, or paper issued without authority of law, the circulation or passing of which is prohibited by the laws of this state; and if such corporation allows the same, it incurs a forfeiture of its charter.

868 (1195) (1426) (1173). Persons circulating change bills held makers; remedy; liability of officers of corporation.—Any person, private corporation or association, or any individual member thereof, who circulates, passes off, or pays out any paper or instrument commonly called a "shinplaster," issued without authority of law, and to answer the purposes of money, or for general circulation, shall be deemed and held the maker of such paper or shinplaster; and any person to whom such paper or shinplaster is passed or paid may bring suit on the same against the person passing it, as maker thereof, and recover judgment upon his own oath, upon one day's notice, before any justice of the peace, in any county in this state, without regard to the county in which such paper was passed or paid out; but in the case of a private corporation or association having the management and control of its business committed to a president, secretary, treasurer, board of directors, or other official agency, only such members thereof as held, or assumed to hold, such official agency at the time of the commission of the offense charged, shall be held prima facie liable for the acts of such corporation or association, under the provisions of this section.

CHOSES IN ACTION. 869–896.

869 (1756) (2094) (1833) (1524). What are negotiable intruments.—Promissory notes and bonds payable in money at a bank or private banking house, or a certain place of payment therein designated, and bills of exchange, are governed by the commercial law.

The whole system of commercial paper is regulated by statute.—First Nat. Bank v. Nelson, 105 Ala. 180. What is a negotiable promissory note. Brazleton v. McMurray, 44 Ala. 323; Blackwell v. Hamilton, 47 Ala. 470; Hart v. Life Asso., 54 Ala. 495; Rice v. Rice, 68 Ala. 216; Boykin v. Bank, 72 Ala. 262; Montgomery v. Crossthwait, 90 Ala. 553; McGhee v. Bank, 93 Ala. 192; Com'l Bank v. Crenshaw, 103 Ala. 497; Anniston L. & T. Co. v. Stickney, 108 Ala. 146. A stipulation on the back of a note, or a mortgage referred to therein, is a part thereof.—Seymour v. Farquhar, 93 Ala. 292; Chambers v. Marks, 93 Ala. 412; Com'l Bank v. Crenshaw, 103 Ala. 497; Anniston L. &. T. Co. v. Stickney, 108 Ala. 146. Instrument under seal was not, prior to this Code, negotiable.—Howell v. Hallett, Min. 102; Sayre v. Lucas, 2 Stew. 259; Reed v. Scott, 30 Ala. 640; Blackwell v. Hamilton, 47 Ala. 470; McCrummen v. Campbell, 82 Ala. 566; Muse v. Dantzler, 85 Ala. 359. But the seal of a corporation does not affect negotiability.—Blackman v. Lehman, 63 Ala. 547. There must be a certain time of payment.—Owen v. Henderson, 7 Ala. 641; McDonnell v. Bank, 20 Ala. 313; Conn v. Thornton, 46 Ala. 587; Wright v. Paine, 62 Ala. 340; Boykin v. Bank, 72 Ala. 262; Mobile Savings Bank v. McDonnell, 83 Ala. 595; Massie v. Byrd, 87 Ala. 672; Com'l Bank v. Crenshaw, 103

Ala. 497; Anniston L. & T. Co. v. Stickney, 108 Ala. 146. The reservation of the right to pay before maturity does not affect negotiability.—Com'l Bank v. Crenshaw, 103 Ala. 497. Nor the right to extend by giving new note.—Anniston L. & T. Co. v. Stickney, 108 Ala. 146. Note payable on demand is generally due forthwith, and no demand is necessary.—Owen v. Henderson, 7 Ala. 641; Mobile Savings Bank v. McDonnell, 83 Ala. 595; Massie v. Byrd, 87 Ala. 672; Brockway v. Gadsden Mineral Land Co., 102 Ala. 620. But if payable on a contingency it is not due until a contingency happens.—Glenn v. Semple, 80 Ala. 159; Massie v. Byrd, 87 Ala. 672; Brockway v. Gadsden Mineral Land Co., 102 Ala. 620. Must be payable in money.—Bank v. Brown, 42 Ala. 108; Auerbach v. Pritchett, 58 Ala. 451; Anniston L. & T. Co. v. Stickney, 108 Ala. 146. Must be for a certain amount and payable absolutely and unconditionally.—Blackman v. Lehman, 63 Ala. 547; Montgomery v. Crossthwait, 90 Ala. 553; Com'l Bank v. Crenshaw, 103 Ala. 497; Anniston L. & T. Co. v. Stickney, 108 Ala. 146. A stipulation agreeing to pay attorney's fee, cost of collection, on failure to pay at maturity, or waiving exemptions, does not make the amount uncertain.—Montgomery v. Crossthwait, 90 Ala. 553; McGhee v. Bank, 93 Ala. 192; First Nat. Bank v. Slaughter, 98 Ala. 602. To be negotiable there must be a certain payee, except certain bonds.—Blackman v. Lehman, 63 Ala. 547; Hendricks v. Thornton, 45 Ala. 299; First Nat. Bank v. Johnston, 97 Ala. 655. And be payable at a particular place; but need not be presented there to fix the liability of the maker.—Montgomery v. Elliott, 6 Ala. 701; Clark v. Moses, 50 Ala. 326; Connerly v. P. & M. Ins. Co., 66 Ala. 432; Sims v. Bank, 73 Ala. 248; Brockway v. Gadsden Mineral Land Co., 102 Ala. 620; Com'l Bank v. Crenshaw, 103 Ala. 497. The place must not be stated inferentially or by implication.—Renfroe v. Bank, 83 Ala. 425. The naming of a town, without more, is not a sufficient designation.—Haden v. Lehman, 83 Ala. 243. "Any bank in Savannah, Ga.," is sufficient.—Boit v. Corr, 54 Ala. 112. Naming town in date line, and making a note payable at his office, a sufficient designation.—Rudulph v. Brewer, 96 Ala. 189. When note is held by a bona fide purchaser the maker is estopped from saying there is no such place as the one designated.—Brown v. Bank, 103 Ala. 123. Certified checks are a species of commercial paper and governed by the law merchant.—Nat'l Com. Bank v. Miller, 77 Ala. 168. Coupons payable to bearer at a designated place in a state where the common law is presumed to prevail, were negotiable before the statute.—Lehman v. Tallassee Mfg. Co., 64 Ala. 567; Reid v. Bk. of Mobile, 70 Ala. 199; K. C. M. & B. R. Co. v. Cobb, 100 Ala. 228. (See also citations to section 874 (1761).) The law of force at the time of the execution of the instrument defines the liabilities of the parties.—Cook v. Mut. Ins. Co., 53 Ala. 37. Rights of holders of commercial paper, acquiring it in due course of business before maturity and without notice.—Herbert v. Huie, 1 Ala. 18; Bank v. Hall, 6 Ala. 639; Saltmarsh v. Tuthill, 13 Ala. 390; Battle v. Weems, 44 Ala. 105; Ross v. Drinkard, 35 Ala. 434; Fenouille v. Hamilton, 35 Ala. 319; Bozeman v. Allen, 48 Ala. 512; Bank v. Jones, 102 Ala. 537. And absolutely and unconditionally.—Blackman v. Lehman, 63 Ala. 547.

870 (1757) (2095) (1834) (1526). Other instruments also, as to grace, protest and notice.—All other instruments payable in money, at a bank or private banking-house, or a certain place of payment therein designated, are governed by the commercial law, as to days of grace, protest and notice.

See citations to preceding section.

871 (1758) (2096) (1835) (1527). No grace allowed on other contracts.—No days of grace are allowed on any contracts, except those enumerated in the two preceding sections.

872 (1759) (2097) (1836) (1528). Holidays; paper due on, due next succeeding business day.—Sunday, Christmas day, the first day of January, the twenty-second day of February, Mardi Gras, Good Friday, the twenty-sixth day of April, the fourth day of July, the first Monday in September and the day designated by the governor for public thanksgiving, shall each be deemed a holiday. If Christmas day, or the first day of January, or the twenty-second day of February, or the twenty-sixth day of April, or the fourth day of July, falls on Sunday, the Monday following is the holiday. If any paper entitled to days of grace, by the allowance thereof, or subject to protest, becomes due on a holiday, it must be taken as due on the next succeeding business day.

As amended Feb. 26, 1889, p. 56.

Dec. 12, 1892, p. 93.

Legal holiday, except Sunday, is not dies non juridicus.—Belmont C. & R. Co. v. Smith, 74 Ala. 206; Pfister v. State, 84 Ala. 432; Babbit v. State, 87 Ala. 91; Hauerwas v. Goodloe, 101 Ala. 162. Note payable on Sunday or holiday is properly presented and protested on the next succeeding business day.—Brennan v. Carl Vogt, 97 Ala. 647; German Bank v. McGarry, 106 Ala. 633. See citations to section 2170 (1749).

873 (1760) (2118) (1857) (1549). Inland and foreign bills defined.—All bills drawn and payable within this state are inland bills, and those drawn in this state and payable elsewhere, are foreign bills, within the meaning of this chapter.

A bill drawn in Alabama, payable in Louisiana, is foreign, and governed by the laws of the state where payable.—Todd v. Neal, 49 Ala. 266. Word "bill" as used here, includes check.—First Nat. Bank v. Nelson, 105 Ala. 180.

874 (1761) (2098) (1837) (1529). Paper not designating a certain payee, or payable to a fictitious person.—All bonds, bills, or notes, except those issued to circulate as money, payable to any thing or bearer, to any fictitious person or bearer, or to bearer only, must be construed as payable to the person from whom the consideration moved; if payable to an existing person or bearer, must be construed as if payable to such person or order; but this section does not apply to state, county, municipal, or corporate bonds.

Includes all paper payable in money at a bank or designated place, governed by the law merchant, or by that law as to place, protest, and notice, except such as is specifically excepted.—Clark v. Field, 1 Ala. 468; First Nat. Bank v. Nelson, 105 Ala. 180. Includes bank checks.—First Nat. Bank v.

Nelson, 105 Ala. 180. The title to a promissory note payable to a person or bearer can only pass by indorsement.—Cobb v. Bryant, 86 Ala. 316. Does not extend to indorsement in blank or to bearer.—Sawyer v. Patterson, 11 Ala. 523. Before the exception, municipal and corporate bonds, payable to bearer were included and were not commercial paper.—Blackman v. Lehman, 63 Ala. 547. But if such instruments were payable in another state, where the common law prevailed, they were still commercial paper. Lehman v. Tallassee Mfg. Co., 64 Ala. 567; Reid v. Mobile, 70 Ala. 199; K. C. M. & B. R. Co. v. Cobb, 100 Ala. 228.

Feb. 28, 1889, p. 110.

875. State, county, municipal and corporate bonds; when negotiable without indorsement.—All bonds payable to any thing or bearer, to any fictitious person or bearer, or to bearer only, which have been or may be issued by the state, or any county or municipality thereof, or by any corporation under authority of law (except such bonds as appear on their face to be registered), shall be negotiable, without indorsement, according to the commercial law and governed thereby, except as to presentment, protest, notice and days of grace.

Prior to the statute, such instruments were not negotiable paper unless payable in another state where the common law was presumed to prevail. Blackman v. Lehman, 63 Ala. 547; Lehman v. Tallassee Mfg. Co., 64 Ala. 567; Reid v. Mobile, 70 Ala. 199; K. C. M. & B. R. Co. v. Cobb, 100 Ala. 228. Negotiable bonds not due, with attached coupons past due; when purchaser entitled to protection.—Morton v. N. O. & S. R. Co., 79 Ala. 590.

876 (1762) (2099) (1838) (1530). Contracts in writing assignable by indorsement.—All bonds, contracts and writings for the payment of money or other thing, or the performance of any act or duty, are assignable by indorsement so as to authorize an action thereon by each successive indorsee.

A replevy bond, made to the sheriff is within the provisions of the statute.—Adkins v. Allen, 1 Stew. 130; Sartin v. Weir, 3 S. & P. 421. And the ordinary certificate of stock in a company.—Spence v. Whitaker, 3 P. 297. And a right to receive money for services to be rendered under an existing contract.—Payne v. Mayor, 4 Ala. 333. And a lease of land, unless specially prohibited.—Nave v. Berry, 22 Ala. 382. And a bond for title.—Brown v. Chambers, 12 Ala. 697; Skinner v. Bedell, 32 Ala. 44. And a contract to deliver cotton.—Phillips v. Sellers, 42 Ala. 658. And a receipt for a promissory note, by which it is agreed that it shall be returned to the owner.—Henley v. Bush, 33 Ala. 636. And a policy of fire insurance, after loss, although containing a stipulation prohibiting its assignment.—Perry v. Merchants' Ins. Co., 25 Ala. 355. And warehouse receipts for cotton.—Lehman v. Marshall, 47 Ala. 362; Allen v. Maury, 66 Ala. 10; Ala. State Bank v. Barnes, 82 Ala. 607. And a bond payable to a corporation, their associates and successors.—Wilks v. G. P. R. Co., 79 Ala. 180. And a promissory note payable to a married woman, even though the assent of husband was not indorsed until afterwards. Keeble v. Bank, 93 Ala. 361. A judgment is not within its provisions.—Bunnell v. Magee, 9 Ala. 433; Lovins v. Humphries, 67 Ala. 437. Nor tickets issued in payment for labor, non-assignable on their face.—Tabler v. Sheffield L. I. & C. Co., 79 Ala. 377. Nor condition in a deed that land should revert on certain contingencies.—McMahan v. Williams, 79 Ala. 288. Nor county warrants.—Savage v. Mathews, 98 Ala. 535. Nor an order to pay the amount of a demand to a named person.—West v. Foreman, 21 Ala. 400. There may be a succession of assignments and the last indorsee may sue in his own name. Flexner v. Dickerson, 65 Ala. 72.

877 (1763) (2119). Claims against railroad companies assignable.—Claims against railroad companies, for injuries to property, may be assigned in writing, and each successive assignee thereof may sue thereon in his own name.

A claim for damages for injury to attingent property by the construction of a railroad embankment is not assignable so that assignee may sue in his own name; nor does it pass to a vendee of the land.—Evans v. S. & W. R. Co., 90 Ala. 54.

878 (1764). Effect of transfer of note given for purchase-money of lands.—The transfer of a bond, bill, or note, given for the purchase-money of lands, whether the transfer be by delivery merely, or in writing, expressed to be with or without recourse on the transferor, passes to the transferee the lien of the vendor on the lands.

Prior to the statute, if the transfer was by delivery merely, the lien did not pass.—Hightower v. Rigsby, 56 Ala. 126; Stabler v. Spencer, 64 Ala. 496; Bankhead v. Owen, 60 Ala. 457; Prickett v. Sibert, 71 Ala. 194; Weaver v. Brown, 87 Ala. 533; Davis v. Smith, 88 Ala. 596. Transfer by delivery passes the lien of the vendor, but not the legal title to the note.—Davis v. Smith, 88 Ala. 596; Jones v. Lockard, 89 Ala. 575; Knight v. Knight, 103 Ala. 484. If the holder merely advanced money as a loan to the purchaser, to whom the notes were surrendered, and who then placed them with the holder, no lien existed.—Jones v. Lockard, 89 Ala. 575.

879 (1765) (2100) (1839) (1531). Set-off, etc., against the payee good until notice.—All contracts and writings, except such as are governed by the commercial law, and paper issued to circulate as money, are subject to all payments, set-offs and discounts had or possessed against the same previous to notice of the assignment or transfer.

Set-offs against intermediate assignees are not available, unless there is a contract to allow them, founded on a new consideration.—Stocking v. Toulmin, 3 S. & P. 35; Kennedy v. Manship, 1 Ala. 43; McKenzie v. Hunt, 32 Ala. 494. The indorsee of commercial paper, acquiring it after maturity, or before maturity, as collateral for a pre-existing debt without a new consideration, takes subject to all defenses.—Cullum v. Bank, 4 Ala. 453; Glasscock v. Smith, 25 Ala. 474; McKenzie v. Bank, 28 Ala. 606; Fenouille v. Hamilton, 35 Ala. 319; Ware v. Russell, 57 Ala. 43; Bank v. Poelnitz, 61 Ala. 147; Connerly v. P. & M. Ins. Co., 66 Ala. 432; Miller v. Boykin, 70 Ala. 469; Reid v. Bank, 70 Ala. 199; Keel v. Larkin, 72 Ala. 493; Cap. City Ins. Co. v. Quinn, 73 Ala. 558; Haden v. Lehman, 83 Ala. 243. Equitable set-off when the maker is insolvent.—T. C. & D. R. Co. v. Rhodes, 8 Ala. 206; Donelson v. Posey, 13 Ala. 752; Wray v. Furniss, 27 Ala. 471; Carroll v. Malone, 28 Ala. 521; White v. Wiggins, 32 Ala. 424. A non-negotiable certificate of deposit is within the statute. Renfroe v. Bank, 83 Ala. 425. And a stock certificate in the ordinary form, although indorsed in blank.—E. Birmingham L. Co. v. Dennis, 85 Ala. 565. And certificates issued by a county for jurors' and bailiffs' services.—Allen v. McCreary, 101 Ala. 514.

880 (1766) (2101) (1840) (1532). Acceptance to be written.—No person within this state must be charged as the acceptor of a bill of exchange, unless his acceptance is in writing, signed by himself or agent.

An acceptance must be in writing.—Sands v. Mathews, 27 Ala. 399; Smith v. Ledyard, 49 Ala. 279; Auerbach v. Pritchett, 58 Ala. 451; Whilden v. M. & P. Bank, 64 Ala. 1; Anderson v. Jones, 102 Ala. 537; Williams v. Gallyon, 107 Ala. 439. May be on separate paper.—Smith v. Ledyard, 49 Ala. 279; Whilden v. M. & P. Bank, 64 Ala. 1. No particular form of words necessary. Whilden v. M. & P. Bank, 64 Ala. 1. An order requesting the delivery of cotton is not a bill of exchange.—Auerbach v. Pritchett, 58 Ala. 451. The acceptor is the primary debtor.—Manning v. Kohn, 44 Ala. 343; Wilson v. Isbell, 45 Ala. 142; Trammell v. Hudmon, 56 Ala. 235; Whilden v. M. & P. Bank, 64 Ala. 1; Capitol City Ins. Co. v. Quinn, 73 Ala. 558; Bolling v. McKenzie, 89 Ala. 470; Hunt v. Johnson, 96 Ala. 130; Sands v. Hammell, 108 Ala. 624. An acceptance admits everything essential to the existence of liability of the acceptor; the right of the drawer to draw and the capacity of the payee.—Young v. Lehman, 63 Ala. 519; Capitol City Ins. Co. v. Quinn, 73 Ala. 558.

881 (1767) (2102) (1841) (1533). Written promise to accept.—An unconditional promise, in writing, to accept a bill before it is drawn, amounts to an actual acceptance.

As a general rule there can be no breach of an agreement to accept until there has been a presentation and refusal.—Maas v. Montgomery I. Wks., 88 Ala. 323. The promise to accept must be in writing and unconditional.

Smith v. Ledyard, 49 Ala. 279; Whilden v. M. & P. Bank, 64 Ala. 1; Maas v. Montgomery I. Wks., 88 Ala. 323; Anderson v. Jones, 102 Ala. 537; Williams v. Gallyon, 107 Ala. 439.

882 (1768) (2103) (1842) (1534). Bills to be accepted on the paper. Every holder of a bill, presenting the same for acceptance, may require that the acceptance be written on the bill; and a refusal so to do is a refusal to accept, and the bill may be protested for non-acceptance.

883 (1769) (2104) (1843) (1535). Damages for breach of promise to accept a bill.—The last three sections must not be construed to impair the right of any person to whom a promise to accept a bill has been made, and who, on the faith of such promise, has negotiated the bill, to recover damages of the person making such promise, on his refusal to accept such bill.

The promise inures to the benefit of the person advancing money on the faith of it, and he may sue in his own name.—Sands v. Mathews, 27 Ala. 399; Smith v. Ledyard, 49 Ala. 279; Whilden v. Bank, 64 Ala. 1.

884 (1770) (2105) (1844) (1536). Refusal to return bill within twenty-four hours is an acceptance.—Every person upon whom a bill of exchange is drawn, and to whom the same is delivered for acceptance, who refuses, within twenty-four hours after such delivery, or within such other period as the holder may allow, to return the bill, accepted or non-accepted, to the holder, must be deemed to have accepted the same.

If the bill is retained by agreement or consent, it does not amount to an acceptance.—Sands v. Mathews, 27 Ala. 399; Williams v. Gallyon, 107 Ala. 439.

885 (1771) (2106) (1845) (1537). Damages on protested bills. The damages on bills of exchange, inland or foreign, protested for non-acceptance or non-payment, are five per cent. on the sum drawn for.

To recover damages the bill must have been protested.—Jordan v. Bell, 8 P. 53; Leigh v. Lightfoot, 11 Ala. 935; Knott v. Venable, 42 Ala. 186. Holder may protest for the purpose of claiming damages, although protest is waived. Bellinger v. Glenn, 80 Ala. 190; White v. Keith, 97 Ala. 668. The acceptor is not liable for statutory damages.—Trammell v. Hudmon, 56 Ala. 235. One sued as payee and indorser is not relieved because the bill was addressed to and accepted by him.—McKenzie v. Clanton, 33 Ala. 528.

886 (1772) (2107) (1846) (1538). Damages include all charges except interest and protest fees.—Damages on protest for non-payment are in the place of all charges except costs of protest incurred previous to, and at the time of giving notice of non-payment; but the holder may recover legal interest upon the aggregate amount of the principal sum specified in such bill, and of the damages thereon, from the time at which payment of the principal sum has been demanded, and costs of protest.

Trammell v. Hudmon, 56 Ala. 235.

887 (1773) (2108) (1847) (1539). When bill is payable in our currency, damages cover the exchange.—If the amount in such bill specified is expressed in money of the United States, the amount due thereon, and of the damages herein allowed for the non-payment thereof, must be ascertained without reference to the rate of exchange between this state and the place on which such bill was drawn, at the time of the demand of payment or notice of non-payment.

888 (1774) (2109) (1848) (1540). When payable in foreign currency, the exchange is added.—If the amount in such bill specified is expressed in the money or currency of any foreign country, then the amount due, exclusive of the damages payable thereon, must be ascertained and determined by the rate of exchange, or the value of such foreign currency, at the time of the demand of payment.

889 (1775) (2110) (1849) (1541). Damages and charges on protest for non-acceptance.—When a bill of exchange is protested for non-acceptance, the same rate of damages is allowed as in the case of a protest for non-payment; and such damages are in the place of all charges, except costs of protest, incurred previous to, and at the time of giving notice of non-acceptance; but the holder is entitled to recover legal interest, exclusive of the damages, upon the amount of the principal sum, from the time when the same would have become payable, if accepted, interest on the damages from the demand of acceptance, and costs of protest.

890 (1776) (2111) (1850) (1542). Notice of protest; where sent, etc.—In all cases where notice of the non-acceptance of a bill of exchange, or non-payment of a bill of exchange, promissory note, or other negotiable instrument, is given by sending the same by mail, it is sufficient if such notice is directed to the place where the person sought to be charged by such notice resided at the time of drawing, making, or indorsing such bill, note, or negotiable instrument; or to the post-office nearest his residence at that time, unless at the time of affixing his signature to such bill, note, or instrument, he specifies thereon the post-office to which he requires the notice to be addressed.

[If parties reside at a distance, and ordinarily communicate by general post, the notice may be sent by mail, but must be forwarded by the post of the next day after dishonor or by the first post succeeding the day of dishonor. Whitman v. Bank, 8 P. 258; Crawford v. Bank, 7 Ala. 205; Knott v. Venable, 42 Ala. 186; Philipe v. Harberlee, 45 Ala. 597; John v. City Bank, 57 Ala. 96; s. c., 62 Ala. 529; Shelton v. Carpenter, 60 Ala. 201; German Bank v. McGarry, 106 Ala. 633. The post must have been regularly established by the government.—Philipe v. Harberlee, 45 Ala. 597. The statute only changes the law merchant to the extent of making a notice sent to the post-office of the party at the time of signing sufficient, without regard to any subsequent change of residence.—John v. City Bank, 57 Ala. 96; s. c., 62 Ala. 529; Brennen v. Carl Vogt, 97 Ala. 647; German Bank v. McGarry, 106 Ala. 633. The notary, or agent for collection, is in no sense the holder to whom notice should be given.—Philipe v. Harberlee, 45 Ala. 597. Waiver of laches by subsequent promise to pay.—Isbell v. Lewis, 98 Ala. 550; Bolling v. McKenzie, 89 Ala. 470.

891 (1777). Personal notice; when not necessary.—If the party to be charged reside at the place of protest, and it be a town or city having ten thousand or more inhabitants, or in which there is a free postal delivery of the mail, notice of protest may be given through the mail, the postage being prepaid.

Notice may properly be sent by mail when the parties reside in a town of ten thousand inhabitants or where there is a free mail delivery.—Brennen v. Carl Vogt, 97 Ala. 647. Otherwise, if parties reside in the same place, personal notice must be given as required by the law merchant.—John v. Bank, 57 Ala. 96; s. c., 62 Ala. 529; Isbell v. Lewis, 98 Ala. 550.

892 (1778) (2112, 2113) (1851, 1852) (1543, 1544). Mode of charging indorser or assignor on non-negotiable paper.—On all contracts assigned by writing, which are not governed by the commercial law, when the amount due exceeds one hundred dollars, to charge the indorser or assignor, suit must be brought against the maker to the first court to which suit can properly be brought after making the indorsement or assignment. If the amount due does not exceed one hundred dollars, suit must be brought against the maker within thirty days after suit can properly be brought. In either case, if judgment is obtained, execution must be issued as authorized by law, and the inability of the maker to pay such judgment proved by the return of "no property."

A substitute for presentment, demand and notice.—Cavanaugh v. Tatum, 4 S. & P. 204; Woodcock v. Campbell, 2 P. 456; Ivey v. Sanderson, 6 P. 420; Ryland v. Bates, 4 Ala. 342; s. c., 6 Ala. 668; Hagerthy v. Bradford, 9 Ala. 567; Foster v. Stafford, 14 Ala. 714; Hays v. Myrick, 47 Ala. 335. Applies to notes payable on demand.—Mobile Savings Bank v. McDonnell, 83 Ala. 595. The contract of an indorser on non-commercial paper is conditional, and does not become absolute unless the requirements are complied with or excused. Jordan v. Garnett, 3 Ala. 610; Price v. Lavender, 38 Ala. 389; Hooks v. Anderson, 58 Ala. 238; Mobile Savings Bank v. McDonnell, 83 Ala. 595. Legal delays during the prosecution of the suit do not release the indorser.—Hays v. Myrick, 47 Ala. 335. If judgment obtained and defendant died before execution issued, sufficient diligence is shown.—Kain v. Walke, 12 Ala. 184. The maker may waive defects and irregularities in the suit against him, which do not render the judgment void, without releasing the indorser.—Schaefer v. Adler, 14 Ala. 723. And so, if indorsee sued under the wrong name.—Brown v. Johnson, 42 Ala. 208. The indorsee cannot remit so as to bring his action within the jurisdiction of a justice.—Fulford v. Johnson, 15 Ala. 385. The diligence required with respect to amount is governed by the amount actually necessary to discharge the instrument at maturity, without regard to contingencies, as attorneys' fees, etc.—Davis v. Jones, 109 Ala. 418. An action cannot be commenced against the indorser until the return of "no property" is made.—Riddle v. Rourke, 1 Ala. 394; Woodward v. Harbin, 1 Ala. 104; s. c., 4 Ala. 534. The liability of the indorser is not dependent on the insolvency of the maker, but on the return of "no property," which is conclusive.—Reese v. White, 2 Ala. 306; Bates v. Ryland, 6 Ala. 668; Weed v. Brown, 13 Ala. 449. The omission, without excuse, for nearly two years to sue out an alias, the original execution not having been returned, discharges the indorser.—Bradford v. Bishop, 14 Ala. 517; s. c., 16 Ala. 769. The absence of the indorsee from the state does not excuse his failure to sue to the first term.—Rathbone v. Bradford, 1 Ala. 312.

893 (1779) (2114) (1853) (1545). Suit may be waived by written consent.—The time for bringing the suit, as required by the preceding section, may be extended or waived by the consent of the indorser or assignor in writing signed by him.

Consent does not relieve holder from compliance with the other requirements in order to charge the indorser; he must still sue before the statute of limitations perfects a bar.—Bates v. Ryland, 6 Ala. 668; Foster v. Stafford, 14 Ala. 714; Lodor v. Gayle, 29 Ala. 412; Walker v. Wigginton, 50 Ala. 579; Thomason v. Cooper, 57 Ala. 560. What language amounts to a waiver. Foster v. Stafford, 14 Ala. 714; Thomason v. Cooper, 57 Ala. 560. Waiver defined.—Walker v. Wigginton, 50 Ala. 579, 583; Caulfield v. Finnegan, Ala. (21 So. 484).

894 (1780) (2115) (1854) (1546). Excuse for not suing, obtaining judgment, etc.—The holder of such indorsed or assigned contract is excused from bringing the suit, obtaining the judgment and issuing the execution thereon—

1. When the maker has no known place of residence in the state.
2. When by use of ordinary diligence such residence cannot be ascertained.

3. When a suit has been commenced in the county of the residence of the maker, and a summons to the first and next succeeding court returned not found by the proper officer.

4. When a judgment against the maker has been defeated, in whole or in part, by a defense to the merits of such contract or writing, or a set-off against any other than the indorsee or assignee.

5. When any defense, except a set-off to the merits of such contract or writing, exists, which would prevent a judgment for all or any portion of the sum due, or the value of the thing payable by such contract or writing.

6. When the maker dies before the time expires for bringing suit, or, if after suit brought, his estate is declared insolvent.

7. When, by any act or promise of the indorser, the plaintiff is induced to delay bringing such suit.

Subdivision 1.—Roberts v. Kilpatrick, 5 S. & P. 96; Woodcock v. Campbell, 2 P. 456; Ivey v. Sanderson, 6 P. 420; Bristow v. Jones, 1 Ala. 159; Hall v. Chilton, 3 Ala. 633; Miller v. McIntyre, 9 Ala. 638; Goggins v. Smith, 35 Ala. 683; Bradley v. Patton, 51 Ala. 108. Where the maker's residence in another state is known the holder must use due diligence to collect by demand, notice, etc.—Woodcock v. Campbell, 2 P. 456; Ivey v. Sanderson, 6 P. 420; Bristow v. Jones, 1 Ala. 159; Goggins v. Smith, 35 Ala. 683; Bradley v. Patton, 51 Ala. 108. Excuses suit though maker temporarily here on a visit. Goggins v. Smith, 35 Ala. 683. Subdivision 2.—Lindsay v. Williams, 17 Ala. 229. Subdivision 3.—Cavanaugh v. Tatum, 4 S. & P. 204; Pearson v. Mitchell, 2 Ala. 736. Subdivision 4.—Murphy v. Gee, 9 Ala. 276; Hagerthy v. Bradford, 9 Ala. 567. Subdivision 5.—Hagerthy v. Bradford, 9 Ala. 567. Subdivision 6. Bates v. Ryland, 6 Ala. 668; Kain v. Walke, 12 Ala. 184; Bishop v. Bradford, 16 Ala. 769; Walker v. Wigginton, 50 Ala. 579. Subdivision 7.—Caulfield v. Finnegan, Ala. (21 So. 484).

895 (1781) (2116) (1855) (1547). Irregular indorsements or assignments require suits.—All assignments or indorsements in writing of contracts which are not governed by the commercial law, whether regular or irregular, must be construed as within the meaning of the last three sections, unless the contrary clearly appears from such assignment or indorsement.

Irregular indorsements.—Hall v. Chilton, 3 Ala. 633; Jordan v. Garnett, 3 Ala. 610; Nesbit v. Bradford, 6 Ala. 746; Fulford v. Johnson, 15 Ala. 385; Mobile Savings Bank v. McDonnell, 83 Ala. 595.

896 (1782) (2117) (1856) (1548). The assignor pays the costs of suit against the maker.—The costs in the suit against the maker in such assigned or indorsed contract are recoverable in the suit against the assignor or indorser.

Feb. 12, 1897, p. 816. 3. In the county of Marion, on the first Monday after the fourth Monday in January, and may continue one week, and on the second Monday in August, and may continue two weeks.

Dec. 9, 1896, p. 92. 4. In the county of Franklin, on the first Monday in May and November, and may continue three weeks.

Dec. 11, 1894, p. 89. 910. Twelfth circuit; times and places of holding courts.—The circuit courts in the twelfth judicial circuit shall be held in each year, as follows:

1. In the county of Pike, on the fourth Monday in January and July, and may continue five weeks.

2. In the county of Coffee, on the fifth Monday after the fourth Monday in January and July, and may continue two weeks.

3. In the county of Geneva, on the eighth Monday after the fourth Monday in January and July, and may continue two weeks. Dec. 7, 1896, p. 79.

4. In the county of Henry, at Dothan, on the tenth Monday after the fourth Monday in January, and may continue two weeks, and on the tenth Monday after the fourth Monday in July and may continue one week; at Columbia, on the twelfth Monday after the fourth Monday in January, and may continue two weeks, and on the twelfth Monday after the fourth Monday in July, and may continue one week; at Abbeville, on the fourteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in January, and may continue two weeks, and on the fourteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in July, and may continue one week.

5. In the county of Covington, on the sixteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in January and July, and may continue two weeks. Feb. 13, 1895, p. 555.

911. Thirteenth circuit; times and places of holding courts. Feb. 12, 1895, p. 533. The circuit courts in the thirteenth judicial circuit shall be held in each year, as follows:

1. In the county of Washington, on the first Monday in March and October, and may continue three weeks.

2. In the county of Baldwin, on the fourth Monday in March and October, and may continue three weeks.

3. In the county of Mobile, on the fourth Monday after the fourth Monday in March and October, and may continue ten weeks.

912 (750). When courts to be opened.—The courts of the several judicial circuits shall not be opened before noon of the first Monday of each term.

913 (751). When criminal dockets to be taken up.—The criminal dockets of such courts, unless otherwise expressly provided by law, or ordered by the court, shall be taken up, when the term of the court is for two weeks, on the second Monday of the term, and when the term is for three weeks, or more, on the third Monday of the term. Nov. 25, 1896, p. 10.

Goley v. State, 87 Ala. 57.

914 (752) (652). Special terms.—A special term of the circuit court may be held in any county, whenever, in the opinion of the judge of the circuit, such term is necessary; and at such special term a grand jury may be organized, causes, both civil and criminal, pending in the court, may be tried and disposed of, and any other business before the court may be transacted, as at a regular term, except that the order of business fixed by the judge must be observed; but no special term shall continue longer than two weeks.

Authority of court at special as plenary as at regular term.—Nugent v. State, 19 Ala. 540; Harrington v. State, 36 Ala. 236; Aaron v. State, 39 Ala. 684; Fields v. State, 52 Ala. 348; Floyd v. State, 55 Ala. 61; Bales v. State, 63 Ala. 30.

915 (753) (653). Notice of special term; order of business. Thirty days' notice of such special term, and of the order in which the business of the court will be transacted thereat, shall be given by advertisement in some newspaper in the county, or if none is published therein, in such newspaper as the judge may designate.

What sufficient showing of record that special term properly called. Grant v. State, 62 Ala. 233; Martin v. State, 77 Ala. 1.

916 (754) (661) (755) (637). Witnesses and process.—Witnesses must be subpœnaed to a special term, and all process relating to the business of such term made returnable to it; and executions and other process on judgments rendered at such term shall be returnable to the next regular term, if more than thirty days intervene; otherwise, to the second regular term thereafter.

917 (755) (654). Adjourned terms.—Whenever, at any regular term of a circuit court, there shall be a failure to dispose of all the business of the court, the presiding judge shall adjourn the court until such time as he can return and complete such business, unless, in his opinion, the public good does not require such adjournment; and an entry of the adjournment on the minutes of the court shall be notice of the same; and all witnesses and parties shall attend the adjourned term without further subpœna or notice. In the entry of such adjournment, the order in which the unfinished business will be transacted may be prescribed, and all necessary orders made for summoning jurors to serve at the adjourned term. All executions and other process on judgments rendered at the regular term shall issue as though the court had adjourned sine die; and all executions and other process on judgments rendered at the adjourned term shall be returnable to the next regular term, if more than thirty days intervene, otherwise, to the second regular term thereafter.

An adjourned term is but a prolongation of the regular term, and the court, during such adjourned term, has the same power over its records as during the regular term.—VanDyke v. State, 22 Ala. 57; Holly v. Yonge, 69 Ala. 89; Keith v. State, 91 Ala. 2. A court may be "both an adjourned term and a special term."—Martin v. State, 77 Ala. 1

ARTICLE 2.

JURISDICTION OF CIRCUIT COURTS; POWERS OF CIRCUIT JUDGES; SALARY; PENALTY FOR FAILING TO HOLD COURTS; SPECIAL JUDGES AND THEIR COMPENSATION.

918 (756) (657) (746) (628). Jurisdiction of the circuit court. The circuit court has authority—

1. To exercise original jurisdiction of all felonies and misdemeanors; of all actions for libel, slander, assault and battery, and of ejectments without regard to the amount involved; and of all other suits and actions at law when the matter or sum in controversy exceeds fifty dollars.

2. To exercise appellate jurisdiction of all civil actions cognizable before a justice of the peace, and in such other cases as may be provided by law.

3. To exercise a general superintendence over all inferior jurisdictions.

4. To punish contempts by fine, not exceeding fifty dollars, and by imprisonment, not exceeding five days.

5. To exercise such other powers, not contrary to the constitution, as are, or may be given to such court by law.

Subdivision 1.—When sum in controversy exceeds $50, but does not exceed $100, circuit court has concurrent jurisdiction with justices of the peace, by virtue of the Constitution.—Carew v. Lillienthall, 50 Ala. 44. The sum in controversy is that claimed, not that recovered.—Haws v. Morgan, 59 Ala. 508; Morris v. Robinson, 80 Ala. 291; R. Co. v. Hembree, 84 Ala. 182; Camp v. Marion Co., 91 Ala. 240. Circuit court has not jurisdiction of claim for exactly $50.—McClure v. Lay, 30 Ala. 208. Nor when complaint in action on contract shows right of action for only a nominal sum.—Cahuzac v. Samini, 29 Ala. 288. Principal, interest, and damages, when recoverable, aggregate the plaintiff's demand, and must be looked to on question of jurisdiction.—Hogan v. Odam, 3 Stew. 58; Hargrove v. Smith, 1 Ala. 80; Ledbetter v. Castler, 11 Ala. 149. Court has jurisdiction under statute, of motion against sheriff for failing to return execution for less amount than $50 the proceeding not being decreed a civil action, but one to recover penalty.—Huggins v. Ball, 19 Ala. 587. Of motion against same office for failing to return execution for less than $50 assessed by court martial under another statute, it was held that circuit court had not jurisdiction.—Nowlin v. McCally, 31 Ala. 678. A county no more than an individual can sue for less than jurisdictional amount.—Camp v. Marion Co., 91 Ala. 240. Subdivision 2.—On appeal, circuit court should not give judgment beyond amount of justice's jurisdiction.—Lykes v. Schwarz, 91 Ala. 461; Giddens v. Bolling, 92 Ala. 586. Unless increased by interest from rendition by justice.—Pruitt v. Stuart, 5 Ala. 112; R. & D. R. Co. v. Hutto, 102 Ala. 575; Woodrow v. Hawving, 105 Ala. 240. Rent pending appeal, may be also added in forcible entry and unlawful detainer cases.—Giddens v. Bolling, 92 Ala. 586 (explaining Beck v. Glenn, 69 Ala. 121). But if no objection made in circuit court, judgment for greater amount than justice's jurisdiction may be rendered.—Pruitt v. Stuart, 5 Ala. 112; Vaughan v. Robinson, 20 Ala. 229; Waring v. Gilbert, 25 Ala. 295; R. & D. R. Co. v. Hutto, 102 Ala. 575. Objection that justice exceeded his jurisdiction cannot be first made in circuit court, on appeal.—Glaze v. Blake, 56 Ala. 379 (overruling Pearce v. Pope, 42 Ala. 319); Burns v. Henry, 67 Ala. 209; Western R. Co. v. Lazarus, 88 Ala. 453; L. & N. R. Co. v. Barker, 96 Ala. 435. Subdivision 3.—Power resides in circuit court of the county of the inferior jurisdiction.—Dunbar v. Frazer, 78 Ala. 529; Shields v. State, 86 Ala. 584; Holcombe v. State, 99 Ala. 185. Probate courts are such inferior jurisdictions.—State v. Williams, 69 Ala. 311; Etheridge v. Hall, 7 P. 47. They may be controlled by mandamus from circuit court.—Ex parte Henderson, 43 Ala. 392; Leslie v. Tucker, 57 Ala. 483; Tally v. Grider, 66 Ala. 119; State v. Williams, 69 Ala. 311; Ex parte Pearson, 76 Ala. 521; Ramagnano v. Crook, 88 Ala. 450. By common-law certiorari. John v. State, 1 Ala. 95; Marion v. Chandler, 6 Ala. 899; Cawthorn v. Weisinger, 6 Ala. 714; Graham v. Abercrombie, 8 Ala. 552; Fowler v. Trewhit, 10 Ala. 622; Stout v. Ward, 10 Ala. 628; Miller v. Jones, 80 Ala. 89. And by writ of prohibition.—Ex parte Russell, 29 Ala. 717. Mandamus; to probate judge to hear habeas corpus; Ex parte Mahone, 30 Ala. 49; Ex parte Champion, 52 Ala. 311; Ex parte Jones, 94 Ala. 34; Ex parte Charleston, 107 Ala. 688. To county court.—Etheridge v. Hall, 7 P. 47. To mayor's court.—Withers v. State, 36 Ala. 252. To justice of the peace.—Davidson v. Washburn, 56 Ala. 596. Certiorari; to court of roads and revenue.—Ex parte Tarlton, 2 Ala. 35; Barnett v. State, 15 Ala. 829; Commissioners v. Thompson, 15 Ala. 134. To justice of the peace.—Ex parte Boothe, 64 Ala. 312; Independent Pub. Co. v. Am. Press Ass'n., 102 Ala. 475.

919 (2864) (3159) (2812) (2406). Correction of errors; prevention of abuse of process.—The circuit court has power after final judgment—

1. To correct any error in fact in the judgment or process, apparent upon the whole record.

2. To secure parties or privies in their rights against any oppression or abuse of execution, or other process, or upon any release, discharge, or payment after judgment.

This summary jurisdiction is exercised in lieu of writ of audita querela. Edward v. Lewis, 16 Ala. 813. Defensive matter against judgment may be inquired into on supersedeas and execution perpetually superseded.—Bank v. Coleman, 20 Ala. 140; Mason v. Buchanan, 62 Ala. 110; Larkin v. Mason, 71 Ala. 227; Martin v. Tally, 72 Ala. 23; Miller v. Vaughan, 73 Ala. 312. No cause for equitable interference that sheriff threatens to levy writ of execution against a firm on individual property; the circuit court may prevent such abuse of its process. Baldridge v. Eason, 99 Ala. 516. Circuit court furnishes adequate remedy against excessive execution.—Triest v. Enslen, 106 Ala. 180.

Feb. 22, 1887, p. 134.

920 (757) (655, 668) (744, 761) (626, 643). Residence and salary of judge.—Each circuit judge must reside in the circuit for which he is elected or appointed twelve months preceding, and at the time of his election or appointment, and during his continuance in office; and his salary shall be twenty-five hundred dollars per annum.

921 (758) (658) (747) (629). Authority of judges.—Such judges have authority—

1. To grant writs of certiorari, supersedeas, quo warranto, mandamus, and all other remedial and original writs which are grantable by judges at common law.

Ex parte Henderson, 43 Ala. 392; Ex parte Grant, 53 Ala. 16; Ex parte Boothe, 64 Ala. 312.

2. To grant writs of injunction and ne exeat, returnable into the courts of chancery.

3. To administer oaths and take affidavits in all cases in which oaths and affidavits are required by law.

4. To exercise such other powers as are, or may be granted them by law.

No constitutional right to jury trial in such cases.—Taliaferro v. Lee, 97 Ala. 92. Writ when issued may not be disregarded, although done irregularly or on insufficient petition.—Ex parte Boothe, 64 Ala. 312. Power to issue writ vested in judge, and may be exercised in vacation.—Ex parte Grant, 53 Ala. 16; Ex parte Henderson, 43 Ala. 392. Certiorari lies to review proceedings of inferior tribunals and correct errors apparent on face of record when no appeal provided for.—Lamar v. Commissioner's Court, 21 Ala. 772; Dean v. State, 63 Ala. 153; Ex parte Boothe, 64 Ala. 312; Camden v. Bloch, 65 Ala. 236; Miller v. Jones, 80 Ala. 89; Stanfill v. Court of Revenue, 80 Ala. 287; McAlilley v. Horton, 75 Ala. 491; M. & C. R. Co. v. Brannum, 96 Ala. 461; McCulley v. Cunningham, 96 Ala. 583; Independent Pub. Co. v. Am. Press Asso., 102 Ala. 475. Certiorari and supersedeas to quash execution issued on bond irregularly forfeited.—Taylor v. Powers, 3 Ala. 285; Del Barco v. Bank, 12 Ala. 238; Hill v. McKenzie, 39 Ala. 314; Rhodes v. Smith, 66 Ala. 174; Cobb v. Thompson, 87 Ala. 381. Supersedeas, what may be inquired into under.—Dunlap v. Clements, 18 Ala. 778; Bank v. Coleman, 20 Ala. 140; Thompson v. Lassiter, 86 Ala. 536; Gatchell v. Foster, 94 Ala. 622.

922 (759) (660) (751) (633). Absence of judge adjourns the court.—When any circuit judge fails to attend, the court stands adjourned from day to day until three o'clock in the afternoon of the third day, when it is adjourned to the next succeeding term.

923 (760) (662) (756) (638). Forfeiture for failure to hold court, or for absence from it.—If any circuit judge fails or neglects to attend any regular term of any circuit court which he takes upon himself to hold, or, after attending, absents himself before the time fixed for final adjournment, unless the business is sooner disposed of, he forfeits the sum of twenty-five dollars for each and every day he is thus absent or fails to attend, to be deducted by the auditor from his salary; the absence or failure of such judge to be certified to the auditor by the clerk within ten days after the term, under a penalty of one hundred dollars, to be recovered by the solicitor in the circuit court of his county, in the name of the state, on two days' notice.

924 (761) (663) (757) (639). Exceptions to provisions of preceding section.—The deduction provided for in the preceding section must not be made, if the judge makes an affidavit that such failure to attend, or absence was on account of sickness of himself or family, or inevitable accident, or of an epidemic or contagious disease, or well-grounded apprehension thereof.

925 (762) (665) (759) (641). Sheriff to summon three constables or deputies to attend court.—The sheriff of the county must summon three constables or deputies to attend at each term of the circuit court, and may, on order of the court, summon additional deputies; and should any one of them fail to attend, a conditional judgment may be entered against him of ten dollars, which must be made absolute, unless he appears at the next term and shows a good excuse for not attending.*

926 (663) (666) (760) (642). Compensation to such constables. Such constables or deputies attending receive each one dollar and fifty cents for each day's attendance, to be paid out of the county treasury, on the certificate of the clerk, showing the number of days they have attended.*

927 (764) (667). Acts, etc., where kept; duties in reference to; default in duty a contempt.—On the first day of each term of the circuit court, the sheriff, at the instance of the presiding judge thereof, must apply to the judge of probate for the session acts of the general assembly, the supreme court reports, Smith's condensed reports, and Brickell's digest, furnished by the state to each county, and the judge of probate must deliver them to the sheriff, whose duty it shall be to keep them in the court-room, conveniently arranged, for the use of the court during the term; and if the judge of probate or sheriff fails or refuses to discharge any of the duties required of him by this section, he shall be deemed guilty of a contempt of court, and shall be fined therefor, at the discretion of the presiding judge, in a sum not to exceed twenty dollars.

928. Special judge appointed by governor when circuit judge absent or impeached.—Whenever it shall be made known to the governor that any regular term or terms of the circuit court will not be held by any regular judge of that court, by reason of the failure of the judge to attend such term or terms, or when impeachment proceedings are pending against him, the governor may appoint and commission a person possessing the qualifications of circuit judges, as special judge to hold such regular term or terms of such court; and such special judge shall qualify by taking the oath of office prescribed by the constitution, and shall proceed to hold such court for the term or terms thereof which he is appointed to hold; and during the time of such appointment, such special judge shall have and exercise all the powers and jurisdiction of judges of the circuit court; but his term of office shall cease and determine upon the adjournment of the term or terms of the court which he is appointed to hold, or sooner if the regular judge shall appear and assume the duty of holding such court, except that such special judge may thereafter sign bills of exceptions in cases tried before him, and to that end may make orders extending the time for signing such bills of exceptions the same as the regular judge might do. No fee shall be charged for the commission herein authorized to be issued.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1135, §1.

Ib. §2. 929. Compensation of such special judge.—Such special judge shall receive as compensation for his services, the sum of ten dollars per day for each day he is actually engaged in holding such court, and his actual and necessary expenses incurred therein, to be paid out of the state treasury on the approval of the governor and warrant drawn by the auditor.

930. Circuit judge reduced to half pay while place filled by another.—For each day a special judge is paid under the provisions of the preceding section, the auditor must, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, cause to be deducted from the salary of the circuit judge, and retained for the benefit of the state, the sum of three dollars and forty-seven cents, so that the circuit judge shall receive but one-half his usual salary for the time his place is filled by the special judge. But when the penalty prescribed by section 923 (760) of this Code is enforced, the deduction herein provided for shall not be made; nor does this section apply when the circuit judge was, during such time, engaged in holding court elsewhere.

CLERKS OF THE CIRCUIT COURT, THEIR QUALIFICATIONS, DUTIES AND POWERS; OTHER PROVISIONS RELATING TO THEIR OFFICE.

931 (765) (669) (764) (646). Official bond of clerk.—Before entering upon the performance of the duties of his office, the clerk of the circuit court must give bond, with sufficient sureties, in such sum as the circuit judge or the judge of probate of his county may require, not less than two thousand dollars, payable to the State of Alabama, and conditioned faithfully to discharge the duties of his office during the time he continues therein, or discharges any of the duties thereof; which bond must be approved by the circuit judge, or such judge of probate, and filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate.

932 (766) (670) (766) (649). Their offices; where kept.—Such clerks must keep their offices at the court-house.

933 (767) (676) (771) (651). Their authority.—Clerks of the circuit court have authority—

1. To administer oaths and take affidavits in all cases in which the authority to administer such oath or take such affidavit is not confined to some other officer.

2. To appoint deputies, with full power to transact all business of such clerks, such deputy first taking an oath to support the constitution and laws of this state, and faithfully to discharge the duties of deputy clerk of the court for which he acts.

3. To receive the amount of any judgment rendered in the courts of which they are clerks, either before or after the issue of execution thereon.

4. To exercise such other powers as are, or may be conferred upon them by law.

Subdivision 2.—Such deputy may take affidavit and issue attachment. Minniece v. Jeter, 65 Ala. 222. A deputy duly appointed and acting under color and claim of office, although not having taken oath, is a de facto officer whose acts are good so far as the public or third persons are concerned.—Joseph v. Cawthorn, 74 Ala. 411. But perjury cannot be predicated on an oath administered by such de facto deputy.—Walker v. State, 107 Ala. 5. Subdivision 3.—Power declared.—Murray v. Charles, 5 Ala. 678. Clerk may not receive anything in payment but legal tender money.—Aicardi v. Robbins, 41 Ala. 541 (overruling Haynes v. Wheat, 9 Ala. 239). . When clerk has collected money, statute of limitations begins to run in his favor only when he is guilty of some default respecting it.—McDonnell v. Bank, 20 Ala. 313. Clerk has no authority to receive payment before judgment, but he may so act after judgment with reference to money collected previous to judgment as to make it a good payment.—Governor v. Read, 38 Ala. 252; Currie v. Thomas, 8 P. 293; Dean v. Governor, 13 Ala. 526; Fitzpatrick v. Bank, 14 Ala. 533; Snedicor v. Davis, 17 Ala. 472.

934 (768) (671) (767) (650). Their duties.—It is the duty of clerks of the circuit court—

1. To sign and issue all summons, subpœnas, writs, executions and other processes, under the authority of the court.

2. To keep an appearance-docket of civil cases, in which must be entered all the civil actions brought to each term, the names of the parties, the character of action, the names of the attorneys by whom the same are brought, and the sheriff's return.

3. To keep a trial-docket of civil cases, in which must be entered all the civil cases standing for trial at each term, in the order in which they are brought, the names of the attorneys employed, the character of the action, and the orders which have been made in each cause at any previous term.

4. To keep a trial-docket of criminal cases, in which must be entered all the criminal cases in their order, the character of the offense, the return of the sheriff, the orders which have been made in each case at any previous term, and the names of the attorneys for the defense.

5. To keep a motion-docket for entering all motions intended to be submitted to the court.

6. To keep separate subpœna-dockets for civil and criminal cases, in which must be entered the cases in which any subpœnas are issued, the names of the witnesses, the time of the issue, and the return of the sheriff.

7. To keep an execution-docket, in which must be entered all executions issued, specifying the names of the parties, the amount of the judgment, and the day and year of its rendition, the amount of costs, the character of the execution, the date of its issue, the person to whom delivered, and the date of such delivery, the day when returned, the return in full on the same page on which the execution is entered, and the number of the execution.

8. To keep a book, in which must be entered the minutes of each day's proceedings during the term of the court, and the orders and judgments, in the order in which they are made or rendered.

9. To record in well-bound books, within six months after the final determination of any suit or prosecution, all the proceedings relating thereto, not previously recorded under section 2644 (653) except the subpœnas, affidavits for continuance, commissions to take testimony, evidence and executions.

10. To enter on the fee-book, execution-docket and on the execution, the name of the attorney for the plaintiff in the judgment.

11. To keep and file the books and dockets and papers in relation to, and the records of all suits which have been determined in the county court, and deposited with them, as they are required to keep and file the books, dockets, papers and records of suits in the circuit court; and to issue all writs of execution, scire facias, writs of error, or other process, on the judgments of such court, returnable as if such suits had been determined in the circuit court.

12. To keep all the papers, books, dockets, and records belonging to their office, with care and security; the papers filed, arranged numbered and labeled, so as to be of easy reference; and the books, dockets and records properly lettered; and to allow parties to inspect the records free of charge.

13. To attend court during the session thereof, with all the papers belonging to the term, so filed as to be of easy reference; to keep in the court-house during such session, convenient of access, the execution-dockets for the two preceding terms; and to administer all oaths, and take all affidavits in relation to causes or proceedings pending therein.

14. To make out and deliver, on application and payment of the legal fees therefor, to any person applying for the same, a correct transcript, properly certified, of any paper or record in their offices.

15. To make out transcripts, as required by law, in all cases of appeal to the supreme court.

16. To render to the county treasurer, within ten days after each term of the court, a statement, in writing and under oath, of the fines assessed and forfeitures obtained during such term, the amount of each, and against whom each was assessed or obtained, and also what money they have received for the county, specifying from whom, on what account, and the amount in each case; and, after deducting from such amount five per cent. for their compensation, they must pay the balance to the county treasurer.

17. To keep reverse indexes of all record-books in their offices, which must always be in good and substantial, well-bound books; but they are not required to prepare any new indexes when those already in the office are sufficient.

18. To make weekly visits to the county jail as prescribed by section 1415 (900) of this Code, and on each weekly visit to inspect the record-books of the sheriff, descriptive of prisoners in jail and see that the entries are properly made, and verify each entry therein made, and report to the grand jury any failure of the sheriff to keep such record as is required of him by law. Feb. 28, 1889, p. 88, §3.

19. To perform such other duties as are, or may be required of him by law.

Subdivision 7.—Execution docket admissible to identify and unite a judgment and executions issued on it.—DeLoach v. Robbins, 102 Ala. 288.—Subdivision 14.—When clerk's certificate to transcript sufficient.—Clements v. Pearce, 63 Ala. 284; Cargile v. Bogan, 65 Ala. 287; Cofer v. Schening, 98 Ala. 338.

935 (769) (674) (741). Records open to examination.—The records of the clerk's office must be free for the examination of all persons, when not in use by him.

936 (770) (673) (740). Recopy of books in his office.—The clerk, deeming it necessary to recopy any books in his office, in order to secure their contents from damage or loss, must submit the same to the examination of the court of county commissioners, who, if they deem such recopy necessary, must, upon the minutes of the court, order the same to be made; and the clerk must make the same in good and substantial books; and such court must allow him a reasonable compensation therefor.

937 (771) (677) (774) (604). When to collect sheriff's commissions.—When any clerk receives payment of a judgment, he must collect the costs and commissions of the sheriff, if execution has issued on such judgment.

938 (772) (675) (769). Duty of clerk when convict indicted; convict not released until bail is given.—The clerk of any circuit court must, without delay, certify a copy of any indictment in his court against a convict sentenced to the penitentiary, or to hard labor for the county; in the former case to the governor and president of the board of inspectors, in the latter, to the hirer of the county convicts; and such convict, if pardoned for the offense for which he is sentenced, must not be discharged until he enters into a recognizance to answer such indictment at the next term of the court in which the same is pending, if the case is bailable, or is otherwise legally discharged from such indictment.

939 (773) (683). Clerk's duty to pay over money to his successor.—Any clerk of the circuit court, having in his hands, at the expiration of his term of office, any money held by him, subject to the further order, decree, or judgment of any court, shall, on demand, pay the same to his successor in office; and upon such payment, he shall be discharged from further liability therefor.

940 (774) (682) (780) (660). Clerk's stationery to be paid for by the county.—The court of county commissioners must allow to the clerk of the circuit court the amounts properly expended by him for books and stationery for the use of his office.

Stationery includes blanks for use in office, such as writs, subpœnas, witness-certificates, etc.—Commissioner's Court v. Goldthwaite, 35 Ala. 704.

941 (775) (678) (776) (656). Committee to examine clerk's office.—The judge of the circuit court must, in term time, as often as he thinks the public interests require, appoint in each county one or more persons, not exceeding three, to examine the office of the clerk of the circuit court of such county.

942 (776) (679, 681) (777, 779) (657, 659). Oath and duty of such examiners.—The persons so appointed must take and subscribe an oath, well and truly to examine the records, books and dockets of such court, and the condition of the office of the clerk generally; and must, in the vacation after such court, examine such office, books, records and dockets, and report the condition of the same to the next term of the court, in writing, specifying particularly any neglect of duty, or anything done wrongfully or corruptly in relation to such office; and for their services they shall receive such compensation as may be allowed them by the court of county commissioners.

943 (777) (680) (778) (658). Their report to be recorded.—The report of such examiners, when made, must be recorded in the office of the judge of probate, and shall be subject to the inspection of all persons, free of charge.

CHAPTER 20.

CITY COURTS. 944, 945.

944. Jurisdiction and powers co-extensive with circuit and chancery courts.—Unless otherwise provided by law, the city courts and the judges thereof have and exercise all the jurisdiction and powers of the circuit court and the judges thereof; and, when invested with equity jurisdiction, have and exercise all the jurisdiction and powers of the chancery court and chancellors.

945. Special judges of city and criminal courts may be appointed by the governor when necessary.—The provisions of this Code authorizing the appointment by the governor of special circuit judges, and defining their powers and duties, are applicable to city and criminal courts. The special judge of a city or criminal court shall receive as compensation for his services during the time he is engaged in holding such court, one-half of the salary of the regular judge, to be paid in the same manner and from the same source that the salary of the regular judge is paid, and deducted from his salary.

COLLATERAL SECURITIES; PLEDGES. 946-950.

946 (1783). Receipt given for collaterals.—All banking, insurance and other corporations, private bankers, brokers and other persons engaged in the business of making discounts, or lending money, or taking or receiving a collateral for a loan or discount, if demanded, must give to the borrower, or to his agent or attorney, a receipt or acknowledgment in writing, designating or describing the collateral taken or received, and stating the character of the debt, the time of its maturity, and amount, for the payment of which such collateral is intended as security. If negotiable bonds are taken or received as collateral, the receipt or acknowledgment must, if such bonds are numbered, state the series number thereof. No title to such collateral shall pass, if there be a willful neglect or refusal to give such acknowledgment or receipt.

947 (1784). Pledges or collaterals not transferable.—Collateral securities taken, or property pledged, to secure the payment of a debt, must not, without a transfer of the debt, be transferred or assigned otherwise than is hereinafter provided. A transfer of the debt passes to the transferee the right of the transferor in such collateral security or property pledged. A transfer or assignment of such security or property pledged, not accompanied by a transfer of the debt, is a discharge of the hypothecation or pledge, restoring the right and title of the person from whom it was received.

Original owner may affirm or disaffirm unauthorized transfer of security or property pledged—Pollak v. Janney, 100 Ala. 561.

948 (1785). Sale of collaterals or pledges.—On the maturity and non-payment of the debt for the security of which collateral security, or a pledge, is taken and received, the creditor or the transferee of the debt may, after having given to the debtor, or person from whom such security or pledge was received, if he reside within the county, two days' notice in writing of the intention to sell (which notice may be left at his residence or place of business, or sent through the mail, postage prepaid), make sale at public outcry of such security or pledge, and on such sale may transfer or assign the same; and such transfer or assignment shall vest in the transferee or assignee all the right and title of the person from whom such security or pledge was taken or received, and all the right and title of the creditor or his assignee or transferee. Such sale may be made by the personal representative of the creditor, or of the transferee of the debt. If the debtor or person from whom such security or pledge was received, do not reside within the county, notice of the intention to sell is not necessary.

949 (1786). Notice and place of sale.—Before making such sale, notice of the time and place thereof must be given for at least five days, by advertisement in some public newspaper published in the county, or if there be not a newspaper published in the county, by posting notice at the court-house door and three other public places in the county; such notice must describe the securities or property, but, without the consent of the debtor, or person giving the security or pledge, need not state his name, nor mention nor describe the debt for which such security or pledge was taken. Such sale may be made at the court-house door, or at such other public place as may be selected at which sales at public outcry are usual.

950 (1787). Surplus proceeds of sale.—If on such sale, after paying the costs and expenses thereof, and the debt, there remains any balance of the proceeds of sale, the same must be paid to the debtor or person from whom such security was taken or received, or to his assignee or transferee. If on demand, after receiving the proceeds of sale, the creditor, or his transferee, or the personal representative of the creditor or transferee, fail or neglect to pay such balance, the same shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent. per month.

COMMISSIONERS' COURTS. 951-967.

951 (819) (739) (825) (697). How constituted; a court of record. There is in each county a court of record, styled the court of county commissioners, composed of the judge of probate, as principal judge, and four commissioners, who are elected at the times prescribed by law, and hold office for four years from the first day of September next after their election, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1091.

An inferior court of limited jurisdiction; everything necessary to sustain jurisdiction must affirmatively appear on the face of the record.—Commissioners v. Thompson, 15 Ala. 134; s. c., 18 Ala. 694; Barnett v. State, 15 Ala. 829; Long v. Commissioners, 18 Ala. 482; Wightman v. Karsner, 20 Ala. 446; Lamar v. Commissioners, 21 Ala. 772; Molett v. Keenan, 22 Ala. 484; Commissioners v. Tarver, 25 Ala. 480; Keenan v. Commissioners, 26 Ala. 568; State v. Ely, 43 Ala. 568; State v. Falconer, 44 Ala. 696; Trammell v. Pennington, 45 Ala. 673; Commissioners v. Hearne, 59 Ala. 371; Henry v. Cohen, 66 Ala. 382; Joiner v. Winston, 68 Ala. 129. The court can amend its record nunc pro tunc.—Commissioners v. Hearne, 59 Ala. 371.

952 (820) (740) (826) (698). Vacancy; how filled.—In case of a vacancy, it is to be filled by the governor, and the person so appointed holds office for the remainder of the term of the commissioner in whose place he is appointed.

953 (821) (741) (827) (699). Commissioners ineligible to certain offices.—No county commissioner is eligible to or must discharge the duties, either as principal or deputy, of any office which is filled, or the vacancy in which is supplied by the court, or its members.

954 (822) (742) (828) (700). Quorum of court.—The court may be held by the judge of probate and two commissioners, or with three commissioners without the judge of probate; and if as many as two commissioners fail to attend during the first two days of any term, the judge of probate may hold court.

955 (823) (743) (829) (701). Regular terms, etc.—Regular terms of the court are held on the second Mondays in February and August, and the first Mondays of April and November; but the time of holding such regular terms may be changed by such court to suit the public convenience, by an order, to be entered on the minutes, and due notice given thereof.

Not necessary to adjourn from day to day.—Lewis v. Intendant, 7 Ala. 85.

956 (824) (744) (830) (702). Special terms; notice of.—In cases where officers are to be appointed, or vacancies supplied, or any other special duty required by law to be performed, a special term must be held, by direction of the judge of probate, upon ten days' notice by advertisement in some newspaper in the county, or by posting up at the court-house door, and two other public places in the county, notice of the same.

No power to hold special terms except in cases expressly authorized by law. Wightman v. Karsner, 20 Ala. 446.

957 (825) (745) (831) (703). Original jurisdiction of court. The court possesses original jurisdiction in relation to the establishment, change, or discontinuance of roads, bridges, causeways and ferries, within the county, to be exercised in conformity with the provisions of this Code.

This jurisdiction is quasi legislative or governmental as well as judicial, and in its exercise the court cannot ordinarily be controlled except where private property is interfered with.—Hill v. Bridges, 6 Port. 197; Moore v. Hancock, 11 Ala. 245; Parnell v. Commissioners, 34 Ala. 278; Commissioners v. Moore, 53 Ala. 25; Commissioners v. Hearne, 59 Ala. 371; Askew v. Hale Co., 54 Ala. 639. The court may be guided by considerations other than those presented by legal evidence, as geographical situation, necessity, wishes and ability of the inhabitants of the neighborhood, etc.—Hill v. Bridges, 6 Port, 197; Parnell v. Commissioners, 34 Ala. 278; Commissioners v. Bowie, 34 Ala. 461; Askew v. Hale Co., 54 Ala. 639. What is necessary to give jurisdiction over the change or establishment of a road.—Commissioners v. Thompson, 15 Ala. 134; s. c., 18 Ala. 694; Barnett v. State, 15 Ala. 829; Molett v. Keenan, 22 Ala. 484; Commissioners v. Tarver, 25 Ala. 480; Keenan v. Commissioners, 26 Ala. 568; Commissioners v. Bowie, 34 Ala. 461; Commissioners v. Hearne, 59 Ala. 371. Cannot transfer a ferry franchise from one to another; has only power to establish a ferry or revoke a license. Lamar v. Commissioners, 21 Ala. 772.

958 (826) (746) (832) (704). Authority of court.—The court has authority—

1. To direct and control the property of the county, as it may deem expedient according to law.

2. To levy a general tax, for general, and a special tax, for particular county purposes, according to the provisions of this Code.

3. To examine, settle and allow all accounts and claims chargeable against the county.

4. To examine and audit the accounts of all officers having the care, management, collection, or disbursement of money belonging to the county, or appropriated for its use and benefit.

5. To make such rules and regulations for the support of the poor in the county, as are not inconsistent with any law of the state.

6. To punish for contempt by fine, not exceeding ten dollars, and imprisonment, not exceeding six hours.

7. To exercise such other powers as are or may be given by law.

Subdivision 1.—Court is not entrusted with all the authority and jurisdiction given to the county.—Commissioners v. Moore, 53 Ala. 25. Subdivision 2.—No authority to levy taxes on escaped railway property unless specially conferred by statute.—Perry Co. v. S. M. & M. R. Co., 58 Ala. 546. Subdivision 3.—In the examination and allowance of claims the action of the court is executive or administrative, not judicial.—Commissioners v. Moore, 53 Ala. 25; Jeffersonian Pub. Co. v. Hilliard, 105 Ala. 576; State v. Rogers, 107 Ala. 444. As to auditing and allowance.—See section 1416 (901). As to presentation and suits against county.—See section 13 (2574). Subdivision 5.—Its powers in relation to the poor are judicial and extensive.—Henry v. Cohen, 66 Ala. 382. Subdivision 7.—No control over the fine and forfeiture fund. State v. Stone, 69 Ala. 206.

959 (827) (747) (833) (705). Proceedings to be recorded by judge.—The judge of probate must record the proceedings of the court, make all necessary orders, and issue all process necessary to sustain its jurisdiction, or maintain its authority.

960 (828) (748) (834) (706). Proceedings if judge absent. When a court is held without the attendance of the judge of probate, a special clerk must be appointed for such term, who must be paid by the judge of probate.

961 (829) (749) (835) (707). Proceedings if court divided.—In all matters, where the court is divided, the same must be determined by the judge of probate.

962 (830) (750). Publication of receipts and disbursements. It shall be the duty of the court of county commissioners to make semi-annual publications, on the first days of January and July of each year, showing the receipts and expenditures of money for the county, specifying particularly the sources from which received, and the purposes for which expended.

963 (831) (752). Books and material for county offices; where bought; when payment refused.—Books, stationery and other material for the use of a county office, must be bought from a person residing and doing business in this state, if such purchase can be made at a price not exceeding that at which it can be made without the state; and if such purchase is not so made, there shall be no payment therefor out of the county treasury; and upon application for payment or allowance, any person has the right to show that such purchase was made in violation of this section.

964 (655) (561) (654). Of record-books destroyed.—If the books of record of any county, or a part thereof, be destroyed by an armed force, or by fire, or by the violence of nature, it is the duty of the court of county commissioners to purchase such blank books as may be necessary to supply them.

965 (832) (751). Copy of field-notes.—The court of county commissioners is authorized to contract with the secretary of state, at an amount not greater than six and a half cents per hundred words, for certified copies of the field-notes of the original government surveys of all the lands in the county, to be made in a book of proper size, to be furnished by the court; and such book shall be deposited in the office of the judge of probate, free to inspection, and making of copies of said field-notes by all citizens of the state; and when the same is completed and delivered to the judge of probate, the court of county commissioners must draw a warrant on the county treasurer for the amount due the secretary of state, which shall be a preferred claim against such county.

966 (833) (753). Laws applicable to courts of like jurisdiction. All general laws, now in force in this state, or which may be hereafter enacted, in reference to the several courts of county commissioners, shall apply to all similar courts, by whatever name, with like jurisdiction, unless otherwise specially provided.

967 (834) (739) (825) (697). Compensation of commissioners. The commissioners are entitled to two dollars and fifty cents per day for each day of actual service rendered, five cents per mile for traveling to and from the sittings of the court, and such ferriage or toll as they may have paid in such traveling, to be paid by the county treasurer on the certificate of the judge of the court.

COMMISSIONERS OF DEEDS. 968.

968 (64) (63) (65) (52). Appointment of commissioners in other states.—The governor may appoint commissioners in the other states and territories of the United States, to take and certify depositions, to receive the acknowledgment and take the proof of conveyances of property within this state, and the proof of wills executed by persons without the state, devising or bequeathing property within this state. Commissioners appointed under this section shall hold office for three years.

Courts take judicial notice of appointment.—Keller v. Moore, 51 Ala. 340. Alabama form of acknowledgment must be followed.—Keller v. Moore, 51 Ala. 340; E. T. V. & G. R. Co. v. Davis, 91 Ala. 615.

CHAPTER 24.

CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS. 969, 970.

969 (29) (29) (34) (31). State divided into congressional districts.—The state is divided into nine congressional districts, as follows: The first district shall be composed of the counties of Choctaw, Clarke, Marengo, Mobile, Monroe and Washington. The second district shall be composed of the counties of Baldwin, Butler, Conecuh, Crenshaw, Covington, Escambia, Montgomery, Pike and

As amended Feb. 13, 1891, p. 627.

Wilcox. The third district shall be composed of the counties of Barbour, Bullock, Coffee, Dale, Geneva, Henry, Lee and Russell. The fourth district shall be composed of the counties of Calhoun, Chilton, Cleburne, Dallas, Shelby and Talladega. The fifth district shall be composed of the counties of Autauga, Chambers, Clay, Coosa, Elmore, Lowndes, Macon, Randolph and Tallapoosa. The sixth district shall be composed of the counties of Fayette, Greene, Lamar, Marion, Pickens, Sumter, Tuscaloosa and Walker. The seventh district shall be composed of the counties of Cherokee, Cullman, DeKalb, Etowah, Franklin, Marshall, St. Clair and Winston. The eighth district shall be composed of the counties of Colbert, Jackson, Lauderdale, Lawrence, Limestone, Madison and Morgan. The ninth district shall be composed of the counties of Bibb, Blount, Hale, Jefferson and Perry.

970 (30) (30) (36). One representative for each district, and by whom chosen.—Each district is entitled to one representative in the congress of the United States, who shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the district.

CONSTABLES. 971–980.

971 (843) (762) (846) (715). Constables; election, term, etc. There is one constable for each election precinct in each county in the state, elected as provided by this Code, who holds office for four years from the first day of September next after his election, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1091.

972 (844) (763) (847) (716). Vacancy, how filled.—Vacancies in the office of constable are filled by appointment of the governor, and the person appointed holds office for the unexpired term, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

973 (845) (301) (316) (271). Notice of vacancy.—When a vacancy in any election precinct is occasioned by the death, or removal from such precinct, of the constable thereof, notice thereof must be given to the judge of probate by the justice of such precinct residing the nearest to such constable, specifying the cause of such vacancy and the name of such constable; and the judge of probate must thereupon notify the governor.

974 (846) (764) (848) (717). Bond.—Before entering on the duties of his office, he must give bond, with surety, in the sum of one thousand dollars, conditioned and payable as prescribed by law, which bond is to be approved by the judge of probate, and filed and recorded in his office.

Martin v. Hall, 72 Ala. 587.

975 (847) (765) (849) (718). Conservator of the peace.—Every constable is a conservator of the peace within his county.

976 (848) (766) (850) (719). Duties.—His duties are—

1. To attend the terms of the circuit court of the county when summoned by the sheriff for that purpose.

2. To execute and return all summons, executions and other process, to them directed by any lawful authority.

3. To pay over moneys collected by virtue of his office to the person entitled thereto.

4. To attend the regular term of the justices' courts in his precinct.

5. To perform such other duties as are, or may be required of him by law.

977 (849) (767) (851) (720). Removal from precinct vacates office.—He vacates his office by removal from the election precinct, and is liable to a penalty of forty dollars for acting as constable after such removal, to be recovered before any justice of the county in which he resides, by any person suing for the same; one half to the use of such person, and the other half to the use of the county.

978 (850) (768) (852). Special constables; when appointed by justice.—When the office of constable is vacant, or the constable is interested in a cause pending before a justice of the peace or notary public exercising the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace, or in case of emergency, the justice or notary must appoint a suitable person to act as constable, without bond; and the person so appointed must perform the same duties and is liable to the same pains and penalties as constables; but such special constable is not authorized to levy or collect executions.

979. How executions and attachments served when office of constable vacant, etc.—When the office of constable is vacant, or the constable is interested in the cause, or in case of emergency, the execution or attachment must be executed by any constable of the county in whose hands the process may be placed, or may be executed by the sheriff as in other cases.

980 (851) (3653) (3256) (2810). Liability of constable and sureties.—The constable and sureties on his bond are responsible for moneys received by him, in virtue of his office, upon any summons, attachment, or execution issued by a justice, whether the same is received before or after judgment, or before or after the return day of the execution.

Return may be contradicted by parol evidence.—Craven v. Higginbotham, 83 Ala. 429; Thorn v. Kemp, 98 Ala. 417. Voluntary bond admissible and binding, unless execution denied by sworn plea, or consideration impeached. Bryan v. Kelly, 85 Ala. 569.

CHAPTER 26.

CONVEYANCES AND LOANS.

ARTICLE 1.—WHO MAY MAKE CONVEYANCES FOR THE ALIENATION OF LANDS; HOW MADE. 981–984.

2.—REGISTRATION, ACKNOWLEDGMENT AND PROBATE. 985–1004.

3.—PROTECTION TO CREDITORS AND PURCHASERS AGAINST DORMANT CONVEYANCES. 1005–1018.

4.—GENERAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO THE CONSTRUCTION OF CONVEYANCES. 1019–1063.

5.—MORTGAGES OF UNPLANTED CROPS. 1064.

6.—SATISFACTION OF MORTGAGES AND VENDORS' LIENS. 1065–1068.

7.—PERFECTING IMPERFECT TITLES. 1069–1072.

ARTICLE 1.

WHO MAY MAKE CONVEYANCES FOR THE ALIENATION OF LANDS; HOW MADE.

981 (1788) (2144) (1534) (1265). Who may convey lands by deed or will.—All persons of the age of twenty-one years, and not under a legal incapacity, may alien their lands, and any interest therein, whether immediate or future, certain or contingent, by instrument in writing, or by their last will, under the regulations prescribed by law.

Deed of non compos mentis void.—Kennedy v. Marrast, 46 Ala. 161. Presumption of sanity; burden of proof.—Pike v. Pike, 104 Ala. 642. Rules for determining whether an instrument be a deed or a will.—Gillham v. Mustin, 42 Ala. 365; Jordan v. Jordan, 65 Ala. 301; Rice v. Rice, 68 Ala. 216; Trawick v. Davis, 85 Ala. 342; Sharp v. Hall, 86 Ala. 110; Crocker v. Smith, 94 Ala. 295; Abney v. Moore, 106 Ala. 131.

982 (1789) (2145) (1535) (1266). Conveyances of land to be in writing; how executed.—Conveyances for the alienation of lands must be written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, on parchment or paper, and must be signed at their foot by the contracting party, or his agent having a written authority; or, if he is not able to sign his name, then his name must be written for him, with the words "his mark" written against the same, or over it; the execution of such conveyance must be attested by one witness, or, where the party cannot write, by two witnesses who are able to write, and who must write their names as witnesses.

Exclusive method of conveyance.—Hendon v. White, 52 Ala. 597; Carlisle v. Carlisle, 78 Ala. 542. Partly written and partly printed; rule of construction.—Thornton v. S. & B. R. Co., 84 Ala. 109; Slayton v. Blount, 93 Ala. 575. Signed at the foot.—Harrison v. Simons, 55 Ala. 510; Carlisle v. Carlisle, 78 Ala. 542; Winston v. Hodges, 102 Ala. 304. Signature may be written by another by direction and in the presence of grantor.—Lewis v. Watson, 98 Ala. 479. Agent must sign name of principal by himself as agent; must have written authority.—Jones v. Morris, 61 Ala. 518; Taylor v. A. & M. Asso., 68 Ala. 229; Standifer v. Swann, 78 Ala. 88. Signing by mark.—Weil v. Pope, 53 Ala. 585 (overruling O'Neal v. Robinson, 45 Ala. 526); Robinson v. O'Neal, 56 Ala. 541; Sikes v. Shows, 74 Ala. 382; Doe v. Richardson, 76 Ala. 329; Carlisle v. Campbell, 76 Ala. 247; Johnson v. Davis, 95 Ala. 293. If part only of signers are named in the body of the instrument, those omitted are not grantors; but if none are named, all are grantors.—Bradford v. Dawson, 2 Ala. 203; Williams v. Jones, Ib. 314; Hendon v. White, 52 Ala. 597; Harrison v. Simons, 55 Ala. 510; Hammond v. Thompson, 56 Ala. 589; Madden v. Floyd, 69 Ala. 221; Blythe v. Dargin, 68 Ala. 370; Gaston v. Weir, 84 Ala. 193; Fite v. Kennamer, 90 Ala. 470; Sheldon v. Carter, 90 Ala. 380; Davidson v. Ala. Iron & Steel Co., 109 Ala. 383. Attested or acknowledged.—Hendon v. White, 52 Ala. 597; Weil v. Pope, 53 Ala. 585; Harrison v. Simons, 55 Ala. 510; Robinson v. O'Neal, 56 Ala. 541; Lord v. Folmar, 57 Ala. 615; Bank v. Jones, 59 Ala. 123; Wilson v. Glenn, 62 Ala. 28; Clements v. Pearce, 63 Ala. 284; Goodlett v. Hansell, 66 Ala. 151; Dugger v. Collins, 69 Ala. 324; Coker v. Ferguson, 70 Ala. 284; Sikes v. Shows, 74 Ala. 382; Doe v. Richardson, 76 Ala. 329; Webb v. Mullins, 78 Ala. 111; Carlisle v. Carlisle, 78 Ala. 542; Reynolds v. Caldwell, 80 Ala. 232; Welsh v. Coley, 82 Ala. 363; Caperton v. Hall, 83 Ala. 171. See also citations to sections 996 (1802) and 997 (1803). Sheriff's deed must be attested or acknowledged.—Lord v. Folmar, 57 Ala. 615; Stubbs v. Kohn, 64 Ala. 186; Eureka v. Brown, 103 Ala. 140. A tax deed must be acknowledged.—Jackson v. Kirksey, 110 Ala. 547. Deed of resale must be attested or acknowledged.—Scott v. Griggs, 49 Ala. 185. Witness must write his own name as a witness, and with the knowledge and consent of grantor.—Harrison v. Simons, 55 Ala. 510; Goodlet v. Hansell, 56 Ala. 346; Stewart v. Beard, 69 Ala. 470; Carlisle v. Carlisle, 78 Ala. 542; Sparks v. Woodstock, 87 Ala. 294. Grantee incompetent as a witness.—Coleman v. State, 79 Ala. 49. Defective acknowledgment may operate as attestation of one witness.—Merritt v. Phenix, 48 Ala. 87; Sharpe v. Orme, 61 Ala. 263; Rogers v. Adams, 66 Ala. 600; Carlisle v. Carlisle, 78 Ala. 542; Torrey v. Forbes, 94 Ala. 135; Jones v. Hagler, 95 Ala. 529; N. C. & St. L. R. Co. v. Hammond, 104 Ala. 191. Destruction or cancellation of deed, after delivery, or return to grantor, ineffectual to reinvest title.—Mallory v. Stodder, 6 Ala. 801; King v. Crocheron, 14 Ala. 822; Gimon v. Davis, 36 Ala. 589; Kimball v. Greig, 47 Ala. 230; Reavis v. Reavis, 50 Ala. 60; Carithers v. Lay, 51 Ala. 390; Smith v. Cockrell, 66 Ala. 64; Brady v. Huff, 75 Ala. 80; Stapp v. Wilkinson, 80 Ala. 47; Bailey v. Campbell, 82 Ala. 342; Hollingsworth v. Walker, 98 Ala. 543; Whisenant v. Gordon, 101 Ala. 250. Assignment of conveyance must contain words of conveyance, and be attested or acknowledged to convey legal title.—Graham v. Newman, 21 Ala. 497; Sanders v. Cassady, 86 Ala. 246. Instrument not properly executed as a deed may be good as contract to convey, or color of title.—Pollard v. Maddox, 28 Ala. 321; L. & N. R. Co. v. Boykin, 76 Ala. 560; Standifer v. Swann, 78 Ala. 88; Welsh v. Coley, 82 Ala. 363; Caperton v. Hall, 83 Ala. 171; Sparks v. Woodstock I. Co., 87 Ala. 294; McInerny v. Irvin, 90 Ala. 275; Florence v. Warren, 91 Ala. 533; Torrey v. Forbes, 94 Ala. 135; Hollis v. Harris, 96 Ala. 288; Eureka v. Brown, 103 Ala. 140. Effect of interlineation.—Sharpe v. Orme, 61 Ala. 263; Webb v. Mullins, 78 Ala. 111.

983 (2694) (2948) (2599) (2198). Seal not necessary to enable grantee to sue.—A seal is not necessary to convey the legal title to land to enable the grantee to sue at law. Any instrument in writing signed by the grantor, or his agent having a written authority, is effectual to transfer the legal title to the grantee, if such was the intention of the grantor, to be collected from the entire instrument.

Not retroactive.—Wisdom v. Reeves, 110 Ala. 418. Remedial and liberally construed.—Webb v. Mullen, 78 Ala. 111. Does not dispense with other requisite formalities; operation and effect of seal is retained.—Goodlett v. Hansell, 56 Ala. 346; Jones v. Morris, 61 Ala. 518; Webb v. Mullins, 78 Ala. 111. Agent with written authority; ratification.—Jones v. Morris, 61 Ala. 518; Taylor v. A. & M. Asso., 68 Ala. 229; Standifer v. Swann, 78 Ala. 88. Intention controls.—Brewton v. Watson, 67 Ala. 121; Webb v. Mullins, 78 Ala. 111; Tatum v. Tatum, 81 Ala. 388; Potts v. Coleman, 86 Ala. 94; Wisdom v. Reeves, 110 Ala. 418.

984 (1790) (2146) (1536) (1267). Acknowledgment dispenses with necessity of witnesses.—The acknowledgment, hereinafter provided for, operates as a compliance with the requisitions of the second preceding section upon the subject of witnesses.

Effect of acknowledgment after delivery.—Hendon v. White, 52 Ala. 597; Scott v. Griggs, 49 Ala. 185. (See also citations to sections 982 and 996.)

ARTICLE 2.

REGISTRATION, ACKNOWLEDGMENT AND PROBATE.

985 (1791) (2147) (1537) (1268). Record of conveyances.—Conveyances of property, required by law to be recorded, must be recorded in the office of the judge of probate.

986 (1792) (2148) (1538) (1269). Books kept for recording, and mode of recording.—Judges of probate are to procure, at the expense of their counties, large and well-bound books, in which must be recorded, in a fair hand, word for word, conveyances of property, with the acknowledgments, proofs, schedules, plats, surveys, etc., belonging thereto; and at the foot, or in the margin of the record of each conveyance, the day of the month and year of the delivery of the same for record must be specified. The judge making the record of any conveyance must certify on the same when it was received and recorded, and in what book and page the same is recorded, and must deliver it to the party entitled thereto, or his order, on the payment of the fees of registration; but the judge of probate may refuse to indorse "filed" on any conveyance, or to record the same, until such fees of registration are paid.

Conveyance not affected by mistake in copying or failure to index.—Mims v. Mims, 35 Ala. 23; Sanders v. Knox, 57 Ala. 80; Turner v. McFee, 61 Ala. 468; Seibold v. Rogers, 110 Ala. 438. True time of filing may be shown by parol.—Jordan v. Mead, 12 Ala. 247. Recording an entirety and fee provided is for the whole service.—Tillman v. Wood, 58 Ala. 578.

987 (1793) (2149) (1539) (1270). Delivery operates as record. The conveyance is operative as a record from the day of the delivery to the judge; and any one delivering a conveyance for registration may require a receipt for the same, describing it by date, parties thereto and property conveyed.

Delivery operates as record.—Heflin v. Slay, 78 Ala. 180; Fouche v. Swain, 80 Ala. 151; Leslie v. Hinson, 83 Ala. 266; Seibold v. Rogers, 110 Ala. 438. Filing for record may operate as delivery to grantee, if such the intention. Ellsberry v. Boykin, 65 Ala. 336; Alexander v. Alexander, 71 Ala. 295; Sheffield v. Neill, 87 Ala. 158; Lewis v. Watson, 98 Ala. 479; Elston v. Comer, 108 Ala. 76; Wells v. Am. Mortg. Co., 109 Ala. 430. Effect of mistake in recording or failure to index.—Mims v. Mims, 35 Ala. 23; Sanders v. Knox, 57 Ala. 80; Turner v. McFee, 61 Ala. 468.

988 (1794) (2150) (1540) (1271). Access to record, and certified copies.—Such judge must permit all persons to have free access to such books during office hours, and furnish transcripts therefrom, with certificates, when required, upon the payment of lawful fees.

989 (1795) (2151) (1541) (1272). Penalty for neglect, and how enforced.—If any judge of probate neglects or refuses to perform any of the duties required by this article, he is liable to a suit for damages to the party injured; and also to a penalty of two hundred dollars, which may be sued for by the county treasurer for the use of the county, or in his own name by the party aggrieved, for the joint use of himself and the county.

990 (1796) (2152) (1542) (1273). Real property recorded where land lies.—Conveyances of real property must be recorded in the county in which such property is situate.

991 (1797) (2153) (1543) (1274). Record of conveyance operates as notice.—The recording in the proper office of any conveyance of property which may be legally admitted to record, operates as a notice of the contents of such conveyance, without any acknowledgment or probate thereof.

Notice only of instruments the record of which is authorized by law.—McCain v. Wood, 4 Ala. 258; Stewart v. Kirkland, 19 Ala. 162; Fash v. Ravesies, 32 Ala. 451; Monroe v. Hamilton, 60 Ala. 226. Instruments protected.—Reed v. Smith, 14 Ala. 380; Twelves v. Nevill, 39 Ala. 175; Dudley v. Witter, 46 Ala. 664; Pierce, v. Jackson, 56 Ala. 599; Taylor v. A. & M. Asso., 68 Ala. 229; Mayer v. Taylor, 69 Ala. 403; Whittleshoffer v. Strauss, 83 Ala. 517; Heflin v. Slay, 78 Ala. 180; O'Neal v. Seixas, 85 Ala. 80; Hudmon v. DuBose, 85 Ala. 446; Mobile Savings Bank v. McDonnell, 87 Ala. 736. Lease of standing timber. Milliken v. Faulk, 111 Ala. 658. Instruments not protected.—McCain v. Wood, 4 Ala. 258; Stewart v. Kirkland, 19 Ala. 162; Fash v. Ravesies, 32 Ala. 451; Bailey v. Timberlake, 74 Ala. 221, declared dictum; O'Neal v. Seixas, 85 Ala. 80. Notice of what rights and claims.—Fenno v. Sayre, 3 Ala. 458; Minell v. Reed, 26 Ala. 730; Monroe v. Hamilton, 60 Ala. 226; Lehman v. Collins, 69 Ala. 127. To whom record is notice.—DuBose v. Young, 10 Ala. 365; Steele v. Adams, 21 Ala. 534; Jones v. Parks, 22 Ala. 446; Gimon v. Davis, 36 Ala. 589; declaring Center v. B. & M. Bank, 22 Ala., 743 dictum; Sanders v. Knox, 57 Ala. 80; Mobile Savings Bank v. McDonnell, 87 Ala. 736; Caldwell v. Pollak, 91 Ala. 353. Registration notice although instrument not acknowledged or probated.—Merritt v. Phenix, 48 Ala. 87; Bickley v. Keenan, 60 Ala. 293.

992 (1798) (2154) (1544) (1275). When self-proving; certified copy evidence.—Conveyances of property, whether absolute or on condition, which are acknowledged or proved according to law, and recorded within twelve months from their date, or prior to the fifteenth day of December, 1895, may be received in evidence in any court without further proof; and if it appears to the court that the original conveyance has been lost or destroyed, or that the party offering the transcript has not the custody or control thereof, the court must receive a transcript, duly certified, in the place of such original. Dec. 14, 1894, p. 167.

When self-proving.—Hart v. Ross, 57 Ala. 518; s. c., 64 Ala. 96; Parsons v. Woodward, 73 Ala. 348; Goree v. Wadsworth, 91 Ala. 416; Robinson v. Cahalan, 91 Ala. 479; Florence v. Warren, 91 Ala. 533. When not.—Keeler v. Moore, 51 Ala. 340; Sharpe v. Orme, 61 Ala. 263; Baucum v. George, 65 Ala. 259; Boykin v. Smith, 65 Ala. 294; Dugger v. Collins, 69 Ala. 324; Coker v. Ferguson, 70 Ala. 284; Roney v. Moss, 76 Ala. 491; England v. Hatch, 80 Ala. 247; Tranum v. Wilkinson, 81 Ala. 408; Campbell v. O'Neal, 81 Ala. 476; Florence v. Warren, 91 Ala. 533. When original record, or certified copy, admissible in evidence.—Huckabee v. Shepherd, 75 Ala. 342; Jones v. Hagler, 95 Ala. 529; Farrow v. N. C. & St. L. Ry., 109 Ala. 448. Ancient deeds.—White v. Hutchings, 40 Ala. 253; Beard v. Ryan, 78 Ala. 37; England v. Hatch, 80 Ala. 247; Allison v. Little, 85 Ala. 512; Wisdom v. Barclay, 108 Ala. 155. Applies to corporations.—Jinwright v. Nelson, 105 Ala. 399; Mickle v. Montgomery, 111 Ala. 415.

994 (1800) (2156) (1546) (1277). Before whom taken in other states or foreign countries.—Acknowledgments and proofs of conveyances may be taken within the United States, and beyond the State of Alabama, by judges and clerks of any federal court, judges of any court of record in any state, notaries public, or commissioners appointed by the governor of this state; beyond the limits of the United States, such acknowledgments and proofs may be taken by the judge of any court of record, mayor, or chief magistrate of any city, town, borough, or county, notaries public, or by any diplomatic, consular, or commercial agent of the United States.

Alabama form must be followed.—Keller v. Moore, 51 Ala. 340; Evans v. Richardson, 76 Ala. 329; Campbell v. O'Neal, 81 Ala. 476; E. T. V. & G. R. Co. v. Davis, 91 Ala. 615. Commissioner of deeds.—Keller v. Moore, 51 Ala. 340; E. T. V. & G. R. Co. v. Davis, 91 Ala. 615. Clerk of a state court beyond the state has no authority.—Evans v. Richardson, 76 Ala. 329; Campbell v. O'Neal, 81 Ala. 476. Justice of the peace ex officio notary, authorized.—Goree v. Wadsworth, 91 Ala. 416. Seal of notary self proving.—Carhart v. Clark, 31 Ala. 396; Hart v. Ross, 57 Ala. 518; Goree v. Wadsworth, 91 Ala. 416. Applies to corporations.—Jinwright v. Nelson, 105 Ala. 399; Mickle v. Montgomery, 111 Ala. 415.

995 (1801) (2157) (1547) (1278). Power of attorney; how proved or acknowledged.—Powers of attorney, or other instruments conferring authority to convey property, or to enter satisfaction of mortgages or other liens, may be proved or acknowledged, and recorded, in the same manner, and must be received as evidence to the same extent, as conveyances.

Goree v. Wadsworth, 91 Ala. 416; Jinwright v. Nelson, 105 Ala. 399.

996 (1802) (2158) (1548) (1279). Form of acknowledgment of conveyance.—The following is the form of acknowledgment to be used in this state, on conveyances of every description admitted to record:

"The State of———, } I (name and style of the officer), hereby ——— county. } certify that —— ——, whose name is signed to the foregoing conveyance, and who is known to me, acknowledged before me on this day, that, being informed of the contents of the conveyance, he executed the same voluntarily on the day the same bears date. Given under my hand, this —— day of ———, A. D. ———

A. B., Judge," etc. (or as the case may be.)

When sufficient.—Carter v. Doe, 21 Ala. 72; Sharpe v. Orme, 61 Ala. 263; Coker v. Ferguson, 70 Ala. 284; Abney v. DeLoach, 84 Ala. 393; Goree v. Wadsworth, 91 Ala. 416; Orr v. Blackwell, 93 Ala. 212. When insufficient.—Merritt v. Phenix, 48 Ala. 87; Keller v. Moore, 51 Ala. 340; Boykin v. Smith, 65 Ala. 294; Rogers v. Adams, 66 Ala. 600; Coker v. Ferguson, 70 Ala. 284; Roney v. Moss, 76 Ala. 491; Carlisle v. Carlise, 78 Ala. 542; Campbell v. O'Neal, 81 Ala. 476; E. T., V. & G. R. Co. v. Davis, 91 Ala. 615; Jones v. Hagler, 95 Ala. 529; Davidson v. Ala. Iron & Steel Co., 109 Ala. 383; Jackson v. Kirksley, 110 Ala. 547. Insufficient acknowledgment may operate as the attestation of one witness.—See citations to section 982 (1789). Literal compliance not required. Sharpe v. Orme, 61 Ala. 263; Gates v. Hester, 81 Ala. 357. Effect when attacked; conclusiveness.—Holleman v. DeNyse, 51 Ala. 95; Miller v. Marx, 55 Ala. 322; Barnett v. Proskauer, 62 Ala. 486; Rogers v. Adams, 66 Ala. 600; Smith v. McGuire, 67 Ala. 34; Moog v. Strang, 69 Ala. 98; Van Cleave v. Wilson, 73 Ala. 387; Scott v. Simons, 70 Ala. 352; Downing v. Blair, 75 Ala. 216; Shelton v. Aultman, 82 Ala. 315; American F. L. Mtg. Co. v. James, 105 Ala. 347, modifying Giddens v. Bolling, 99 Ala. 319, and Grider v. American F. L. Mtg. Co., 99 Ala. 281; Jinwright v. Nelson, 105 Ala. 399; Cheney v. Nathan, 110 Ala. 254.

997 (1803) (2159) (1549) (1280). Form of probate of conveyance.—The form of a probate of a conveyance is as follows:

"The State of ———, } I (name and style of the officer), hereby ——— county. } certify that —— ——, a subscribing witness to the foregoing conveyance, known to me, appeared before me this day, and being sworn, stated that —— ——, the grantor, voluntarily executed the same in his presence, and in the presence of the other subscribing witness, on the day the same bears date; that he attested the same in the presence of the grantor, and of the other witness, and that such other witness subscribed his name as a witness in his presence. Given under my hand, this —— day of ———, A. D.——

A B., Judge," etc. (or as the case may be.)

Hines v. Chancey, 47 Ala. 637; Harrison v. Simons, 55 Ala. 510; Hart v. Ross, 57 Ala. 518; Campbell v. O'Neal, 81 Ala. 476.

998 (1804) (2160) (1550) (1281). Conveyance to be proved or acknowledged in order to obtain benefit of registration.—All conveyances admitted to record on proof must be attested by two witnesses, and the proof or acknowledgment must comply substantially with the foregoing forms, or the conveyances lose the privileges conferred by section 992 (1798).

See citations to two preceding sections.

999 (1806) (2162) (1553) (1283). Mortgages, etc., of personal property; where recorded.—Conveyances of personal property to secure debts, or to provide indemnity, must be recorded in the county in which the grantor resides, and also in the county where the property is at the date of the conveyance; and if before the lien is satisfied the property is removed to another county, the conveyance must be again recorded within three months from such removal, in the county to which it is removed.

Property removed to another county.—Wilkinson v. King, 81 Ala. 156; Polak v. Davidson, 87 Ala. 551; Malone v. Bedsole, 93 Ala. 41. Effect of recording.—Benedict v. Renfroe, 75 Ala. 121; Howell v. Carden, 99 Ala. 100; Cooper v. Berney Nat. Bank, 99 Ala. 119; Siebold v. Rogers, 110 Ala. 438.

1000 (1807) (2163) (1554) (1284). Incumbrances on personal property brought to the state; where recorded.—Whenever any personal property is subject to any lien, incumbrance, mortgage, or trust for the security of debts, at the time of its removal to this state, the writing evidencing the lien, incumbrance, mortgage, or trust must be recorded in the county into which it is brought, and remains, within three months of the arrival of such property.

Johnson v. Hughes, 89 Ala. 588.

1001 (1808) (2164) (1555) (1285). Record of conveyance of personal property brought into state by tenant for life, etc.—Whenever any person, having an estate for life or years in personal property, removes to this state with such property, the conveyance creating such estate must be recorded in the county to which it was brought, within twelve months thereafter; and if such property is removed to another county, then in such county within four months after its removal thereto; or such property must be taken to vest absolutely in such person, as to purchasers and creditors without notice.

Twelves v. Nevill, 39 Ala. 175.

1002 (1809) (2165) (1556) (1286). Choses in action not personal property.—Things in action are not included in the words "personal property" in this article.

1003 (1878) (2231) (1623) (1353). Patents may be recorded and copies evidence.—Patents from this state or the United States to lands in this state may be recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which the lands lie; and a certified copy of such record is evidence in any court of this state.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 814.

1004. Deeds of assignment for the benefit of creditors must be recorded.—All deeds of assignment executed by debtors for the benefit of creditors shall, as soon as executed, be filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which the property is situated, and such deeds are operative in all respects as other deeds from the day of the delivery to the judge.

ARTICLE 3.

PROTECTION TO CREDITORS AND PURCHASERS AGAINST DORMANT CONVEYANCES AND LOANS.

Who within protection of statute.—Ohio Ins. Co. v. Ledyard, 8 Ala. 866; Daniel v. Sorrells, 9 Ala. 436; Center v. P. & M. Bank, 22 Ala. 743; DeVendell v. Doe, 27 Ala. 156; Fash v. King, 86 Ala. 332; Troy v. Walter, 87 Ala. 233; Caldwell v. Pollak, 91 Ala. 353; Motley v. Jones, 98 Ala. 443; Griffin v. Hall, 111 Ala. 601; s. c. Ala. (22 So. 156). And the possession must be "open, visible, exclusive, and unambiguous, not liable to be misconstrued or misunderstood."—Wells v. American Mort. Co., 109 Ala. 430. See also citations to section 991.

1006 (1811) (2167) (1558) (1288). Conveyances of realty securing pre-existing debts; when recorded; effect of failure.—All other conveyances of real property, mortgages, or deeds of trust, to secure any debts, other than those specified in the preceding section, are inoperative and void, as to purchasers for a valuable consideration, mortgagees, and judgment creditors, without notice, unless the same have been recorded before the accrual of the right of such purchasers, mortgagees, or judgment creditors.

See citations to preceding section.

1007 (1812) (2168) (1559) (1289). Defeasance of absolute conveyance also to be recorded.—The two preceding sections include absolute conveyances of real property defeasible by a defeasance or other instrument, in which case such defeasance or instrument must be recorded, according to its character, within the time limited in the two preceding sections, or it is void as to purchasers for a valuable consideration, mortgagees and judgment creditors of the original grantee without notice.

1008 (1813) (2169) (1560) (1290). Remainders, after estate for life in realty; when and as to whom void.—All wills and conveyances, creating estates in lands in remainder or reversion, or upon a condition, after an estate for life or lives, are inoperative and void, as against the creditors of the tenant for life or lives in possession, after a possession of five years by such tenant, unless the will or conveyance be recorded within five years from the entry and possession of such tenant.

1009 (1814) (2170) (1561) (1291). Conveyances of personalty securing debts, etc.; when recorded; effect of failure.—Conveyances of personal property to secure debts, or to provide indemnity, are inoperative against creditors and purchasers without notice, until recorded, unless the property is brought into this state subject to such incumbrances, in which case three months are allowed for the registration of the conveyance; and if such property is removed to a different county from that in which the grantor resides, the conveyance must be recorded in such county within three months from the removal, or it ceases to have effect after such three months against creditors or purchasers of the grantor without notice.

What conveyance within.—Michan v. Wyatt, 21 Ala. 813; Hardaway v. Semmes, 38 Ala. 657; Rowland v. Plummer, 50 Ala. 182; Pierce v. Jackson, 56 Ala. 599; Dudley v. Abner, 52 Ala. 572; Sumner v. Woods, 52 Ala. 94; s. c., 67 Ala. 139; Fairbanks v. Eureka Co., 67 Ala. 109; Benedict v. Renfroe, 75 Ala. 121; Cooper v. Berney Nat. Bank, 99 Ala. 119; Howell v. Carden, 99 Ala. 100.

Who protected.—DuBose v. Young, 10 Ala. 365; Jones v. Parks, 22 Ala. 446; Centre v. P. & M. Bank, 22 Ala. 743; Holman v. Lock, 51 Ala. 287. Brought into this state.—Johnson v. Hughes, 89 Ala. 588. Removed to a different county. Wilkinson v. King, 81 Ala. 156; Pollak v. Davidson, 87 Ala. 551; Malone v. Bedsole, 93 Ala. 41.

1010 (1815) (2171) (1562) (1292). Defeasance of absolute conveyances also to be recorded.—The preceding section includes absolute conveyances of personal property, defeasible by a defeasance or other instrument; and in such case the defeasance must be recorded according to the provisions of such section, or the same is void as to creditors and purchasers from the grantee without notice.

1011 (1816) (2172) (1563) (1293). Marriage settlements; when recorded; effect of failure.—Personal property conveyed in consideration of marriage, when the possession remains with the husband, or the husband and wife, must be taken as the property of the husband, in favor of purchasers without notice, and creditors, unless such conveyance is recorded in the county of the husband's residence, within twelve months after such possession commenced in this state; and if the husband removes to another county, within four months after such removal.

1012 (1817) (2173) (1564) (1294). Loans in writing, remainders, etc., in personalty void, unless recorded within three years.—All loans in writing, wills, or conveyances creating estates in personal property, on condition, in reversion, or remainder, or in which the use is separated from the right, other than the conveyances hereinbefore in this article specified, and under which possession is suffered to remain for three years with the party entitled to the estate or use, vest an absolute estate in the person so having possession for such number of years, as to creditors and purchasers of such person, unless such loan, will, or conveyance is recorded within such time in the county where such property is.

Myers v. Peek, 2 Ala. 648; Gressett v. Agee, 14 Ala. 354; Butler v. Jones, 80 Ala. 436; Weinstein v. Freyer, 93 Ala. 257.

1013 (1818) (2174) (1565) (1295). Loans of personalty for three years; effect of, unless suit brought.—All loans of personal property, not in writing, vest an absolute estate in the person in possession under such loan, as to purchasers and creditors of such person, after three years from the commencement of such loan, unless within that time the lender commence an action at law, in good faith, for the recovery of the property.

Myers v. Peek, 2 Ala. 648; Gressett v. Agee, 14 Ala. 354; Brainard v. McDevitt, 21 Ala. 119; Montgomery v. Kirksey, 26 Ala. 172; Carew v. Love, 30 Ala. 577; Durden v. McWilliams, 31 Ala. 206; s. c., 36 Ala. 345; Butler v. Jones, 80 Ala. 436; Carr v. Lester, 90 Ala. 349.

1014 (1819) (2175) (1566) (1296). Conveyances of personalty to minors; effect of failure to record for three years.—All conveyances of personal property in favor of minor children, except by will, where the custody, control and visible possession thereof is suffered to remain by the donor with the father or mother of such children, vest an absolute estate in such father or mother so in possession, in favor of the purchasers from, and creditors of, such father or mother, without notice, unless the conveyance is recorded within three years after such possession commenced in this state, in the county of the residence of such father or mother.

1015 (1820) (2176) (1567) (1297). Parol gifts of personal property; when void.—Parol gifts of personal property are inoperative, until the custody, control, management and use of the property passes from the donor to the donee, and is possessed by such donee, or his agent; when the donee is a minor living with his parents, or either of them, the possession of the father, or parent with whom he is living, must be considered the possession of the child.

Smith v. Wiggins, 3 S. 221; Sims v. Sims, 8 P. 449; McCutchen v. McCutchen, 9 P. 650; Sewall v. Glidden, 1 Ala. 52; Durett v. Sewall, 2 Ala. 669; Walton v. Tims, 7 Ala. 470; Pope v. Randolph, 13 Ala. 214; Phillips v. McGrew, 13 Ala. 255; Easly v. Dye, 14 Ala. 158; Hunley v. Hunley, 15 Ala. 91; Jones v. Deyer, 16 Ala. 221; Bryant v. Ingraham, 16 Ala. 116; Thomas v. DeGraffenreid, 17 Ala. 602; Stallings v. Finch, 25 Ala. 518; Ivey v. Owen, 28 Ala. 641; Ragsdale v. Norwood, 38 Ala. 21; Gillespie v. Burleson, 28 Ala. 551; Bates v. Vary, 40 Ala. 421; Goree v. Walthall, 44 Ala. 161; Haygood v. Marlowe, 51 Ala. 478; Dacus v. Streety, 59 Ala. 183; Huddleston v. Huey, 73 Ala. 215; Walker v. Crews, 73 Ala. 412; Brantley v. Cameron, 78 Ala. 72; Boyett v. Potter, 80 Ala. 476; McHugh v. O'Connor, 91 Ala. 243; Wheeler v. Glasgow, 97 Ala. 700; Foreman v. Weil, 98 Ala. 495; Jones v. Weakley, 99 Ala. 441.

1016 (1821). Contracts for conditional sale of railroad rolling-stock.—Contracts for the conditional sale of railroad equipment or rolling-stock, by the terms of which the vendor retains the title until payment of the purchase-money, and the purchaser obtains possession, are void against the judgment creditors of the purchaser without notice, or purchasers from him for a valuable consideration without notice, unless such contracts are in writing, and, within three months after the making thereof, recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which such corporation may have its principal office or place of business; and if it has not in this state a principal office or place of business, then in the office of the secretary of state; and, in addition, all cars or engines so sold must have thereon, plainly marked, the name of the vendor.

1017. Conditional sales, leases, etc., to be recorded.—All other contracts for the conditional sale of personal property, by the terms of which the vendor retains the title until payment of the purchase-money and the purchaser obtains possession of the property, and all contracts for the lease, rent or hire of personal property, by the terms of which the property is delivered to another on condition that it shall belong to him whenever the amount paid shall be a certain sum, or the value of the property, the title to remain in the other party until such sum or value shall have been paid, are, as to such condition, void against purchasers for a valuable consideration, mortgagees and judgment creditors without notice thereof, unless such contracts are in writing and, within thirty days after the date thereof, recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which the party so obtaining possession of the property resides, and also in the county in which such property is delivered and remains; and if, before the payment of the purchase-money or the sum or value stipulated, the property is removed to another county, the contract must be again recorded, within three months from the time of such removal, in the county to which it is removed; and if any such property is brought into this state while subject to such condition, the contract of sale, lease, hire or rent must, within three months thereafter, be recorded in the county into which the property is brought and remains.

1018 (1822). Such contract, or a certified copy thereof, may be received in evidence.—Such contract, when the execution thereof has been acknowledged or proved before an officer having authority to take and certify the acknowledgment of conveyances, and when such contract has been duly recorded, must be received in evidence without other proof of execution; and if the original of such contract is lost or destroyed, or the party offering in evidence a certified transcript has not the custody or control thereof, a certified transcript from the record thereof must be received in evidence without other proof of the execution of the original.

ARTICLE 4.

GENERAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO THE CONSTRUCTION OF CONVEYANCES.

1019 (1823) (2177) (1568) (1298). Attornment of tenant dispensed with.—Every conveyance of an estate in any hereditament, corporeal or incorporeal, is good and effectual without attornment of the tenant; but no tenant who has paid his rent without notice of such conveyance is liable therefor.

Otis v. McMillan, 70 Ala. 46; Comer v. Sheean, 74 Ala. 452; American F. L. Mtg. Co. v. Turner, 95 Ala. 272.

1020 (1824) (2178) (1569) (1299). All conveyances of lands construed as fees unless expressly limited.—Every estate in lands is to be taken as a fee simple, although the words necessary to create an estate of inheritance are not used, unless it clearly appears that a less estate was intended.

Whorton v. Moragne, 62 Ala. 201; Patton v. Beecher, 62 Ala. 579; Wolffe v. Loeb, 98 Ala. 426; Moore v. Lee, 105 Ala. 435.

1021 (1825) (2179) (1570) (1300). Fee tail equivalent to fee simple.—Every estate in real or personal property in fee tail, now or hereafter created, becomes an estate in fee simple, and the person in whom such a conditional fee vests has the same power over the estate as in case of pure and absolute fees.

1022 (1826) (2180) (1571) (1301). A contingent remainder in lands is equivalent to an executory devise.—No estate in lands can be created by way of contingent remainder; but every estate created by any will or conveyance, which might have taken effect as a contingent remainder, has the same properties and effect as an executory devise.

Vesting and failure of contingent remainders.—Gindrat v. Western Ry., 96 Ala. 162. Remainders discussed.—Smaw v. Young, 109 Ala. 528.

1023 (1827) (2181) (1572) (1302). Remainder limited after death without heirs or issue; how construed.—Where a remainder in real or personal property is limited to take effect on the death of any person without heirs, or heirs of his body, or without issue, the word "heirs," or "issue," must be construed to mean heirs or issue living at the death of the person named as ancestor.

1024 (1828) (2182) (1573) (1303). Birth of posthumous child. Where a future estate is limited to "heirs," "issue," or "children," posthumous children are entitled to take the estate in the same manner as if born before the death of the parent. Any future estate depending upon the death of a person without heirs, issue, or children, is defeated by the birth of a posthumous child of such person capable of taking by descent.

When posthumous children excluded.—Moore v. Lee, 105 Ala. 435.

1025 (1829) (2183) (1574) (1304). The rule in Shelley's case abolished.—Where a remainder created by a deed or will is limited to the heirs, issue, or heirs of the body of a person to whom a life-estate in the same property is given, the persons who, on the termination of the life estate, are the heirs, issue, or heirs of the body of such tenant for life, are entitled to take as purchasers by virtue of the remainder so limited to them.

1028 (1832) (2186) (1577) (1307). Certain trusts may be created vesting legal title in trustee.—Nothing in the preceding section contained shall prevent the conveyance of real or personal property, or the issues, rents and profits thereof, to another in trust for the use of the grantor, or of a third person, or his family, or for any other lawful purpose; but in such case the legal title vests in the trustee.

See citations to preceding section.

1029 (1833) (2187) (1578) (1308). If perpetuity not created, lands conveyed for such terms as parties choose.—Lands may be conveyed, within the limits fixed by law, so as to avoid perpetuities, and subject to such other restrictions as are imposed by this Code, for such terms as the owner thinks proper; and courts are enjoined to give effect in such cases to the intention and meaning of the parties.

Holifield v. Robinson, 79 Ala. 419; s. c., 79 Ala. 423.

1030 (1834) (2188) (1579) (1309). Time for which lands conveyed to certain persons; perpetuity forbidden.—Lands may be conveyed to the wife and children, or children only, severally, successively and jointly; and to the heirs of the body of the survivor, if they come of age, and in default thereof, over; but conveyances to other than the wife and children, or children only, cannot extend beyond three lives in being at the date of the conveyance, and ten years thereafter.

Simmons v. Augustin, 3 P. 69.

1031 (1835) (2189) (1580) (1310). Trusts for accumulation merely; limitation upon extent.—No trust of estate for the purpose of accumulation only can have any force or effect for a longer term than ten years, unless when for the benefit of a minor in being at the date of conveyance, or if by will, at the death of the testator; in which case the trust may extend to the termination of such minority.

1032 (1836) (2190) (1581) (1311). Lease limited to twenty years. No leasehold estate can be created for a longer term than twenty years.

Void only as to excess.—Robertson v. Hayes, 83. Ala. 290.

1033 (1837) (2191) (1582) (1312). No survivorship between joint tenants.—When one joint tenant dies before the severance, his interest does not survive to the other joint tenants, but descends and vests as if his interest had been severed and ascertained.

Pope v. Pickett, 65 Ala. 487; s. c., 74 Ala. 122.

1035 (1839) (2193) (1584) (1314). When covenants of warranty implied.—In all conveyances of estates in fee, the words, "grant,"

"bargain," "sell," or either of them, must be construed, unless it otherwise clearly appears from the conveyance, an express covenant to the grantee, his heirs and assigns, that the grantor was seized of an indefeasible estate in fee simple, free from incumbrances done or suffered by the grantor, except the rents and services that are reserved; and also for quiet enjoyment against the grantor, his heirs and assigns, unless limited by the express words of such conveyance; and the grantee, his heirs, personal representatives and assigns may, in any action, assign breaches, as if such covenants were expressly inserted.

1049 (1853) (2207) (1598) (1328). Absolute power of disposition defined.—Every power of disposition is deemed absolute, by means of which the donee of such power is enabled in his lifetime to dispose of the entire fee for his own benefit; and where a general and beneficial power to devise the inheritance is given to a tenant for life or years, it is absolute within the meaning of the last two sections.

Hood v. Bramlett, 105 Ala. 660; Wells v. Am. Mtg. Co., 109 Ala. 430.

1050 (1854) (2208) (1599) (1329). What powers may be reserved. The grantor in any conveyance may reserve to himself any power beneficial, or in trust, which he may lawfully grant to another.

1051 (1855) (2209) (1600) (1330). Conveyance under power good to extent of power.—No disposition by virtue of a power is void in law or equity, on the ground that it is more extensive than was authorized by the power; but every estate or interest thus created is valid, so far as the same is embraced by the power.

1052 (1856) (2210) (1601) (1331). Power executed as conveyances.—No power of disposing of real estate can be executed, except by an instrument in writing, which would be sufficient in law to pass the estate or interest intended to pass under such power, if the person executing the power were the actual owner.

1053 (1857) (2211) (1602) (1332). Power under will; how executed.—When a power to dispose of lands is confined to a disposition by devise or will, the instrument of execution must be by will, duly executed as wills of real estate are required by law.

1054 (1858) (2212) (1603) (1333). Execution of power, when directed to be executed by insufficient instrument.—When the donor of a power has directed it to be executed by an instrument not sufficient in law to pass the estate, the power is not void, but may be executed by an instrument sufficient to pass such estate.

1055 (1859) (2213) (1604) (1334). When disposition is directed to be made among several.—When a disposition under a power is directed to be made by, between, or among several persons, without specifying the sum or share to be allotted to each, all the persons designated are entitled to an equal proportion; but when the terms of the power import that the estate or fund is to be distributed between the persons so designated, in such manner or proportion as the trustee of the power may think proper, the distribution or apportionment made by such trustee cannot be impeached in law or equity, on the ground that it is unsubstantial, illusory, or nominal.

Hatchett v. Hatchett, 103 Ala. 556.

1056 (1860) (2214) (1605) (1335). Division of fund on death of trustee having a discretion.—If the trustee of a power, with the right of selection, dies, leaving the power unexecuted, its execution may be decreed in equity for the equal benefit of all the persons designated as the objects of the trust.

1057 (1861) (2215) (1606) (1336). When consent of third person required, how expressed.—When the consent of a third person to the execution of a power is requisite, such consent must be expressed in the instrument by which the power is executed; or must be certified in writing thereon; in the first case, the instrument, and in the second, the writing must be signed by the party whose consent is required.

March v. England, 65 Ala. 275; Gindrat v. Montgomery Light Co., 82 Ala. 596; Sheldon v. Carter, 90 Ala. 380.

1058 (1862) (2216) (1607) (1337). Disposition among children; grandchildren may take under power.—When a disposition under an appointment or a power is directed to be made to or among the children of any person, without restricting it to any particular children, it may be exercised in favor of the grandchildren or other descendants of such person.

Collins v. Toomer, 69 Ala. 14; Russell v. Wright, 98 Ala. 652; Smaw v. Young, 109 Ala. 528; Thorington v. Thorington, 111 Ala. 237; Thorington v. Hall, 111 Ala. 323.

1059 (1863) (2217) (1608) (1338). Powers; when irrevocable. Every power, beneficial or in trust, is irrevocable, unless an authority to revoke it is contained or reserved in the instrument creating the power.

1060 (1864) (2218) (1609) (1339). Sale of lands devised to executors to be sold, or when power of sale given them.—When lands are devised to several executors, or a naked power given them by will to sell, the survivor or survivors, and the acting executor or executors, when any one or more of them resigns, or refuses to act, or is removed by a court of competent authority, and also an administrator with the will annexed, has the same interest in, and power over such lands for the purpose of making sale thereof, as the executors named in such will might have had.

Patton v. Crew, 26 Ala. 426; Perkins v. Lewis, 41 Ala. 649; Anderson v. McGowan, 42 Ala. 280; s. c., 45 Ala. 462; Tarver v. Haines, 59 Ala. 335; Mitchell v. Spence, 62 Ala. 450; Ex parte Dickson, 64 Ala. 188; Robinson v. Allison, 74 Ala. 254; Watson v. Martin, 75 Ala. 506; Werborn v. Austin, 77 Ala. 381.

1061 (1865) (2219) (1610) (1340). Joint power executed by sur- vivor in case of death.—When a power is vested in several persons, and, previous to the execution, one or more of such persons die, it may be executed by the survivor or survivors.

Gindrat v. Montgomery Light Co., 82 Ala. 596.

1063 (1867) (2221) (1612) (1342). Not to extend to simple power of attorney.—The provisions of this article in relation to powers do not extend to a simple power of attorney to convey lands in the name, and for the benefit of the owner.

ARTICLE 5.

MORTGAGES OF UNPLANTED CROPS.

Feb. 23, 1889, p. 45.

1064. When mortgage of unplanted crops conveys legal title. A mortgage of unplanted crops of agricultural products, executed on or after the first day of January of the year in which such crops are grown, conveys the legal title thereto in all respects as if such crops were already planted.

Hooper v. Payne, 94 Ala. 223, 226; Ballard v. Mayfield, 107 Ala. 396; Keyser v. Maas, 111 Ala. 390.

ARTICLE 6.

SATISFACTION OF MORTGAGES AND VENDORS' LIENS.

1065 (1868). Partial payment of mortgage debt entered.—A mortgagee, or the assignee or transferee of a debt secured by mortgage, who has received partial payment, if the mortgage is of record, must, on the request in writing of the mortgagor, or of a judgment creditor, or other creditor of the mortgagor having a lien or claim on the property mortgaged, or of a purchaser from the mortgagor, enter on the margin of the record of the mortgage the date and amount of such partial payment or payments. If, for thirty days after such request, the mortgagee, or the transferee or assignee fails to make such entry, he forfeits to the party making such request two hundred dollars.

Manner of serving request.—Loeb v. Huddleston, 105 Ala. 257. A notice to "release" a part of mortgaged property is insufficient.—Perryman v. Smith, 105 Ala. 573. See citations to succeeding section.

1066 (1869) (2222, 2223) (1613, 1614) (1343, 1344). Full payment or satisfaction of mortgage debt entered.—If a mortgage which is of record has been fully paid or satisfied, the mortgagee, or the transferee or assignee of the mortgagee, who has received payment or satisfaction, must, on the request in writing of the mortgagor, or of a judgment, or other creditor of the mortgagor having a lien or claim on the property mortgaged, or of a purchaser from the mortgagor, enter the fact of payment or satisfaction on the margin of the record of the mortgage. Such entry operates a release of the mortgage, and is a bar to all suits thereon at law or in equity. If for two months after such request, the mortgagee, or assignee or transferee fails to make such entry, he forfeits to the party making the request two hundred dollars, unless there is pending, or there is instituted a suit within that time, in which the fact of payment or satisfaction is or may be contested.*

Statute constitutional.—Gay, Hardie & Co., v. Rogers, 109 Ala. 624. Penal and strictly construed.—Groons v. Hannon, 59 Ala. 510; Janatt v. McCabe, 75 Ala. 325; Scott v. Field, 75 Ala. 419. The request is essentially a notice, but no particular form is necessary.—Jordan v. Mann, 57 Ala. 595; Steiner v. Snow, 80 Ala. 45; Loeb v. Huddleston, 105 Ala. 257; Perryman v. Smith, 105 Ala. 573. Request must be in writing.—Jarrett v. McCabe, 75 Ala. 325; Scott v. Field, 75 Ala. 419; Loeb v. Huddleston, 105 Ala. 257. An agent or attorney may make request.—Bell v. Wilkinson, 65 Ala. 477. Request need not be made of each member of a partnership.—Renfro v. Adams, 62 Ala. 302. But each of several mortgagors must sign it.—Jarratt v. McCabe, 75 Ala. 325. Failure to satisfy need not be willful or intentional.—Renfro v. Adams, 62 Ala. 302; Walker v. English, 106 Ala. 369. Physical or mental inability which will excuse failure to cancel.—Renfro v. Adams, 62 Ala. 302; Walker v. English, 106 Ala. 369. Mortgagee is not liable to penalty if he has transferred mortgage before request.—Harris v. Swanson, 67 Ala. 486. Pendency of suit; character of suit to bar recovery.—Scott v. Field, 75 Ala. 419. Record, and transcript of record, of mortgage, admissible in evidence.—Steiner v. Snow, 80 Ala. 45; Loeb v. Huddleston, 105 Ala. 257; Horton v. Barlow, 108 Ala. 417; Gay, Hardie & Co. v. Rogers, 109 Ala. 624. Pleading; parties; evidence. Petty v. Dill, 53 Ala. 641; Harris v. Swanson, 62 Ala. 299; Williams v. Bowdin, 68 Ala. 126; Jarratt v. McCabe, 75 Ala. 325; Scott v. Field, 75 Ala. 419; Steiner v. Snow, 80 Ala. 45; Loeb v. Huddleston, 105 Ala. 257; Gay, Hardie & Co. v. Rogers, 109 Ala. 624.

1067 (1870). Payment of mortgage debt revests title.—The payment of a mortgage debt, whether the mortgage is of real or personal property, divests the title passing by the mortgage.

Statute made no change in the rule as to personal property.—Slaughter v. Swift, 67 Ala. 494; Jackson v. Scott, 67 Ala. 99; Burns v. Campbell, 71 Ala. 271; Marcus v. Robinson, 76 Ala. 550; Askew v. Steiner, 76 Ala. 218. Mortgage executed prior to statute within its influence.—Abbett v. Page, 92 Ala. 571. Tender is equivalent to payment.—Maxwell v. Moore, 95 Ala. 166. Payment will defeat action to recover mortgaged property.—Foster v. Smith, 104 Ala. 248. Partial payment does not operate to revest title to any part of property.—Lampley v. Knox, 92 Ala. 625. Mortgagor may still file bill to cancel paid mortgage as cloud on title.—Kelly v. Martin, 107 Ala. 479.

1068. Vendor receiving payment of purchase-money recited in conveyance must enter fact on record of conveyance.—When a vendor's or other lien is reserved in any conveyance, which is of record, of real or personal property to secure the payment of the purchase-money recited in such conveyance, upon the payment in full of such purchase-money, the grantor, or his executor, administrator or other person in whom the ownership of such lien is vested at the time of the payment of such purchase-money must, on the request in writing of the grantee, his executor, administrator or assigns, enter the fact of payment on the margin of the record of such conveyance. Such entry operates a release of such lien and is a bar to all suits thereon at law or in equity. If for two months after such request, the grantor, or his executor, administrator or other person in whom the ownership of such lien is vested at the time of such payment, fails to make such entry, he forfeits to the party making the request two hundred dollars, unless there is pending, or there is instituted a suit within that time, in which the fact of payment or satisfaction is or may be contested.*

ARTICLE 7.

PERFECTING IMPERFECT TITLES.

1069 (1871) (2224) (1615) (1345). Written contracts for conveyance; how executed on death of party.—In all cases of written agreements, or contracts for the conveyance of lands in this state, where the person executing the same dies before the execution of the conveyance, the personal representative of such person may execute such conveyance according to the forms prescribed by law for the conveyance of real estate, to the person to whom such agreement or contract was made, his heirs, or assigns.

Does not apply where chancery would not decree specific performance. Lacy v. Simpson, Minor, 33. Pleading, parties and evidence in suits to compel conveyances.—Samuels v. Findley, 7 Ala. 635; Crim v. Townsend, 9 Ala. 403; Driver v. Hudspeth, 16 Ala. 348; Prince v. Bates, 19 Ala. 105.

1070 (1872) (2225) (1616) (1346). Judge of probate may compel representatives to convey.—If the personal representative refuses to execute the conveyance in the case provided for in the preceding section, he may be compelled so to do, by application to the judge of probate of the county in which letters testamentary or of administration were granted.

1071 (1873) (2226) (1617) (1347). Application; contents and notice; conveyance coerced by imprisonment.—Such application must be by petition, describing the contract or agreement, the lands to be conveyed, and stating the names of the heirs of the contracting party, which of them are of full age, and which minors; and the judge of probate must give notice of such petition by publication in some newspaper published in his county, and the county in which the lands lie; or, if none is published therein, the paper published in the place nearest to the county-site of such county, once a week for three successive weeks; and if, on the hearing of such application, it appears that such agreement or contract was fairly made, and the consideration or conditions of the same paid or performed, such judge must decree the conveyance to be executed by the personal representative of the party so contracting, according to the terms thereof; and such personal representative, failing to execute such conveyance in conformity with such decree, must be imprisoned until he executes the same; either party having the right to appeal, as on other final judgments and decrees of the probate court.

1072 (1874) (2227) (1618) (1348). Notice given to guardians of minors.—In all cases in which minor heirs are interested in such application, notice thereof must be given to the guardian; and if there is no guardian, the judge must appoint a guardian ad litem to protect their interest.

CHAPTER 27.

CORONERS. 1073-1084.

1073 (923) (852) (935) (800). Coroners; election, term, etc. A coroner for each county is elected by the qualified voters thereof, who holds office for four years from the first day of September next after his election, and until his successor is elected and qualified. Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1091, §4.

1074. Vacancy, how filled.—Vacancies in the office of coroner are filled by appointment of the governor, and the person appointed holds office for the unexpired term, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

1075 (924) (853) (937, 938) (802, 803). Bond.—Before entering on the duties of his office he must give bond, with surety, in the sum of two thousand dollars, payable and conditioned as prescribed by law, which bond is to be approved by the judge of probate and filed and recorded in his office.

1076 (925) (854). Duty to hold inquests.—It is the general duty of the coroner to hold inquests, and perform other duties as required by law.

1077 (926) (855) (939) (804). When to discharge duties of jailer.—The coroner is keeper of the jail when the sheriff is imprisoned.

1078 (927) (856) (940) (805). When to discharge duties of sheriff.—He must discharge the duties of the sheriff—

1. When the office of sheriff is vacant, and until his successor is qualified.
2. When the sheriff is imprisoned.
3. In cases to which the sheriff is a party.
4. In such cases as he is directed by the judge of probate.

1079 (928) (857) (941) (806). When sheriff interested, coroner acts.—When the sheriff is interested in any cause or proceeding, such interest not appearing on the face thereof, the judge of probate may, on a proper showing by affidavit, direct the coroner to execute the summons, writ, or other process, in such cause or proceeding.

1080. Official acts valid though process directed to any sheriff, etc.—The validity of his official acts cannot be questioned upon the ground that the process is directed to any sheriff, or that it does not show a necessity for the coroner to act, or other ground going to the form of the process.

1081 (931) (860) (944) (809). Additional bond; failure to give vacates office; vacancy certified.—When the coroner is required to discharge the duties of sheriff, the judge of probate may, in his discretion, require him to give an additional bond. If the coroner fails, for ten days after such requisition, to give such additional bond, his office is vacated, and the judge of probate must certify the vacancy to the governor.

1082 (932) (861) (946) (811). Liability for neglect of duty. For the failure to perform any duty, or the improper or neglectful performance of such duty, or for any wrongful act committed under color of office by the coroner, or the special coroner, while discharging the duties of sheriff, such coroner and his sureties, and such special coroner, are liable to the same penalties, forfeitures and judgments given by law against sheriffs in like cases, to and upon the same proceedings and remedies as are given by law against sheriffs and their sureties.

1083 (929) (858) (942) (807). Special coroner; when and by whom appointed.—The judge of probate has authority to appoint a special coroner—

1. When the coroner has not qualified or the office is vacant, and the emergency requires such officer.

2. When the coroner is absent from the county, having no deputy therein.

3. When the coroner is imprisoned.

4. When the sheriff and coroner are both parties, or both interested.

1084 (930) (859) (943, 944) (808, 809). Duties of special coroner.—A special coroner must discharge the duties of sheriff in such cases as the coroner is required, and also when the sheriff and coroner are imprisoned, and, on the direction of the judge of probate, when they are both parties, or both interested.

ARTICLE 1.

BANKS AND BANKING.

1085 (1521). Banks of deposit and discount.—Corporations for the purpose of carrying on the business of banking, without the issue of bills or notes for circulation, may be formed upon the terms and conditions, and with the capacity and powers in this article expressed.

1086 (1522). Number of corporators; amount of capital.—No such corporation must be formed without at least three stockholders, or without a capital subscribed in good faith of at least fifty thousand dollars, of which not less than twenty per cent., and, in no case, less than twenty-five thousand dollars, must be actually paid by the subscribers for stock before the filing of the declaration hereinafter mentioned.

1087 (1523). Declaration filed in office of judge of probate.—The subscribers for stock, desiring to form such corporation, must file in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which it is proposed the corporation shall be located, and have its principal place of business, a declaration in writing, signed by each of them, stating their names and residences; the name and style of the proposed corporation; the location and principal place of business thereof; the amount of the capital stock, and the number of shares into which it is divided; the purposes and nature of the business of the proposed corporation, with any other matters which they may deem it desirable to state; such declaration must be accompanied by the affidavit of the subscribers, verified before the judge of probate, that twenty-five thousand dollars of the capital has been actually paid by the subscribers, and that the same is in fact held, and is to be used solely for the business and purposes of the corporation.

1088 (1524). Certified copy of declaration and affidavit to be filed in office of secretary of state.—The declaration and affidavit having been filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate, on the request of any one or more of the subscribers, the judge of probate must make and certify, under the seal of his office, a full and complete transcript thereof, which must be filed in the office of the secretary of state; and upon the filing and record thereof in his office, the secretary must issue to the subscribers, their associates and successors, a certificate of incorporation, under the seal of the state, certifying that the transcript of the declaration and affidavit, certified by the judge of probate, is of file and record in his office, and that the subscribers, their associates and successors, are a body politic and corporate, under the name and style designated in the declaration, such corporation being located and having its principal place of business at the place designated in the declaration, and that such corporation has the capacity and powers conferred, and is subject to the duties and liabilities imposed by law; and must record such certificate; and thereafter such corporation must be deemed fully organized.

1089 (1525). Powers of corporation.—Such corporation, when organized, has power—

As amended Feb. 19, 1889, p. 36.

1. To have succession by its corporate name for the period of thirty years.

2. To sue and be sued.

3. To use a common seal, if deemed necessary, and at pleasure to alter the same.

As amended Dec. 8, 1892, p. 7.

4. To appoint such officers and agents as the business of the corporation requires, removing them at pleasure, prescribe their duties, and fix their compensation, and may fix and locate offices, agents and agencies at pleasure in the state, other than the principal place of business.

5. To make such by-laws as may be necessary for the management of its property, the regulation of its affairs, the creation and preservation of a lien on the shares of any stockholder for any indebtedness or liability he may incur to the corporation, and such regulations as are deemed proper for the transfer of its stock.

6. To hold, purchase, dispose of, and convey such real and personal property as may be necessary for its uses and business.

7. To discount bills, notes, or other evidences of debt; to receive and pay out deposits, with or without interest; to receive on special deposit money, or bullion, or foreign coins, or stocks, or bonds, or other securities; to buy or sell foreign or domestic exchange, gold and silver bullion, or foreign coins, bonds, stocks, bills of exchange, or other negotiable paper; to lend money upon personal security, or upon pledges of bonds, stocks, or negotiable securities; to take and receive security by mortgage, or otherwise, on property, real or personal.

Classes of deposits.—Alston v. State, 92 Ala. 124; Reeves v. State, 95 Ala. 31, 39.

8. To increase or decrease the capital stock in the manner hereinafter provided; but such corporation shall not have power or capacity to issue bills or notes in any form for circulation as money.

1090 (1526). Board of directors.—The business of the corporation is under the management and control of a board of directors, members of the corporation, holding and owning shares of the capital stock in good faith, who must exercise such powers as are delegated to them by the stockholders, or by the by-laws of the adoption of the stockholders; and the board must not consist of less than three members, to be elected by the stockholders at such time and place, and for such term, as may be appointed by the by-laws.

1091 (1527). Capital stock may be increased or decreased.—The capital stock of the corporation may be increased to a sum not exceeding five hundred thousand dollars, or may be decreased to a sum not less than fifty thousand dollars at a meeting of the stockholders called for the special purpose, of which notice for thirty days must be given each stockholder personally, if his residence be known, and by publication for four consecutive weeks in some newspaper published at the location or principal place of business of the corporation; and such increase or decrease must not be made except upon the vote of the stockholders holding the larger amount in value of the capital stock. If at such meeting the stockholders holding the larger amount in value of the capital stock vote for such increase or decrease, the proceedings of the meeting must be reduced to writing, and entered on the books or minutes of the corporation; and a copy thereof, verified by the certificate of the president or cashier, must be filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which the declaration is of file and record; and a copy thereof, duly certified by such judge, must be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state.

Decrease of capital stock by surrender of part of shares not binding on creditors.—Glenn v. Hatchett, 91 Ala. 316; Cooper v. Frederick, 9 Ala. 733.

1092 (1528). Existing banks or loan associations may reorganize under this article.—Any banking corporation or loan association, which has been or may be organized under any law of this state, may be reorganized and do business under the provisions of this article, upon complying with the conditions following:

1. The majority in value of the holders of the shares of such corporation shall express their wish so to do by a written paper signed by them, or expressed by vote or resolution at an election or meeting of the stockholders, to be held upon ten days' notice thereof, by publication in some newspaper published in the county wherein its business is carried on.

2. Thereupon the president and directors shall file in the office of the judge of probate of the county wherein the new corporation proposes to carry on its business, the original of such paper, or copy of such resolution, and a certificate signed by them, wherein shall be stated the name to be assumed by the corporation, the city, town, or village, and county wherein its business is to be carried on, the amount of its capital stock, the number of shares into which it is divided, the par value thereof, and their market value according to the last preceding sale which may have been made thereof, the cash value of its assets and securities, and the nature thereof, and the amount and description of its debts and liabilities; which certificate shall be verified by the oath of the president and cashier or secretary of said corporation. If it appear to the judge of probate that such corporation is solvent, that its capital is not of less value than par, and, in the aggregate, of not less value than fifty thousand dollars, the judge shall cause record to be made of the papers and documents so produced, and certify a copy thereof to the secretary of state, who shall cause the same to be recorded in his office, and issue a certificate of incorporation, as is provided in section 1088 (1524) and from and after the issue of such certificate, the former corporation must be deemed dissolved, and the corporation, as reorganized, must be deemed a corporation, having the powers and capacity in this article expressed; but such dissolution and reorganization must not be deemed to affect the pre-existing liabilities of such corporation.

Operation and effect.—Bibb v. Hall, 101 Ala. 79.

1093. Those having capital of less than fifty thousand dollars may increase and reorganize.—Any banking corporation or loan association organized under the laws of this state, whose original capital stock is less than fifty thousand dollars, may increase its capital stock to not less than fifty thousand dollars and reorganize as provided in the two preceding sections; and upon such increase and reorganization such corporation or association shall be deemed a corporation organized under the provisions of this article.

1094 (1529). Certificates of deposit not to be reissued.—No certificate of deposit, issued by the corporation for any special deposit for which interest is to be paid, must be reissued, but, on the return thereof, must be canceled.

1095 (1530). Deposits by married women or minors.—A married woman or minor may make, in her or his own name, a deposit of her or his earnings or savings in any bank; and such deposit may be general or special, and shall be paid only to such married woman or minor, or upon her or his order, and not to the husband of such married woman, or to the parents or guardian of such minor.

Deposit by husband in name of wife.—Sayre v. Weil, 94 Ala. 486.

1096 (1196) (1429) (1176) (939). How foreign bank must exercise privilege of banking.—No foreign corporation invested with the privilege of banking must exercise the same by agent in this state, except by the exclusive use of gold and silver coin, and national bank-notes, or other currency of the United States.

Wray v. Tuskegee Ins. Co., 34 Ala. 58; Morris v. Hall, 41 Ala. 519.

1097 (1197) (1430) (1178) (941). Notes and bills void.—If any corporation, or agent, violates the provisions of this article, or attempts to evade the same in the discount of any bill or note, such bill or note is void.

1098 (1198) (1431) (1179). Counterfeits may be defaced.—Any person may deface, by crossing with ink or otherwise, any bank-note that may be presented to him in payment of debts, or to be changed or exchanged, if the same is counterfeit; but should it be found, on a more careful examination, that a bank-note so defaced is a genuine note, the person defacing such note shall, if required by the holder, redeem the same, and if he fails or refuses, on application being made for that purpose,* he may be sued for the amount thereof before any court having jurisdiction.

ARTICLE 2.

INSURANCE COMPANIES; LIFE, ACCIDENT, FIRE, MARINE.

1099 (1531). Corporations for insurance.—Corporations for the insurance of lives, or for the insurance of persons or property against accident, or for insurance against fire, or against the perils and risks of the sea or of navigable streams, may be formed upon the terms and conditions, and with the powers and capacity in this article expressed.

1100 (1532). Number of stockholders; amount of capital stock. As amended Feb. 28, 1887, p. 85, §1. No such corporation must be formed without at least three stockholders, or without a capital stock, fully paid up in cash, of one hundred thousand dollars, no portion of which shall be represented by stock notes, or loans on the stock of such company as collateral.

Definition of capital stock.—Commercial Fire Ins. Co. v. Board of Rev., 99 Ala. 1. No implied power to change capital.—Grangers' L. & H. Ins. Co. v. Kamper, 73 Ala. 325; Glenn v. Hatchett, 91 Ala. 316.

1101 (1533). Declaration filed in office of judge of probate. The subscribers to the capital stock, proposing to form such corporation, must file in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which the proposed corporation is to be located, and have its principal place of business, a declaration in writing, signed by each of them, stating their names and residences, the name and style of the proposed corporation, the proposed location or principal place of business thereof, the purposes of the corporation, and the nature of its business, the amount of the capital stock, and the number of shares into which it is divided, and any other matters they may deem it desirable to state, accompanied by an affidavit, verified before the judge of probate, that at least one hundred thousand dollars of the capital stock has been actually paid by the subscribers, and is in good faith held and to be used solely for the purposes, and in the business of the corporation; which declaration and affidavit must be recorded by the judge of probate.*

Office of declaration; if more is introduced than is provided for, it is surplusage.—Grangers' L. H. & I. Ins. Co. v. Kamper, 73 Ala. 325.

*As amended by joint committee.

1102 (1534). Certified transcript filed in the office of secretary of state.—The judge of probate, on the request of any one or more of the subscribers, must make and certify, under the seal of his office, a full and complete transcript of the record of such declaration and affidavit, which must be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state; and upon the filing and record thereof, the secretary must issue to the subscribers, their associates, and successors, a certificate of incorporation, under the seal of the state, certifying therein that they are a body politic and corporate, under the name and style designated in the declaration, having the location or principal place of business in the declaration designated, with the powers and capacity conferred, and subject to the duties and liabilities imposed by law; and must record such certificate; and thereafter such corporation must be deemed duly organized.

Definition of charter.—Grangers' L. & H. Ins. Co. v. Kamper, 73 Ala. 325.

1103 (1535). Powers of corporation.—Such corporation, when organized, and any such company heretofore organized, has the power—

1. To have succession by its corporate name for a period not exceeding thirty years.*

2. To sue and be sued; and if deemed necessary, to have a common seal, and to alter the same at pleasure.

3. To hold, purchase, dispose of, and convey such real and personal property as may be necessary for its uses and purposes.

4. To appoint such officers and agents as the business of the corporation may require, prescribe their duties, fix their compensation, and remove them at pleasure.

5. To make such by-laws for the management of the property, the regulation of the affairs, the transfer of the stock of the corporation, and the creation and preservation of a lien on the shares of stockholders for any indebtedness contracted with, or liability incurred to it, as may be deemed necessary.

6. To carry on the business of life-insurance, or of accident-insurance, or of life-insurance and insurance against accidents to the person combined, or of fire-insurance, or of marine insurance, or of fire and marine insurance combined, or of either, and insurance against accidents to property, as may be expressed in the declaration.

7. To invest their money in real or personal property, stocks, or choses in action, and to sell the same; to lend money, discount bills, and secure the payment thereof.†

Application to corporations organized before the enactment of the statute. Bibb v. Hall, 101 Ala. 79; Kahn v. Hall, 101 Ala. 102. Subdivision 7.—Does not authorize the investment of its capital in subscription to the capital stock of another corporation.—Commercial Fire Ins. Co. v. Board of Rev., 99 Ala. 1; Lanier Lumber Co. v. Rees, 103 Ala. 622.

1104 (1536). Renewal of incorporation.—An incorporation under this article may be renewed according to the provisions hereinbefore made, with the consent of a majority in value of the stockholders, expressed at a meeting of the stockholders called for that purpose.

No implied power to change capital stock; statute must be strictly followed.—Grangers' L. & H. Ins. Co. v. Kamper, 73 Ala. 325; Glenn v. Hatchett, 91 Ala. 316.

1105 (1537). Increase or decrease of capital stock.—The capital stock of such corporation may be increased to a sum not exceeding five hundred thousand dollars, or decreased to a sum not less than one hundred thousand dollars, by a vote of the persons holding the larger amount in value of the stock, at a meeting of the stockholders called for that purpose, of which thirty days' notice must be given each stockholder personally whose residence is known, and by publication for four consecutive weeks in some newspaper published in the county; if at such meeting the persons holding the larger amount in value of the stock vote for the proposed increase or decrease, the proceedings of the meeting must be reduced to writing and entered on the books or minutes of the corporation, and a copy thereof, verified by the certificate of the president or secretary, must be filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate in which the declaration is of file and record; and the judge must make and certify, under his seal of office, a transcript thereof to the secretary of state, who must file and record the same in his office.

1106 (1538). Corporations may adopt or abandon mutual plan of transacting business.—Any corporation, now organized for carrying on the business of insurance in any of its forms, or which may be hereafter organized under this article, may adopt the mutual plan or principle of allowing policy-holders, or parties insured to participate in the profits, or, having adopted such plan or principle, may abandon it, by the consent of a majority in value of the holders of the capital stock, at a meeting called for that purpose, of which thirty days' notice must be given personally to each stockholder, whose residence is known, and by publication for four consecutive weeks in some newspaper published at the location or principal place of business of the corporation; if, at such meeting a majority in value of the holders of the capital stock vote for the adoption or abandonment of the mutual plan or principle, they may also vote such change in the name of the corporation as they may deem desirable. The proceedings of such meeting must be reduced to writing and entered on the books or minutes of the corporation, and a copy thereof, verified by the certificate of the president or secretary, must be filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate in which the declaration is of file and record; and the judge must certify a transcript of the record to the secretary of state, who must file and record the same in his office; and thereafter the corporation must conduct its business according to such vote, and by the name adopted.

1107 (1539). Stockholders' or directors' meetings may be held without the state.—By the consent in writing of all the holders of the capital stock residing in this state, obtained before each such meeting, and filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate in which the declaration is of file and record, or of the county in which the corporation has its principal place of business, a copy whereof, certified by such judge under the seal of his office, must be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state, a corporation organized under this article, or any insurance corporation heretofore organized under the laws of this state, may hold meetings of the stockholders, or of the directors, at such place without the state as may be designated by the by-laws of the corporation, of the adoption of the stockholders; but such corporation must keep an agent in this state, residing at its location or principal place of business, with whom must be deposited copies of the proceedings of such meetings; and must file in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which the consent of the stockholders residing in this state is of file and record, and in the office of the secretary of state, a certificate of the president, stating the name of such agent, and a like certificate, as there may, for any cause, be a change of such agent; and copies of such proceedings of such meetings, certified by such agent, or the copies thereof filed with him, are admissible in evidence in all legal proceedings against such corporation; and service of process upon such agent, in any suit or proceeding against such corporation, must be deemed and taken as service on the corporation.

1108 (1540). Principal place of business within this state required.—All corporations organized under the provisions of this article must have and keep an agent at the principal place of business designated in the declaration, on whom process may be served for the corporation in any and all proceedings against it.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 85, §§1, 2.

1109. Capital required; statements to auditor.—All insurance companies doing business as such in this state, whether chartered by the state, or admitted from other states, must have an actual capital, fully paid up in cash, of not less than one hundred thousand dollars, no portion of which must be represented by stock notes, or loans on the stock of the company or companies as collateral; and must make annual sworn statements to the auditor of their assets, condition, business of the previous year, in premiums, losses and expenses, in the state and as a whole.

1110 (1541) (2012). Consolidation of insurance corporations. Any two or more insurance corporations, incorporated under the laws of this state, may unite and consolidate their capital stock, property and business in the manner hereinafter provided.

1111 (1542) (2013). How proposal adopted; entry on minutes. Such consolidation shall be made on the recommendation of the board of directors of each of the corporations proposed to be consolidated, when adopted by a vote of the persons holding the larger amount in value of the capital stock of each corporation. Such recommendation shall be submitted in writing by the board of directors to the meeting of stockholders, and, with the vote of the stockholders thereon, shall be entered on the minutes.

1112 (1543). How consolidation consummated.—When a proposal for consolidation has been thus adopted, the consolidation shall be carried out by an agreement in writing, sealed with the corporate seals, and signed by the president of the contracting corporations, reciting that such agreement is made with the consent of the stockholders of each of the corporations, given as provided above, and stating the terms and conditions of such consolidation. This agreement must be recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which such corporations are located; or, if they be located in different counties, in the office of the judge of probate of each county, and a certified copy filed with the secretary of state; upon the filing of such certified copy in the office of the secretary of state, and his certificate thereof, the consolidation is complete.

1113 (1544) (2015). Name and charter of new corporation, and changes in stock, etc.—On such consolidation, the parties may, by their agreement of consolidation, adopt the name and charter of either corporation as the name and charter of the consolidated corporation, and may make such changes and provisions, as to the amount of stock and the number of directors of the consolidated corporation, as they may think proper.

1114 (1545) (2016, 2017). Property, rights and liabilities of new corporation; pending suits.—The corporation, so formed by consolidation, shall be entitled to all the property and rights of each of the corporations so uniting, and liable to the debts and obligations of each of them. Suits pending for or against either of such original corporations at the time of consolidation are not abated, and shall not be delayed thereby, but shall proceed in the name of the consolidated corporation.

1115 (1546) (2018). Dissimilar corporations cannot consolidate. Nothing in the five preceding sections shall be construed to authorize the consolidation of insurance corporations of dissimilar character.

MUTUAL AID ASSOCIATIONS.

1116 (1547). What are mutual aid associations.—All associations, whether voluntary or incorporated under the laws of this or any other state, doing in this state a business limited to the issuing of certificates to, or agreeing with their members, upon the birth of any child, upon marriage, decease, sickness, or upon any physical disability of such member, to pay money or render aid to him, or to others dependent on him, or beneficiary designated by him, which money or aid is derived from donations, or from fees, dues and assessments, are subject to the provisions of this article only.

1117 (1548). Report to auditor.—Every such association shall, on or before the first day of March of each year, file with the auditor a report of their operations during the year ending the thirty-first day of December next preceding, including a statement of the number of existing members, the number who have become members during such year, the number whose membership has terminated and the cause thereof, the total receipts and the sources thereof, and the total expenditures and the objects thereof. This report shall be upon blank forms provided by the auditor, and shall be verified by the affidavit of an officer of the association. These reports, or their substance, shall be published in the auditor's annual report, and the auditor shall receive from each such association, at the time its report is filed, a sum equal to one dollar for each one hundred members, or fraction thereof, not exceeding twenty-five dollars from any one association. No other charge shall be made by the auditor upon such association and no deposit of securities with him shall be required. Any association, refusing or neglecting to make such report and payment, may, upon the suit of any citizen, be enjoined by a court having jurisdiction from carrying on business until such report and payment, and until the costs of suit are paid.

1118 (1549). Principal office and service of process; auditor's license.—Every such association, before commencing business in this state, shall, by an instrument under the hands of its president and secretary, filed in the auditor's office, designate some place as the principal office of such association in this state, and some person residing at that place as the person upon whom service of legal process and papers may be made as upon such association. If the person so designated removes from such place, or dies, another shall be appointed in his stead within thirty days. Notice of any change of office or agent shall be filed with the auditor within thirty days thereafter. Upon failure to comply with any of the provisions of this section, the association shall cease to do business in this state until compliance. No such association shall commence to do business in this state until it has received from the auditor a license, a duplicate whereof shall remain on file in the auditor's office.

1119 (1550). Visitation.—Every such association shall be subject to visitation, and its books and papers to inspection by the auditor, or such person as he may designate. If the auditor is, at any time, of the opinion that such association should be restrained from doing business, he shall report such opinion, with the facts upon which it is based, to the attorney-general, whose duty it is, if he thinks the facts warrant the report, to apply to the judge of the circuit in which is the principal place of business of the association for an order requiring the officers of the association to show cause at a reasonable time and place within the circuit, why the association should not be restrained from continuing business. The association shall be entitled to a trial by jury of the facts stated in the report.

1120 (1551). Life-insurance companies, Masons and like orders not affected.—Nothing in the four preceding sections shall be construed to apply to any corporation, incorporated under the life-insurance laws of this or any other state or country, or to any secret or benevolent society, such as Masons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, or like orders.

1121 (1552). Exemptions.—The interest of resident members of such associations therein, and of resident beneficiaries provided for thereby, is exempt from all process for the collection of debts, or the enforcement of liabilities.

ARTICLE 4.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.

1122 (1553). May be incorporated.—Three or more persons, associating as a building and loan association, may become a body politic and corporate in the mode, and with the powers and capacity in this article expressed; and such corporation may continue for twenty years.

1123 (1554). Mode of incorporation.—Such persons must file in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which it is proposed the association shall have its principal place of business, a declaration in writing, signed by each of them, stating—

1. The name and style under which it is proposed to incorporate such association.

2. The amount of the capital stock, and the number of shares into which it is divided.

3. The names and residences of the associates or subscribers to the declaration, and the principal place of business of the corporation.

4. The purposes of the corporation and the nature of its business, and such other matters as they may deem desirable.

Cahall v. Citizens' Mut. B. Asso., 61 Ala. 232; Grangers' L. & H. Ins. Co. v. Kamper, 73 Ala. 325.

1124 (1555). Record of declaration; certificate of incorporation. The judge of probate must record such declaration, and must issue to the subscribers, their associates and successors a certificate of incorporation, under the seal of his office, stating therein the filing and record of such declaration, the name and style of such corporation, the location or principal place of business thereof, and that the subscribers, their associates and successors are a body politic and corporate; and thereafter such corporation must be deemed duly organized.

1125 (1556) (1943, 2019) (1767) (1481). Powers of such corporation.—Such corporation has power—

1. To have succession by its corporate name for the period expressed in the declaration, not exceeding twenty years.

2. To sue and be sued; and, if deemed necessary, to have a common seal, and the same at pleasure to alter or change.

3. To hold, purchase, dispose of, and convey such real or personal property as may be necessary for the uses and business of the corporation.

4. To appoint and remove, at pleasure, such officers and agents as the business of the corporation may require, prescribing their duties, and fixing their compensation; and to make all needful rules and regulations and by-laws for the transaction of its business, and the management and control of its affairs.

5. To levy monthly contributions from the shareholders, not to exceed one dollar per share in any one month.

6. To compel payment, and compliance with all lawful orders by fines and forfeitures.

7. To acquire real estate, to erect buildings, and the same to let to any shareholder of the corporation, or to sell to such shareholder on such terms as may be fixed by its by-laws.

8. To aid shareholders in the erection or improvement of houses by loans of the funds of the association, on such security as may be fixed by the by-laws.

9. When funds are on hand, to lend the same to any shareholder of the corporation, on such security, and on such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the by-laws; but the security shall be a mortgage on real estate sufficient to protect the association.

10. To secure the payment of installments and loans, and a compliance with all the terms on which loans are purchased, by mortgages with power of sale on real estate, and the same to foreclose, in case of default, by a public sale to the highest bidder, and by conveyance to the purchaser; and such purchaser need not be a shareholder.

11. In determining the amount of the capital stock of the association, each share shall be valued at fifty dollars.

Subdivision 3.—Cahall v. Citizens Mut. B. Asso., 61 Ala. 232. Subdivision 4.—Rules and regulations.—Montgomery Mut. B. & L. Asso. v. Robinson, 69 Ala. 413; Sec. L. Asso. v. Lake, 69 Ala. 456; s. c., 72 Ala. 207; Southern B. & L. Asso. v. Anniston L. & T. Co., 101 Ala. 582. Subdivision 6.—Southern B. & L. Asso. v. Anniston L. & T. Co., 101 Ala. 582. Subdivision 7.—Cahall v. Cit. Mut. B. Asso., 61 Ala. 232. Subdivision 10.—Southern B. & L. Asso. v. Anniston L. & T. Co., 101 Ala. 582. A loan secured by mortgage is not ultra vires, although in contravention of the by-laws.—Kelly v. M. B. & L. Asso., 64 Ala. 501. A mortgage in form a lease, is good.—Mobile B. & L. Asso. v. Robertson, 65 Ala. 382.

Feb. 6, 1889, p. 31.

1126. Increase of capital stock.—The capital stock of building and loan associations, incorporated under the general laws of this state, may be increased to a sum not exceeding two million dollars by the vote of the persons holding the larger amount in value of the capital stock at a meeting of the stockholders called for that purpose, of which meeting, and the purpose for which it is called, thirty days' notice must be given by publication for four consecutive weeks in some newspaper published in the town or city in which the corporation is located; and if at such meeting the persons holding the larger amount in value of the stock vote for such increase the proceedings of the meeting must be reduced to writing, signed by the president or other head of the corporation, and filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which the corporation has its principal place of business. In determining the amount of the increased capital stock of all building and loan associations incorporated prior to the Code of 1876, each share shall be valued at not less than forty nor more than fifty dollars.

Feb. 7, 1893, p. 665, §1.

1127. Hypothecation of securities.—No building and loan association, not organized under the laws of this state prior to February 7th, 1893, shall pledge, hypothecate or transfer any note, bond, mortgage or securities which the association may obtain for money loaned or otherwise.

1128. The name "building and loan association" defined.—The name "building and loan association" as hereafter used in this article shall include all corporations, societies, organizations or associations doing business in this state, under a building and loan charter or engaged in a building and loan business. Feb. 12, 1897, p. 845, §1.

1129. Annual report, with answers to certain questions, to be filed with the auditor.—On or before the first day of March in each year, every building and loan association doing business in this state, and governed by this article, shall file with the auditor of the state, a detailed report of its affairs and operations for the year ending the thirty-first of December, immediately preceding, and such report shall be verified under oath by the president and secretary, or by three directors of the association, and shall contain answers to the following questions: 1. The date when the association was incorporated and the par value of each share of stock. 2. Number of shares sold during the year. 3. Number of shares canceled or withdrawn during the year. 4. Number of shares in force at the end of the year. 5. A detailed statement of total receipts and disbursements, showing from what source received, and to what source applied. 6. A statement of the assets and liabilities at the end of the year. The following items shall constitute the assets of a building and loan association: 1. Money actually loaned. 2. Accrued interest and premium fines and forfeitures. 3. Furniture and fixtures. 4. Real estate. 5. Taxes and insurance advanced. 6. Solvent credits. 7. Such other legitimate assets as the association may acquire in the course of its business. 8. Cash on hand, as shown by books and official certificate of designated depositories. 9. File a copy of its by-laws and published literature, which shall be free from ambiguity and not misleading in its nature. Ib. §2.

1130. Fee to be paid on filing report; penalty for failure to report, etc.—Each association shall pay to the auditor of the state ten dollars on the filing of each report. If an association shall willfully fail to furnish to the auditor of the state any report required by this article, at the time so required, it shall, in the discretion of the auditor, forfeit the sum of twenty-five dollars per day for every day such report shall be delayed or withheld, and the auditor of the state may maintain action in his name as such auditor, to recover such penalty, and the same shall be paid into the treasury of the state for the benefit of the state. Ib. §3.

1131. Non-resident associations must file statement and pay fee before doing business here.—Non-resident building and loan associations having not less than one hundred thousand dollars in assets shall, before doing any business in this state, obtain a license from the auditor, by complying with the following: 1. Such associations shall file with the auditor a certified copy of its charter or articles of incorporation, and by-laws, showing its mode of business. Ib. §4.

2. File a detailed report of its actual condition as provided for in the second preceding section. 3. Pay the auditor twenty-five dollars as a fee for filing the papers mentioned in this section.

Shahan v. Tethero, Ala. (21 So. 951).

Ib. §9. 1132. Unlawful to do business for unlicensed foreign association; penalty.—No officer, director or agent of any foreign building and loan association, shall in this state solicit subscriptions of stock to such association, or sell or knowingly cause to be sold, or issued to a resident of this state, any stock of an association, until said association has complied with the provisions of the three preceding sections. Any violation shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars.

Ib. §5. 1133. Associations may impose fines and penalties not to exceed two per cent., etc.—Such associations may by their by-laws, impose fines and penalties upon their members for default or delay in payment, when same are due, of installments upon their loans, the interest, premium and charges thereon, and upon the shares of stock of such members, and the same may be secured and collected by mortgage, in addition to the amount of interest, premium and other charges allowed by law, but such fines shall not exceed two per cent. per month of such arrearages.

Ib. §8. 1134. Premium upon loans must be fixed by by-laws, not to exceed twelve per cent. including interest.—The premium to be charged upon any loan must be fixed by the by-laws, but such premium and the interest on the loan taken together shall not exceed one per cent. per month on the amount actually loaned or advanced.

Ib. §6. 1135. On foreclosure of mortgage all payments made on debt and value of stock pledged to be credited.—Upon foreclosure or sale under power given in any mortgage of land by a member to such association it shall credit, as of the date made, upon the entire debt claimed by the association all payments made upon such debt, whether of principal, premiums or interest, and the stock pledged for such loan shall be credited on the said loan at its actual value, and such stock thereby canceled; and upon forfeiture of stock of a member borrowing from such association, upon security of his stock only, such loan shall be credited with the actual value of such stock.

Ib. §8. 1136. Shares of stock one year old must have definite withdrawal value, etc.—All shares of stock in said association, upon which all dues and charges for one year or more have been paid, shall have a definite withdrawal value, which shall be set out in the by-laws of said association and shall not be less than eight per cent. per annum thereon for the average time such dues have been paid, less fines and penalties and a proportionate share of expenses and losses sustained.

Feb. 11, 1893, p. 666, §7. 1137. Officers to give bond.—All of the officers of the home office of any building and loan association governed by this article and doing business in this state, who handle any of the funds of such association, shall give sufficient bonds for the faithful performance of their duties as the board of directors may require, and no such officer shall be deemed qualified to enter upon the discharge of the duties of his office until his bond is approved by the board of directors.

1138. Foreign associations; requirements.—When by the laws of any other state, territory or foreign government, any taxes, penalties, fines, license fees, deposits of money or securities, or other obligations, requirements or prohibitions, are imposed on building and loan associations of this state, doing business in such other state, territory or foreign government, or upon their agents therein, so long as such laws shall continue in force, the same obligations, requirements and prohibitions of whatever kind shall be imposed on all building and loan associations of such other states, territories or foreign governments, doing business in this state, and upon their agents here. But this section shall not apply to building and loan associations which had established branches or agencies in this state prior to February 7th, 1893. Id. 98.

ARTICLE 5.

MINING, QUARRYING AND MANUFACTURING COMPANIES.

1139 (1557). Corporations formed.—Two or more persons, associating for the purpose of mining, quarrying, or manufacturing, may form themselves into a corporation, in the mode, and having the capacity and powers in this article expressed.

1140 (1558). Declaration filed in court of probate; contents.—The persons so associating must file in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which it is proposed such corporation shall have its principal place of business, a declaration in writing, signed by each of them, stating the names and residences of the subscribers, the name and style of the proposed corporation, the amount of its capital stock, and the number of shares into which it is divided, the general purposes of the corporation, and the nature of the business proposed, and the proposed principal place of business of the corporation, with such other matters as they may deem it desirable to state.

1141 (1559). Commission issued by judge of probate.—On the filing of the declaration, the judge of probate must issue to two or more of the subscribers, a commission authorizing them, as commissioners, to open books of subscription to the capital stock of the proposed corporation, at such time and place, and upon such notice as they may appoint.

1142 (1560). Subscriptions for stock.—All subscriptions to or for the capital stock must be payable in money; but the commissioners may receive subscriptions payable in money, the subscriber having the privilege of discharging the same by the rendition of stipulated necessary services, or the performance of stipulated necessary labor for the corporation, at the reasonable value of such services or labor; or in property, at the reasonable value thereof, the corporation has capacity to acquire and hold; the subscription stating the nature and character of such property, and when it is to be transferred or conveyed to the corporation.

Does not prevent a sale of bonds, secured by mortgage on corporate property, for less than their par value.—Nelson v. Hubbard, 96 Ala. 238. See citations to Constitution, Art. XIV., §6.

1143 (1561). Organization of corporation.—Fifty per cent. of the capital stock having been subscribed in good faith by subscribers of whose solvency the commissioners are satisfied, they shall call the subscribers together, at such time and place as they may appoint, for the election of a board of directors and other officers, and the further organization of the proposed corporation; a majority in value of the subscribers being present in person or by proxy at such time and place, they must elect a board of directors from the subscribers, consisting of not less than three nor more than nine members, and such other officers as they may deem necessary; the directors holding office for a term of twelve months thereafter, and until their successors are elected and qualified; and shall designate an officer of their election, or some person of their appointment, to receive from the commissioners the subscriptions for stock. Upon the delivery of the subscriptions to such officer or person, he shall require of the subscribers whose subscriptions are payable in money, without the privilege of discharge in services, or labor, or property, the payment in cash of twenty per cent. thereof; and of the subscribers whose subscriptions are payable in money, with the privilege of discharging the same in stipulated service, or labor, or in the transfer or conveyance of property, contracts in writing signed by them, expressing such privilege, and binding them to the rendition of the services, or the performance of the labor, or the transfer or conveyance of the property, at such times as the board of directors may appoint; the proceedings of the meeting of the subscribers must be reduced to writing, and must be signed by them, and delivered to the commissioners, who must return and file the same in the office of the judge of probate; and the officer or person, to whom the subscriptions for stock have been delivered, must make a copy thereof, and verify the same by affidavit, stating in such affidavit from which of the subscribers he has received payment in cash of twenty per cent., and from which he has received contracts in writing, as hereinbefore specified. Upon the filing of such papers, the judge of probate must issue to the subscribers, their associates, and their successors, a certificate stating that they are duly organized as a corporation, under the name and style, and for the purposes expressed in the declaration, having the power, capacity and authority conferred by law.

Creditors may demand bona fide compliance.—Nelson v. Hubbard, 96 Ala. 238.

1144 (1562). Powers of corporation.—When duly organized such corporation has power—

1. To have succession by the corporate name for the period expressed in the declaration; and if a period of time be not expressed, perpetually.

2. To sue and be sued; and if deemed necessary, to have a corporate seal, and the same to alter at pleasure.

3. To hold, purchase, dispose of, and convey such real and personal property, as the nature of its business, and the purposes for which it is formed may require.

4. To appoint such officers and agents as may be deemed necessary for the transaction of its business, and the management and control of its affairs and property.

5. To make all needful by-laws, rules and regulations for the transaction of its business, the management and control of its affairs, and the uses and disposition of its property; and for the transfer of its stock, and for the creation and preservation of a lien upon the shares of its stockholders for the payment of any debt or liability they may incur to the corporation.

6. To carry on the business, or accomplish the purposes expressed in the declaration.

7. To borrow money, and to mortgage, or otherwise convey or pledge its property, real or personal, and its franchises, to secure the payment of the money so borrowed, or any other debt contracted by it; but it has not power to borrow a sum exceeding its capital stock, or at a rate of interest exceeding eight per cent., payable semi-annually; nor must such mortgage, conveyance, or pledge be made otherwise than by the consent of the holders of the larger part in value of the capital stock, expressed by vote at a meeting of the stockholders called for that purpose, of the time and place of which meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called, thirty days' notice is given each stockholder personally, whose residence is known, and by publication for four consecutive weeks in the newspaper published nearest to the place of business of the corporation.

Subdivision 3.—Corporations empowered to manufacture lime and barrels cannot carry on a general mercantile business.—Chewacla Lime Wks. v. Dismukes, 87 Ala. 344. Foreign corporation may do any business authorized by its charter unless prohibited by a local law.—Hall v. Tanner, 91 Ala. 363. Subdivision 6.—A corporation chartered to manufacture and repair machinery cannot act as agent.—Westinghouse Mach. Co. v. Wilkinson, 79 Ala. 312. One chartered to manufacture, repair and operate machinery and to do such other business as is generally done by machine-shops and foundries, cannot engage in the business of manufacturing and selling ice.—Simmons v. Troy Iron Wks., 92 Ala. 427. Subdivision 7.—Includes power to pledge bonds of corporation of greater face value than the debts, as collateral for debts already owing or presently contracted.—Nelson v. Hubbard, 96 Ala. 238. Corporation prohibited from contracting debts without written consent of directors is not bound as indorser on a note, the consent not having been given.—Westinghouse Mach. Co. v. Wilkinson, 79 Ala. 312. Ratification of unauthorized transfer of notes as collateral.—Bibb v. Hall, 101 Ala. 79; Kahn v. Hall, 101 Ala. 102. For the benefit of stockholders; if disregarded, creditors cannot complain.—Barrett v. Pollak, 108 Ala. 390; Ala. S. & I. Co. v. McKeever, 112 Ala. 134. Has no reference to product of the business; refers only to corpus of the corporate property.—Ala. S. & I. Co. v. McKeever, 112 Ala. 134.

1145 (1563). Additional powers.—Such corporation, when duly organized, has, in addition, power to locate, construct and operate to and from its mines, furnaces, mills, factories, quarries or other works, railways, tramways, canals, tunnels, underground passages, or roads, or to acquire by purchase railways, tramways, canals, tunnels, underground passages, or roads, whereby a connection may be made to and with the principal place of its business, its mines, furnaces, mills, factories, quarries, or other works, and any public highway, turnpike, macadamized, plank, or other graded road, or railroad, or navigable waters, or to or with its mines, ore-beds, coking or cooling grounds, or timber lands; or canals or aqueducts to and from its mills or factories, or furnaces, or quarries, or any waters or watercourses; and such corporation has also power to transport, as a common carrier, persons or property on any railroad, or other road, or on any canal, or aqueduct, constructed or purchased by it, taking reasonable compensation. If necessary in the construction of such canals, aqueducts, railways, tramways, tunnels, underground passages, or roads, the corporation has power to condemn lands, or an interest or easement therein, or thereunder private property, for a way and right of way, in the mode prescribed by law, such way and right of way not exceeding one hundred feet in width throughout the whole length of such canal, aqueduct, railway, tramway, tunnel, underground passage, or road; and without the consent of the owner of the land, the same must not be constructed through the yard, garden, orchard, stable-lot, gin-house, barn, or through the curtilage of a dwelling-house; and such corporation has power to erect, at such place as may be deemed convenient for its uses, depots, or other buildings, or structures, or wharves; and may purchase, hire, or charter vessels or boats for the transportation of its products or property; and may aid in the construction of railroads, or in the establishment of lines of vessels or boats, running to and from such depots, or other buildings, or structures or wharves; but the owner of any land which may be taken under the provisions of this section, shall have the right to have all his property, of like kind with that transported by the corporation, carried by such corporation over or upon such canal, railway or tramway, upon the payment of a just and reasonable compensation for such carriage.*

A corporation with enumerated powers is private.—Wolfe v. Underwood, 91 Ala. 523. Such corporation has the right to construct a necessary railway and condemn land therefor.—London v. Sample Lumber Co., 91 Ala. 606.

1146 (1564). Crossing public roads, streets, navigable waters. In the construction of its railways, tramways, or roads, the corporation may cross any public road or highway, but must place such road or highway in a condition satisfactory to the proper authorities of the county having control thereof; and may, with the consent of the proper authorities of a town or city, and upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed on with such authorities, use or cross the streets of such town or city, and may cross any navigable streams, but must not impair the navigation thereof.

1147 (1565). Consolidation of mining, quarrying, or manufac- turing corporations.—Any two or more mining, quarrying, or manufacturing corporations may unite and consolidate their capital stock, property, and business in the manner hereinafter provided.

Electric light companies are manufacturing corporations.—Beggs v. Edison E. I. Co., 96 Ala. 295.

1148 (1566). How proposal adopted; entry on minutes.—Such consolidation shall be made on the recommendation of the board of directors of each of the corporations proposed to be consolidated, when adopted by a vote of the persons holding the larger amount in value of the capital stock of each corporation. Such recommendation shall be submitted in writing by the board of directors to the meeting of stockholders, and, with the vote of the stockholders thereon, shall be entered on the minutes.

1149 (1567). How consolidation consummated.—When a proposal for consolidation has been thus adopted, the consolidation shall be carried out by an agreement in writing, sealed with the corporate seals, and signed by the presidents of the contracting corporations, reciting that such agreement is made with the consent of the stockholders of each of the corporations, given as provided above, and stating the terms and conditions of such consolidation. This agreement must be recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which such corporations are located; or if they be located in different counties, in the office of the judge of probate in each county; and upon the filing of such agreement as above provided, the consolidation is complete.

1150 (1568). Name and charter of new corporation; changes. On such consolidation, the parties may, by their agreement of consolidation, adopt the name and charter of either corporation as the name and charter of the consolidated corporation, and may make such changes and provisions, as to the amount of stock, and the number of directors of the consolidated corporation, as they may think proper.

1151 (1569). Property, rights and liabilities of new corporation; pending suits.—The corporation so formed by consolidation shall be entitled to all the property and rights of each of the corporations so uniting, and liable to the debts and obligations of each of them. Suits pending for or against either of such original corporations, at the time of consolidation, are not abated, and shall not be delayed thereby, but shall proceed in the name of the consolidated corporation.

1152 (1570). Board of directors; election; powers.—A board of directors, consisting of such number as may be prescribed by the by-laws, must be elected annually by the stockholders, and must hold office for a term of twelve months, and until their successors are elected and qualified; vacancies occurring in the board must be filled by the remaining directors; and the management of the property and business of the corporation is under the control of the directors, who have power to elect and appoint all officers, agents and servants, removing them at pleasure, fixing their compensation, and prescribing their duties, and to exercise such other powers as may be delegated to them by the by-laws of the adoption of the stockholders.

1153 (1571). Stockholders meet annually.—The stockholders must meet annually at such time and place, and on such notice as may be prescribed by the by-laws.

1154 (1572). Increase of capital stock.—The capital stock of the corporation may be increased to a sum not exceeding ten million of dollars, by the vote of the persons holding the larger amount in value of the capital stock, at a meeting of the stockholders called for that purpose, of which meeting, and the purpose for which it is called, thirty days' notice must be given each stockholder personally, whose residence is known, and by publication for four consecutive weeks, in some newspaper published in the town or city in which the corporation is located; and if at such meeting the persons holding the larger amount in value of the stock vote for such increase, the proceedings of the meeting must be reduced to writing, signed by the president, or chief executive officer of the corporation, and filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county; each stockholder is entitled to a preference in taking of the increased stock an amount in proportion to the amount of the original stock he may own.

Provisions are for the benefit of stockholders and may be waived.—Nelson v. Hubbard, 96 Ala. 238. No implied power to change amount of capital stock. Grangers' L. & H. Ins. Co. v. Kamper, 73 Ala. 325; Glenn v. Hatchett, 91 Ala. 316. See citations to Const., Art. XIV., §6.

Feb. 21, 1893, p. 722.

1155. Provisions applicable to corporations organized under special charter.—Any corporation organized under any special charter for mining, quarrying, or manufacturing, may exercise, in addition to the rights and powers conferred under its special charter, all the rights, powers and privileges of corporations organized for mining, quarrying, or manufacturing under this article.

ARTICLE 6.

RAILROAD COMPANIES.

1156 (1573) (1821). Corporation may be formed.—A corporation for the construction, building, and operation of a railroad may be formed in the mode, having the powers and capacity, and subject to the duties and liabilities in this article expressed; such corporation consisting of not less than seven members, who are stockholders.

[De facto corporations; legal existence cannot be assailed collaterally.—Lehman v. Warner, 61 Ala. 455; Cen. A. & M. Asso. v. Ala., etc. Ins. Co., 70 Ala. 120; Sanche v. Webb, 97 Ala. 111; s. c., 110 Ala. 214; Bibb v. Hall, 101 Ala. 79; Kahn v. Hall, 101 Ala. 102.

1157 (1574). Declaration filed in office of secretary of state. Any number of persons, not less than seven, desiring to form a corporation for the purpose of constructing, building, and operating a railroad, must file in the office of the secretary of state a declaration in writing, signed by each of them, stating—

1. The names and residences of the subscribers.

2. The name and style of the proposed corporation, the terminal, and such other points along the line of the proposed railroad as they may deem proper.

3. The amount of the capital stock of the proposed corporation, and the number of shares into which it is divided.

4. Any other matter they may deem it desirable to state.

Office of declaration; surplusage.—Grangers' L. & H. Ins. Co. v. Kamper, 73 Ala. 325.

1158 (1575) (1822). Secretary of state issues commission. Upon the filing of the declaration, the secretary of state must issue to three or more of the subscribers a commission, constituting them commissioners to open books of subscription to the capital stock of the proposed corporation.

1159 (1576) (1823). Notice and place of opening subscription books.—The commissioners must, within ninety days after the date of their appointment, open books of subscription to the capital stock of the corporation, by giving thirty days' notice in some newspaper published in each of the counties through which the railroad is proposed to be built, of the time and place for the opening of the books of subscription in each of such counties; and if no newspaper is published in any of the counties, the notice giving the time and place of opening the books of subscription for that county shall be published in some newspaper in some other county on the line of the proposed railroad, and also by posting a written notice at the court-house of such county.

1160 (1577) (1824). Subscription for stock.—All subscriptions to or for the capital stock must be payable in money; but the commissioners may receive subscriptions payable in money, the subscribers having the privilege of discharging the same by the rendition of stipulated necessary services, or the performance of stipulated necessary labor for the corporation, at the reasonable value of such services or labor, or in property the corporation has capacity to acquire and hold, or in lands in any county through which such railroad may run, at the reasonable value thereof, the subscription stating the nature and character of such property, and when it is to be transferred or conveyed to the corporation.

Certificates issued on fictitious increase of stock are void.—Beitman v. Steiner, 98 Ala. 241. Fraud as a defense to action on subscription.—Bibb v. Hall, 101 Ala. 79. (See also citations to section 1254, and Constitution, Art. XIV., §6.)

1161 (1578) (1825, 1826, 1827). Organization; certificate of incorporation.—Ten per cent. of the proposed capital stock having been subscribed in good faith by subscribers, of whose solvency the commissioners are satisfied, they shall call the subscribers together, at such time and place as they may appoint, for the election of a board of directors and other officers, and the further organization of the proposed corporation; a majority in value of the subscribers being present in person or proxy at such time and place, they must elect a board of directors from the subscribers, consisting of not less than seven, nor more than eleven members, and such other officers as they may deem necessary; the directors holding office for a term of twelve months thereafter, and until their successors are elected and qualified; and shall designate an officer of their election, or some person of their appointment, to receive from the commissioners the subscriptions for stock. Upon the delivery of the subscriptions to such officer or person, he shall require of the subscribers whose subscriptions are payable in money without the privilege of discharge in services, or labor, or property, the payment in cash of two per cent. thereof; and of the subscribers whose subscriptions are payable in money, with the privilege of discharging the same in stipulated services or labor, or in the transfer or conveyance of property, contracts in writing signed by them, expressing such privilege, and binding them to the rendition of the services, or the performance of the labor, or to the transfer or conveyance of the property, at such time as the board of directors may appoint; the proceedings of the meeting of the subscribers must be reduced to writing, must be signed by them, acknowledged before, and certified by a judge of probate under the seal of his office, and delivered to the commissioners, who must return and file the same in the office of the secretary of state; and the officer or person to whom the subscriptions for stock have been delivered, must make a list of the subscribers, and verify the same by affidavit, stating in such affidavit from which of the subscribers he has received money, the aggregate of the money received, where it is deposited, and from which of the subscribers he has received contracts in writing, as hereinbefore specified. Upon the filing of such papers, the secretary of state must issue to the subscribers to the declaration, their associates and successors, a certificate of incorporation under the seal of the state, stating that they are duly organized as a corporation under the name and style designated in the declaration, having the powers, capacity, and authority conferred by law; and thereafter such corporation must be deemed duly organized.

1162 (1579). Record kept by secretary of state.—After the issue of the certificate of incorporation, the secretary of state must record, consecutively, the declaration, the proceedings of the meeting of subscribers as certified by the judge of probate, the verified list of the subscribers, and the affidavit thereto, and the certificate of incorporation; and for such record he is entitled to demand and receive fifteen cents for each hundred words, and for the certificate of incorporation a fee of two dollars.

Certified transcript of certificate admissible in evidence.—Willingham v. State, 104 Ala. 59.

1163 (1580). Powers of the corporation.—When duly organized, the corporation has power—

1. To have succession by its corporate name for the period expressed in the declaration, or, if no period be expressed, perpetually.

2. To sue and be sued, to have a common seal, and to alter the same at pleasure.

3. To hold, purchase, dispose of, and convey such real and personal property as its uses and business may require.

4. To make all needful rules, regulations and by-laws for the transaction of its business and the management of its affairs.

5. To appoint such officers and agents as it may deem necessary, and the nature of its business may require, prescribing their duties, fixing their compensation, and removable at pleasure.

6. To provide for the transfer of its stock, and to make such by-laws as may be deemed necessary for the creation and preservation of a lien upon the stock of shareholders for all indebtedness or liabilities they may incur to or with the corporation.

7. To cause such examination and surveys for its proposed railroad to be made, as may be necessary to the selection of the most advantageous route, and, for such purpose, by its officers or agents and servants, to enter upon the lands or waters of any person, but subject to liability for all damages which shall be done thereto.

8. To acquire and hold, by gift or purchase, or in payment of subscriptions for stock, or by condemnation in the mode prescribed by law, such lands as may be necessary for a way and right of way, not exceeding one hundred feet in width throughout the entire length of the road, with the right to cut down and remove all such trees and undergrowth outside thereof as might, by falling upon or shading the roadway, injure the same.

9. To acquire and hold, by gift or purchase, or in payment of subscriptions for stock, such other lands, or any interest therein, as may be necessary in making heavy excavations, or embankments, or for the purpose of wasting materials from earth excavations, or for borrowing earth or other materials for the construction of embankments, or for the protection and safety of the roadway.

10. To acquire and hold, by gift or purchase, or in payment of subscriptions for stock, lands for building depots, side-tracks, machine-shops, car-factories and other buildings necessary and incident to its business.

11. To consolidate with any railroad corporation now existing, or which may hereafter be organized under the laws of this state, in the mode, and under the conditions and terms hereinafter prescribed.

12. To purchase or lease, or to aid in the construction of any railroad connecting with its own road.

13. To increase or decrease its capital stock in the mode, and upon the terms and conditions hereinafter prescribed.

14. To borrow money for the purpose of building, or constructing, or operating its road, or for the payment of debts contracted for such purpose, or to secure the payment of debts contracted in the building, constructing, operating, or maintaining its road, and in carrying on the business thereof, or in the acquisition of property for its uses, by mortgage or deed of trust of its franchises, and its property, real or personal; and for money borrowed, or for any of its debts, may make and issue negotiable bonds, or bills of exchange, or promissory notes in any form, or other proper evidences thereof.

Subdivision 3.—Unless specially authorized a railroad can only hold such land as is necessary for its operation and construction.—Morgan v. Donovan, 58 Ala. 241; Wilks, v. G. P. R. Co., 79 Ala. 180. Subdivision 5.—Ratification of unauthorized acts of agent.—Bibb v. Hall, 101 Ala. 79; Kahn v. Hall, 101 Ala. 102. Subdivision 8.—Conditions under which one railroad may condemn a part of the right of way of another.—E. & W. R. Co. v. E. T. V. & G. R. Co., 75 Ala. 275; A. & C. R. Co. v. J. G. & A. R. Co., 82 Ala. 297; M. & G. R. Co. v. A. M. Ry. Co., 87 Ala. 501; M. & G. R. Co. v. A. M. Ry. Co., 87 Ala. 520. Right to hold franchise, granted prior to Constitution, to lay track through the streets of a city and load and unload cars there.—Mobile v. L. & N. R. Co., 84 Ala. 115. Subdivision 12.—If the deed to a right of way does not state its width it will be presumed to convey the statutory width.—A. M. Ry. Co. v. Brown, 98 Ala. 647.

1164 (1581) (1842). Right to cross navigable streams; to use, cross, or change public roads.—The corporation is authorized, in the construction of its road, to cross navigable streams or waters, but in the erection and construction of bridges, trestles, or other structures, must not impair the navigation of such streams or waters; and the corporation is also authorized to use, or to cross, or to change public roads, when necessary in the building, construction, or maintenance of its roadway or track, but must place the public road used, or crossed, or changed, in a condition satisfactory to the authorities of the county having control thereof; but where practicable the track of the railroad must go under or over the public roadway.

Duty to erect highway-bridge over railroad at a safe elevation.—L. & N. R. Co. v. Hall, 87 Ala. 708. The duty of putting crossings in order is a corporate duty and proceedings must be against the corporation.—M. & G. R. Co. v. Commissioners, 97 Ala. 105.

As amended Dec. 12, 1892, p. 93.

1165 (1582) (1842). Crossing or intersection of other railroads or street-railways.—The corporation has authority to cross or intersect any railroad or street-railway, and if such crossing or intersection cannot be made by contract or agreement with the corporation, association or person having and controlling the railroad or street-railway to be crossed, or with which an intersection is to be made, either party may proceed, in accordance with the provisions of article 1, chapter 42 of this Code, and all other laws relating to the condemnation of lands for public uses, the provisions of which are hereby made applicable, to have an assessment and ascertainment of the damages which may accrue to such corporation or person by reason of such crossing or intersection. The notice required by section 1714 (3209) may be served on any agent of such railroad corporation in the county where the proceedings are instituted.

As amended Feb. 8, 1891, p. 970.

1166 (1583) (2008). Consolidation of railroad corporations. Whenever the lines of any two or more railroads, or contemplated railroads, chartered under the laws of this or any other state, which, when completed, may admit the passage of burden or passenger cars over any two or more of such roads continuously without break or interruption, such companies are authorized, before or after completion, to consolidate themselves into a single corporation, in the manner following: The directors of such corporations may enter into an agreement, under the corporate seal of each for consolidation, prescribing the terms and conditions thereof, the mode of carrying the same into effect, the name of the new corporation, the number of the directors thereof, which shall not exceed thirteen, the time and place of holding the first election of directors, the number of shares of capital stock in the new corporation, the amount of each share, the manner of converting the shares of capital stock in each corporation into shares in the new corporation, the manner of compensating stockholders in each of the two or more corporations who refuse to convert their stock into the stock of the new corporation, with such other details as they shall deem necessary to protect such consolidation; and such new corporation shall possess all the powers, rights and franchises conferred upon the two or more corporations, and shall be subject to all the restrictions, and perform all the duties imposed by the provisions of this article. The stockholders in either of such corporations, who shall refuse to convert their stock into the stock of the new corporation, shall be paid par* value for each of their shares held by them, if they shall so require, previous to the consolidation being consummated. Such agreement of the directors shall not be deemed to be the agreement of the two or more corporations until after it has been submitted to the stockholders of each of the corporations separately at a meeting thereof, to be called upon a notice of at least thirty days, specifying the time and place of such meeting and the object thereof, to be addressed to each stockholder, when his place of residence is known, and deposited in the post-office, and published for at least three successive weeks in one newspaper in one of the cities or towns in which each of such corporations has its principal office of business, and has been sanctioned by such stockholders by a vote of at least two-thirds in amount of the stockholders present at such meeting, voting by ballot in regard to such agreement, either in person or by proxy, each share of capital stock being entitled to one vote. When such agreements of the directors have been so sanctioned by each of the meetings of the stockholders separately, after being submitted to such meetings in the manner above mentioned, then such agreement shall be deemed to be the agreement of the two or more corporations: Provided, that every such new corporation so formed shall keep an office in the State of Alabama, and be in all respects subject to the laws of the State of Alabama as a domestic corporation.

After consolidation an action may be brought against the new company for damages inflicted by one of the old ones.—Warren v. M. & M. R. Co., 49 Ala. 582. Character of the consolidation is determined by the stipulations of the agreement.—Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237; s. c., 64 Ala. 603. The provision that the new corporation shall possess all the rights of the old only applies when the consolidated road will admit the passage of cars continuously.—G. P. Ry. Co. v. Wilks, 86 Ala. 478; G. P. Ry. Co. v. Gaines, 88 Ala. 377.

1167 (1584) (2009). When merged in new corporation.—Upon making the agreement mentioned in the preceding section, in the manner required therein, and filing a duplicate or counterpart thereof in the office of the secretary of state, the two or more corporations mentioned shall be merged in the new corporation provided for in such agreement, to be known by the name therein mentioned; and the details of such agreement shall be carried into effect as provided therein.

*"Par" inserted in lieu of "actual" by joint committee.

1168 (1585) (2010). Property and franchise of each corporation vested in new, and new corporation subject to liabilities of each.—Upon the election of the first board of directors of the corporation created by such agreement, the rights and franchises of each of the two or more corporations, and their right and interest in and to every species of property, shall be deemed to be transferred to, and vested in such new corporation, without any other deed or transfer; and such new corporation shall hold and enjoy the same, together with the right of way and all other rights of property in the same manner, and to the same extent as if the two or more corporations had continued to retain the title and transact the business of such corporation; and the titles and the real estate acquired by either of the two or more corporations shall not be deemed to revert, or be impaired by means of anything in this article contained. And all rights of creditors, and all liens upon the property of either of the two or more corporations shall be preserved unimpaired; and the respective corporations shall continue to exist, so far as may be necessary to enforce the same. All the debts, liabilities and duties of either corporation shall thenceforth attach to such new corporation, and be enforced from the same, to the same extent, and in the same manner, as if such debts, liabilities and duties had been originally incurred by it.

Feb. 18, 1891, p. 1086.

1169. Domestic may sell its property and franchises to foreign corporation.—Whenever all of the capital stock of a railroad corporation chartered under the laws of this state is owned by a railroad corporation chartered by the laws of another state, it shall be lawful for the domestic corporation to sell and convey to the corporation owning its stock all of its property, road-bed, rights and franchises; but the purchasing corporation shall keep an office and an agent in this state; and such railroad so purchased shall be, in all respects, subject to the laws of this state as if owned by a domestic corporation, and all liens and rights of creditors shall be preserved unimpaired.*

As amended Feb. 11, 1891, p. 668.

1170 (1586) (2011). Aid to, or purchase and lease of other roads.—A corporation, chartered under the laws of this or any other state heretofore or hereafter created for the purpose of building, constructing, or operating a railroad, may, at any time, by means of subscription to the capital of any other corporation or company, or otherwise, aid such corporation or company in the construction of its railroad, for the purpose of forming a connection with the road owned by such corporation or company furnishing aid; or any railroad corporation, organized in pursuance of the laws of this or any other state, may lease or purchase any part or all of any railroad constructed by any other corporation or company, if the lines of such road are continuous or connected, upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed on between the corporations or companies respectively; or any two or more railroad corporations or companies, whose lines are so connected, may enter into any arrangement for their common benefit, consistent with, and calculated to promote the objects for which they were created; but no such aid shall be furnished, nor any purchase, lease, or arrangement perfected, until a meeting of the stockholders of each of such corporations or companies has been called by the directors thereof, at such time and place, and in such manner as they shall designate; and the holders of a majority in value of the stock of such corporation or company, represented at such meeting, in person or by proxy, and voting thereat, shall have assented thereto.

Unaided by statute a railroad has no power to lease its road and property.—M. & C. R. Co. v. Grayson, 88 Ala. 572; George v. C. R. & B. Co., 101 Ala. 607. A lease is invalid until both corporations have held meetings as required and the holders of a majority of the stock have assented.—George v. C. R. & B. Co., 101 Ala. 607.

1171. Same.—Any railroad company incorporated by the laws of any other state and now owning or operating, or which is or may be authorized to own or operate, by lease or otherwise, any railroad in this state, is authorized and empowered, upon the resolution of its board of directors, to aid any railroad company incorporated under any general or special law of this state, in the construction, renovation or operation of its railroad, by the indorsement or guaranty of its securities which have been or may be issued for such purpose, in such manner as may be agreed upon by the board of directors of the contracting companies, or by leasing, or by guaranteeing the rentals of any lease of any such railroad, on such terms as may be agreed upon by the respective boards of directors. Feb. 23. 1887, p. 63.

1172 (1587) (1843). Lines may be extended, or branch road constructed.—A corporation, now existing or which may hereafter be organized for the building, constructing and operating a railroad, has authority, for the purpose of extending its line, or forming a connection, to acquire, hold and operate a railroad without the state; or within the state may extend its road, or may build, construct and operate branch roads from any point or points on its line.

A railroad has implied power to construct necessary turnouts and switches; but power to construct a branch is only given by statute.—Arrington v. S. & W. R. Co., 95 Ala. 434.

1173 (1588). Mode of making purchase or extension, or of construction of branch roads.—Such purchase must be made by resolution of the board of directors, which must be submitted to a meeting of the stockholders, called for the purpose of its consideration; of the time and place of which meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called, thirty days' notice must be given to each stockholder, whose residence is known, and by publication for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper published at the principal place of business of the corporation, and at such meeting must be approved by the vote of a majority in value of the stockholders; and if such resolution is so approved, a copy thereof, and of the proceedings of the meeting of the stockholders, certified by the president and secretary, under As amended Feb. 28, 1889, p. 75.

the corporate seal, must be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state. Such extension or construction of such branch road must be made by resolution of the board of directors, to be entered in the record of the proceedings of the corporation, and designating the point from which and the point to which such extension, or such branch road is to be constructed. A copy of such resolution, certified by the president and secretary, under the corporate seal, must be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state, and thereafter for the purpose of making such extension or building such branch road, such corporation shall have all the rights, powers and immunities which are now, or may hereafter by the laws of this state, be granted to and vested in railroad corporations, under and by virtue of the general incorporation laws of the state.

Before a branch can be constructed the prescribed steps must have been taken.—Arrington v. S. & W. R. Co., 95 Ala. 434.

1174 (1589), (1850). Increase of capital stock.—A corporation organized under the provisions of this article has authority to increase its capital stock to a sum not exceeding ten millions of dollars; but such increase can be made only at a meeting of the stockholders called for that purpose, and by the vote of the persons holding the larger amount in value of the capital stock; of the time and place of which meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called, thirty days' notice must be given each stockholder personally, whose residence is known, and by publication for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper published at the principal place of business of the corporation; if at such meeting the persons holding the larger amount in value of the stock vote for the proposed increase, the proceedings of the meeting must be reduced to writing, and entered on the books or minutes of the corporation, and a copy thereof, verified by the certificate of the president and secretary, under the corporate seal, must be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state.

1175 (1590). Increase of bonded indebtedness.—The indebtedness of the corporation, evidenced by negotiable bonds, or bonds in any form, must not be increased, except at a meeting of the stockholders called for that purpose; of the time and place of which meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called, thirty days' notice must be given each stockholder personally, whose residence is known, and by publication for four consecutive weeks in some newspaper published at the principal place of business of the corporation; and such increase can be made only by the vote at such meeting of the persons holding the larger amount in value of the capital stock.

1176 (1591). Annual meeting of stockholders.—The stockholders must meet annually, at such time and place, and on such notice as may be prescribed by the by-laws, for the election of directors and other officers, and the transaction of business generally. At such annual meeting, any business authorized to be transacted at a special meeting may be transacted, if notice be given, as is required in reference to a special meeting, that such business will be considered and transacted.

1177 (1592). Quorum of stockholders; vote.—At all meetings of the stockholders, a majority of the stock must be represented by proxy, or by the stockholders in person; and each stockholder is entitled to one vote for each share of stock he may hold.

1178 (1593). Board of directors.—The business of the corporation is under the management and control of a board of directors, consisting of not less than seven, nor more than eleven members, holding and owning, in good faith, and in their own right, shares of the capital stock, who must be elected by the stockholders, at the regular annual meeting, and who hold office for a term of one year, and until their successors are elected and qualified; and who must elect one of their own number president of the corporation, and must elect or appoint such other officers or agents as may be deemed necessary, or as may be required by the by-laws, removing or discharging at pleasure the president, or other officers or agents; and must exercise all such powers as may be delegated to them by the by-laws of the adoption of the stockholders; vacancies occurring in the board must be filled by the remaining members.

1179 (1594). Stockholders' or directors' meetings may be held without the state.—Any corporation organized under the provisions of this article, or a corporation heretofore organized for the purpose of building, constructing or operating a railroad, may hold meetings of the stockholders at such place or places without the state as may be designated by a resolution of the board of directors, by consent in writing of all the holders of the capital stock residing in this state who shall appear on the books of the company to be stockholders on the day the meeting shall be called, acknowledged before a judge of probate, and certified under the seal of his office, and filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state. The directors of any such corporation may meet either within or without the state. But such corporation must keep a principal place of business within the state, and must there keep an agent with whom must be deposited copies of the proceedings of all such meetings of stockholders and directors, and must file with the secretary of state a certificate, signed by the president or other managing head, and the secretary of the corporation, under its corporate seal, stating the name of such agent and the principal place of business of the corporation, and a like certificate as there may, from any cause, be a change of such agent; and copies of the proceedings of such meetings, as filed with such agent and certified by him, or the copies filed with him, are admissible in evidence against the corporation; and the service of process upon such agent in any suit or proceeding against such corporation, must be deemed and taken as service on the corporation. A written consent of the stockholders residing in this state for such meeting to be held without the state, once filed in the office of the secretary of state, as herein provided, shall continue in force as to the stock held by those signing the same, until the same is revoked by an instrument in writing, executed by one or more of such stockholders, his or their assigns or legal representatives, acknowledged in the manner hereinabove provided, and duly filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state.

As amended Feb. 28, 1889, p. 111.

The meeting can only be lawful when statutory requirements are complied with.—Brockway v. Gadsden M. L. Co., 102 Ala. 620.

1180 (1595). Principal place of business within the state required.—All corporations organized under the provisions of this article, and all corporations heretofore created or organized, or deriving corporate power or authority under or from any law of this state, the purpose of which is or was the building, constructing and operating a railroad, must keep within the state a principal place of business, and must there have and keep an agent on whom process may be served for the corporation, in any and all suits or proceedings against it.

"Principal place of business" is synonymous with "principal office."—State v. M. & G. R. Co., 108 Ala. 29.

1181 (1596). Purchasers of railroads may organize as a corporation.—The purchasers of a railroad, existing under the laws of this state, not being less than seven in number, at any judicial sale, or other sale by authority of law, made since the adoption of the present constitution, or which may be hereafter made, may organize as a corporation, entitling themselves, their associates and successors to all the powers, rights and capacity of a corporation organized under the provisions of this article.

1182 (1597). Mode of organization.—Such purchasers must make a declaration in writing, signed by each of them, stating—

1. The corporate name and style adopted by them.

2. Their names and places of residence, the capital stock of the proposed corporation, and the number of shares into which it is divided.

3. The purpose to organize as a corporation under this article, the property purchased by them, the name of the corporation to which it belonged, and the sale at which they purchased.

4. Such other matters as they may deem it desirable to state; which declaration must be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state; and upon the filing and record of such declaration, the secretary must issue to such purchasers, their associates and successors, a certificate of incorporation, in the manner hereinbefore provided, under the seal of the state, which must be recorded in his office; and thereafter such corporation must be deemed duly organized.

1183 (1598) (2052) (1797). Purchasers under power in a mortgage or deed of trust.—The purchasers of a railroad, the property of a corporation, at a sale under a power in a mortgage or deed of trust, or under a decree foreclosing a mortgage, deed of trust, or other security, if such mortgage, deed of trust or other security embraced the franchises of such corporation, are entitled to, and shall have, hold and enjoy such franchises; provided they organize as a corporation, under the provisions of this article, in the mode prescribed in the preceding section.

Consolidation does not operate to bring into existence a new corporation. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237; s. c., 64 Ala. 603. Corporation organized by purchasers succeeds to franchises and powers of old corporation; as to ownership of property and liabilities, it is new.—M. & M. R. Co. v. Steiner, 61 Ala. 559.

1184 (1599) (1855). Subscriptions for capital stock; how payable.—Subscriptions to or for the capital stock of a corporation, organized under the provisions of this article, must be paid in such installments, or at such times and in such manner, as the board of directors may by resolution prescribe; and the board may prescribe that subscriptions payable in money, without the privilege to the subscriber of payment or discharge in services, or in labor, or by the transfer or conveyance of property, be paid in installments; and may prescribe, when the subscription may be paid or discharged in services, or in labor, or in the transfer or conveyance of property, when the services are to be rendered, or the labor is to be performed, or the property to be transferred or conveyed, appointing different times for the one or the other, as they may deem the interests of the corporation may require.

1185 (1600). Forfeiture of stock; suits to recover subscriptions. If, after twenty days' notice, given in such manner as may be appointed by the by-laws, or by resolution of the board of directors, any subscriber fails to pay the installment required of him, or to render the services, or to perform the labor, or to transfer or convey the property, as required of him by the resolution of the board of directors, a suit at law may be maintained against him for the recovery of such installment, or for the breach of his contract of subscription; and successive suits may be maintained for the recovery of installments, as called for by the board of directors, or for breaches of the contract of subscription, as they may occur; or, at the election of the board of directors, by resolution of the board, a forfeiture of his subscription for stock may be declared; and upon such declaration the subscriber is released and discharged from all liability to the corporation, upon his subscription for stock, or upon his contract to pay such subscription in services, or in labor, or in the transfer or conveyance of property, and ceases to be a stockholder; but his liability to the existing creditors of the corporation is not impaired by such forfeiture.

1186 (1601). Issue and transfer of stock.—Certificates of stock must not be issued until there has been full payment therefor, according to the terms of the subscription; no transfer of stock is valid and operative as to the corporation, without a surrender of the certificate, and a transfer in such manner as is by the by-laws authorized; and the corporation may keep an office at any place or places without the state the board of directors may appoint, for the transfer of stock held or owned by persons not residing within the state.

1187 (1602) (1858). Forfeiture of franchises by non-user.—A corporation organized under the provisions of this article forfeits its franchises, and ceases to exist, by non-user of its franchises for five consecutive years.

ARTICLE 7.

STREET-RAILWAY COMPANIES.

As amended Feb. 25, 1887, p. 144, §1.

1188 (1603). Corporation, how formed.—Corporations for constructing, maintaining and operating street-railways in, or in and near, or between, any of the cities and towns of this state, may be formed in the mode prescribed, and have the capacity and powers in this article expressed.

Corporation cannot absolve itself from the performance of its duties by a voluntary transfer of its property and franchises, without legislative consent. Ricketts v. Birmingham St. Ry. Co., 85 Ala. 600.

1189 (1604). Declaration of subscribers; contents.—Three or more persons, associating to form a corporation for the construction, maintenance and operation of a street-railway, in, or in and near, or between, any of the cities and towns of this state, must file in the office of the judge of probate of the county, a declaration in writing, signed by each of them, stating—

1. The names and residences of the subscribers, and the name and style of the proposed corporation.

2. The amount of the capital stock, and the number of shares into which it is divided.

3. The name of the town or city and the streets thereof in, or in and near, or between which it is proposed to construct, maintain and operate such railway, with a description of the line upon which the railway is to be constructed, and the termini thereof; or, in case it is proposed to purchase a railway already constructed, the name of the town or city and the streets thereof in, or in and near, or between which it is proposed to operate and maintain such railway, with a description of the line upon which the same is to be operated and maintained, and the termini thereof.

4. Any other matter it is deemed desirable to state; which declaration must be accompanied with the consent in writing of the proper authorities of such town or city, or of the county, in case such road lies without an incorporated city or town, as to the portion so lying without.

Office of declaration; surplusage.—Grangers' L. & H. Ins. Co. v. Kamper, 73 Ala. 325.

1190 (1605). Issue of commission for opening books of subscription.—Upon the filing of such declaration, the judge of probate must issue to three or more of the subscribers a commission, authorizing them, at such time and place as they may appoint, to open books of subscription to the capital stock of the proposed corporation; of which time and place the commissioners must give notice for thirty days by publication in some newspaper published in the town or city.

As amended Feb. 28, 1887, p. 149, §2.

1191 (1606). Organization of subscribers.—Ten per cent. of the capital stock having been subscribed in good faith by stockholders, whose solvency is satisfactory to the commissioners, notice thereof must be given to the subscribers, and a time and place for them to meet appointed by the commissioners; and at such time and place, if a majority of the subscribers, having the larger part in value of the stock subscribed for, are present in person or by proxy, they must proceed to elect from the subscribers for stock a board of not less than three nor more than nine directors, who hold office until the time fixed for the next annual election, and until their successors are elected and qualified; and must elect an officer, or appoint some suitable person, to receive from the commissioners the subscriptions for stock, to hold the same subject to the order of the board of directors, and for the uses of the corporation; the proceedings of such meeting must be reduced to writing, and must be signed by the subscribers present, and delivered to the commissioners, who must file the same, with the commission issued to them, in the office of the judge of probate.

There is no power to remove directors elected for a definite period fixed by statute, whatever may be the incidental power to remove for cause.—Nathan v. Tompkins, 82 Ala. 437.

1192 (1607). Certificate of incorporation.—On the filing of such proceedings, the judge of probate must record the declaration, commission and the proceedings of the meeting of the subscribers, and thereupon must issue a certificate of incorporation, under the seal of his office, stating therein the name and style of the corporation as designated in the declaration, and that the subscribers, their associates and successors are a body politic and corporate for the purposes expressed in the declaration, having the capacity and powers conferred by law, and must record such certificate; and thereafter the corporation must be deemed and taken as duly organized.

Definition of charter.—Grangers' L. & H. Ins. Co. v. Kamper, 73 Ala. 325.

1193 (1608). Powers of corporation.—The corporation, when duly organized, has capacity and power— As amended Feb. 25, 1887, p. 144, §2. Dec. 10, 1886, p. 122. Feb. 29, 1889, p. 62. Feb. 18, 1893, p. 684.

1. To have succession by its corporate name for the period expressed in the declaration; or, if no period be expressed, perpetually.

2. To sue and be sued; and if deemed necessary, to have and use a common seal, and the same to alter at pleasure.

3. To appoint such officers, agents and servants as the business of the corporation may require, prescribing their duties, fixing their compensation, and removing them at pleasure.

4. To make such by-laws and rules as are necessary for the regulation of the business, and the management of the property of the corporation; and for the transfer of its stock; and for the creation and preservation of a lien on the shares of stockholders, for any debt or liability incurred by them to the corporation.

5. To acquire, hold, dispose of, and convey such property, real and personal, as may be necessary to the uses and business of the corporation.

6. To acquire by gift, purchase or condemnation, a strip, tract, or parcel of land, not exceeding thirty feet in width, for right of way.

7. To construct, maintain and operate a street-railway upon the streets, in any city or town, and upon any of the public roads in any county of this state, upon the line, and between the termini mentioned in the declaration, and in the written consent of the proper authorities of the city, town or county.

8. To use steam or electric force or mechanical power, or animals, as a motive agent, subject to the control of the authorities of the city, town or county, through which the road runs.

9. To borrow money, and to secure the payment thereof by mortgage, or by deed of trust, conveying its property and franchises, not exceeding its capital stock, and at an interest not exceeding eight per cent., payable semi-annually.

10. To unite and consolidate with any other street-railway, or electric light or gas company, the consolidated company having power to exercise any or all of the functions of the original component companies.

1194 (1609). Contract with municipal and county authorities; compensation.—The proper authorities of the town, city or county and the corporation have authority to contract to and with each other in reference to the use of the streets and public roads, the manner of the construction of the railway, the mode of operating it, and the compensation for the carriage of persons or property, to which the corporation is entitled, which contracts may be altered by mutual agreement; the corporation has power to use steam, or electric force, or mechanical power, or animals, as it may deem expedient; and is entitled to reasonable compensation for the carriage of persons or property; and may commence demanding and receiving tolls, or fares, when a continuous line of railway, one-quarter of a mile in length, is completed. But this shall not prevent incorporated cities and towns from regulating the construction of street-railways within their corporate limits, and the kind of motive power to be used by such railways.

1195 (1610). Board of directors; election; powers.—The directors must be elected annually by the stockholders, and must hold office for a term of twelve months, and until their successors are elected and qualified; vacancies occurring in the board must be filled by the remaining directors; and the management of the property and the business of the corporation is under the control of the directors, who have power to elect and appoint all officers, agents and servants, fixing their compensation, prescribing their duties, and removing them at pleasure; and to exercise such other powers as may be delegated to them by the by-laws of the adoption of the stockholders.

Powers of directors; exclusive in their character.—Nathan v. Tompkins, 82 Ala. 437; Moses v. Tompkins, 84 Ala. 613. No power can remove directors until the expiration of statutory period, whatever may be the incidental power to remove for cause.—Nathan v. Tompkins, 82 Ala. 437. Equity generally has no jurisdiction to inquire into the legality of an election of officers.—Nathan v. Tompkins, 82 Ala. 437; Moses v. Tompkins, 84 Ala. 613. Directors de facto.—Ib.

1196 (1611). Stockholders meet annually.—The stockholders must meet annually, at such time and place, and on such notice, as may be prescribed by the by-laws.

1197 (1612). Increase of capital stock.—The capital stock of the corporation may be increased by the vote of the persons holding the larger amount in value of the stock, at a meeting of the stockholders called for that purpose, of which meeting, and the purpose for which it is called, thirty days' notice must be given each stockholder personally, whose residence is known, and by publication for four consecutive weeks in some newspaper published in the town or city in which the railway is being operated; and if at such meeting the persons holding the larger amount in value of the stock vote for such increase, the proceedings of the meeting must be reduced to writing, signed by the president, or chief executive officer of the corporation, and filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county.

There is no implied power to change amount of capital stock; statute must be strictly followed.—Grangers' L. & H. Ins. Co. v. Kamper, 73 Ala. 325; Glenn v. Hatchett, 91 Ala. 316.

1198. Right of way.—Street-railroad companies, heretofore, or hereafter organized and incorporated under the laws of this state, may acquire by gift, purchase or condemnation real estate in this state for the right of way of such roads, a strip, tract or parcel of land not exceeding thirty feet in width. And such street-railroad companies shall have the right to condemn and take possession of such land on payment to the owner thereof of just compensation, in the same manner as now provided by law for condemnation of lands for public uses in chapter 42 of this Code. Dec. 10, 1886, p. 122. As amended Feb. 26, 1889, p. 62.

1199. Purchasers of street-railroads may organize as a corporation.—The purchasers of a street-railroad, existing under the laws of this state, not being less than three in number, at any judicial sale, or other sale by authority of law, made since the adoption of the present constitution, or which may be hereafter made, may organize as a corporation, entitling themselves, their associates and successors to all the powers, rights and capacity of a corporation organized under the general law. Feb. 14, 1891, p. 709, §1.

1200. Mode of organization.—Such purchasers must make a declaration in writing signed by each of them, stating— Ib. §2.

1. The corporate name and style adopted by them.

2. Their names and places of residence, the capital stock of the proposed corporation, and the number of shares into which it is divided.

3. The purpose to organize as a corporation under the general law, the property purchased by them, the name of the corporation to which it belonged, and the sale at which they purchased.

4. Such other matters as they may deem it desirable to state; which declaration must be filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which the street-railroad is located; and upon the filing and record of such declaration, the judge of probate of such county must issue to such purchasers, their associates and successors, a certificate of incorporation, in the manner provided under the general law for the incorporation of street-railroad companies, under the seal of his office, which must be recorded in his office, and thereafter such corporation must be deemed duly organized.

Ib. §3. 1201. Purchasers under power in a mortgage or deed of trust. The purchasers of a street-railroad, the property of a corporation, at a sale under a power in a mortgage or deed of trust, or under a decree foreclosing a mortgage, deed of trust or other security, if such mortgage, deed of trust or other security embrace the franchises of such corporation, are entitled to, and shall have, hold and enjoy such franchises; provided, they organize as a corporation under the general law in the mode prescribed in the preceding section.

Feb. 18, 1893, p. 684, §§1, 7. 1202. Consolidation of street-railway and electric light or gas companies.—Any two or more street-railways and electric light or gas companies may unite and consolidate their capital stock, property and business, although such street-railway companies may have authority to consolidate with electric light or gas companies by virtue of special provisions in the charter of such corporations, in the manner herein provided.

Ib. §§2, 3. 1203. Agreement to consolidate; recommendation of directors. Such consolidation shall be made on the recommendation of the board of directors of each corporation proposed to be consolidated, submitted in writing to the meeting of stockholders, and with the vote of the stockholders thereon entered on the minutes, when adopted by a vote of the persons holding the larger amount of the capital stock of each corporation. When a proposition for consolidation has thus been adopted, the consolidation shall be carried out by an agreement in writing, sealed with the corporate seals, and signed by the presidents of the contracting corporations, reciting that such agreement is made with the consent of the stockholders of each corporation, given as provided above, and stating the terms and conditions of the consolidation. This agreement must be recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which such corporations are located, or if they be located in different counties, in the office of the judge of probate of each county, and upon the filing of the agreement as provided, the consolidation is complete.

Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237; s. c., 64 Ala. 603.

Ib. §§4, 5, 6. 1204. Name, rights and obligations of consolidated corporation. The parties may, by their agreement of consolidation, adopt the name and charter of either corporation as the name and charter of the consolidated corporation, and may make such changes and provisions as to the amount of stock and the number of directors of the consolidated corporation as they may think proper. The consolidated corporation shall be entitled to all the property and rights of each of the uniting corporations, and liable to the debts and obligations of each of them. Suits pending for or against either of the original corporations, at the time of the consolidation, are not abated, but shall proceed in the name of the consolidated corporation. And such consolidated corporation shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges which such corporation would be entitled to under the laws of this state as now existing, regulating street-railways, electric light or gas companies.

Warren v. M. & M. R. Co., 49 Ala. 582.

ARTICLE 8.

MACADAMIZED, TURNPIKE AND OTHER TOLL-ROAD COMPANIES.

1205 (1613) (1860) (1696) (1424). Mode of creating corporation for such purposes.—Any number of persons, not less than seven, can be incorporated for the purpose of constructing and operating a macadamized, turnpike, plank, wooden, shelled, graded, or other improved toll-road, in the manner following:

1. They must give notice of the time when, and the place where books will be opened for subscription to the capital stock, by advertisement for six successive weeks in each county through any part of which such road is intended to pass, and also by publication in a newspaper published in one of such counties for twenty days, or, if there be no such paper, then in one nearest the intended line of such road.

2. When, after such notice, stock to the amount of at least five hundred dollars for each mile of such road is taken in good faith, the subscribers, on such notice as they may determine, may elect directors, and the directors from one of their number may elect a president.

3. The stockholders must subscribe articles of association, specifying the name of the corporation, residences of the stockholders respectively, the amount of capital stock and the number of shares, the number of shares taken by each stockholder, the number and names of the directors, and the route of the road, designating the counties, towns and villages through which it will pass, and its estimated length.

4. Upon stock being subscribed as above required for each mile of road, and the payment in cash of five per cent. of the whole amount subscribed, three directors must make an affidavit of such facts, and file the same, with a certified copy of the articles of association, in the office of the secretary of state, and thereupon such stockholders, their associates and successors are a body corporate by the name specified in such articles.

1206 (1614) (1862) (1698) (1426). Certified copy of articles evidence.—A copy of the articles of association, certified by the secretary of state, is presumptive evidence of the incorporation of such corporation, and of the facts stated in the articles.

1207 (1615) (1861) (1697) (1425). Powers.—Such corporation has power, in the mode prescribed by law, to condemn lands through which its road will pass, for a right of way, or may acquire such right of way by gift, or purchase, or in payment of subscriptions for stock; to hold, convey and dispose of all such property, real and personal, as may be necessary for its uses and purposes; to borrow money; to make and issue negotiable paper; to mortgage its property and franchises; to create such officers as may be necessary for the conduct of its business; to prescribe their duties and fix their compensation; and to do all such other acts as may be necessary to carry out the objects and purposes of its formation.

1208 (1616) (1888, 1890, 1891) (1725, 1727, 1728) (1454, 1456, 1457). Directors.—The business of such corporation shall be managed by a board of not less than five directors, who hold office for one year, and until their successors are elected and enter upon the discharge of their duties. They must, at their first meeting, elect one of their number president. Vacancies in the board must be filled by the remaining directors.

1209 (1617) (1888, 1889, 1892) (1725, 1726, 1729) (1454, 1455, 1458). Election of directors.—Directors shall be elected from among the stockholders at such time and place as the stockholders may prescribe, not less than twenty days' notice thereof being first given. Each shareholder, present in person or by proxy, is entitled to one vote for each share which he has held for thirty days previous to the election.

1210 (1618) (1880, 1881) (1716, 1717) (1444, 1445) Calling installments on stock.—The directors may prescribe the amount of the installments to be paid on the stock subscribed, and the time and place of payment; and if any stockholder fails to pay any such installment, his stock may, after thirty days' notice, be declared forfeited, and enures to the benefit of the corporation.

1211 (1619) (1902) (1740) (1469). When directors personally liable.—The debts and liabilities of any corporation, formed under the provisions of this article, must not exceed in amount, at one time, fifty per cent. of the amount of its capital actually paid in; and if there is such excess at any time, the persons who were directors at the time of the creation thereof are jointly and severally liable for such excess, unless it is shown that they voted against contracting such debt or liability.

1212 (1620) (1893) (1730) (1459). Capital stock increased to complete road.—The capital stock of the corporation may be increased by consent of the persons holding the larger amount in value of the stock, first obtained at a meeting held after thirty days' notice of the time, place and purpose thereof has been given personally to each stockholder, whose residence is known, and by publication for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper published at the principal place of business of the corporation. The increase so determined on is to be deemed authorized, upon the filing of a certificate of the action of such meeting, signed by the president and secretary of the corporation, with the secretary of state.

1213 (1621) (1901) (1739) (1468). Individual liability of stockholders.—No stockholder is individually liable for the debts or liabilities of the corporation beyond the unpaid stock owned by him.

1214 (1622) (1863, 1864) (1699, 1700) (1427, 1428). Application for authority to locate road.—Such corporation shall make application to the court of county commissioners of each county through which any part of the road will pass, for authority to construct the same therein. The application shall state the kind of road proposed, and the route, as specified in the articles of association.

1215 (1623) (1865) (1701) (1429). Notice.—Notice of such application shall be given, by publication for four successive weeks in newspapers published in the respective counties, and, if in any county there should be no paper published, then the notice must be posted at the court-house door for four weeks before the hearing.

1216 (1624) (1866) (1702) (1430). When granted.—Any person, owning real estate in the county in which the application is made, may show cause against such application. If the court is of the opinion that the public interest would be benefited by constructing such road in or through the county, it must make an order authorizing the construction of the same on the route proposed, and a copy of the order shall be recorded in the office of the judge of probate.

1217 (1625) (1867) (1703) (1431). How road laid out.—No such road shall be laid out through any orchard to the injury or destruction of fruit-trees, or through any garden, dwelling-house, or building connected therewith, or any inclosure necessary for the use thereof, without the consent of the owner. Such corporation shall not bridge any navigable stream so as to obstruct the navigation thereof, or any other stream in a way which will prevent the passage of a raft twenty-five feet in width.

1218 (1626) (1884) (1720) (1448). Width of road.—All roads constructed under the provisions of this article must be so constructed as to allow carriages and other vehicles to pass each other conveniently, and pass on and off at intersections with other roads.

1219 (1627) (1883) (1719) (1447). Towns may convey land to such corporation.—The corporate authorities of any city or town may convey to such corporation land within the corporate limits for the construction of such road.

1220 (1628) (1916). Changes in road by commissioners.—The court of county commissioners may change the direction, width, character and grade of any such road, upon application in writing, specifying particularly the proposed change, signed by stockholders representing more than one-half of the capital stock of the corporation, which fact shall be sworn to by the president and secretary of the corporation.

1221 (1629) (1879) (1715) (1443). Branch roads.—Any corporation formed under this article may construct branch roads by consent of the courts of county commissioners of the counties through which the same will pass, and obtaining the right of way by purchase or condemnation.

1222 (1630) (1882, 1885, 1887, 1913) (1718, 1721, 1724, 1751) (1446, 1449, 1452). Tolls; bridges; gates.—On the completion of three miles or more of such road, the corporation may charge reasonable tolls, and may charge reasonable tolls on all bridges erected for persons and property passing thereon, which tolls must be defined and regulated by the board of directors. The rates shall be published, and can in no case be increased, except at the annual meetings of the stockholders. The corporation may erect gates and suitable buildings for the toll-keepers.

1223 (1631) (1886) (1722) (1450). Exemptions from tolls.—No toll must be taken from any person passing from one part of his farm or plantation to another part thereof, or from persons going to or from funerals or places of religious worship, or to or from military musters or drills, in which they participate as members of the state troops or militia, or to or from elections at which such persons are authorized to vote; no toll must be taken from any person traveling on foot, or going to or from any grist-mill with grain for family use, or to or from a blacksmith-shop for work, or going for a physician and returning.

1224 (1632) (1915) (1754). Tolls fixed by county commissioners reasonable.—Such corporation may apply to the court of county commissioners of the county in which the longest portion of its road is located to fix the rates of toll, and the rates thereupon fixed by the court shall be considered reasonable.

1225 (1633) (1913, 1914) (1751, 1752). Penalty for overcharge. Any such corporation that fixes, collects, or attempts to collect an unreasonable toll for the transit of persons or property over its road, bridges, or causeways, or permits any of its officers, agents, or employees to fix, collect, or attempt to collect an unreasonable toll, shall forfeit one hundred dollars, one half to the person suing and the other to the state. In all such cases, the question whether the toll is reasonable shall be left to the jury.

1226 (1634) (1911) (1749). Penalty for evading gate.—Any person evading a gate on such road shall, in addition to the customary tolls to the corporation and costs of suit, pay a penalty of five dollars, one half to the party suing, the other to the county treasury, to be recovered before any justice of the peace.

1227 (1635) (1912) (1750). Trial; amendment.—When any person is so sued under a wrong name or description, the misnomer or misdescription may be corrected by amendment. All proceedings hereunder shall be at such place, and on such notice as the justice may fix; but the defendant may postpone the trial for a period not longer than ten days.

1228 (1636) (1905) (1743). Judge of probate appoints road commissioners.—The judge of probate of each county through or into which any such road runs, must appoint three discreet freeholders of the county commissioners, who shall hold office for one year and until their successors are appointed.

1229 (1637) (1906) (1744). Commissioners must examine roads and open gates.—Upon the application of any two freeholders or householders, any two commissioners must examine the condition of such road within their county, and if it appear upon examination that the road is so out of repair as not to afford a safe and convenient transit for persons or property, they must throw open the toll-gates of the road, and without delay make return of their examination and action, under oath, to the judge of probate.

1230 (1638) (1907) (1745). When road in order, commissioners so report.—Whenever such corporation applies to the commissioners, any two of them shall examine the road so declared out of repair, and if upon such examination the road is found in proper order, they must forthwith report that fact, under oath, to the judge of probate, and thereupon toll may be received on such road as before.

1231 (1639) (1908) (1746). Liability of gatekeeper for charging toll on road out of repair.—If any gatekeeper or other person shall, after the road is declared out of repair, and before it has been reported in order, charge or receive toll from any person or for any property passing over the road, he shall be liable for five times the amount of the toll, and for costs, to be recovered before any justice of the peace of the county where the toll was received or charged.

1232 (1640) (1910) (1748). Pay of commissioners.—The commissioners appointed under this article shall be entitled to one dollar and fifty cents for each day they are engaged in the discharge of their duties, to be paid by the party applying for the examination, but the amount so paid may be recovered of the corporation, if the road is reported out of repair.

1233 (1641) (1909) (1747). Office.—The president and directors of such road corporation shall hold their meetings and keep the principal office for the transaction of the business of the corporation in the county in which the principal portion of the road lies, or at a terminus thereof; and all acts of the corporation in violation of the provisions of this section are null and void.

1234 (1642) (1894) (1732) (1461). How process served.—All legal process may be served on such corporation by leaving the same at such office with any person in charge, on any day except Sunday.

1235 (1643) (1895) (1733) (1462). Book of officers and stockholders.—Such corporation must cause a book to be kept, containing in alphabetical order, the names of the president and directors, the names of all stockholders for six years next preceding, the number of shares of each, and the time when each became the holder thereof, which book must be free to the inspection of all persons at least six hours of each day, except Sunday, at such office.

1236 (1644) (1896) (1734) (1463). Transfer of stock.—No transfer, hypothecation, or other lien of stock is valid against judgment creditors with lien, or subsequent purchasers, without notice, except from the time that it is registered upon such book.

1237 (1645) (1897, 1898) (1735, 1736) (1464, 1465). Transcript from book; penalty for not furnishing.—Any person may obtain a transcript from such book, on application at the office to the president or other officer of the corporation, and tender of the fees for transcribing, at the rate of twelve and one-half cents per hundred words; and the officer must certify that the transcript is correct. Any officer, failing to furnish such certified transcript for five days after such demand and tender, forfeits two hundred dollars to the party aggrieved.

1238 (1646) (1899) (1737) (1466). Book or transcript evidence. Such book or certified transcript is presumptive evidence for the plaintiff in any suit or proceeding against the corporation or stockholders.

1239 (1647) (1900) (1738) (1467). Failure to keep book or allow inspection.—Any such corporation failing so to keep such book forfeits its corporate powers; and any officer neglecting or failing to permit its inspection forfeits to the person demanding inspection two hundred dollars.

1240 (1648) (1903) (1741) (1470). Forfeiture for not prosecuting work.—Every corporation formed under the provisions of this article ceases to be a body corporate, if, within two years from filing its articles of association, it has not commenced the construction of its road, and in good faith expended thereon at least ten per cent. of the amount of its capital, or if, within four years, it has not so expended twenty per cent., and in the same rate for every two successive years until the road is completed.

1241 (1649). Purchasers may become incorporated.—Any three or more persons, or their assigns, holding by purchase, voluntary or under legal process, the larger amount of the interest in the roadbed of any macadamized, turnpike, plank, wooden, shelled, graded, or other improved road, previously owned and operated as a toll-road by any corporation under the laws of this state, may organize themselves into a body politic and corporate for the benefit of themselves, their associates and successors; and by purchasers hereunder is meant the persons actually furnishing the consideration, and not the trustees merely.

1242 (1650). Manner of incorporation.—Such purchasers shall elect directors and select a corporate name, and upon filing with the secretary of state within four months, a certificate of the proceedings so had, signed and verified by the oath of some person appointed by such purchasers so organizing to keep a record of the proceedings, showing the name of the original corporation, the new corporate name selected, and the names of the purchasers so organizing, the incorporation shall be deemed complete, and the corporation fully organized and entitled to exist under the name selected, and to have all the rights, privileges, immunities and franchises of the original corporation, to be held in all cases as if acquired under the constitution of 1875. The corporation has power to sell, mortgage, or otherwise encumber or dispose of its rights, franchises and property of every kind.

1243 (1651). Certificate recorded; evidence.—Such certificate shall be recorded by the secretary of state in his office, and a certified copy thereof by the secretary shall, in all courts and proceedings, be presumptive evidence of the incorporation and the proceedings therefor.

ARTICLE 9.

TELEGRAPH COMPANIES.

1244 (1652) (1930). Right to construct and maintain lines along public highways.—Any telegraph company, incorporated under the laws of this or any other state, shall have the right to construct, maintain and operate lines of telegraph along any of the railroads or other public highways in this state; but such lines of telegraph shall be so constructed and maintained as not to obstruct or hinder the usual travel on such railroad or other highway.

1245 (1653) (1931). Power to contract.—Such telegraph company shall have power to contract with any persons or corporation, the owner of any lands, or of any franchise or easement over which such telegraph-line is proposed to be erected, for the right of way for planting, repairing and preserving its telegraph-poles, and for the erection and occupation of offices, at suitable distances for the public accommodation.

1246 (1654) (1932). Right of way.—Such telegraph company shall be entitled to the right of way over the lands, franchises and easements of other persons and corporations, and the right to erect poles, and to establish offices, upon making just compensation as now provided by law.

ARTICLE 10.

NAVIGATION COMPANIES.

1247 (1655) (1933) (1763). Mode of forming navigation companies.—Any two or more persons, who desire to operate a line of steamships or other water-craft navigating the sea to or from the port of Mobile to any other port of the United States or of any foreign country, may become incorporated and enjoy all the benefits and privileges of a charter to the same extent as if a charter were granted by a special act of the general assembly, who shall comply with the following conditions:

1. The person designing to establish such line must, by a declaration in writing, state the object of the company, the name to be assumed, the amount of capital stock to be raised, the number of shares into which it is to be divided, and the names of the shareholders; but the capital stock shall in no case be less than twenty-five thousand dollars, or more than eight hundred thousand dollars, and each share shall be of the value of not less than fifty, and not more than one thousand dollars. Such declaration shall be subscribed by contributors holding at least one-third of the stock, or by their authorized agents, and filed in the office of the secretary of state, verified by the oath of at least two subscribers before any judge of probate or circuit judge.

2. Upon the filing of such declaration, and upon certificate that one-third of the proposed capital stock has been actually paid in cash into a bank doing business in Mobile to the credit of the corporators, or of some person designated in their declaration as trustee for them, which certificate may be by the cashier of the bank under its seal, the governor must issue to such subscribers, their associates and successors, letters patent, under the great seal of the state, declaring them a body politic and corporate under the name and style stated in the declaration.

3. Every corporation formed under this section shall have a president, treasurer and such other officers and agents as its business may require, and may also have a board of not more than ten, nor less than five directors. Such officers shall be appointed in such manner, and for such time as the company, by its by-laws, may provide.

4. After the issue of such letters, whatever money may stand in any bank to the credit of the company, or the trustee, is subject to the check or draft of the treasurer, countersigned by the president, or to the check or draft of such other officer as the by-laws may direct.

As amended Dec. 12, 1892, p. 94. Feb. 7, 1893, p. 305.

1248 (1656) (1934) (1764). Powers.—Upon complying with the above requisitions, the company shall be deemed duly organized under the name adopted in such declaration, and shall have perpetual succession and all the rights, privileges and immunities, and liable to all the obligations of a private corporation. Such subscribers, their associates and successors shall have full power to fill all subscriptions to the capital stock to the amount named in their written declaration, and to the amount of eight hundred thousand dollars, if they file a new declaration to that effect with the secretary of state; to purchase, build, equip, charter, own and sell vessels propelled by steam, or otherwise, to navigate the Gulf of Mexico and other seas between Mobile and the ports in the declaration named, and to purchase, build, equip, charter, own and sell and run such auxiliary vessels as may be necessary; to provide fuel and other necessaries, and to purchase, transport and sell, or contract for the sale of, or to transport or sell upon commission, any cargo or part of a cargo, of any article of domestic export or import; and to erect, purchase, lease, hold and convey such buildings and real estate as may be necessary to the efficient management of the business of the company. The company may further adopt such by-laws for the management of its business, not inconsistent with law, as it may see fit; but no company organized hereunder shall have banking privileges, or powers not necessary for managing a line of vessels carrying freight and passengers.

Appointment and powers of agent.—Tenn. R. & T. Co. v. Kavanaugh, 93 Ala. 324; s. c., 101 Ala. 1. Authority of a corporation chartered to use steamboats to purchase or lease a barge for hauling wood.—Ib.

1249 (1657) (1935) (1765). Special meetings.—The president of the company, on the written request of stockholders owning one-third of the capital stock paid in, shall call a special meeting of the stockholders, after giving twenty days' notice, which shall state specifically the object of the meeting; and only the object so stated shall be acted on thereat. The treasurer, or other accounting officer of the company, must, on a similar request, furnish a written statement of the company's accounts and the condition of its pecuniary affairs.

1250 (1658) (1936) (1766). Winding up affairs of company. When, from any cause, it becomes necessary to wind up the affairs of the company, and an amicable arrangement cannot be made among the parties interested, the chancellor of the southwestern chancery division must, upon application by bill of parties interested to the extent of twenty-five thousand dollars, appoint three suitable commissioners, who may be required to give bond with sufficient sureties, to be approved by the chancellor, for the faithful performance of the trust, whose duty it is to take possession of the assets, and, as speedily as practicable, under the direction of the chancellor, wind up the affairs of the company, and make due distribution among the parties in interest.

ARTICLE 11.

CORPORATIONS NOT SPECIALLY PROVIDED FOR.

1251 (1659). Corporations for any industrial business or lawful enterprise.—Two or more persons, associating themselves for the carrying on of any industrial business, or for any lawful enterprise, if not otherwise provided by law, may form themselves into a private corporation, in the mode and with the capacity and powers in this article expressed.

De facto corporation; stockholders not liable as partners; estopped against persons contracting with it.—Cahall v. Cit. M. B. Asso., 61 Ala. 232; Lehman v. Warner, 61 Ala. 455; Cent. A. & M. Asso. v. Ala. G. L. Ins. Co., 70 Ala. 120; Schloss v. Montgomery Trade Co., 87 Ala. 411; Snider v. Troy, 91 Ala. 224; Cory v. Lee, 93 Ala. 468; Sanche v. Webb, 97 Ala. 111; s. c., 110 Ala. 214; Bibb v. Hall, 101 Ala. 79; Kahn v. Hall, 101 Ala. 102.

1252 (1660). Declaration to be filed in office of judge of probate; contents.—The persons so associating must file in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which it is proposed the corporation shall have its principal place of business, a declaration in writing, signed by each of them, stating—

1. The names and residences of the subscribers, and the name and style of the proposed corporation.

2. The general purposes of the corporation, the nature of the business intended, and the principal place of business or location of the corporation.

3. The amount of the capital stock and the number of shares into which it is divided.

4. Any other matter it is deemed desirable to state.

Office of declaration; surplusage.—Grangers' L. & H. Ins. Co. v. Kamper, 73 Ala. 325. Subdivision 4.—Need not set out installments in which stock is to be paid.—Bolling v. LeGrand, 87 Ala. 482.

1253 (1661). Commission issued by judge of probate.—Upon the filing of the declaration, the judge of probate must issue to two or more of the subscribers to the declaration a commission, authorizing them, as commissioners, to open books of subscription to the capital stock of the corporation at such times and places as they may appoint.

1254 (1662). Subscriptions for stock.—All subscriptions to or for the capital stock must be payable in money; but the commissioners may receive subscriptions payable in money, the subscriber having the privilege of discharging the same by the rendition of stipulated necessary services, or the performance of stipulated necessary labor for the corporation, at the reasonable value of such services or labor, or in property at the reasonable value thereof, the corporation has capacity to acquire and hold, the subscription stating the nature and character of such property, and when it is to be transferred or conveyed to the corporation.

Purpose is to prevent a fraudulent issue of fictitious stock.—Williams v. Evans, 87 Ala. 726; Sanche v. Webb, 97 Ala. 111; s. c., 110 Ala. 214. Until organization is perfected an agreement to take stock is a mere offer, revocable or not according to the nature of the agreement.—Knox v. Childersburg Land Co., 86 Ala. 180. Stock cannot be issued as a bonus, or in any way except for money, property, or services.—Williams v. Evans, 87 Ala. 726; Tutwiler v. Coal Co., 89 Ala. 391; Perry v. Tuscaloosa C. S. O. M. Co., 93 Ala. 364; Nelson v. Hubbard, 96 Ala. 238; Parsons v. Joseph, 92 Ala. 403; Beitman v. Steiner, 98 Ala. 241; Davis v. Montgomery F. & C. Co., 101 Ala. 127; Ala. Nat. Bank v. Halsey, 109 Ala. 196. An increase in value of the property in which the capital stock is invested will not justify the issuance of a stock dividend to represent such increase.—Fitzpatrick v. Dispatch Pub. Co., 83 Ala. 604. When the subscription is payable in property the property must be taken at its reasonable money value.—Parsons. v. Joseph, 92 Ala. 403; Elyton Land Co. v. Birmingham W. & E. Co., 92 Ala. 407; Nelson v. Hubbard, 96 Ala. 238; Sanche v. Webb, 97 Ala. 111; s. c., 110 Ala. 214; Davis v. Montgomery F. & C. Co., 101 Ala. 127; Nicrosi v. Irvine, 102 Ala. 648. Corporation is a purchaser for value of land conveyed in payment of stock.—Frenkel v. Hudson, 82 Ala. 158. See citations to Constitution, Art. XIV., §6.

1255 (1663). Organization of corporation.—Fifty per cent. of the proposed capital stock having been subscribed in good faith by subscribers, of whose solvency the commissioners are satisfied, they shall call the subscribers together at such time and place as they may appoint for the election of a board of directors and other officers, and the further organization of the proposed corporation; a majority in value of the subscribers being present in person or by proxy at such time and place, they must elect a board of directors from the subscribers, consisting of not less than three, nor more than nine members, and such other officers as they may deem necessary; the directors holding office for a term of twelve months thereafter, and until their successors are elected and qualified; and shall designate an officer of their election, or some person of their appointment, to receive from the commissioners the subscriptions for stock. Upon the delivery of the subscriptions to such officer or person, he shall require of the subscribers whose subscriptions are payable in money, without the privilege of discharge in services or labor, or property, the payment in cash of twenty per cent. thereof; and of the subscribers whose subscriptions are payable in money, with the privilege of discharging the same in stipulated services or labor, or in the transfer or conveyance of property, contracts in writing signed by them, expressing such privilege, and binding them to the rendition of the services, or the performance of the labor, or the transfer or conveyance of property, at such times as the board of directors may appoint. The proceedings of the meetings of the subscribers must be reduced to writing, and must be signed by them and delivered to the commissioners, who must return and file the same in the office of the judge of probate; and the officer or person to whom the subscriptions for stock have been delivered, must make a copy thereof, and verify the same by affidavit, stating in such affidavit from which of the subscribers he has received payment in cash of twenty per cent., and from which he has received contracts in writing, as hereinbefore specified; upon the filing of such papers, the judge of probate must issue to the subscribers, their associates, and their successors, a certificate stating that they are duly organized as a corporation, under the name and style, and for the purposes expressed in the declaration, having the powers, capacity, and authority conferred by law.

Corporate functions acquired by an evasive compliance is a fraud upon the law.—Sanche v. Webb, 97 Ala. 111; s. c., 110 Ala. 214. Organization may be perfected before all the capital is subscribed.—Schloss v. Montgomery Trade Co., 87 Ala. 411. Issuance of certificate, other steps having been taken, is not a condition precedent to legal organization; may be compelled by mandamus.—Sparks v. Woodstock I. Co., 87 Ala. 294. Legal existence cannot be collaterally assailed; if the state acquiesces others cannot complain.—Cent. A. & M. Asso. v. Ala. G. L. Ins. Co., 70 Ala. 120; Sanche v. Webb, 97 Ala. 111; s. c., 110 Ala. 214; Bibb v. Hall, 101 Ala. 79; Kahn v. Hall, 101 Ala. 102. Defects in organization may be cured by special legislative act. Cent. A. & M. Asso. v. Ala. G. L. Ins. Co., 70 Ala. 120; Sanche v. Webb, 97 Ala. 111; s. c., 110 Ala. 214. De facto corporations; estoppel.—See citations to section 1251 (1659). Powers of directors; term of office; removal.—See citations to section 1195 (1610).

1256 (1664). Powers of corporation.—When duly organized such corporation has power—

1. To have succession by the corporate name for a period of twenty years, if a less period be not expressed in the declaration.

2. To sue and be sued; and, if deemed necessary, to have a corporate seal, which may be altered at pleasure.

3. To hold, purchase, dispose of, and convey such real and personal property as the nature of its business may require.

4. To appoint such officers and agents as may be deemed necessary for the transaction of its business, and the management and control of its affairs and property,

5. To make all needful by-laws, rules, and regulations for the transaction of its business, the management and control of its affairs, and the uses and disposition of its property; and for the transfer of its stock, and the creation and preservation of a lien upon the shares of its stockholders, for the payment of any debt or liability they may incur to the corporation.

6. To carry on the business, or accomplish the purposes expressed in the declaration.

7. To borrow money, and to mortgage, or otherwise convey or pledge its property, real or personal, and its franchises, to secure the payment of the money so borrowed, or any other debt contracted by it; but it has not power to borrow a sum exceeding its capital stock, or at a rate of interest exceeding eight per cent., payable semi-annually; nor must such mortgage, conveyance, or pledge be made otherwise than by the consent of the holders of the larger part in value of the capital stock, expressed by vote at a meeting of the stockholders, called for that purpose, of the time and place of which meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called, thirty days' notice is given each stockholder personally, whose residence is known, and by publication for four consecutive weeks in the newspaper published nearest to the place of business of the corporation.

As amended Feb. 28, 1889, p. 108.

8. Land companies and corporations organized for the purpose of buying, selling, or improving land, shall, in addition to the powers above stated, have the power to invest their money in other property or assets in enterprises which they deem calculated to advance their interests, or to loan money or property to individuals or corporations buying, leasing, or making improvements on or near their lands, and to receive certificates of stock, notes, bonds, mortgages, or other security for such investments or loans; and all such investments or loans heretofore made by such companies in good faith are legalized.

Subdivision 3.—Corporation has the same right to sell for cash or on a credit as an individual.—Fort Payne Bank v. The Ala. Sanitarium, 103 Ala. 358. And this although it is insolvent. The assets of an insolvent corporation do not constitute a trust fund in its hands for the benefit of creditors in the proper and essential meaning of these terms.—O'Bear Jewelry Co. v. Volfer, 106 Ala. 205 (overruling Gibon v. Towbridge Fur. Co., 96 Ala. 357; Goodyear Rubber Co. v. Scott Co., 96 Ala. 439; Corey v. Wadsworth, 99 Ala. 68); Barrett v. Pollak Co., 108 Ala. 390; Pollak Co. v. Muscogee Mfg. Co., 108 Ala. 467; Mary Lee C. & R. Co. v. Knox, 110 Ala. 632. Presumptively has power to issue negotiable paper.—Florence R. & I. Co. v. Bank, 106 Ala. 364. Unless specially authorized a subscription by one corporation of a part of its capital to the stock of another, is void.—Commercial Fire Ins. Co. v. Bd. of Rev., 99 Ala. 1; Lanier Lumber Co. v. Rees, 103 Ala. 622. If authorized, it cannot, against objection of stockholders sell all its property to another corporation, taking stock therein in payment.—Elyton Land Co. v. Dowdell, Ala. (20 So. 981). The president cannot convey corporate property without authority from directors; subsequent ratification binds the corporation but not creditors who have acquired rights.—Wood v. McCain, 7 Ala. 800; Gibson v. Goldthwaite, 7 Ala. 281; T. & C. R. Co. v. E. A. R. Co., 73 Ala. 426, 445; Standifer v. Swann, 78 Ala. 88; Swann v. Gaston, 87 Ala. 569; Goodyear Rubber Co. v. Scott Co., 96 Ala. 439; Norton v. Bank, 102 Ala. 420; Jinwright v. Nelson, 105 Ala. 399; Jordan v. Collins, 107 Ala. 572; Mickle v. Montgomery, 111 Ala. 415. Must convey in name of corporation; seal prima facie evidence of authority.—Jinwright v. Nelson, 105 Ala. 399. Unauthorized covenants, entered into by president in consideration of a conveyance of land, subsequently ratified, is binding on the corporation and its successor with notice.—M. & M. Ry. Co., v. Gilmer, 85 Ala. 422. Subdivision 4.—As a general rule an officer cannot use his position for his own advantage; can make no contract with himself.—Tuscaloosa C. S. O. Co. v. Perry, 85 Ala. 158; Corey v. Wadsworth, 99 Ala. 68; Mary Lee C. & R. Co. v. Knox, 110 Ala. 632. Acts of agent within scope of chartered powers, or without, if ratified, are binding.—Stanley v. Sheffield L. I. & C. Co., 83 Ala. 260; Tenn. R. & T. Co. v. Kavanaugh, 93 Ala. 324; s. c., 101 Ala. 1; Bibb v. Hall, 101 Ala. 79; Kahn v. Hall, 101 Ala. 102. Subdivision 5.—Rules and regulations must be pertinent to the subject and reasonable in themselves.—Cunningham v. Ala. L. I. & T. Co., 4 Ala. 652. May adopt a by-law that stock cannot be transferred while the holder is in default to the corporation.—Cunningham v. Ala. L. I. & T. Co., 4 Ala. 652; Mobile Mut. Ins. Co. v. Cullom, 49 Ala. 558. After organization may legally ratify and accept agreements entered into by its promoters and intended for its benefit.—Moore H. H. Co. v. Towers H. Co., 87 Ala. 206; Davis v. Montgomery F. & C. Co., 101 Ala. 127. Subdivision 6.—Corporation chartered to manufacture and repair machinery cannot act as selling agent and indorse notes given in that business.—Westinghouse Mach. Co. v. Wilkinson, 79 Ala. 312. One chartered to manufacture, repair and operate machinery and do founder's business, cannot engage in the business of manufacturing and selling ice.—Simmons v. Troy I. Wks., 92 Ala. 427. Chartered to manufacture lime and barrels cannot conduct a general merchandise business.—Chewacla Lime Wks. v. Dismukes, 87 Ala. 344. Subdivision 7.—Includes power to pledge corporate bonds as collateral to secure debts.—Nelson v. Hubbard, 96 Ala. 238. Notice required is for the benefit of stockholders and, being waived, creditors cannot complain.—Nelson v. Hubbard, 96 Ala. 238; Barrett v. Pollak Co., 108 Ala. 390. Subdivision 8.—Without special authority one corporation cannot invest its capital in the stock of another.—Commercial Fire Ins. Co. v. Bd. of Rev., 99 Ala. 1; Lanier Lumber Co. v. Rees, 103 Ala. 622.

Cannot vote by proxy.—Perry v. Tuscaloosa C. S. O. Co., 93 Ala. 364. It will be presumed, in the absence of proof, that there is a board of directors. Goodyear Rubber Co. v. Scott Co., 96 Ala. 439. Where the directors own all the stock they may authorize sale of all assets without having had a formal meeting.—Jordan v. Collins, 107 Ala. 572. Equity will enforce stock assessment when directors fail to perform that duty.—Glenn v. Semple, 80 Ala. 159. Powers, etc.—See citations to section 1195 (1610).

1258 (1666). Stockholders meet annually.—The stockholders must meet annually, at such time and place, and on such notice, as may be prescribed by the by-laws.

Neither stockholders nor directors can vote by proxy unless specially authorized.—See citations to preceding section.

1259 (1667). Amount of capital stock; how increased.—Any company or corporation already organized, or that may hereafter be organized under the provisions of this article, may have a capital stock not exceeding ten millions of dollars, and any corporation now, or hereafter organized under the provisions of this article, may increase its capital stock to an amount not exceeding ten millions of dollars by the vote of the persons holding the larger amount in value of the stock thereof, at a meeting of the stockholders called for that purpose, of which meeting and the purpose for which it was called, thirty days' notice must be given each stockholder personally, whose residence is known, and by publication for four consecutive weeks in some newspaper published in the town, city, or county in which the corporation is located; and if at such meeting the persons holding the larger amount in value of the stock vote for such increase, then such increase shall be made to the amount stated in the notice, or to a less amount, as may be determined. The proceedings of the meeting must be reduced to writing, which must be signed by the president or chief executive officer of the corporation, and filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which the corporation is located. Each stockholder is entitled to a preference in taking of the increased stock an amount in proportion to the amount of the original stock he may own, and shall have a right for sixty days after the increase of stock has been agreed upon to take and pay for his pro rata of the stock in proportion to the stock originally held by him. And the stock heretofore issued by corporations organized under this article, whose capital stock does not exceed ten millions of dollars, is hereby legalized and made valid, notwithstanding the amount of capital stock of such corporation exceeds the amount heretofore authorized by this article. Neither stock nor bonds shall be issued by any private corporation except for money, labor done, or money or property actually received; and all fictitious increase of stock or indebtedness shall be void.

The fact that the capital has been invested in property which has doubled in value does not authorize the issue of a corresponding increase of stock to be distributed as a stock dividend.—Fitzpatrick v. Dispatch Pub. Co., 83 Ala. 604. A pledge of corporate bonds for a greater par value than the debt secured thereby is valid if bona fide.—Nelson v. Hubbard, 96 Ala. 238. Notice is for the benefit of stockholders, and may be waived.—Nelson v. Hubbard, 96 Ala. 238; Barrett v. Pollak Co., 108 Ala. 390. See citations to section 1254 (1662); also to Constitution, Art. XIV., §6.

1260 (1668). Renewal of incorporation.—An incorporation under this chapter may be renewed according to the provisions hereinbefore made, with the consent of a majority in value of the stockholders, expressed at a meeting of the stockholders called for that purpose.

ARTICLE 12.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

1261 (1669). Shares of stock personal property.—Shares or interests in the stock of private corporations are personal property, transferable on the books of the corporation in such manner as is required by the by-laws, or by the rules and regulations of the corporation.

Shares of stock are personal property, but this alone does not affix subjectivity to levy and sale under legal process.—Nabring v. Bank, 58 Ala. 204; Union Bank v. Hartwell, 84 Ala. 379; Moses v. Scott, 84 Ala. 608; E. Birmingham Land Co. v. Dennis, 85 Ala. 565; Berney Bank v. Pinckard, 87 Ala. 577; Kennedy v. Mary Lee C. & R. Co., 93 Ala. 494; White v. Rankin, 90 Ala. 541; Birmingham T. & S. Co. v. Bank, 99 Ala. 379. Agreement to purchase stock will sometimes be specifically enforced.—Moses v. Scott, 84 Ala. 608. Validity of a "voting trust."—Moses v. Scott, 84 Ala. 608; M. & O. R. Co. v. Nicholas, 98 Ala. 92.

To be construed in connection with sections 1263 (1671) and 1265 (1673). Berney Bank v. Pinckard, 87 Ala. 577; Abels v. P. & M. Ins. Co., 92 Ala. 382. For the protection of purchasers and creditors; not intended to invalidate other methods of transfer except as against them.—P. & M. Ins. Co. v. Selma Bank, 63 Ala. 585; Campbell v. Woodstock I. Co., 83 Ala. 351; Union Bank v. Hartwell, 84 Ala. 379; Berney Bank v. Pinckard, 87 Ala. 577; Winter v. Montgomery G. L. Co., 89 Ala. 544; Birmingham T. & S. Co. v. Bank, 99 Ala. 379. Does not require any particular form of registration or book; a memorandum on the stub of a stock-certificate book is sufficient.—Fisher v. Jones, 82 Ala. 117. A transfer is not valid as against creditors or purchasers for value and without notice except from date of registry.—Nabring v. Bank, 58 Ala. 204. Bona fide creditors are judgment creditors with a lien, or attachment creditors who perfect a lien by judgment. Rights accrue on the acquirement of the lien.—Jones v. Latham, 70 Ala. 164; Berney Bank v. Pinckard, 87 Ala. 577; Abels v. P. & M. Ins. Co., 92 Ala. 382. Gives creditor whose attachment or execution has been levied before registration of transfer, or actual notice, rights superior to those of transferee.—Jones v. Latham, 70 Ala. 164; Fisher v. Jones, 82 Ala. 117; Berney Bank v. Pinckard, 87 Ala. 577; White v. Rankin, 90 Ala. 541; Abels v. P. & M. Ins. Co., 92 Ala. 382; Birmingham T. & S. Co. v. Bank, 99 Ala. 379. Where stock is registered in the name of one although really belonging to another, it may be subjected by creditors of the nominal owner.—Winter v. Montgomery G. L. Co., 89 Ala. 544; White v. Rankin, 90 Ala. 541. Purchaser without notice from the last registered holder is not affected by the rights of holders back of the registry.—Winter v. Montgomery G. L. Co., 89 Ala. 544.

1263 (1671) (2044) (1786). Must require register of transfer on books; transfer not registered void.—It is the duty of every private corporation to require the transfer of its stock to be made or registered on the books of the corporation; and persons holding stock not so transferred or registered, or holding any stock under hypothecation, mortgage, or other lien, must have the transfer, hypothecation, mortgage, or other lien made or registered on the books of the corporation, or upon failing to do so within fifteen days, all such transfers, hypothecations, mortgages, or other liens shall be void as to bona fide creditors, or subsequent purchasers without notice.

Transfer is good between the parties without registration.—Duke v. Cahawba Nav. Co., 10 Ala. 82; Fisher v. Jones, 82 Ala. 117; Campbell v. Woodstock I. Co., 83 Ala. 351. See also citations to preceding section. Registration must be made within the time limited.—Berney Nat. Bank v. Pinckard, 87 Ala. 577; Abels v. P. & M. Ins. Co., 92 Ala. 382. A memorandum on the stub of the stock-certificate book is sufficient registration.—Fisher v. Jones, 82 Ala. 117. Who are bona fide creditors or purchasers.—See citations to preceding section. A purchaser of a certificate indorsed in blank but unregistered, which has been lost or stolen will not be protected against the title of the true owner in whose name the stock is registered.—E. Birmingham Land Co. v. Dennis, 85 Ala. 565. The person in whose name the stock is registered is the owner in the estimation of the statutes.—Winter v. Montgomery G. L. Co., 89 Ala. 544; White v. Rankin, 90 Ala. 541. Actual notice of an unregistered transfer is binding and protects the transferee.—Birmingham T. & S. Co. v.

Bank, 99 Ala. 379. When a stockholder borrows money and, as security, causes the stock to be transferred on the books to the lender, the transaction is a pledge.—Nabring v. Bank, 58 Ala. 204. A writing by which a stockholder transfers and assigns his interest in stock as collateral and authorizes the transferee to sell it to satisfy the debt and transfer it to the purchaser is a mortgage.—Campbell v. Woodstock I. Co., 83 Ala. 351; Gilmer v. Morris, 80 Ala. 78.

1264 (1672) (2038, 2039) (1780, 1781). Transfer may be made by personal representative.—An executor or administrator, deriving his appointment from a court of probate of this state, or if the testator or intestate resided without the state, from the proper tribunal of his domicil, may transfer the shares of stock held and owned by such testator or intestate in any private corporation existing under the laws of this state; payment of dividends on such stock may be made to such executor or administrator.

An administrator of a non-resident may be appointed in the county of the residence of a corporation in which his intestate owned stock and may transfer the shares, although the foreign administrator might have done so.—Winter v. London, 99 Ala. 263.

1265 (1673). Stock subject to levy and sale.—The shares of stock are subject to levy and sale under attachment or execution, as is other personal property; and the levy may be made with or without the officer having or obtaining possession of the certificate of stock, by indorsement on the attachment or execution, stating the number of shares, or other interest, on which the levy is made, and giving notice thereof to the custodian of the books of transfer, if he be known and reside within the state, or if he be unknown, or if he reside without the state, by posting notice at the court-house door of the county, and by publication for three consecutive weeks in a newspaper published at or near the principal place of business of such corporation; all transfers of the stock made in good faith and for a valuable consideration before notice of the levy is given, are valid and operative, and must prevail over the levy. The levy and the sale thereunder may be made in the county of the residence of the defendant, or in the county in which the corporation has its principal place of business; and on making the sale, the sheriff must make to the purchaser a transfer of the stock in writing; and the purchaser has the right to require the proper officer to register such transfer on the books of the corporation, and, with or without such registry, is entitled to all the rights and interests of the defendant as whose property such stock was sold.

The shares, not the certificates representing them, are the subject of levy. White v. Rankin, 90 Ala. 541. Stocks are on the same footing as personal chattels as to amenability to levy on execution or attachment.—Berney Nat. Bank v. Pinckard, 87 Ala. 577. Does not provide for levy on an interest but that of an absolute owner.—Nabring v. Bank, 58 Ala. 204. Rights of purchasers at execution sale date from the acquirement of the lien—Jones v. Latham, 70 Ala. 164; Fisher v. Jones, 82 Ala. 117; Berney Nat. Bank v. Pinckard, 87 Ala. 577; Abels v. P. & M. Ins. Co., 92 Ala. 382. Levy is ineffectual until notice is given.—Fisher v. Jones, 82 Ala. 117. Notice to custodian may be oral. Abels v. P. & M. Ins. Co., 92 Ala. 382. The person in whose name the stock is registered is the true owner in the estimation of the statutes, and it is subject to execution against him.—White v. Rankin, 90 Ala. 541; Winter v. Montgomery G. L. Co., 89 Ala. 544.

1266. Statement furnished officer making levy.—Whenever any sheriff or other officer, having an execution or attachment in his hands against any person, makes demand of the custodian of the books of any corporation, upon the officer exhibiting his process to him, and furnishing him with a copy thereof, if demanded, it shall be the duty of such custodian to furnish such officer a statement, signed in his official capacity, of the number of shares or amount of interest held by such person in such corporation, and also a statement of all liens, mortgages or hypothecations of such stock, and the amount thereof, as shown on the books of such corporation; and if the custodian of such books neglects or refuses to furnish the statement, or if he shall willfully give a false statement thereof, he shall be liable to the plaintiff or other person purchasing such stock, as the one or the other may be damaged, for double the amount of damages occasioned by such neglect, refusal or false statement.

1267. Must keep stock record-books.—Every corporation incor- Ib. §2.
porated under any law of this state, general or special, shall keep in this state, in the hands of some officer, books showing who are the holders of stock therein, and all transfers, hypothecations, liens or mortgages of such stock must be entered upon said book within fifteen days after the same shall have been made or created, or the same shall be void against the lien of such attachments and executions, unless the plaintiff therein had notice of such transfer, hypothecations or mortgages prior to the levy of such attachment or execution.

See citations to section 1263 (1671).

1268 (1674). Lien of corporation on shares of stockholder.—All private corporations have a lien on the shares of its stockholders, for any debt or liability incurred to it by a stockholder before notice of a transfer, or of a levy on such shares; and if necessary for the payment of such debt, or the satisfaction of such liability, the corporation may sell the shares after notice for thirty days, sent through the mail, postage paid, to the stockholder, or if he be dead, to his personal representative, at the post-office nearest his last known place of residence, or after personal demand of payment or satisfaction from either, if such demand be not complied with in thirty days; such sale to be made at public auction to the highest bidder, after ten days' notice of the time and place, by publication in some newspaper published at the principal place of business of the corporation, or nearest thereto.

Lien only exists by statute.—Mobile Mut. Ins. Co. v. Cullom, 49 Ala. 558; Birmingham T. & S. Co. v. Land Co., 101 Ala. 304. Statute relates to the remedy merely and applies to corporations organized and debts contracted before its enactment.—Tutwiler v. Tuscaloosa C. I. & L. Co., 89 Ala. 391; Birmingham T. & S. Co. v. Land Co., 101 Ala. 304. Lien covers any and all debts, not debts due for stock alone.—Cunningham v. Ala. L. I. & T. Co., 4 Ala. 652; Mobile Mut. Ins. Co. v. Cullom, 49 Ala. 558; Birmingham T. & S. Co. v. Land Co., 101 Ala. 304. Extends to debts owing by the holder of the equitable as well as the legal title.—P. & M. Ins. Co. v. Selma Bank, 63 Ala. 585. Lien cannot be asserted to protect debt incurred after actual notice of transfer of stock.—Birmingham T. & S. Co. v. Bank, 99 Ala. 379. Prima facie no action is necessary to enforce the lien.—Elliott v. Sibley, 101 Ala. 344. Lien will not be enforced when an illegal and void contract will thereby be established.—Lanier Lumber Co. v. Rees, 103 Ala. 622.

Feb. 28, 1889, p. 86, §§1, 2.

1269. Preferred stock.—Any corporation organized under the general incorporation laws of this state may issue preferred stock by the vote of persons holding two-thirds in value of its stock, at a meeting of the stockholders called for that purpose, of which meeting, and the purpose for which it is called, thirty days' notice must be given each stockholder personally, whose residence is known, and by publication for four consecutive weeks in some newspaper published in the town or city in which the corporation is located, or if not located in a town or city then in some newspaper published in the county in which the corporation is located; and if, at such meeting, the persons holding two-thirds in value of the stock vote for the issue, the proceedings of the meeting must be reduced to writing, signed by the president or chief executive officer of the corporation, and filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which the corporation is located. Each stockholder shall be first entitled to the privilege of taking such preferred stock in proportion to the amount of common stock held by him, or a less amount, if he should desire it, before such preferred stock is offered for sale to the public.

Dec. 10, 1890, p. 202. §§1, 2, 3, 4. As amended Jan. 28, 1893, p. 224. As amended Feb. 6, 1895, p. 403.

1270. Increase of capital and bonded debt of corporations organized under special charter.—The capital stock and bonded indebtedness of any private corporation organized in this state under special charter, may be increased by the consent of the persons holding the larger amount in value of the stock of such corporation obtained in favor thereof, at a meeting of the stockholders of such corporation convened for the purpose of voting upon the proposition to increase such capital stock or bonded indebtedness, to be held after thirty days' notice thereof shall have been given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation, published in the county where such corporation has its principal office, and if no such newspaper be published in that county then in a newspaper having general circulation published in the county nearest the principal office of such corporation, a copy of which shall be mailed to each stockholder, which notice shall explicitly state what increase is proposed to be made to the capital stock or bonded indebtedness of such corporation. If at the meeting called in pursuance of this notice, the consent of the persons holding the larger amount in value of the stock of such corporation shall be obtained to a specified increase of either the capital stock or bonded indebtedness of such corporation, a report thereof specifying the amount of increase consented to, shall be made to the secretary of state, who shall make and keep a record thereof, and it shall be lawful for such corporation to increase its capital stock or bonded indebtedness in conformity with such consent of the stockholders. Such increase may be to a less, but not to a greater amount than stated in the published notice of the meeting; but neither stock nor bonds shall be issued by any private corporation except for money, labor done, or money or property actually received, and all fictitious increase of stock or indebtedness shall be void.

1271. Franchise tax.—A franchise tax of twenty-five dollars shall be paid on every fifty thousand dollars increase of capital stock until the capital stock amounts to one million dollars. The franchise tax for all increase of capital over one million dollars and under five million dollars, shall be five hundred dollars, and for all increase over five million dollars, one thousand dollars, to be paid into the state treasury. Ib. §4.

1273 (1676). Forfeiture by non-user.—The non-user of corporate franchises for a period of five consecutive years is a forfeiture of such franchise; and, if not otherwise provided, the failure to organize a private corporation for a period of two years after filing the declaration for incorporation is a forfeiture of all right to organize under such declaration.

1274 (1677). Books of corporation open to inspection.—The stockholders of all private corporations have the right of access to, of inspection and examination of, the books, records and papers of the corporation, at reasonable and proper times.

Right may be exercised through an agent or attorney in fact.—Foster v. White, 86 Ala. 467. Stockholder need not show a definite, legitimate purpose, nor negative an unlawful, improper purpose.—Foster v. White, 86 Ala. 467. National banks are subject to the influence of the statute.—Winter v. Baldwin, 89 Ala. 483.

1275 (1678) (2024). Majority of board exercise corporate powers.—When the corporate powers are directed to be exercised by any particular body, or number of persons, a majority of such body or persons, unless it is otherwise provided, form a board for the exercise of such powers.

No number less than a majority of the board is empowered to transact corporate business.—Moses v. Tompkins, 84 Ala. 613. Remedy where majority fraudulently combine to wreck the corporation.—Birmingham M. & M. Co. v. Mut. L. & T. Co., 96 Ala. 364.

1276 (1679) (2026). Failure to elect officers does not dissolve corporation.—A failure to elect officers at the proper time does not dissolve the corporation, but those in office hold until the election or appointment and qualification of their successors.

Corporate existence is not destroyed by failure to elect.—Moses v. Tompkins, 84 Ala. 613.

1277 (1680). Change of number of directors.—All private corporations have power to increase or diminish the number of their directors, or other managers, with the consent of the persons holding the larger amount in value of the capital stock, expressed by the vote of such persons at a regular meeting of the stockholders, or at a meeting called for that special purpose, of which, and the purpose for which it is called, thirty days' notice is given each stockholder personally, whose residence is known, and by publication for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper published at the principal place of business of the corporation, or nearest thereto.

Dec. 10, 1892, p. 24, §1.

1278. Purchase of stock or bonds by officers.—Any purchase of the stock or bonds of a corporation by the president, or any director, or other managing officer of such corporation from any person, other than the corporation itself, shall be held and considered as a transaction between persons in fiduciary relations, and subject to all the rules of law governing the purchase by a trustee from the beneficiary of the trust.

Ib. §§2, 3, 4.

1279. Actions by officers calculated to depreciate the value of securities; misdemeanor; remedy; pleading.—The president of any corporation, or any director or managing officer thereof, by whatsoever title he may be known or called, who shall do or omit to do any act, or who shall make any declaration or statement, in writing or otherwise, with the intent to depreciate the market value of the stock or bonds of such corporation, to the end that such president, director or other officer, or any other person, may buy any such stock or bonds at less than the real value thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. And any bondholder or stockholder of such corporation who shall, by reason of such act, omission, declaration or statement made with the intent aforesaid, be induced to sell any bonds or stock of such corporation at less than the real value thereof, may recover in an action on the case, against the president, director or managing officer of the corporation, guilty of such act or omission or of making such declaration or statement, all damages sustained by such sale. In such action the plaintiff must aver and prove the ownership of the stock or bonds of the corporation, the act, omission, declaration or statement, and the name and office in the corporation of the person or persons who made the same, and that the same was made with the intent to depreciate the market value of the stock or bonds of such corporation to the end that some person might buy the stock or bonds of such corporation at less than the real value thereof, and that by reason of such act, omission, declaration or statement, made with the intent above stated, the plaintiff was induced to sell the stock or bonds in such corporation owned by him, and the difference between the real value thereof and the price obtained by the plaintiff at such sale.

1280 (1681). Stockholders' meetings.—The stockholders of every private corporation must meet annually, at a time and place, and upon notice to be prescribed by the by-laws; and the board of directors or other managers, have the power to call special meetings; and each stockholder is entitled to one vote for each share of stock held and owned by him; the failure to hold annual meetings of the stockholders, or the failure to elect directors regularly, shall not operate a forfeiture of corporate franchises.

Corporate existence is not destroyed by failure to elect.—Moses v. Tompkins, 84 Ala. 613.

Dec. 12, 1892, p. 180.

1281. Voting by proxy.—The capital stock in any corporation organized under the laws of this state, may, at all stockholders' meetings, be voted by proxy, if the right to vote by proxy be conferred by the charter of the corporation, or claimed or reserved in its declaration, or permitted by a by-law duly adopted by the stockholders of the corporation.

Voting by proxy not unlawful; extent of power of holder of proxy.—M. & O. R. Co. v. Nicholas, 98 Ala. 92. Cannot vote by proxy unless authorized by charter or by-laws.—Perry v. Tuscaloosa C. S. O. M. Co., 93 Ala. 364. Validity of "voting trusts."—Moses v. Scott, 84 Ala. 608; M. & O. R. Co. v. Nicholas, 98 Ala. 92.

1282. Curing defects in organization.—Whenever any private corporation heretofore or hereafter created under the laws of this state, has accidentally or inadvertently failed to comply with the requisitions of the statute in its organization, it shall be lawful for the president of such corporation to supply such omission by filing with the probate judge who issued the certificate of incorporation, a statement, under oath, setting forth such omission and supplying the same, which shall be filed with the other papers of such incorporation and recorded. And such filing shall relate back to the date of such incorporation, except as to the rights of third parties, which may have intervened. Feb. 28, 1889, p. 74.

1283. Altering and amending charter.—Any corporation which has heretofore, or which may be hereafter, organized under the general incorporation laws of this state, and any corporation which has heretofore been chartered by an act of the general assembly, prior to the enactment of the general incorporation laws of this state of 1867, may alter or amend its charter by filing in the office of the judge of probate of the county wherein the original declaration of incorporation was filed, or in cases where the charter was granted by an act of the general assembly, prior to the enactment of the general incorporation laws of this state of 1867, in the office of the judge of probate of the county wherein such corporation has its principal place of business, or in the office of the secretary of state, in cases where the original declaration was filed in that office, a declaration in writing, signed by not less than three-fourths in number of the stockholders, holding not less than two-thirds in value of the stock thereof, verified by the affidavit of some one or more of the signers thereof, stating that the statements therein contained are true, and that the signers thereof signed the same in the presence of affiant, or acknowledged their signatures thereto to him, and setting forth— Dec. 12, 1888, p. 20, §§1, 2, 3. As amended Feb. 6, 1895, p. 398.

1. When such corporation was organized, its name, what change, if any, is desired to be made in such name, and the amount of its capital stock which has been subscribed for and taken.

2. The names of the stockholders signing the same and the amount of stock held by each.

3. The purposes of the corporation and the nature of its business, as the same is set forth in the original declaration, and the alterations and amendments thereof desired.

4. The amount of the capital stock as shown by the original declaration, and the amount to which it is proposed to decrease such capital stock, if a decrease is proposed.

But no such change or alteration in the charter of any corporation shall authorize it to exercise any powers, or do any acts which similar corporations are not authorized to exercise and do, under the laws existing at the time such alteration or amendment is made, nor to decrease its stock below the minimum fixed by existing laws.

Not violative of the constitution.—Perkins v. Montgomery L. Co., 102 Ala. 594. Charter of a gas company may be amended so as to permit the manufacture of electricity.—Perkins v. Montgomery L. Co., 102 Ala. 594. Change of name does not affect the rights of the parties to prior contract.—Lomb v. Pioneer S. & L. Co., 106 Ala. 591.

Ib. §4. 1284. Duties of probate judge and secretary of state.—Upon the filing of the declaration provided for by the preceding section in the office of the judge of probate or secretary of state, as the case may be, it shall be the duty of that officer to issue a certificate, certifying that such corporation under its new name and style, is duly authorized to do business with the powers and capacity conferred after such alterations and amendments, which declaration and certificate must be recorded in the office of the judge of probate or the secretary of state, in and from which the same are filed and issued.

1285 (1682). Record kept by judge of probate; fees.—It is the duty of the judge of probate to keep a well-bound book, in which must be recorded, consecutively, the declaration of incorporation, the commission issued to the commissioners, the proceedings of the meeting of the subscribers on the appointment of the commissioners, the list of subscriptions returned to, and filed in his office, and the affidavit thereto, and the certificate of incorporation and organization; and for the record thereof he is entitled to fifteen cents for each hundred words, and to a fee of one dollar for the certificate of incorporation and organization, and to a fee of one dollar and fifty cents for the filing of the declaration, and for the issue of the commission to the commissioners.

1286. Corporate name not to be that of another corporation nor name of a person or firm.—No certificate of incorporation shall issue to any corporation under the same corporate name as that already assumed by another corporation of this state unless it be the successor of such other corporation; nor when the corporate name assumed is that of a person or firm, unless there be joined thereto some word designating the business to be carried on, followed by the word "Company" or "Corporation." If any corporation shall hereafter assume as its corporate name, the name of a person or firm without the qualification above required in such case, the organization of such corporation is void and the stockholders are liable as partners.

ARTICLE 13.

CHARTER FEES REQUIRED OF DOMESTIC CORPORATIONS.

1287. Fees to be paid by corporations organized under the general law before commission issues.—Before a commission shall issue to any corporation organized under the general incorporation laws of this state, authorizing such corporation to do business, the parties to whom the same is issued shall pay to the judge of probate or other officer issuing the same, to be reported to the auditor and the money paid into the state treasury in the same manner as licenses issued by the judge of probate are required to be reported and the money paid into the treasury, the following fees for the use of the state: Where the proposed capital stock does not exceed fifty thousand dollars, a fee of twenty-five dollars; where it exceeds fifty thousand dollars but does not exceed one hundred thousand dollars, a fee of fifty dollars; where it exceeds one hundred thousand dollars but does not exceed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, a fee of seventy-five dollars; where it exceeds two hundred and fifty thousand dollars but does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars, a fee of one hundred dollars; where it exceeds five hundred thousand dollars but does not exceed one million dollars, a fee of two hundred dollars; where it exceeds one million dollars, a fee of two hundred and fifty dollars. All corporations or mutual companies which have no capital stock shall pay a fee of twenty-five dollars. Feb. 13, 1893, p. 690, §§1, 2. Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1024, §§1, 2.

1288. Upon increase of capital stock difference between fees upon original and increased amounts to be paid.—Before the report of the proceedings of the stockholders increasing the capital stock of a corporation shall be filed, such stockholders shall pay to the judge of probate or other officer filing the same, to be reported to the auditor and paid into the treasury as provided in the preceding section, the fee prescribed by the preceding section upon the amount of the capital stock as thus increased, less the amount of the fee as therein prescribed upon the amount of the capital stock before such increase.

1289. Same, when organized by special act.—Before any bill for the creation of any corporation by any special act of the general assembly of this state shall be introduced, there shall be paid into the treasury of the state by the parties seeking the same, double the fees required to be paid by corporations organized under the general incorporation laws; and before any bill for enlarging, amending, or correcting the charter of any corporation already established, or for confirming any such corporation by special act of the general assembly, shall be introduced, there shall be paid into the treasury of the state, by the parties seeking the same, a fee of fifty dollars. If such charter should not be granted, enlarged, amended, or corrected, as the case may be, the money so paid shall be refunded to the person paying the same, under such rules and regulations as the auditor may prescribe. Feb. 13, 1893, p. 690, §3. Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1024, §3.

1290. Corporations formed for charitable or religious purposes Ib. §7.

only, excepted.—The provisions of the three preceding sections do not apply to corporations organized solely for charitable, religious, social or literary purposes, nor to fraternal beneficiary organizations and orders operating upon the lodge system and providing for the payment of life, sick, accident and other benefits to the members of such societies, orders, or associations and dependents of such members, and which are not created for the purpose of making a pecuniary profit for its members and issuing no stock to its members.

ARTICLE 14.

DISSOLUTION OF BUSINESS CORPORATIONS.

1291 (1683) (2054). Petition for dissolution.—Whenever a majority of the stockholders of any private corporation, owning three-fourths of the stock, wish to dissolve the corporation, they may do so in the following manner: They shall file a petition in the chancery court of the division in which the corporation is located, or has its principal place of business, setting forth the names of all the stockholders, and their residences, the amount of stock owned by each stockholder, as nearly as practicable all the property, real and personal, of the corporation, and stating that it is the wish of the petitioners to dissolve the corporation.

Does not impair the obligation of contract entered into while statute in force.—Nelson v. Hubbard, 96 Ala. 238. Does not restrict the common-law power of a private corporation to exercise their right to dissolve by the action of a majority of the stockholders.—M. &. P. Line v. Waganer, 71 Ala. 581; Wolfe v. Underwood, 91 Ala. 523. A furnace company, with usual powers, is a private corporation within the meaning of the statute.—Wolfe v. Underwood, 91 Ala. 523. Creditors, after dissolution, can only enforce their rights in the mode prescribed.—Nelson v. Hubbard, 96 Ala. 238. Receiver may be appointed pending the proceedings, where a necessity is shown. Florence G. E. L. & P. Co. v. Hanby, 101 Ala. 15. City court of Birmingham has jurisdiction of a proceeding to dissolve a corporation of Jefferson county.—Wolfe v. Underwood, 91 Ala. 523.

1292 (1684) (2055). Notice by register.—Upon the filing of such petition, the register shall give notice by subpœna to all the stockholders not joining in the petition to appear within thirty days after service and contest the same; and if any stockholder residing out of the state does not join in the petition, he shall be made a party by advertisement in the manner non-resident defendants in chancery are made parties, and he has thirty days after the perfecting of such notice to answer and contest the petition.

1293 (1685) (2056). When dissolution decreed.—If, at a regular term of the chancery court, after the cause is at issue, it be made to appear to the chancellor that a majority of the stockholders still wish to dissolve the corporation, proof being made as in chancery cases, the chancellor shall decree the corporation dissolved.

Continued prosecution of the proceedings is sufficient evidence of the fact that dissolution is still desired.—Wolfe v. Underwood, 97 Ala. 375.

1294 (1686) (2057, 2059). Receiver appointed; his duties.—Upon decree of dissolution, the chancellor shall appoint a receiver of all the property and assets of the corporation. The chancellor shall direct the receiver to collect, by suit or otherwise, all the debts due the corporation, and sell property, real or personal, belonging to the corporation, and how he shall make title thereto to the purchaser; the chancellor may, in his discretion, authorize the receiver to proceed, without suit, to sell any or all of the debts and assets of the corporation at public sale for cash, or on such terms as in his judgment the interest of the parties may require.

Receiver may be appointed in a proper case before decree of dissolution and under the same bill.—Florence G. E. L. & P. Co. v. Hanby, 101 Ala. 15. Validity of receiver's appointment cannot be assailed in a suit by him on account of defects in the bill under which he was appointed.—Comer v. Bray, 83 Ala. 217; Florence G. E. L. & P. Co. v. Hanby, 101 Ala. 15. Receiver may file a bill to foreclose a mortgage given to the dissolved corporation, but the corporation must be a party.—Comer v. Bray, 83 Ala. 217. Extent of power to complete unfinished contracts.—Florence G. E. L. & P. Co. v. Hanby, 101 Ala. 15.

1295 (1687) (2058). How selected; bond.—The person nominated by the majority of the stockholders must be appointed receiver, if they can agree; but if they fail to agree for ten days after the decree of dissolution, the chancellor, in term time or vacation, or the register in his absence, must appoint such receiver, requiring proper bond and sureties for the performance of his duties.

1296 (1688) (2060, 2061). Receiver pays debts; contested claims. In the performance of his duties under the decree, the receiver shall pay the debts of the corporation in full or ratably, as the funds realized may permit. If any claim is contested, it must be filed by the claimant in the court, and the genuineness thereof ascertained as in other contested claims in chancery. The residue, after the debts and costs are paid, shall be divided among the stockholders according to the amount of stock owned by each.

1297 (1689) (2062). Appeal.—Any party dissatisfied with the decree of dissolution may appeal, giving bond and sureties, as prescribed by the chancellor, and approved by the chancellor or register.

Does not authorize suits to be maintained against corporations dissolved under the provisions of this article.—Nelson v. Hubbard, 96 Ala. 238.

1299 (1691) (2028) (1776) (1490). Administration of affairs on dissolution.—Upon the dissolution of any corporation, unless other persons are appointed by the general assembly, or by a court of competent authority, the managers of the business of the corporation at the time of its dissolution, by whatever name known, are the trustees of the stockholders and creditors, authorized to settle the affairs of the corporation, dispose of such property as is necessary to pay its debts, and divide among the stockholders the money and property remaining after payment of such debts and the necessary expenses.

A practical, not a judicially ascertained, dissolution is meant.—McDonnell v. Ala. G. L. Ins. Co., 85 Ala. 401. Policy-holder is a creditor of a dissolved life-insurance company.—McDonnell v. Ala. G. L. Ins. Co., 85 Ala. 401.

1300 (1692) (2029) (1777) (1491). Authority of officers.—Such persons have authority to sue for and recover the debts and property of the dissolved corporation, in its corporate name, and are jointly and severally responsible to its creditors to the extent of the property which may come into their hands.

1301 (1693) (2030) (1778) (1492). Time for settling extended. On proper application to the chancellor, the power of such trustee, or person appointed receiver of such dissolved corporation, may be continued for such length of time beyond such five years as the chancellor may judge necessary for the purposes contemplated in the three preceding sections.

ARTICLE 15.

CORPORATIONS NOT OF A BUSINESS CHARACTER.

1302 (1694) (1991, 1994, 2000, 2001) (1521, 1524, 1529, 1530) (1257, 1258, 1259, 1260). Religious, educational, benevolent and burial societies.—The members of any church or religious society, of an educational society, benevolent society, or the owners of a graveyard, desiring to become incorporated, shall elect not less than three, nor more than nine trustees.

Unincorporated charitable trusts; jurisdiction of equity.—Burke v. Roper, 79 Ala. 138; s. c., 83 Ala. 193; Johnson v. Holifield, 79 Ala. 423.

1303 (1695) (1992) (1522) (1258). Incorporation complete on trustees filing certificate.—Such trustees shall, within thirty days after their election, file in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which the corporation is to exercise its functions, a certificate stating the corporate name selected, the names of the trustees, and the length of time for which they were elected; which certificate shall be subscribed by them, and recorded. The members of such society, their associates and successors are, from the filing of such certificate, incorporated by the name therein specified.

1304 (1696) (1996) (1526) (1262). Powers.—Corporations created under this article may hold real and personal property, not exceeding in value fifty thousand dollars, may receive property by gift, will, or devise, holding the same in conformity with all lawful conditions imposed by the donor, and exercise such other powers as are incident to private corporations.

1305 (1697) (1999) (1527) (1263). How suits against commenced. In all suits or legal proceedings, the service of process and papers on a trustee of such corporation is valid for the purpose of bringing such corporation into court, or for the objects of the notice.

1306 (1698) (1997). How church mortgage executed.—The trustees, or other authorized agents of any society or church, organized by special charter, or under the general laws of this state, may, by mortgage or deed of trust, convey all, or any part of the property thereof, real or personal, to secure the payment of any debt contracted by the trustees or other authorized agents; but this section shall first have been accepted as an amendment to the organic law of such society or church, if not already a part of it, by a majority of the adult members of such society or church, assembled after ten days' notice of the time, place and object of such meeting, posted at the usual place of assembly, and published by announcement at a regular meeting for at least one week prior to such action; no such mortgage or deed of trust shall be executed without the consent of a majority of such trustees and of a majority of the adult members of such organization, voting thereon at a meeting assembled after ten days' notice as above.

1307 (1699) (1998). Recital in minutes evidence.—A recital upon the minutes of the proceedings of such society or church, that such notice was given, and of the vote upon the question before the meeting, shall be evidence of the regularity of such meeting, and of the proceedings therein.

1308 (1700) (2003) (1532). Special privileges of burial societies. Burial societies so incorporated may exercise all powers necessary for properly governing, beautifying, improving and taking care of such graveyard, and may make such by-laws, rules and regulations as are proper and necessary to secure such objects.

1309 (1701) (2004) (1533). Chairman of board.—When such graveyard is wholly under the control of persons belonging to one denomination of faith, the elder, deacon, minister, bishop, or priest, who is the head of such denomination in the city, town, village, or county, shall be ex officio the chairman of such board of trustees; and when such graveyard is under the control of persons of different denominations, such heads of the denominations interested shall be members of such board.

1310 (1702) (2005). Social and literary societies.—Whenever ten or more persons desire to form a society for the social and literary advancement of its members, they may become incorporated and entitled to all the privileges of private corporations in the following manner:

1. Such persons shall first adopt a constitution and elect officers, and such officers shall file in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which such society is located, a declaration in writing, stating the name, object and purposes of the society, the adoption of the constitution, the names and style of its officers, the number of its members, which shall in no case exceed three hundred, and whether such society issues shares of stock, or is formed for pecuniary purposes, and if so, then the amount of stock, the number of shares into which it is divided, and by whom held. As amended Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1039, §1.

2. The declaration shall be signed by the officers, acknowledged or proved as in the case of deeds, and recorded in the office of such judge of probate.

1311 (1703) (2006). Exemption from taxation.—The property of corporations formed bona fide under this article, for other than pecuniary purposes, shall be, to an amount not exceeding two thousand dollars, exempt from all state, county, and municipal taxation and licenses; but if used for any other purpose than legitimately pertains to the object of such society, it shall not be so exempt.

1312 (1704) (2007). Forfeiture of charter for gaming.—If any society, incorporated under this article, permits any games to be played for wager, it thereby forfeits its charter, and ceases to be a body corporate.

Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1039, §§1, 2.

1313. May increase membership.—Any society which has heretofore, or which may hereafter be organized under the laws of this state, for the social and literary advancement of its members, may enlarge its membership to a number not exceeding three hundred, by filing in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which such society was incorporated, a written declaration, signed by a majority of the existing members of such society, to the effect that such extension is declared and made, and fixing the limit thereof.

Dec. 12, 1888, p. 20, §2. As amended Feb. 6, 1895, p. 398.

1314. May alter and amend charter.—Any corporation, not of a business character, may alter or amend its charter whenever not less than three-fourths in number of the members thereof shall file in the office of the judge of probate of the county wherein the original declaration of incorporation was filed, or in cases where the charter was granted by an act of the general assembly, prior to the enactment of the general incorporation laws of this state of 1867, in the office of the secretary of state, a declaration in writing signed by them, setting forth—

1. When such corporation was organized, its name, what changes, if any, it is desired to make in such name.

2. The purposes of such corporation, as the same are set forth in the original declaration of incorporation, and the alterations and amendments thereof, if any such are desired.

But no such change or alteration in the character of any corporation shall authorize it to exercise any powers or do any acts which similar corporations are not authorized to exercise and do, under the laws existing at the time such alteration or amendment is made, nor to decrease its stock below the minimum fixed by existing laws.

Ib. §§3, 4.

1315. Declaration to be verified; duties of probate judge or secretary of state.—Such declaration shall be verified by the affidavit of some one or more of the signers, stating that the statements contained therein are true, and that the signers thereof signed the same in the presence of affiant, or acknowledged their signatures thereto to him; and upon the filing of such declaration in the office of the judge of probate or secretary of state, as the case may be, it shall be the duty of such officer to issue a certificate, certifying that such corporation under its new name and style, is duly authorized to do business with the powers and capacity conferred after such alterations and amendments. Such declaration and certificate must be recorded in the office of the judge of probate or the secretary of state, in and from which the same are filed and issued.

ARTICLE 16.

CONDITIONS UPON WHICH FOREIGN CORPORATIONS ARE PERMITTED TO DO BUSINESS IN THE STATE.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 102, §§1, 2.

1316. Foreign corporation must file instrument of writing designating agent and place of business in this state.—Every corporation not organized under the laws of this state shall, before engaging in or transacting any business in this state, file an instrument of writing, under the seal of the corporation and signed officially by the president and secretary thereof, designating at least one known place of business in this state and an authorized agent or agents residing thereat; and when any such corporation shall abandon or change its place of business as designated in such instrument, or shall substitute another agent or agents for the agent or agents designated in such instrument of writing, such corporation shall file a new instrument of writing as herein provided, before transacting any further business in this state.

A legitimate exercise of police power and not in conflict with any act of congress or violative of Federal Constitution.—Am. U. Tel. Co. v. W. U. Tel. Co., 67 Ala. 26; Dudley v. Collier, 87 Ala. 431. Not intended to interfere with interstate commerce, and not applicable to corporations engaged therein as to such business.—Ware v. Hamilton Brown Shoe Co., 92 Ala. 145. Foreign corporations are not citizens within meaning of Federal Constitution, and are dependent on state laws for privilege of doing business therein; yet their contracts with citizens are subject to interstate commerce regulations. Mitchell, 100 Ala. 519. A contract to purchase shoes made between a citizen of Alabama and a Missouri corporation is interstate commerce and the statute does not apply.—Ware v. H. B. Shoe Co., 92 Ala. 145; Nelms v. Mortgage Co., 92 Ala. 157. So, the sale of bricks in another state to be delivered in Alabama.—Cook v. Rome Brick Co., 98 Ala. 409. So, the sale in Alabama of books in Georgia, followed by delivery in Alabama.—Culberson v. A. T. & B. Co., 107 Ala. 457. Loaning money is engaging in business within the meaning of this statute although there is but a single act.—Nelms v. Mortgage Co., 92 Ala. 157; Mullens v. Mortgage Co., 88 Ala. 280; Farrior v. Mortgage Co., 88 Ala. 275; Ginn v. Mortgage Co., 92 Ala. 135; Dundee Mortgage Co. v. Nixon, 95 Ala. 318; State v. Bristol Bank, 108 Ala. 3. The institution and prosecution of suits is not doing business.—Cook v. Rome Brick Co., 98 Ala. 409; Christian v. Mortgage Co., 89 Ala. 198; McCall v. Mortgage Co., 99 Ala. 427. Nor is the soliciting and receiving subscriptions for a newspaper published in another state.—Beard v. U. & A. Pub. Co., 71 Ala. 60. Contract made by a corporation which has not complied is void and, if executory, will not be enforced.—Sherwood v. Alvis, 83 Ala. 115; Craddock v. Mortgage Co., 88 Ala. 281; Dudley v. Collier, 87 Ala. 431; Farrior v. Mortgage Co., 88 Ala. 275; Collier v. Davis, 94 Ala. 456; Gamble v. Caldwell, 98 Ala. 577. Sufficiency of appointment of agent and designation of place of business.—Mortgage Co. v. Ingram, 91 Ala. 337; Nelms v. Mortgage Co., 92 Ala. 157; Mortgage Co. v. Sewell, 92 Ala. 163; McCall v. Mortgage Co., 99 Ala. 427; McLeod v. Mortgage Co., 100 Ala. 496. Agent need not be invested with any contractual powers.—McCall v. Mortgage Co., 99 Ala. 427. Foreign corporation may be sued in any county where it is doing business; if not doing business, in the county in which is its designated known place of business.—Sullivan v. Sullivan T. Co., 103 Ala. 371. (See citations to Constitution, Art. XIV., §4.)

Ib. §1.

1317. Where filed.—Such instrument, when filed by a corporation engaged in any business of insurance, must be filed in the office of the state auditor, and when filed by a corporation engaged in any other business than that of insurance, must be filed in the office of the secretary of state.

Ib. §4. 1318. Unlawful for foreign corporation to transact business in this state before declaration filed; penalty.—It is unlawful for any foreign corporation to engage in or transact any business in this state before filing the written instrument provided for in the two preceding sections; and any such corporation that engages in or transacts any business in this state without complying with the provisions of the two preceding sections shall, for each offense, forfeit and pay to the state the sum of one thousand dollars.

Ib. §3. 1319. Unlawful to act as agent of foreign corporation before such declaration is filed; penalty.—It is unlawful for any person to act as agent or transact any business, directly or indirectly, in this state, for or on behalf of any foreign corporation which has not designated a known place of business in this state and an authorized agent or agents residing thereat, as required in this article; and any person so doing shall, for each offense, forfeit and pay to the state the sum of five hundred dollars.

Ib. §5. 1320. Solicitor must enforce penalties; commissions.—Every penalty provided for in this article shall be sued for and recovered in the name of the State of Alabama, by the solicitor of the circuit or county in which the offense is committed; and when collected, must be paid by the solicitor into the state treasury for the use of the state, less twenty-five per cent. to be retained by such solicitor for his services. The attorney-general shall represent the state in such actions carried to the supreme court, and for his services therein is entitled to one-half the commissions herein allowed to the solicitor.

Feb. 13, 1893, p. 690. As amended Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1024, §§1, 2, 4. 1321. Admission fees exacted of foreign corporations.—No corporation created by the laws of any other state or of any foreign country shall engage in or transact any business in this state without first having paid into the treasury, for the use of the state, the following fees: Where the capital stock of such corporation does not exceed fifty thousand dollars, a fee of twenty-five dollars; where it exceeds fifty thousand dollars, but does not exceed one hundred thousand dollars, a fee of fifty dollars; where it exceeds one hundred thousand dollars, but does not exceed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, a fee of seventy-five dollars; where it exceeds two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, but does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars, a fee of one hundred dollars; where it exceeds five hundred thousand dollars, but does not exceed one million dollars, a fee of two hundred dollars; where it exceeds one million dollars, a fee of two hundred and fifty dollars. All corporations or mutual companies which have no capital stock shall pay a fee of twenty-five dollars.

1322. Statement to be filed.—Such foreign corporation shall, at the time of paying such fee into the treasury, file in the office of the state auditor, an instrument of writing under the seal of the corporation and signed officially by the president and secretary thereof, showing the name of the corporation and of the state or country under whose laws it was incorporated, its principal place of business and the amount of its capital stock.

1323. Fee to be paid but once; failure to pay vitiates contracts. Feb. 13, 1893, p. 690. As amended, Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1024, §§5, 6. The fee required by the second preceding section shall be paid once, only; but such payment does not relieve any foreign corporation from the duty of complying with the requirements of existing laws. All contracts made in this state by any foreign corporation which has not first complied with the provisions of the two preceding sections, shall, at the option of the other party to the contract, be wholly void.

1324. Exceptions.—The provisions of this article do not apply to corporations organized under the laws of the United States; nor to corporations engaging in or transacting business of interstate commerce only within the state.

ARTICLE 1.

TAXATION AND RETAXATION OF COSTS.

1325 (2837) (3128) (2779) (2375). Costs given to successful party.—The successful party in all civil actions is entitled to full costs, for which judgment must be rendered, unless in cases otherwise directed by law; and this provision is applicable in all cases in which the state is a party plaintiff in civil actions, as in cases of individual suitors.

Distinction and difference between costs and fees.—Tillman v. Wood, 58 Ala. 578; Bradley v. State, 69 Ala. 318. Generally, the prevailing party recovers full costs.—McWhorter v. Marrs, 1 S. 63; Townson v. Moore, 9 P. 136; Shearer v. Boyd, 10 Ala. 279; Westmoreland v. Hale, 11 Ala. 122; Massey v. Steele, 11 Ala. 340; McPhail v. Mosely, 14 Ala. 740; Hanson v. Jacks, 22 Ala. 549; Dover v. State, 45 Ala. 244; Beach v. Dennis, 47 Ala. 262; Folmar v. Folmar, 71 Ala. 136; Askew v. Renfroe, 81 Ala. 360; State v. Parker, 83 Ala. 269; Buxbaum v. McCorley, 99 Ala. 537. Judgment may be rendered for costs, though the court has no jurisdiction of the subject-matter.—Westmoreland v. Hale, 11 Ala. 122; Hilliard v. Brown, 103 Ala. 318. Judgment must be in favor of a party to the suit.—Patterson v. Officers, 11 Ala. 740. Except when suit abates by death (sec. 1332); then in favor of officers.—Garrison v. Burden, 40 Ala. 513; Prestridge v. Officers, 42 Ala. 405. A party to the record for whose use suit is brought, is liable.—Coalter v. Bell, 2 S. & P. 358; Bates v. Terrell, 7 Ala. 129. Nominal plaintiff may demand indemnity.—Brazier v. Tarver, 4 Ala. 569. In case of tender before suit brought.—Hanson v. Todd, 95 Ala. 328; Gardner v. Black, 98 Ala. 638; Schuessler v. Simon, 100 Ala. 422. After suit.—Raiford v. Governor, 29 Ala. 382; Gardner v. Black, 98 Ala. 638. Judgment by default in real action; possession must be proved, else plaintiff taxed with costs.—Sims v. Thompson, 30 Ala. 158; Ivey v. Perry, 97 Ala. 583. Successful plaintiff entitled to costs though plea partly sustained.—Buxbaum v. McCorley, 99 Ala. 537. Costs are not adjudged against the state.—Collier v. Powell, 23 Ala. 579; Pollard v. Brewer, 59 Ala. 130; Burke v. Blan, 79 Ala. 97; Skinner v. Dawson, 87 Ala. 348; Dawson v. Matthews, 105 Ala. 435. Nor against a state officer without personal interest.—Riggs v. Pfister, 21 Ala. 469; Reynolds v. Blue, 47 Ala. 711. Nor against the judge of a court.—State v. McDuffie, 52 Ala. 4. Nor against a guardian ad litem. Perryman v. Burgster, 6 P. 99. Nor against a municipal corporation in a prosecution for violating ordinance.—Montgomery v. Foster, 54 Ala. 62; Camden v. Block, 65 Ala. 236; Selma v. Stewart, 67 Ala. 338. Defendant obtaining judgment on plea since last continuance entitled to costs accruing after plea filed.—Dolberry v. Trice, 49 Ala. 207; Draper v. Walker, 98 Ala. 310; Sanche v. Webb, 110 Ala. 214. Costs as against personal representatives. Chandler v. Shehan, 7 Ala. 251; Mitchell v. Mitchell, 8 Ala. 414; Stewart v. Hood, 10 Ala. 600; Hutchinson v. Gamble, 12 Ala. 36; Jones v. Deyer, 16 Ala. 221; Bradley v. Andress, 30 Ala. 80; Wallace v. Nelson, 28 Ala. 282; Hanson v. Jacks, 22 Ala. 549; Hughes v. Mitchell, 19 Ala. 268; Cunningham v. Pool, 9 Ala. 615; Savage v. Dickson, 16 Ala. 257; Smith v. Gafford, 33 Ala. 168; McDonald v. Cox, 104 Ala. 379. County failing in suit is taxed with costs as other litigants.—Commissioners v. Goldthwaite, 35 Ala. 704; Dover v. State, 45 Ala. 244; State v. Parker, 83 Ala. 269. Costs as terms imposed by the court.—Reese v. Billing, 9 Ala. 363; DeWitt v. Bigelow, 11 Ala. 480; Plank Road v. Persee, 25 Ala. 526; Waller v. Sulzbacher, 38 Ala. 318; Torrey v. Bishop, 104 Ala. 548; Torrey v. Slaughter, 104 Ala. 552; Alexander v. Moore, 111 Ala. 410. Costs due officers and witnesses are debts.—Dane v. Loomis, 51 Ala. 487; Clingman v. Kemp, 57 Ala. 195. For which an action may be maintained against party at whose instance the service was rendered.—S. & N. R. Co. v. Bradley, 84 Ala. 468. But officers and witnesses cannot maintain joint action against sureties on cost bond.—Hilliard v. Brown, 103 Ala. 318. Judgment for costs cannot be changed after term expired, unless motion made and continued; but errors of clerk in taxing costs may be corrected at any time.—Bailey v. Hodges, 3 P. 335; Spann v. Cole, 13 Ala. 473; Pryor v. Beck, 21 Ala. 393; Tecumseh I. Co. v. Mangum, 67 Ala. 246; State v. Parker, 83 Ala. 269; Tippins v. Peters, 103 Ala. 196.

Unless the judge certifies, etc.—Reid v. Gordon, 2 S. 469; Galee v. Lynch, 21 Ala. 579; Tecumseh I. Co. v. Mangum, 67 Ala. 246; Tippins v. Peters, 103 Ala. 196; McDaniel v. Jordan, 110 Ala. 526. This section does not apply to action commenced in justice's court and removed—a different rule being provided.—Baker v. Keith, 77 Ala. 544. Nor to suit on attachment bond.—McAllister v. McDonald, 26 Ala. 453. Applies to trespass by sheriff.—Smith v. Johnson, 95 Ala. 482. Judgment taxing costs cannot be changed after term expired; errors of clerk in charging costs may be corrected at any time. Bailey v. Hodges, 3 P. 335; Spann v. Cole, 13 Ala. 473; Pryor v. Beck, 21 Ala. 393; Tecumseh I. Co. v. Mangum, 67 Ala. 246; State v. Parker, 83 Ala. 269; Tippins v. Peters, 103 Ala. 196.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 130.

1327. Trespass by stock; tender of damages before suit brought; when plaintiff taxed with costs.—In actions to recover damages for trespass by cattle or other stock, the defendant may plead and prove a tender of payment for such damages before suit brought; and if the damages assessed on the trial do not exceed the amount so tendered, the plaintiff must be taxed with all costs, unless the presiding judge certifies that greater damages should have been awarded.

1328 (2839) (3130) (2781) (2377). Defendant proving usury recovers costs.—If it be made to appear that usurious interest has been intentionally taken or reserved, the defendant recovers full costs.

Black v. Hightower, 30 Ala. 317; Neel v. Clay, 48 Ala. 252.

1329 (2840) (3131) (2782) (2378). Costs of set-off, if sustained, recovered by defendant.—In all actions, when a set-off is pleaded and controverted, the defendant recovers his costs sustained in establishing the set-off, though judgment be rendered for the plaintiff for a residue.

Fuller v. Hunter, 34 Ala. 56.

1330 (2845) (3136) (2787) (2383). Costs against beneficial plaintiff.—When judgment is rendered against the plaintiff, in any suit brought in the name of a nominal plaintiff for the use of another, judgment for costs must be rendered against the beneficiary, or his personal representative.

Coalter v. Bell, 2 Stew. & Port. 358; Bates v. Terrell, 7 Ala. 129; Griffin v. Smith, 14 Ala. 571; Scott v. John, 15 Ala. 566; Dover v. State, 45 Ala. 244; State v. Parker, 83 Ala. 269.

1331. (2852) (3143) (2796) (2391). Defendant, as to whom plaintiff fails, recovers costs.—When a plaintiff fails to recover against all of the defendants, the defendants against whom he fails to recover are entitled to have their aliquot proportion of the whole costs taxed against the plaintiff.

Morris v. Robinson, 80 Ala. 291; Neff v. Edwards, 81 Ala. 246; Handley v. Lawley, 90 Ala. 527.

1332 (2851) (3142) (2794) (2389). On abatement by death of defendant, plaintiff pays costs.—When a plaintiff brings a suit which he suffers to abate by the death of the defendant, or other cause, judgment for costs shall be rendered against such plaintiff; or where the suit abates by the death of the plaintiff, and his representative fails to revive the same, judgment for costs may be rendered against such representative; judgments in both cases must be in the name of the officers of the court, and when against representatives, are paid as other claims against such estate.

Garrison v. Burden, 40 Ala. 513; Prestridge v. Officers, 42 Ala. 405.

1333 (2846) (3137) (2788) (2384). Costs of transcript of other court taxed.—When the suit is founded on the record of another court, the costs of the transcript, on proof to the court, must be taxed in the bill of costs.

1334 (2847) (3138) (2789) (2385). Fees for certificates taxed in the bill.—When either party introduces on the trial any execution, bond, or other matter of evidence, certified by any officer or person whose certificate makes the copy thereof evidence, the fees allowed by law to such officer or person, for the transcript thereof and certificate, must be allowed as costs.

1335 (2848) (3139) (2790) (2386). Costs on a plea "since last continuance."—When the party filing a plea "since last continuance" succeeds thereon, but fails on the plea to the merits, previously filed, he must be taxed with the costs which accrued previous to the filing of the last plea.

Dolberry v. Trice, 49 Ala. 207; Draper v. Walker, 98 Ala. 310; Sanche v. Webb, 110 Ala. 214.

1336 (2841) (3132) (2783) (2379). Fees of witnesses for mileage and attendance.—Witnesses are allowed one dollar and fifty cents per day in civil cases; also five cents per mile for each mile to and from their residence by the usual traveled route, and all necessary ferriage, tolls of turnpikes and toll-bridges, whether attending under subpœna, or at the request of the party.

Coker v. Patty, 51 Ala. 511. Ala. Mid. Ry. Co. v. Rushing, 103 Ala. 542.

1337 (2842) (3133) (2784) (2380). Certificates to witnesses. After the trial, continuance of the cause, or discharge of the witness, the clerk must, on his application, and upon his oath, give him a certificate, setting forth the cause in which he was a witness, the party by whom he was summoned, or on whose request he attended, the number of days he attended as a witness, and the sum to which he is entitled for his attendance, travel, ferriage and tolls, which he must also enter, either upon the subpœna-docket, or book to be kept for that purpose.

Hill v. White, 1 Ala. 576; Carville v. Reynolds, 9 Ala. 969; Marsh v. Branch Bank, 10 Ala. 57; Burns v. Howard, 68 Ala. 352. Ala. Mid. Ry. Co. v. Rushing, 103 Ala. 542.

1338 (2843) (3134) (2785) (2381). Attendance; when proven. The witness must prove his attendance within five days after the adjournment of the court at which he attended.

Hill v. White, 1 Ala. 576.

1339 (2844) (3135) (2786) (2382). Only to charge one party. A witness shall charge for his attendance but on one side of the same cause.

Findley v. Wyser, 1 Stew. 23; Renfro v. Kelly, 10 Ala. 338.

1340 (2849) (3140) (2792) (2387). Witness fees taxed, collected and paid to clerk.—Upon the final disposition of any civil cause, the amount proved by the witnesses, as hereinbefore provided, must be taxed in the bill of costs against the rightful party, setting forth the name of each witness, and the amount allowed him, which must be collected by the sheriff for the use of such witnesses, and be paid to the clerk issuing the execution, unless the certificate of such clerk, with the receipt of the witness thereon, is produced to the sheriff.

1341 (2850) (3141) (2793) (2388). When refused payment, witness excused from further attendance.—The certificate issued to the witness entitles him to demand of the party summoning him, or at whose request he attended, the amount therein stated, and is presumptive evidence that such amount is due, in any proceeding instituted for its recovery; and if in any civil cause, on demand therefor of the party, his agent, or attorney, the same is not paid, the witness is not obliged to appear again as a witness in the same cause until his fees are paid.

1342 (2853) (3144) (2797) (2392). Only two witnesses charged to prove one fact; exception.—Not more than two witnesses shall be taxed in any bill of costs, who were called to prove any one matter of fact, or, having been subpœnaed, were not examined, unless the court, upon a motion to retax the costs, should, in its discretion, consider that the circumstances of the case warranted the examining or summoning of more than two witnesses for the proof of a particular fact; or unless such witnesses were summoned or examined to assail or defend the reputation of a witness for veracity, or to assail or to establish the character of a party, when character is put in issue.

Porter v. Williams, 22 Ala. 527; Coker v. Patty, 51 Ala. 511; Murphy v. State, 71 Ala. 15; Forcheimer v. Kaver, 79 Ala. 285; T. & C. R. Co. v. E. Ala. Ry. Co., 81 Ala. 94.

1343 (2854) (3145) (2798) (2393). Motion for instructions to clerk in such case.—If more than two witnesses are examined in proof of any particular fact, a motion must be made, at the term at which the cause is tried, for instructions to the clerk as to the taxation of costs, and cannot be made afterwards.

1344 (2855) (3146) (2799) (2394). Motion to retax costs.—If the taxation of costs be excessive, by charging the costs of witnesses who were not examined, or by charging costs to an improper party, or taxing costs contrary to law, the party aggrieved may move the court for a retaxation, setting forth the particulars in which the clerk has erred.

Briley v. Hodges, 3 Port. 335; Spann v. Cole, 13 Ala. 473; Pryor v. Beck, 21 Ala. 393; Tecumseh Co. v. Mangham, 67 Ala. 246; Forcheimer v. Kaver, 79 Ala. 285; T. & C. R. Co. v. E. Ala. Ry. Co., 81 Ala. 94; State v. Parker, 83 Ala. 269; McDonald v. Cox, 104 Al. 379; Torrey v. Bishop, 104 Ala. 548. (See also citations to sections 1325 and 1326.)

1345 (2856) (3147) (2800) (2395). When sheriff ordered not to collect items of costs.—If execution has issued in any such case, the party complaining thereof, or his attorney, may file a written application with the clerk for a retaxation of the costs, setting forth in what the alleged error consists, and the clerk must issue an order to the sheriff, directing him to abstain from the collection of the disputed items of cost until the further order of the court, to which a motion must be made, at the ensuing term, for a retaxation thereof.

1346 (2857) (3148) (2801). Payment of costs against township. If any township shall fail to recover in any suit brought by it, the clerk of the court or justice of the peace shall certify an itemized statement of the costs to the superintendent of education, who may pay the same out of the funds of such township, if any it have; and to this end the superintendent of education may request the auditor to draw his warrant on the treasurer, in favor of such clerk or justice, for the amount of such costs, payable out of the funds of such township; but not more than twenty dollars shall be so paid in any one case.

SECURITY FOR COSTS.

What proceedings within the statute.—Ex parte Robbins, 29 Ala. 71; Shepherd v. Spriggs, Ib. 673; Garrett v. Terry, 33 Ala. 514; McAdams v. Beard, 34 Ala. 478; Forrester v. Forrester, 35 Ala. 594. Non-residents within statute. Ex parte Cole, 28 Ala. 50; Ex parte Bush, 29 Ala. 50; Ex parte Jemison, 31 Ala. 392; Davis v. You, 43 Ala. 691. Refusal to dismiss available on appeal. Empire v. Ala. Mining Co., 29 Ala. 698. But not without exception.—Tuscaloosa Co. v. Mayor, 38 Ala. 514; Eslava v. Ames Plow Co., 47 Ala. 384. What sufficient lodgment.—Ex parte Locke, 46 Ala. 77. What not a compliance with statute.—Ex parte Morgan, 30 Ala. 51; Bullard v. Jones, 50 Ala. 382; Ulman v. Langham, 49 Ala. 265. What is.—Ex parte Camp, 35 Ala. 143. When right of objection waived.—Weeks v. Napier, 33 Ala. 568; Harper v. Columbus Factory, 35 Ala. 127; Lavange v. Burke, 50 Ala. 61; Heflin v. Rock Mills, 58 Ala. 613; Dunklin v. Richardson, 34 Ala. 117. When judgment debtor cannot move to dismiss garnishment.—Edmondson v. DeKalb County, 51 Ala. 103. Recovery on bond for costs.—Pryor v. Beck, 21 Ala. 393. Sureties' liability.—Shepherd v. Spriggs, 29 Ala. 673. If insufficient, new security should be allowed.—Peavey v. Burket, 35 Ala. 141; Stribling v. Bank, 48 Ala. 451. When motion to dismiss sufficient.—Boswell v. Morton, 20 Ala. 235. Court, in its discretion, may fix and extend time for giving security.—Ex parte Jones, 83 Ala. 587. After case docketed, pleas to merits filed and cause continued several times, motion for security comes too late.—Brown v. Bamberger, 110 Ala. 342. On appeal, motion presumed to have been waived when record shows no action thereon.—Rosenberg v. Chaflin, 95 Ala. 249. Motion and ruling thereon must be shown by bill of exceptions.—A. G. S. R. Co. v. Bailey, 112 Ala. 167.

1348 (2859). Money may be deposited.—Money may be deposited with the clerk or register as security, the amount of the deposit to be fixed by the clerk or register, subject to increase or diminution on the order of the court.

1349 (2860) (3153) (2806) (2400). When attorney liable for costs.—If a suit, commenced by or for the use of a non-resident of the state, is dismissed for the want of security for costs, on motion, judgment for the costs must be rendered against the attorney or solicitor instituting the suit, knowing of the non-residence of the plaintiff.

1350 (2861) (3150) (2803) (2397). If plaintiff removes, security required.—If suit be commenced by or for the use of a resident, who afterwards removes from the state, the defendant, by motion to the court in term time, or by notice to the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, or solicitor, in vacation, may require security for costs; and if such security be not given at or before the next term of the court, the suit must be dismissed.

1351 (2862) (3152) (2805) (2399). Judgment against surety for costs.—If judgment be rendered for the defendant, judgment must, on motion, be rendered against the surety for the costs as well as against the plaintiff.

1352 (2863). Security for costs in court of probate or before justice.—The provisions of this article apply to suits or proceedings in the court of probate, or before a justice of the peace; and the judge of probate, or the justice, must take and approve the security for costs.

ARTICLE 3.

GENERAL RULES APPLICABLE TO ALL FEES, CIVIL OR CRIMINAL.

Statutes giving costs are not to be extended beyond their letter, but must be strictly construed.—Dent v. State, 42 Ala. 514; Brown v. State, 46 Ala. 148; State v. McDuffie, 52 Ala. 4; Montgomery v. Foster, 54 Ala. 62; Tillman v. Wood, 58 Ala. 578; Pollard v. Brewer, 59 Ala. 130; Camden v. Block, 65 Ala. 236; Selma v. Stewart, 67 Ala. 338; Kahn v. Locke, 75 Ala. 332; T. & C. R. Co. v. E. Ala. Ry. Co., 81 Ala. 94; Banks v. State, 96 Ala. 41; R. & D. R. Co. v. Sibert, 97 Ala. 393; Morrow v. Rosenstihl, 106 Ala. 198; Troup v. Morgan Co., 109 Ala. 162; Lee v. Lide, 111 Ala. 126. Officer demanding fee must point to some clear and definite provision of law authorizing it.—Tillman v. Wood, 58 Ala. 578; Troup v. Morgan Co., 109 Ala. 162. Ignorance of law is no excuse for an overcharge.—Lee v. Lide, 111 Ala. 126.

1354 (3666) (5018) (3535) (3064). Fee bills posted.—Clerks of the circuit, city and criminal courts and judges of probate and registers in chancery must keep posted, in a conspicuous place in their respective offices, a complete list of all the fees allowed by law to them and to sheriffs for services connected with their respective courts, and must furnish a copy thereof on application.*

1355 (3667) (5019) (3536) (3065). Penalty for failure to post. The clerk of the circuit, city or criminal court, judge of probate, or register in chancery, who fails to comply with the provisions of the preceding section, is not authorized to collect or receive any fee for services rendered during such failure.*

1357 (3669) (5009) (3526) (3055). Sheriff's fees; when due. Sheriffs and coroners are not entitled to full commissions until after actual levy of execution on property of the defendant, and the money made or paid to the plaintiff in execution, and then only on the amount actually collected or paid.

1358 (3670) (5010) (3527) (3056). When entitled to half commissions.—When the sheriff or coroner has levied execution, and before sale it is stayed by order of the plaintiff, the officer so levying must receive only half commissions.

Barron v. Tart, 18 Ala. 668.

*As amended by joint committee.

1359 (3671) (5008, 5012) (3525, 3529) (3054, 3058). Bill of costs on request; no fee for taxing.—All officers entitled to fees or costs must, on demand, make out a bill of such fees or costs, stating each item distinctly, and except in cases where it is expressly authorized, no fee shall be charged for taxing costs or furnishing a copy of the bill.

1360 (3672) (5016) (3533) (3062). No commissions on costs. No sheriff, coroner, or constable, shall collect or receive commissions on costs taxed in any execution put in his hands. The commissions allowed by law shall be collected or received only on the principal, damages and interest of the execution.

1361 (3673) (5014) (3531) (3060). When execution against plaintiff for his own costs; penalty for failure to collect, etc. The clerk of the supreme court, clerks of the circuit or city court, judges of probate and justices of the peace, upon return of an execution "no property" against the defendant by the proper officer of the county in which the judgment was rendered, or, if the execution be from the supreme court, of the county from which the case was brought, may issue execution in their own names against the plaintiff for the costs actually created by the plaintiff, but for none other, to be collected and returned as other executions. Judgment may be rendered on motion in the circuit or city court of such county, in the name of the clerk, or judge of probate issuing the execution, against the sheriff so failing and his sureties, or either of them, upon three days' notice, for failing to return, twenty per cent. upon the amount of the execution; for failing to collect, the amount of the execution and ten per cent. damages; and for failing to pay over, the amount of the execution and five per cent. damages for each month after demand.*

Wescott v. Booth, 49 Ala. 182.

1362 (3674) (5023). No charge for keeping indexes.—The probate judges, clerks of the circuit courts and registers in chancery are prohibited from receiving any fees or allowances out of the county treasury for keeping direct and reverse indexes to books and records required by law.

1363 (3675) (5025). Account for ex-officio services itemized and sworn to; maximum of allowance.—Persons entitled to an allowance by the court of county commissioners for what are commonly called ex-officio services, shall, before the allowance is made, itemize such services, and make oath thereto, as in the case of other claims against the county. The compensation allowed shall be the fair and reasonable value of the services, in no case to exceed two hundred dollars per annum, unless otherwise provided by law.

1364 (3676) (5005, 5006) (3522, 3523) (3051, 3052). Clerks, registers and sheriffs keep fee-books.—The clerks of the circuit, city or criminal courts, registers in chancery and sheriffs must keep a fee-book, which, in the case of the clerk and register, is a book belonging to the office. Each such officer must enter therein, in the form of a regular account opened for that purpose, every fee charged by him for every distinct service rendered by him. The fee-book must have an index pointing out the folio of the respective accounts.*

Bilbro v. Drakeford, 78 Ala. 318; McDonald v. Cox, 104 Ala. 379.

1365 (3677) (5007) (3524) (3053). No fee charged unless entered in fee-book.—No clerk, register, or sheriff, shall demand or receive a fee for any service by him performed, not justified by a charge entered in his fee-book.

Bilbro v. Drakeford, 78 Ala. 318; McDonald v. Cox, 104 Ala. 379.

1366 (3678) (5021) (3538) (3067). Judge of probate keeps book showing fees received.—The judges of probate must keep constantly in their offices, free to public inspection, a book in which must be entered all fees received by virtue of their office, stating for what and from whom received.

Lee v. Lide, 111 Ala. 126.

1367 (3679) (5013) (3530) (3059). Quadruple damages for unlawful charge.—Any officer authorized by law to take fees, who knowingly receives any other or higher fees than are prescribed by law, is liable to the party aggrieved for fourfold the fees so received, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Foster v. Blount, 18 Ala. 687.

1368 (3680) (5020) (3537) (3066). Judge of probate forfeits fifty dollars for receiving unlawful fee.—Any judge of probate, who knowingly receives any other or higher fees than are allowed by law, forfeits fifty dollars, to be recovered in the name of the person aggrieved. Such sum, if recovered by a personal representative, or guardian, is assets of the estate. This penalty is no bar to an indictment for extortion.

Judge liable to penalty though the overcharge was made by his clerk in ignorance of the law.—Lee v. Lide, 111 Ala. 126.

1369. Figures, initials and abbreviations; how estimated in copying or recording.—In ascertaining the cost of copying or recording any matter which any public officer is authorized or required to copy or record, each amount or number expressed in figures shall constitute one word regardless of the number of figures therein; the year, month and day shall each constitute one word, or in all three words; and each initial letter or abbreviation shall constitute one word.

1370. Special or local laws giving greater fees than those prescribed by this Code are repealed.—All special or local laws whereby fees in excess of those prescribed by this Code are allowed to any officer, are repealed; and no officer shall receive for any service a greater fee than that prescribed by this Code for such service, any special or local statute to the contrary notwithstanding; but such special or local laws, so far as they prescribe fees not in excess of the fees prescribed by this Code, are not hereby repealed. But the

ARTICLE 5.

FEES OF JURORS AND WITNESSES.

1381 (3691) (5049, 5056) (4345, 3467) (794). Jurors in circuit, city and chancery courts.—Regular and tales jurors serving in the circuit and city courts in civil cases, and those serving in the chancery court are entitled to the same fees and allowances as provided by law for criminal cases, to be evidenced and paid in the same manner.

1382 (3692) (5055) (3284). Pay of jurors in trial of right of property before justice.—Jurors in trials of right of property before justices of the peace are each entitled to fifty cents for their services in each case tried by them, to be taxed as costs against the unsuccessful party.

1383 (3693) (5052) (2506) (2114). Pay of jurors in ad quod damnum proceedings.—The viewing jurors in cases of erection of dams and establishment of public mills, and all jurors summoned under writs of ad quod damnum are each entitled to two dollars, to be paid by the applicant before return of verdict.

1385 (3695) (5054) (3202) (2763). Pay of jurors and witnesses on inquisition of lunacy.—Jurors and witnesses summoned under the provisions of this Code to pass upon the soundness of mind of a person, with a view to the appointment of a guardian, are each entitled to receive seventy-five cents per day of attendance, to be paid, unless otherwise provided, out of the estate of the person, if adjudged of unsound mind, on the certificate of the judge of probate, or if there be no estate, out of the county treasury. If the person be adjudged of sound mind, the fees of jurors and witnesses shall be taxed as costs against the petitioner.

1386 (3696) (5064). Pay of jurors and witnesses in probate court.—Jurors and witnesses in the probate court are entitled to the same pay as in the circuit court, to be taxed as costs, except that, on the trial of contested will cases, the jurors shall, upon the certificate of the judge of probate stating the number of miles traveled and the amount of compensation to which they are entitled, be paid in the same manner as jurors in the circuit court.

1387 (3697) (5058) (837). Fees of witnesses before county commissioners.—Witnesses before the court of county commissioners, or similar court of like jurisdiction, must be compensated as in the circuit court, to be taxed as costs.

1388 (3698) (5060). Fees of witnesses in condemnation.—Witnesses summoned in ad quod damnum proceedings, to assess the damages to real estate from taking land, are entitled to the same fees and allowances as in the circuit court, to be taxed as costs.

CHAPTER 30.

COTTON. 1389–1395.

As amended Dec. 3, 1890, p. 23.

1389 (1186) (1411) (1160) (931). What unlawful in buying cotton.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, company, or corporation, in buying baled cotton, or in weighing such cotton for sale, to deduct from the actual weight thereof, as shown on a level-standing beam of the scale, or to use in weighing cotton untested weights, so as to deprive the seller of the cotton of any of its real value.

As amended Dec. 3, 1890, p. 22.

1390 (1187) (1412) (1161) (932). Penalty for making deduction, etc.—Any person, company, firm, or corporation, who violates the preceding section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction, be fined in each case, not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars. But deductions may be made by mutual consent of buyer and seller or their authorized agents or representatives on wet or damaged cotton-bales, on each bale so weighed or deducted from.

1392 (1189) (1421). Sampling before and after selling and weighing.—No more than six ounces of cotton shall be taken from any bale of cotton, under pretext of sampling the same; but after the sale of the cotton, and after the weight thereof has been ascertained and agreed upon, the buyer may take from the bale, at his own loss, six ounces more of cotton, for comparison with the sample by which he bought.

1394 (1191) (1423). Compensation for sampling.—Persons engaged in buying or selling cotton must not pay, or contract to pay, for the sampling thereof, any other than a compensation in money.

1395 (1192) (1416) (1166). Warranty on sale by planter or owner implied.—When cotton in bales is sent by a planter or other owner to a factor for sale, a warranty is implied on the part of such planter or owner to the factor, and the purchaser from such factor, respectively, that such cotton is not fraudulently packed; and when cotton is sold by sample by the owner or his factor, that the sample has been fairly drawn, and that the cotton is not fraudulently packed, and no other warranty is thereby implied; and for any breach of such implied warranty, the purchaser may recover damages, either from the owner or factor selling the same; but no action can be brought for any breach of such last-mentioned implied warranty, unless the suit is commenced within one year after such sale; but planters shall not be liable, in any way, for losses sustained by factors or commission merchants for having sold cotton by fraudulent or unfair samples, unless such loss was occasioned by plating or fraudulent packing of the cotton by such planter.

CHAPTER 31.

COUNTIES. 1396-1425.

1396 (23) (23) (26) (25). Number and names of counties.—The state is divided into sixty-six counties, called: Autauga, Baldwin, Barbour, Bibb, Blount, Bullock, Butler, Calhoun, Chambers, Cherokee, Chilton, Choctaw, Clarke, Clay, Cleburne, Coffee, Colbert, Conecuh, Coosa, Covington, Crenshaw, Cullman, Dale, Dallas, DeKalb, Elmore, Escambia, Etowah, Fayette, Franklin, Geneva, Greene, Hale, Henry, Jackson, Jefferson, Lamar, Lauderdale, Lawrence, Lee, Limestone, Lowndes, Macon, Madison, Marengo, Marion, Marshall, Mobile, Monroe, Montgomery, Morgan, Perry, Pickens, Pike, Randolph, Russell, Shelby, St. Clair, Sumter, Talladega, Tallapoosa, Tuscaloosa, Walker, Washington, Wilcox, Winston.

1397 (886) (815) (897) (763). County a body corporate.—Every county is a body corporate, with power to sue or be sued in any court of record.

Courts take judicial notice of the names and corporate character of counties.—Reeves v. State, 20 Ala. 33; Overton v. State, 60 Ala. 73; Camp v. Marion Co., 91 Ala. 240; Trammell v. Chambers Co., 93 Ala. 388. Counties are public corporations or quasi corporations, not municipal, but mere government auxiliaries or agencies under legislative control.—Askew v. Hale Co., 54 Ala. 639; Chambers Co. v. Lee Co., 55 Ala. 534; Marengo Co. v. Coleman, 55 Ala. 605; James v. Conecuh Co., 79 Ala. 304. They are not strictly corporations but rather involuntary political or civil divisions of the state.—Commissioners v. Moore, 53 Ala. 25; Simpson v. Lauderdale Co., 56 Ala. 64; Covington Co. v. Kinney, 45 Ala. 176. County may be taxed with costs. Dover v. State, 45 Ala. 244; State v. Parker, 83 Ala. 269. Can only be charged with such expenses and liabilities as are authorized by law.—Van Eppes v. Commissioners, 25 Ala. 460; Mitchell v. Tallapoosa Co., 30 Ala. 130; Barbour Co. v. Brunson, 36 Ala. 362; Barbour Co. v. Horn, 48 Ala. 649; Posey v. Mobile, 50 Ala. 6; Simpson v. Lauderdale Co., 56 Ala. 64; Burgin v. Hawkins, 101 Ala. 326. As to matters within these limits it has the same power to contract as an individual.—Montgomery Co. v. Barber, 45 Ala. 237. There is no general liability on a county to answer for injuries received from defective roads and bridges; the liability is special and defined by statute.—Covington Co. v. Kinney, 45 Ala. 176; Barbour Co. v. Horn, 48 Ala. 566; s. c., 48 Ala. 649; Sims v. Butler Co., 49 Ala. 110; Askew v. Hale Co., 54 Ala. 639. Suits against county; presentation of claims, etc.—See citations to section 13 (2574). See also, citations to section 1416 (901).

1398 (25) (25) (28). Share of debts to be paid by new counties. In all cases in the formation of new counties, the inhabitants cut off from any county are liable in law and equity for the payment of their pro rata amount of the existing debt of the counties from which they have been severed.

Does not subject the new county to liability for any part of the contingent liabilities of the old.—Askew v. Hale Co., 54 Ala. 639. An action lies against the new county for its pro rata share of the debt of the old, as ascertained by the commissioners' court.—Chambers Co. v. Lee Co., 55 Ala. 534.

1399 (26) (26) (29). How ascertained, and proceedings thereupon.—The court of county commissioners of any county from which a portion of its territory and inhabitants has been taken to form a new county, must ascertain, as nearly as practicable, the entire debt of their county at the time such portion of their county was taken off, and out of such indebtedness must ascertain the pro rata share due from that part of the county taken off, and transmit a certified statement of the amount to the court of county commissioners of the new county to which such portion of their territory has been attached, and the court of county commissioners of the new county must then issue a certificate of indebtedness for such certified amount in favor of the county making such certified statement, which shall be paid by said new county as now provided by law for the payment of county dues.

1400 (27) (27) (25) (24). Their jurisdiction over navigable streams.—The jurisdiction over navigable streams, not included within the limits of any county, belongs to the county or counties whose jurisdiction extends to the margin thereof, and all process may be executed on such streams by officers of either county.

Jackson v. State, 90 Ala. 590.

1401 (887) (816) (898) (764). Deeds to others for use of county. All deeds, grants, or conveyances, made to any officer or person for the use and benefit of the county, vest in such county the title as fully as if made to such county by name.

1402 (888) (817) (899) (765). Commissioners have custody of property, and may sell.—The court of county commissioners have the control of all property belonging to the county, and may, by an order to be entered on its minutes, direct the disposal of any real property which can be lawfully disposed of, and appoint a commissioner to make titles thereto; and a conveyance of such commissioner, in accordance with such order, invests the grantee with the title of the county.

1403 (889) (818) (900) (766). County buildings erected and repaired by county.—The county buildings are to be erected, and kept in order and repair at the expense of the county, under the direction of the court of county commissioners, which court is authorized to make all necessary contracts for that purpose.

1404 (890) (819) (901) (767). Sheriff has charge of court-house, etc.—The sheriff has charge of the court-house, and must prevent trespasses, keep out intruders, and keep it and the ground attached thereto in order; reporting, from time to time, the repairs required to the court of county commissioners.

1405 (891) (820) (902) (768). Erection of county buildings.—It is the duty of the court of county commissioners of each county to erect a court-house, jail, and other necessary county buildings; and such court has authority to levy a special tax for that purpose.

1406. When court-house cannot be occupied, courts and offices held elsewhere.—When the court-house of any county is damaged or destroyed or is undergoing repair so as to interfere with the sittings of the courts or the occupancy of offices therein, such courts may sit and such offices may be kept at such other place in the city, town or village where such courts and offices are required by law to be held and kept, as may be provided by the court of county commissioners or board of revenue; or, in case of emergency, such place as may be provided by the judge of probate, sheriff and clerk of the circuit court.

1407 (892) (821) (903) (769). County jail; how constructed and arranged.—The county jail must be of sufficient size and strength to contain and keep securely the prisoners which may be confined therein; and must contain at least four apartments, properly ventilated, so as to secure the health of those confined therein; one for white men, one for white women, one for colored men, and one for colored women.

1408 (893) (822) (904) (770). Tax for building or repairing jail; proposals for same.—It is the duty of the court of county commissioners of each county if there is not a sufficient jail in their county, to levy a county tax for the erection thereof, and cause proposals to be issued for building or repairing the same, within twelve months thereafter.

1409 (894) (823). Special tax for court-house or jail; disposition of surplus.—Whenever it shall be deemed necessary by the court of county commissioners of any county in this state to build a new court-house or jail for such county, or to repair those already built, such court shall have the power and authority to levy and collect a special tax upon the taxable property of such county, not to exceed in any one year one-half of one per centum, for such purposes; and such tax, when collected, shall be used exclusively for the purposes herein indicated; but should any greater fund be raised by such tax than is needed for the purpose for which it was levied, such balance, after the building and repairs hereinbefore set forth shall have been paid for, shall go into the fund for compromising the debt of such county, or in case it be not needed for such purpose, shall be turned over to the treasury, and become a part of the common fund of the county.

1410 (895) (824). Special tax; how levied.—In all cases in which the commissioners' court of any county is directed or empowered to levy a special tax for county purposes, such levy shall be made by the court itself, upon the assessment last made for state taxes.

1411 (896). Special appropriations for heating jail, etc.—It is the duty of the court to make special appropriations for heating the county jail in cold weather, for supplying it with wholesome water for drinking and bathing, to keep it in a cleanly condition and free from offensive odors, and for providing it with necessary vaults, water-closets and dry earth.

Action does not lie to recover an amount paid for keeping up the fires. The claim must be presented and, if refused, enforced by mandamus.—Marengo Co. v. Lyles, 101 Ala. 423.

1412 (897). Special term for making such appropriations.—If there be a necessity, and delay until a regular term of the court may be of injury to the health of the prisoners, it is the duty of the judge of probate to appoint a day for the meeting of the court, of which, if practicable, five days' notice must be given to each commissioner, which notice must be in writing, signed by the judge, and must be served by the sheriff.

1413 (898). Duty of court at such special term.—Upon assembling, it is the duty of the court of county commissioners to make an appropriation of such an amount as is necessary for the purposes expressed in the second preceding section, and for the payment thereof must order the issue of a warrant payable to the sheriff, which must be paid by the county treasurer on the presentment thereof in preference and priority of all other claims.

1414 (899). Duty of sheriff.—The appropriation having been made, and the sheriff having received payment thereof, it is his duty, so far as such appropriation will enable him, to keep the jail supplied with wholesome water for drinking and bathing, to keep drinking water accessible at all times to each prisoner, to keep it comfortably warm in cold weather, at all times cleanly and free from offensive odors, and provided with necessary vaults, or water-closets, or dry earth for the use of prisoners.

1415 (900). Examination of jail.—It is the duty of the judge of probate and clerk of the circuit court, once each week, without informing the sheriff or jailer of the time when such visit will be made, to visit and examine the condition of the jail, and make a memorandum in writing of such examination, and report under oath such examination to the grand jury.

1416 (901) (826) (907) (773). Auditing and registry of claims; how paid.—The court of county commissioners must, in term time, audit all claims against their respective counties; and every claim, or such part thereof as is allowed, must be registered in a book kept for that purpose; and the judge of probate must give the claimant a warrant on the treasury for the amount so allowed.

A claim allowed at an unauthorized term creates no liability.—Wightman v. Karsner, 20 Ala. 446. Allowance is a ministerial, not a judicial, act. Commissioners v. Moore, 53 Ala. 25; Jeffersonian Pub. Co. v. Hilliard, 105 Ala. 576. Only claims which are a charge on the general funds of the county need be audited.—Palmer v. Fitts, 51 Ala. 489; Chambers Co. v. Lee Co., 55 Ala. 534. Claim for compensation for service on a coroner's jury must be audited and allowed.—Hawkins v. Duncan, 103 Ala. 398. Claim does not bear interest from date of allowance or registration.—Vincent v. Gilmer, 51 Ala. 387. Failure to allow or register a claim does not release the county.—Randolph v. Hutchins, 46 Ala. 397. The registry is not the order of allowance, but a mere memorandum which, as evidence, is insufficient to establish a claim.—Speed v. Cocke, 57 Ala. 209. The fact that three of the commissioners are interested in a claim does not make the order of allowance a nullity.—Jeffersonian Pub. Co. v. Hilliard, 105 Ala. 576. The duty of the judge of probate to issue a warrant after the claim has been audited and allowed, is ministerial, and may be compelled by mandamus.—Commissioners v. Moore, 53 Ala. 25; Jack v. Moore, 66 Ala. 184; Jeffersonian Pub. Co. v. Hilliard, 105 Ala. 576. The warrant imports a prima facie liability on the county.—Commissioners v. Moore, 53 Ala. 25; Speed v. Cocke, 57 Ala. 209; Henry v. Cohen, 66 Ala. 382; Grayson v. Latham, 84 Ala. 546; Jeffersonian Pub. Co. v. Hilliard, 105 Ala. 576. Legal and commercial characteristics of the warrant.—Savage v. Mathews, 98 Ala. 535. The county can only be charged with such expenses as are authorized by law, or which are necessarily incidental to the accomplishment of its purposes.—See citations to section 1397 (886). Actions against county; presentation and allowance of claims, etc.—See citations to section 13 (2574).

1417 (902) (827). Claims must be itemized, proved, entered and filed.—No claim against the county shall be passed upon or allowed by the court of county commissioners, unless it is itemized and sworn to by the claimant, or some person in his behalf having personal knowledge of the facts; and all claims passed upon and allowed, according to this section, must be entered in the order in which they were allowed, in a book kept for that purpose, and filed for future reference, within two weeks after the term at which such allowances were made; and the testimony required in the allowance of a claim must show whether or not any part thereof has been previously paid.

What is sufficient itemization.—Crenshaw v. Fleming, 109 Ala. 554. In an action on a claim the complaint must show that the claim was itemized and verified.—Schroeder v. Colbert Co., 66 Ala. 137.

1418 (903) (828). Claim by executor, etc.—When a claim is filed by an executor, administrator, guardian, or trustee, it may be verified by the affidavit of such executor, administrator, guardian, or trustee, that he believes the claim to be just, due and unpaid.

1419 (904) (831) (908) (774). Withdrawal of claim.—If a claim is rejected, or not allowed in full, the claimant may withdraw the same.

1420 (905) (832) (909) (775). Claims barred if not presented. All claims against counties must be presented for allowance within twelve months after the time they accrue, or become payable, or the same are barred, unless it be a claim due to a minor, or to a lunatic, who may present such claim within twelve months after the removal of such disability.

Does not apply to the proportion of a debt of an old county due by a new one carved out of its territory.—Chambers Co. v. Lee Co., 55 Ala. 534. Claims existing at the time of the enactment of the statute must have been presented within twelve months after that time.—Michael v. Marengo Co., 52 Ala. 159.

1421 (906) (833). When barred if records burnt.—Claims against a county in which the records have been destroyed by fire are barred if not registered in the proper office of the county within twelve months.

1422 (907). Lights and fuel furnished courts.—It is the duty of the sheriff to furnish the circuit, city and chancery courts and court of county commissioners, necessary lights and fuel during their sessions, and therefor the court of county commissioners must, upon the presentation of an account by him, properly verified, make to him reasonable compensation; and for the amount allowed, the judge of probate must draw a warrant on the treasury of the county.

1423 (908). Preferred claims.—The claims of grand and petit jurors for compensation, as shown by the certificates issued to them; the compensation of the members of the court of county commissioners, as shown by the certificates issued to them; and the accounts for necessary stationery furnished the county, are to be preferred in payment to all other claims, except special appropriations for the county jail provided for under sections 1411 (896) and 1413 (898), which have priority of all other claims; and for the payment thereof it is the duty of the county treasurer to set apart a sufficient fund from the moneys of the county. Claims for the support of the poor are to be next preferred; and thereafter a claim for the use of a building for a court-house, the county not having a suitable building, is to be preferred; and thereafter the claim of the secretary of state for certified copies of field-notes is to be preferred.

Money set apart for the payment of preferred claims cannot be used in the payment of any other claims even of the same class.—Allen v. Watts, 88 Ala. 497. Compensation of the coroner's jury must be audited, allowed and paid in the same manner as other fees for inquest are paid.—Hawkins v. Duncan, 103 Ala. 398. Powers of commissioners' court with respect to providing for the poor.—Henry v. Cohen, 66 Ala. 382.

1424 (909). County indebtedness may be funded.—The court of county commissioners, if they deem it necessary, may, without increasing the indebtedness of the county, settle, or compromise and fund the debt of the county existing at the ratification of the constitution of 1875, and for the payment thereof may issue the bonds of the county, not running for a longer time than thirty years, nor bearing an annual interest exceeding six per cent.; and for the payment of the principal and interest of such bonds, may levy annually a special tax on the value of the taxable property of the county, as assessed for state taxation, not exceeding one-fourth of one per centum, which must be collected as state and county taxes are collected, and which must be applied exclusively to the payment of the principal and interest of such bonds.

1425. Local laws of county may be codified.—The court of county commissioners or board of revenue of any county may, in their discretion, once in every ten years, cause the laws of the county to be codified; such codification not to embrace any statute embodied in the Code of Alabama, nor any private act relating to persons or corporations except town corporations and school districts. Every county officer, justice of the peace and notary public with magisterial powers shall, on his application, be furnished with a copy of such county code, the same to be delivered to his successor in office. Feb. 27, 1889, p. 110.

CHAPTER 32.

COUNTY TREASURER. 1426-1436.

1426 (910) (841) (922) (787). Election and term of office.—A county treasurer for each county is elected by the qualified voters thereof, who holds office for four years from the first day of September next after his election, and until his successor is elected and qualified. Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1091, §4.

1427 (913). Vacancy, how filled.—Vacancies in the office of county treasurer are filled by appointment of the court of county commissioners, and the person appointed holds office for the unexpired term and until his successor is elected and qualified.

1428 (911) (842) (923) (788). Bond.—Before entering on the duties of his office he must give bond, with at least two good and sufficient sureties, in double the estimated amount of the annual revenue of the county, to be determined by the court of county commissioners, payable to the county and conditioned as prescribed by law, which bond is to be approved by the judge of probate and filed and recorded in his office.

Not necessary for the bond to recite that the principal is treasurer, or elected as such.—Wilson v. Cantrell, 19 Ala. 642. The sureties are bound for the performance of those acts which the law requires the treasurer to perform.—Townsend v. Everett, 4 Ala. 607. And for money in the hands of the treasurer at the time of the execution of the bond.—Townsend v. Everett, 4 Ala. 607; Moore v. Madison Co., 38 Ala. 670. And for any default as to money collected on account of the subscription of the county to stock in a railroad.—Lewis v. Lee Co., 66 Ala. 480; s. c., 73 Ala. 148. But not for money collected by the treasurer and delivered by him to the probate judge to be exchanged, under the order of commissioners' court.—Lewis v. Lee Co., 66 Ala. 480. Nor for failing to pay sheriff's fees for summoning witnesses for the defendant in a criminal case who is insolvent.—Cohen v. Coleman, 71 Ala. 496. Nor for failure to pay clerk's fees for issuing subpœnas for defendants' witnesses.—Burgin v. Hawkins, 101 Ala. 326. Nor for failure to pay a warrant for the support of a pauper, when the claim had not been audited and filed.—Boothe v. King, 71 Ala. 497. Nor for defalcation as to certain funds to cover which the legislature had ordered a new bond to be given, although such bond had not been made.—Morrow v. Wood, 56 Ala. 1. If a county treasurer receives money as taxes from the collector, he and his sureties are estopped to deny that the money belonged to the county.—Coleman v. Pike Co., 83 Ala. 326.

1429 (915) (845) (926) (791). Duties.—It is the duty of the county treasurer—

1. To receive and keep the money of the county, and disburse the same according to law.

Subdivision 1.—Treasurer is the mere custodian of funds and must disburse them according to law.—Edmondson v. DeKalb Co., 51 Ala. 103. He is the proper custodian of funds raised for the payment of a subscription by the county to stock in a railroad.—Barnes v. Hudman, 57 Ala. 504. The allowance of a claim in excess of the authority of the commissioners' court is void, and the treasurer may refuse to pay it.—Commissioners v. Moore, 53 Ala. 125; Speed v. Cocke, 57 Ala. 209; Boothe v. King, 71 Ala. 497; Grayson v. Latham, 84 Ala. 546. Suit lies against treasurer and sureties when he has proper funds and refuses to pay claim.—Arrington v. Van Houton, 44 Ala. 284; Randolph Co. v. Hutchins, 46 Ala. 397; Briggs v. Coleman, 51 Ala. 561; Caldwell v. Guinn, 54 Ala. 64; Speed v. Cocke, 57 Ala. 209; Caldwell v. Dunklin, 65 Ala. 461: Grayson v. Latham, 84 Ala. 546. (See also citations to section 13 (2574).)

2. To pay out of the general fund of the county, on presentation and without being audited and allowed by the court of county commissioners, all grand and petit juror certificates.

Subdivision 2.—Purchase of certificate by a deputy, who is acting treasurer; when regarded as a payment.—Allen v. McCreary, 101 Ala. 514.

3. To keep, in well-bound books, separate registers of claims presented against the general fund, the special fund if any, and the fine and forfeiture fund.

4. To number and register, in the order in which they are presented, all claims against the general fund which have been audited and allowed by the court of county commissioners as claims against such fund, such register showing the number of the claim, the date presented for registration, to whom allowed, when allowed, the character of the claim and the amount thereof; and, except as otherwise provided by law, to pay the same in the order of their registration. He must in like manner number, register and pay all claims allowed against a fund raised for a special purpose.

5. To number and register, in the order in which they are presented, all claims against the fine and forfeiture fund which have been duly authenticated as claims against such fund, and without being audited and allowed by the court of county commissioners, such register showing the number of the claim, the date presented for registration, to whom payable, when it accrued, the character of the claim and the amount thereof; and to pay the registered claims of state witnesses in the order of their registration, and whenever there is a surplus of such fund, over and above the sum required to pay the registered claims of state witnesses, he must apply such surplus to the payment of the claims of officers of court in the order of their registration.

Fine and forfeiture fund belongs to the state and the commissioners' court has no control over it.—Palmer v. Fitts, 51 Ala. 489; State v. Stone, 69 Ala. 206; State v. Coleman, 73 Ala. 550; Herr v. Seymour, 76 Ala. 270; Bilbro v. Drakeford, 78 Ala. 318; Sessions v. Boykin, 78 Ala. 328; Brown v. Parris, 93 Ala. 314; Harold v. Herrington, 95 Ala. 395; Burgin v. Hawkins, 101 Ala. 326; Alston v. Yerby, 108 Ala. 480. Witness certificates in criminal cases; applies only to state witnesses.—Briggs v. Coleman, 51 Ala. 561; Cohen v. Coleman, 71 Ala. 496; Burgin v. Hawkins, 101 Ala. 326. Authentication by clerk.—Herr v. Seymour, 76 Ala. 270. Proceeds of hire of county convicts belong to the fine and forfeiture fund.—State v. Coleman, 73 Ala. 550.

6. Upon the registration of a claim he must indorse thereon the number and date of registration and sign his name thereto.

7. When a claim is received in payment of a debt due to the county, he must give a receipt therefor, showing a description of the claim and the name of the person and character of the debt on whose account the claim was received.

8. On the payment of any claim he must take a receipt therefor; and when a claim of any character is paid to or received by him, he must cancel the same by defacing or mutilating it so as to show that it is of no further value, and, if registered, write upon the register against the claim the word "paid" and the date of such payment.

9. To keep a correct account of the receipts and disbursements of all money received by him for the county, according to the forms herein prescribed, charging himself with all moneys so received, of whom, on what account, and the amount, and crediting himself with all payments, stating the number and character of the claim, in whose favor, and the amount.

10. To examine the dockets of the circuit and city courts, and sheriff semi-annually; to demand and receive all moneys due to the county, and to institute proceedings against defaulters.

11. To submit to the court of county commissioners, at the first term in each year, the register of claims; his account for the year balanced; vouchers for the payments; an estimate of the indebtedness of the county for the coming year, and the means of providing for the same.

12. To make reports, and give information to the court of county commissioners, when required, respecting all matters relating to the finances of the county.

13. To furnish the probate judge, in January of each and every year, a verified statement of all moneys received by him for the county during the preceding year, and of all claims received by him in lieu of money, which are receivable in payment of county taxes, which statement must designate the time and person from whom such moneys or claims were received.

14. To keep his office within one mile of the court-house of the county.

15. To perform such other duties as are, or may be by law required of him.

Garnishment does not lie against the treasurer to subject funds in his hands to the payment of a judgment against the county.—Edmondson v. DeKalb Co., 51 Ala. 103.

1430. When claim paid though prior claims outstanding.—The county treasurer must not refuse the payment of any lawful and valid claim for the reason that claims of prior registration have not been paid, if there is money in the treasury belonging to the fund sufficient to pay such prior claims and the claim so presented.

1431 (917) (847) (928) (793). Books.—The books of the county treasurer are to be provided at the expense of the county.

1432 (918) (848) (929) (794). Annual account recorded.—The annual account of the county treasurer, when examined and approved by the court of county commissioners, must be recorded, and a copy of the same posted at the court-house door.

1433 (919) (849) (931) (796). Judge of probate to appoint an expert accountant to examine books and vouchers.—The judge of probate must each year, without giving any notice or information thereof to the county treasurer, appoint one expert accountant, of known integrity, to examine the books and vouchers of the county treasurer and report the condition of the same; and the person so appointed shall proceed without delay to make such examination and report, and to that end he is invested with all the powers and authority conferred by law upon the examiner of public accounts. He shall receive such compensation as may be allowed by the court of county commissioners or board of revenue.*

1434 (920) (850) (933) (798). Proceedings on death, or termination of office.—In case of the resignation, expiration of his term, or removal from office, the county treasurer, or if he is dead, his personal representatives, must state his account, and deliver all the money, books, papers and property of the county to his successor, who must report the same to the term of the court of county commissioners held next thereafter, and if satisfied that such account is correct, and that all the money, books, papers and property of the county have been delivered to such successor, such court must cause an entry thereof to be made of record.

1435 (921) (851) (934) (799). Compensation.—The county treasurer receives such compensation as may be allowed by the court of county commissioners, in no case exceeding five per cent. on the money paid out by him; nor in any case exceeding the aggregate sum of one thousand dollars in any one year.

CHAPTER 33.

DEFAMATION. 1437–1443.

1437 (2724) (2976) (2627) (2225). Truth of charges against public men may be proved.—In civil actions for the publication of papers, investigating the official conduct of officers or men in public capacity, or when the matter published is proper for public information, the truth thereof may be given in evidence.

1438 (2725) (2977) (2628) (2226). Truth of the words, etc., evidence under the general issue.—In all actions of slander or libel, the truth of the words spoken or written, or the circumstances under which they were spoken or written, may be given in evidence under the general issue in mitigation of the damages.

Gaither v. Advertiser Co., 102 Ala. 458; Sternau v. Marx, 58 Ala. 608.

1439 (2726) (2975) (2626) (2224). Import of words.—Every accusation of false swearing presumptively imports a charge of perjury, and every accusation importing the commission of a crime punishable by indictment must be held presumptively to mean what the language used ordinarily imports.

Iron Age Co. v. Crudup, 85 Ala. 519.

1440 (2727) (2971) (2622) (2220). Charge of unchastity actionable.—Any words, written, spoken, or printed, of any woman, married or unmarried, falsely imputing to her a want of chastity, are actionable without proof of special damages.

Smith v. Gaffard, 31 Ala. 45; Downing v. Wilson, 36 Ala. 717.

1441 (2728) (2972) (2623) (2221). Retraction mitigates damages.—The defendant in an action of slander or libel may prove, under the general issue in mitigation of damages, that the charge was made by mistake or through inadvertence, and that he has retracted the charge and offered amends before suit, by publishing an apology in a newspaper, when the charge had been thus promulgated, or verbally, in the presence of witnesses, when the accusation was verbal or written, and had offered to certify the same in writing.

Bradford v. Edwards, 32 Ala. 628.

1442 (2729) (2973) (2624) (2222). Recantation and tender; effect of.—If the defendant, after or before suit brought, make the recantation and amends recited in the preceding section, and also tender to the plaintiff a compensation in money, and bring the same into court, the plaintiff can recover no costs, if the jury believe and find the tender was sufficient.

1443 (2730) (2974) (2625) (2223). Effect of tender received. The receipt of the money tendered, if before suit brought, is a bar to the action; if after suit, releases the defendant from all damages and costs, except the costs which accrued before the tender and receipt of the money.

CHAPTER 34.

DENTISTS. 1444–1452.

As amended Feb. 28, 1887, p. 97, §2.

1444 (1310). Board of dental examiners.—A board of dental examiners is constituted. Such board shall consist of five members, one of whom shall be elected at each annual meeting of the Alabama Dental Association, and shall hold office for five years and until his successor is elected and qualified. Vacancies occurring in the board are filled by appointment for the unexpired term, made by the president of the association.

Ib. §1.

1445 (1311). Qualifications of members of the board.—The members of the board of dental examiners shall be dental graduates, or practitioners of dentistry, who have obtained a license to practice dentistry, from the board of examiners, and members in good standing of the Alabama Dental Association who have practiced dentistry in the State of Alabama for not less than three years.

Ib. §4.

1446 (1312). Duty and authority of board.—The board of dental examiners shall have authority and it shall be its duty—

1. To meet annually at the time and place of meeting of the Alabama Dental Association.

2. On the call of three members of the board, to hold special meetings at such time and place as may be appointed, giving to all known practicing dentists in the state, through the mails, thirty days' notice of such special meeting.

3. To grant licenses to all applicants who undergo a satisfactory examination, and who shall pay to said board a fee of five dollars for such examination.

4. To keep a registry of the licensed practitioners of dentistry, a transcript from which, certified under the seal of the board by the officer having the custody thereof, shall be evidence of the license of any practitioner therein named.

5. To prescribe a course of reading for students of dentistry under private instruction.

1447 (1313). Temporary license.—One member of the board of dental examiners may grant license to practice, which is operative until the regular meeting of the board; but such temporary license must not be granted to an applicant who has been previously rejected by the board.

1448 (1314). License recorded.—The license, other than a temporary license, must be signed by the president of the board of examiners, and countersigned by the secretary, if the board have a secretary, and must, within thirty days after the grant thereof, be filed in the office of the judge of probate of the county of the residence of the person to whom it is issued, and must be therein recorded; and after record thereof, the judge must thereon indorse and certify under the seal of the court the fact of record; and for the record and certificate, the judge of probate is entitled to a fee of one dollar.

1449 (1315). Proof of license.—The license, certified by the judge of probate, is evidence of the authority of the party therein named to practice dentistry; and if the same is lost, a copy of the record, duly certified, is sufficient evidence.

1450 (1316). Dentistry must not be practiced without license. Rb. §8. It is not lawful to engage in the practice of dentistry without a license from the board of dental examiners; but the mere extraction of teeth shall not constitute the practice of dentistry within the meaning of this chapter.

Nicholson v. State, 100 Ala. 132.

1451 (1317). Quorum of board of dental examiners.—Three members of the board of dental examiners constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and if a quorum is not present on the day appointed for a regular or special meeting, so many as are present may adjourn from day to day for five successive days until a quorum is present.

1452 (1318) (1524, 1526) (1231, 1234) (977, 980). When contracts for dental services void.—Every contract or agreement, express or implied, the consideration of which is the service of a dentist, is void, unless the dentist has authority to practice dentistry obtained according to the provisions of this chapter; but proof of such authority must not be required unless two days' notice to make the same is given before the trial of any suit brought to recover the value of such service.

Harrison v. Jones, 80 Ala. 412.

CHAPTER 35.

DESCENTS AND DISTRIBUTIONS.

ARTICLE 1.—DESCENTS. 1453–1462.
2.—ADVANCEMENTS. 1463–1476.

ARTICLE 1.

DESCENTS.

1453 (1915) (2252) (1888) (1572). Descent of real estate.—The real estate of persons dying intestate as to such estate descends, subject to the payment of debts, charges against the estate and the widow's dower, as follows:

1. To the children of the intestate, or their descendants, in equal parts.

Feb. 23, 1893, p. 1055. 2. If there are no children or their descendants, then to the father and mother, in equal parts.

Ib. 3. If there are no children or their descendants, and if there be but one surviving parent, then one half to such surviving parent, and the other half to the brothers and sisters of the intestate, or their descendants, in equal parts.

Ib. 4. If there are no children or their descendants, no brothers or sisters or their descendants, and if there be but one surviving parent, then the whole to such surviving parent.

Ib. 5. If there are no children or their descendants, and no father or mother, then to the brothers and sisters of the intestate, or their descendants, in equal parts.

6. If there are no children or their descendants, no father or mother, and no brothers or sisters or their descendants, then the whole to the husband or wife of the intestate.

7. If there are no children or their descendants, no father or mother, no brothers or sisters or their descendants, and no husband or wife, then to the next of kin to the intestate, in equal degree, in equal parts.

8. If there are no children or their descendants, no father or mother, no brothers or sisters or their descendants, no husband or wife, and no next of kin capable of inheriting, then it escheats to the state.

Statutory system complete; its purpose.—Cox v. Clark, 93 Ala. 400; Butler v. Elyton Land Co., 84 Ala. 384; Stallworth v. Stallworth, 29 Ala. 76; Deloney v. Walker, 9 Port. 497; Banks v. Malempre, 18 Ala. 565. Remedy, when right to share in estate denied.—State v. Williams, 69 Ala. 311; Ex parte Boynton, 44 Ala. 261; Fowler v. Trewhit, 10 Ala. 622; Graham v. Abercrombie, 8 Ala. 552; McRae v. Pigues, 4 Ala. 158; Reese v. Nolan, 99 Ala. 203; Townsend v. Steel, 85 Ala. 580; McConico v. Cannon, 25 Ala. 462. Persons entitled to take.—Abney v. DeLoach, 84 Ala. 393; Cofer v. Scroggins, 98 Ala. 342; Butler v. Elyton Land Co., 84 Ala. 384; Donovan v. Pitcher, 53 Ala. 411; Tannis v. Doe, 21 Ala. 449; Etheridge v. Malempre, 18 Ala. 565. Subdivision 1.—Bullock v. Knox, 96 Ala. 195. Subdivision 3.—Griswold v. Griswold, 111 Ala. 572. Subdivision 5.—Cox v. Clark, 93 Ala. 400; Stallworth v. Stallworth, 29 Ala. 76; Hithcock v. Smith, 3 Stew. & P. 29. Subdivision 7.—Cox v. Clark, 93 Ala. 400; Deloney v. Walker, 9 Porter, 497; Gardner v. Kelso, 80 Ala. 497; Phillips v. Peteet, 35 Ala. 696. Subdivision 8.—Etheridge v. Malempre, 18 Ala. 565.

1454 (1916) (2253) (1889) (1573). Lineal descendants take ancestor's share.—Under the provisions of the preceding section, the lineal descendants, in equal degree, represent their ancestor; that is, the children of a deceased child, brother, or sister of the intestate are entitled to inherit, in equal parts, the same share that such deceased child, brother, or sister would have inherited, if living; the grandchildren of such deceased child, brother, or sister, taking in equal parts the same share that their parents would have inherited, if living.

Hitchcock v. Smith, 3 Stew. & Port. 29; Stallworth v. Stallworth, 29 Ala. 76; Cox v. Clark, 93 Ala. 400.

1455 (1917) (2254) (1890) (1574). No representation among collaterals; exception.—There is no representation among collaterals, except with the descendants of the brothers and sisters of the intestate.

Cox v. Clark, 93 Ala. 400.

1456 (1918) (2255) (1891) (1575). Kindred computed by civil law.—The degree of kindred must be computed according to the rules of the civil law.

Johnson v. Copeland, 35 Ala. 521; Phillips v. Peteet, Ib. 696; Pinkston v. Semple, 92 Ala. 564.

McLemore v. McLemore, 8 Ala. 687; Stallworth v. Stallworth, 29 Ala. 76; Johnson v. Copeland, 35 Ala. 521; Eatman v. Eatman, 83 Ala. 478; Butler v.

Elyton Land Co., 84 Ala. 384; Cox v. Clark, 93 Ala. 400; Coleman v. Foster, 112 Ala. 506.

1458 (1920) (2257) (1893) (1577). Posthumous children.—Posthumous children of the intestate inherit as if born in his lifetime; but no right of inheritance accrues to any other person than the children of the intestate, unless born at his death.

Bishop v. Hampton, 11 Ala. 254.

1459 (1921) (2258) (1894) (1578). Bastards.—Every illegitimate child is considered as the heir of his mother, and inherits her estate in whole or in part, as the case may be, in like manner as if born in lawful wedlock.

Lingen v. Lingen, 45 Ala. 410; Butler v. Elyton Land Co., 84 Ala. 384.

1460 (1922) (2259) (1895) (1579). Who inherit from illegitimate child.—The mother, or kindred of an illegitimate child on the part of the mother are, in default of children of such illegitimate child, or their descendants, entitled to inherit his estate.

Butler v. Elyton Land Co., 84 Ala. 384.

1461 (1923) (2273) (1909) (1588). Heirs take as tenants in common.—When an inheritance, or share of an inheritance descends to several persons, they take as tenants in common, in proportion to their respective rights, unless it is otherwise provided by law.

Marshall v. Crow, 29 Ala. 278; Morgan v. Farned, 83 Ala. 367; McQueen v. Turner, 91 Ala. 273.

1462 (1924) (2261) (1897) (1581). Distribution of personal estate.—The personal estate of persons dying intestate as to such estate, after the payment of debts and charges against the estate, is to be distributed in the same manner as his real estate, and according to the same rules; except that the widow, if there are no children, is entitled to all the personal estate, or, if but one child, she is entitled to one-half; if more than one, and not more than four children, to a child's part; and if more than four children, to one-fifth.

When widow's right to distribution affected by the amount of her statutory separate estate.—Wadsworth v. Miller, 103 Ala. 130; Zachary v. Lockard, 98 Ala. 371; Shepard v. Shepard, 87 Ala. 560; Lee v. Lee, 77 Ala. 412; Gordon v. Tweedy, 74 Ala. 232; Williams v. Williams, 68 Ala. 405; Barnes v. Carson, 59 Ala. 371; Harris v. Harris, 71 Ala. 536; Wiggins v. Newberry, 72 Ala. 240; Billingslea v. Glenn, 45 Ala. 540; Dubose v. Dubose, 38 Ala. 238. When decree of distribution ignoring right of widow will be reversed on appeal.—Crothers v. Ross, 17 Ala. 816. Widow can claim nothing from advancements made by the husband to his children and brought into hotchpot.—Logan v. Logan, 13 Ala. 653. Heirs may dispense with administration when its only office would be the collection and distribution of the assets. Fretwell v. McLemore, 52 Ala. 124; Baines v. Barnes, 64 Ala. 375; Alexander v. Alexander, 70 Ala. 212; Sullivan v. Lawler, 72 Ala. 68; DeBardelaben v. Stoudenmire, 82 Ala. 574; Glover v. Hill, 85 Ala. 41; Cooper v. Alexander, 104 Ala. 116.

ADVANCEMENTS.

1463 (1925) (2262) (1898) (1582). Advancements deducted in division and distribution.—Any estate, real or personal, which has been given by any intestate in his lifetime, as an advancement to any child, or other lineal descendant, must be considered as part of the estate, so far as regards the division and distribution thereof among his children or their descendants, and must be taken by such child or descendant towards his share of the estate of the deceased.

Statute does not apply where there is a will; refers alone to estate of intestate.—Greene v. Speer, 37 Ala. 532; Cawlfield v. Brown, 45 Ala. 552. The statutory mode of ascertaining the fact and value of advancement is exclusive.—Malone v. Malone, 106 Ala. 567; Mitchell v. Mitchell, 8 Ala. 414; Taylor v. Reese, 4 Ala. 121. When a court of equity takes jurisdiction to administer the estate, or for partition, it will adjust and equalize the advancements. Marshall v. Marshall, 86 Ala. 383; Booth v. Foster, 111 Ala. 312. Money or property given by parent to child presumed to be an advancement.—Fennell v. Henry, 70 Ala. 484; Mitchell v. Mitchell, 8 Ala. 414; Butler v. Mer. Ins. Co., 14 Ala. 777; Merrill v. Rhodes, 37 Ala. 449; Autrey v. Autrey, Ib. 614; Clements v. Hood, 57 Ala. 459; Wilks v. Greer, 14 Ala. 437. The intention is the controlling inquiry.—Malone v. 1464 (1926) (2263) (1899) (1583). Rule when advancement exceeds or is less than share.—If the amount of such advancement is equal to or exceeds the share of the heir so advanced, he is excluded from any further portion in the division and distribution of the estate, but he is not required to refund any part of such advancement; and if the amount so received is less than his share, he is entitled to as much more as will give him a full share of the estate of the intestate.

See citations to preceding section.

1465 (1927) (2264) (1900) (1584). If made in real or personal estate, considered part of such estate.—If the advancement is made in real estate, the value thereof, for the purposes of the preceding section, is to be considered as part of the real estate to be divided; and if it is made in personal property, it is to be considered as part of the personal estate to be distributed; and if in either case it exceeds the share of real or personal estate to which the heir, child, or descendant so advanced would have been entitled, he is not required to refund any part of it, but receives so much less out of the other part of the estate as will make his whole share equal to those of the other heirs in the same degree.

See citations to second preceding section.

1466 (1928) (2265) (1901) (1585). How value determined.—If the value of the estate, real or personal, is expressed in the conveyance, or in the charge thereof made by the intestate, or in the receipt given by the person receiving such advancement, it is to be considered as of that value in the division and distribution of the estate; otherwise, it is estimated according to its value when given.

1467 (1929) (2266) (1902) (1586). Descendant of party receiving advancement takes subject thereto.—If any child or other lineal descendant so advanced die before the person making such advancement, leaving descendants or other heirs, such advancement must be taken into consideration in the division and distribution of the estate; and the amount thereof must be allowed accordingly by the representatives of the heir so advanced as so much received towards their share of the estate, as if the advancement had been made directly to them.

1468 (1930) (2267) (1903) (1587). What not an advancement. Maintaining, educating, or giving money to a child or other lineal descendant, without intending it as a portion or settlement in life, is not an advancement.

See citations to section 1463.

1469 (1931) (2268) (1904). Controversy as to advancements; how issue made up and tried.—Controversies as to advancements are cognizable before the probate court, on the application, either of a party who has received an advancement, or of a party in interest, who alleges that an advancement has been made; and upon demand of either party, an issue in writing shall be made up under the direction of the court, and tried by a jury as in other cases of contested fact.

1470 (1932) (2269) (1905). Discovery of advancements.—Pending administration of an estate, on the application of the executor or administrator, or some one interested in the estate, to the probate court where the administration is, alleging on oath that an advancement had been made by the decedent, and that the value of such advancement is not expressed in any conveyance or receipt, within the applicant's knowledge, or in any charge made by the decedent, the judge of probate must issue citation to the distributee or heir alleged to have received such advancement, requiring him, within a specified time, not less than thirty, nor more than sixty days, to report on oath a list of the property received, the time when, and the value of the same when received, or to deny on oath having received any advancement from the decedent. If the party alleged to have received the advancement is a non-resident of the state, notice must be given by publication once a week for three successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county, or if no paper is published in the county, then in one published in the adjoining county, requiring him to answer within a specified time, not less than forty, nor more than ninety days.

1471 (1933) (2270) (1906). Proceedings and answer on death of distributee.—In case of the death of any distributee or heir alleged to have received advancements, his legal representatives or heirs at law shall be required to report or answer in the same manner as set forth in the preceding section; and if they are residents of this state, notice must be given by citation, and if non-residents, by publication, as provided for in cases embraced in the preceding section; and if any of the heirs at law of such deceased distributee or heir are minors, or persons of unsound mind, the probate court must appoint a suitable guardian ad litem for them, who shall deny the allegations contained in such application, and demand proof thereof.

1472 (1934) (2271) (1907). Contest of answer; hearing and notice.—Upon the rendition of the report or answer of the distributee or heir alleged to have received an advancement, or of his legal representatives or heirs, if deceased, if the executor or administrator, or any of the parties interested in such estate are not satisfied with the report or answer, on the ground that the same does not set forth all the property received or advanced, or does not set forth the true value of the property at the time it was received or advanced, or is not satisfied that the report or answer is true, then, in either case, such party may file objections thereto, stating the grounds of the objections, and the judge of probate must set a day, at such time as he may think proper, for hearing and determining, according to the evidence, as to the amount of property advanced, the time when advanced, and its value when received; and he must give all the parties interested notice of such objections, and of the time set for hearing the same, by citation, if residents of this state, or if non-residents, by publication in some newspaper published in the county, or if no paper is published in the county, then in one published in an adjoining county, once a week for three successive weeks.

1473 (1935) (2272) (1908). Consequence of failure to answer. In case any distributee or heir, or the legal representatives or heirs at law of any distributee or heir alleged to have received an advancement, and on whom a citation has been personally served as above provided, fail or neglect to return a report, as required, or fail to answer such application, denying that he has received any advancement, such failure or neglect to report or answer shall be considered by the probate court as prima facie evidence that such person has received his full proportionate part of such estate; and in case any non-resident against whom publication has been made fails or neglects to return a report, as required, or to answer such application, denying that he has received any advancement, the court may proceed to take evidence ex parte as to the matters alleged in such application.

DETINUE. 1474–1484.

1474 (2717) (2942) (2593) (2192). Writ of seizure in detinue. When a suit is brought for the recovery of personal chattels in specie, if the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, make affidavit that the property sued for belongs to the plaintiff, and execute a bond in such sum, and with such surety as may be approved by the clerk, with condition that if the plaintiff fail in the suit he will pay the defendant all such costs and damages as he may sustain by the wrongful complaint, it is the duty of the clerk to indorse on the summons that the sheriff is required to take the property mentioned in the complaint into his possession, unless the defendant give bond payable to the plaintiff, with sufficient surety, in double the value of the property, with condition that if the defendant is cast in the suit he will, within thirty days thereafter, deliver the property to the plaintiff, and pay all costs and damages which may accrue from the detention thereof.

The statutory action for the recovery of chattels in specie is governed generally by the rules applicable to the common-law action of detinue. Hence, plaintiff must show a general or special property in the chattel and the right to immediate possession.—Cooper v. 1475 (2718) (2943) (2594) (2193). Provisions for delivery of property to parties.—If the defendant neglect for five days to give such bond, the property sued for must be delivered to the plaintiff, on his giving bond with sufficient surety, in double the value of the property, payable to the defendant, with condition to deliver the property to the defendant within thirty days after judgment, in case he fail in the suit, and to pay damages for the detention of the property and costs of suit. If the plaintiff fail to give such bond for five days after the expiration of the time allowed the defendant, the property must be returned to the defendant.

1476 (2719) (2944) (2595) (2194). Assessment of value and damages.—Upon the trial, the jury must, if they find for the plaintiff, assess the value of each article separately, if practicable, and also assess damages for its detention; if they find for the defendant, they must in like manner assess the value, and, if in the possession of the plaintiff, assess damages for its detention. Judgment against either party must be for the property sued for, or its alternate value, with damages for its detention to the time of trial.

Generally it is error not to assess each article separately.—Cummings v. Tindall, 4 Stew. & Port. 357; Bell v. Pharr, 7 Ala. 807; Averett v. Milner, 75 Ala. 505; Jones v. Anderson, 76 Ala. 427; s. c., 82 Ala. 302; Tait v. Murphy, 80 Ala. 440; Savage v. Russell, 84 Ala. 103; Southern Co. v. Johnson, 85 Ala. 178; Wollner v. Lehman, Ib. 274; Henry v. Barnes, 49 Ala. 134. Where number of articles are not to be distinguished one from another.—Haynes v. Crutchfield, 7 Ala. 189; Townsend v. Brooks, 76 Ala. 308.

1477 (2720). Suit by mortgagee or vendor.—If the suit is by a mortgagee, or his assignee, against a mortgagor or one holding under him, or by a vendor who has made a conditional sale reserving title until the entire purchase-money shall be paid, or his assignee, against his vendee or one holding under him, the defendant may, upon suggestion, require that the jury ascertain the amount of the mortgage debt, or the unpaid balance of the purchase price of the article sold; and if the debt due is ascertained to be less than the value of the property sued for as assessed by the jury, judgment must be rendered for the property sued for, or if that is not to be had, then for the amount of the debt as ascertained by the jury. The court must also make an order that, if the debt so ascertained, interest and costs, be paid within thirty days, no execution or other process shall issue on the judgment; and on payment thereof to the plaintiff or to the clerk for his use, the clerk must, on the face of the record of the judgment, indorse the fact of such payment, and thereafter the plaintiff shall be deemed the unsuccessful party within the meaning of section 1479 (2721).

Jacobs v. Nathan, 83 Ala. 271; Thompson v. Greene, 85 Ala. 240; Powell v. Henry, 96 Ala. 412; Brandon v. Montgomery Iron Works, 96 Ala. 506; Lewis v. Simon, 101 Ala. 546; Foster v. Smith, 104 Ala. 248; Powell v. Crawford, 110 Ala. 294; Hooper v. Birchfield, Ala. (22 So. 68). Form of judgment.—Collier v. White, 97 Ala. 615.

Ib. 1478. What may be pleaded in such case.—The defendant in any action under the provisions of this chapter brought by a mortgagee or by a vendor in a contract of conditional sale, or by their assignee, in addition to any defenses appropriate to the action of detinue, may plead any matter of defense that he might have pleaded if the action had been on the debt, except the statute of limitations.

1479 (2721) (2945) (2596) (2195). Failure of unsuccessful party to deliver property.—If the unsuccessful party, who has given bond and taken the property into possession, fails, for thirty days after the judgment, to deliver the property, and to pay the damages assessed for the detention thereof, and the costs, the sheriff must upon the bond make return of the fact of such failure; and thereupon, the bond has the force and effect of a judgment, on which execution may issue against any or all the obligors therein for the alternate value of the property as assessed by the jury, the damages assessed for its detention and the costs; if the property be delivered, and the damages assessed for its detention and the costs be not paid, the sheriff must upon the bond make return of the fact, and execution must issue against any or all of the obligors for such damages and costs, or for either, as either may be unpaid.

Dec. 12, 1888, p. 14. 1480. When suit is by mortgagee or vendor.—When the suit is by a mortgagee, or by a vendor in a contract of conditional sale, or their assignee, against the mortgagor or the vendee, or one holding under them, and suggestion is made as provided in section 1477 (2720), if the amount of the debt is ascertained to be less than the value of the property sued for, and the defendant has given bond and taken the property into his possession, and fails for thirty days after the judgment to deliver the property, or pay the amount found to be due, to the sheriff, execution may issue against the obligors in the bond for the amount of the debt assessed and the costs in like manner as provided in the preceding section.

1481 (2722) (2946) (2597) (2196). Bonds returned in ten days; penalty for neglect.—All bonds taken under this chapter must be returned within ten days thereafter to the clerk of the court in which the suit is pending; and on failure, the sheriff is liable to the successful party to the amount of the value of the property, and the damages for its detention as assessed by the jury, with interest thereon from the rendition of the judgment, to be recovered on motion to the court in which such judgment was rendered, on three days' notice, or the sheriff may, at any time, be compelled, by attachment, to make such return.

1482. When plaintiff is in possession and suit is dismissed or abated.—When the property sued for is in the possession of the plaintiff, and the suit is dismissed or abated, the court shall cause a jury to assess the alternate value of the property, and also the value of the hire or use thereof during the time it was in the possession of the plaintiff, and shall render judgment for the defendant for the recovery of the property, or its alternate value and damages for the use or hire thereof. Feb. 28, 1887, p. 131.

1483 (2723) (2947) (2598) (2197). Delivery compelled by attachment or distringas.—Any party recovering specific property may compel its restoration when practicable, by a writ of distringas, or moving for an attachment.

1484. Interposition of claim by person not a party to suit.—When a suit is brought for the recovery of personal property in specie under the provisions of section 1474, and the defendant shall neglect for five days to give bond as therein provided, if the property seized is claimed by a person not a party to the suit, and affidavit and bond is executed as required by law in cases of trial of right of property when levied on by writ of fieri facias, the property must be delivered to the claimant, and the affidavit and bond returned by the officer having in charge the property claimed with the summons, and thereupon the same proceedings must be had as in other trials of the right of property. CHAPTER 37.

DIVORCE AND ALIMONY, 1485-1503.

1. In favor of either party, when the other was, at the time of the marriage, physically and incurably incapacitated from entering into the marriage state.

2. For adultery.

3. For voluntary abandonment from bed and board for two years next preceding the filing of the bill.

4. Imprisonment in the penitentiary of this or any other state, for two years, the sentence being for seven years or longer.

5. The commission of the crime against nature, whether with mankind or beast, either before or after marriage.

6. For becoming addicted after marriage to habitual drunkenness.

Recrimination.—David v. David, 27 Ala. 222; King v. King, 28 Ala. 315; Hanberry v. Hanberry, 29 Ala. 719.

1488 (2325) (2688) (2354) (1964). Mode of proceeding in divorce suits.—The proceedings must, in all respects, be conducted as other suits in chancery, except as herein otherwise directed. The cause for which the divorce is sought must be alleged in the bill, to which the other party must be made defendant; and if a non-resident, publication made as in other chancery suits. And in making his decree in the cause, the chancellor shall, as the evidence and the nature of the case may warrant, direct whether the party against whom the decree of divorce is made be permitted to marry again, and where, in decrees now or hereafter rendered, no order is made allowing or disallowing the divorced party to marry again, it shall be competent for the chancellor, upon petition and proper proof, to allow or disallow the petitioner to marry again, as justice may seem to require.

Prohibition against second marriage has no extraterritorial operation. Fuller v. Fuller, 40 Ala. 301; Wilson v. Holt, 83 Ala. 528. Decree dissolves relation, notwithstanding attempt to suspend until costs paid.—Mickle v. State, Ala. (21 So. 66).

1489 (2326) (2689) (2355) (1965). Answer; effect of.—The defendant is not required to verify the answer by oath; and whether sworn to or not, it is not evidence in the cause, and can have no other effect than to put in issue the allegations of the bill.

Hughes v. Hughes, 44 Ala. 698.

1490. Wife may sue in her own name.—The wife may file her bill for any purpose under this chapter in her own name and without the intervention of a next friend.

1491 (2327) (2690) (2356) (1966). Cases in which divorces are to be refused.—No decree can be rendered on the confession of the parties, or either of them; or if it appear that adultery was committed by either, with the consent of the other, for the purpose of obtaining a divorce; or where both parties have committed adultery; or where there has been a condonation of adultery by the admission of the offending party to conjugal embraces, after knowledge of the commission of the crime; or when the husband knew of, or connived at the adultery of the wife.

1492 (2328) (2691) (2357) (1967). For abandonment, three years' residence to be proved.—No bill can be filed for a divorce on the ground of voluntary abandonment, unless the party applying therefor, whether husband or wife, has bona fide been a resident of this state for three years next before the filing of the bill, which must be alleged in the bill and proved.

Hendricks v. Hendricks, 72 Ala. 132.

1493 (2329) (2692) (2358) (1968). In what court bill must be filed.—Bills for divorce may be filed in the chancery district in which the defendant resides, or in the district in which the parties resided when the separation occurred; if the defendant is a non-resident, then in the district in which the other party to the marriage resides.

Reese v. Reese, 23 Ala. 785; Wiley v. Wiley, 27 Ala. 704; Edwards v. Edwards, 30 Ala. 394; Crossman v. Crossman, 33 Ala. 486; Turner v. Turner, 44 Ala. 437.

1494 (2330) (2693) (2359) (1969). If defendant a non-resident, a year's residence by plaintiff must be proved.—When the defendant is a non-resident, the other party to the marriage must have been a bona fide resident of this state for one year next before the filing of the bill, which must be alleged in the bill and proved.

Crossman v. Crossman, 33 Ala. 486.

Matter of right, not of discretion.—Ex parte King, 27 Ala. 387; Edwards v. Edwards, 80 Ala. 97; s. c., 84 Ala. 361; Jeter v. Jeter, 36 Ala. 391; Richardson v. Richardson, 4 Port. 467; Wray v. Wray, 33 Ala. 187; Ex parte Smith, 34 Ala. 455. Amount.—Turner v. Turner, 44 Ala. 437. Decree allowing, not a final decree.—Jeter v. Jeter, 36 Ala. 391.

1496 (2332) (2695) (2361) (1971). Allowance to wife on decree of divorce.—If the wife has no separate estate, or if it be insufficient for her maintenance, the chancellor, upon granting a divorce, must decree the wife an allowance out of the estate of the husband, taking into consideration the value thereof and the condition of his family.

Alimony may be decreed independently of proceedings for divorce.—Glover v. Glover, 16 Ala. 440; Mims v .Mims, 33 Ala. 98; Wray v. Wray, Ib. 187; Kinsey v. Kinsey, 37 Ala. 393; Hinds v. Hinds, 80 Ala. 225; Murray v. Murray, 84 Ala. 363; Downey v. Downey, 98 Ala. 373. But after divorce a vinculo suit for alimony cannot be maintained.—Downey v. Downey, 98 Ala. 373; Golden v. Golden, 102 Ala. 353. Amount.—Jeter v. Jeter, 36 Ala. 391; Turner v. Turner, 44 Ala. 437; Jones v. Jones, 95 Ala. 443; Golden v. Golden, 102 Ala. 353. After decree of divorce amount cannot be changed.—Smith v. Smith, 45 Ala. 264. But see Edwards v. Edwards, 84 Ala. 361; Murray v. Murray, Ib. 363. Conveyance in fraud of alimony.—Hinds v. Hinds, 80 Ala. 225; Turner v. Turner, 44 Ala. 437.

1497 (2333) (2696) (2362) (1972). Allowance when decree in favor of wife.—If the divorce is in favor of the wife for the misconduct of the husband, the allowance must be as liberal as the estate of the husband will permit, regard being had to the condition of his family and to all the circumstances of the case.

Jones v. Jones, 95 Ala. 443; Jeter v. Jeter, 36 Ala. 391; Lovett v. Lovett, 11 Ala. 763. Sharrit v. Sharrit, 112 Ala. 617.

1499 (2336) (2699) (2365) (1975). Divorce for pregnancy bastardizes issue.—When a divorce is granted the husband for the pregnancy of the wife at the time of the marriage, the issue is thereby bastardized.

1500 (2337) (2700) (2366) (1976). Effect of divorce on wife's separate estate.—A divorce deprives the husband of all control over the separate estate of his wife.

1501 (2338) (2701) (2367) (1977). Custody of children on decree of divorce.—Upon granting a divorce, the court may give the custody and education of the children of the marriage to either father or mother, as may seem right and proper, having regard to the moral character and prudence of the parents, the age and sex of the children; and pending the suit may make such orders in respect to the custody of the children as their safety and well-being may require. But in cases of abandonment of the husband by the wife, he shall have the custody of the children after they are seven years old, if he is a suitable person to have such charge.

Original jurisdiction of chancery over infants unimpaired.—Hansford v. Hansford, 10 Ala. 561; Bryan v. Bryan, 34 Ala. 516; Striplin v. Ware, 36 Ala. 88; Lee v. Lee, 55 Ala. 590; Anonymous, Ib. 428. Welfare of children the controlling consideration.—Cornelius v. Cornelius, 31 Ala. 479; Anonymous, 55 Ala. 428.

1502 (2339) (2702) (2368) (1979). Cases of divorce from bed and board.—The chancellor may decree a divorce from bed and board for cruelty in either of the parties, or for any cause which would justify a decree from the bonds of matrimony, if the party applying therefor desires only a divorce from bed and board.

1503 (2340) (2703) (2369) (1980). Proceedings in such cases. The proceedings in such cases are the same in all respects, and the court has the same power to make an allowance to the wife out of the estate of the husband, and provide for the custody and education of the children of the marriage, as provided in this chapter for divorces from the bonds of matrimony.

CHAPTER 38.

DOWER.

ARTICLE 1.—IN WHAT DOWER CONSISTS, AND HOW RELINQUISHED. 1504–1514.
2.—ASSIGNMENT OF DOWER. 1515–1528.

ARTICLE 1.

IN WHAT DOWER CONSISTS, AND HOW RELINQUISHED.

1504 (1892) (2232) (1624) (1354). Dower defined; of what lands widow is dowable.—Dower is an estate for the life of the widow in a certain portion of the following real estate of her husband, to which she has not relinquished her right during the marriage:

1. Of all lands of which the husband was seized in fee during the marriage.

2. Of all lands of which another was seized in fee to his use.

3. Of all lands to which, at the time of his death, he had a perfect equity, having paid all the purchase-money therefor.

Of lands of which the husband was seized in fee; what within.—Boyd v. Hunter, 44 Ala. 705; Flinn v. Barber, 64 Ala. 193; Brewer v. Browne, 68 Ala. 210; Norton v. Norton, 94 Ala. 481; Morgan v. Hendren, 102 Ala. 245. What not within.—Eslava v. Lepretre, 21 Ala. 504; Edmondson v. Welsh, 27 Ala. 578; Boynton v. Sawyer, 35 Ala. 497; Brooks v. Woods, 40 Ala. 538; Edwards v. Bibb, 54 Ala. 475. Of lands of which another was seized in fee to his use. Harrison v. Boyd, 36 Ala. 203; King v. King, 61 Ala. 479. Of lands to which he had a perfect equity.—Gillespie v. Somerville, 3 S. & P. 447; Lewis v. Moorman, 7 Port. 522; Edmondson v. Montague, 14 Ala. 370; Crabb v. Pratt, 15 Ala. 843; Boyd v. Harrison, 36 Ala. 533; Mattox v. Feagan, 57 Ala. 274; Lipscomb v. DeLemos, 68 Ala. 592; Pettus v. McKinney, 74 Ala. 108. Governed by law of force at death of husband.—Boyd v. Harrison, 36 Ala. 533; Ware v. Owens, 42 Ala. 212. When no rightful seizin in husband.—Tillman v. Spann, 68 Ala. 102. Proof of seizin.—Steele v. Brown, 70 Ala. 235. Sale and conveyance under execution no bar.—Irvine v. Armistead, 46 Ala. 363; Wood v. Morgan, 56 Ala. 397; Jackson v. Isbell, 109 Ala. 100; Sanders v. Wallace, Ala. (21 So. 947). Right of widow of deceased heir on sale for division.—Chaney v. Chaney, 38 Ala. 35: Hunter v. Law, 68 Ala. 365. When dower not merged in fee.—Humes v. Scruggs, 64 Ala. 40. Conveyance in fraud of dower right.—Kelly v. McGrath, 70 Ala. 75. How present value of contingent right estimated.—Gordon v. Tweedy, 74 Ala. 232. Right not forfeited by refusal to live with husband.—Potier v. Barclay, 15 Ala. 439.

1505 (1893) (2233) (1625) (1355). Extent of widow's dower interest.—The quantity of the dower interest is as follows:

1. When the husband dies leaving no lineal descendants, and his estate is not insolvent, his widow is entitled to be endowed of one-half his lands.

2. If in such case his estate is insolvent, to one-third part thereof.

3. When there are lineal descendants, then to one-third part thereof, whether the estate be solvent or not.

1506 (2354) (2715) (2380) (1991). Effect of separate estate on dower.—If any woman having a separate estate survive her husband, and such separate estate, exclusive of the rents, income and profits, is equal to, or greater in value than her dower interest and distributive share in her husband's estate, estimating her dower interest in his lands at seven years' rent of the dower interest, she shall not be entitled to dower in, or distribution of her husband's estate.

Does not affect homestead exemption.—Johnston v. Davenport, 42 Ala. 317. Nor dower in land aliened by husband.—Jackson v. Isbell, 109 Ala. 100. Does not refer to contract separate estate.—Smith v. Smith, 30 Ala. 642; Huckabee v. Andrews, 34 Ala. 646; Harris v. Harris, 71 Ala. 536. Separate estate and dower must be estimated as of the time of the husband's death.—Billingslea v. Glenn, 45 Ala. 540 (overruling Glenn v. Glenn, 41 Ala. 571, and Steadman v. Steadman, 41 Ala. 473). Reference to ascertain amount.—Barnes v. Carson, 59 Ala. 188. When statute has no application.—Gordon v. Tweedy, 74 Ala. 232. See also Wiggins v. Newberry, 72 Ala. 240; Dolan v. Dolan, 91 Ala. 152. Policy of insurance payable to wife within statute.—Wadsworth v. Miller, 103 Ala. 130; Williams v. Williams, 68 Ala. 405; but see Harris v. Harris, 71 Ala. 536. And a vested remainder in widow.—Zachry v. Lockard, 98 Ala. 371. And dower right in estate of former husband.—Sheppard v. Sheppard, 87 Ala. 560.

1507 (2355) (2716) (2381) (1992). When separate estate less than dower and distributive share.—If her separate estate be less in value than her dower, as ascertained by the rule furnished by the preceding section, and her distributive share, so much must be allowed her as, with her separate estate, would be equal to her dower and distributive share in her husband's estate, if she had no separate estate.

Dubose v. Dubose, 38 Ala. 238.

1508 (2335) (2698) (2364) (1974). Divorce bars dower.—A divorce from the bonds of matrimony bars the wife of her dower, and of any distributive share in the personal estate of her husband.

Hinson v. Bush, 84 Ala. 368 (overruling Williams v. Hale, 71 Ala. 83).

1509 (1894) (2234) (1626) (1356). Relinquishment of dower; how made.—The wife, if of the age of eighteen years, may relinquish her right to dower in land, by joining with her husband in a conveyance thereof, or by joining with her husband in a power of attorney, authorizing the attorney to convey the lands, or subsequently to a conveyance thereof by the husband, by a separate instrument executed by her alone; and in either case, her signature must be witnessed or acknowledged in the manner prescribed by this Code for the attestation or acknowledgment of other conveyances.

By joining in deed with husband.—Owen v. Paul, 16 Ala. 130; Snodgrass v. Clark, 44 Ala. 198; Pepper v. George, 51 Ala. 190; Curry v. Am. Freehold Land Mortgage Co., 107 Ala. 429. Supported by consideration to husband.—Bailey

v. Litten, 52 Ala. 282. After sale, but before deed by husband, upheld.—Nelson v. Holly, 50 Ala. 3. A conveyance of the inchoate right of dower, otherwise than to heir or terre-tenant by way of release, is void at law.—Saltmarsh v. Smith, 32 Ala. 404; Barber v. Williams, 74 Ala. 331; Johnson v. Smith, 70 Ala. 108; Turnipseed v. Fitzpatrick, 75 Ala. 297; Lytle v. Sandefur, 93 Ala. 396. But equity will protect alienee.—Reeves v. Brooks, 80 Ala. 26; Wilkinson v. Brandon, 92 Ala. 530. Nor is inchoate right available as a set-off. Saltmarsh v. Smith, 32 Ala. 404; Martin v. Wharton, 38 Ala. 637; Johnston v. Smith, 70 Ala. 108. Wife cannot create bar by agreement with husband during coverture.—Martin v. Martin, 22 Ala. 86.

1510 (1895) (2235) (1627) (1357). When she is out of the state. Married women, residing or living beyond the limits of this state, may in like manner convey or release their right of dower to any land within this state, such conveyance being acknowledged by them as other conveyances executed beyond this state.

1511 (1896.) Relinquishment when wife insane.—If the wife is, and has been by a court of competent jurisdiction adjudged insane, the court of probate of the county of the residence of the husband may, on his application, appoint a suitable person commissioner, with authority for her and in her name to execute a relinquishment of her right of dower in the lands, or any part of the lands of the husband.

Does not provide for relinquishment after death of the husband.—Clancy v. Stephens, 92 Ala. 577.

1512 (1897). Contents of application; proceedings thereon. The application must be in writing and verified by affidavit; must describe the lands in which it is proposed the dower of the wife shall be relinquished, and must state the age and health of the wife, and the estimated value of the lands, and also the age of the husband, and state of his health. The court must take the testimony of two or more credible witnesses in writing as to the value of the lands, and as to the sanity of the wife, and as to the age and health of husband and of wife, and ascertain the value of the right of dower. If the wife has a general guardian, notice of the application must be given to such guardian; and if she have no such guardian, notice must be given to such person as may have her care and custody; or if she have no guardian, or resides with and under the care and custody of the husband, or if he be her guardian, notice for her must be given to some suitable person of the appointment of the court. In all cases a guardian ad litem must be appointed to represent and defend for the wife.

1513 (1898). Guardian appointed for wife.—If the court ascertains that the wife is insane, and has been so adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction, and she has not a general guardian, the court must appoint a guardian for her, to whom the value of her right of dower, as ascertained by the court, must be paid; but if she have a general guardian, the court may order such value to be paid to such guardian. On the payment thereof and the report of the fact of payment filed in the court, an order must be entered, appointing a commissioner with authority for, and in the name of the wife, to execute a relinquishment of her dower; and such relinquishment, when executed, has the same force and effect a relinquishment executed by the wife, if sane, would have. The costs of such proceeding must be paid by the applicant.

1514 (1899) (2237) (1629). Wife joining in husband's conveyance not bound by warranty.—Neither the wife individually, nor her separate estate is bound by the covenant of warranty contained in any deed conveying land belonging to the husband, executed by such wife in connection with her husband; but such deed shall have the effect only of a relinquishment of dower, unless there be in such deed a special covenant of the wife, expressing her intention to bind her separate estate.

Curry v. American Freehold Land Mortg. Co., 107 Ala. 429.

ARTICLE 2.

ASSIGNMENT OF DOWER.

1515 (1900) (2238) (1630) (1359). Widow may retain dwelling, etc., until assignment of dower.—The widow may retain possession of the dwelling-house where her husband most usually resided next before his death, with the offices and buildings appurtenant thereto, and the plantation connected therewith, until her dower is assigned her, free from the payment of rent.

When not entitled to possession of plantation.—Smith v. Smith, 13 Ala. 329; McAllister v. McAllister, 37 Ala. 484; Waters v. Williams, 38 Ala. 680; Clary v. Sanders, 43 Ala. 287; Ogbourne v. Ogbourne, 60 Ala. 616; Melton v. Andrews, 76 Ala. 586. Quarantine not an estate which can be sold under execution or alienated.—Norton v. Norton, 94 Ala. 481; Boynton v. Sawyer, 35 Ala. 497; Wallace v. Hall, 19 Ala. 367; Cook v. Webb, 18 Ala. 810. Residence of the husband the controlling fact.—Clancy v. Stephens, 92 Ala. 577. Depends on fact, not quantum of dower.—Billingslea v. Glenn, 45 Ala. 540. Widow's rights and duties when administratrix.—Benagh v. Turrentine, 60 Ala. 557. Her right to complete a growing crop.—Blair v. Murphree, 81 Ala. 454. When duty of heir to have dower assigned.—Shelton v. Carrol, 16 Ala. 148. Character of quarantine interest.—Barber v. Williams, 74 Ala 331; Norton v. Norton, 94 Ala. 481; Robinson v. Allison, 97 Ala. 596; Lowery v. Rowland, 104 Ala. 420; Foy v. Wellborn, 112 Ala. 160. Marriage does not forfeit. Shelton v. Carrol, 16 Ala. 148. Not dependent upon wife's actual possession. Oakley v. Oakley, 30 Ala. 131; Inge v. Murphy, 14 Ala. 289. Husband's alienation does not affect.—Shelton v. Carrol, 16 Ala. 148; Oakley v. Oakley, 30 Ala. 131. Attaches only to premises of which widow is dowable.—Slatter v. Meek, 35 Ala. 528; Harrison v. Boyd, 36 Ala. 203; Pizzala v. Campbell, 46 Ala. 35. As to rent or mesne profits.—Inge v. Murphy, 14 Ala. 289; Shelton v. Carrol, 16 Ala. 148; Cook v. Webb, 18 Ala. 810; Pharis v. Leachman, 20 Ala. 662; McLaughlin v. Godwin, 23 Ala. 846; Oakley v. Oakley, 30 Ala. 131; Boynton v. Sawyer, 35 Ala. 497; Perrine v. Perrine, 35 Ala. 644; Slatter v. Meek, 35 Ala. 528; Waters v. Williams, 38 Ala. 680; Boyd v. Hunter, 44 Ala. 705; Benagh v. Turrentine, 60 Ala. 557; Tillman v. Spann, 68 Ala. 102; Steele v. Brown, 70 Ala. 235; Jenks v. Terrell, 73 Ala. 238; Reeves v. Brooks, 80 Ala. 26; Clancy v. Stephens, 92 Ala. 577. Possession under dower right, unexplained, not hostile to reversioner.—Robinson v. Allison, 97 Ala. 596; Foy v. Wellborn, 112 Ala. 160.

1516 (1901) (2239) (1631) (1360). Dower assigned by metes and bounds in probate court.—When the dower interest can be assigned by metes and bounds, the widow, heir, or personal representative of the husband may petition the court of probate of the county where the land in which the dower is claimed, or any portion thereof, lies, to cause assignment of dower to be made.

Jurisdiction of probate court.—Snodgrass v. Clark, 44 Ala. 198; Benagh v. Turrentine, 60 Ala. 557; Humes v. Scruggs, 64 Ala. 40; Bradford v. Bradford, 66 Ala. 252; Turnipseed v. Fitzpatrick, 75 Ala. 297. Jurisdiction of chancery court not affected.—Owen v. Slatter, 26 Ala. 547; Brooks v. Wood, 40 Ala. 538; Irvine v. Armistead, 46 Ala. 363; Wood v. Morgan, 56 Ala. 397. Jurisdiction exclusive to award compensation in lieu of dower or mesne profits.—Barney v. Frowner, 9 Ala. 901; Beavers v. Smith, 11 Ala. 20; Smith v. Smith, 13 Ala. 329; Thrasher v. Pinckard, 23 Ala. 616; Slatter v. Meek; 35 Ala. 528; Waters v. Williams, 38 Ala. 680; Humes v. Scruggs, 64 Ala. 40; Tygh v. Dolan, 95 Ala. 269. Description by numbers designated in government survey sufficient. Adams v. Barron, 13 Ala. 205.

1517 (1902) (2240) (1632) (1361). What petition must contain. The petition must contain—

1. The facts on which the widow's claim to dower rests, with a description of the land in which dower is claimed, by its designation at the land-office, when that can be done; if not, by metes and bounds, or such other description thereof as will identify it.

2. When the land in which dower is claimed has been aliened in the life of the husband, the name of the alienee, and his residence, if known; if he is not in possession of the land, the name of the person in possession.

3. The names of the widow and heirs at law, stating which are minors and married women, and the name of the personal representative of the husband, stating the county in which each resides, if resident in this state, and which of them, if any, are non-residents.

Allegations of the petition.—Green v. Green, 7 Port. 19; Martin v. Martin, 22 Ala. 86; Forrester v. Forrester, 38 Ala. 119; s. c., 39 Ala. 320.

1518 (1903) (2241) (1633) (1362). Notice to parties; day fixed for hearing.—Ten days' notice must be given to those adversely interested of the time when such petition will be filed, and an order for the assignment prayed; and thereupon, if the persons so notified are of full age, the court must proceed without delay to hear and determine the right to dower, unless good cause be shown for continuance.

1519 (1904) (2242) (1634) (1363). Guardians ad litem appointed for minors.—If any of the persons adversely interested are minors, guardians ad litem must be appointed to protect their interests.

1520 (1905) (2243) (1635) (1364). Proceedings when notice not given.—If such notice has not been given, the court must appoint a time for hearing the petition, and cause all persons interested to be cited then to appear. If any are non-residents, publication must be made of the time when the petition will be heard, once a week for three successive weeks, in a newspaper published in the county; if there be none, then in the county nearest to the court-house thereof, which shall be notice.

1521 (1906) (2244) (1636) (1365). What decree must contain, if widow entitled to dower.—If, on the hearing of the petition, the court considers the widow entitled to dower in the lands described, a decree must be made that she is entitled to dower in certain lands, describing them, and of what portion thereof, and directing the sheriff to summon five freeholders, not connected with the parties by consanguinity or affinity, to allot and set off, by metes and bounds, the widow's dower, having regard to the improvements and quality of the land, as well as the quantity of the dower.

1522 (1907) (2245) (1637) (1366). Oath of commissioners; dower set off by metes and bounds; return.—Before proceeding to made the assignment, the commissioners must take an oath, which may be administered by the sheriff, impartially, and to the best of their skill and ability, to assign the dower pursuant to the decree. They must set off and allot, by metes and bounds, the lands assigned by them as dower, and make return thereof in writing, subscribed by them, to the judge of probate, which, if confirmed by the court, must be recorded, and vests in the widow an estate for her life in the lands so assigned as dower.

Johnson v. Neil, 4 Ala. 166; Adams v. Barron, 13 Ala. 205; Austin v. Willis, 90 Ala. 421.

1523 (1908) (2246) (1638) (1367). Dwelling-house assigned to widow, if estate solvent.—When the estate of the husband is solvent, and the heirs will not thereby be prejudiced, the entire dwelling-house may be assigned to the widow as part of her dower in lieu of a corresponding portion of her dower in the land, equal in value to that portion of the dwelling-house of which she is not dowable as matter of right.

Langdon v. Stephens, 6 Ala. 730.

1524 (1909) (2247) (1639) (1368). Jurisdiction when lands lie in different counties; exception.—Land of which the widow may be endowed, lying in several counties, may be embraced in the same petition, and in such case the judge of probate may direct his writ to the sheriff of such counties, to summon five freeholders, as in other cases, to allot dower of the lands in their county (specifying them), according to the provisions of section 1521 (1906). But the court of probate has no jurisdiction to direct the allotment of dower out of the county, when the land has been aliened during the life of the husband.

1525 (1910) (2248) (1640) (1369). When chancery court alone has jurisdiction.—When land, out of which dower is demanded, has been aliened by the husband, and from improvements made by the alienee, or from any other cause, an assignment of dower by metes and bounds would be unjust, the court of probate must decline jurisdiction, and application must be made to the court of chancery.

When assignment by metes and bounds unjust.—Sanders v. McMillian, 98 Ala. 144; Morgan v. Hendren, 102 Ala. 245; Sheppard v. Sheppard, 87 Ala. 560. To bill for dower in lands sold under execution against the husband, all persons claiming interest must be made defendants; need not negative testamentary provision.—Sanders v. Wallace, Ala. (21 So. 947). See also citations to section 1516.

1526 (1911) (2249) (1641) (1370). Dowable of value of land; interest paid annually, unless certain sum agreed to.—In such case the widow is dowable of the value of the land at the time of the alienation, the interest on one-third part thereof from the death of the husband, to be paid to her annually, during her life, and secured, if necessary, by a lien on the land, unless the parties agree to a compensation in gross, which the court must give effect to.

Springle v. Shields, 17 Ala. 295; Francis v. Garrard, 18 Ala. 794; Ware v. Owens, 42 Ala. 212; Wood v. Morgan, 56 Ala. 397; Melton v. Andrews, 76 Ala. 586; Sanders v. McMillian, 98 Ala. 144.

1527 (1912) (2250) (1642) (1371). When judge of probate incompetent, petition may be made to circuit court.—When the judge of probate is, from any cause, incompetent to sit, the petition may, if the party so elect, be filed in the circuit court, which is hereby invested with all the powers conferred on the court of probate, and such court must proceed and make such order as the judge of probate should have done.

1528 (1913) (2251) (1643) (1372). Dower barred in three years. All proceedings or suits for dower, when the claim or rights of an alienee of the husband, or any one claiming under such alienee, are involved in such suit or proceedings, must be commenced within three years after the death of the husband, and not after.

Except as against alienee, there is no statutory bar, and the lapse of twenty years only will bar.—Ridgeway v. McAlpine, 31 Ala. 458; Owen v. Campbell, 32 Ala. 521; Barksdale v. Garrett, 64 Ala. 277; Elyton Land Co. v. Denny, 96 Ala. 336; Robert Graves Co. v. McDade, 108 Ala. 420. Recovery of mesne profits.—Boynton v. Sawyer, 35 Ala. 497; Slatter v. Meek, Ib. 528. See also Martin v. Martin, 35 Ala. 560.

CHAPTER 39.

EJECTMENT. 1529–1555.

1529 (2695) (2970) (2621). Action of ejectment.—A plaintiff suing for the recovery of lands, or of the possession thereof, has an election to proceed by an action of ejectment, or by an action in the nature of an action of ejectment, as is provided in the succeeding section.

1530 (2696) (2959, 2960) (2610, 2611) (2209, 2210). Action in the nature of ejectment.—An action for the recovery of lands, or the possession thereof, in the nature of an action of ejectment, may be maintained without a statement of any lease or demise to the plaintiff, or ouster by a casual or nominal ejector; and the complaint is sufficient if it alleges that the plaintiff was possessed of the premises, or has the legal title thereto, properly designating or describing them, and that the defendant entered thereupon, and unlawfully withholds and detains the same.

Applies only where ejectment was previously the remedy.—Henry v. Thorpe, 14 Ala. 103. Suit must be against actual occupant.—Smith v. Gayle, 58 Ala. 600; Morris v. Beebe, 54 Ala. 300. Person in possession and not sued, not bound by judgment.—Hooper v. Payne, 94 Ala. 223; Smith v. Gayle, 58 Ala. 600. Plaintiff must show title and right to possession at commencement of suit.—Williams v. Hartshorn, 30 Ala. 211; Goodman v. Winter, 64 Ala. 410; Slaughter v. McBride, 69 Ala. 510; Cofer v. Schening, 98 Ala. 338. If plaintiff's title determines before trial he cannot recover.—Bruce v. Bradshaw, 69 Ala. 360; Scranton v. Ballard, 64 Ala. 402. But adverse holder cannot set up con- veyance by plaintiff to another in bar of suit.—Davis v. Curry, 85 Ala. 133; Brunson v. Morgan, 86 Ala. 318; Pearson v. King, 99 Ala. 125. Grantee of land adversely held may sue in name of grantor.—Pearson v. King, 99 Ala. 125. Superior legal title must prevail, regardless of equities.—Kelly v. Hendricks, 57 Ala. 193; Searcey v. Oates, 68 Ala. 111; Downing v. Blair, 75 Ala. 216; Harrison v. Parmer, 76 Ala. 157; Hooper v. C. & W. Ry. Co., 78 Ala. 213; Simmons v. Simmons, Ib. 365. Equitable title will not support action.—You v. Flinn, 34 Ala. 409; Caldwell v. Parmer, 56 Ala. 405; Farley v. Whitehead, 63 Ala. 295; Eureka L. Co. v. Brown, 103 Ala. 140. Parties claiming title from common source each estopped from disputing that title.—Pendley v. Madison, 83 Ala. 484; Foster v. Winchester, 92 Ala. 497; Sullivan v. McLaughlin, 99 Ala. 60; Bernheim v. Horton, 103 Ala. 380. Tenant estopped from disputing title of landlord.—Russell v. Erwin, 38 Ala. 44; Elliott v. Dycke, 78 Ala. 150. Unless relation repudiated.—Wells v. Sheerer, 78 Ala. 142; Abbett v. Page, 92 Ala. 571; Ponder v. Cheeves, 104 Ala. 307. Personal representative may maintain action.—Tarver v. Smith, 38 Ala. 135; McRae v. McDonald, 57 Ala. 423; Wells v. Elliott, 68 Ala. 183; Landford v. Dunklin, 71 Ala. 594; Morgan v. Casey, 73 Ala. 222; Pendley v. Madison, 83 Ala. 484. But cannot join with heir or devisee.—Tarver v. Smith, supra. When action lies between tenants in common.—Southern, etc., Co. v. Henshaw, 89 Ala. 448. What purchaser at sheriff's sale must show in order to recover.—Hendon v. White, 52 Ala. 597; Elliott v. Dycke, 78 Ala. 150; Carrington v. Richardson, 79 Ala. 101. Defeated for want of interest subject to levy.—Clements v. Pearce, 63 Ala. 284. Chancery decree between parties, vesting title, will support action.—Brunson v. Morgan, 86 Ala. 318. And so as to arbitration and award.—Moore v. Helms, 74 Ala. 368; Payne v. Crawford, 97 Ala. 604. Mortgagee purchasing at sale under power may recover.—Hambrick v. N. E. Mortgage Security Co., 100 Ala. 551. Proof of prior possession, even though for less than the statutory period, will support action against trespasser.— Anderson v. Melear, 56 Ala. 621; Doe v. Clayton, 73 Ala. 359; Strange v. King, 84 Ala. 212; L. & N. R. Co. v. Philyaw, 88 Ala. 264; Lucy v. T. & C. R. Co., 92 Ala. 246; Payne v. Crawford, 102 Ala. 387. But not against person in possession under color of title.—Bernheim v. Horton, 103 Ala. 380; Gist v. Beaumont, 104 Ala. 347. Adverse possession for ten years, with or without color of title, confers title on the occupant.—Smith v. Roberts, 62 Ala. 83; Wilson v. Glenn, 68 Ala. 383; Burks v. Mitchell, 78 Ala. 61; Lucy v. T. & C. R. Co., 92 Ala. 246; Murray v. Hoyle, Ib. 559; Normant v. Eureka Co., 98 Ala. 181; N. C. & St. L. R. v. Hammond, 104 Ala. 191. But such possession does not affect the rights of the government.—Wiggins v. Kirby, 106 Ala. 262; Swann & Billups v. Gaston, 87 Ala. 569; Ala. St. L. Co. v. Kyle, 99 Ala. 474. Successive trespasses, without writing cannot be linked.—Black v. Pratt, etc., Co., 85 Ala. 504; s. c., 93 Ala. 109. Possession under color of title co-extensive with boundaries described; trespasser limited to actual occupancy.—Black v. Tenn., etc., Co., 93 Ala. 109; Burks v. Mitchell, 78 Ala. 61. What is color of title.—Lamar v. Minter, 13 Ala. 31, 41; Possession of purchaser entitled to deed co-extensive with his purchase.—Newsome v. Snow, 91 Ala. 641; Normant v. Eureka Co., 98 Ala. 181. Parol evidence to identify land admissible.—Bullock v. Malone, Minor, 400. Also to remove latent ambiguity in description.—Dane v. Glennon, 72 Ala. 160; Chambers v. Ringstaff, 69 Ala. 140. Possession or occupancy of land is a fact to which a witness may testify.—Steed v. Knowles, 97 Ala. 573; Eagle, etc., Co. v. Gibson, 62 Ala. 369; Woodstock Iron Co. v. Roberts, 87 Ala. 436. Unrecorded or defectively executed deed, when admissible to prove boundaries.—McInery v. Irwin, 90 Ala. 275; Alexander v. Savage, 90 Ala. 383; Ala. State Land Co. v. Kyle, 99 Ala. 474; Gist v. Beaumont, 104 Ala. 347; Postal Tel. Co. v. Brantley, 107 Ala. 683; Higdon v. Kennemer, 112 Ala. 351. When several plaintiffs join, there can be no recovery by one alone.—Oates v. Beckworth, 112 Ala. 356.

Defendant may introduce evidence not supporting his own title but disproving plaintiff's title, although not embraced in abstract furnished by him. Robbins v. Gilligan, 86 Ala. 254.

1532 (2698) (2962) (2613) (2212). Effect of pleading general issue.—The general issue in an action in the nature of an action of ejectment is "not guilty," and under it the defendant may give in evidence the same matters which may be given in evidence under such plea in an action of ejectment; the general issue is an admission that the defendant is in possession of the premises sued for.

Plea of not guilty equivalent to consent rule and admits defendant's possession at commencement of suit.—King v. Kent, 29 Ala. 542; Bernstein v. Humes, 60 Ala. 582; McQueen v. Lampley, 74 Ala. 408; Swann v. Kidd, 78 Ala. 173; Torrey v. Forbes, 94 Ala. 135. Not guilty is the only proper plea.—Richardson v. Stephens, Ala. (21 So. 949); Smith v. Cox, Ala. (22 So. 78). Under such plea defendant may show title by adverse holding, bona fide purchase, or any fact going to the title.—Bynum v. Gold, 106 Ala. 427; Lomb v. Pioneer S. & L. Co., 106 Ala. 591. Possession of life-tenant not adverse to remainder-man.—Pickett v. Pope, 74 Ala. 122; Bass v. Bass, 88 Ala. 408; Gindrat v. Western Ry., 96 Ala. 162; McLeod v. Bishop, 110 Ala. 640. When defendant may show outstanding paramount title.—Snedicor v. Freeman, 71 Ala. 140; Guilmartin v. Wood, 76 Ala. 204; Crosby v. Pridgen, Ib. 385; Lucy v. T. & C. R. Co., 92 Ala. 246. Defendant may set up title acquired after suit brought.—Pollard v. Hanrick, 74 Ala. 334. Conveyance from plaintiff pending suit.—pleaded puis darrein continuance.—Alexander v. Collins, 7. Ala. 480. Purpose and effect of consent rule.—Sledge v. Swift, 51 Ala. 386; King v. Kent, 29 Ala. 542; Morris v. Beebe, 54 Ala. 300. See citations to next section.

1533 (2699) (2963) (2614) (2213). Disclaimer of possession. The defendant may, in an action of ejectment, or in an action in the nature of an ejectment, disclaim possession of the premises sued for, in whole or in part, and, upon such disclaimer, the plaintiff may, if he so elects, take issue; and, if the issue be found for him, he is entitled to judgment as if the defendant had, in an action of ejectment, entered into the consent rule, confessing possession as well as lease, entry and ouster, or, in an action in the nature of an action of ejectment, had pleaded "not guilty," admitting possession.

Plea of not guilty and disclaimer as to same land inconsistent and not permissible.—Bernstein v. Humes, 60 Ala. 582; McQueen v. Lampley, 74 Ala. 408; Kirkland v. Trott, 66 Ala. 417; Buxbaum v. McCorley, 99 Ala. 537. Going to trial on such inconsistent pleas waives disclaimer.—Alexander v. Wheeler, 69 Ala. 332; Callan v. McDaniel, 72 Ala. 96; Crosby v. Pridgen, 76 Ala. 385. Possession of disclaiming defendant may be proved by his acts and declarations.—Kirkland v. Trott, 66 Ala. 417. Estoppel against ejectment.—Kelly v. Hendricks, 57 Ala. 193; Harris v. Miller, 71 Ala. 26; Gimon v. Davis, 36 Ala. 589; N. O. & S. R. Co. v. Jones, 68 Ala. 48; Hooper v. C. & W. Ry. Co., 78 Ala. 213; Forney v. Calhoun Co., 84 Ala. 215; S. & N. Ala. R. Co. v. A. G. S. R. Co., 102 Ala. 236.

1534 (2700) (2955) (2606) (2205). Landlord made party on motion.—When the suit is against a tenant, the landlord must be made a defendant to the suit on motion of the tenant, or, upon the landlord's application in writing, supported by affidavit that the defendant is his tenant by demise in writing, or is in the occupancy of the land sued for with his consent, or of some portion thereof, which must be specified in the application.

Construed liberally; extends to all persons claiming title consistently with possession of occupier.—Ex parte Webb, 58 Ala. 109; Faulkner v. Jones, 12 Ala. 165; Thompson v. Ives, 11 Ala. 239; Noble v. Coleman, 16 Ala. 77. Limitation same as if landlord had been made a party at commencement of suit.

Turner v. White, 97 Ala. 545. Landlord not bound by judgment unless he had notice or defended.—Patton v. Pitts, 80 Ala. 373; Smith v. Gayle, 58 Ala. 600. Landlord defending unsuccessfully charged with rents.—McCaskle v. Amarine, 12 Ala. 17.

1535 (2701) (2965) (2616) (2215). Tenant liable only for rent in arrear.—A tenant in possession, asserting his right thereto under a lease or license from another, is not liable beyond the rent in arrear at the commencement of the suit, and that which may accrue during the continuance of his possession.

1536 (2702) (2951) (2602) (2201). Suggestion of adverse possession for three years; proceedings on.—When a suit is brought to recover land or the possession thereof, the defendant may, at any time before the trial, suggest upon the record that he and those whose possession he has, have for three years next before the commencement of the suit, had adverse possession thereof, which must be construed to mean the same character of possession as will put in operation the statute of limitations. In such case, if the jury find for the plaintiff, they must also ascertain by their verdict whether such suggestion be true or false.

Suggestion of three years' adverse possession incompatible with one year limitation under fourth subsequent section and both cannot be insisted on. Hairston v. Dobbs, 80 Ala. 589; s. c., Ib. 594; Southern, etc., Co v. Henshaw, 89 Ala. 448; Turnipseed v. Fitzpatrick, 75 Ala. 297; Kerr v. Nicholas, 88 Ala. 346. Burden on defendant to prove truth of suggestion, value of improvements and value of land.—Kerr v. Nicholas, supra; Stephens v. Westwood, 25 Ala. 716. Under statute, defendant gets full value for improvements and plaintiff full rents or damages.—Turnipseed v. Fitzpatrick, supra; Kerr v. Nicholas, supra. Does not repeal common law authorizing defendant to set off value of improvements against rents or damages.—Kerr v. Nicholas, supra; Gordon v. Tweedy, 74 Ala. 232; Hollinger v. Smith, 4 Ala. 367.

1537 (2703) (2952) (2603) (2202). Verdict and judgment on suggestion.—If they find it to be false, they must return a verdict for the damages as in ordinary cases. If they find it to be true, they must assess the value, at the time of trial, of the permanent improvements made by the defendant, or those whose estate he has, and also ascertain by their verdict the value of the lands, and of the use and occupation thereof, not including the increased value by reason of such improvements; if the value of the use and occupation as assessed exceed the value of the permanent improvements made, judgment must be rendered against the defendant for the excess.

Sufficiency of verdict and judgment.—Foster v. Foster, 2 Stew. 356; Hamner v. Eddins, 3 Stew. 192; Sawyer v. Fitts, 4 S. & P. 365, 2 Port. 9; Sturdevant v. Murrell, 8 Port. 317; Bennett v. Morris, 9 Port. 171; McRae v. Tillman, 6 Ala. 486; Crommelin v. Minter, 9 Ala. 594; Henley v. Br. Bank, 16 Ala. 552; Gager v. Doe, 29 Ala. 341; Sims v. Thompson, 30 Ala. 158; Chapman v. Holding, 60 Ala. 522; Betz v. Mullin, 62 Ala. 365; Bishop v. Lalouette, 67 Ala. 197; Alexander v. Wheeler, 69 Ala. 332; s. c., 78 Ala. 167; Coltart v. Moore, 79 Ala. 361; Carlisle v. Killebrew, 91 Ala. 351; Bell v. Otts, 101 Ala. 186; Wiggins v. Steiner, 103 Ala. 655.

1538 (2704) (2953) (2604) (2203). If value of improvements greater than rents, possession retained for one year.—If the value of the improvements exceeds the value of the use and occupation, no writ of possession shall issue for one year after the rendition of the judgment, unless the plaintiff, or his legal representative, pay the defendant, or deposit with the clerk for him, the excess of the assessed value of the improvements over the value of the use and occupation.

1539 (2705) (2954) (2605) (2204). When, on non-payment of excess, plaintiff barred of his writ.—If the plaintiff, or his legal representative, neglect for the term of one year to pay such excess, and the defendant, or his legal representative, within three months after the expiration of the year, pays to the plaintiff, or to the clerk for him, the value of the land and of the use and occupation thereof as assessed by the jury, the plaintiff is forever barred from his writ of possession, and from maintaining any action whatever against the defendant, his heirs, or assigns, to recover such land or the possession thereof.*

1540 (2706) (2966) (2617) (2216). Persons having color of title bona fide, liable for only a year's rent.—Persons holding possession under color of title, in good faith, are not responsible for damages or rent for more than one year before the commencement of the suit.

Ormond v. Martin, 37 Ala. 598; Sanders v. Robertson, 57 Ala. 465; Dozier v. Mitchell, 65 Ala. 511; Allen v. Kellam, 69 Ala. 442; Ferris v. Montgomery, etc., Co., 94 Ala. 557. See citations to fourth preceding section.

1541. Adverse possession; when notice thereof must be filed in probate office.—Any person who, without color of title or bona fide claim of inheritance or of purchase, enters upon real estate and asserts adverse possession thereof, must give notice of such adverse possession and claim by filing, in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which the land lies, a declaration in writing subscribed by him, setting forth such claim and particularly describing the real estate of which he claims to be in the adverse possession; and such declaration must be recorded in a book to be kept by the judge of probate for that purpose. Feb. 11, 1893, p. 478.

1542. Form of declaration.—Such declaration must be substantially in the following form: "I (A. B.), hereby give notice that I am in adverse possession of the following described real estate (describing particularly the real estate) situated in —— county, Alabama. Given under my hand this —— day of ———.

A. B." Ib.

1543. Declaration recorded.—Such declaration must be recorded and the record thereof certified as conveyances of real estate, and is effectual as notice from the time of its delivery to the judge of probate. Ib.

1544. Declaration or copy thereof evidence.—When so recorded and certified, such declaration, or a certified copy of the record thereof, is evidence of the fact that such notice was given at the date of the filing thereof, but is not evidence of the fact of possession. Ib.

1545. Possession without notice not adverse.—Until the filing of such declaration, no such possession of real estate shall be deemed adverse to any one; and no evidence of such adverse possession prior to the time of filing such declaration shall be received in any suit Ib.

*As amended by joint committee.

involving the title to such real estate, except as provided in the next section.

Ib. 1546. Exceptions.—Any continuous adverse possession for ten years or more prior to the eleventh day of February, 1893, may be proved without the filing of such declaration; and any person who, prior to the date aforesaid, had been in such adverse possession of real estate for a time less than ten years and who has continued in such adverse possession, may adduce evidence covering the entire period of his possession if, prior to the commencement of the suit, he shall have filed the declaration as provided in this chapter and shall have further stated in such declaration, the time when his adverse possession began and that the same had continued unbroken from such time to the date of the filing of such declaration; but the time elapsing between the eleventh day of February, 1893, and the date of the filing of such declaration must not be computed as a portion of the time necessary to create a bar under the statute of limitations.

1547 (2707). Action by mortgagee against mortgagor.—If the action be by a mortgagee, or his assignee, against the mortgagor, or any one holding under him, the defendant may plead payment of the mortgage debt, or the performance of the condition of the mortgage, or any matters which might be pleaded to a direct action at law for the recovery of the mortgage debt except the statute of limitations; and the jury must pass upon such pleas, and must ascertain the amount of the mortgage debt if any is found to exist; if the verdict be for the defendant, judgment must be rendered for him, but if the verdict ascertain an amount due on the mortgage debt, judgment must be rendered for the plaintiff for the possession of the land, and the costs, and the amount of the mortgage debt as ascertained by the jury must be stated in the judgment; and if, within thirty days after the rendition of the judgment, the defendant shall pay to the plaintiff, or to the clerk for his use, such debt, interest and costs, then a writ of possession must not issue, and the clerk shall indorse upon the face of the record of the judgment, the fact of such payment.

1548 (2708) (2968) (2619) (2218). Judgment by default.—A judgment by default against a defendant is an admission of title in the plaintiff; but to recover costs against the defendant, the plaintiff must prove defendant's possession of the premises, or some part thereof, at the commencement of the suit.

Sims v. Thompson, 30 Ala. 158; Ivey v. Perry, 97 Ala. 583.

1549 (2709) (2967) (2618) (2217). Verdict for plaintiff; what should specify.—If the verdict is for the plaintiff, it must specify whether it is for the whole or a part only of the premises, and, if for a part, must describe such part, and judgment must be rendered accordingly.

1550 (2710) (2964) (2615) (2214). When several defendants, damages assessed severally.—When there are more defendants than one, the jury may assess the damages arising from the detention of the land, and the injury thereto, in severalty against each defendant for distinct damages.

Bishop v. Lalouette, 67 Ala. 197; Foster v. Foster, 2 Stew. 356; Rowland v. Ladiga, 21 Ala. 9; Torrey v. Forbes, 94 Ala. 135.

1551 (2711) (2958) (2609) (2208). Rent accrued after judgment recovered on motion.—The plaintiff may have judgment against the defendant for the rent of the premises which accrues after judgment, and before the delivery of possession, by motion in the circuit court where the judgment was rendered, on ten days' notice in writing, unless the judgment is stayed by appeal and supersedeas, in which case the motion may be made after affirmance of the judgment.

Kirkland v. Trott, 75 Ala. 321.

1552 (2712) (2949) (2600) (2199). If land recovered with growing crops, possession retained on giving bond.—If the defendant has a crop planted or growing on the premises, and the jury find for the plaintiff, they must also ascertain the rental value of the premises during the current year, and no writ of possession can be issued until the expiration of the year, if the defendant executes a bond in double the amount of such rent, payable to the plaintiff, with surety approved by the clerk, conditioned to pay the rent so assessed at the expiration of the year.

Carlisle v. Killebrew, 89 Ala. 329.

1553 (2713) (2950) (2601) (2200). Effect of bond.—The bond must be filed in the office of the clerk, and, if the rent be not paid at the expiration of the year, has the force and effect of a judgment, and thereon execution for the amount of the rent must issue against all the obligors, or such of them as may be living.

1554 (2714) (2969) (2620) (2219). Two judgments bar further suit.—Two judgments in favor of the defendant in an action of ejectment, or in an action in the nature of an action of ejectment, between the same parties, in which the same title is put in issue, is a bar to any action for the recovery of the land, or any part thereof, between the same parties or their privies, founded on the same title.

Jones v. DeGraffenreid, 60 Ala. 145; Camp v. Forrest, 13 Ala. 114; Boyle v. Wallace, 81 Ala. 352; Heard v. Pulaski, 80 Ala. 502; Hawes v. Rucker, 94 Ala. 166; Winston v. Hodges, 102 Ala. 304; Shumake v. Nelms, 25 Ala. 126. Second suit stayed until cost of first suit paid.—Ex parte Shear, 92 Ala. 596.

1555 (2716) (2957) (2608) (2207). Damages to time of verdict. Damages in actions for the possession, or for the use and occupation of land, must be computed to the time of the verdict.

Turnipseed v. Fitzpatrick, 75 Ala. 297.

ARTICLE 1.

ELECTORS.

1556 (319) (224). Qualification of electors.—Every male citizen of the United States, and every male person of foreign birth, who has been naturalized, or who may have legally declared his intention of becoming a citizen of one of the United States before he offers to vote, who is twenty-one years old, or upwards, who shall have resided in this state at least one year, in the county for three months, and in the precinct or ward for thirty days next immediately preceding the election at which he offers to vote, is, unless within the disabilities imposed by the provisions of this article, a qualified elector, and may vote in the precinct or ward of his actual residence, and not elsewhere, for all officers elected by the people; but electors, qualified as aforesaid, who have resided in any incorporated city in this state having a population of more than five thousand inhabitants for thirty days immediately preceding any election, and have within such thirty days removed their residence from one precinct to another in the same city, shall, after a residence therein of one day, be entitled to vote in the precinct in which they reside at the time of the election; but each of such electors must first deposit with the inspectors of election in said precinct the certificate of the judge of probate that said elector is duly registered in the precinct from which he has removed.

1557 (320). Disqualification of electors.—Those who have been convicted of treason, embezzlement of public funds, malfeasance in office, larceny, bribery, or other crime punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary, and idiots or lunatics shall not be permitted to vote in this state at any election by the people; provided, that on the application of any person disqualified by reason of conviction for any of the crimes mentioned in this section except treason, whether the conviction was had in a state or federal court, accompanied by the recommendation of fifty reputable citizens of the county of the residence of the petitioner, the governor is authorized to restore such person to all the rights and privileges of citizenship. As amended Dec. 14, 1894, p. 204.

Anderson v. State, 72 Ala. 187; Washington v. State, 75 Ala. 582; Gandy v. State, 82 Ala. 61, 86 Ala. 20.

1558 (321) (226). Loss or acquisition of residence.—No person shall lose or acquire a residence either by temporary absence from his place of residence without the intention of remaining, or by being a student of any institution of learning, or by navigating any of the waters of this state, the United States, or the high seas, without having acquired any other lawful residence, or by being absent from his place of residence in the civil service of the state, or the United States; neither shall any soldier, sailor, or marine, in the military or naval service of the United States, acquire a residence by being stationed in this state.

1559. Residence; right to select in certain cases.—When the place of residence of any person is located partly in two or more counties or precincts, such person may select the county or precinct of his residence, and, to that end, may file a statement in writing in the office of the judge of probate of the county selected, setting forth the locality of his residence and the lines passing through the same together with the county or precinct selected for residence, which statement, when filed and recorded, shall establish the residence of the person filing it in the county or precinct of his selection. Feb. 1, 1895, p. 346.

ARTICLE 2.

REGISTRATION.*

1560. Judges of probate superintend.—The judges of probate Feb. 21, 1893, p. 837, §1.

*On the 16th of February, 1897, an act was approved (Acts 1896-7, p. 1186), entitled "An act to regulate the registration of electors in the State of Alabama," which is as follows:

"SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of Alabama, That no registered elector of this state shall again be registered, or be required to register, so long as or while he may reside or continue to reside within the election precinct or ward in which he is registered for the last general election of state officers: Provided, that this act shall not apply to cities and towns having a population of five thousand or more.

"SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, That the registrar of each election precinct or ward shall be present at the polling-place in such precinct or ward on the day of any general or special election, and shall then register all such qualified electors, entitled to vote in such precinct or ward at such election, as have not been previously registered in the said precinct or ward.

"SEC 3. Be it further enacted, That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed."

shall superintend the registration of electors in their respective counties.

Ib. §2. 1561. Governor appoints county registrars.—The governor shall appoint one competent person as registrar for each county, and such registrar shall hold office for four years, and shall appoint a competent person as precinct registrar for each precinct in their respective counties, who shall hold office for four years or for the unexpired term of their predecessors in office, in the event of an appointment to fill a vacancy. The governor shall have power to fill any vacancy in the office of county registrar, and the county registrar shall have power to fill any vacancy in the office of precinct registrar. Such county and precinct registrars before entering on their duties shall take an oath of office as prescribed in article fifteen of the constitution of Alabama, which oath may be administered by any officer authorized by law to administer oaths in this state, and must be filed in the office of the judge of probate of the county. Such county and precinct registrars are authorized to administer the registration oath, and it shall not be lawful for any other officer or person to administer the same. The county registrar may, if he sees fit, act as registrar of the precinct in which he resides.

Ib. §3. 1562. Precinct registrars to make registration.—It shall be the duty of the precinct registrars within the several precincts for which they are appointed respectively, in each year in which any general state or federal election is to be held, to make registration of the electors residing in their precincts upon blank forms provided for that purpose, and they shall not register in any other way or in any other form than that herein prescribed. The registrar may register himself by entering his name on the list and issuing to himself a registration certificate.

Ib. 4. 1563. Time of registration.—The precinct registrars in each precinct shall begin registration on the first Monday in May, and shall continue the same for eighteen successive days, Sundays excepted, except in cities of five thousand or more inhabitants, when thirty days' time for registration shall be given, Sundays excepted.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 676, §1. 1564. Registration on the day of election.—It shall not be lawful to register any elector in any precinct in this state after the time herein prescribed for registration; but the precinct registrars shall be present at the polling-places in the precincts for which they are respectively appointed on the day of any general or special election to register such persons as may have reached the age of twenty-one years since the last registration; such other persons as had not, at the time of the last general registration, become qualified by reason of residence in the state and county for the time prescribed by law; but who have become so qualified since such general registration; such other persons as may make oath that they were unable by reason of absence from the county or by reason of sickness which confined them to their houses during the time appointed by law for general registration; such other persons as may make oath that they became bona fide residents of the precinct in which they propose to register not less than thirty days before the day of election and since the last general registration; but electors having the constitutional qualifications who may have resided in any incorporated city in this state having a population of more than five thousand inhabitants as determined by the next preceding federal census, for thirty days immediately preceding any election and have within such thirty days removed their residence from one precinct to another in the same city, shall, after a residence therein of one day, be entitled to vote in the precinct in which they reside at the time of the election; but each of said electors herein last provided for must first deposit with the inspectors of election in said precinct the certificate of the judge of probate that said elector is duly registered in the precinct from which he has removed, and no other person than those provided for in this section shall be permitted to register on the day of any election. The precinct registrar shall furnish to each elector who may register on the day of election a certificate of registration which shall be substantially in this form:

"State of Alabama, }
County of —— } Precinct No. ——

I, ——, precinct registrar, do hereby certify that —— —— has this day duly registered before me as an elector. Dated ———.

—— —— Registrar
Precinct No. ——."

If the precinct registrar fails to attend, or there is a vacancy in the office, the county registrar shall appoint some competent person as precinct registrar for that day, and if no appointment is made by ten o'clock of that day, then the inspectors of election, or any two of them, may appoint a precinct registrar who may act as such for that day; but nothing in this article shall be construed as repealing, altering or amending the ordinances of any municipal corporation, chartered by the general assembly, providing for the separate registration of electors for municipal elections.

1565. Certificate of registration.—The precinct registrar shall furnish to each elector who may register a certificate of registration, which shall be in the following form substantially: Feb. 21, 1893, p. 837, §6.

"State of Alabama, }
County of —— }

I, ——, precinct registrar, do hereby certify that —— —— has this day registered before me as an elector in precinct No. ——.

Witness my hand this —— day of ———, 18—

—— —— Registrar
Precinct No. ——."

1566. Copy of registration-list.—The precinct registrar shall, within two weeks after the expiration of the time prescribed for registration, make a true copy of the list of names registered, which copy, along with the original registration-list, he must return to the office of the judge of probate of the county. Ib. §7.

1567. Judge of probate to make lists.—The judge of probate Ib. §8.

shall, from the registration-list of electors returned to his office, make correct alphabetical lists of the electors registered by precincts, which lists shall be certified by him officially to be a full and correct copy of the lists of registered electors for each precinct respectively as the same appear from the returns of the registrars on file in his office. One copy of said list for each precinct the judge of probate shall deliver to the inspectors in each precinct immediately preceding every election.

Ib. §9. 1568. Judge of probate to furnish books and blanks.—The judge of probate must furnish, previous to the first day of May of each year in which any general state or federal election is to be held, to the precinct registrars, the books and blank forms necessary for the registration of electors.

Ib. §9. 1569. Form of registration-book.—Each page of the registration-book shall be in the following form:

"State of Alabama, }
County of —— }

We, the undersigned, registered electors, each for himself, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that we will support and maintain the constitution of the United States and the constitution and laws of the State of Alabama; that we are not excluded from registering and voting by any clauses of section 3 of article eight of the constitution of the State of Alabama, and that we are qualified electors under the constitution and laws of this state.

NO.	DATE.	NAMES OF ELECTORS.	WHITE OR COLORED.	REGISTRAR'S ATTESTATION.	RESIDENCE.	EMPLOYER'S NAME, AND REMARKS.
.....	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....
.....	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....

I, —— ——, registrar for precinct No. ——, in the county of ——, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing names of registered electors, from number one to number —— inclusive, were duly registered by me according to law, and that each of said electors so registered took and subscribed before me the above and foregoing oath on the dates set opposite to their several names.

Witness my hand this —— day of ——, 18—

—— —— Precinct Registrar."

Ib. §§10, 11. 1570. Compensation of judges and registrars.—Each judge of probate shall be paid for his services about the registration and certification of electors, such reasonable compensation as may be allowed by the court of county commissioners or the board of revenue, in no case less than two cents for each elector registered and certified, and in addition thereto the necessary expense of printing and purchasing the books and blanks required. And the precinct registrars shall be paid by the county three cents for each elector registered and certified.

St. Clair Co. v. Smith, 112 Ala. 347.

1571. Precinct registrar failing to act, county registrar appoints.—When any precinct registrar fails or refuses to perform the duties of his office, or if there is a vacancy in the office of precinct registrar, the county registrar must appoint some competent person to act in his stead. Ib. §12.

1572. Where electors must register.—It shall be unlawful to register any elector except in the precinct in which he is entitled to vote, and the precinct registrar, when he has no personal knowledge of the identity or residence of the person offering to register, shall examine him under oath touching the same, which oath shall be administered by the precinct registrar. Ib. §13.

ARTICLE 3.

GENERAL ELECTIONS; WHAT OFFICERS ELECTED, AND WHEN.

1573 (338) (243). Officers elected by the people.—The following officers in this state shall be elected by the qualified electors thereof: Governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, state auditor, attorney-general, superintendent of education, commissioner of agriculture, senators and representatives in the general assembly, chief justice and associate justices of the supreme court, judges of the circuit courts, chancellors, judges of the probate court, judges of other inferior courts in cases not otherwise provided for by law, sheriffs, coroners, clerks of the circuit courts, tax-assessors, tax-collectors, county treasurers, county superintendents of education, county commissioners, constables, justices of the peace, representatives in congress, and electors for president and vice-president of the United States.

1574 (339) (244). General elections.—General elections throughout this state shall be held for governor, secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer, attorney-general, superintendent of education, commissioner of agriculture, chief justice and associate justices of the supreme court, and electors for president and vice-president of the United States; for a member of congress in each congressional district; a chancellor in each chancery division; a judge of the circuit court in each judicial circuit; a senator for each senatorial district; a representative or representatives in the general assembly, a judge of the probate court, sheriff, clerk of the circuit court, tax-assessor, tax-collector, a county treasurer in every county where such office exists, coroner and county commissioners, in each county; justices of the peace and constables in each precinct of each county.

missioner of agriculture, and representatives in the general assembly shall be elected on the first Monday in August, 1898, and every second year thereafter; senators from the odd numbered districts shall be elected on the first Monday in August, 1898, and every fourth year thereafter; senators from even numbered districts shall be elected on the first Monday in August, 1900, and every fourth year thereafter.

1576 (341). Time of electing county officers.—One sheriff, one coroner, four county commissioners, one tax-assessor, one tax-collector, one county treasurer, where such office exists, two justices of the peace and one constable for each election precinct shall be elected on the first Monday in August, 1900, and every fourth year thereafter; but as to county commissioners and treasurers, this section shall not apply to counties where special laws as to those officers are in force.

1577. Time of electing county superintendent of education.—One county superintendent of education shall be elected, except in cases otherwise provided for by special laws, on the first Monday in August, 1898, and every two years thereafter.

1578 (342) (247). Time of electing judicial and ministerial officers.—The judges of the supreme court, chancellors, judges of the circuit and probate courts and judges of city and other inferior courts, clerks of the circuit and city courts, except in cases otherwise provided for by law, shall be elected on the first Monday in August, 1898, and every sixth year thereafter.

1579 (343) (248). Time of electing presidential electors and members of congress.—Electors for president and vice-president of the United States shall be elected on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1900, and every fourth year thereafter; a member of congress from each congressional district shall be elected on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1898, and every second year thereafter.

ARTICLE 4.

PRECINCTS, POLLING-PLACES AND BOXES.

1580 (344) (251). Election precincts.—The counties in this state, as now divided into election precincts, and the boundaries of such precincts, as now defined, shall so remain until changed by an order of the court of county commissioners, or by an act of the general assembly.

1581 (345) (252) (228) (185). Establishment, change and abolition.—The courts of county commissioners may, in their respective counties, establish, change, or abolish election precincts, and places of voting therein, and may change the boundary lines thereof, as the convenience of the voters in such precincts may, in their judgment, require; but no order under this section shall take effect, unless made at least sixty days before any election, nor until three months after notice thereof has been posted up at the court-house door of such county.

1582 (346) (253) (227). Two places of voting in the same precinct.—The several courts of county commissioners, within their respective counties, may establish two places of voting in the same election precinct, when it is deemed necessary to the convenience of the voters therein; but no such change shall be made within less than thirty days before an election.

1583 (347) (254) (229) (186). Orders for same to be recorded. All orders made under the provisions of the two preceding sections must be recorded within three days after the adjournment of the court at which the same were made.

1584 (348) (255) (226) (184). How numbers and boundaries of precincts and places of voting are known.—The numbers and boundaries of precincts and the places of holding elections must be known and designated as entered upon the records of the court of county commissioners.

1585 (349) (256). Places of voting.—The court-house is the place of holding elections in the precinct in which it is situated, and elections must be held at such places in the other precincts as are now designated by law for that purpose, or may be designated hereafter by the court of county commissioners.

1586 (350) (257). Notice of change in precincts and places of voting.—Whenever a change has been made by the court of county commissioners in the number or boundaries of precincts, or in the places of voting therein, it shall be the duty of the judge of probate, within five days thereafter, to give notice of such change, to be posted by the sheriff at the court-house door, and at two public places in such precinct. Such notice must describe such precinct by its number, and must specify the place where elections are to be held therein, and the change or changes, if any, in the boundaries or number thereof.

1587 (351) (258). Number of ballot-boxes and by whom provided.—The judge of probate, sheriff, and clerk of the circuit court of each county in this state shall provide one ballot-box, and where it is deemed necessary, shall provide more than one, and not more than three, at each place of voting.

ARTICLE 5.

OFFICERS OF ELECTION; THEIR APPOINTMENT AND DUTIES.

1588 (352) (259). Inspectors and precinct returning-officers, how appointed.—The judge of probate, sheriff, clerk of the circuit court, or any two of them, must, at least thirty days before the holding of any election in their county, appoint three inspectors for each place of voting, two of whom shall be members of opposing political parties, if practicable, and one returning-officer for each precinct, to act at the place of holding elections in each precinct; and it shall be the duty of the sheriff to notify such inspectors and returning-officers of their appointment within ten days after such appointment.

Taylor v. Kolb, 100 Ala. 603.

1589 (353) (260). Sheriff is county returning-officer.—The sheriff of each county, or the person discharging the duties of such office, is the returning-officer for his county.

1591 (355) (262). Duties of inspectors and returning-officers; how places supplied on failure to attend.—It shall be the duty of the inspectors and the returning-officers appointed to meet at the place of holding elections in the several precincts for which they have been appointed, by eight o'clock of the morning of the day of election, and, before nine o'clock, open the several polling-places as designated; and on the failure of any inspector or returning-officer to attend at the hour of eight, such as may be present may complete the number. If none of the inspectors appointed are present, the returning-officer of the precinct shall appoint three inspectors to act, who, in every such instance shall be qualified electors who are entitled to vote at that polling-place; and if there should be no inspector or returning-officer present by the hour of eight, at any polling-place, then any three qualified electors who are entitled by law to vote at that polling-place in the election then to be held, may open the polls and act as inspectors during the election.

1592 (356) (263). Returning-officer absent, inspectors appoint. If the returning-officer is not present at the hour appointed, the inspectors, or those acting as such, must appoint one to serve during the election.

1593 (357) (264) (243) (201). Clerks of election.—The inspectors, before opening the polls, must select two persons to act as clerks.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 676, §3. 1594. Markers.—Upon opening the polls the inspectors must appoint two or more markers, or assistants for illiterate and disabled electors, one from each of the opposing political parties who may have candidates to be voted for at the election, and each of whom must be a discreet person able to read and write, and the inspectors, or any two of them, shall, in like manner from time to time as often as may be necessary to give every illiterate elector and every physically disabled elector an opportunity to vote, appoint a marker who must be selected as provided for the selection of the first two.

Ib. 1595. Clerks and markers appointed from lists.—Clerks and markers must be appointed from a list of persons, not less than six nor more than ten in any one precinct, who may be suggested for that purpose by the duly constituted authorities respectively of the opposing political parties having candidates to be voted for at the election, and the opposing political parties shall each have the right to suggest a list of names, not less than six nor more than ten in each precinct, to act as clerks and markers. If no lists are furnished, the inspectors shall appoint clerks and markers from opposing political parties.

1596. Residence of inspectors, clerks and markers.—No inspector, clerk or marker shall be appointed, nor shall act as such, except in the precinct of his residence at the time of the election. Ib.

1597 (358) (265) (244) (202). Oath of inspectors, clerks and markers.—Before entering upon their duties the inspectors, clerks and markers must take an oath to perform their duties at the election according to law, and such oath may be administered by any person authorized by law to admipister oaths or by any one of the inspectors. Ib.

ARTICLE 6.

SPECIAL ELECTIONS.

1598 (359) (249). Special elections; when and for what offices held.—Special elections are to be held in the following cases:

1. When a vacancy occurs in the office of senator or representative in the general assembly, when the general assembly will be in session prior to the next general election for that office.

2. When a vacancy occurs in the office of representative in the congress of the United States, by which the state may be deprived of its full representation at any time congress will be in session prior to the next general election for that office.

3. Whenever any general or special election for members of the general assembly, or for representatives in congress, is not held.

4. When any vacancy occurs in any state or county office filled by election of the people, not otherwise provided for by the constitution or laws of this state.

5. In such other cases as are, or may be provided for by law.

1599 (360) (250). Day for holding special elections.—All special elections shall be held on such day as the governor may direct.

1600 (361) (266) (233) (191). Special elections ordered by governor.—All special elections, provided for by this article, are to be ordered by the governor, who must issue writs of election, directed to the sheriffs of the counties in which such election is required to be held; and must specify therein the district or county in which, and the day on which, such election is to be held; the cause and object of the same; the name of the person in whose office the vacancy has occurred; and in all cases in which a special election is directed in a district composed of more than one county, such election must be directed to be held on the same day in each county.

1601 (362) (267). Proclamation of election for congress or state officers.—The governor must give notice of any special election for representatives in congress, or state officers, by proclamation.

1602 (363) (268). Sheriff to give notice of elections in his county. Whenever the sheriff of any county receives a writ of election directing a special election to be held, or receives notice of a special election for representatives in congress, or for any state or county officers, such sheriff must immediately give notice by proclamation of the time, place and object of such election as provided by law.

1603 (364) (269). Sheriff must notify probate judge and clerk. When any special election is ordered by the governor, the sheriffs of the counties in which such election is to be held, must, within three days after receiving notice thereof, notify the probate judge and clerk of the circuit court of their respective counties of such special election.

1604 (365) (270) How conducted and certificates given.—Special elections are to be held and conducted, the returns thereof made, and certificates given, and, unless otherwise expressly provided, regulated in all respects by the provisions in relation to general elections.

ARTICLE 7.

THE BALLOT.

Feb. 21, 1893, p. 887, §14.

1605. Voting shall be by secret official ballot.—In all elections held in this state on any subject which may be submitted by law to a vote of the people, and for all or any state, county, district or municipal officers, the voting shall be by secret official ballots printed and distributed as provided in this article, and no ballot shall be received or counted in any election except it be provided as herein prescribed.

Ib. §16.

1606. Nominations; certifying the same.—The probate judge of each county shall cause to be printed on the ballots to be used in their respective counties the names of all candidates who have been put in nomination by any caucus, convention, mass-meeting, primary election or other assembly of any political party or faction in this state and certified in writing and filed with him not more than sixty nor less than twenty days previous to the day of election. The certificate must contain the name of each person nominated and the office for which he is nominated and must be signed by the presiding officer and secretary of such caucus, convention, mass-meeting, or other assembly, or by the canvassing-board of such primary election, and their signatures must be duly acknowledged by one or more of them before an officer authorized by law to take acknowledgments. The judge of probate shall also cause to be printed upon the ballots the name of any qualified elector who has been requested to be a candidate for any state, county, municipal or federal office by written petition signed, in case of a candidate for a state or federal office by at least five hundred electors, and in case of a county or municipal office, by at least twenty-five electors qualified to vote in the election to fill said office, when such petition has been filed with him not more than sixty nor less than twenty days previous to the election.

In case of a person to be voted for by the electors of the whole state, or of an entire congressional district or judicial circuit or division, the certificate of nomination or the petition must be filed in the office of the secretary of state not less than thirty days before the day of election; and the secretary of state must thereupon immediately certify, to the judge of probate of each county in the state in case of an officer to be voted for by the electors of the whole state, and to the judges of probate of the counties composing the circuit, division or district in case of an officer to be voted for by the electors of a circuit, division or district, upon suitable blanks to be prepared by him for that purpose, the fact of such nomination and the name of the nominee or nominees, and the office to which he or they may be nominated. In case of a person to be voted for by the electors of a senatorial district, the petition or certificate of nomination must be filed with the judge of probate of each county composing the senatorial district.

1607. Contents of the ballot.—The ballots printed in accordance with the provisions of this article shall contain the names of all candidates nominated by caucus, convention, mass-meeting, primary election or other assembly of any political party or faction, or by petition of electors, and certified to him as provided in the preceding section; but the name of no person shall be printed upon the ballots who may, not less than twenty days before the election, notify the judge of probate, in writing acknowledged before an officer authorized by law to take acknowledgments, that he will not accept the nomination specified in the certificate of nomination or petition of electors. And in addition to the names printed upon said ballots, and whether there be any names printed thereon or not, there shall be printed under the title of each office to be filled at the election, blank lines in number equal to the number of persons who may be elected to fill that office. The order in which the titles of the several offices to be filled may be arranged upon the ballots shall be left to the discretion of the judge of probate, but the names of all candidates for the same office must be printed together and arranged alphabetically according to the initial letters of their surnames irrespective of party. Ib. §§16, 19.

1608. Constitutional amendments, how printed.—Whenever a constitutional amendment or other public measure is submitted to a vote of the people, the substance of such amendment or other public measure must be twice in the same language clearly indicated upon the ballot after the list of candidates, followed in one case by the word "Yes," and in the other by the word "No." Ib. §20.

1609. Pay for printing.—The printing and delivery of the ballots and cards of instructions to voters shall, in municipal elections, be paid for by the several cities or towns, and in all other elections by the several counties respectively. Ib. §15.

1610. Preserving certificate and petitions of nomination.—The probate judge shall cause to be preserved all certificates and petitions of nomination filed in his office under the provisions of this article Ib. §18.

for six months after the election for which such nominations are made.

Ib. §21. 1611. Form of the ballot.—All ballots provided by the judge of probate of any county for an election shall be alike, printed in plain type, in straight lines, upon plain white paper of such thickness that the printing cannot be distinguished from the back, with a slender line between each name and extending sufficiently to the left of the names to easily permit making a cross-mark (X) before each name, and in the appropriate place the words "Vote for one" (or two, or other number, as the case may be), to indicate the number which may be elected to each office, and shall be substantially in the following form, except the order in which the several offices to be filled are stated, namely:

OFFICIAL BALLOT, ELECTION —— 18—.

(Make a cross-mark (X) before the name of the candidate of your choice.)

Vote for one.	For Governor.
	Henry Fisher.
	William Jones.
	John Smith.
Vote for one.	For Sheriff.
	Thomas Jones.
	William King.
Vote for two.	For Representatives in the General Assembly.
	William Daniels.
	John Doe.
	Thomas Moore.
	James White.
	School Amendment to the Constitution. Yes.
	School Amendment to the Constitution. No.
	Road Bonds. Yes.
	Road Bonds. No.

Ib. §22. 1612. Ballots bound together.—All ballots for use in each precinct shall be fastened together in convenient numbers in books or blocks in such manner that each ballot may be detached and removed separately. Each ballot shall have attached to it a stub of sufficient size to enable one of the inspectors to write or stamp his name or initials thereon and so attached to the ballot that when the same is folded the stub can be detached therefrom without injury to the ballot or exposing the contents thereof.

1613. Number provided.—There shall be provided for each voting-place at least one hundred ballots for each fifty registered electors at that place. Ib. §23.

1614. When judge of probate fails to do his duty.—In the event the judge of probate of any county is unable, or neglects, or fails, or refuses to perform the duties prescribed in this article, the duties, responsibilities and authority of the judge of probate shall devolve upon the clerk of the circuit court of the county. Ib. §45.

1615. Municipal elections, duties of mayor.—In case of any municipal election held at a time different from a general state or federal election, the duties herein prescribed for the judge of probate in respect to receiving nominations, printing and distributing ballots and cards of instruction, shall be discharged under the same sanctions by the mayor or other chief executive officer of the city or town. Ib. §47.

ARTICLE 8.

CONDUCT OF THE ELECTION.

1616. Voting-booths.—The sheriff of each county, at the expense of the county, or in case of a municipal election, the mayor or other chief executive officer, at the expense of the city or town, shall provide at each polling-place a room or covered inclosure, and in such room or covered inclosure, shall provide booths or compartments, one booth or compartment for each one hundred or fraction of one hundred over fifty electors registered in the precinct for that election, and shall furnish each booth with a shelf or table for the convenience of electors in the preparation of their ballots. Each booth or compartment shall be so arranged that it will be impossible for one elector at a shelf or table in one compartment to see an elector at a shelf or table in another compartment in the act of marking his ballot. Each voting shelf or table shall be kept supplied with conveniences for marking the ballots. Ib. §24.

1617. Cards of instruction.—The judge of probate shall cause to be printed in large type cards of instruction for the guidance of electors in preparing their ballots. He shall furnish to the sheriff twelve, or more, if necessary, such cards for each precinct, and it shall be the duty of the sheriff to post one of such cards in each booth or compartment for the preparation of ballots, and not less than three in prominent places elsewhere about and outside of the polling-place on the day of election. Such cards shall be printed in large clear type, and shall contain full instructions to electors as to what should be done: First, to obtain ballots for voting; second, to prepare the ballot for deposit in the ballot-box; third, to obtain a new ballot in place of one accidentally spoiled. Ib. §26.

1618 (366) (271). Hours of opening and closing the polls.—The polls must be opened at each place of voting, in each precinct, between the hours of eight and nine o'clock in the morning, and be kept open without intermission or adjournment until the hour of five in the afternoon and no longer.

1619 (367) (272). Proclamation to be made.—The inspectors, before they commence receiving ballots, must cause it to be proclaimed aloud at the place of voting, that the election is opened.

1620 (368) (273). Elector must be registered and must vote in his precinct.—At all elections by the people of this state the elector must vote in the county and precinct of his residence and nowhere else, and must have registered as provided in this chapter; and if any elector attempts to vote in any precinct other than that of his residence or without having registered for that election his vote must be rejected.

Feb. 21, 1893, p. 837, §28.

1621. Persons permitted in the polling-place.—Except as electors are admitted, one at a time, to vote, and except the sheriff, or his deputy, the inspectors and clerks of election, as many electors as there may be booths or compartments, and as many markers as may be necessary to give every physically disabled or illiterate voter an opportunity to vote, no person shall be permitted within fifty feet of the polling-place.

Ib. §32.

1622. Preparing the ballot.—Each elector, upon entering the polling-place, shall be given one ballot by the inspectors. Before delivering the ballot to the elector at least one of the inspectors shall write or stamp, or shall have already stamped or written, his name or the initials of his name on the stub attached to the ballot; on receiving the ballot the elector shall forthwith, and without leaving the polling-place, retire alone to one of the booths or compartments provided for that purpose, and there prepare his ballot by marking with pen and ink or pencil or stencil in the appropriate place or margin a cross-mark (X) before the name of the candidate of his choice for each office to be filled, or by filling in the name of the candidate of his choice in the blank space provided therefor and marking a cross-mark (X) in the appropriate margin, and likewise by marking a cross-mark before the answer he desires in case of a constitutional amendment or other question submitted to a vote of the people.

Ib. §§33, 34.

1623. Assistance to electors.—Any elector applying to vote, who shall declare on oath, which may be administered by any one of the inspectors, that by reason of his inability to read the English language, or by reason of blindness, or the loss of the use of his hand or hands, he is unable to prepare his ballot, may have the assistance of a marker to be selected by him from the number of markers appointed by the inspectors, or, in the event no markers are available, of an inspector to be selected by him, in the preparation of his ballot, and the marker or inspector so selected shall retire to a booth or compartment with the elector and there mark the elector's ballot by marking with pen and ink or pencil or stencil cross-marks (X) before the names of each candidate for each office to be given to him by the elector without suggestion or interference from the marker or inspector. The marker or inspector assisting the elector shall then deliver the ballot to the elector and withdraw from the booth or compartment. In all other respects he shall vote as is required of other electors; but no candidate for election shall act as marker or inspector in assisting any elector in the preparation of his ballot; and in all cases any elector asking assistance in the preparation of his ballot, before retiring to the booth, may have one of the clerks of election to read over to him the titles of the offices to be filled and of the candidates therefor.

1624. When elector spoils his ballot.—Any elector who shall by accident or mistake spoil a ballot so that he cannot conveniently or safely vote the same, may return it to the inspectors and receive another in lieu thereof. In no case shall any person be permitted to carry a ballot outside of the polling-place. Ib. §40.

1625 (371) (275). Depositing the ballot.—After preparing his ballot the elector shall fold the same so as to conceal the face thereof and show the stub thereto attached with the name or initials of the inspector, and hand it to the receiving-inspector. The inspector must receive the ballot folded, and call the name of the elector audibly and distinctly, and the name of each elector whose ballot has been received must be immediately taken down by each clerk on separate lists, which shall be headed "names of voters," and called "poll-lists"; and the number of the order in which such elector votes must at the same time be entered by each clerk against his name, the first elector voting being numbered one, the second, two, and so on, to the last elector voting. Ib. §41.

1626 (372) (276). Duty of inspector as to ballot.—The inspector receiving the ballot, shall detach the stub and pass the ballot to each of the other inspectors, and it must then, without being opened or examined, be deposited in the proper ballot-box. Ib.

1627. Time booth may be occupied.—When all the booths or compartments are occupied and other electors are waiting to vote, no elector shall occupy a booth or compartment for a longer time than five minutes. No elector shall be allowed to occupy a booth or compartment already occupied by another, nor to speak or converse with any one, except as herein provided, while in the polling-place. Ib. §30.

1628. Elector to withdraw from booth.—After having voted, or declined or failed to vote within five minutes, the elector shall immediately withdraw from the polling-place and go beyond the prohibited distance and shall not enter the polling-place again. Ib. §31.

1629 (373) (277). Challenges.—Any qualified elector of the precinct in which any person proposes to vote, shall have the right to challenge such person so offering to vote, who, he may know or suspect, is not entitled and duly qualified as an elector to vote at the precinct where he offers to vote. The challenge shall be communicated to the inspectors before the person is permitted to vote, by the sheriff or some other officer or person in attendance and in charge of admission to the polling-place, when his right to vote must be determined as provided in the next section. Ib. §29.

1630 (374) (278). Oaths administered by inspectors in case of challenge.—When any person offering to vote is challenged by any qualified elector, before such person shall be allowed to vote, he shall take and subscribe an oath which one of the inspectors shall tender and administer to him, and which shall be in the following form:

"State of Alabama, } I, —— ——, do solemnly swear (or affirm) County of ——. } that I am a duly qualified elector under the constitution and laws of the State of Alabama, and that I have resided in the State of Alabama one year next preceding this election, three months in this county, and have actually resided thirty days in this precinct next preceding this day (or in case of change of residence provided for by section 1556, have resided in the state one year, three months in this county, thirty days in this city and one day in this precinct), all immediately preceding this election, and that I am twenty-one years of age, or upwards, and that I have not voted on this day at any general or special election at any place of voting, and that I have not been convicted of treason, embezzlement of public funds, malfeasance in office, larceny, bribery, or any crime punishable by law with imprisonment in the penitentiary; so help me God."

And in addition to such oath, if the person so challenged is not personally known to one of the inspectors to have the qualifications required by law, then one of them shall require such person, before he shall be allowed to vote, to prove his identity and residence in the state, county and precinct in which he offers to vote, by the oath of some elector personally known to some one of such inspectors to be a qualified elector, which oath shall be administered by one of the inspectors, and be in the following form:

"State of Alabama, } I, —— ——, do solemnly swear (or affirm)
County of ——. } that I have known (here insert the name of the person offering to vote) for the last twelve months preceding this election, and that he has been a resident of this state for said time, three months in this county, and that he has actually resided in this precinct for the last thirty days preceding this election (or in case of the change of residence provided for by section 1556, that he has resided in this state for one year, three months in this county, thirty days in this city, and one day in this precinct), all immediately preceding this election; and I believe that he is twenty-one years of age, or upwards, and that he has not voted before on this day at any general or special election; so help me God."

And upon such oath being duly taken and subscribed, the ballot of the person offering to vote, if he has registered, must be received and deposited as other ballots of qualified electors. And it shall be the duty of the inspectors to file all the oaths so taken and subscribed; and when the election is closed, forward them in a sealed package to the judge of probate who shall lay them before the next grand jury sitting for the county.

1631 (375) (279). Inspector must inform person challenged of penalty.—When any person offering to vote at any election in this state has been challenged, before administering the oath prescribed, it shall be the duty of one of the inspectors to inform such person that if he takes the oath willfully and falsely, he is guilty of perjury, and, on conviction, may be imprisoned in the penitentiary for not less than two years.

1632 (376) (280). Rejected ballot marked and laid aside.—If the person challenged refuses to take the oath, or if he fails to prove his identity and residence when and in the manner required, or if it appears that he has not registered for that election, if it be a general election, his vote shall be rejected and the ballot, marked with his name, shall be laid aside by the inspectors.

1633 (377) (281). Sheriff and deputies to attend.—It shall be the duty of the sheriff of each county, on each day of election, to be present in person or by deputy at all election precincts where elections are held in his county, and it shall be his duty to preserve good order; and in order that every elector who desires to vote may do so without interference or interruption, and to maintain good order, such sheriff or his deputy, may especially deputize a sufficient force to act at all election precincts on the day of any election that he may deem necessary, and, in case of necessity, may raise a posse comitatus to put down all riots or attempted riots, or disturbances. Feb. 21, 1893, p. 837, §46.

1634 (378) (282). Arrest of elector on day of election.—An elector must not be arrested on the day of election unless it be for a felony or for a breach of the peace attempted or committed on that day, or for a violation on that day of a provision of the election law. For such breach of the peace or attempted breach of the peace or violation of the provisions of the election law, the sheriff or his deputy may arrest without process and commit to jail until the offender shall give bond with good and sufficient surety, to be approved by the sheriff, for his appearance at the next term of the circuit or city court to answer any indictment which may be found against him.

1635 (379) (283). Arrest of persons intoxicated.—Any person found drunk or intoxicated about any polling-place during any election, shall be arrested by the sheriff or his deputy and dealt with as prescribed in the preceding section.

1636 (380) (284). Unlawful to sell or give away liquor.—It shall be unlawful for any person to sell or give away any liquors of any kind or description during the day on which any election may be held, or on the preceding day; and it shall be the duty of the sheriff, deputy-sheriff, or any constable to arrest any person violating the provisions of this section and deal with them as above prescribed.

ARTICLE 9.

COUNTING THE VOTE; MAKING THE RETURNS; DECLARING THE RESULT.

1637 (381) (285). Counting the votes.—It is the duty of all inspectors of election in the election precincts, immediately on the closing of the polls, to count the votes polled.

As amended Feb. 21, 1893, p. 837, §42.

1638 (382) (286) (264) (222). Manner of counting.—In counting, the returning-officer, or one of the inspectors, must take the ballots, one by one, from the box in which they have been deposited, at the same time reading aloud the names of the persons written or printed thereon before whose names a cross-mark shall have been made, and the office for which such persons are voted for; they must separately keep a calculation of the number of votes each person receives and for what office he receives them; if the elector has marked more names than there are persons to be elected to an office, or if for any reason it is impossible to determine the elector's choice for any office to be filled, his ballot shall not be counted for such office, but this shall not vitiate the ballot so far as properly marked, nor shall any ballot be rejected for any technical error which does not make it impossible to determine the elector's choice, and nothing in the election law shall be construed so as to prevent any elector from voting for any qualified person other than those whose names are printed on the ballot.

1639 (383) (287). Statement of votes and one poll-list certified, sealed up and delivered to returning-officer.—As soon as the ballots are all counted, the inspectors must ascertain the number of votes received for each person and for what office, and must make a statement of the same in writing, which statement must be signed by them; they must also certify in writing on one of the poll-lists, that such poll-list is the poll-list of the election precinct at which they were inspectors, the day and year on which such election was held, and for what offices, which certificates must be signed by them; and such statement of the poll-lists and votes, thus certified, must be sealed up, together with a list of the registered voters in such precinct at such election, on such day, in a box to be furnished by the sheriff of the county, one or more for each precinct, and to consist of wood, tin, or sheet iron, and securely fastened by locks, directed to the sheriff of the county, if there be one, and if none, then to the person discharging the duties of such office, and immediately deliver the same to the returning-officer of the precinct.

1640 (384) (288). Ballots and other poll-list disposed of.—The inspectors must count the ballots deposited in the box, and as soon as all the ballots contained in the box are counted, the inspectors shall roll up the ballots so counted and label the same so as to show for what officer or officers the ballots contained therein were received and, when so rolled up and labeled, shall be securely sealed; the rejected ballots, if any, shall also be rolled up and labeled as rejected ballots and sealed up as the other parcels; and the packages so sealed up and labeled, together with one poll-list, which shall also be securely sealed up, shall be returned to, and securely fastened up in the box from which such ballots were taken and counted and which shall also be sealed and labeled so as to show the nature of its contents, and shall be kept by one of the inspectors for sixty days; and then the packages shall be taken out of the box, without opening or unsealing the packages, and destroyed, unless within that time, the inspector having them in custody is notified that the election of some officer for which the election was held will be contested, in which case he must preserve the box containing the ballots cast for such contestant until such contest is finally determined, or until such box is demanded by some other legally constituted custodian during such contest.

1641 (385) (289). Statement and poll-lists returned to county returning-officer.—The statement of votes and the poll-list delivered to the returning-officer of the precinct must be delivered to the returning-officer of the county within forty-eight hours after the election.

1642. No person permitted in the polling-place.—No person shall be permitted under any pretext whatever to come within fifty feet of any door or window of any polling-place from the opening of the polls until the completion of the count of the ballots and certification of the returns, except as provided in section 1621. Feb. 21, 1893, p. 837, §25.

1643 (386) (290). Compensation of returning-officer, inspectors and clerks.—The returning-officer, the inspectors and the clerks shall each be entitled to one dollar and fifty cents; and the returning-officer, in addition, to five cents a mile in going to, and returning from the county-site, computing the distance from the place of holding the election; the several claims to be paid out of the county treasury, on proper proof of the service rendered, and to be preferred claims, payable from any money in the treasury not specially otherwise appropriated.

1644 (387) (291). Vote of county estimated.—On Saturday next after the election, at the hour of twelve, meridian, the returning-officer of the county, in person or by deputy, and the judge of probate and clerk of the circuit court shall assemble at the court-house; or if there is no such judge or clerk, or if either of them fails to attend, or if either of them is interested by reason of having been a candidate at such election, his place must be supplied by a respectable freeholder or householder of the county; and if all such officers are of the same political party, then the returning-officer of the county must summon three reputable persons, resident householders or freeholders of the county, members of the opposite political party, to attend at such time and place; and in the presence of such other persons as choose to attend, the board of supervisors shall make a correct statement from the returns of the vote from the several precincts of the county, of the whole number of votes given therein for each officer, and the persons to whom such votes were given.

Leigh v. State, 69 Ala. 261; State v. Hamil, 97 Ala. 107; State v. Cobb, 108 Ala. 9.

1645 (388) (292). Declaration of the result.—Within ten days after ascertaining the result of an election of county officers, including members of the house of representatives of the general assembly, the board of supervisors must make in writing a public declaration of the result, stating the name of each officer elected and the office to which he was elected. The declaration must be signed by at least two of the supervisors and must be published by filing the original in the office of the judge of probate and by posting a copy thereof at the court-house door, and at three other public places in the county.

1646 (389) (292). Certificate as to certain officers sent to secretary of state.—The board of supervisors must, as soon as they have ascertained the result of an election, make, on blanks furnished by the secretary of state, certificates stating the exact number of votes cast in the county for each person voted for, and the office for which such person was voted for, and file the certificates with the judge of probate, who must immediately forward such certificates, as to all other officers than the governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, and attorney-general, to the secretary of state.

1647 (390). Counting returns sent to secretary of state; proclamation of result.—All returns of elections required by law to be sent to the secretary of state, must, within fifteen days after an election, be opened and counted in the presence of the governor, secretary of state and attorney-general, or two of them, and of the result of the election as thus ascertained, except as to officers provided for in section 1645 (388), the governor must give notice by proclamation published in some newspaper at the seat of government.

1648 (391) (292). Certificates in certain cases sent to speaker of the house of representatives.—The certificates of the board of supervisors as to the election for governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer and attorney-general, must be by the judge of probate forwarded to the governor for the speaker of the house of representatives at least ten days before the time fixed for the next meeting of the general assembly, and must be by the governor delivered, unopened, to the speaker on his election.

1649 (392) (293). Poll-lists and lists of registered voters to be filed in the office of the judge of probate.—After having ascertained the result of an election, made declarations thereof, and made the certificates provided for in sections 1646 (389) and 1648 (391) the board of supervisors must file the poll-lists and lists of registered voters in the office of the judge of probate, which shall be open to the inspection of any elector of the county.

ARTICLE 10.

CERTIFICATES OF ELECTION.

1650 (393) (294). Certificates of election.—It shall be the duty of the secretary of state, within ten days after receiving the returns of election from the judge of probate of each county, to furnish, from a count of the actual vote cast, as the same appears by the returns certified to him, certificates of election to members of the general assembly and to members of congress.

1651 (394) (295). Speaker of house opens returns and proclaims results; returns filed.—It shall be the duty of the speaker of the house of representatives, within the first five days of the session of the general assembly, in the presence of a majority of the members of the general assembly, to open the returns furnished him under section 1648 (391), ascertain and proclaim the result of such election, after which such returns shall be filed and kept in the office of the secretary of state subject to the inspection of any elector of the state. The person having the highest number of votes for either of said offices, shall be declared duly elected; but if two or more shall have an equal and the highest number of votes for the same office, the general assembly, by joint vote, without delay, shall choose one of said persons for said office.

1652 (395) (297). Tie vote in other cases; how decided.—In all elections where there is a tie between the two highest candidates for the same office, for all precinct or county officers, it shall be decided by the sheriff of the county; and in case of the office of circuit judge, chancellor, or any state officer not otherwise provided for in the preceding section, it shall be the duty of the secretary of state, in the presence of the governor and such other electors as may choose to be present, to decide the tie by lot.

ELECTORS FOR PRESIDENT AND VICE-PRESIDENT; REPRESENTATIVES IN CONGRESS.

1654 (436) (343). Supervisors make return to secretary of state. In all elections for electors for president and vice-president, and for representatives in congress, the board of county supervisors of each county must, within five days after making the statement of the county vote, return the result of the same to the secretary of state.

1655 (437) (344). Governor estimates returns and gives notice of election.—Within fifteen days after the time for making the returns, the governor, in the presence of the secretary of state and attorney-general, or either of them, in the absence of the other, must estimate the returns, ascertain who are elected, and notify them by proclamation.

1656 (438) (345) (391) (342). In case of tie, governor gives casting vote.—If, on such estimate, it is found that an election of the number of electors to which the state is entitled is not made by reason of two or more persons having received an equal number of votes, the governor must forthwith decide between those having an equal number of votes.

1657 (439) (346) (394) (345). Electoral meeting and supply of vacancies.—The electors of president and vice-president are to assemble at the seat of government at ten in the morning on the first Wednesday in December next after their election, or at that hour on such other day as may be fixed by congress, to elect such president and vice-president; and those of them present at that hour must at once proceed by ballot and plurality of votes, to supply the places of those who failed to attend on that day and hour.

1658 (440) (347). Compensation of electors.—Each elector for president and vice-president shall receive eight dollars for each day he necessarily attends at the seat of government, and twenty cents for every mile traveled to and from the same, to be estimated in the same manner as is provided by law in relation to members of the general assembly from his county, to be paid, on oath of such elector, by a warrant on the state treasurer.

ARTICLE 12.

ELECTIONS IN NEW COUNTIES.

1659 (441) (348) (397) (348). New county; suffrage; representation.—Every new county, as to the right of suffrage and representation in elections for the general assembly and for congress, is to be considered as part of the county or counties from which it was taken, until the right of separate representation is given by act of the general assembly.

1660 (442) (349) (398) (349). Right of elector to vote in new county.—No elector can vote at any precinct in any new county, for representative in congress, or members of the general assembly, until an act of the general assembly is passed, giving to such county a separate representation, unless such elector would have been entitled to vote at such precinct for such officers before the formation of such new county.

1661 (443) (350) (399) (350). Returns of elections to congress and general assembly in new county.—The inspectors and returning-officers of each election precinct in any new county must, until such county is entitled to a separate representation, make returns of the elections of representatives in congress and members of the general assembly to the returning-officer of the county in which such precinct was situated before the formation of such new county; for all other officers the returns must be made to the returning-officer of such new county.

ARTICLE 13.

ELECTIONS ON AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION.

1662 (445) (352) (401) (352). Counting and returning the vote on constitutional amendment.—The vote on an amendment proposed to the constitution shall be counted and return made thereof as is counted and returned the vote for members of the general assembly, the amendments, if more than one, being designated by substantially the language used to designate them on the official ballot.

1663 (446) (354) (403) (354). Returns made to secretary of state.—The board of supervisors shall ascertain the number of votes given in their respective counties for and against the proposed amendment when ascertaining the vote given for officers; the returning-officers of such county shall thereupon make return of such vote to the secretary of state immediately, together with a certificate, prepared from the poll-lists, of the total number of qualified electors in said county who voted at such election.

1664 (447). Returns counted; result proclaimed.—The secretary of state shall, in the presence of the governor and attorney-general, or of one of them, open such certificates and therefrom ascertain whether a majority of all the qualified electors of the state who voted at such election, voted in favor of such amendment or amendments; and the result of said election shall be made known by proclamation of the governor.

ARTICLE 14.

PENALTY FOR FAILING TO MAKE RETURNS.

1665 (448) (3372) (406) (357). Penalty declared.—If any officer required to make returns of any election to the secretary of state or to the speaker of the house of representatives, fails to make such returns within the time prescribed, he forfeits to the state five hundred dollars, recoverable by motion to be made by the solicitor of the proper circuit, in the name of the state, in the circuit court of the county of such returning-officer, upon three days' notice of such motion; and the certificate of the secretary of state, or of the speaker of the house of representatives, as the case may be, setting forth that such return has not been received, is presumptive evidence of the failure of such officer to make such return.

1666 (449) (3373) (407) (358). Notice to the solicitor.—Whenever the return of any officer, required to be made to the secretary of state or to the speaker of the house of representatives, is not received within the time prescribed, the secretary of state or speaker of the house of representatives must give notice thereof to the solicitor of the proper circuit and furnish him with the certificate specified in the preceding section.

ARTICLE 15.

CONTESTING ELECTIONS; PROVISIONS COMMON TO ALL CONTESTS.

1667. Contest of elections; grounds of contest.—The election of any person declared elected to the office of governor, secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer, attorney-general, superintendent of edu- Feb. 10, 1893, p. 468, §1. Feb. 16, 1895, p. 757, §1.

cation, commissioner of agriculture, senator or representative in the general assembly, chancellor, judge of the circuit court, or to any office which is filled by the vote of a single county, or to the office of justice of the peace, or constable, may be contested by any person who was at the time of either of the said elections a qualified elector, for any of the following causes:

1. Malconduct, fraud, or corruption on the part of any inspector, clerk, marker, returning-officer, board of supervisors, or other person.*

2. When the person whose election to office was not eligible thereto at the time of such election.

3. On account of illegal votes.

4. On account of the rejection of legal votes.

5. Offers to bribe, bribery, intimidation, or other malconduct calculated to prevent a fair, free and full exercise of the elective franchise.

Clark v. Jack, 60 Ala. 271; Leigh v. State, 69 Ala. 261; Taliaferro v. Lee, 97 Ala. 92; State v. Cobb, 108 Ala. 9.

Ib. §2. 1668. When election not annulled.—No malconduct, fraud or corruption on the part of any inspector, clerk, marker, returning-officer, board of supervisors, or other person, nor any offers to bribe, bribery, intimidation or other malconduct, which prevented a fair, free and full exercise of the elective franchise, can annul or set aside any election unless thereby the person declared elected, and whose election is contested, be shown not to have received the highest number of legal votes, nor must any election contested under the provisions of this Code be annulled or set aside because of illegal votes given to the person whose election is contested, unless it appears that the number of illegal votes given to such person, if taken from him, would reduce the number of votes given to him below the number of legal votes given to some other person for the same office. Nor must any election be annulled or set aside because of the rejection of legal votes unless it appears that such legal votes, if given to the person intended, would increase the number of his legal votes to or above the number of legal votes received by any other person for the same office.*

Feb. 10, 1893, p. 468, §4. Feb. 16, 1895, p. 757, §11. 1669. Any voter must answer as to his qualifications.—Any person examined as a witness may be required to answer if he voted at the election contested, and to answer touching his qualifications; and if he was not at such election a qualified voter, he may be required to answer for whom he voted. But if he should thereafter be prosecuted for voting illegally at such election, his answer to such question shall not be offered or received in evidence against him.

Feb. 10, 1893, p. 468, §4. Feb. 16, 1895, p. 757, §10. 1670. Either party may have copy of registration and poll lists. It shall be the duty of the judge of probate of any county, upon the application of either party to any contest, or his agent, or attorney, to deliver to the party, his agent or attorney, a certified copy of the registration-lists and poll-lists (one or both) of his county or of any election precinct therein upon the payment of his fees for certifying and copying the same at the rate of fifteen cents a hundred words written by him in making such copy; and such copies, duly certified, shall be received as presumptive evidence of the facts therein stated, the registration-lists that the persons therein named were duly registered, and the poll-lists that the persons therein named voted at the election and precinct therein named.

1671 (407) (314). Jurisdiction denied courts of chancery in election contests; appeal.—No jurisdiction exists in or shall be exercised by any chancellor, chancery court, or any officer exercising chancery powers, to entertain any cause or proceeding for ascertaining the legality, conduct, or results of any election, except so far as authority to do so shall be specially and specifically enumerated and set down by statute; and any injunction, process, order, or decree from any chancellor, chancery court, or officer in the exercise of chancery powers, whereby the results of any election are sought to be inquired into, questioned, or affected, or whereby any certificate of election is sought to be inquired into, or questioned, save as may be specially and specifically enumerated and set down by statute, shall be null and void, and shall not be enforced by any officer, or obeyed by any person; and should any chancellor or other officer hereafter undertake to fine, or in anywise deal with any person for disobeying any such prohibited injunction, process, order or decree, such attempt shall be null and void, and an appeal shall lie forthwith therefrom to the supreme court then sitting, or next to sit, without bond, and such proceedings shall be suspended by force of such appeal; and the notice to be given of such appeal shall be five days.

ARTICLE 16.

CONTESTING ELECTIONS OF STATE OFFICERS.

1672. Contest of state office; statement; bond.—When any elector shall choose to contest any election for the office of governor, secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer, attorney-general, superintendent of education, or commissioner of agriculture, he must, within ten days after the speaker of the house of representatives shall have opened the returns and proclaimed the result of the election for governor, secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer and attorney-general as provided in this chapter, file with the speaker of the house of representatives a written statement of the grounds of such contest and a bond with good and sufficient sureties payable to the State of Alabama and conditioned for the payment of such costs as may accrue upon such contest in the event such contest shall result in favor of the contestee. Such bond must be in the sum of five thousand dollars and must be subject to the approval of the speaker of the house, and such bond when it shall be approved, shall be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state.

Feb. 16, 1895, p. 757, §3.

Ib. §4. 1673. Same; contents of statement; verification; service; amendments.—The written statement of the grounds of contest must set forth specifically—

1. The name of the person contesting and that he was a qualified voter when the election was held.

2. The office which said election was held to fill and the time of holding the same.

3. The particular grounds of the contest. The statement shall set forth the name of the counties in which any of the alleged grounds of contest may have occurred, and shall state with particularity the names of the election precincts in each of such counties in which the grounds of contest may be alleged to have occurred. The statement must set out with particularity the grounds on which the declared vote of each of the named election precincts in each county is contested. Such statement of the grounds of contest must be sworn to by the elector making the contest before some officer authorized to administer oaths in the State of Alabama, and may be amended from time to time as may be determined by the two houses of the general assembly in joint convention assembled. The speaker of the house shall cause the clerk of the house forthwith to serve a copy of the statement on the person who may have been declared to have been elected to the contested office.

Ib. §5. 1674. Tried by joint convention of house and senate.—The two houses of the general assembly in joint convention assembled and presided over by the speaker of the house of representatives shall constitute the tribunal for the trial of all contests for the office of governor, secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer, attorney-general, superintendent of education, or commissioner of agriculture, and such joint convention shall fix a day for the trial which may be adjourned from day to day, and from time to time, as may be determined by the joint convention. A majority of the joint convention shall be competent to try all issues involved in the contest and render judgment on all questions arising during the progress of the trial including a final judgment on the contest. The proceedings of the joint convention, as well as all judgments rendered, shall be entered upon the journals of the senate and the house of representatives, and the final judgment of the joint convention upon the contest shall thereupon become effective as a judgment and shall have the force and effect of vesting the title to the office which may be the subject of contest in the person in whose favor the judgment may be rendered.

Ib. §6. 1675. Commission elected to take testimony.—When any contest shall have been commenced under the provisions of this Code for any of the officers mentioned in the preceding section, it shall be the duty of the general assembly, in joint convention, to elect by ballot three senators and five representatives who shall act as a commission to take the testimony to be submitted on the contest. Every member of the joint convention, at such time as may be fixed by resolution of the two houses, shall vote for two senators and three representatives as members of the commission, and the three senators and five representatives who receive the highest number of votes shall be declared elected commissioners.

1676. Sitting of commission.—The commission provided for in the preceding section shall sit at such times and places as may be directed by the joint convention, and shall be presided over by a chairman of its own selection, and each member of the commission shall receive four dollars per diem during the time of actual sitting when the general assembly is not in session, and necessary expenses, to be paid by the auditor's warrant drawn upon the treasurer when the chairman of the commission shall certify the same to the auditor. Ib. §7.

1677. Commission take testimony.—The commission shall take testimony on the part of the contestant and also on the part of the contestee, and shall have power to send for witnesses, books and papers anywhere in the State of Alabama; shall have power to issue warrants, under the hand of the chairman, to any judge, justice of the peace, clerk of any court of record, or such other competent and discreet person as the commission may appoint to take the deposition of witnesses at such time and place as the warrant shall direct, and the points as to which the testimony is to be taken shall be set forth in such warrant. The evidence taken in the case of a contest of the election of one officer may be used in the contest of the election of any other officer voted for at the same election and contested before the general assembly; provided, notice that such evidence will be used, or offered, shall be given to the party or parties interested in such other office, so that all parties interested may be present and participate in the taking of such testimony, and provided, the party instituting the contest does not object by filing his written objection with the commission. Ib. §8.

1678. Notice to adverse party.—Whenever either party shall apply to the commission to examine witnesses either before the commission or by warrant issued from the commission, the adverse party shall have five days' notice of said application and of the time and place of taking such depositions. Ib. §9.

1679. Commission has power to punish for contempt.—If any witness, being summoned, fails to attend, or being summoned with a subpœna duces tecum, fails and refuses to produce the paper or document required to be produced by the subpœna, the commission shall have the right and authority to punish said witness for contempt by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in any county jail in the state for a period not to exceed thirty days, one or both, and in case any witness shall fail to appear or produce any book or document before any judge, justice of the peace, clerk of court, or other person having a warrant from the commission, the judge, justice of the peace, clerk of court, or other person, must certify the fact to the commission, which may thereupon punish such witness for contempt as provided in this section. Ib. §12.

Ib. §13. 1680. Evidence confined to the allegations.—No evidence shall be taken on the part of the contestant unless to sustain some one of the specific allegations of the original or amended statement of grounds of contest. Nor shall any evidence be taken on the part of the contestee except in rebuttal of the specific allegations of the original or amended statement of the grounds of contest. But upon five days' notice the contestee shall have the right to take evidence of (1) any malconduct, fraud or corruption on the part of any inspector, clerk, marker, returning-officer, board of supervisors, or other person; (2) of illegal votes cast for some other person than the contestee; (3) of the rejection of legal votes cast for the contestee; (4) of offers to bribe, bribery, intimidation, or other malconduct which prevented a fair, free and full exercise of the elective franchise in any election precinct in the State of Alabama, the election in which is not put in issue by the original or amended statement of the grounds of contest; and when the contestee shall take evidence as herein provided, the contestant shall be permitted to take evidence in rebuttal.

Ib. §14. 1681. Each party entitled to be present.—Each party shall have the right to be present at the taking of any evidence, in person, or by agent or attorney.

Ib. §15. 1682. Commission to report its conclusions and the evidence. It shall be the duty of the commission to examine the evidence adduced upon the contest and shall report its conclusions to the joint convention of the two houses and all evidence taken under the provisions of this article shall be returned by the commission to the speaker of the house at such time as the joint convention may direct.

Ib. §16. 1683. Pay of witnesses.—The witnesses shall be allowed for their attendance seventy-five cents a day and three cents a mile coming and going from their place of residence to where such depositions are taken by the route most usually traveled.

Ib. §17. 1684. Duty of sheriffs.—The sheriffs of Alabama in their respective counties are required to serve subpœnas and such other writs as the commission may have authority to issue, and shall be allowed the same compensation as is now allowed by law for similar services performed at the command of the courts.

Ib. §18. 1685. Execution for costs.—After the determination of the contest, the clerk of the house of representatives must tax the costs accrued and certify the amount of each separate item, the name of the person entitled thereto, and the result of such contest and the names of the sureties on the bond for contest to the clerk of the circuit court of Montgomery county and said clerk must thereupon issue execution against the unsuccessful party, which execution must be made returnable to the term of court next after its issue; and alias and pluries executions may be issued as often as may be necessary. And if it be certified that the determination of the contest was against the contestant the execution must issue against the sureties on the bond for contest as well as against the contestant.

ARTICLE 17.

CONTESTING ELECTIONS OF MEMBERS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, CHANCELLOR, CIRCUIT JUDGE, ANY OFFICE FILLED BY THE VOTE OF A SINGLE COUNTY, JUSTICE OF THE PEACE OR CONSTABLE.

1686. Statement of grounds of contest.—When any elector chooses to contest the election of any person declared to be elected to the office of senator, representative in the general assembly, chancellor, judge of the circuit court, any office which is filled by the vote of a single county, justice of the peace, or constable, he must make a statement in writing, setting forth specifically— Feb. 10, 1892, p. 468, §3.

1. The name of the party contesting and that he was a qualified voter when the election was held.

2. The office which said election was held to fill, and the time of holding the same.

3. The particular grounds of said contest. This statement must be verified by the affidavit of such contesting party to the effect that the same is believed to be true. If the reception of illegal votes is alleged as a cause of contest, it is a sufficient statement of said cause to allege that illegal votes were given to the person whose election is contested, which, if taken from him, will reduce the number of legal votes given to him to or below the number of legal votes given to some other person for the same office.

Parks v. Owens, 100 Ala. 634; Turnipseed v. Jones, 101 Ala. 593; Wade v. Oates, 112 Ala. 325.

1687. Notice of nature of evidence.—No testimony must be received of any illegal votes, or of the rejection of any legal votes in any contested election commenced under the provisions of this article, unless the party complaining thereof has given to the adverse party notice in writing of the number of illegal votes and by whom given, and for whom given, and at what precinct or voting-place cast, or the number of legal votes rejected, and by whom offered, and at what precinct or voting-place cast, which he expects to prove on the trial. Such notice must be served personally or left at the residence or usual place of business of the adverse party at least ten days before the taking of the testimony in reference to such votes. Ib. §2.

1688. When contest commenced; security for costs.—All contests of elections provided for in this article must be commenced within twenty days after the result of the election is declared, except as in this article otherwise provided; and at the time of commencing such contest and of the filing the statement in writing, the party contesting must give security for the costs of such contest, to be filed and approved as in this article provided. Ib. §3.

Hilliard v. Brown, 103 Ala. 318.

1689. Contest of senator or representative.—If the contest be of the election of a senator or representative in the general assembly, the elector contesting must file in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of any county of the senatorial district, if such contest be Ib. §5.

of the election of a senator, or in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the county in which the election was held, if the contest be of the election of a representative in the general assembly, a statement in writing of the grounds of contest as provided in this article, and must give good and sufficient security for the costs of such contest to be taken and approved by the clerk. Of the statement in writing the person whose election is contested must have ten days' notice before the taking of the testimony by the service on him of a certified copy of such statement by the sheriff or a constable of the county, and such sheriff or constable must indorse on the original the fact of such service, and such indorsement is presumptive evidence of the fact.

Ib. 1690. Testimony; how taken.—The testimony in the case of a contest provided for in the preceding section must be taken by deposition under commission issued by the clerk of the court where the statement of contest is filed, which commission must issue on the party applying for the same making and filing an affidavit stating the names of the witnesses, the place of residence of such witnesses, and that the testimony sought and expected is material. The depositions must be taken on interrogatories filed in the office of the clerk after making and filing the affidavit, and of the interrogatories and affidavit and of the names and residence of the commissioner or commissioners proposed to be appointed, ten days' notice must be given the adverse party by service on him personally or by leaving at his usual place of residence or business a copy of the interrogatories and affidavit to which must be appended notice of the name and residence of the commissioner proposed to be appointed. Such service must be made by the sheriff or a constable of the county, and within ten days thereafter such adverse party may file cross-interrogatories, to which the party filing the interrogatories may file rebutting interrogatories; and thereafter commission may issue. Of the time and place of taking the depositions, the commissioner must give each party five days' notice in writing, which notice may be served by the sheriff or a constable of the county. If the witnesses reside, or are to be examined within the county, the adverse party is entitled to demand that they be examined orally, separate and apart from each other, on giving notice within the ten days allowed him to file cross-interrogatories, that such examination is required; and if such notice be given, the commission issued must not be accompanied by the interrogatories filed, and must authorize and direct the commissioner to examine the said witnesses orally, separate and apart from each other, after giving each party five days' notice of the time and place of the examination. In the execution of all commissions to take testimony under this section, the commissioner must conform to and observe the requirements of the statute concerning the taking of depositions in civil suits at law, and has, and may exercise all the power and authority by the statute conferred on commissioners; and against defaulting witnesses all such proceedings may be had and taken as are authorized by said statute.

Roney v. Simmons, 97 Ala. 88.

1691. Depositions returned.—The commissioner must carefully envelope the depositions taken, with the commission attached, writing his name across the sealing of the envelope and indorsing thereon the names of the witnesses and the title and subject-matter of the contest, and direct the envelope to the clerk issuing the commission, and must, within five days after taking the deposition, file the same with the said clerk, or transmit the same by mail through the nearest post-office. The clerk must, within five days after the taking of testimony has been finished, and the depositions received in his office, make and certify under the seal of the court, a true and correct copy of the statement of the grounds of contest and of the return of service thereon, and must inclose the same with the depositions so taken and filed in his office, and must securely envelope the same, indorsing thereon the title and the subject-matter of the contest, and direct the package to the presiding officer of that branch of the general assembly before which the contest is to be tried, at the seat of goverment, and deposit the same, postage paid, in the nearest post-office. Ib.

1692. Costs taxed; execution issued.—The package mailed by the clerk must be opened by the presiding officer, and presented to the house over which he presides for such action as such house may deem proper. On the determination of the contest, the secretary of the senate, or the clerk of the house, as the case may be, must certify the result thereof to the clerk of the court in which the statement of contest was filed. The certificate must be filed in the office of the clerk and shall have the force and effect of a judgment against the unsuccessful party for the costs of the contest. And the clerk having taxed the costs, allowing the fees and costs allowed for similar services in civil cases at law, must issue execution for the amount thereof in the name of the successful party. If the party contesting be the unsuccessful party, execution must issue against him and his sureties for the costs. Ib.

1693. Contest of chancellor.—If the contest be of an election to the office of chancellor, the party contesting must file in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the county of the residence of the person declared elected, the statement of the grounds of contest as required in this article, and give good and sufficient security for the costs of the contest, to be taken and approved by such clerk. Immediately thereafter the clerk must enter the contest on the trial-docket as a civil cause pending for trial in the circuit court, and the contest shall stand for trial and be heard in precedence of all other causes, civil or criminal, in said court, and must be proceeded in, tried and determined as are other civil causes in courts of law. Ib. § 6.

1694. Same; procedure; testimony.—Within two days after entering the said contest on the docket of said court, the clerk must issue a summons directed to the party whose election is contested accompanied by a certified copy of the statement of the grounds of contest, requiring such party, within ten days after the service of Ib. §§ 6, 7.

the summons, to appear and answer to the statement. The testimony on the contest must be taken by deposition as in civil cases at common law, but no affidavit, other than of the materiality of the testimony of the witnesses proposed to be examined, shall be required. Either party may, on giving five days' notice, require the examination before the commissioner to be oral, and that the witnesses be examined separate and apart from each other. The party against whom the depositions are to be taken, must have at least five days' notice of the time and place of taking such depositions and of the name and residence of the commissioner or commissioners proposed. The circuit court must try the contest at the first term after the commencement thereof, and the contest must be deemed and taken to have been commenced with the service of the summons as provided in this section, if thirty days have intervened after such service; but for good cause shown the trial of the contest may be continued to the next term or to a special term to be appointed by the court; but such contest must be tried at the second term unless continued by the failure of the presiding judge to attend and hold such term or because of his incompetency for legal cause to try and determine the contest. The contest must be heard and determined by the court without the intervention of a jury.

Ib. §8. 1695. Contest of a judge of the circuit court.—If the contest be of an election to the office of judge of the circuit court, the party contesting must file in the office of the court of chancery of the county or district of the residence of the person declared elected, a statement in writing of the grounds of contest verified by affidavit, as prescribed in this article, and must give good and sufficient security for the costs of the contest, to be approved by the register. On the filing of the statement and the giving of the security, the register must make and certify to the chancellor of the division in which the contestee resides a certified copy of the statement, and on receipt of the copy, the chancellor must indorse thereon an order appointing a day for the trial of the contest, not less than thirty nor more than fifty days from the day of the reception of the certified statement, and fixing the place of trial, which must be at some place in the circuit in which the election was held, and where a court of chancery is required to be held, and must further order the register to issue a summons directed to the person whose election is contested, accompanied with a certified copy of the statement, requiring him to appear within ten days after the service of the summons and make answer to the statement, which summons shall be served by the sheriff or a constable at least twenty days before the day appointed for the trial. The testimony must be taken by deposition as is prescribed for the case of a contest of the election of chancellor.

Ib. §9. 1696. Contest of judge of the probate court.—If the contest be of an election to the office of judge of the probate court, the party contesting must file in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the county in which the election was held, a statement in writing verified by affidavit, of the grounds of the contest as provided in this article, and must give good and sufficient security for the costs of the contest to be approved by the clerk. On the filing of the statement and the giving of the security the clerk must enter the contest on the trial-docket as a civil cause pending in said court for trial, and after having made such entry, the clerk must issue a summons, accompanied with a certified copy of the statement, directed to the party whose election is contested, requiring him within five days after the service of the summons, to appear and make answer to the statement, which summons must be served by the sheriff or by a constable of the county. The contest is triable by the court without the intervention of a jury, and must be heard and tried in precedence of all other causes, civil or criminal, standing for trial in the court. Either party is entitled to subpœna to compel the personal attendance of witnesses on the trial of the contest, and against defaulting witnesses such proceedings may be had as are had against other defaulting witnesses in civil causes pending in the court. Testimony may also be taken by deposition in the case and in like manner as depositions are taken in other civil cases pending in the court.

Taliaferro v. Lee, 97 Ala. 92; Parks v. State, 100 Ala. 634; Hilliard v. Brown, 103 Ala. 318.

Ib. §10.

1697 (417) (324) (346) (301). Contest of justice of the peace, constable or other office filled by the vote of a single county.—If the contest be of an election to fill the office of justice of the peace, constable, or any office filled by the vote of a single county not in this article otherwise provided for, the person contesting must file in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which the election was held, within fifteen days after the result of the election has been declared, a statement in writing of the grounds of contest verified by affidavit, as required by this article, and must give security for the costs of the contest to be approved by the judge of the probate court; but in no case of an election contested under the provisions of this section shall the judge of probate require security for more than five hundred dollars; and the judge of probate may, from time to time, as may seem just and proper, require additional or better security; but in no event shall such security exceed five hundred dollars, and when such additional security shall be given and approved, it shall supersede any bond theretofore given and shall stand as security for the entire costs of the contest. The statement having been filed and security for costs given, the judge of the probate court must appoint a day for the trial of the contest and must order a summons to issue to the party whose election is contested, accompanied with a copy of the statement, requiring such party to appear and make answer to the statement, within five days after the service of the summons. The judge of the probate court must appoint a day for the trial of the contest, not exceeding twenty days after the filing of the statement, and of the day appointed the party whose election is contested must have ten days' notice in writing served upon him by the sheriff or a constable of the county.*

*As amended by joint committee.

When judge of probate disqualified by interest.—Medlin v. Taylor, 101 Ala. 239; Morrow v. Russell, 99 Ala. 271.

Ib. 1698. Same; procedure; testimony.—Either party to the contest is entitled to subpœna to compel the personal attendance of witnesses on the trial, which must be issued on application by the judge of probate, and the same proceedings may be had against defaulting witnesses as in matters litigated in the court of probate, such proceedings being returnable to any regular term of the court within three months after the same are taken. Testimony may also be taken by deposition in such cases and in like manner as in civil cases in courts of law, the commission to be issued by the judge of probate. If the ground of contest of the election be malconduct, fraud or corruption on the part of any inspector, clerk, marker, returning-officer, or other person, or because of bribery or offers to bribe imputed to the party whose election is contested, such party may demand a trial of those grounds by jury. All other grounds of contest may be determined by the judge of probate without the intervention of a jury. In the hearing and determination of the contest the judge of the probate court must be governed by the rules of law applicable to the hearing and determination of civil causes in courts of law.*

Ib. §11. 1699. In all contests ballots may be examined.—In all contests of elections before the judge of probate, or before the chancellor, or the circuit court, the judge or chancellor presiding is authorized to make an examination of the ballots given or rejected in the election so far as he may deem it necessary to arrive at a correct judgment, and may make and enforce by attachment all necessary orders to obtain possession of the same, and must make all proper orders necessary for the return of the ballots to the proper custody after the same have been examined by him.

Ib. §12. 1700. Judgment rendered.—If, on the trial of the contest of any election, either before the judge of probate, or the chancellor, or the circuit court, it shall appear that any other person than the one whose election is contested, received, or would have received, had the ballots intended for him and illegally rejected been received, the highest number of legal votes, judgment must be given declaring such person duly elected, and such judgment shall have the force and effect of investing the person thereby declared elected, with full right and title to have and to hold the office to which he is declared elected. If it appears that two or more persons have, or would have had, if the ballots intended for them and illegally rejected had been received, the highest and equal number of votes for such office, judgment must be rendered declaring the fact, and such fact must be certified to the officer having authority to fill vacancies in the office the election to which was contested. If the person whose election is contested is found to be ineligible to the office, judgment must be rendered declaring the election void, and the fact certified to the appointing power. If the party whose election is contested is found to have been duly and legally elected, judgment must be rendered declaring him entitled to have and to hold the office to which he was so elected.

1701. Contest not abated by death of contestant.—In all contests of elections, such contests are not abated by the death of the party commencing them before final judgment, if any qualified elector appears in court and substitutes himself as contestant, and gives good and sufficient security for the costs which have accrued or may accrue on the contest. But if no qualified elector appears and proposes to substitute himself as the party contesting, the contest abates on the death of the contesting party, and judgment must be rendered against his sureties for the costs of the contest which must be collected by execution in the name of the party whose election was contested. In all cases the person whose election is contested, if he be the successful party in such contest, is entitled to judgment for the costs thereof against the party contesting and his sureties, for which execution may issue returnable to the court of probate, or to the court of chancery, or to the circuit court, as the case may be. Ib. §13.

1702. Appeals.—In all contested elections before the judge of the probate court an appeal lies to the supreme court within five days after the rendition of the judgment. From the judgment or decree of the chancellor on the contest of an election of the judge of the circuit court, an appeal lies to the supreme court which must be taken within five days after the rendition of the decree or judgment. From the judgment of the circuit court on the contest of an election of a chancellor or of a judge of probate, an appeal lies to the supreme court within five days after the rendition of the judgment. Ib. §14.

1703. Costs of appeal.—On the taking of an appeal as provided in the preceding section, the appellant must give bond and security for the costs thereof to be approved by the judge of probate, register, or clerk of the circuit court, as the appeal may be taken from the judgment of the judge of probate, chancellor, or circuit court; and the appeal bond must be certified with the record to the appellate court. And if judgment be rendered confirming the judgment of the judge of probate, or of the chancellor, or of the circuit court, the supreme court must render judgment against the appellant and his sureties for the costs. An appeal in any and all cases, suspends the execution of the judgment or decree of the judge of probate, of the chancellor, or of the circuit court. Ib.

CHAPTER 41.

EMBALMERS. 1704–1711.

1704. State board of embalming established.—There is established the state board of embalming which shall consist of five Dec. 12, 1894, p. 108, §1.

members to be appointed by the governor who shall also have power to fill by appointment all vacancies occurring on the board. The members of the board shall be residents of this state and practical embalmers having experience in the business of embalming and the care and disposition of dead human bodies.

Ib. §§2, 3. 1705. Appointment and term of office.—The governor shall annually on the first day of June, or as soon thereafter as practicable, appoint one member of the board who shall serve for a term of five years from the time of his appointment, and any member of the board shall be eligible for reappointment. The governor shall have power to remove from office any member of the board for neglect of duty, incompetency or improper conduct.

Ib. §4. 1706. Certificate of appointment.—The governor shall furnish each member of the board a certificate of appointment, and the appointee shall qualify by taking the usual oath of office before an officer authorized by law to administer oaths in this state within ten days after appointment, and this fact must be noted by the officer on the certificate of appointment.

Ib. §5. 1707. Powers and duties of the board.—For the protection of life and health, to prevent the spread of contagious diseases, and to regulate the practice of embalming and the care and disposition of the dead, the board shall have power and it shall be its duty—

1. To prescribe a standard of proficiency as to the qualifications and fitness of those persons who may engage in the practice of embalming and the care and disposition of dead human bodies.

2. To meet at least once in each year, and oftener as the proper and efficient discharge of its duties may require.

3. To elect annually a president and secretary from the members of the board, who shall serve for one year or until their successors shall be elected and qualified.

4. To adopt a common seal.

5. To adopt rules and regulations and by-laws not inconsistent with the laws of this state or of the United States, whereby the performance of the duties of the board and the practice of embalming dead human bodies shall be regulated.

Ib. 1708. Notice of meeting; quorum.—At least fifteen days' notice of the time and place of meeting of the board shall be given by publication in at least three daily newspapers published in different cities or towns in the state. Three members of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

Ib. §6. 1709. Embalmers licensed; fee.—Every person desiring to engage in the practice of embalming dead human bodies in any city or town of fifteen hundred inhabitants, or over, in this state, shall make written application to the state board of embalming for a license, accompanied by a license fee of five dollars, and shall appear before the board at a time and place to be fixed by the board; and if the board shall find, upon examination, that the applicant is of good moral character, and has a knowledge of the venous and arterial systems, the location of the heart, lungs, stomach, bladder, womb and other organs of the human body; the location of abdominal, pleural and thoracic cavities; the location of the carotid, brachial, radial, ulnar, femoral and tibial arteries; the science of embalming and the care and disposition of the dead, and a reasonable knowledge of sanitation and the disinfection of dead bodies and the apartment, clothing and bedding of the deceased in cases of death from infectious or contagious diseases, the board shall issue to the applicant a license to practice the science of embalming and the care and disposition of the dead, and shall register such applicant as a duly licensed embalmer. Such license shall be signed by a majority of the board and attested by its seal. All persons receiving a license shall have it registered in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which it is proposed to carry on said practice and shall display said license in a conspicuous place in the place where such business is carried on.

1710. Annual dues.—Every registered embalmer must pay annually to the secretary of the board a fee of two dollars for the renewal of registration. Ib. §7.

1711. Unlawful to practice embalming without license.—It shall be unlawful for any person not a registered embalmer to practice embalming, but nothing in this chapter shall be construed so as to apply to any person engaged in furnishing burial receptacles only, nor shall this chapter have effect except in cities and towns having a population of fifteen hundred or more.* Ib. §§9, 10, 12.

CHAPTER 42.

EMINENT DOMAIN.

ARTICLE 1.—CONDEMNATION OF LANDS FOR PUBLIC USES. 1712–1726.
2.—ERECTION OF DAMS FOR MILLS, GINS OR FACTORIES. 1727–1748.

ARTICLE 1.

CONDEMNATION OF LANDS FOR PUBLIC USES.

1712 (3207) (3580). Application to court of probate for order of condemnation.—Any corporation organized under the laws of this state, or any person, or association of persons, proposing to take lands, or to acquire an interest, or easement therein, for any uses for which private property may be taken, may, if there be no other mode of proceding prescribed by law, apply to the court of probate of the county in which such lands, or a material portion thereof, may be situate, for an order of condemnation thereof to such uses.

The question of the power of an applicant to condemn is one of law, and for the court.—London v. Sample Lumber Co., 91 Ala. 606. Probate court has jurisdiction of an application made by a railroad, organized under the general law, to condemn for right of way a part of the right of way of another road, but not of the road-bed.—A. & C. R. Co. v. J. & A. R. Co., 82 Ala. 297; M. & G. R. Co. v. A. M. Ry. Co., 87 Ala. 501; M. & G. R. Co. v. A. M. Ry. Co., 87 Ala. 520. But not of a like application by a street-railway without special statutory authority.—L. & N. R. Co. v. Peoples' S. R. & I. Co., 101 Ala. 331. A railroad is not bound to adhere to a condemned right of way, but may proceed to further condemnation.—Cooper v. A. & A. R. Co., 85 Ala. 106. On appeal, the application may be amended in the circuit court so as to include more land than originally asked.—Newton v. A. M. Ry. Co., 99 Ala. 468. A corporation entering on lands without the consent of the owner, and without proceedings for condemnation, is a trespasser.—N. O. & S. R. Co. v. Jones, 68 Ala. 48; s. c., 70 Ala. 227. Having acquired possession by trespass, and improved the property, the corporation may still institute proceedings for its condemnation.—Jones v. N. O. & S. R. Co., 70 Ala. 227.

1713 (3208). Application and contents.—The application must be in writing, verified by the oath of the applicant, or by the oath of an agent or attorney, and accompanied with security for the costs, and must state with certainty the name and residence of the applicant, the uses or purposes for which the land is to be taken, or the interest or easement therein to be acquired, and must state the name and residence of the owner, if known, or, if unknown, must show that reasonable diligence has been used to ascertain the same.

The application must describe the lands sought to be taken with sufficient precision to enable a skillful person to locate it.—Brown v. R. & D. R. Co., 86 Ala. 206; London v. Sample Lumber Co., 91 Ala. 606. Application may be amended on appeal in the circuit court so as to include more land. Newton v. A. M. Ry. Co., 99 Ala. 468. A second application may be filed to condemn another right of way, although one has already been awarded applicant.—Cooper v. A. & A. R. Co., 85 Ala. 106. If payment be not made of the assessed damages within six months, applicant may file a second application to condemn the same lands.—A. M. Ry. Co. v. Newton, 94 Ala. 443.

1714 (3209). Order of court on filing application; notice.—On the filing of the application, the court must make and enter an order appointing a day for the hearing thereof; and, if the owner of the lands resides in the state, must issue to him notice of the application, and of the day for the hearing thereof, which must be served by the sheriff, or other legal officer, at least ten days before the day appointed for the hearing; if the owner be unknown, or if he resides without the state, notice must be given by advertisement in some newspaper published in the county, or if there be no newspaper published in the county, by posting notice at the court-house door and three other public places, for at least three weeks before the day appointed for the hearing. If the owner be an infant, or be of unsound mind, notice must be served on his guardian, if any he have, resident in the state, but if he resides in the state, and has no such guardian, then upon the person who may have him in charge, or with whom he may reside; if the owner be dead, and the lands are in the possession or under the control of his personal representative, notice must be served on such representative, and on the heirs at law of the decedent.*

1715 (3213). Infants; persons of unsound mind.—If the owner of the lands be an infant, or is of unsound mind, the court, on the day appointed for the hearing, must appoint a guardian ad litem to represent him; and the guardian so appointed must file a written acceptance of the appointment, must appear and protect the rights and interests of such infant, or person of unsound mind; and, if he deems it necessary, may employ counsel to assist him; the compensation of such guardian and of his counsel must be ascertained by the court and taxed as costs of the proceeding.

Damages should not be paid over to the guardian ad litem.—Brown v. R. & D. R. Co., 86 Ala. 206.

1716 (3214). Owner not appearing.—If the owner does not appear on the hearing of the application, the court must hear the same, and if the application be granted, must appoint commissioners as herein provided for, and thereafter the same proceedings shall be had as if such owner had appeared. Feb. 18, 1891, p. 1131, §8.

1717 (3211). Allegations, objections, and proof to be heard; appeal.—On the day appointed, or any other day to which the hearing may be continued, the court must hear the allegations of the application and any objections which may be filed to the granting thereof, and any legal evidence touching the same, and shall make an order granting or refusing the application. The hearing herein provided for must in all respects be conducted and evidence taken as in civil cases at law, and either party may, by bill of exception, reserve any opinion or decision of the court as in cases in which bills of exception are allowed in civil cases at law; and either party is entitled to an appeal to the supreme court from the order of the court granting or refusing the application, within thirty days from the making thereof. Ib. §§1, 4.

See citations to section 1720 (3215).

1718 (3211). If application granted, commissioners appointed, damages assessed.—If the application be granted, the judge of probate must appoint three citizens of the county in which the lands sought to be condemned are situated, who shall possess the qualifications of jurors, who shall be disinterested, and who shall be required to file a certificate along with their award, that neither of them had ever been consulted, advised with or approached by any person in reference to the value of the lands, or the proceedings to condemn the same, prior to the assessment of the damages, and that they knew nothing of the same before their appointment; and the judge of probate is authorized to fill any vacancy occasioned by death, resignation, failure to act, or any disqualification of any of such commissioners from interest, prior knowledge of the subject-matter, or by being consulted, advised with, or approached in reference to the condemnation of such lands prior to appointment or to the assessment of the damages. When the court shall have appointed the commissioners as herein provided, it shall at once issue a notice of such appointment to the sheriff, whose duty it shall be to serve such notice upon the person therein designated within five days of the receipt thereof, and the sheriff shall receive the same compensation for serving such notice as allowed for summoning jurors. It shall be the duty of the commissioners, or a majority of them, thus appointed by the judge of probate, to assess the damages and com- Ib. §1.

pensation to which the owner of the lands is entitled, and they shall be sworn as jurors are sworn. The commissioners may view the lands to be subjected, and must receive all legal evidence that may be offered by either party touching the amount of the damages the owner of the lands will sustain and the amount of compensation he is entitled to receive; but the amount of compensation to which the owner is entitled must not be reduced or diminished because of any incidental benefits which may accrue to him, or to his remaining lands in consequence of the uses to which the land proposed to be taken, or in which an easement is proposed to be acquired, will be appropriated. But nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent any applicant for the condemnation of land, or any landowner whose land is sought to be condemned, from being present in person or by attorney at any of the proceedings or trials provided for in this article.

Commissioners are regarded as an inferior statutory tribunal.—M. S. Ry. Co. v. Sayre, 72 Ala. 443. The owner of attingent property injured by the construction of a railroad embankment on its right of way, is entitled to damages, but this right does not pass to a vendee.—Evans v. S. & W. Ry. Co., 90 Ala. 54. The measure of damages is the value of the land at the time of the actual taking, and the diminution in value of contiguous lands.—Hooper v. S. & M. R. Co., 69 Ala. 529; Jones v. N. O. & S. R. Co., 70 Ala. 227. And this, when the land was taken by a trespasser who had erected valuable improvements.—N. O. & S. R. Co. v. Jones, 68 Ala. 48; s. c., 70 Ala. 227. The value at which the owner assesses the land for taxation is admissible as an evidence of value but is not conclusive.—Birmingham Min. R. Co. v. Smith, 89 Ala. 305. See also citations to Constitution, Art. XIV., §7.

Ib. §2. 1719 (3212). Report of the commissioners.—The commissioners must, within ten days from their appointment, report in writing to the court the amount of the damages and compensation ascertained and assessed by them, and thereupon the court must order the same to be recorded, and must make an order of condemnation in pursuance thereof upon payment of the damages and compensation so assessed and reported, or the deposit of the same in court.*

Irregular, unauthorized and void order.—London v. Sample Lumber Co., 91 Ala. 606.

Ib. §4. 1720 (3215). Appeal from assessment of damages.—Either party may appeal from the assessment of damages and compensation by the commissioners to the city or circuit court of the county within thirty days after the making of the order of condemnation upon the report of the commissioners, by filing in the court rendering the judgment a written notice of appeal, a copy of which shall be served on the opposite party, and on such appeal the trial shall be de novo; but no appeal shall suspend the judgment if the applicant shall give bond with good and sufficient surety, to be approved by the judge of probate, to pay such judgment as shall be rendered on appeal.

An appeal and trial by jury of twelve must be secured; appeal under this section must be taken from probate to circuit or city court.—Montgomery S. Ry. Co. v. Sayre, 72 Ala. 443; Woodward I. Co. v. Cabaniss, 87 Ala. 328; Postal T. C. Co. v. A. G. S. R. Co., 92 Ala. 331; A. M. Ry. Co. v. Newton, 94 Ala. 443; M. & C. R. Co. v. B. S. & T. R. Ry. Co., 96 Ala. 571; L. & N. R. Co. v. Peoples' S. Ry. & I. Co., 101 Ala. 331; M. & C. R. Co. v. Hopkins, 108 Ala. 159. See also citations to Constitution, Art. XIV., §7.

*"Or the deposit," etc., inserted by joint committee.

1721 (3216). Order of condemnation; effect of appeal.—The order of condemnation upon the payment of the sum ascertained and assessed by the verdict of the jury, or the deposit thereof in court for the defendant, shall vest in the applicant the easement proposed to be acquired for the uses and purposes stated in the application, and for no other uses or purposes. But if an appeal shall be taken by either party, then the person, corporation, or association seeking to acquire such right of way, upon the deposit in the court, for the party whose land is sought to be condemned, of the amount of damages and compensation so assessed, together with the costs of the proceeding, shall be entitled to enter upon the land so condemned, and survey, construct, and operate on the same for the uses and purposes stated in the application; but such easement shall not vest absolutely in such person, corporation, or association until the final determination of the cause and the payment or deposit in court of such damages and compensation as shall then be adjudged. As amended Feb. 10, 1893, p. 462.

In the order of condemnation the same certainty of description is required as in a conveyance.—London v. Sample Lumber Co., 91 Ala. 606. The payment of compensation before the taking is complete is a condition precedent without which the title of the owner is not disturbed.—N. O. & S. R. Co. v. Jones, 68 Ala. 48; s. c., 70 Ala. 227; M. & S. Ry. Co. v. Sayre, 72 Ala. 443; Faust v. Mayor, 83 Ala. 279; A. M. Ry. Co. v. Newton, 94 Ala. 443. Until payment is made the applicant has the right to discontinue proceedings. A. M. Ry. Co. v. Newton, 94 Ala. 443. The applicant only acquires an easement in the land; the fee, buildings, and everything not necessary to its use as a right of way remains with the owner.—Odum v. R. & J. R. Co., 94 Ala. 488. If the required deposit is made an appeal in nowise hinders or impedes work on the condemned premises.—Cooper v. A. & A. R. Co., 85 Ala. 106; M. & G. R. Co. v. A. M. Ry. Co., 87 Ala. 520. See also citations to Constitution, Art. I., §24; Art. XIV., §7.

1722 (3218). Time within which damages to be paid; effect of failure to pay.—The applicant may pay the damages and compensation assessed at any time within six months after the assessment thereof, or, in case an appeal is taken, within six months after the appeal is determined; but if he fails to pay the same within such time, such assessment shall cease to be binding on the owner of the lands, and the rights of the applicant thereunder shall determine; and, upon such failure, the applicant shall be liable to the owner for all damages the latter may have sustained by the institution of such proceedings, including a reasonable attorney's fee for defending the same.

A judgment of condemnation cannot be pleaded as res adjudicata until paid; extent of conclusiveness before payment.—A. M. Ry. Co. v. Newton, 94 Ala. 443. Methods of enforcing payment of damages and compensation. Cooper v. A. & A. R. Co., 85 Ala. 106. Compensation and damages should not be paid to the guardian ad litem of an infant.—Brown v. R. & D. R. Co., 86 Ala. 206. See also citations to preceding section.

1723 (3219). Foreign telegraph and telephone company.—A telegraph or telephone company, incorporated under the laws of another state, proposing to extend connecting lines into this state, may acquire an easement for the uses and purposes of such connecting lines, and may pursue the mode of proceeding prescribed in this article.

1724 (3220). Railroad crossings.—Any corporation, person, or association of persons owning a railroad or street-railroad in this Feb. 13, 1893, p. 570.

state and proposing to cross or intersect the line of another railroad or street-railroad may acquire an easement for such purpose and to that end may pursue the mode of proceeding prescribed in this article.

The crossing is a taking, and compensation must be made as in other cases.—M. & C. R. Co. v. B. S. & T. Ry. Co., 96 Ala. 571. See citations to section 1712 and to Constitution, Art. XIV., §21.

As amended Feb. 18, 1891, p. 1131, §6.

1725 (3217). Costs.—The costs of the application and proceedings thereunder, including the compensation of commissioners, who shall receive the pay of jurors, must be adjudged against the applicant and his surety for costs, for which execution may be issued. But should the applicant tender to the landowner, prior to the application for condemnation, a sum of money in excess of the award of the commissioners, then the costs of the proceedings before the commissioners shall be against the landowner; but the commissioners shall have no knowledge of the amount so tendered and must certify in their award that they had no knowledge of such tender. The principles of law and rules of justice relative to tender shall apply to all tenders made under the provisions of this section.

Feb. 13, 1893, p. 570.

1726 (3220). Court of probate open at all times.—The court of probate must be deemed always open for the filing and trial of all applications made under this article.

ARTICLE 2.

ERECTION OF DAMS FOR MILLS, GINS OR FACTORIES.

1727 (3184) (3555) (2481) (2089). Dams for water-mills, gins, or factories; by whom erected.—A dam for any water grist-mill, sawmill, gin, or factory, to be operated for the public, may be erected across any watercourse, not a navigable stream, by the owner in fee of the land on both sides of the stream, or on one side, and of part of the bed thereof, at the place where the dam is proposed to be erected, by proceeding as in this article provided.

There is a settled policy to subordinate the rights of proprietors to build dams to the preservation of the public health.—Ogletree v. McQuaggs, 87 Ala. 580. The privileges granted by this article are against common right and the law is strictly construed against the applicant; all the requisitions of the statute must be complied with.—Owen v. Jordan, 27 Ala. 608; Martin v. Rushton, 42 Ala. 289; Bottoms v. Brewer, 54 Ala. 288; Folmar v. Folmar, 68 Ala. 120; s. c., 71 Ala. 136; McAllilley v. Horton, 75 Ala. 491; McCulley v. Cunningham, 96 Ala. 583. Proposed mill, gin or factory must be operated for the public to authorize proceedings under this article.—Sadler v. Langham, 34 Ala. 311; Bottoms v. Brewer, 54 Ala. 288; McCulley v. Cunningham, 96 Ala. 583. The first applicant acquires an inchoate right.—Hendricks v. Johnson, 6 P. 472. And his right is not affected by subsequent errors of officers or court causing the writ to be quashed.—Hendricks v. Johnson, 6 P. 472. No length of time can confer a prescriptive right to maintain or continue a mill-dam or other obstructions of a public stream.—Olive v. State, 86 Ala. 88.

1728 (3185) (3556, 3557) (2482, 2483) (2090, 2091). Application to court of probate.—For authority to erect such dam, application in writing, verified by affidavit, must be made to the probate court of the county in which it is proposed to erect the mill, gin, or factory, if by the owner of the land on both sides of the stream, or if by the owner of the land on one side only, to the court of probate of the county in which the land on the opposite side of the stream, abutting the proposed site of the dam, lies.

The jurisdiction of the probate court is special, statutory and limited; the record must show affirmatively a full compliance with the requisitions of the statute.—Owen v. Jordan, 27 Ala. 608; Martin v. Rushton, 42 Ala. 289; Bottoms v. Brewer, 54 Ala. 288; Folmar v. Folmar, 68 Ala. 120; s. c., 71 Ala. 136; McAllilley v. Horton, 75 Ala. 491; McCulley v. Cunningham, 96 Ala. 583.

1729 (3186) (3558, 3559) (2484, 2485) (2092, 2093). Contents of such application.—Such application must set forth the right of the applicant to make the same, the purposes for which the dam is to be erected, a description of the land by sectional divisions and subdivisions, township and range, the name of the watercourse, if it have a name, the side on which the mill, gin, or factory is to be erected, and the proposed height of the dam; and if the application is made by the owner of the land on one side only, he shall also set forth therein the name of the owner of the land on the opposite side on which the proposed dam is to abut, and his residence, if known, and whether such owner is a minor or of full age; and if such owner of the land on the opposite side is of unsound mind, that fact must also be stated.

The application must describe the land and the proposed location of the mill, etc.—Folmar v. Folmar, 68 Ala. 120; s. c., 71 Ala. 136. Must state that the mill, gin or factory is to be operated for the public, and that it is of the character provided for by statute.—Sadler v. Langham, 34 Ala. 311; Bottoms v. Brewer, 54 Ala. 288; McCulley v. Cunningham, 96 Ala. 583.

1730 (3188) (3561, 3562) (2487, 2488) (2095, 2096). Notice to owner of opposite land.—If such application is filed by the owner of the land on one side of the stream only, notice must be given to the owner of the land on the opposite side, by serving him, his tenant, or agent, with a copy of the writ, if to be found in the county, or if not, by posting up a copy of such writ in a conspicuous place on the land, ten days before the day specified in the writ for the meeting of the jury; and if such owner is a minor or person of unsound mind, such service must be on his guardian, or if he has no guardian, the judge of probate must appoint a guardian ad litem to protect his interest.

1731 (3189) (3563) (2489) (2097). Notice when owner non-resident.—If such owner is a non-resident of the state, notice must be given by publication in the newspaper published nearest to such land, once a week for three successive weeks.

1732 (3187) (3560) (2486) (2094). On filing application, writ of ad quod damnum issues.—On the filing of such application, the judge of probate must issue to the sheriff a writ, setting forth the substantial averments contained in the application, the name of the applicant, and the place where it is proposed to erect the dam, and commanding the sheriff to summon seven disinterested freeholders of the county to meet at the place where the dam is to be erected, on a day to be specified in the writ, not less than fifteen, nor more than thirty days after the filing of the application, and then and there to inquire touching the matters contained therein.

Jurisdiction attaches on filing the application.—Hendricks v. Johnson, 6 P. 472. Writ must specify the day on which the jurors are to meet and ought to give place of assemblage.—Folmar v. Folmar, 68 Ala. 120; s. c., 71 Ala. 136. If the place where the proposed erection is to be located is not given in the writ the sheriff should return it unexecuted, giving reasons. Folmar v. Folmar, 68 Ala. 120; s. c., 71 Ala. 136. The objection that less than fifteen days intervened between the filing of the application and the inquest cannot be first made in the supreme court.—Bush v. Robinson, 44 Ala. 328. Persons who served as jurors on a former inquest in regard to the same matter, which was set aside, are incompetent.—Folmar v. Folmar, 68 Ala. 120; s. c., 71 Ala. 136. An error of the officer cannot prejudice the applicant.—Hendricks v. Johnson, 6 P. 472. Proper method of reaching defects in the writ is by motion to quash.—Hendricks v. Johnson, 6 P. 472. If the application is contested the proceedings take the form of a suit inter partes, and costs go against an unsuccessful contestant.—Folmar v. Folmar, 71 Ala. 136. The inquest and sheriff's return must show that the jury was sworn as required.—Owen v. Jordan, 27 Ala. 608; Rushton v. Martin, 43 Ala. 555; McAllilley v. Horton, 75 Ala. 491. The inquest must be clearly responsive; falling short of this, it is defective, and the whole proceedings may be quashed.—Owen v. Jordan, 27 Ala. 608; Martin v. Rushton, 42 Ala. 289; McAllilley v. Horton, 75 Ala. 491. A return, not showing affirmatively that the jury examined the land above and below, is insufficient.—Owen v. Jordan, 27 Ala. 608; Martin v. Rushton, 42 Ala. 289. Not showing whether the residence, etc., of any owner will be overflowed, is insufficient.—Owen v. Jordan, 27 Ala. 608; Martin v. Rushton, 42 Ala. 289; Bush v. Robinson, 44 Ala. 328; McAllilley v. Horton, 75 Ala. 491. And also, failing to show whether the health of the neighborhood will be affected. Owen v. Jordan, 27 Ala. 608. Evidence as to whether health will be affected. Frost v. Barnes, 47 Ala. 279. Jurisdiction of equity to protect health.—Ogletree v. McQuaggs, 67 Ala. 580. Must examine and return whether any other mill, etc., will be overflowed.—Owen v. Jordan, 27 Ala. 608. Extent of overflow which will prevent erection of dam.—Frost v. Barnes, 47 Ala. 279. Where one begins the erection of a dam to defeat the application of another, already made, he will not be protected.—Hendricks v. Johnson, 6 P. 472.

1733 (3190) (3564) (2490) (2098). Mode of executing writ; charge to and duties of jury.—The sheriff and the jury must attend on the day appointed; and after the jury are sworn by the sheriff to discharge their duties fairly and to the best of their ability, they must be charged by him—

1. To examine the land above and below belonging to others, which may probably be overflowed or injured, and to ascertain and assess the damages resulting from the erection of such dam to the several owners of such lands.

2. To ascertain whether the residence of any of such owners, or the outhouses, inclosures, gardens, or orchards, thereto immediately belonging, will be overflowed.

3. To ascertain whether the health of the neighborhood will probably be endangered.

4. To ascertain whether any other mill, gin, factory, or waterworks will be overflowed.

1734 (3191) (3565) (2491) (2099). Value of one acre of land on opposite side to be assessed.—If the applicant is not the owner of the land on both sides of the stream, the jury must also be charged to ascertain and assess the value of one acre of land on the opposite side to include the place where the proposed dam would abut, and to locate and circumscribe the same by metes and bounds, having a due regard to the interests of all parties.

1735 (3192) (3566) (2492) (2100). Inquest made, signed and re- turned.—The inquest of the jury must be reduced to writing, signed by a majority of them, and delivered to the sheriff and by him returned in five days thereafter to the court of probate.

If inquest is signed by a majority of the jury it is sufficient.—Frost v. Barnes, 47 Ala. 279. Defects are reached by motion to quash.—Hendricks v. Johnson, 6 P. 472. See also citations to section 1732 (3187).

1736 (3193) (3567) (2493) (2101). Parties summoned to show cause against inquest.—On the return of the inquest, summons must issue from the court of probate to the owner of the acre of land, if the same is assessed by the jury, and also the several owners of the land found by the inquest to be liable to damage, to appear before him on a day named in the summons, and show cause, if any they have, why the applicant should not have permission to erect his dam.

Folmar v. Folmar, 71 Ala. 136.

1737 (3194) (3568) (2494) (2102). Ten days' notice to be given to owners of land; how given.—Ten days' notice must be given to the several owners of such land, to show cause, if any they have, against such application, by personal service, if to be found in the county, or if not, by posting up a copy of such notice at a conspicuous place on the several tracts of the owners who cannot be so found.

Does not contemplate the exercise of discretion; if none of the injuries named are likely to ensue, application must be granted.—Hendricks v. Johnson, 6 P. 472. Evidence as to whether health will be affected.—Frost v. Barnes, 47 Ala. 279. In necessary cases equity will interfere to protect health.—Ogletree v. McQuaggs, 67 Ala. 580. Extent of overflow of another mill which will prevent application being granted.—Frost v. Barnes, 47 Ala. 279. A landowner, apprehending injury, may propound his interest and litigate with applicant at any time before final decree.—Hendricks v. Johnson, 6 P. 472. The application, when contested, assumes the form of a suit inter partes, and an unsuccessful contestant is liable for the costs.—Folmar v. Folmar, 71 Ala. 136.

1738 (3195) (3569) (2495) (2103). When application rejected; when granted.—If, on the day appointed to show cause, or any other day to which the matter may be continued, it appears to the court from the inquest, or from evidence introduced, that the residence of any owner, or the outhouses, inclosures, garden, or orchard, immediately belonging thereto, will probably be overflowed, or that the health of the neighborhood will probably be endangered, or that any other mill, gin, factory, or water-works will probably be overflowed, the court must not grant the application; but if such results will not probably ensue, the application must be granted.

1739 (3196) (3570) (2496) (2104). Payment of assessment.—If the application is granted, the applicant must, within three months thereafter, pay to the several owners, or to the judge of probate for their use, the sums severally assessed; and a failure to make payment within such time operates a revocation of the grant.

The right is not perfect until payment is made.—Hendricks v. Johnson, 6 P. 472.

1740 (3197) (3571) (2497) (2105). Conditional fee vests on payment of assessment.—On making such payment, the applicant is vested with a qualified estate in fee to the acre of land located and circumscribed by the jury, to become absolute on performance of the following conditions:

1. That the dam or mill, gin or factory, be commenced within one, and finished within three years from the date of the grant.

2. That whenever the dam or mill, gin or factory, is destroyed or materially impaired, the same must be rebuilt or repaired within three years thereafter; but if the owner of such dam is an infant or person of unsound mind, he is allowed the same length of time, after the removal of such disability, to commence, finish, rebuild, or repair.

1741 (3198) (3572) (2498) (2106). On breach of condition, land reverts.—On failure to comply with such conditions, the land reverts to its former owner, or his heirs.

1742 (3199) (3573) (2499) (2107). Proceedings when canal through another's land is necessary.—When such land joins other lands, and it is necessary for the erection of the mill, gin, or factory, to dig a ditch or canal through such other lands, the application must be made to the court of probate of the county in which the land through which the ditch or canal is proposed to be dug, lie; and the writ must be obtained, inquest held, notice given, inquest returned, the owners of other lands summoned to show cause, the application granted or refused, and damages paid, the same as in other cases provided for in this article.

1743 (3200) (3574) (2500) (2108). Authority to raise dam higher.—An owner or proprietor of any dam erected under this article may raise the same on application to the court of probate; and on such application, the same proceedings must be had as on the first application.

Record must show that the dam was originally erected under order of court, or that the mill is operated for the public.—Bottoms v. Brewer, 54 Ala. 288.

1744 (3202) (3576) (2502) (2110). Who may contest application. In all applications under this article, any person making affidavit that he is interested against the same, and giving security for the costs if he fail to defeat such application, must, at any time before such application is granted, be permitted to make himself a party, and to contest the same.

On a contest, the proceedings take the form of a suit inter partes, and an unsuccessful applicant is liable for costs.—Folmar v. Folmar, 71 Ala. 136. A landowner, apprehending injury, may propound his interest and litigate with the applicant at any time before final decree.—Hendricks v. Johnson, 6 P. 472.

1745 (3203) (3577) (2503) (2111). Liability for building or raising dam without authority.—Any person who builds or raises a dam or other obstruction across any watercourse, except as authorized by law, and thereby works any injury to any other person, by overflowing his land, or in any other way, is liable to such person for double damages for such injury; and he may, if the same is a nuisance to the neighborhood, be prosecuted therefor.

1746 (3204) (3578) (2507) (2115). Deputy-sheriffs may act.

The duties imposed on the sheriff under this article may be performed by deputy.

1747 (3205) (3579) (2508). Provisions as to toll.—All grist-mills established in pursuance of this article are subject to the provisions of this Code touching the order in which grain shall be ground, and the rate of toll to be charged for grinding grain, at public mills.

1748 (3206). Landowner entitled to appeal to circuit court. From any assessment of damages made or had under this article, the landowner, if dissatisfied, is entitled to an appeal, as matter of right, to the circuit court of the county, and on such an appeal to a trial de novo by jury; such appeal to be taken within twenty days after the application is granted, on giving security for the costs of the appeal, to be approved by the judge of probate; and on giving such security, the judge of probate must file in the office of the clerk of the circuit court a full and complete transcript of all the proceedings, including the inquest of the jury, within ten days after such appeal is taken.

An appeal to the circuit court waives irregularities and formal defects in the proceedings; and the inquiry is confined to the assessment of damages de novo before the jury; defects of law, appearing on the face of the proceedings, must be reviewed by common-law certiorari.—McCulley v. Cunningham, 96 Ala. 583.

CHAPTER 43.

EMPLOYER AND EMPLOYE. 1749–1751.

1749 (2590). Liability of master or employer to servant or employe for injuries.—When a personal injury is received by a servant or employe in the service or business of the master or employer, the master or employer is liable to answer in damages to such servant or employe, as if he were a stranger, and not engaged in such service or employment, in the cases following:

1. When the injury is caused by reason of any defect in the condition of the ways, works, machinery, or plant connected with, or used in the business of the master or employer.

2. When the injury is caused by reason of the negligence of any person in the service or employment of the master or employer, who has any superintendence intrusted to him, whilst in the exercise of such superintendence.

3. When such injury is caused by reason of the negligence of any person in the service or employment of the master or employer, to whose orders or directions the servant or employe, at the time of the injury, was bound to conform, and did conform, if such injuries resulted from his having so conformed.

4. When such injury is caused by reason of the act or omission of any person in the service or employment of the master or employer, done or made in obedience to the rules and regulations or by-laws of the master or employer, or in obedience to particular instructions given by any person delegated with the authority of the master or employer in that behalf.

5. When such injury is caused by reason of the negligence of any person in the service or employment of the master or employer, who has the charge or control of any signal, points, locomotive, engine, switch, car, or train upon a railway, or of any part of the track of a railway.

But the master or employer is not liable under this section, if the servant or employe knew of the defect or negligence causing the injury, and failed in a reasonable time to give information thereof to the master or employer, or to some person superior to himself engaged in the service or employment of the master or employer, unless he was aware that the master or employer, or such superior already knew of such defect or negligence; nor is the master or employer liable under subdivision 1, unless the defect therein mentioned arose from, or had not been discovered or remedied owing to the negligence of the master or employer, or of some person in the service of the master or employer, and intrusted by him with the duty of seeing that the ways, works, machinery, or plant, were in proper condition.

Mothershed, 97 Ala. 261. When complaint charges simple negligence, and the plea of contributory negligence is interposed, a replication setting up wanton or intentional negligence is a departure and demurrable.—George v. M. & O. R. Co., 109 Ala. 245; Davis v. Miller, 109 Ala. 589. But such replication is good in the absence of demurrer for departure. Highland Ave. & B. R. Co. v. South, 112 Ala. 642. Distinct causes of action arising under different subdivisions cannot be joined in a single count, but may be joined in different counts.—Highland Ave. & B. R. Co. v. Dusenberry, 94 Ala. 413; L. & N. R. Co. v. Mothershed, 97 Ala. 261; R. & D. R. Co. v. Weems, 97 Ala. 270; Birmingham Ry. & E. Co. v. Baylor, 101 Ala. 488; Laughran v. Brewer, Ala. (21 So. 415). When a single count contains distinct causes of action under one subdivision, proof of any one cause is sufficient, but if all the averments constitute only one cause of action, all must be proved.—Birmingham Ry. & E. Co. v. Baylor, 101 Ala. 488. Counts under each subdivision examined and held sufficient.—Chambliss v. Mary Lee C. & R. Co., 104 Ala. 655. Under subdivision 1 it is not necessary to aver name of person intrusted by the employer with the duty of seeing that the ways, works, etc., are in proper condition.—McNamara v. Logan, 100 Ala. 187; Woodward I. Co. v. Herndon, Ala. (21 So. 430) (overruling L. & N. R. Co. v. Bouldin, 110 Ala. 185). Under subdivisions 2 and 5, name of person charged with superintendence or control must be stated, or averred to be unknown to plaintiff.—Woodward I. Co. v. Herndon, Ala. (21 So. 430); So. Ry. Co. v. Cunningham, 112 Ala. 496. Under subdivision 5 it is not necessary to aver that the person in charge or control of signal, points, etc., was at the time, in the discharge of the duties of his employment.—Woodward I. Co. v. Herndon, Ala. (21 So. 430). Averment of negligence of employer as to defects in machinery.—Seabord Mfg. Co. v. Woodson, 94 Ala. 143. Complaint may be amended after action barred, if amendment within the lis pendens.—L. & N. R. Co. v. Woods, 105 Ala. 561. Pleading contributory negligence only, admits negligence on part of defendant; not so when interposed with a plea of not guilty.—L. & N. R. Co. v. Hall, 87 Ala. 708; McDonald v. Montgomery St. Ry., 110 Ala. 161. The words "gross" and "reckless," as applied to negligence, defined.—K. C. M. & B. R. Co. v. Crocker, 95 Ala. 412; Stringer v. Ala. Mid. Ry. Co., 99 Ala. 397; A. G. S. R. Co. v. Hall, 105 Ala. 599; L. & N. R. Co. v. Anchors, Ala. (22 So. 279). Simple negligence and willful or wanton negligence distinguished and defined.—Birmingham Ry. & E. Co. v. Bowers, 110 Ala. 328; Stringer v. Ala. Mid. Ry. Co., 99 Ala. 397. When the complaint is amended, pleas and demurrers should be refiled.—L. & N. R. Co. v. Woods, 105 Ala. 561. In case of minor; need not negative parent's consent to employment.—Ala. Mid. Ry. Co. v. McDonald, 112 Ala. 216. Evidence: Burden on plaintiff to prove his case as alleged.—L. & N. R. Co. v. Allen, 78 Ala. 494; L. & N. R. Co. v. Campbell, 97 Ala. 147, 151; Birmingham Min. R. Co. v. Bailey, 112 Ala. 167. Physical suffering of deceased not considered.—L. & N. R. Co. v. Orr, 91 Ala. 548.

1750 (2592). Damages exempt.—Damages recovered by the servant or employe, of and from the master or employer, are not subject to the payment of debts, or any legal liabilities incurred by him.

Griswold v. Griswold, 111 Ala. 572.

1751 (2591). Personal representative may sue, if injury results in death.—If such injury results in the death of the servant or employe, his personal representative is entitled to maintain an action therefor, and the damages recovered are not subject to the payment of debts or liabilities, but shall be distributed according to the statute of distributions.

When the injury results in death, no one but the personal representative can sue.—Stewart v. L. & N. R. Co., 83 Ala. 493; C. & W. Ry. Co. v. Bradford, 86 Ala. 574; Williams v. S. & N. A. R. Co., 91 Ala. 635; L. & N. R. Co. v. Trammell, 93 Ala. 350; T. C. I. & R. Co. v. Herndon, 100 Ala. 451. Complaint need not aver that deceased left heirs at law.—C. & W. Ry. Co. v. Bradford, 86 Ala. 574. But if it is shown that he left no next of kin, only nominal damages will be awarded. James v. R. & D. R. Co., 92 Ala. 231. Distribution. Griswold v. Griswold, 111 Ala. 572. That the deceased was a minor makes no difference under this statute.—Lovell v. DeBardelaben C. & I. Co., 90 Ala. 13; Williams v. S. &. N. A. R. Co., 91 Ala. 635; T. C. I. & R. Co. v. Herndon, 100 Ala. 451; Ala. Mid. Ry. Co. v. Bailey, 112 Ala. 216. When non-consenting parent may sue (under another statute) for injury to minor employe.—Lovell v. DeBardelaben C. & I. Co., 90 Ala. 13; Williams v. S. & N. A. R. Co., 91 Ala. 635.

ESCHEATS. 1752–1760.

1752 (1936) (2851) (2456) (2064). When property escheats. The property of all persons who die without devising or bequeathing the same, and leaving no lawful heirs, or husband or wife, capable of taking, or where the devisees or legatees are incapable of taking the same, and there are no lawful heirs, or husband or wife, escheats to the state.

When intestate incapable of transmitting, property vests in the state. Ethridge v. Doe, 18 Ala. 565; Donovan v. Doe, 53 Ala. 411. Administration proper if not indispensable.—Nicrosi v. Giuly, 85 Ala. 365. Information by the attorney-general.—Harley v. State, 40 Ala. 689.

1753 (1937) (2852) (2457) (2065). Notice by representative. The personal representative of any person leaving property not devised or bequeathed, or where the devisees or legatees are incapable of taking, and such representative is unable to ascertain any lawful heirs or distributees, or persons capable of taking, within six months after the grant of letters testamentary or of administration, must give notice thereof in some newspaper published in the state, once a week for three successive weeks.

1754 (1938) (2853) (2458) (2066). Contents of notice.—Such notice must contain the name of the deceased, as near as may be, a description of his person, the place where he was, or is supposed to have been born, the place where he died, or was known to reside, and a description of the property of which he died seized or possessed.

1755 (1939) (2854) (2459) (2067). Disposition of personalty when no heir appears.—If no heir or person entitled to receive such estate appears or is ascertained within twelve months after such publication, the money and proceeds of the personal assets must be paid to the judge of probate, after deducting the expenses of administration.

1756 (1940) (2855) (2460) (2068). Disposition of real estate when no heir appears.—If, after two years from the publication of such notice, no heir or person entitled to receive such estate appears, the real estate must be sold by such personal representative, under the direction of the judge of probate of the county in which letters testamentary or of administration were granted, and upon such notice as real estate is sold by executors and administrators; and the proceeds thereof must, after deducting all expenses and allowances, be paid to such judge.

1757 (1941) (2856) (2461) (2069). Decrees against representative for failure to pay over proceeds.—The judge of probate may render decrees against such personal representative, in the name of the state, for the money or proceeds of the property, under the provisions of this chapter and enforce the same as other decrees by the judge of probate against executors or administrators are enforced.

1758 (1942) (2857) (2462) (2070). Receipts paid to state treasurer; penalty for, and evidence of default.—The judge of probate must, within three months after the receipt thereof, pay to the state treasurer all moneys he may receive under the provisions of this chapter, and, failing so to do, he is liable as a defaulter, and also forfeits three hundred dollars, one half to the state, and the other half to any one suing for the same; and, on the trial, the certificate of the treasurer is presumptive evidence of his failure to make such payment.

1759 (1943) (2858) (2464) (2072). State's remedy on distribution of property without authority.—The state may enforce its right to any personal property to which it is entitled under the provisions of this chapter, by action against any person into whose possession the same may come; and, if any personal representative pays any money, or delivers any property to which the state is, under the provisions of this chapter, entitled, to any person not authorized to receive the same, such personal representative and his sureties are liable to the state for the amount of such money, or value of such property, and interest thereon from the time of such payment or delivery.

1760 (1944) (2859) (2465) (2073). Duty of judge of probate. It is the official duty of the judge of probate of each county to attend to the interest of the state, intended to be secured by the provisions of this chapter.

CHAPTER 45.

ESTRAYS AND ANIMALS RUNNING AT LARGE.

ARTICLE 1.—ESTRAYS. 1761–1789.
2.—STALLIONS AND JACKASSES RUNNING AT LARGE. 1790, 1791.

ARTICLE 1.

ESTRAYS.

1761 (1330) (1552) (1245) (1062). Estrays may be taken up. Every person in this state, finding any horse, mare, mule, jack, or jenny, any neat cattle, hog, or sheep running at large about his residence or plantation, or the residence or plantation of which he has charge, the owner of which is unknown, may take up such animal as an estray.

Estray laws treat uninclosed lands as common of pasture and permit an owner to suffer his cattle to run at large.—M. & C. R. Co. v. Peacock, 25 Ala. 229; M. & O. R. Co. v. Williams, 53 Ala. 595; Wilhite v. Speakman, 79 Ala. 400. Party claiming estray title must show by proper evidence that the statute has been complied with.—McCrossin v. Davis, 100 Ala. 631.

1762 (1331) (1553) (1246) (1063). Neat cattle not to be taken up at certain seasons; exceptions.—No neat cattle, except cows with young calves, sheep, or hogs, must be taken up as estrays between the first days of April and November.

1763 (1332) (1554) (1247) (1064). Oath of taker.—Every person taking up an estray must, within three days thereafter, make oath before some justice of the county in which such estray was found, that the same was taken up about his plantation or residence, or about the plantation or residence in his charge, and that the marks or brands have not been defaced or altered since taking up.

1764 (1333) (1555) (1248) (1065). Appraisement and certificate. Such justice must thereupon issue his summons to two disinterested householders, directing them, after being sworn, to appraise the estray at a fair valuation, to certify such valuation in writing with a particular description of the estray, by the kind, size, mark, color, stature and age; which certificate, signed by them and attested by the justice, must be returned to the judge of probate within ten days thereafter.

1765 (1334) (1556) (1249) (1066). Certificate entered by judge of probate.—The judge of probate must enter such certificate, and the name of the person taking up the estray, in a book to be kept for that purpose.

1766 (1335) (1557) (1250) (1067). If two estrays taken up at same time.—If two or more estrays of the same kind are taken up at the same time, by the same person, they must be included in the same summons, certificate of appraisement and entry.

1767 (1336) (1558) (1251) (1068). Bond to be given.—Every person taking up an estray, must, on the return of the certificate of appraisement to the justice, give bond with surety, to be approved by him, in a sum equal to the appraised value of the estray, payable to the county, and conditioned that if the owner thereof, in one year thereafter, prove his property in such estray, and pay all legal costs and expenses, he will deliver up the same; and if the owner fails to prove his property within a year, he will pay to the county one-half of such appraised value.

1768 (1337) (1559) (1252) (1069). Justice returns bond to judge of probate.—The justice must return such bond to the judge of probate, with the appraisement and valuation of the estray.

1769 (1338) (1560) (1253) (1070). Horses, etc., appraised at more than twenty dollars; advertising fee.—If the estray be a horse, mare, mule, jack, or jenny, and is appraised at more than twenty dollars, the person taking up such an estray must pay to the justice two dollars, which must be paid to the judge of probate on the return to him of the certificate of appraisement, for the expenses of advertising, as hereinafter provided.

1770 (1339) (1561) (1254) (1071). Neglect of duty by justice. Any justice, failing to return the certificate of appraisement within the prescribed time, or to pay the printing fees, according to the provisions of the preceding section, forfeits one hundred dollars, one half to the person suing for the same, the other to the use of the county.

1771 (1340) (1562) (1255) (1072). When advertised in newspaper.—Where the estray is a horse, mare, mule, jack, or jenny, and appraised at more than twenty dollars, the judge of probate must, on the return of the appraisement and the payment of the sum hereinbefore provided for, advertise such estray in some newspaper of his county for three successive weeks; and if no newspaper is published therein, then in the paper nearest thereto.

Proof of advertisement.—McCrossin v. Davis, 100 Ala. 631.

1772 (1341) (1563) (1256) (1073). Sum not sufficient for advertisement, judge posts notice.—If the sum specified is not sufficient to procure the publication as required by the preceding section, such judge must cause the same to be advertised by posting notice at three public places in the county, and pay the amount received by him for the purpose of publication into the county treasury.

1773 (1342) (1564) (1257) (1074). Contents of advertisement. The advertisement must contain the name of the person by whom the estray was taken up, and the time when, the appraised value, description of the animal, and the name of the justice before whom the proceedings were had.

1774 (1343) (1565) (1258) (1075). Lists of estrays to be posted. Such judge must also make out a list of all estrays, and post up the same at the court-house door on the first day of each term of the circuit court, which list must show all estrays taken up within twelve months preceding such day, and not restored to their owners.

1775 (1344) (1566) (1259) (1076). Estrays required to be ad- vertised, brought to court-house first day of court.—All estrays, required by this chapter to be advertised in a newspaper, must be brought to the court-house of the county in which they were taken up, on the first day of the circuit court next after such taking up.

1776 (1345) (1567) (1260) (1077). Death or escape of estray. When the estray dies, or escapes without fault on the part of the taker, and after the same is appraised, he must report the same to the judge of probate within ten days thereafter, making oath that such death or escape was without his fault; and such judge must make an entry thereof in the margin where the certificate of appraisement is entered, and must not advertise or include such estray in the list posted up at the court-house door.

Clerk v. Anderson, 11 Ala. 410; Hudgins v. Glass, 34 Ala. 110.

1777 (1346) (1568) (1261) (1078). Proceeding as required, taker discharged from liability.—Upon proceeding as required by the preceding section, the taker is, on the escape or death of the estray, discharged from all liability.

1778 (1347) (1569) (1262) (1079). Ownership; how established. If the owner of any estray, within one year from the execution of the bond given under section 1767 (1336), claim the same, he must notify the taker and satisfactorily establish his claim before a justice of the county, either by his own, or the oath of another person.

Must notify taker not only of his claim, but also of the time, place, and before what justice he will establish it.—Stephenson v. Brunson, 83 Ala. 455.

1779 (1348) (1570) (1263) (1080). Order of delivery.—Such justice, if satisfied of the ownership of the estray, must make an order in writing, requiring such estray to be delivered to such owner, on his paying the legal costs which have accrued, and compensation for keeping.

Order made without notice to taker void.—Stephenson v. Brunson, 83 Ala. 455.

1780 (1349) (1571) (1264) (1081). Estray not to be used until bond is given.—No person must work any estray, except by riding the same to the justice for the purpose of taking the oath required by section 1763 (1332), until he has given the bond required by this article.

1781 (1350) (1572) (1265) (1082). Penalty.—Any person, using an estray contrary to the provisions of the preceding section, forfeits one hundred dollars, one half to the use of the person suing for the same, the other to the use of the county.

Smith v. Ewers, 21 Ala. 38; Butler v. Cook, 14 Ala. 576.

1782 (1351) (1573) (1266) (1083). No charge for keeping, if worked.—No person must make any charge for keeping an estray which has been used or worked while in the possession of the taker, except by riding the same to the court-house for exhibition, and to the justice for the purpose of taking such oath; and any person violating this section forfeits the appraised value of such estray to the person suing for the same.

1783 (1352) (1574) (1267) (1084). Pay for keeping; how deter- mined.—For the keeping of estrays, if not worked or used, the taker is entitled to a reasonable compensation, if the parties cannot agree, to be determined by the justice before whom the owner proves the property, and if either party is dissatisfied with his decision, by any two disinterested householders, who may be appointed by such justice, with liberty to call in an umpire, whose decision is final.

Failure of owner to pay costs and expenses within the year does not forfeit his right when lawful excuse shown.—Stephenson v. Brunson, 83 Ala. 455.

1784 (1353) (1575) (1268) (1085). Not to be injured or killed. No person taking up an estray must intentionally injure, kill, or dispose of the same, until after the expiration of the time that the owner has the right of proving his property therein.

1785 (1354) (1576) (1269) (1086). Penalty.—Any person, violating the provisions of the preceding section, forfeits to the owner double the appraised value of the estray.

Simpson v. Talbot, 25 Ala. 469.

1786 (1355) (1577) (1270) (1087). On failure to claim title one year after execution of bond, forfeited to taker.—If the owner of the estray does not appear and prove his property therein, in one year after the execution of the bond given under section 1767 (1336) he forfeits his right thereto, and the property is vested in the taker of the same.

The taker is a bailee during the year, is vested with a qualified property in the animal, and upon complying with the statute becomes the absolute owner after one year.—Hudgins v. Glass, 34 Ala. 110; Stephenson v. Brunson, 83 Ala. 455; McCrossin v. Davis, 100 Ala. 631.

1787 (1356) (1578) (1271) (1088). One-half the value to be paid to the county.—If the estray is not proved in one year from the execution of such bond, the person taking up the same must pay to the judge of probate of the county in which such estray was taken up, one-half of the appraised value of the same, for the use of the county, in discharge of his bond.

1788 (1357) (1579) (1273) (1089). If not paid, execution issues on the bond.—After the expiration of such year, if the order of the justice requiring the taker to return the estray to the owner, with his receipt thereon, is not filed with the judge of probate, or the one-half of the appraised value of the estray paid to him, he must issue an execution on such bond, in the name of the county, against the obligors thereto, for one-half of such appraised value and costs, returnable to any regular term of the court of probate, to be holden within three months.

1789 (1358) (1580) (1274) (1090). Death of taker.—If the taker dies before the expiration of the time allowed by this article to the owner of the estray to prove his property, the provisions in relation to giving up such estray to the owner apply to his legal representatives.

ARTICLE 2.

STALLIONS AND JACKASSES RUNNING AT LARGE.

1790 (1359) (1581) (1276) (1092). Stallions and jacks, when taken up; advertisement and fees.—If any stallion, or jackass, over two years of age, is found running at large, such animal may be brought before any justice of the county, who must cause the same to be advertised, with a description of his marks, color, size and age, with the name of the taker, in three public places in the county; and the taker is entitled to receive five dollars from the owner, and a reasonable compensation for keeping, to be determined as in the case of estrays, and the justice one dollar.

1791 (1360) (1582) (1277) (1093). If not claimed.—If such stallion or jackass is not claimed within three months after being taken up, and the amounts specified in the preceding section paid within that time, the taker, or any other person, may geld such animal at the risk of the owner.

ARTICLE 1.

GENERAL RULES.

1792 (2763) (3057) (2703) (2301). Testimony; how given.—All testimony, except as otherwise directed, must be given in open court on the oath or affirmation of the witness.

Garrett v. Bruner, 59 Ala. 513; Garner v. Toney, 107 Ala. 352.

1793 (2764) (3034) (2679) (2275). Interpreters.—Interpreters may be sworn truly to interpret, when necessary, and must be paid as witnesses in the cause.

Horn v. State, 98 Ala. 23.

As amended Feb. 10, 1891, p. 557.

1794 (2765) (3058) (2704). Competency of parties as affected by interest.—In civil suits and proceedings, there must be no exclusion of any witness because he is a party, or interested in the issue tried, except that no person having a pecuniary interest in the result of the suit or proceeding shall be allowed to testify against the party to whom his interest is opposed, as to any transaction with, or statement by the deceased person whose estate is interested in the result of the suit or proceeding, or when such deceased person, at the time of such transaction or statement, acted in any representative or fiduciary relation whatsoever to the party against whom such testimony is sought to be introduced, unless called to testify thereto by the party to whom such interest is opposed, or unless the testimony of such deceased person in relation to such transaction or statement is introduced in evidence by the party whose interest is opposed to that of the witness, or has been taken and is on file in the cause. No person who is an incompetent witness under this section shall make himself competent by transferring his interest to another.

Statute not unconstitutional.—Walthall v. Walthall, 42 Ala. 450. Furnishes the only rule by which the competency of parties is determined.—Lemay v. Walker, 62 Ala. 39; Davis v. Tarver, 65 Ala. 98; Key v. Jones, 52 Ala. 238; Kumpe v. Coons, 63 Ala. 448. Abolishes the common-law rule of incompetency of parties and renders parties competent to testify in all cases except in the particular instances here specified.—Rupert v. Elston, 35 Ala. 79; O'Neal v. Reynolds, 42 Ala. 197; Bogia v. Darden, 45 Ala. 269; Smith v. Bryant, 60 Ala. 235; Ala. Gold Life Ins. Co. v. Sledge, 62 Ala. 566; Davis v. Tarver, 65 Ala. 98; Daily v. Daily, 66 Ala. 266; Calera Land Co. v. Brinkerhoff, 87 Ala. 422; Mobile Savings Bank v. McDonnell, 87 Ala. 736; Sublett v. Hodges, 88 Ala. 491. To render witness incompetent, "he must have a pecuniary interest in the result, opposed to the party against whom he is called to testify, and the estate of the deceased person must be interested in the result of the suit, or the decedent must have acted in a fiduciary relation to the party against whom the testimony is sought to be introduced."—Howle v. Edwards, 97 Ala. 649. To fall within the prohibited line, the transaction or statement must be of such a character, and so connected with the deceased as that, if living, the presumption would be that he could deny, qualify or explain it.—Wood v. Brewer, 73 Ala. 259; Miller v. Cannon, 84 Ala. 59, 63. Must be an immediate conflict of interest.—Hill v. Helton, 80 Ala. 528; Ala. Gold Life Ins. Co. v. Sledge, 62 Ala. 566; Daily v. Daily, 66 Ala. 266; Dismukes v. Tolson, 67 Ala. 386; Butler v. Jones, 80 Ala. 436; Fitzgerald v. Williamson, 85 Ala. 585; Gamble v. Whitehead, 94 Ala. 335; Cromwell v. Horton, 94 Ala. 647; Howle v. Edwards, 97 Ala. 649; Scarborough v. Blackman, 108 Ala. 656. The right and privilege must be mutual; if death has closed the lips of one party, the policy of the law is to close the lips of the other.—Louis v. Easton, 50 Ala. 470; Boykin v. Smith, 65 Ala. 294; Dismukes v. Tolson, 67 Ala. 386; Miller v. Cannon, 84 Ala. 59, 63. Exclusion extends to corroborative, strengthening or weakening testimony. Miller v. Cannon, 84 Ala. 59; Tisdale v. Maxwell, 58 Ala. 40; Killen v. Lide, 65 Ala. 505; Dismukes v. Tolson, 67 Ala. 386. Interested person may testify to collateral facts and transactions not falling within the expressly prohibited class.—Huckabee v. Nelson, 54 Ala. 12; Strange v. Graham, 56 Ala. 614; Miller v. Clay, 57 Ala. 162; Tisdale v. Maxwell, 58 Ala. 40; Fort v. Davis, 67 Ala. 481; Wood v. Brewer, 73 Ala. 259; Meadows v. Meadows, 78 Ala. 240; Miller v. Cannon, 84 Ala. 59, 63; Parker v. Edwards, 85 Ala. 246; Gamble v. Whitehead, 94 Ala. 335. And may deny or explain conversations and admissions introduced against him.—Frank v. Thompson, 105 Ala. 211. Exception, does not extend to suits and controversies between heirs or devisees when the result would not diminish the estate of the decedent.—Henry v. Hall, 106 Ala. 84; Snider v. Burks, 84 Ala. 53; Bibb v. Hunter, 79 Ala. 351; Fort v. Davis, 67 Ala. 481; Kumpe v. Coons, 63 Ala. 448; Conoly v. Gayle, 61 Ala. 116; O'Neal v. Reynolds, 42 Ala. 197. Hence a legatee or devisee is competent to attest and prove a will. Kumpe v. Coons, 63 Ala. 448; Snider v. Burks, 84 Ala. 53; Henry v. Hall, 106 Ala. 84. Persons excluded: Transferor of claim in suit against estate of decedent.—Lewis v. Easton, 50 Ala. 470; Drew v. Simmons, 58 Ala. 463; Sublett v. Hodges, 88 Ala. 491; Glover v. Gentry, 104 Ala. 222; s. c., 112 Ala. 500. A surety bound for debt of deceased principal.—Keel v. Larkin, 72 Ala. 493. Vendee seeking specific performance, or sued for purchase-money, after death of vendor.—Goodlett v. Kelly, 74 Ala. 213; Binford v. Dement, 72 Ala. 491; Hodges v. Denny, 36 Ala. 286; Brown v. Weaver, Ala. (20 So. 964). Mortgagee seeking foreclosure.—Junkins v. Lovelace, 72 Ala. 303. Creditor of insolvent estate.—Dunlap v. Mobley, 71 Ala. 102. Heirs or devisees when interested.—Kirksey v. Kirksey, 41 Ala. 626; Key v. Jones, 52 Ala. 238; McCrary v. Rash, 60 Ala. 374; McDonald v. Jacobs, 77 Ala. 524; Skinner v. Chapman, 78 Ala. 376. Administrator incompetent to prove his own debt against the estate.—Davis v. Tarver, 65 Ala. 98; Hall v. Pegram, 85 Ala. 522. Or other debt paid by him.—Dunlap v. Mobley, 71 Ala. 102; Hullett v. Hood, 109 Ala. 345. Defendant sued for debt to decedent cannot testify as to whether any papers passed between them.—Davidson v. Rothschilds, 49 Ala. 104. Nor that he deposited certain railroad-stock to be applied to debt.—Frazier v. Parks, 56 Ala. 363. Grantee cannot testify as to contents of lost deed executed by decedent.—Hillens v. Brinsfield, 108 Ala. 605. Party cannot testify to the fact and result of a former suit between him and the decedent.—Beadle v. Graham, 66 Ala. 99, 102. Nor to transaction with a personal representative since deceased.—Waldman v. Crommelin, 46 Ala. 580. Statute cannot be evaded by suing administrator individually.—Stuckey v. Bellah, 41 Ala. 700. County officer may testify to official transaction with deceased treasurer. Coleman v. Pike Co., 83 Ala. 326. "Representative or fiduciary relation." The incompetency does not rest on the agent or clerk; he may testify for his principal against a decedent.—Garrett v. Trabue, 82 Ala. 227; Huckaba v. Abbott, 87 Ala. 409; Mobile Savings Bk. v. McDonnell, 87 Ala. 736; Davis v. Davis, 93 Ala. 173; Espalla v. Richards, 94 Ala. 159. Interested party cannot testify to transactions with deceased agent of another party.—Warten v. Strane, 82 Ala. 311; Mobile Savings Bk. v. McDonnell, 87 Ala. 736. The exclusion applies to partnership and corporate transactions, when had with partner or officer since deceased.—Stanley v. Sheffield, etc., Co., 83 Ala. 260; Parker v. Edwards, 85 Ala. 246; Tabler v. Sheffield, etc., Co., 87 Ala. 305; Edwards v. Parker, 88 Ala. 356; Downing v. Woodstock I. Co., 93 Ala. 262. But not when had with person still living.—Ala. Gold Life Ins. Co. v. Sledge, 62 Ala. 566. "Unless called to testify thereto by the party to whom such interest is opposed."—Thomas v. Thomas, 42 Ala. 120; Dudley v. Steele, 71 Ala. 423; Mobile Savings Bank v. McDonnell, 87 Ala. 736; Sublett v. Hodges, 88 Ala. 491; Austin v. Bean, 101 Ala. 133. Opposite party defined.—Dolan v. Dolan, 89 Ala. 256. No person can make himself competent by transferring his interest. Glover v. Gentry, 104 Ala. 222. Burden of showing incompetency rests on party objecting.—Ala. Gold Life Ins. Co. v. Sledge, 62 Ala. 566. Objection not waived by merely filing cross-interrogatories after objecting to competency of witness.—Goodlett v. Kelly, 74 Ala. 213. Nor by oral cross-examination after proper objection.—Scarborough v. Blackman, 108 Ala. 656. When waived. Binford v. Dement, 72 Ala. 491. Statute being for protection of estate of decedent, adversary parties cannot object.—Austin v. Bean, 101 Ala. 133. Representative cannot testify to statements made by his intestate.—Adler v. Pinn, 80 Ala. 351. Mental incapacity goes to credibility, not competency. Worthington v. Mencer, 96 Ala. 310; Walker v. State, 97 Ala. 85. Competency of children of tender years.—Wade v. State, 52 Ala. 164; Carter v. State, 63 Ala. 52; Beason v. State, 72 Ala. 191; McGuff v. State, 88 Ala. 147; McKelton v. State, 88 Ala. 181; Grimes v. State, 105 Ala. 86; Williams v. State, 109 Ala. 164.

1795 (2766). Competency of witness as affected by conviction for crime.—No objection must be allowed to the competency of a witness because of his conviction for any crime, except perjury or subornation of perjury; but if he has been convicted of other infamous crime, the objection goes to his credibility.

Prior to statute, a conviction of petit larceny, or other infamous crime, rendered witness incompetent to testify.—Sylvester v. State, 71 Ala. 17; Burns v. Campbell, 71 Ala. 275; P. & M. Ins. Co. v. Tunstall, 72 Ala. 142. Did not include conviction for purely statutory offense.—Harrison v. State, 55 Ala. 239; P. & M. Ins. Co. v. Tunstall, 72 Ala. 142; Clifton v. State, 73 Ala. 473. Under this section, conviction for any crime, except perjury or subornation of perjury, goes to credibility.—Prior v. State, 99 Ala. 196; Thompson v. State, 100 Ala. 70; McQueen v. State, 108 Ala. 54. Conviction proved by the record or properly certified copy.—Burns v. Campbell, 71 Ala. 275; Thompson v. State, 100 Ala. 70; Murphy v. State, 108 Ala. 10. Offense against city ordinance, not within.—Burns v. Campbell, 71 Ala. 275. Character witness for defendant may be cross-examined as to whether he has heard of defendant being accused of certain specified offenses before beginning of the then pending prosecution.—Smith v. State, 103 Ala. 57; Baker v. Trotter, 73 Ala. 277.

1796. Witness may be examined touching his conviction for crime.—A witness may be examined touching his conviction for crime, and his answers may be contradicted by other evidence.

1797. Execution of instrument may be proved by maker, without accounting for attesting witnesses.—The execution of any instrument of writing attested by witnesses may be proved by the testimony of the maker thereof, without producing or accounting for the absence of the attesting witnesses.

1798 (2767) (3059) (2715) (2317). Proof of usury by representative.—When the borrower is dead, and usury is relied on as a defense, the representative of the borrower, having given ten days' notice to the plaintiff, or his attorney, of his intention to do so, is a competent witness to prove the usury, by swearing that he believes the contract to be usurious, if the plaintiff was the lender, unless the plaintiff denies on oath, in open court, the truth of the facts proposed to be sworn to by the defendant.

1799 (2768) (550) (645). Oaths without state in commencement or progress of suit.—Affidavits required in the commencement or progress of any suit or judicial proceedings may be taken without this state before any commissioner appointed by the governor of this state, any judge or clerk of a federal court, or judge of any court of record, or notary public, who shall certify under their hands, and seals of office, if any.

When taken before a judge of a state court, certificate must show that the court of which he is judge is a court of record.—Holly v. Bass, 68 Ala. 206. When taken before a notary public of another state, his seal must be attached.—Alabama Nat. Bk. v. Chattanooga Door & Sash Co., 106 Ala. 663; Bayonne Knife Co. v. Umbenhauer, 107 Ala. 496.

1800 (2769) (3035) (2681) (2278). Written contract sued on; effect of as evidence; consideration, how impeached.—Every written contract, the foundation of the suit, purporting to be executed by the party sought to be charged, his partner, agent or attorney in fact, is evidence of the existence of the debt, or that the party undertook to perform the duty for which it was given, and that it was made on sufficient consideration; but may be impeached by plea, and, when so impeached, the burden of proof is on the defendant.

Plaintiff need not allege or prove consideration; rests on defendant to plead and prove illegal or no consideration.—Chamberlain v. Darrington, 4 P. 515; Click v. M'Afee, 7 P. 62; Miller v. McIntyre, 9 Ala. 638; Thompson v. Hall, 16 Ala. 204; Cowan v. Cooper, 41 Ala. 187; Hill v. Nichols, 50 Ala. 336; Bolling v. Munchus, 65 Ala. 558; Bray v. Comer, 82 Ala. 183; Martin v. Foster, 83 Ala. 213. Covenant to quitclaim within a specified time imports consideration.—Holman v. Bank, 12 Ala. 369. Official bond, if illegal, must be impeached by plea, not by objection to its introduction.—Bryan v. Kelly, 85 Ala. 369. Plea that the instrument sued on "is without consideration," sufficient. Giles v. Williams, 3 Ala. 316; Kolsky v. Enslen, 103 Ala. 97. Plea of "failure of consideration" or "fraudulent misrepresentation," without stating the facts and not "in short by consent," bad.—Cormelich v. Mims, 88 Ala. 335; or "want of consideration," Darby v. Berney Nat. Bk., 107 Ala. 643; McAfee v. Glen Mary C. & C. Co., 97 Ala. 709; Sims v. Herzfeld, 95 Ala. 145. Statute equally applicable at law and in equity; when demurrer lies for want of consideration.—Bolling v. Munchus, 65 Ala. 558; Grimball v. Mastin, 77 Ala. 553.

1801 (2770) (3036) (2682) (2279). Execution of instruments purporting to be signed by defendant impeached by sworn plea. Every written instrument, the foundation of the suit, purporting to be signed by the defendant, his partner, agent or attorney in fact, must be received in evidence without proof of the execution, unless the execution thereof is denied by plea verified by affidavit; and every assignment of such instrument, on which suit is brought in the name of the assignee, must be deemed genuine, unless impeached in like manner, when, in either case, the burden of proof is cast on the plaintiff.

Applies to all contracts, the foundation of suits, which either purport to be, or are alleged in the complaint to have been executed by the defendant.—Ledbetter v. Vinton, 108 Ala. 644; K. C. M. & B. R. Co. v. Cobb, 100 Ala. 228; Levy v. Block, 88 Ala. 290; Garrett v. Garrett, 64 Ala. 263; Ala. Coal Mining Co. v. Brainard, 35 Ala. 476. And in equity as well as at law.—Bonner v. Young, 68 Ala. 35; Hooper v. Strahan, 71 Ala. 75; Smith v. Hiles-Carver Co., 107 Ala. 272. In the absence of such verified plea, instruments admissible in evidence without preliminary proof of execution.—Rice v. Thornton, 69 Ala. 473; Tuscaloosa Cotton Seed Oil Co. v. Perry, 85 Ala. 158; M. & M. Ry. Co. v. Gilmer, 85 Ala. 422; K. C. M. & B. R. Co. v. Cobb, 100 Ala. 228. When complaint alleges execution of instrument by defendant, he can only deny by sworn plea, whether instrument signed by mark, initial or other designation.—Wimberly v. Dallas, 52 Ala. 196; Levy v. Block, 88 Ala. 290; Walker v. Bentley, 64 Ala. 92. Statute being liberally construed, applies to written instrument which, though not signed by defendant, is averred to be binding on him as assignee or successor of the signer.—M. & M. Ry. Co. v. Gilmer, 85 Ala. 422. But as against strangers to the instrument, execution must be proved.—Meyer v. Mitchell, 75 Ala. 475. Relates solely to denial of execution of instrument; not to other defenses.—First Nat. Bank v. Nelson, 106 Ala. 535; Sands v. Hammell, 108 Ala. 624. When impeached, burden on plaintiff. Kirksey v. Kirksey, 41 Ala. 626; Jarrell v. Lillie, 40 Ala. 271. Plea setting up material alteration in instrument must be verified.—Smith v. Hiles-Carver Co., 107 Ala. 272; Lesser v. Scholze, 93 Ala. 338. Or adding condition to absolute promise or agreement.—Wood v. Coman, 56 Ala. 283; Campbell v. Larmore, 84 Ala. 499; Dexter v. Ohlander, 89 Ala. 262. If alteration suspicious, plaintiff must remove the suspicion before instrument admissible. Glover v. Gentry, 104 Ala. 222; s. c., 112 Ala. 500; Hill v. Nelms, 86 Ala. 442; Barclift v. Treece, 77 Ala. 528. But if instrument on its face bears no mark of suspicion, burden on defendant to show alterations.—Montgomery v. 1802 (2771) (3037) (2683) (2280). Same, when offered under a plea in bar.—It is not necessary to prove the execution or assignment of any instrument offered in evidence under the plea of set-off, or other plea in bar, unless the plaintiff put the execution or assignment thereof in issue by a replication verified by affidavit.

Applies though instrument offered under plea of set-off is signed by mark only.—Walker v. Bentley, 64 Ala. 92. If instrument lost and affidavit be not made as provided by section 31 (2597); or, if made and execution is denied by sworn replication, defendant must prove loss and contents.—Parker v. Edwards, 85 Ala. 246; s. c., 88 Ala. 356.

As amended Feb. 26, 1889, p. 57.

1803 (2772) (3038) (2684) (2281).—When proof of corporation or partnership not required.—When suit is brought by a corporation, or by partners, the plaintiff must not be required to prove the existence of the corporation, or the firm, or the individuals composing it, unless the same is denied by plea verified by affidavit filed within the time allowed for filing pleas in abatement.

Names of individuals composing plaintiff firm must be shown by record; statute only dispenses with proof of them unless denied by sworn plea.—Lanford v. Patton, 44 Ala. 584; Moore v. Burns, 60 Ala. 269; Foreman v. Weil, 98 Ala. 495; Simmons v. Titche, 102 Ala. 317. Failure to set out names; waiver; amendment.—Moore v. Watts, 81 Ala. 261; Ortez v. Jewett, 23 Ala. 662; Snow v. Ray, 2 Ala. 344. Plea of nul tiel corporation must be verified.—Smith v. Hiles-Carver Co., 107 Ala. 272.

1804 (2773). When sworn account admissible in evidence.—In all suits upon accounts, an itemized statement of the account, verified by the affidavit of a competent witness, taken before, and certified by an officer having authority under the laws of this state to take and certify affidavits, is competent evidence of the correctness of the account, if the plaintiff, at the time of bringing his suit, indorses on the summons and complaint, or other original process, the fact that the account is verified by affidavit, unless the defendant, within the time allowed him for pleading, files in the cause an affidavit denying, on information and belief, the correctness of the account.

Sufficiency of affidavit raised by objection to it as evidence, not by demurrer.—Elyton Land Co. v. Morgan, 88 Ala. 434. The fact of verification must be indorsed as here provided, else account inadmissible.—Gainer v. Pollock, 96 Ala. 554. Account and verification must show a sum certain to be due. Enis v. Harris, 103 Ala. 330; Alexander v. Moore, 111 Ala. 410. Allegation in complaint, that the account sued on "is verified by affidavit," is sufficient. Lunsford v. Butler, 102 Ala. 403; Sullivan T. Co. v. Brushagel, 111 Ala. 114; Alexander v. Moore, 111 Ala. 410. Suing on verified account does not preclude proof as in simple action on account.—Sullivan T. Co. v. Brushagel, 111 Ala. 114.

1805 (2774) (3039) (2685) (2282). Effect of written releases and receipts.—All receipts, releases and discharges in writing, whether of a debt of record, or a contract under seal, or otherwise, must have effect according to the intention of the parties thereto.

Carroll v. Corbett, 57 Ala. 579; Smith v. Gayle, 58 Ala. 600; Cowan v. Sapp, 74 Ala. 44; s. c., 81 Ala. 525; Cleere v. Cleere, 82 Ala. 581; Cobb v. Malone, 86 Ala. 571; Eufaula Nat. Bk. v. Passmore, 102 Ala. 370.

1806 (2775) (3040) (2686) (2283). Written composition or settlement of debts.—All settlements in writing, made in good faith for the composition of debts, must be taken as evidence, and held to operate according to the intention of the parties, though no release under seal is given, and no new consideration has passed.

Hart v. Freeman, 42 Ala. 567; Motley v. Motley, 45 Ala. 555; McArthur v. Dane, 61 Ala. 539; Singleton v. Thomas, 73 Ala. 205; Cowan v. Sapp, 81 Ala. 525; Cleere v. Cleere, 82 Ala. 581.

1807 (2776) (3041) (2687) (2284). Justification under process regular on its face.—Whenever it appears that the process is regular on its face, and is issued by competent authority, a sheriff or other ministerial officer is justified in the execution of the same, whatever may be the defect in the proceeding on which it was issued.

Wilson v. Sawyer, 37 Ala. 631; Murphy v. State, 55 Ala. 252; Martin v. Hall, 70 Ala. 421; Meyer v. Hearst, 75 Ala. 390; Clark v. Lamb, 76 Ala. 406; Albright v. Mills, 86 Ala. 324; Burgin v. Raplee, 100 Ala. 433.

1808 (2777) (3053) (2700) (2298). Entry on physician's book; effect of as evidence.—The original entries in the books of a physician are evidence for him in all actions brought for the recovery of his medical services, that the services were rendered, unless the defendant in open court deny on oath the truth of such entries; but the physician is required to prove the value of such services. When the denial is by a legal representative of the party, it is sufficient for him to swear that he believes the entries to be untrue.

Richardson v. Dorman, 28 Ala. 679· Halliday v. Butt, 40 Ala. 178; Weaver v. Morgan, 49 Ala. 142.

1809 (2778) (3054). Entries or memoranda made by deceased representative, guardian, or trustee.—Books of account kept by a deceased executor, administrator, guardian, or trustee, or entries or memoranda made by him in the course of business or duty, are admissible evidence; and if such book or memoranda be lost, a copy thereof, supported by the oath of the person making it, is admissible evidence.

1810 (2779) (3055) (2701) (2299). Prices current evidence of value of articles.—Prices current and commercial lists, printed at any commercial mart, are presumptive evidence of the value of any article of merchandise specified therein, at that place, at the date thereof, and of the rate of exchange between that and other places; also of the rates of insurance, freights, and the times of arrival and departure of ships and other vessels.

1811 (2780) (3056) (2702) (2300). Registers of marriages, births and deaths as evidence.—Registers of marriages, births and deaths, kept in pursuance of law, or any rule of a church or religious society, may be certified by the custodian thereof; and, when so certified, are presumptive evidence of the facts therein stated, as well as of the law or rule in pursuance of which such registry was made, and of the authority to certify the same.

Applies to registers kept in or out of the state; when certified by the custodian, such registers are admissible, although not certified according to the act of congress.—Hawes v. State, 88 Ala. 37.

1812 (2781) (3052) (2699) (2297). Patents.—Patents issued by the United States, or any state of the United States, must be received in evidence without further proof.

Patent admissible.—Hines v. Greenlee, 3 Ala. 73; Bales v. Herron, 35 Ala. 117; Robinson v. Cahalan, 91 Ala. 479. Or certified copy, without accounting for original.—Woodstock I. Co. v. Roberts, 87 Ala. 436; Beasley v. Clarke, 102 Ala. 254.

1813 (2782) (3043) (2691) (2292). Certificates of registers of land-office vest title and received in evidence.—All certificates is-
